NORTHAMPTON
GENERAL LUNATIC ASYLUM.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE OF MANAGEMENT, FOR THE YEAR, 1864.

The Committee have the pleasure of repeating in this year's Report their testimony to the continued good management of the Hospital. The finances will be found to be in a satisfactory state, although, from the alterations and additions that have been made to the Building, there is a large balance still due to the Treasurers. The detailed accounts will show from what causes the debt arises.

It has been a subject of deep regret that we have been deprived of the presidency of our Chairman, Sir George Robinson, for the last six months, and also, lately, of Mr. Collins' attendance, but we hope soon to have them again at their posts. The illness of Dr. Wing has deprived us of his active services for some time past, but the ordinary duties of the House have been carried on by Dr. Williams, to the entire satisfaction of Dr. Wing and the Committee of Management. The sudden outbreak of small pox among the patients has been met and provided for, by the exertions of Dr. Williams and the Secretary, in a manner which, it is hoped, will satisfy all who are interested in the Institution that every precaution has been taken that was due to the welfare of the patients, and to the great public trust administered by the Directors.

During the year there has been a considerable increase in the number of pauper patients, the average for 1863 being 300, and for 1864 327. The following statement will show the progressive increase of the pauper class for the past eight years :—

Year	1857	1858	1859	1860	1861	1862	1863	1864
Average No.	172	202	227	241	261	272	300	327

There has been a decrease in the number of private patients, the average for 1863 being 96, and for 1864 91. This decrease has been confined to the male patients.

To meet the increase in the number of pauper patients, an addition to the female side was completed in the early part of the year, giving 31 extra beds, a school-room, and other useful accommodation. A separate building, with both day-rooms and sleeping-rooms for 50 men, is now in course of erection.

Many improvements have been carried out during the year; amongst others, sixty-two bed-room windows have been enlarged; two extra marble baths have been fitted up; a covered promenade and a sunk fence have been provided in the women's airing garden; a new road has been made from the back premises to the farm. The works in hand are the laying out of the chapel grounds, and a garden for the use of the ladies.

In July last the remaining mortgage debt of £2,000 was paid off, a like sum having been paid off in 1863. The Asylum land is now free from debt.

The finances of the year, though not so favourable as in 1863, are still satisfactory. The year commenced with a balance due to the Treasurers of £1,771. 7s. 7d., and ended with a balance of £2,797. 11s. 7d., so that the debt due to the Treasurers has been increased £1,026. 4s.; but during the year the following payments (in addition to the ordinary expenditure) have been made:—

	£.	s.	d.	£.	s.	d.
Mortgage debt	2,000	0	0
Additions and improvements.....	1,223	6	10
Contribution to the Chapel Fund	725	4	5
Extra furniture and bedding.....	299	10	6
				4,248	1	9
From this sum is to be deducted the increase of the balance due to the Treasurers, viz. :—				1,026	4	0
Which leaves a surplus beyond the ordinary expendi- ture of.....				3,221	17	9
The surplus for 1863 was				4,117	9	11
The income from the county patients has increased in the year by				757	4	3
The income from the private patients has decreased in the year by				734	15	3

In the report for the year 1863 the Committee stated that, if no emergency called for an increased outlay, they hoped to be able to reduce the charge for the maintenance of pauper patients. This subject was considered by them, but, in consequence of the additional buildings necessary to meet the great increase of the county patients, it was found impracticable to reduce the rate at present.

The late Chaplain, the Rev. H. R. Burdett, died on the 12th day of September, 1864. A gratuity of £100 was given to his widow. His successor, the Rev. S. C. Haines, was appointed at the Quarterly Court in October.

The benefit derived from the funds of the Institution by private patients of small means has amounted, in the year, to £661. 14s. 6d., which is an increase upon former years. The payments in these cases, 41 in number, vary from 7s. 6d. to 19s. per week, the actual cost for lodging and maintenance being 21s. per week.

