TO THE READER.

FRiendly Reader; the trauaile which I haue taken for thy behoofe, I may boldly say, doth require a fauourable acceptance at thy handes; for many in matters of as small moment as this, haue threatned on thee as great kindnesse, and receaued for their paines frendly entreatie. I open vnto thee a Librarie; wherein thou mayst finde layed readie to thy view and vse, the toonge with which by reason of the troublesome times, thou arte like to haue most acquaintance: hauing trauailed (though at home) with a more curious endeuour to search out the proprietie thereof; then many that haue spent some years in the Countrie where the toonge is naturall; yea then some Spaniardes, that haue dealt in the same argument. For no doubt, those things that to me being a straunger to the toonge, appeared vpon good reason to bee worth the obseruation: were so ordinarie with them, as they seemed needlesse to be drawen into rule. I am not so malicious as to detract from the labours of any that haue gone before me; but confesse, that I haue both seene and vsed them where I thought it conuenient: referring it to the indifferent iudgment of the discreete Reader, whether I haue reason to dissent from them, in such points as wee varie. The Methode I obserue, is so playne and easie, if thou marke my first Analytical table; as thou shalt neede no long discourse to explane it; and though I assure thee I haue not concealed any thing which I knew to be needfull for thy furtheraunce herein; yet were the rule neuer so playne and perfect; the liuely voice of the teacher, is the best light to the learner: Howbeit the more absolute and compleat the rule is; with the lesse time and trouble shalt thou attayne thy desired acquaintaunce with the language. I haue studied to be briefe, I hope without obscuritie, for sparing thy time the chiefest treasure. The Dictionarie hath coste me greatest paynes; for after that I had collected it into Spanish and English out of Christoval de las Casas, and Nebrissensis; casting in some small pittaunce of mine owne, amounting well neere two 2000 wordes; which neither of them had; I ranne it ouer twise with Don Pedro de Valdes, and Don Vasco de Sylua, to whome I had accesse, by the fauour of my worshipfull friend Maister Richard Drake, (a Gentleman as vertuouslie minded as any, to further any good attempt) and hauing by their helpe made it readie for the presse with the English interpretation onely: In very good time, I chaunced to be acquainted with the learned Gentleman, Master Thomas Doyley doctor in Phisicke; who had begunne a Dictionary in Spanish, English, and Latine; and seeing mee to bee more foreward to the presse then himselfe; very friendly gaue his consent to the publishing of mine; wishing me to adde the Latine to it as hee had begunne in his; which I performed, being not a little furthered therein by his aduise and conference. Make thy profite of it good Reader, and yeelde mee thy good worde for my paines: if any thing want the grace and perfection it ought to haue, vpon friendly warning I will doe my best to polish it to thy contentment, which I am sure will be limited within the boundes of reason. The malicious who with their venemous toonges, seeke to deface the labours of others, themselues being vermine altogether vnprofitable, I would be loth to grace so much, as to vouchsafe them a word in their disgrace; but leaue them to the iust punishment of their repining consciences.

To the Reader.

BEholde good Reader, the seconde part of my Librarie: without which this little worke woulde be maimed and mishapen: for since that hath the forme, and this the matter, vnlesse thou haue that from hence, which the other may set in order, decke, and polish, I shal seeme but slenderly to haue respected thy studies. But least thou stumble in the verie entrance: Thou must marke these three points. The Accent, certaine maymed and vnperfect words; The marshalling of the letters in the Alphabet. Of the Accent know this, that in the first booke where I giue the rule of Euphonia; bicause of some vncertaine words which no rule can containe, I referred many things to the Dictionarie. In such Nounes, whose pronuntiatiõ varieth from the rule, I haue heere for the most part noted the accent, which I would haue thee vnderstand to be alwaies sharpe. In Verbes, although all infinitiue moodes make the last sharpe; yet thou shalt often find the accent vpon the last saue one, or the last saue two: not to the ende thou shouldest imagine that the sillable where the accent standeth, should belong in the infinitiue moode; but that thou knowe it must be so in the first person of the present tense of the indicatiue. Those in io and uo, commonlie make short the last saue one of the indicatiue, vnlesse the line ouer it saie the contrarie; And all the rest which haue no accent, make it long, though they be deriued from such Latin Verbes as are short, as you may see in these, Imagíno Dissimúlo. The words set by the infinitiues, whether they be perfect or no; shewe thee that those letters make a difference, betweene the infinitiue moode and the indicatiue; by adding or changing some letter: as of Amolar, the first of the indicatiue, is Amuelo: of Afligir, Aflijo, & so of the rest. The Order of the letters may seeme somewhat vnorderly. But as it fell out it could be no otherwise; bicause that following Nebrissensis and Casas, I traced their steps. The Alphabet is thus set, A, B, ca, co, cu, ça, ce, ci, ço, çu, ch, D, E, F, G, H, I, Y, j, L, ll, M, N, ñ, O, P, Q, R, S, T, u, V, X, Z. The Spanish words gathered out of Nebrissensis, are not al in vse: for him selfe saith; he framed and coined some; yet I haue set

EN tibi, lector, Bibliothecæ nostræ pars altera: sine qua opusculũ hoc mancum, deforme. Cum enim illius forma, hujus materia propria sit; nisi tibi ex hac, quod illa disponat, poliat, exornet: studijs tuis malè certe consultum videbitur. Verùm ne in ipso limine impingas, tria tibi animaduertenda. Accentus, Voculæ quædam mancæ & inarticulatæ; Literarum in Alphabeto dispositio. De Accentu sic habeto; Me in priore illa, vbi de Euphonia præcepta tradidi, propter incerta quædã quæ nulla capit regula; multa ad Dictionarium rejecisse. In nominibus quæ à præcepto diuersam enũciationem sortiuntur, accentu hîc pleraq; notaui; quem acutum esse semper, velim intelligas. In verbis, licet omnia Infiniti modi vltimam acuant; sæpe tamen inuenies accentum penultimæ, vel antepenultimæ insidentem: non eo consilio, vt arbitrere, syllabam illam ab accentu occupatam, in ipso infinito producendam; sed vt intelligas, eam in prima præsentis indicatiui acuendam. In io & uo pleraque penultimã indicatiui corripiũt, nisi aliud doceat accẽtus insidens. Reliqua omnia, quibus nullus apex; eandem producunt; etsi à Latinis correptis deriuata; vt in his videre est, Imagíno, Dissimúlo. Voculæ illæ infinitis additæ siue perfectæ, siue imperfectæ: illis literis, primam præsentis indicatiui, ab infinitiuo distingui significant; literam aliquam vel addendo, vel mutando; vt ab Amolar prima indicatiui Amuelo, ab Affligir, Afflijo, & sic de cæteris. Literarum ordo paulò videbitur inuersior: sed vt res tulit, aliter fieri non potuit. Nebrissensem enim & Casam sequuti, illorum vestigijs plurimùm institimus. Sic igitur Alphabetum tibi disposítum. A, B, ca, co, cu, ça, ce, ci, ço, çu, ch, D, E, F, G, H, I, vocalis, Y, j, L, ll, M, N, ñ, O, P, Q, R, S, T, u, V, X, Z. Verba etiam Hispanica, quæ è Nebrissensi, scito non vsquequaque omnia in vsu: cum & ipse apertè loquatur, à se nonnulla ficta & excusa. Apposui tamen omnia, ne me parum sana fide in illo versatum existimares. Crebras illas ejusdem verbi repetitiones, quæ illi frequentes, ad Latinæ dictionis sensum exprimendum; prudens vitavi. Hispanica enim lingua mihi explicanda, non Latina. Hoc amice lector præmonuisse sufficiat: & si quid peccatum in prima hac editione imprudentia fuerit; modò his per te expeditum iter, postea corrigetur. Cognosce mecum & agnosce; homines nos, & humanum, labi falli: quod si nulli hîc nævi essent, nullæ maculæ, extra Britanniæ fines deportandam prolem hanc nostram, & (quod prodigiosis partubus factitatum à Romanis, historiæ testes) igne cremandam, ipse ego autor & suasor essem. Vale, & nostris fave, vtere.

set downe all, least thou shouldest thinke I dealt scarse faithfully with him: I haue purposely passed ouer his repetitions of the selfe same word, which he often vseth to expresse the sense of the Latin words; for I go about to explain the Spanish, not to teach the Latine. Let it suffice good Reader to admonish thee thus much; and if by ouersight, any thing haue escaped in this first impression; so this with thy good fauor, may haue speedy passage; it shall be amended hereafter. Know with me, and acknowledge, that we are men, and as men we may slip, and be deceiued; for if there were in this, no spots nor freckles, I my selfe would wish and perswade it, to be carried out of the boundes of this Realme, and there burned: as the histories witnesse, the Romanes were woont to do with monstrous births. Farewell good Reader, fauour and vse vs.

