KING EDWARD'S SCHOOLS.

CHAPLAIN'S REPORT, 1885.

To the Right Worshipful the PRESIDENT, the Worshipful the TREASURER, and the GOVERNORS of King Edward's Schools.

MY LORDS AND GENTLEMEN,

For the thirtieth, and, I am sorry to say, the last time,
 I have the honour to present to you my Annual Report on the state of your Schools.

Between the 1st of January and the 31st of December
 1885, there were —

ADMITTED.				DISCHARGED.
Boys	109	Boys	117
Girls	62	Girls	64
Total	171	Total	181

There were remaining in the two Schools at the end of the year 228 boys and 238 girls, making a total of 466 inmates, in addition to four Pupil Teachers in the Girls' School.

The inmates discharged during the year were disposed of as follows :—

BOYS.
To the Royal Navy	5
To the Army	1
To Situations direct from the School	63
To Friends, qualified for Situations	43
To Friends, Ill or otherwise Unfit	5
					<hr/> 117
GIRLS.
To Situations as Domestic Servants	57
To Friends, at their request	4
To Friends, Ill or otherwise Unfit	3
					<hr/> 64

It will be seen that we have lost no children by death during the year, and I am thankful to say we have been free from the presence of any epidemic, and that the health of both Schools has been fairly good. One female official, ELIZABETH SCOTT, died in a decline. She had been a girl in the School, and became Industrial Trainer nine years ago, and served us faithfully to the last. She is much regretted by the Matron and myself, and by all who knew her.

I have sent no boys last year to compete for prizes in Religious Knowledge with all the Schools in the Surrey portion of the Diocese of Winchester. The Inspector hinted to me that there was some jealousy on the part of th

Managers of the competing schools, arising from the impression that our boys have exceptional advantages. I pointed out that, our School being a half-time one, there was really no cause for such a feeling; and that, considering we only give $15\frac{1}{2}$ hours a week to distinctly school work, the number of attendances is not much, if at all, greater than in ordinary National Schools. But I thought it, on the whole, advisable to withdraw the School from a competition which was deemed, rightly or wrongly, unfair to the rest of the Diocese. I distinctly declined the Inspector's offer to put our boys in a list by themselves.

Three Pupil Teachers for the Girls' School attended the Rochester Diocesan Examination in May, 1885, two passing in the first class, and the other in the second. The fourth Pupil Teacher was not appointed before December last.

I present the Reports of the Government and Diocesan Inspectors.—

GENERAL REMARKS:—

“The examination in Religious Knowledge proved the work to be uniformly good throughout. The children were in excellent order, and all took an active interest in the work. The results reflect credit on the Teachers.

The younger children, Groups I. and II., displayed intelligence in the Bible subjects. Details were generally known, and a spirit of competition made the time pass pleasantly.

The Church Catechism was thoroughly known, and the first part had been simply explained. Suitable repetition had been prepared, and the writing out of Catechism portions was marked “v. good.”

In the Upper Divisions, Bible subjects received the highest marks, and both Prayer Book and Church Catechism had been most carefully prepared.

The written work was most creditable. I am much pleased with results.

THEODORE JOHNSON,

May 27th, 1885.Diocesan Inspector, Rochester.

MR. WADDINGTON'S REPORT FOR 1885.

“ July 29th, 1885.

SIR,—

I have the honour to lay before you my Report upon King Edward's Girls' School, Southwark, which was inspected and examined by myself and Mr. C. BECK on the 7th instant, and upon King Edward's Boys' School, Witley, which I examined personally on the 20th and 21st instants.

1. Girls' School.—Here the general average of the work is decidedly good, and the paper-work is specially characterised by its great neatness. Reading is still the weakest point, the girls speaking in a tone so low and indistinct as to make it difficult to follow them, although they seem to know the words—possibly, more simultaneous reading lessons might help to correct this fault; but for their intelligence as to the meanings, great praise is due.

Spelling and Writing are highly creditable, and so is Arithmetic, except for a little weakness in Standard IV.

The Repetition was very good in Standards I., II., III., fairly good in Standard IV., but not quite perfect in V. Grammar is well taught, and in the Fourth and Fifth Standards I was much pleased with the Geography. In Standard III., the Industries of England might with advantage be more taught.

