ANNUAL REPORT
OF THE
COMMITTEE OF VISITORS
OF THE COUNTY LUNATIC ASYLUMS,
FOR 1866.

THE two Asylums at Charminster and Forston continue to be under the management of J. G. Symes, Esq., and to be conducted as they have been for many years past to the entire satisfaction of the Visiting Justices.

The Senior Medical Assistant, Mr. W. H. Clarke, resides at Forston.

The Wards and Offices, when visited as they have been from time to time, have been found in good order, and the Patients, mostly Chronic cases, appeared to be clean and well attended to.

On the repeated representations of the Commissioners in Lunacy, a second Medical Assistant, Dr. W. Pierce, was appointed to the Charminster Asylum, at a salary of £80 per annum. Dr. Pierce entered on the discharge of his duties at the end of last March, and has given satisfaction to the Visitors by his general conduct and attention to his charge.

In consequence of the increase in the Chaplain's duties, it was considered necessary that he should reside within a reasonable distance of the principal Asylum; and a house has accordingly been provided for him at Charminster, at a rent of £30 a year. The Rev. J. B. Hyson was appointed Chaplain, from the 1st of May last; but his residence not being ready for him, he did not commence his duties at the Asylums until Midsummer. The Visitors have been much gratified with his attention to the Patients, and his readiness to promote their recreation and mental improvement.

The two head Attendants, on the Male and Female side, respectively, continue to justify, by their diligent discharge of duty, the confidence which the Visitors have now for so long a period reposed in them.

The Attendants, generally, have been careful and attentive to their duties; but the Visitors were under the necessity of fining in the penalty of £1, and discharging one Male Attendant for drunkenness; and of reprimanding another Attendant, and fining him in half of the costs of the recapture of a patient, who had been suffered to escape through his negligence.

The walls of the principal Asylum were in such a bad state from damp last winter, on the south and west fronts, that the Committee decided on casing them with cement, for which a contract was made with Mr. Gregory, of Dorchester, for the sum of £887 1s. 6*d.* This work was finished towards the end of October, and as far as tested by the experience of the last two months, it has proved a complete remedy for the evils complained of. The expense is in course of being defrayed from the Out-County Patients' Surplus Fund.

A new set of General Rules for the government of the two Asylums has been prepared, and, having been submitted for approval in accordance with the requirements of the statute, received the sanction of the Secretary of State on the 12th of June last.

Agreements have been entered into with the Visiting Justices of the Oxford and Berks Asylum, for the reception of 8 additional Male Patients at 12*s.* 6*d.* per week, and with the Visiting Justices of the Asylum at Abergavenny for the reception of 30 additional Female Patients at 11s. 6d. per week.

A considerable increase has again taken place in the number of County Patients, though not so large as in the preceding year.

The health of the Patients has been good throughout the year.

The prevalence of erysipelas, which was noticed in the early part of last winter, and was attributed, as a possible cause, to the wetness of the walls in the wards, has not appeared again this fall.

The cost of maintenance has been kept at the uniform rate of 1s. per day, throughout the year.

The practice of purchasing stock and sheep, and slaughtering them on the premises, adopted for the past two years, has been adhered to; the meat has been always found to be of good quality, and it is believed that to this arrangement, the comparatively low rate of maintenance is in some measure to be attributed.

Two of the Commissioners in Lunacy visited the Asylums on the 14th and 15th February last. They speak in their Minute, "of the wards being in excellent " condition, of the clothing being clean, and good, of the " bedding being in the best order, of the food as excellent
" in quality, and well cooked, and the Patients as being,
" with the exception of two in seclusion from maniacal
" excitement, in a very quiet, comfortable condition."

In it they also remark on the discomfort arising from the rain penetrating through the walls, which it is believed has now been effectually remedied, and on the want of occupation and means of amusement for the Patients at Forston, and the less comfortable appearance of the wards there, since the removal of some articles of furniture and ornament to the new Asylum. They also make some few other suggestions in regard to internal management and furnishing. These matters are receiving the attention of the Visitors, and in several instances these recommendations are in course of being carried out.

Of the Loan of £41,000, borrowed from the Sun Insurance Office, on security of the County Rates, £6,100 had been paid off at Michaelmas last, leaving then due the sum of £34,900.

ANNUAL REPORT

To the Chairman and Visitors of the Dorset County Asylums.