But iumpe as ſtately and as ſweete, or rather ſtately more:
As full of prety prouerbs, and moſt dainty priuie quips,
Of graue aduices, bitter taunts, and paſſing gawling nips.
Though learned pens in Italy and France do floriſh more,
And in our happy Britaine, where are learned men ſuch ſtore:
Yet Spaniſh ſpeech liſts giue no ground: which here by painfull hand
Of Perciuall, is open laid, for all to vnderſtand,
And ſoon to ſpeake and write the ſame, by practiſe in his booke:

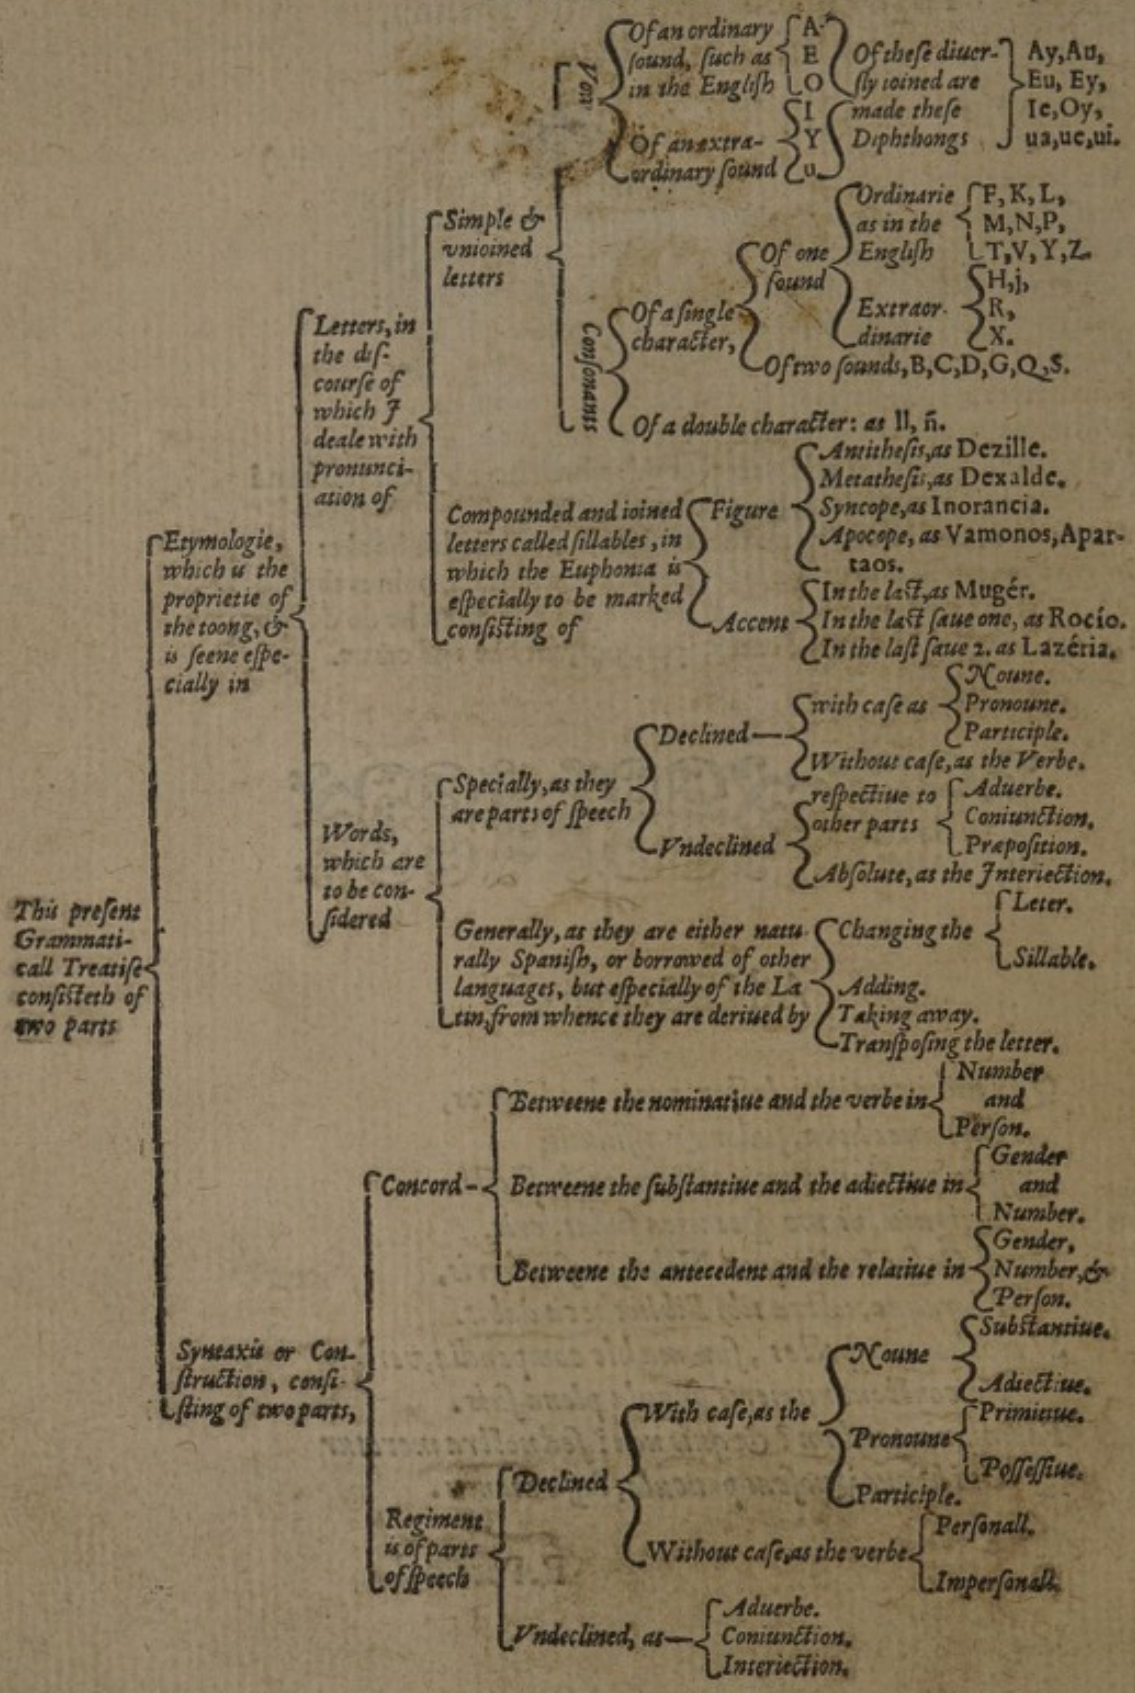
THE ANALYTICALL TABLE
for the Grammar.



THE SPANISH GRAMMAR.

Of Letters.

UCH as teach Arithmetike and Geometrie, begin with points and vnities, things in shew of small moment, yet such as being neglected, would hinder the teacher, and entangle the learner in manie labyrinthes: in like maner, and for like reason, since I haue taken in hand to deale with this Grammaticall treatise; if I meane not to builde without a sure foundation: I must set before the eies, or rather make euident to the eares of the learner, the naturall force and efficacie of each letter. First, I finde that in placing and ordering them, there may be some question, since it is plaine that diuers languages obserue diuers courses: none that I knowe following that, which the naturall efficacie of the letter seemeth to require. And although in marshalling them I might well take for a patterne, the Hebrew as most ancient; some of the Spanish approching so neere it, as shall after appeere: yet bicause that course might seeme far fet, I will keepe me to the vsuall forme of our English: following notwithstanding in my particular diuision that method, which I gesse the nature of the toong afordeth. Neither let any man thinke this treatise of letters to be of small moment, the ods betweene the Spanish and our English being such, as doth necessarily require it. To begin therefore; The letters are in number xxiiij. besides two, which being written double, haue in this language a peculiar pronunciation.

A b c ç d e f g h i k l m n o p q r ſ r v x y z.

The letters written with a double character are, ll ñ.

They may well be diuided into vowels and consonants: the vowels yeeld a perfect sound of themselues: the consonants do not; without the helpe of the vowels. These vowels following differ not in pronounciation from the English.

A is pronounced with an open mouth plainly, as in Band, stand, so in Spanish Lastimada, Pasmada.

E as in English, Tender, tempest, so in Spanish, Pebre, Pesebre. And the studious must take heede of drowning it, as the French do their e feminine, or straining it too small like the double ee of the English, in wee, see.

O with a plaine and open mouth as in other languages.

These vary frō the sound which we cōmonly giue them in English.

I and y with a slender tune as both French and Italians do in their proper toongs, and obserue also in the Latin, as the double ee in English in wee, see: so in Spanish Visita, oydos, and take heede you pronounce them not too broad, as we Englishmen do in the Latin, where the sillable is long, as in Audire, Sentire.

u with a full sound, as the Italian in Aiuto, Alcuno, Costumi, or as in some English words, as Surfet, purse: so in Spanish Humo, çumo. And note that if h go before it, and a vowell follow it, it soundeth as w, Hueco, huevo. If g or q go before it, and e or i follow, the u is lost, and it soundeth as in English Guest, guift, as Guerra, gerra, Guiar, giar, Quemar, kemar, Quitar, kitar: except with g in these words Aguelo, çaraguelles, Cigueña, Aguero, Verguença, Siguença, Guero, Garguero, Halagueño, Pedigueño, Regueldo, Deguello, and such verbes whose Infinitives end in guar, as Menguar, Mengue, Fraguar, Fragüe: and except with q where the word is Latin, as Eloquente, Frequente, &c.