There has been a profit derived from the work done by the shoemakers and tailors of £206. 7s.

The profit from the farm account is £160.

At the latter end of December, 1864, small pox broke out in the House. On the 4th day of January, 1865, the Committee specially ordered additional medical assistance to meet the emergency. The patients attacked by this disease, 14 in number, were kept apart as much as possible ; but on the 21st day of January, it being found that the infection continued to spread, the Committee directed that a temporary building, to receive the cases, should be erected upon the farm as quickly as possible, and thus obtain complete isolation. This work was at once commenced, and a temporary hospital for 40 patients was completed and occupied in four days under the superintendence of the Secretary. The building is chiefly of wood, a space of five inches between the outer and inner boarding being stuffed with straw to obtain warmth. The interior is papered throughout, is well lighted and ventilated, and warmed by five ordinary fire-places. There are three apartments, two being 50ft. by 16ft. each, the other 16ft. square. The fire-places are at the ends of the rooms, which are of brick, so that the building is made as safe as possible from accident by fire. A detached wash-house of brick was also erected. The Committee further deemed it prudent to have the cases of small pox attended to exclusively by a medical gentleman who was not resident in the Asylum, and the services of Mr. Broom, from Guy's Hospital, were accordingly obtained. One case only of small pox has occurred on the female side, and the patient was immediately removed from the wards. It is hoped that the prompt measures adopted to check the spreading of the disease have been effectual, as no fresh case has occurred since the 25th day of January. Dr. Williams reports, on Feb. 22nd, that the patients suffering from the small-pox are now all convalescent, and will probably be fit to return to the House in a few weeks' time.

WM. SMYTH, Vice-Chairman.

MEDICAL SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT.

TO THE DIRECTORS OF THE NORTHAMPTON GENERAL
LUNATIC ASYLUM.

MY LORDS AND GENTLEMEN,

In accordance with the duty which annually devolves upon me, I proceed to lay before you my usual Statement of the chief events which have occurred in this Establishment during the year ending December 31st, 1864. I regret that I cannot give so satisfactory an account as on some previous occasions.

A serious accident occurred in the month of January, when one patient pushed another down, causing a fracture of the neck, of the thigh bone, and such a severe shock to the nervous system of the patient (who was a very old woman, named Ann Frisby), that she gradually sank, and died within 14 days. No blame could be attached to any one in connection with this accident.

A similar accident happened to Levi Burdett, who on the 19th of April was knocked down by another patient in a state of excitement, and sustained a fracture of the right leg. Being a very irritable person, he required much and constant attention, which was rendered to him in the Infirmary ward of the Institution. The result has been most satisfactory ; he can now use the limb as well as before the injury.

I now proceed to lay before you the statistics of the year. The number of patients on the books on the 1st January, 1864, was 406, i.e., 93 of the private class—44 males and 49 females ; and 313 pauper patients—155 males and 158 females. There have been admitted during the year 105, i.e., 21 private patients—13 males and 8 females ; and 84 paupers—43 males and 41 females. There have been discharged 56, of whom 34 were males and 22 females, 15 being private patients—12 males and 3 females ; 41 were paupers, i.e., 22 males and 19 females ; of these 43 were recovered—25 males and 18 females ; 4 males and 1 female being private patients, 21 males and 18 females pauper patients ; 3 were discharged improved—2 males and 1 female ; 10 were discharged unimproved, of whom 7 were males and 3 females ; 41 have died—19 males and 22 females ; of these, 7 males and 1 female were private patients, 12 males and 21 females paupers.

There remained in the Asylum on the 31st December, 1864, 414 patients, viz., 202 males and 212 females ; of these, 91 were private patients—39 males and 52 females ; 323 were paupers—163 males and 160 females : the increase in numbers, as compared with the corresponding period of the preceding year, being 8, viz., 3 males and 5 females. There is a decrease of 5 in the number of male private patients, whilst the number of the females has increased by 3; the increase of paupers amounts to 10, viz., 8 males and 2 females. The number of admissions were 7 less than in the year 1863, being 105 as compared with 114. There was no great disproportion between the sexes, 56 being males and 49 females.

