General Annual Board, August 22nd, 1861.

Present—ELEVEN TRUSTEES.

J. C. HARTER, Esq., Chairman.

Moved by Murray Gladstone, Esq.; seconded by J. T. Price, Esq.; and resolved unanimously:—

That the Reports of the Receipts and Expenditure, and State of the Funds, of the Royal Lunatic Hospital, for the year ending June 24th, 1861, now presented, signed by Robert Barbour and James A. Bannerman, Esqs., and by the Public Accountant, be received and approved.

Moved by Thomas Armstrong, Esq.; seconded by Ernest Reuss, Esq.; and resolved unanimously:—

That the best thanks of this Board be presented to Robert Barbour and James A. Bannerman, Esqs., for the trouble and attention they have bestowed on the examination of the Annual Statements of Account.

Moved by James A. Bannerman, Esq.; seconded by Samuel Fletcher, Esq.; and resolved unanimously:—

That the following gentlemen be appointed Officers for the ensuing year.

[See List of Officers.]

Moved by J. C. Harter, Esq.; seconded by John Butterworth, Esq.; and resolved unanimously:—

That the Trustees of the Manchester Royal Lunatic Hospital desire to express the concern they feel that this Institution has been deprived of the valuable services of their late Treasurer, the Rev. Canon Clifton, M.A.

From the opening of the present building, in the year 1849, he took a lively interest in its affairs; and on the decease of the late Salis Schwabe, Esq., in the year 1853, he was unanimously chosen to succeed him as Treasurer. At that time the Institution was in difficulties, but during his Treasurership, and under his care, it emerged from its difficulties, and at the time of his lamented decease, it had arrived at a degree of efficiency and prosperity that it had never before attained. A perusal of the address he delivered, as Chairman, at the last Annual Meeting, which is published in the Report, will show the perfect knowledge he had of all its affairs. His benevolence was of an enlightened and practical character, and he ever manifested the deepest concern for the welfare and comfort of the inmates of the Institution. The members of the Committee always found him a most agreeable coadjutor, and they will long retain a grateful remembrance of his kindness and courtesy; and they request that Mr. Harter will be the medium of conveying to Mrs. Clifton and her family the expression of their sincere sympathy under this afflictive dispensation of Divine Providence.

Moved by Thomas Armstrong, Esq.; seconded by Henry Charlewood, Esq.; and resolved unanimously:—

That the best thanks of this Board be given to the Deputy-Treasurers, House Stewards, and other Officers, for the zeal and attention they have uniformly shown to the interests of this Charity.

Moved by E. R. Le Mare, Esq.; seconded by Ernest Reuss, Esq.; and resolved unanimously:—

That the best thanks of this Board be given to John Butterworth, Esq., for his valuable services rendered to this Institution in his office of Deputy-Chairman during the past year.

Moved by E. R. Le Mare, Esq.; seconded by Edward Hardcastle, Esq.; and resolved unanimously:—

That the grateful acknowledgments of this Board be given to Dr. Wilkinson and Dr. Browne, the retiring Physicians, for their attention to the discharge of their duties.

The Chairman announced that Dr. Renaud and Dr. Roberts had been appointed by the Medical Committee of the Infirmary to act as the Visiting Physicians for the ensuing year.

J. C. HARTER, Chairman.

Mr. Harter having left the Chair, it was taken by Samuel Fletcher, Esq., when the following resolution,

Moved by Murray Gladstone, Esq.; seconded by John Butterworth, Esq.; passed unanimously, viz.:—

That the best thanks of this Board be and are hereby given to J. C. Harter, Esq., for his services in the Chair this day, and for his long-continued and unwearied devotion to the interests of this Institution.

are occasionally sent to the Hospital and which serve only to increase the mortality — those in which delirium supervenes in the advanced stage of some acute disease. Patients in this state are sometimes uselessly sent miles from home; and it has happened to us to be compelled to admit those who, at the time of admission, were actually dying from some acute disease, of which the delirium was the result. In one instance of this kind, acute pericarditis produced a fatal termination within four days after admission; and in another case tubercular pneumonia, with diarrhœa, proved fatal within a week after the patient's admission.