The consonants are either of a single, or of a double character. These consonants following of a single character, differ nothing from the sound which we allow them in English, F k l m n p t v y.

But in these is difference.

H is seldome written in the beginning of a word, and where he is written many times he is not pronounced: but for this, vse of reading and speaking is the best teacher: where he commeth before ue he maketh it sound like a w, as Hueco, huevo: with c before him he is pronounced as in the English change, choise, so Charco, chupar: except in words deriued from the Greeke, as Monarchia, jerarchia, where he soundeth much like k: with t the h is lost, as for Theologo they pronounce Teologo, &c. with p they both sound togither like F, as Philosopho, j somwhat like the French in Desja, joieux, juer, but best like the Hebrew ש with his point on the right horne, or sh in English, as Ojo, osho, Hijo, hisho, howbeit the Andaluz doth pronounce it rather like zh, as Ozho, hizho.

R is somwhat hard to be sounded by our countrimen if it be single in the mids of a word, as Parece, perece: where he must be pronounced very weakly, the toong lightly touching the rofe of the mouth: but if he be in the beginning of a word, or double in the midst, you cannot pronounce him too strong though you would, as Rey, Roble, Parra, Perro.

X like the j, the affinitie being so great as the one is often written for the other, Xara, shara, Lexia, leshia, Quexar, keshar.

These consonants being of a single character, haue notwithstanding two seuerall sounds, either as their places, the letters following, or the nature of the word doth require.

B is a lip letter, and pronounced as in the English, Barbour, basen: either where it is the first letter in the word, as Bevo, Biuda, Boca, or in the middle of a word, if it be deriued from the Latin, as Liberalidad, &c. otherwise it is manifest to any that obserueth it in the speech of any right Spaniard: that very often and commonly it is sounded like the Hebrew ב when it is in the middest of a word without daggesh, or as we sound v the consonant: as Bobo, bovo,

Cabo,

Cabo, cavo, Cobrar, covrar, being a thing so vsuall and ordinarie, as that very often the one is printed for the other.

C before a o u like k, as Cabo, Cobrar, saue that if the nature of the word require any other pronunciation, it is noted with a little taile, as ç, and is called Cerilla, sounding almost as the Italian z in Senza, Anzi, or their c before ia or io, as in Prudentia, Congregatione, or like the Hebrew ץ as our ts in English, but not altogither so strong vpon the c, Coraça, Cozatsa, çarça, Tsartsa, keeping the same sound of Cerilla, though not the same forme: before e and i as Cerca, Tserca, Cierto, Tsierto.

D in the beginning of a word (except in Dios) is pronounced as in English Dosen, Dauid, so in Spanish Dar, Dezir, or if the word be deriued from the Latin, as Blando, Prudente. In other places it is very commonly sounded like the Hebrew ד in the midst of a word without daggesh, or as many pronounce δ in the Greeke, or rather like, th, in these English words, Them, Then, These, as in Ciudad, Caredad, Cordero.

G before a o u as in English Garter, gurner, gorge, so Garça, Golpe, gusano: before ua, as in Gwin, Gweneuer, so Agua, guardar: before ue and ui the u is lost, and it soundeth as in Guest, beguile, so Guerra, Guiar: except such words as are before set downe in the treatise of the vowell u. Before e and i the g is pronounced somewhat like our English, as in Ginger, but rather like the French in Age, Sagesse: to be briefe, altogither like the Spanish j, as Gente, Elegir.

Q before ua, as Quarry, quagmire, so Quatro, Quando: before ue and ui the u is lost, and the q soundeth like k, as in the French Querelle, Antiquite, so in Spanish Quemar, kemar, Quitar, kitar, except as before in the rule of u.

S if he be single in the midst of a word, or if he be in the end of a word, is pronounced with a milde sound betweene ſ and z, as the French do in Chose, Maison, or we in English in Pleasure, desire, so in Spanish Cosa, uso, Dios, Palabras. But in the beginning of a word, or if he be double in the middle, or come before a consonant, he keepeth the sound which we giue him in English, in Saue, Passed, Dust, Señor Huesso, Hasta.

These two following are of a double character, and haue their peculiar pronunciation.

Ll almost like the French in Baille, Taylle, Famille, Oreille, or as the Italian gl Pigliar, Figliol, sounding the latter l like the y consonant l going before it, yet so as you make all but one sillable, as Llamar, Lyamar, Lleno, Lyeno, Llorar, Lyorar.

ñ somwhat like the French in gn in Mignon, or the Italian in Ogni, Bagno, or the Hebrew י in ניר: like y the consonant hauing n before it, as Año, Anyo, Paño, Panyo.

OF DIPTHTHONGS.

A diphthong is a ioint and mixt sound of two vowels comming togither, as in the Greeke αι, οι, ευ, &c. in the Latin au in Audio, &c. both the vowels being so pronounced, as you heare the sound of both, yet so as you seuer them not, neither make any more than one sillable of them, as Ey in Ley, Reyna, Ay in Ayre, Au in Causa, Eu in Deudo, ie in Tiene, Viene, Oy in Oygo, ua in Suave, Cuajo, ue in Suegro, Sueño, ui in Cuitado, Cuidado.

Of Sillables, and in them of Euphonia.

NOwe that we knowe the proper and peculiar force of ech letter; it followeth that we learne how the Spaniards frame their pronunciatiõ of sillables, in respect of pleasantnes or easines of sound or vtterance, called Euphonia: which consisteth of two parts, Figure and Accent. The figures that they vse are commonly these fower.

Antitheſis, or Antistœchon: where if l followe immediately after r being the last of the infinitiue moode, they change r into l, to make the sound the pleasanter, as for Dexarle, dexalle, Dezirle, dezille.

Metatheſis, when after the seconde person plurall of the Imparatiue moode, l following: d and l chaunge places, as for Dexadle, the say and write dexalde, for Ponedle, ponelde.

Syncope, where two consonants comming togither in the midst of a word, would make the pronunciation somewhat hard, they cut off the former, if it be b c p: or g before n, as for Subtil, they say sutil, for Acto ato, for Captivo, cativo, for Ignorancia ignominia, inorancia inominia.

Apocope, where after the first person plurall of a Verbe ending in os, nos, the Pronoune following; they cut off the s of the Verbe as for Vamos nos, they say Vamonos, &c. so from the second person plural of the same mood, they take the d, a Apartaos, for Apartados, Dezime for dezidme, otherwise, these rules excepted, you haue no letter clipped or drowned, as they are in the French, but are all wholie and fullie pronounced.

Of Accent.

Accent, being the second pillar of Euphonia, is the sounding of a sillable sharpe or soft, or the pronouncing it long or short, and disgraceth the speaker if it be not obserued: varying so much from the opinion of the learner, as it necessarily requireth a rule.

In the laſte. The accent is in the last sillable in euery worde that endeth in r, as Amár, paladár, mugér, &c. yea although in the last sillable saue one, there be two consonants togither, which the Latines call Position, as Alcançar, Esparzir, out of this rule some fewe are excepted, as Açúcar, Acíbar, Alcáçar. Euerie Noune ending in d l i n s z, hath the accent in the last, Bondád, Alguazíl, Coraçón, Albañi, Pavés, Almiréz, except some ending in l, p and n, deriued from the Latin, which keepe the accent which they haue in the primitiue, as Fácil, árbol, órden, vírgen, Nownes in ion follow the generall rule, as veneración, afición.

In Verbs it shall be sufficient to aduise the reader to marke the examples hereafter set downe, in which I haue diligently set the accent in his due place, bicause the rule would be to intricate: noting with al

these

these two points: First, that where the first and third person singular of the Preterperfectences of the Indicatiue mood of al regular Uerbs, haue the accent in the last sillable, as Lastimé, lastimó, Pedí, pidió, &c. the Uerbs irregular do cõmonly differ from this rule, as andúve díxe, and some Uerbs regular in the third person of the Preterperfectense of the second & third coniugation: Secondly, that where al in general, in the third person plurall of the Indicatiue and present tense haue the accent in the last saue one, some irregular differ, as Están.

Aduerbes ending in a or i as Acá, aquí, Aí acullá, the Prepositions Hasta, házia, fuéra, differ from this rule.

All deriuatiues in Ado, eta, ido, udo, ico, ito, illo, üelo, haue the accent in the last saue one, as Barbádo, arquéta, abatído, cabeçúdo, chiquíto, pañizuélo, hombrezíllo: and also many Nounes ending in ea, ia, eo, io, as Melibéa, abogacía, desséo, rocío, except where the word is Latine, as, Miséria, domínio, but this rule hath so many exceptions, as for the more certeinty I refer the Reader to the Dictionary, where commonly I prouide for this ambiguitie. In the last saue one.

Nounes deriued from the Latine, kæpe the accent of the Latin, as Précio, Domínio, Lágrimas, &c. except where they be checkt by the former rules, as Caridád, afición, &c. In the last saue two.