Excepting the death of the female above referred to, no other would appear to call for special comment, but that of poor John Clare, the well known Northamptonshire peasant poet, respecting whom I hope to make a few remarks before closing this report—all the other deaths having resulted from purely natural causes. They are somewhat high in number, in accordance with my anticipations announced in my last report; but I am happy to say that they do not meet the average mortality in similar institutions.

Without instancing individual patients, the list of recoveries includes some as severe cases as ever presented themselves to the notice of the Psychological Physician, cases of deep interest requiring unremitting attention and the most careful treatment, which by the results have amply rewarded the attention bestowed upon them. There are other instances of a milder character, still of great interest; but on the whole this list is calculated to leave upon the minds of the Medical Officers the most favourable impressions of the means at their disposal in the Establishment for the alleviation of the greatest calamity that can befall human nature.

Perhaps of all the complications of insanity that of epilepsy is the most important and grievous. It is usually associated with the most violent cases—outbreaks of most dangerous excitement often precede or accompany the seizures, and, should life be prolonged, they usually subside into a state of hopeless fatuity. The cure or amelioration of so frightful a calamity must ever be an object of the deepest interest to the Philanthropist and the Physician. Much attention has been paid to this disorder in the Northampton General Lunatic Asylum during the past year. A medical preparation (the Bromide of Potassium) has recently been brought forward, which is supposed to exercise a very powerful and beneficial influence over it. Under the able and careful superintendence of Dr. Williams, this agent has had an extensive and fair trial, the results of which, for the benefit of the Medical Profession, he has already brought to their notice in the Medical Journals in the most gratifying manner, exhibiting industry and a talent for research most creditable to him. The subject appears to me to be one of too great importance to be passed over in this report. The number of epileptics in this Establishment has averaged about 40, being nearly equally divided between each sex; and as proof that I have not exaggerated the beneficial results of the use of the medicine, I may add that during the last five months of 1863 1,012 fits were recorded as having happened on the male side, whereas during the first five months of 1864, when they were under treatment, the number of fits was 706, thus giving a decrease of 306 in five months. On the female side the beneficial results were not so marked, but still the decrease was 157, viz., from 1,127 to 970. The mere diminution in the number of fits, however, is not the only happy effect of the drug, as it undoubtedly exercises a most powerful influence on the nervous system, and often soothes the irritability of epilepsy when no other medicine will take any effect, and has thus tended to lessen materially the number of minor accidents, such as black eyes, bruises, &c , which so often disfigure the pages of Asylum registers. The administration of this medicine and its results are still being carried out.

In the month of October several cases of typhoid fever appeared amongst the female domestics, supposed to be imported by a laundry maid. Prompt and energetic measures were taken to place those afflicted with it in most complete isolation from the remainder of the inmates of the Asylum, with the best and most decisive results. The cases were three in number, and though of a very severe character not one of them terminated fatally.

It has been my painful duty to bring before the Committee of Management several instances of misconduct on the part of the servants of the Institution, and I cannot but express my thanks for the manner in which the Committee have supported me in these investigations, and have, as I believe, in each case dispensed justice according to its merits. It is but right, however, to state that the faithfulness, zeal, careful attention to their duties, and general conduct of others, the great majority, some of whom have been many years in the service of the Institution, merit mention in terms of the highest praise.