Much has been done during the year, in the way of alterations and repairs, to improve the building and to add to its conveniences; but it is gratifying to observe that, notwithstanding the heavy expense thereby incurred, the balance sheet exhibits a very favourable result. It may, therefore, be hoped that when all extraordinary expenditure ceases, the yearly report will be still more satisfactory.

The draining of the Farm has been continued during the year, and another field has in consequence been brought under cultivation. Considerable expense has also been incurred by the purchase of bone-dust and other manure for the improvement of the land. As the cost both of draining and manure is included in the current expenses of the year, it is not so surprising that the Farm expenditure exceeds by a few pounds the income; but inasmuch as the draining is now completed the expectation is certainly justified that, besides its great advantage in affording occupation and interest to the patients, the Farm will itself prove a source of profit to the Institution.

At the close of another year, I have the greatest satisfaction in expressing my grateful acknowledgments for the support which has so uniformly been afforded me, in the responsible duties of my office as Superintendent, by every member of the Committee.

extreme inadvisability of employing stratagem. Truth has as much force with the insane as with the sane; and it would seem to be the simple right of those who are afflicted and need control, that they should have the truth spoken to them. For the most part when patients are told that they must come to the Hospital and the reasons of such necessity are explained to them, they will come quietly; and such an act of necessary submission, with the reflections that follow thereupon, have a beneficial influence in promoting recovery. A straightforward course has the further advantage of ignoring the extraordinary and unjust prejudice which exists in the public mind with regard to insanity; so that, in place of the sufferer being sent to the Hospital with the utmost secrecy as if some great disgrace were to be concealed, he is sent distinctly for the medical treatment of a disease, just as he would be placed under medical care for any other bodily disease. Should it, however, be impossible, by reason of his mental condition, to prevail upon the patient to come willingly, honest compulsion will have all the advantage over ingenious stratagem that truth has over deceit. Accordingly, when an application is made for an attendant to accompany some one to the Hospital, it is the custom now to desire that the latter may be told where he is coming, and to discourage altogether those efforts of perverted ingenuity which are frequently so injurious in their results.

There have been six deaths during the year. As usually happens, two or three of the old residents have died from the effects of chronic disease, while the others have succumbed to serious disease soon after admission. One died at a great age from ovarian dropsy of many years' standing; another old resident from chronic softening of the brain; and a third, who had lived here six years, was the victim of general paralysis. Of the recent admissions, one died from cerebral softening a month after admission; another from the same disease in its acute form after a fortnight's residence; and the third died ten days after admission from acute inflammation of the membranes of the brain, with pericarditis and peritonitis. The last case resembled in some measure certain cases which

MEDICAL SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT.

THE Report which I have to present to you of the state of the Lunatic Hospital for the past year, may be regarded as in every respect satisfactory. No accident of any moment has occurred; the health of the patients has been generally good, and their comfort as great as the circumstances of their mental maladies could admit of. The various tables, detailing the particulars with regard to those who have been admitted and discharged during the year, are appended to this Report.

Notwithstanding the increase of accommodation which was made for male patients, the vacancies were very soon filled up; and though it is undoubtedly a matter of regret that we have been compelled to refuse admission in so many cases, it is very satisfactory to find that the advantages which the Hospital affords are so well appreciated.

With regard to those who have been discharged as recovered, it is gratifying to be able to say, that they have none of them relapsed, and that there is no likelihood, as far as an opinion can be formed upon the subject, of their relapsing. Some of those who left the Hospital as "relieved," were to all intents and purposes "recovered;" but as they had been removed by their friends before convalescence was deemed to be thoroughly established, they were discharged only as relieved. By adopting such a course with regard to those who are removed from the Hospital on the responsibility only of their friends, we obviate the necessity of having to admit, in the course of a few weeks or months, as relapses, any so called recoveries.

It is almost needless to say that patients are brought to the Hospital under all kinds of pretexts except the true one; but it may be well to record here a strong opinion on the rence with the Resident Medical Superintendent. In the public rooms accommodation and provision are made for reading and other amusements, to which the patients are encouraged to resort.