And although these rules of the accent in some points may receaue exception (as what rule is so general but may?) yet they are ordinarily so true, as the studious shal receaue great light by them, and auoid manie absurdities in pronunciation, which otherwise he woulde commit: What falleth not within the compasse of this rule, shall be holpen by the Dictionarie, where in words doubtful, I commonly set the accent ouer the sillable.

Of parts of speech.

Hauing thus finished our briefe discourse of letters and sillables, order requireth that we deale with words, which considered as they are parts of speech, may be reduced to these eight generall heads, as in the Latine.

Noune, Pronoune, Uerbe, Participle,	declined,	Aduerbe, Coniunction, Preposition, Interiection,	vndeclined.

Of a Noune.

A Noune is the name of a thing that may be seene, felt, heard, or vnderstoode, as of a man, the name is Hombre, of vertue Virtud, &c. Of Nounes some be called substantiues, which in speech stande by themselues, and require not another worde to declare their signification, as el Hombre, a man, la Muger, a woman: some be called adiectiues, which cannot be vnderstoode of themselues throughly, vnlesse some other other word be ioyned with them, as Negro, blacke, Blanco, white. Of the Substantiues likewise, some be proper, as Vasco Alonso. Some common, called also appellatiues, as Arbol, cabo, a tree, an end, Cuerpo, a bodie, Cabeça, a head, &c. In Nouns these sixe things are especially to be considered, kinde, number, case, gender, declenson and comparison.

There are two kinds of Nounes, Primitiues, and Deriuatiues: the Primitiue is deriued of no other, as Hombre a man: the Deriuatiue is drawen from the Primitiue, as Hombrezillo.

Primitiues. Of Primitiues the numerals are especially worth the noting, they are either Cardinall, that is, principall, vpon which the rest depend, as Vno, dos, tres, quatro, cinco, seys, siete, ocho, nueve, diez, unze, doze, treze, catorze, quinze, diez y seys, diez y siete, diez y ocho, diez y nueve, veynte, veynte uno, veynte dos, &c. treynta, quarenta, cinquenta, sessenta, setenta, ochenta, noventa, ciento y cien, Docientos, trezientos, quatrocientos, quinientos, &c. Mil.

The ordinals are, which declare the order of place or time, as Primero, segundo, tercero, quarto, quinto, sexto, seteno, octavo, noveno, diezmo, vnzeno, &c.

The Aduerbialls, vna vez, once, dos vez, twise, &c.

Deriuatiues. Of Deriuatiues, these kinds are especially to be marked, such as signifie plentie, ende commonly in oso, as virtuoso, honrroso, dichoso.

Such as signifie excesse, in udo, as Cabeçudo, membrudo, &c. and substantiues in azo, as Hombrazo, perrazo.

Diminitiues ende commonly in ito, illo, illa, eta, uelo, ico, as Chiquito, delgadillo, hombrezillo, delgadito, pañjzuelo, arqueta, vaqueta.

Of Adiectiues in o or e are formed Substantines, signifieng forme or qualitie in ad, eza, ura, of Bueno, bondad, of torpe, torpeza, of hecho, hechura.

OF NVMBERS.

There are two numbers, the singular speaking of one, the plurall of moe, as Hombre, a man: Hombres, men. And this rule may be generally obserued to forme the plurall number of the nowne: that if the singular ende in a vowell, the plurall is made by putting s to it, as Padre, padres, except some fewe, to which es must be added, as Ley, leyes, Rey, reyes, Fe, fees. But if the singular ende in a consonant, the plurall is alwaies formed by putting to es, as Amistad, amistades.

OF CASES.

The Spanish Nouns haue no diuersitie in the termination of anie case, but the case is knowen by the article and preposition, the nominatiue hath no preposition, the genetiue hath de, the datiue para, the accusatiue a, the ablatiue de.

OF GENDERS.

Genders are three, the Masculine, the Feminine, and the Neuter, and to knowe the genders of Substantiues, these rules following must be marked.

Sometime the Noune that in the Latine is of the Masculine and Feminine, keepeth the same in the Spanish, but it varieth so often, as no certaine rule can be giuen in this point: the Neuter gender serueth only onely for Adiectiues vsed Substantiuely, as Lo justo, Lo bueno.

All nouns that ende in o, l, r, are commonly of the masculine gender, as Desseo, Alguazil, Paladar: but such as end in ion, a, or d, are commonly the feminine, as Aficion, Cama, Amistad, except la mar, and some few others.

Names of trees are commonly of the masculine: and of the fruites the feminine, as el mançano, la mançana, except some fewe, as el higo, la higuera, la palma, el datil, la parra, el razimo. 3

Verbals in or, are of the masculine gender, and haue their feminine by putting to a, as comprador, compradora: nownes in o, make the feminine by changing o into a. Amo, ama, bueno, buena. 4

OF DECLENSONS.

There is no diuersitie of Declensons, all Nownes following one & the same course, viz. to be declined with the Preposition and the article, the article is thus declined.

Sing.	Nom. el, la, lo.	Plur.	Nom. los, las.
	Genit. del, dela, delo.		Gen. de los, de las.
	Dat. para el, para la, para lo.		Dat. para los, para las.
	Acc. a l, or al a la, a lo.		Acc. a los, a las.
	Ab. del, de la, de lo.		Abl. de los, de las.

And note that in speech: the article is to Nownes appellatiues a companion inseparable: but is not vsed with Nownes proper; as we say el hombre, la muger: but not el Iuan, la Catelina: neyther is the article vsed with the word Dios, vnlesse there be ioyned to it some epithyte, as el Dios todo poderoso &c. Nownes substantiues of the masculine gender are thus declined.

Sing.	Nom. el hombre.	Plur.	Nom. los hombres.
	Gen. del hombre.		Gen. de los hombres.
	Dat. para el hombre.		Dat. para los hombres.
	Acc. a el or al hombre.		Acc. a los hombres.
	Abl. del hombre.		Abl. de los hombres.

Of the Feminine gender thus.

Sing.	Nom. la muger.	Plur.	Nom. las mugeres.
	Gen. de la muger.		Gen. de las mugeres.
	Dat. para la muger.		Dat. para las mugeres.
	Acc. a la muger.		Acc. a las mugeres.
	Abl. de la muger.		Abl. de las mugeres.

OF NOVNES ADIECTIVES.

Adiectiues are of two sorts, some of all genders vnder one termination, as Eloquente, frequente: some of three diuers ending, as Bueno, buena, bueno, the Masculine being declined like the Substantiue of the Masculine gender, the Feminine as the Substantiue of the Feminine gender, and the newter with the article of the newter gender, in the singular number onely: & with the other two genders, in the plural also.

OF COMPARISON.

There be three degrees of Comparison of nownes adiectiues: the positiue of absolute signification, as justo, iust, Hermoso, fayre.

The comparatiue exceedeth the positiue, and in English is knowen by by the termination er as iuster, fayzer, oz by the wozde moze, as moze iust, moze fayze, which in Spanish is alway mas, as mas justo.

The Superlative in significatiõ exceedeth his positiue in the highest degree, and in English hath the termination, est, as iustest, oz the wozd most, as most iust; in Spanish it chaungeth o of the positiue into issimo, as justissimo, oz else hath the wozd muy, & sometimes mas ioyned with it, as muy justo, muy hermoso. Fulano es el mas es forçado, de todos los soldados, de su tercio. Such a one is the most valient of all the souldiozs of his bande. Out of this rule are excepted, Bueno, malo, mucho, poco, grande, chico, which are thus compared.

Bueno, mejor, o mas bueno; muy bueno.
Malo, peor, muy malo.
Mucho, mas, muy mucho, oz muchissimo.
Poco, menos, muy poco.
Grande, mayor, muy grande oz grandissimo.
Chico, menor, o mas chico; muy chico.

A Pronoune.

A Pzonoune is a parte of speach very like the Noune, and is vsed in shewing & rehearsing. Of pzonounes some are pzimitiues, as yo, tu, si, este, aquel, el, el qual, que, quien, mismo.

Some are deriuatiues called also possessiues: because they signifie possession, appertaining oz belonging vnto some other thing, as Mio oz mi, tuyo oz tu, suyo oz su, nuestro and vuestro.

Of Pzimitiues, some are called demonstratiues, because they shew a thing not spoken of befoze: as yo, tu, si, aquel, este, el.

Some are Relatiues, as rehearsing something, oz hauing reference to something spoken of befoze, as el, este, que, quien, el qual.

In a Pzonoune are especially to be noted these two thinges: declenson and person, there be thzee declensons of pzonounes, of the first are yo, tu, si, thus.

Sing.	Nom. yo.	Plur.	nos, oz nosotros.	Sing.	tu.	Plur.	vos oz vosotros.
	Gen. de mi.		de nosotros.		de ti.		de voso:
	Dat. para mi.		para nosotros		para ti.		para voso:
	Acc. a mi, oz me.		a nosotros.		a ti oz te		a vosotros
	Abl. de mi.		de nosotros.		de ti.		de voso:

Sing. and Plur. Gen. de si. Dat. para si. Acc. a si oz se. Abl. de si.