Our late Chaplain, the Rev. H. R. Burdett, was removed from us by death in the midst of his duties, after a very short warning. He has been much missed by us, and great sympathy has been manifested in his case both by the patients and by all associated with him in his official capacity. The appointment of a successor took place in the month of October, and he entered upon his duties in November. Shortly afterwards it pleased Providence to afflict myself with a severe illness, in which my life was endangered for a length of time ; this prevented me from giving him that assistance which a new official expects and requires in his induction to the duties of office in an Establishment of this description. I regret it the more as I feel that I might have been of service to him in pointing out the peculiar nature of his duties, and smoothing his way to a clear appreciation of the specialities of his position.

During my illness small-pox made its appearance amongst the male patients of this Establishment, but one case having occurred during the year 1864 I feel that the history of this epidemic will more strictly and properly belong to the report of next year. Yet I cannot but express my heartfelt thankfulness for the mild character—with two or three exceptions—with which it has been visited upon us, not one fatal instance having occurred, and all are now convalescent. The energetic measures taken on this occasion also call for my best acknowledgments, both as regards the Committee and my Brother Officers in the Establishment. The Secretary and Steward exhibited his usual energy and readiness of resource ; but to Dr. Williams, upon whom especially devolved the duties and anxieties that would have been my own, had I been able to attend to them, I should indeed be wanting in gratitude did I not express my sense of approbation of his energy and judgment in the warmest manner that language will permit. It has been with pleasure, when matters were explained to me, that I have had to endorse with my concurrence all that he has done. The Buildings upon the Farm seem well calculated to assist us in combating the many evils still existing from the overcrowded state of the male department until the new Buildings in course of erection shall be finished.

In speaking of the obituary, I have already alluded to the death of John Clare, who though ailing for some time, yet not in a degree to excite serious apprehensions of immediate danger, was suddenly cut off by apoplexy on the 20th of May. It had been my purpose, had space and my physical strength permitted, to have written somewhat at length on the character of his insanity, and to have pointed out the frequent connection between mental aberration and genius, and especially as illustrated by some of our most noted poets. Latterly his intellect had become sadly clouded, yet there were periods when the shadow would be temporarily lifted. There are some verses, written long after his admission into the Asylum, that I cannot forbear to introduce, as showing the deep melancholy under which he must have laboured at the time they were written. They are entitled

I AM !

I am ! yet what I am none cares or knows,
 My friends forsake me like a memory lost ;
 I am the self consumer of my woes,
 They rise and vanish in oblivious host,
 Like shades in love and death's oblivion tost ;
 And yet I am—and live with shadows lost.
 Into the nothingness of scorn and noise,
 Into the living sea of waking dreams,
 Where there is neither sense of life nor joys,
 But the vast shipwreck of my life's esteems ;
 And e'en the dearest—that I loved the best—
 Are strange—nay, rather stranger than the rest.
 I long for scenes where man has never trod ;
 A place where woman never smil'd or wept ;
 There to abide with my Creator, God,
 And sleep as I in childhood sweetly slept ;
 Untroubling and untroubled where I lie ;
 The grass below—above, the vaulted sky.

I cannot close this Report without again thanking those associated with me in my labours, and especially expressing my sincere gratitude for the great kindness, sympathy, and liberality with which I have been treated by the Committee of Management and the Directors generally. I trust that the leave of absence granted me to recruit my health and strength may result in the end desired, and that I may return to my duties in a condition to resume my pursuits with increased usefulness, zeal, and devotion.

I have the honour to remain,

My Lords and Gentlemen,

Your most obedient servant,

EDWIN WING, M.D., Medical Superintendent.

February 14th, 1864.

CHAPLAIN'S REPORT.

MY LORDS AND GENTLEMEN,

Before I enter upon my Report it is my pleasing duty to mention the sincere love entertained by many of the patients for your late Chaplain. He appears to have been a man with a warm and tender heart, capable of inspiring feelings of affection in those with whom he had to do. He is still remembered, and often mentioned as I pass through the wards. He has passed beyond all benefit to be derived from this statement; but there may be those who will derive consolation from the evidence of an unprejudiced witness that he was loved and is regretted by his poor, afflicted charge.