Gentlemen,

Another year having passed it becomes my duty, respectfully, to submit my Annual Report with the usual statistical tables, to which are added numbers 3, 4, 5 and 7 in accordance with the suggestions of the Commissioners in Lunacy in their Report issued June, 1866.

On the 1st of January, 1866, there were in the two Asylums 397 Patients—215 Males and 182 Females.

During the past year there have been admitted from this County, in the ordinary way, 28 Males and 31 Females—total 59. From the Borough of Poole 2 Females. From the County Asylum of Oxford and Berks 9 Males, and from the Joint Counties Asylum, Abergavenny 3 Males, and 30 Females, making a total of admissions 40 Males and 63 Females—103.

There is nothing particularly worthy of mention respecting the admissions, excepting that the cases from our own County were the only ones where the least chance of recovery may be anticipated—those Patients sent from other Counties being all chronic and incurable. These facts will tend very much to lessen any good results which may fairly have been looked for in the new tables already referred to, both in this, and in any other Asylum where Chronic Patients are sent away for a few years only—in our case materially lessening the per centage of recoveries on the admissions—unless care be taken to reckon the discharges on the average number admitted, bonâ fide, in the ordinary way from our own County.

Applications from several other Counties to receive their surplus Patients were necessarily refused. Both Asylums may now be considered full—yet retaining ample accommodation for those of our own County.

The state of health and bodily condition of those received here was on the whole moderately good, some few exceptions are sure to occur, depending greatly on the stage of the mental disease to which the Patient is reduced before being brought.

Seven Non-Paupers were admitted during the year—4 of whom were transferred from other Asylums—one having been insane 12, another 24, and the other two upwards of 10 years—not a very lively prospect therefore for recovery!

The discharges during the year were 34—21 were recovered, 11 relieved (several nearly well), and two not improved, whose friends were most anxious to have them under their own immediate care. All those discharged were Patients from this County.

The Obituary Table (page 32) requires but little comment. The number of deaths was 24; 11 males and 13 females. Their ages were two under 30 years; five under 40; four under 50; five under 60; three under 70; four under 80, and 1 above 80, giving a per centage on the average daily resident number of  $5\frac{1}{2}$ , which may be thankfully considered as satisfactory.

The causes of death were as in years past. No serious accident has happened; neither has it been thought necessary to hold any inquest.

In consequence of the repeated recommendations of the Commissioners, the Committee appointed a second Assistant Medical Officer, in March last, to reside in the New Asylum; it being thought necessary that neither Asylum should be left without a Medical Officer on the premises. A second Assistant certainly tends to relieve my anxiety when absent for a few hours or days, yet I have no doubt both establishments might have been fairly worked as before. Dr. Pierce entered on his duties soon after appointment, and I would hope that as he grows more thoroughly habituated to Asylum life, and all the little, almost numberless, intricacies necessary to good management, he will be able to render himself more and more useful, and qualify himself for a higher post.

Mr. Clarke continues at Forston, and throws much assiduity into his duties, and I trust each year will find him more able and willing in the service of the County. His salary having been raised during the year is a decided and tangible proof that good services are sure to be appreciated.

Our good and estimable old Chaplain, Mr. Clemetson, who retired from active duties in 1859, died in April. The late Chaplain, who was appointed in August, 1860, did duty here until May last, when the Rev. J. B. Hyson was elected in his stead. As far as I am able to form an opinion, I believe Mr. Hyson to be a valuable officer, as he not only gives his hearty attention to his spiritual ministrations, but is always ready to co-operate in any harmless amusement for the comfort and instruction of our inmates.

The Chaplain now reads prayers every morning at half-past 8; a duty which I voluntarily performed for nearly 12 years, and one which I could not but reluctantly give up. In case of illness, unavoidable absence, or bad weather, I have promised, with the sanction of the Visitors, to read as usual for the Chaplain, who, residing upwards of a mile from the Asylum, must necessarily now and then be prevented attending.

In the early part of the year, the Head Attendant, Mr. Guppy, was very ill for many weeks. He is a good and efficient Assistant, and I was rejoiced at his recovery. He has since completed his 21 years of service.

The Engineer, who has been here upwards of 20 years, unfortunately lost the use of his left eye in August last, and since that time has failed somewhat in health, and at times was very unable to fulfil his duties, especially when required in the well about the pumps. I have recommended his removal to the old Asylum at Forston, where the duties will be lighter. He will there act as Head Attendant in addition to his general duties as Engineer; and I believe will be benefitted himself in health, and continue to be an efficient and useful servant of the County.