Of the second declenson are el, aquel, este, mio, tuyo, suyo, nuestro, vuestro, mismo, & note that el where he serueth as an article is declined, as is shewed in the Noune: where he is a pzonoune, thus.

Sing.	Nom. el, ella, ello.	Plur.	Nom. ellos, ellas.
	Gen. d'el, d'ella, d'ello.		Gen. dellos, dellas.
	Dat. para el, para ella, para ello.		Dat. para ellos, para ellas.
	Acc. a el, a ella, a ello.		Acc. a ellos, a ellas.
	Abl. del, della, dello.		Abl. dellos, dellas.

So aquel, aquella, aquella, aquello, este, esse, esta, essa, esto, esso, mismo, misma, mismo: and note that mismo, is commonly ioyned to some other Pronoune: as ipse in Latine, yo mismo, I my selfe, tu mismo, thou thy selfe, &c.

Of the third declenson are que, quien, el qual, noting that que is all one in both nũbers, el qual, maketh los quales in the plurall thus.

Sing.	Nom. el qual.	Plur.	Nom. los quales.
	Gen. del qual.		Gen. de los quales.
	Dat. para el qual, &c.		Dat. para los quales, &c.

OF PERSONS.

There be three persons, the first speaketh of himselfe, as yo, I, nos or nosotros, wee.

The second person is spoken to, as Tu, thou: vos or vosotros, ye.

The third person is spoken of, as aquel hee, aquellos they: and note that of this person are all Nounes, Pronounes & Participles, sauing the Pronounes last aforesaid.

A Verbe.

A Verbe is a part of speach declined with mode and tence, signifying doing: as lastimo, I hurt: suffering, as soy lastimado, I am hurt, or beyng, as soy, I am. Of verbes there are two sorts: Personals, and Impersonals. A verbe personall is, that is declined with three persons, both in the singular and plurall: a Verbe impersonall, that through all modes and tences is declined by the third person singuler onely.

Of Verbs personals there be three kinds, Actiue, Passiue & neuter.

A Verbe actiue endeth in o, and signifieth to do, as Lastimo, I hurt: Amo, I loue; and may be made passiue by ioyning soy to the participle: as soy lastimado.

A Verbe passiue signifieth suffering, & is either formed by the verbe soy, and the participle, as soy lastimado, I am hurt, or els the accusatiue case se, with the third person of the actiue & singuler or plurall number, hath a passiue signification, as todo esto se lee en el nuevo testamento de nuestro señor. All this is read in the new testament, &c. Muchos libros se leen, los quales no se entienden. Many bookes are read which are not vnderstood.

A Verbe neuter endeth in o, or y, as soy, duermo, voy, and cannot take soy to make him a passiue.

To a Verbe belong mode, tence, number, person, gerund, cõiugatiõ.

The modes are the indicatiue, shewing a reason true or false, or asking a question, as yo lastimo, I hurt, or yo lastimo? do I hurt?

The imperatiue bidding or commaunding, as tu lastima, hurt thou.

The Optatiue wishing or desiring, as oxala yo lastime, I pray God I hurt. The Potentiall ioyned with these signes, may, can, might, would, should, or ought: the subiunctiue hauing a coniunction with it, the infinitiue knowen by the signe to, as lastimar, to hurt.

The tences are fiue, the present tence, signifying the time that now is: the preterimperfectence, the time not perfectly past: the preterperfectence the time perfectly past: the preterpluperfectence the time more then perfectly past: the future tence the time to come.

The numbers are two as in a Noune: the persons three in both numbers.

There is only one Gerund ending in do: hauing the English of the participle of the present tence, used oft in steede thereof: as lastimando: creyendo, durmiendo: that which in Latine is the Gerund in di, is expressed in Spanish by the infinitiue moode, and the preposition de: as Gran desseo tengo de verle, I haue great desire to see him; the Gerund in dum, by the infinitiue mood and the preposition para or a, as voy me, para verle, I go to see him.

OF CONIVGATIONS.

A Coniugation is the course of declining a verbe, by mood and tense: there be sixe coniugations; three of verbes regular, and three of verbes irregular.

The first coniugations of verbes regular and irregular ende in ar, as Lastimar, Dessear.

The second in er, as Creer, Leer, ver.

The third in ir, as Dormir, Reyr, Freyr.

Except Adereçar, Adereico, and endereçar, endereico.

The tenses are thus deriued. In the first coniugation by changing ar into o you shall haue the first person of the present tense of the Indicatiue moode: whose third person singular endeth in a, to which adde va, and you haue the preterimperfect tense of the same moode: as of Lastimar, lastimo, lastima, lastimava: by turning the a into e long you haue the first preterperfect tense of the same moode, as Lastimé: by adding re long, the future of the same moode, as Lastimaré. the Imperatiue moode is all one with the said third person of the Indicatiue: of which also by turning a into e short, you haue the present tense of the Subiunctiue, as Lastime: by adding ra, ria, sse, you make the voices of the preterimperfect tence of the Subiunctiue, as Lastimara, lastimaria, lastimasse: by putting to it re short the first future of the Subiunctiue, as Lastimare: by adding ndo the gerund: by adding do onely, the participle of the preter tense: so as in manner all your tenses of all moodes in this coniugation are formed of the third person of the present tence of the Indicatiue moode.

The second preterperfect tense of the Indicatiue moode, the preterpluperfect tense of the same moode, the preterperfect tense, preterpluperfect tense, and second future tense of the Subiunctiue, and the preterperfect tense of the Infinitiue: both in this coniugation and in all other of verbs regular and irregular are formed by the verbe He, and the participle. Perf.sec. He Lastimado. Plusquamperf. Avia Lastimado, &c. which, by example shall be shewed more at large.

In the second coniugation change er into o, you haue the first person of the present tense of the Indicatiue mood, as Leer, leo, Creer, creo, whose third person singular endeth in e, which if you change into y, and put a to it, you haue the preterimperfect tense of the same moode, as Leya, from which take a, and you haue the first preterperfect tense of the same mood, as Crey: to the Infinitiue mood adde e long, you haue the future tense of the Indicatiue, as Creeré. The Imperatiue and third person of the Indicatiue are all one: by adding era, esse, to the preterperfect tense of the indicatiue are formed two voices of the preterimperfect tense of the Subiunctiue: by putting to it ere the first future of the same moode: by changing the last e of the third person singular of the present tense of the Indicatiue into a, you haue the present tense of the Subiunctiue: by changing e of the future of the Indicatiue into ia, you make the third voice of the preterimperfect tense of the Subiunctiue, as of Crey, creyera, creyesse, creyére: of Cree, si yo crea, of Creeré commeth Creeria.

In the third coniugation change ir into o you make the present tense of the Indicatiue moode, saue that e in the last sillable saue one is often changed into i, and o into ue, as Pido, escrivo, duermo, and verbs ending in zir, haue g before o, as Induzir, induzgo, induzes, leesing it againe in the second person: change r of the Infinitiue moode into a, you haue the preterimperfect tense of the Indicatiue, as Dormia: take away r the first preterperfect tense: adde re long, the future tense; as of Dormir commeth dormi and dormire: the Imperatiue moode and the third person of the present tense of the Indicatiue are all one: the present tense of the Subiunctiue is formed of the first person of the present tense of the Indicatiue, by changing o into a, as of Duermo, duerma: by adding ia to the Infinitiue moode is formed one voice of the preterimperfect tense of the Subiunctiue: by changing r into era, esse, the two other voices: into ere, the future of the Subiunctiue moode, as of Dormir; commeth dormiria, dormiera, dormiesse, dormiére. 3

For the forming of the tenses of verbes irregular, no certaine rule can be giuen, although their coniugation be knowen by the same termination as the other: wherefore in these, in steede of rule, I will set downe such varietie of examples in euery coniugation, as shall giue great light to the reader.

Before we come to set downe examples of the verbes, bicause none of them can be declined without the verbe He, which belongeth to the second coniugation of the irregulars: for helpe of the Reader (though somwhat disorderly) we will begin with him.

The Indicatiue moode, and present tense.

Sing.	yo He, I haue.	Plur.	nosotros hémos, we haue.
	tu as, thou hast.		vosotros avéys, ye haue.
	aquel a, he hath.		aquellos an, they haue.

The preterimperfect tense.

Sing.	avía, I had.	Plur.	avíamos, we had.
	avías, thou haddest.		avíades, ye had.
	avía, he had.		avían, they had.

The first preterperfect tense.

Sing.	úve, I haue had.	Plur.	uvímos, we haue had.
	uvíste, thou hast had.		uvístes, ye haue had.
	úvo, he hath had.		uviéron, they haue had.

The second preterperfect tense.

Sing. yo he avído, I haue had. / as avido / a avido.
Plur. hemos avido / aveys avido / an avido.

The preterpluperfect tense.

Sing. avía avído, I had had. / avias avido / avia avido.
Plur. avíamos avido / aviades avido / avian avido.

The future tense.

Sing. avré, I shall or will haue. / avrás / avrá.
Plur. avrémos / avreís / avrán.

The imperatiue moode.