On the 22nd November, 1864, I commenced my duties in this House, and have been ever since constantly occupied in their performance. It would be early for me to speak with any degree of confidence, but I have seen enough to know that my position is one of singular difficulty. The patients exhibit a perfect readiness to receive, as well as profit by, the instructions of the Chaplain. They accord to him a cheerful welcome, and express much delight at his frequent appearance among them.

The books and periodicals are regularly circulated through the House, so that any patient may have the benefit of this great source of amusement. The library has been augmented by your seasonable grant for books, but I shall probably have occasion to ask for an annual sum to be expended in the purchase of new books.

The chapel services have been regularly conducted every morning, and twice on Sundays, with sermons. For several weeks I have performed three services and preached three sermons on Sundays, it having been considered desirable, for medical reasons, to have a service in one of the male wards. None, save those who have witnessed it, would credit the good behaviour and attention of our congregation. Very rarely, indeed, can the slightest disturbing sound be heard; the responses are tolerably rendered, and nearly all listen attentively to the sermon. On Monday morning I often hear criticisms, and am met by questions, upon the sermons of the day before. The singing in chapel has received a great deal of my attention. At first we met for practice every afternoon, then every other afternoon, and then, for medical reasons, I had to confine my teaching to two afternoons in the week. We have been compelled to remove the old organ out of the Chapel into one of the wards. Notwithstanding the kindness of Mrs. Grant, the matron, it interfered with the improvement of the singers, being much out of tune. For the present, therefore, we have to trust to the voice alone, but we hope your kindness will soon supply us with an instrument suitable to the beautiful Chapel you have built. The meetings for singing appear greatly to interest the patients, and, if only I could secure a more regular attendance, our improvement would be more rapid and manifest than it now is.

The School carried on by the late Chaplain has been continued, and the meetings have been increased to three days a week.

The Holy Communion has been administered upon the appointed days to all those patients who have been in the habit of attending, and some new communicants have been admitted.

In conclusion, I hope I may state that I have done my best to comfort, console, and direct the afflicted inmates of this Hospital. Of the work assigned to me, it may emphatically be said that it needs the wisdom of the serpent with the tenderness of the dove. Truly, it needs more wisdom than I possess ; therefore I am led to rely upon your constant counsel and generous support, that I may be a bringer of good tidings and a publisher of peace to every inmate of your noble Institution.

I am, my Lords and Gentlemen,

Your obedient servant,

S. CHARLES HAINES, Chaplain.

EXTRA BATHS : Two extra marble baths have been fitted up,—one in Male 3 Ward, at a cost of £17. 5s. 3d.; the other in Female 1 Ward, at a cost of £17. 11s. 6d. Total cost	34	16	9
A structural alteration was necessary in Female 1 Bath-room for safety and efficiency. This was effected at a cost of.....	5	0	0
WORK IN LAUNDRY : Fittings have been put up in the laundry to form an additional store for soap, at a cost of.....	5	2	0

WOMEN'S AIRING GARDEN : Several improvements have been effected in the women's large airing garden, comprising a shed or covered promenade, 95 feet long and 10 feet wide, with a roof of corrugated iron. Cost £95. A seat, 95 feet long, with elbows at intervals of 8 feet, fixed under the shed, and an aviary fixed in a blank window opening. Cost £8. 9s. A wall, 75 feet by 7 feet 6 inches, taken down, and an excavation made, and a wall erected below the level of the ground, so as to form a sunk fence, thus opening the view from the garden in the direction of Delapré and the Queen's Cross. Cost £8. 14s. 2d. The total cost of the works in this garden being

112 3 2

A rustic shed was erected in the year 1863 upon the bowling green, but the same was not paid for until this year, the cost being.....