The other Attendants and Servants have with few exceptions behaved satisfactorily.

The occupations and amusements vary but little. A large and valuable addition to the Library has been made, and the Chaplain takes care that the books and periodicals are regularly circulated.

The gratuitous supply of newspapers mentioned in former Reports is still kept up, and I believe the several Proprietors would rejoice did they know the amount of amusement and recreation thus afforded. I beg to tender my best thanks for this continued kindness to my Patients.

Our Farm Account at page 38 shews that we have fairly prospered.

The Fat Stock Account, page 39, will give the statistical results of the year's experiment. The additional duties of buying, slaughtering, &c., has been undertaken very cheerfully by those around us, and has not entailed any additional servant to the Asylum. We have enjoyed the best meat, and I believe no waste has been made. It is gratifying to know that the cost of our good supply has been very much less than it would have been under contract.

The Cattle Plague running into different parts of this and the adjoining Counties stopped all our markets, but we have had no real difficulty in supplying our wants; although, of course, some additional trouble has been caused, as well as extra cost, in being obliged to buy at times more than was really required.

In conclusion, allow me to thank you very sincerely for your continued and unvarying kindness, and with true respect,

I remain,

Your obliged and faithful Servant,

J. GUSTAVUS SYMES,

Medical Superintendent.

FIRST ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

CHAPLAIN.

To the Chairman and Visitors of the Dorset County Asylums.

Gentlemen,

In presenting my first Annual Report, I fear that my impressions and views in connexion with the work of the Chaplaincy may lack that correctness and form which a more lengthened experience is calculated to impart. However, there is so much in common with the ordinary ministerial office to be found in the Asylums, so much of distress, fear, doubt, and unconcern about the welfare of the soul, that I feel relieved from any excess of timidity on this particular. Respecting the duties devolving upon the Chaplain, I think I may say, that they have been all fulfilled; the only exception being the formation of classes for the amusement and instruction of the Patients, which as yet has not been found to be quite practicable. But this in part has been accomplished, by the introduction during the winter season, of Lectures, illustrated by Diagrams and Sketches, and from these it is to be hoped benefits may result, greater than the mere interest and gratification evident at the time. The Band belonging to the Asylum has assisted on these occasions, by rendering in a most creditable manner, various and suitable pieces of Music. Our thanks are due to the Rev. C. W. Bingham, for the use of Diagrams illustrative of Missionary Work abroad, with which the course was commenced.

The Library, through your kind grant of £5 has been replenished with several instructive and entertaining books, which with the rest of the books forming the Library have been covered, numbered, and of the whole a catalogue taken.

Divine Service has been performed every Sunday, once at each Asylum. There has been a Service also every Wednesday at Forston, in the morning at half-past nine o'clock; and at Charminster in the evening at half-past six o'clock, beside prayers every morning at the principal Asylum at half-past eight o'clock.

The Services on the Sunday are the usual Morning and Evening Services of the Church. The Services on Wednesday partake of the character of a Cottage or School-room Lecture; while the Service in the morning of each day, maintains, as has been customary, the feature of family devotion.

Concerning the quietude and attention of all attending these Services, it is impossible to speak too highly. Would that every congregation of sane persons in the house of God were equally so. The average attendance at the Morning Service has been over 100; and at the Sunday Services an average number of about 180.

The Wards have been regularly visited every week, once at the least.

The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper was celebrated on the first Sunday in November, when fourteen were present, seven of whom were patients. This matter was purposely delayed, in order that those willing to communicate might afford evidences of fitness; and it is satisfactory to find, concerning those Patients who were permitted to respond to the invitation, that not one has been betrayed into the slightest inconsistency, but on the contrary, the whole of them have conducted themselves most orderly and properly. For the future it is purposed to have Holy Communion every two months.

With regard to results attending one's ministry, I am sure I may say that they have been encouraging. Duties are ours—results God's; this I have felt, and hope to continue to feel, so that if nothing whatever had occurred of a cheering kind, I yet should consider my services effectual so long as the assurance of God runs, "my word shall not return unto me void."

Although this Asylum in common with all such institutions may in general be spoken of, as a

" Vast lazar-house of many woes,
When laughter is not mirth, nor thought the mind,
Nor words a language, nor even men mankind ;"

yet is it a part of the Lord's vineyard in which are immortal souls, who, if at times are irresponsible agents, nevertheless are as much subjects of Divine compassion, and stand in as great need as their fellow-creatures of the application of those means which alone remove sin, and make meet for eternity.