Sing. áyas tu, haue thou. / aquel áya, let him haue.
Plur. nos ayámos, let vs haue. / vos avéd, haue ye. / aquellos áyan, haue they.

The imperatiue of this verbe is often borrowed of Tengo, as Ten, tenga, &c. which verbe also in many tenses of other moodes is vsed in stæde of He.

The optatiue and potentiall, are in all points like the subiunctiue, saue that to the optatiue you ioine Oxala, would God, or such like: to the potentiall his signes, to the subiunctiue Si. Wherefore both in this and in the examples of all other verbs; to auoid tedious repetition, I will set downe the subiunctiue onely.

The subiunctiue and present tense.

Sing. Si ayá, if I haue. / áyas / áya
Plur. ayámos / ayáys / áyan.

The preterimperfect tense.

Sing. uviéra, uviésse, avría, if I had. / uviéras, uviésses, avrías / uviéra, uviésse, avría.
Plur. uviéramos, uviéssemos, avríamos, / uviérades, uviéssedes, avríades / uvriéran, uviéssen, avrían.

The preterperfect tense.

Sing. Si yo áya avído, if I haue had. / ayas avido / aya avido.
Plur. ayamos avído / ayáys avido / ayan avido.

The preterpluperfect tense.

Sing. uviésse avido, if I had had. / uviésses avido / uviésse avido.
Plur. uviéssemos avido / uviéssedes avido / uviéssen avido.

The first future.

Sing. uviére, if I shall haue. / uviéres / uviére
Plur. uviéremos / uviéredes / uviéren.

The

The second future.

Sing.	avré avido I shall haue had.	Plur.	avrémos avido
	avrás avido		avréys avido
	avrá avido.		avrán avido.

The infinitiue and present tense.

Avér, to haue.

Preterperfect tense.

Aver avido. To haue had.

The future.

By some other verbe, as Espero de aver, I hope to haue.&c.

The gerund.

Aviendo, hauing.

The participle.

Avído, had, which I adde to the actiue though it haue a passiue signification, partly bicause it is formed of the actiue: partly bicause there is no passiue in maner, but that which is formed by this participle.

And thus much of the verbe, He.

The first coniugation of the regular verbs endeth in ar, as Lastimar, Comprar, Tomar, and is thus formed. 1. Coniugation.

The indicatiue moode and present tense.

Sing.	yo lastímo, I hurt.	Plur.	nosotros lastimámos
	tu lastímas, thou hurtest.		lastimáys
	aquel lastíma, he hurteth.		lastíman, they hurt.

The preterimperfect tense.

Sing.	lastimáva, I did hurt.	Plur.	lastimávamos
	lastimávas		lastimávades
	lastimáva.		lastimávan.

The first preterperfect tence.

Sing.	lastimé, I hurt.	Plur.	lastimámos
	lastimáste		lastimástes
	lastimó.		lastimáron.

The second preterperfect tense.

Sing.	he lastimado, I haue hurt.	Plur.	hémos lastimado
	as lastimádo		avéys lastimado

The rest of the verbes irregulars may be formed after these examples: for the difference will not be so great, but that by some tense or other knowen, you may perceiue what example to follow.

Of a Participle.

A VERBE PASSIVE.

The verbe Passiue, as is afore said, is formed of the participle of the preter tense, ioined to the verbe Soy in euery tense, and person as occasion requireth: as Indicatiue present.

Sing.	Soy lastimado, I am hurt.	Plur.	somos lastimados
	eres lastimado		soys lastimados
	es lastimado.		son lastimados.

So era lastimado, fue lastimado, avia sido lastimado, &c. and so forth of all verbes, that will admit a passiue signification, in all moodes and tenses.

Also se with the thirde person singular and plurall of the actiue, maketh the verbe to haue a passiue signification, as is before aduised.

VERBES IMPERSONALS.

Impersonals are declined with the thirde person onely through all moodes and tences, as Es, it is, era, fue, avia sido será, &c.

Cumple, cumplia, cumplió, avia cumplido, &c. It muſt, or it behoueth.

Pertenece, pertenecia, pertenecio. &c.

A Participle.

A Participle is a part of speech taking part both of a Noune, as declenson, of the verbe as tense and signification: in Spanish there is one onely participle, and that of the pretertense, the English whereof endeth in d, t, or n: as loued, taught, slain: the Spanish in ado, or ydo: it is formed thus in the regular verbs. From the present tense of the infinitiue take r, in the first and thirde coniugation, and put do to that which remaineth, as of Lastimár, lastimado, pedír, pedido: in the second change er into ydo, creer creydo, in the irregulars there is no certainetie, for sometime they follow this rule, sometime they are deriued of the Latin participles, by changing or displacing letters, as of Positus, puesto, of Dictus, dicho, of Factus, fecho, they are all declined like adiectiues of three terminations, as Lastimado, lastimada, lastimado.

Creydo, creyda creydo.
Pedido, pedida, pedido.
Dicho, dicha, dicho.

You shall sometime finde a participiall voice of the present tense, as Amante, Embargante, Poniente, but they are rather nounes adiectiues then participles, but as well of this tense, as of the others are expressed by the verbes, as

El que lastima,
El que dize.

Of the future.

El que lastimará.
El que dirá, and so forth of the rest.

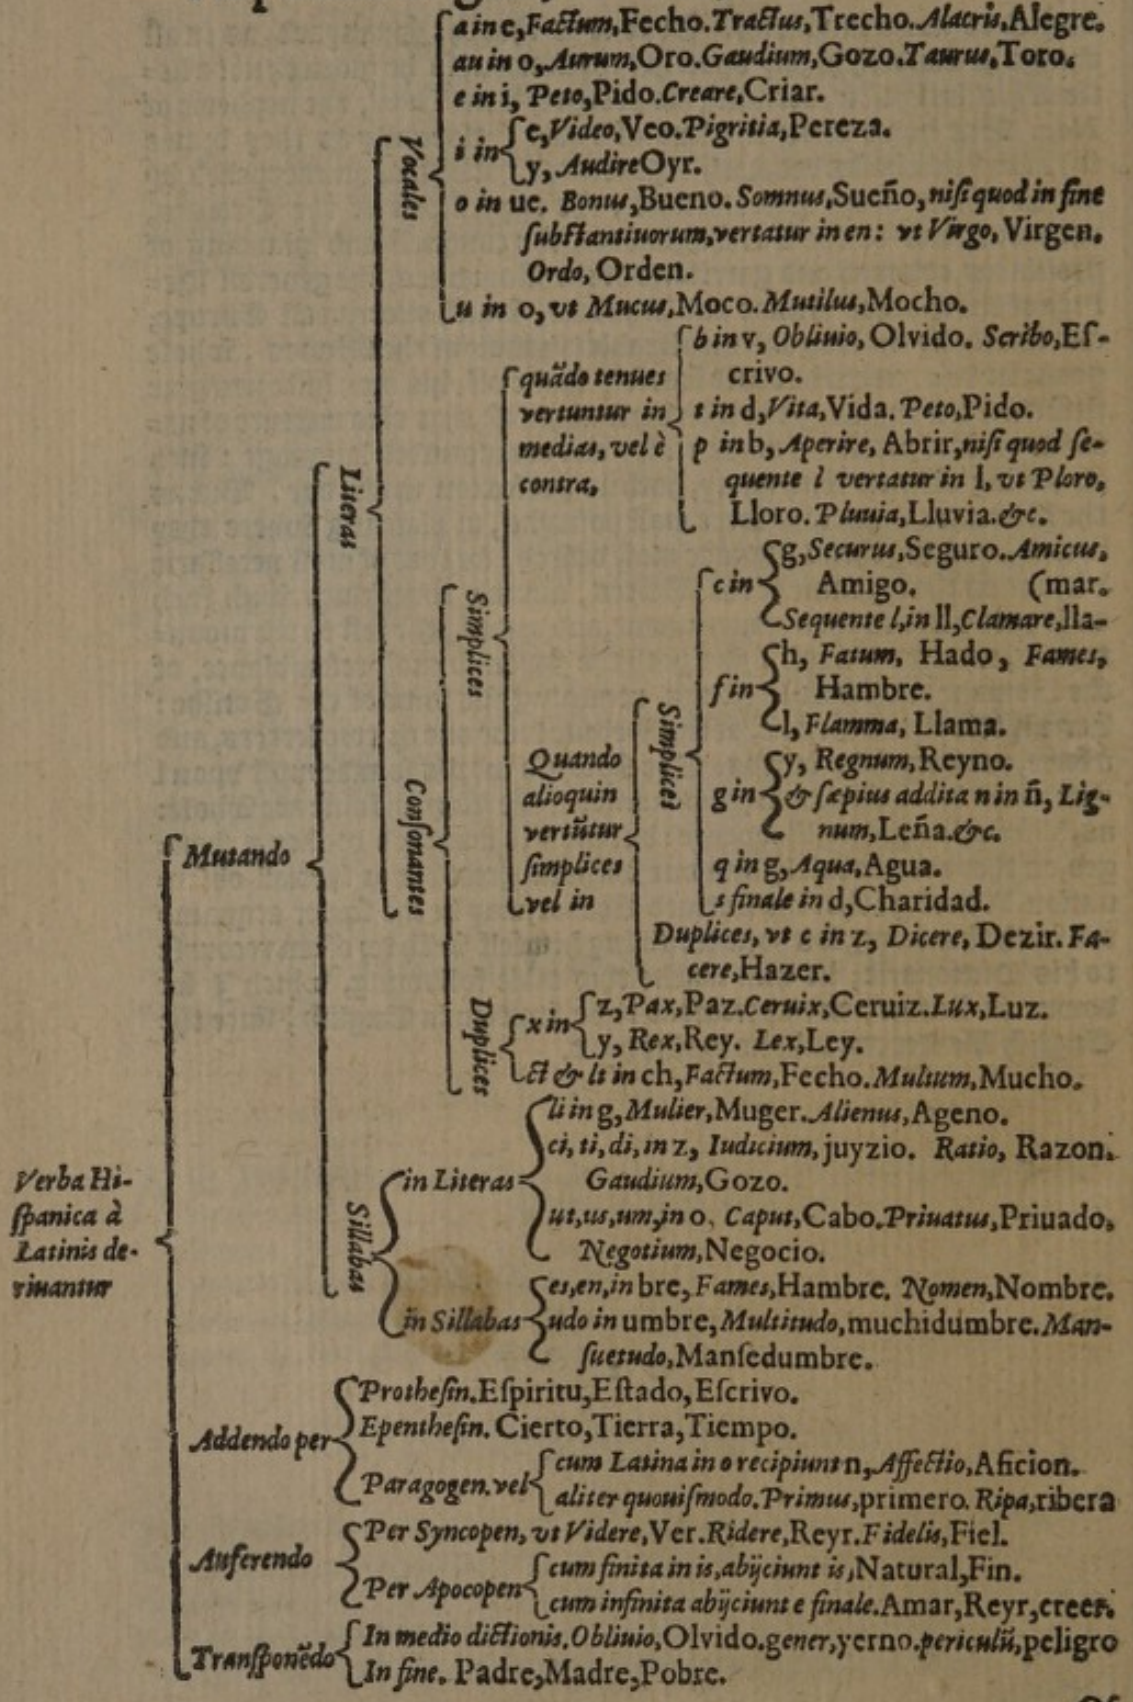
Of Spaniſh words in generall.