32 14 6

WATER WORKS : To render the works complete for appropriating the whole supply of water from the springs upon the farm to the use of the Asylum, it became necessary to provide a reserve tank for the low level springs, and the following works have accordingly been carried out : A tank erected below the surface of the ground to hold 30,000 gallons, and a well sunk into the clay to catch a small spring, found during the progress of the work, to hold 2,500 gallons; a trench, 175 yards long and averaging 2 feet 6 inches deep, opened, the drains taken up, cleaned out, re-laid, and connected with the new tank; suction pipes and rising mains laid down, sluices provided, and all made complete, so as to connect the tank and well with the wind engine pumps, and to provide for pumping by the portable steam engine. The total cost of the whole works being

130 10 6

The Asylum water works, so far as concerns all the springs upon the farm, are now complete.

ADDITION TO THE MALE SIDE : An addition to the male side has been commenced, the sum expended being

349 8 3

NEW BACK ROAD : 205 yards of new road, 15 feet wide, from the back premises to the farm have been made, to do which it was necessary to remove

1,250 cubic yards of earth and ironstone, and to underpin 70 square yards of wall. The rubbish from this excavation was wheeled by patients, a distance of 90 yards, to the Chapel grounds.
 Total cost 50 0 0

LADIES' GARDEN : The excavations for a sunk fence around the proposed enclosed garden for the use of the ladies have been made, and 650 square yards of 14-inch boundary wall erected, at a cost of .. 171 18 8

£1,223 6 10

CHAPEL ACCOUNT :

A bell fixed complete in the Chapel turret, at a cost of 20 11 6

The levelling of the ground around the Chapel, which is a work of considerable magnitude, has steadily progressed throughout the year, all the earth and rubbish which have been removed from other parts being deposited there. The amount expended during the year being..... 119 7 4

APPLICATION FOR ADMISSION.

Prior to sending a Patient into the Lunatic Asylum, it is very desirable that a communication should be made to the Medical Superintendent, who will furnish the Applicant with the Forms required under the Acts of Parliament.

Patients chargeable to Parishes in the County of Northampton are admissible on the production of proper Forms, provided there be room in the House, which should be previously ascertained.

TERMS OF ADMISSION.

The Terms for Board, Lodging, Washing, Medical Advice Medicines, and all other necessaries, Wine and Clothing excepted, are from £1. 1s. to £3. 3s. per week, according to the accommodation desired, and must be paid quarterly in advance. In special cases, requiring extraordinary attendance and accommodation, terms higher than the above may be proposed by the Medical Superintendent, subject to the approval of the Committee, at their next meeting; or the Committee may, in instances where they think proper, reduce the above rates.

For any further particulars, apply, either personally or by letter, to the Medical Superintendent.

As the Friends of Patients may sometimes find it difficult to procure a proper person to conduct them to the Asylum, an experienced attendant will, on application, be provided.

APPLICATION FOR ADMISSION

Before sending a patient into the Lunatic Asylum, it is desirable that a communication should be made to the Medical Superintendent, who will furnish the Applicant with the forms required under the Act of Parliament. Patients may only be admitted to the Asylum in the County of Northampton on the production of proper forms, provided there is room in the House, which should be previously ascertained.

TERMS OF ADMISSION

The Terms for Boarding, Medical Advice, &c. are as follows:—
NORTHAMPTON :
PRINTED BY JAS. BUTTERFIELD, HERALD STEAM PRESS OFFICE.
1865.
The Boarding is for the Lunatic Asylum, in which the patient is kept, and the Medical Superintendent is responsible for the patient's health and conduct. The patient is to be kept in the Asylum until he or she is cured, or until the Medical Superintendent orders otherwise. The patient is to be kept in the Asylum until he or she is cured, or until the Medical Superintendent orders otherwise. The patient is to be kept in the Asylum until he or she is cured, or until the Medical Superintendent orders otherwise.

As the friends of Lunatics are sometimes not able to afford the expense of a patient's board and maintenance, the Medical Superintendent will receive applications for a grant of money to defray the same, and will make such grants as may be thought proper.