I am, Gentlemen,

Your obedient and faithful Servant,

JOHN B. HYSON.

COMMISSIONERS IN LUNACY,

14th and 15th of February, 1866.

WE have visited the Asylums at Forston and Charminster, and have seen all the patients in both buildings.

They are 416 in number, viz.:—228 men and 188 women, of whom 221 men and 182 women are paupers, the rest are of the private class.

Forston contains 70 males and 25 females. We found them all free from excitement, and no one was in seclusion.

The patients were clean in person, and their clothing was good, with the exception of some of the shoes, which were old and thin, and quite unfit for use out of doors. Some thick boots are kept for the men who work on the land, but besides the shoes actually in use there was not a single pair in store. It is desirable also that a larger stock of general clothing should be kept in the wards at Forston.

Most of the patients now at Forston are imbecile or demented, with little capacity for useful occupation. We think, however, that greatly increased means for amusing them and rousing them from their apathy should be supplied, and that small matters of ornament and domestic furniture should at once be provided. The wards have now a very wan appearance. There are hardly any books, and only one pack of cards. Bedside carpets or mats are much needed in the male wards, where the floors of the rooms are composed of tiles. The means for personal washing are insufficient, there being only four basins for the 70 male patients.

We pointed out to Mr. Clarke the impropriety of allowing two male patients to sleep unattended in one room, which has been the case in one instance, for two or three weeks past.

Owing to some defect in one of the boilers, several of the day-rooms were very cold, the thermometer marking only 45°. As these rooms contain fire places, we think that fires should be lighted in them whenever similar accidents to the heating apparatus occur.

The dinner given at Forston yesterday consisted of meat puddings, with carrots, but no bread was allowed. The food was of excellent quality and well cooked.

The present staff of attendants at Forston is as follows:—Four male attendants and two nurses; there is also a blacksmith, who sleeps in the wards, and is present during meals.

On the women's side there is a head nurse or house-keeper and a kitchen maid.

There were two women secluded at Charminster, owing to maniacal excitement, but all the other patients were in a very quiet, comfortable condition, and they seemed generally contented. The clothing was clean and good, and all the wards in excellent condition.

The bedding throughout was in the best order, we suggest, however, that under blankets should be placed over the straw mattresses of patients of dirty habits.

The number of wet beds is now small, the return for last night shewing only three in the male and five in the female division.

There is still no night attendant for the women's wards. The staff at Charminster consists of one male and one female head attendants, 10 male attendants, and the porter who assists them, eight nurses, three laundry maids, and three kitchen maids.

The attendance at Chapel seems to average about 150 on Sunday and 100 on week days, and the proportion of patients who are usefully employed is nearly the same as at the date of our colleague's visit. Since then, 111 males and 69 females have been admitted, of whom six men and three women were private patients; 15 men and 24 women have been discharged, of whom 28 were recovered, and 13 men and nine women have died from ordinary causes. The general health through the Winter has been very good. Last week 15 males and nine females are reported to have been under medical treatment. The records of seclusion shew that three men and six women have been secluded, the former on 29 and the latter on 115 occasions, all for acute mania.

Of the pauper patients now in the two asylums, 60 belong to the Counties of Oxford and Berks, 32 to the United Counties Asylum, at Abergavenny, and 18 to the Borough of Poole.

We have to recommend that rules for the guidance of the attendants in bathing the patients be printed, and hung in every bath-room, that thermometers be also kept in them, and that the shower baths be kept locked.

We are glad to learn that a second assistant medical officer is about to be appointed.

The greatest annoyance and discomfort has lately been experienced in consequence of the rain penetrating through all the western and southern portions of the building, the means hitherto taken to prevent this have not proved successful, and the subject will again be taken under consideration at the next meeting of the Visitors.

We are glad to be enabled again to report favorably of the condition and management of this establishment. We think, however, that steps should at once be taken to restore Forston to its former comfortable state.

The various books are kept with much care and attention.

W. G. CAMPBELL,
ROBERT NAIRNE,

5. At the meeting which shall be held next before every Quarter Sessions, the Committee of Visitors shall take into consideration and determine on all contracts, rates of payment, and matters of expenditure relative to the Institution, and perform the duties imposed on them by the Act of the sixteenth and seventeenth Victoria, chapter ninety-seven.