It woulde be a tedious peece of worke, to ſearch out what ſhoulde be the proper language of the Spaniſh nation; the countrie hauing bin mastered by ſo many dyuers kinds of people, as either of ambition to enlarge their dominions, or of neceſſitie to ſeeke habitation for ſuch ſurplus, as their owne lymits coulde not conteyne: haue beene

inuited

inuited to make inuasions. True it is that the Spanyard, as in all things he standeth highly vpon his reputation; so he glorieth not a little of his antiquitie, deriuing his pedegree from Tubal, the nephewe of Noe. But howe often the line of Tubal (especially as they drawe it) hath beene bastarded, hath degenerated, hath beene quite expelled, by the inuasions of the Phoenicians, the oppressions of the Grekes, the incursions of the Carthaginians, the conquest and planting of prouinces, colonies and garrisons of the Romaines; the generall Deluge of the Gothes Hunes and Vandals, which ouerran all Europe; and finally by the long and intolerable tyrannie of the Moores, whose yoake in 800. yeeres he could scarsely shake off; his own histories giue sufficient testimonie. It is then verie manifest, that this mixture of nations must of necessitie make a mixt and compounded language: such as hauing affinitie with many, hath no perfection in any one. But as the Romane conquerors were most politike, in planting where they woone; making their language most desired, as that of most necessarie vse; and as the tyrannie of the Moores, mixing themselues with such as would yeeld to their gouernment, and driuing the rest to the mountaynes, endured longest: So hath the Spanish most resemblance, of the Romane and Moorish toongs, retaining also some of the Gotishe: verie lyttle of the Greeke, of the Hebrue some one or two letters, and a fewe, yea very fewe words. The Moorish words sounde most vpon l r and x as Arrabal, Almofia, Almoxarife, of the Roman some are whole: as, Miseria, Frequente, Eloquente: but most so mangled broken & changed, as they are not easely knowne without great vse or speciall obseruation. Wherfore that the Latined Reader, may be the sooner acquainted with this toong, without troubling himself with too often recourse to his Dictionarie; let him marke this table following, which I set downe in Latine, as impertinent to be written in English, since the English Reader can take no profite by it.

Hiſpanicæ linguæ, à Latina, deriuatio.



Of

Of Construction and Concord.

CONstruction is the apt ioining of words in framing of a sentence. And bicause in the Spanish there is no such diuersitie in the termination of cases, as in the Latin; there is the lesse occasion ministred to deale at large with this part of Grammar: yet this toong being specially deriued from the Latin, and retaining so great affinitie with it, as the bastard daughter with the mother, it must of necessitie be ordered by many rules incident to the Latin. I will therefore follow that course which the best Latin Grammarians do obserue, as neere as my meane knowledge, and the proprietie of the language wherwith I deale, wil giue me leaue. I do therefore diuide the Syntaxis, into these two parts: Concord, and Regiment.

Concord.

CONcord is the agreement or vniformitie, betweene words or parts of speech in a sentence. There be three Concords. The first betweene the nominatiue case and the verbe: The second betweene the substantiue and the adiectiue: The third betweene the antecedent and the relatiue.

THE FIRST CONCORD.

The first Concord is betweene the nominatiue case and the verbe thus: knowing your verbe, aske the question, who? or what? and the word that answereth, is the nominatiue case, which must agree with the verbe in number and person: as Yo escrivo, I write. Tu duermes, Thou sleepest. &c. And note that many nominatiue cases singular with a Coniunction comming betweene them, will haue a verbe plural, agreeing with the nominatiue case of the most worthie person: accounting the first person more worthie then the second, and the second more worthy then the third: as Tu y yo comeremos oy en casa de Fulano, You and I will dine to day at such a ones house. Tu y Iuan yreys comigo a mi casa, You and Iohn shall go with me to my house. Furthermore, as concerning the vse of the persons, know ye, that the Spaniard accounteth it a matter of disgrace to speake to any man in the second person singular, except to their lackey, horsekeeper, or some man of vile and base account. To their seruants of better reckoning they speake in the second person plurall. as Direys a Fulano de mi parte, que me pague los deneros, que se me deuen, Ye shall tell such a one from me that he pay me the monie which is owing me. To all other they vse the third person singular or plurall as occasion requireth: as Huelgo me mucho de ver, que V.M.sta con salud, suplicandole que se sirva de mi, como de su servidor, que todo bien y honra le desseo, I am glad to see your mastership in good health, praying it to vse me as his seruant, that wish it, all good and honor that may be.

THE

Of the Concords.

THE SECOND CONCORD.

The second, is betweene the substantiue and the adiectiue thus: hauing the adiectiue, aske the question, who? or what? and that which answereth, is the substantiue, with whom the adiectiue must agree in gender and number: for of the case there is no great rule to be giuen, since if the prepositiõ and article be added to the substantiue or adiectiue it serueth for both: as Oy en dia, se hallan muchos, los quales mas ayna se enamoran de mugeres hermosas aunque livianas, que de las Señoras honestas y virtuosas, Now a daies many are found, that sooner loue faire women though they be light, than the honest and vertuous gentlewomen. And note that for auoiding the harshnesse and gaping in sounde, when a a shoulde mete too neere, somtime they ioine the article of the masculine gender in the singular number, to a substantiue of the feminine: as El agua el alma, which notwithstanding in the plurall they make to agree: as Las almas, las aguas,

Note also that the participle, in declining the actiue of any verbe, as in the second preterperfect tense of the Indicatiue mood, or the preterpluperfect, the preterperfect tense, the preterplaperfect tense, or second future of the subiunctiue, neuer changeth gender or number, whatsoeuer the gender or number be of the nominatiue case to the verbe: as Estos Señores le avian dado licencia de yr se, pero las Señoras le an llamado otra vez, These gentlemen had giuen him leaue to depart, but the gentlewomen called him againe. But in the passiue they change number and gender, as also euerywhere elsewhere they are vsed adiectiuely.

Many substantiues singular with a coniunction betweene them, haue an adiectiue plurall agreeing with the substantiue of the most worthy gender, the masculine being more worthy then the feminine, and the feminine more worthy then the neuter: as Mis dedos y mi pluma estan ya cansados de escrevir, My fingers and my pen are already wearie of writing. El fuego y la estopa, son muy peligrosos para juntarse, Fire and towe are very dangerous to be put togither.

THE THIRD CONCORD.

The third betweene the antecedent and the relatiue thus: hauing the relatiue, aske the question who? or what? and the word answering is the antecedent, with whom the relatiue must agree in gender, number, and person: as En cargo te soy, que cada dia tantas mercedes me hazes, I am beholding to thee, that doest me euery day so many pleasures. Buen me puedo fiar de mis cartas, las quales me sirven de fieles secretarios, I may well truste my papers, which serue me as faithfull secretaries.

Note that many antecedents singular with a coniunction, wil haue a relatiue plurall, agreeing with the antecedent of the most worthy gender: as A tu padre y tu madre, los quales te criaron, mucha honrra, y acatamiento se deven, To thy father and mother which brought thee vp, are due much honor and reuerence.