Singing was very fair, and with more attention to “light and shade” might be made thoroughly good. Needlework is carefully taught. It would be desirable to carry out the suggestion made last year by Mr. HOLGATE, as to some practical examination in this subject another year before the Inspector; and the Scheme of Exercises shown in Schedule III. of “The Code” might be a useful guide.

Religious Knowledge seems very good, and the cleanliness, good order, and good manners of the girls made a highly favourable impression upon me.

2. Boys' School.—So far as fluency goes, Reading is good in Standards II., III., V., and fair in IV. and VI., but there is still a great lack of clear articulation and good pronunciation: this subject needs diligent attention. On the other hand, the lads showed marked intelligence as to the meaning; and, indeed, this is a very strong point with them.

Handwriting is good upon the whole, although rather weak in Standard V. Spelling from Dictation, good; Composition good in Standards V. and VI., the latter class-writing creditable specimens of a letter.

Arithmetic is exceedingly good, and deserves great credit, excepting in Standard VI., where there were a good many failures.

In the "vivâ voce," the answers in Geography, History, and Mental Arithmetic were creditable, though rather too much confined to Standards V. and VI.

Religious teaching appears to be most sound and thorough.

Singing was so good as to be a pleasure to listen to, and I must congratulate the Master on the excellent results in this subject.

Military Drill is very fair, but it might improve in steadiness, and I think with advantage be farther advanced.

The Brass Band played with much spirit, and in very good style.

I venture to suggest that it might be useful to adopt the scheme of "The Code" in teaching Geography, from Standard II. upwards.

I need hardly add that on this, my first visit, I was much struck with the fine buildings belonging to the School; and the boys looked well-fed, healthy, and contented.

I have the honour to be,

Sir,

Your obedient Servant,

HORACE WADDINGTON,

M.A. Univ. Coll. Oxon.

To the Treasurer of the Royal Hospitals of Bridewell and Bethlem."

The usual Governor's and other prizes were given after the Annual Examination in each School. One of our Governors, Mr. JOHN FOSTER, placed £10 at my disposal, to be given at my discretion as "Chaplain's Prizes."

N. H. SMITH and J. B. LINGFORD obtained the "Sir JAMES TYLER'S" prizes for Religious Knowledge; and on this occasion Sir JAMES was present himself, and gave his own prizes. AGNES READ obtained the "TYLER prize" in the Girls' School. The boys elected A. SHINGLE as "TRUSCOTT Medalist."

The Bishop of Rochester kindly gave us again a Confirmation at the Girls' School on November 13th, when the Assistant Chaplain presented 120 candidates.

Two hundred and twenty rewards were given by the Committee to former inmates who had maintained good characters in their situations. Fifty-seven boys and thirty-five girls were rewarded for the first time, forty-seven boys and twenty-three girls for the second time, and forty-two boys and sixteen girls for the third and last time.

And now, my Lords and Gentlemen, I have the sad duty to discharge of bidding you "Farewell." I had been feeling for some time that after thirty years' work in my post—during which the School had increased from one establishment containing 200 children, to two containing 480—I was hardly equal to the constant strain upon my energies, and that it would be for the interest of the Institution that my work should be taken up by younger and more active hands.

At the close of last year, therefore, I accepted a very small piece of preferment—much smaller, as it has turned out, than I at first supposed—from the Lord Chancellor, and at the end of the present quarter, our long and on my part most happy, connexion with you will finally close. I cannot express to you the regret I feel at the fast approaching event. I did not wish to retire from professional life altogether, and I might not have had another offer of preferment. Otherwise, I would most gladly have gone on serving you as long as health and strength were, as they have been hitherto, mercifully bestowed on me. I shall ever retain a most grateful recollection of the many kindnesses and ungrudging support I have received from all the Governors with whom I have been brought into contact. Without the latter, it would have been impossible that I could have successfully superintended the two establishments; and I now respectfully and most sorrowfully say to one and all of you, “Good-bye”—i.e., “God be with ye.”

I subscribe myself for the last time,

Your faithful servant,

EDWARD RUDGE.

WITLEY, January 17th, 1886.