In

In the relatiues Que and Quien the vse of the gender cannot be perceiued, but the number and person must be obserued: this word Lo is often vsed relatiuely, and yet hath no agræment with any antecedent: as Muchos se precian de Catholicos Christianos, que de veras no lo son, Many vaunt themselues to be Catholike Christians, which in truth are nothing so. Fulano prometio de enseñarme la lengua Española, pero no lo cumplio, Such a one promised to teach me the Spanish toong, but he performed it not. though in this last it may seeme to haue relation to the whole sentence or clause afore going.

Regiment.

REgiment is, when any part of spœch requireth or gouerneth in construction, any case or mœde to be set before him or after him, and first we will deale with the construction of substantiues.

NOVNES SVBSTANTIVES.

The English of the participle, of the present tense with a noune substantiue: which in Latine is expressed by the ablatiue case absolute, is in Spanish the nominatiue case, as Escripta la carta, fuese luego para el mensajero: The letter being written he went streight to the messenger. Venida la Reyna, todos luego començaron de alegrarse: The Queene being come all presently beganne to reioyce.

That which in English we vtter in this forme, Iohns booke, Peters house, the Spaniard speaketh by the genitiue case, as, el Libro de Iuan, la casa de Pedro.

The length of time is put in the Nominatiue case: as Detuvose tres dias en Flandes. He stayed three daies in Flaunders. A part of time in the Nominatiue case with the verbe he, as Tres dias a: Three daies agoe. Avra dos años, two yeares past.

From a place, is put in the genetiue, as viene de Londres. In a place or at a place with en, the prepolition as sta en Londres. To a place if it be the name of a countrie or region is put in the datiue case, as Fuese para España, He is gone to Spaine. Fulano se parte oy para Flandes: Such a one goeth to day for Flaunders, or into Flaunders. If it be the name of a towne, in the accusatiue, as yo me voy a Londres. The prayse or dispraise is put in the genetiue.

REGIMENT OF ADIECTIVES.

Partitiues will haue a Genitiue case: as el vno de ellos, One of them. Alguno de aquellos, and sometime they elegantly in a Prolepsis leaue out the partitiue, as Las mugeres engañan a los hombres, dellas lastimandoles con sus lagrimas fingidas; dellas, halagandoles con palabras lesongeras: Women deceiue men, some of them, greeuing them with their feyned teares; others fawning on them with flattering wordes.

PRONOVNES.

Note, that neither these possessiues, mio, tuyo, suyo, neither their plurals, are vsed with substantiues, but in stœd of thē mi, tu, su, mis, tus, sus,

and

and are set before the substantiues, as Mi señor te ruega, que le embies tu caualio, y que yo le trayga a su casa: My master prayeth you to send him your horse, and that I may lead him home to him. Tus manos enluzian mis ropas: Thy handes foule my clothes. But if the possessiue be set alone, ether as hauing reference to a Substantiue going before, or as answering a question, then mio, tuyo, suyo, are vsed, as El cavallo es de mi padre, pero la silla es tuya: The horse is my fathers, but the saddle is yours. Cuyas son estas armas? whose weapons are these? Son mias, they are mine.

The Accusatiue cases, Me, te, se, le, les, are vsed in steed of the datiues of the Latine, & are commonly set before the verbes, El Alcalde te manda, que le quiteys las armas. The Constable commaundeth thee, to take away his weapons.

PARTICIPLES.

Participles require such case as the verbes that they come of, as Dado a letras, esta carta sta escripta para mi, it is therefore conuenient to marke well the construction of the verbes.

VERBES ACTIVES AND NEVTERS.

Soy, when it signifieth possession or propertie, will haue a genitiue case, as este thesoro es del rey de España, this treasure is the king of Spaynes. When it signifieth abilitie in the partie of whom we speake it, it is put in the datiue: as Fulano es para mucho, such a one is a man of great valour: no creo que sea para tanto, I doe not thinke him a man of such valour.

Verbes of accusing, condemning, warning, acquiting or such like, will haue an accusatiue of the person, and a genitiue of the crime: as Aunq; el Diablo accuse a los hombres de muy graues delictos, toda via la sangre de nuestro Señor, limpiara a todos los fieles, de sus suziedades, y les dara libres de sus pecados: Though the Diuell accuse men of very grieuous offences, yet the bloud of our Sauiour will cleanse the faithfull from their filthinesse, and free them from their sinnes.

Verbes of Esteeming will haue a genitiue case: as Precia se de buen Christiano, with mucho poco tanto quanto, they haue the Preposition en, as Estiman le en mucho: with soy, tanto quanto mucho and poco, are put in the datiue case, as is before said.

Verbes of loading, filling, and the contrarie require a nominatiue or accusatiue of the person, or thinge sayd to be filled or loaden, and a genetiue of the thing wherewith: as Cargó su nao de seda, He loaded his ship with silke: cargo sus espaldas de su alforsa, He loaded his shoulder with his wallet. So likewise verbes of arraying: as vistio a su hermana de verde, he clothed his sister in greene.

Verbes of a transitiue signification with nounes appellatiues, haue after them a nominatiue case: as El perezoso a penas vera buen fin de su negocio: The slouthfull shall hardly see a good end of his businesse, & many times an accusatiue, A y enterraron a mi abuelo. Los nuestros siguieron a los enemigos, hazia la puente, with nounes proper they haue alwaies an accusatiue, Iuan hirio a Pedro, Diego mato a Vasco. Los enemigos prendieron o tomaron a Don Alonço en campo raso, &c. With the pronounes

primitiues

they haue often a double accusatiue case: as A mi me dieron libre, por cien escudos. They freed me for an hundred crownes.

Uerbes of Gesture, going, resting, doing, commonly haue these accusatiues of the pronounes primitiue before them: Me, te, se, as yo me voy, tu te sientes, aquel se duerme.

Uerbes put acquisitiuely with the signe for will haue a datiue of the person, and a nominatiue or accusatiue of the thing. Compro el sombrero para mi y el jubon para ti, with the signe to they haue a nominatiue of the thing, and an accusatiue of the person, Encaminad me estas cartas a tu padre. Mandó el rey su carta, a sus subditos, &c. Quien no da obediencia, a su rey, ya su ley no merece viuir, which the Pronoune primitiues they haue, Me te se: as Mostrar se lo hemos el recaudo. Dar me has estos dineros.

THE INFINITIVE MOODE.

The signe to is a note of the Infinitiue, and generally if two verbes come together in a sentence: the second not hauing any Nominatiue case to answere the question, who or what; it shall be put in the Infinitiue moode; which after a Noune is vsed with de, the preposition: as Tengo mucho desseo de verle, I desire greatly to see him. After a Uerbe it is vsed with para or a: as Vengo para holgarme con vos: I come to be merie with thee. Salia a combatir sin espada: Hee went foorth to fight without his sworde.

Note that the Infinitiue moode is often vsed as a Noune, Muestra se el hombre quien es, en su passearse, en su hablar, y en su mirar: A man sheweth what he is, in his walking, in his speach, in his countenance. And often with a nominatiue case and a preposition: as Basta esto para salir yo de este peligro.

VERBES PASSIVE.

The Passiues haue a Genitiue case: as Cuentase de los españoles: De los yngleses se dize. Iuan es muy amado de todos, VERBS IMPERSONALS.

Uerbs impersonals of the actiue voice haue commonly a double accusatiue case, as A mi me conviene, a ti te pertenece: a los franceses les es menester.

Impersonals of the passiue voice haue a genetiue: as Del rey Alexandre se lee.

ADVERBS AND CONIVNCTIONS.

Aduerbs commonly gouerne an indicatiue moode: saue that where Interrogatiues are changed into Indefinites they haue some time a subiunctiue. as Como se haze esto? No se como se haga; quando se boluio tu padre? no se quando se aya buelto.

Aduerbs of forbidding will haue a subiunctiue moode, as No lo diga V M. no haga assi.

Coniunctions commonly couple like cases like moods and like tenses: and most commonly Causals, as Porque, &c. will haue an indicatiue mode: But Conditionals, as si, Aduersatiues, as Aunque, puesto que, comoque, although, Quando, although, que, when it signifieth that, and Paraque, To the end that, will haue a subiunctiue.

PRÆPOSITIONS.

Some prepositions are vsed onely in composition, as Des, and In signifying a contrarietie, as Des dicha, injusto, Em, enforcing the sence. Re signifying an iteration: Some in composition and appositiõ both, as en in composition enforcing the sence, con signifying a consent or companie. In apposition, they are set before, either the infinitiues of verbs as is afore said, or the cases of nounes as appeareth in the former treatise of this part of speech; somtime they are neither set before a verbe of the infinitiue mode, nor noune, but vsed aduerbially.

Thus much I thought necessarie to admonish the Reader touching construction, bicause it varieth somewhat from the English manner of speech, not prosecuting more particularly the rules of our Latin Grammar; bicause in the rest, the course is so ordinarie, as if he marke the signification and vse of the præposition, he shall find no great difficultie in the language.
