279 FLORIO (J.) Queen Anna's New World of Words : or Dictionarie of the Italian and English Tongues. £7. 10s.

M. Bradwood (& W. Stansby) for E. Blount and W. Barret, 1611

Sm. fol., new half calf, old style, some waterstains towards end, large sound copy. Fine impression of the fine portrait of Florio by W. Hole, stated to be the 1st appearance of the only known engraving of Florio, here faces p. 1 and has its corresponding blank at beginning : woodcut border to title. Dedications in Italian and English (different) to Queen Anne of Denmark (to whom the author was Reader of the Italian) : the latter runs—" This braine-babe...with a travellers minde, as erst Colombus at command of glorious Isabella, it hath (at home) discovered neere half a new world : and therefore as of olde some called Scotia of Scota, and others lately Virginia," &c. This reference to the New World thus explains the title. Prel. verses by " Il Candido " [=Matt. Gwinne], Sam. Daniel, Alb. Gentili and others : long list of authors drawn upon. The Dictionary, useful for its obsolete expressions, has special types for indicating pronunciation. The " Necessary Rules," at end, though included in quiring, have a separate title with the imprint of W. Stansby for the same publishers. Sayle 3374 (U.L. Cambr. copy wants portr.). This 2nd ed. contains very many words not in that of 1598. Lee's Catal. of Shakesp. 320. S.T.C. 11099. Copy recently priced £23. Ownership : Jno. Kirkpatrick 1707 ; antiquary of Norwich (1686-1728), see D.N.B. Page 585 : " Vacalsuth a tree in America."

TO ALL READERS.

TO be a Reader, requires vnderstanding; to be a Critike, iudgement. A Dictionarie giues armes to that, and takes no harme of this, if it mistake not. I wish thee both, but feare neither; for I still rest

Resolute IOHN FLORIO.

To my dearely-esteemed friend and fellow M. John Florio, Reader of the Italian tongue vnto the most Excellent Maiestie of our sacred Mistris.

I Am, all that I am, Florio, thy debter:
Many men owe thee more. yet thou of all
Oblig'd to thee in deepe affections fetter,
Doest for this testimoniall tribute call
But to three more; who haue discharg'd it better:
I say but this (but this is too-too small)
Great is thy Masters-prize, thy MISTRIS greater,
At whose foot praises, phrases, poem's fall.
Th'analogie is short. SHE is of worth
A wondrous Anacephalaiosis;
A None-pareil, Sans parallel: set forth
To shew perfections Abstract. So is this.
Italian honor's hir, Italian SHE.
That language thou adorn'st, that language thee.

Il Cándido.

To

To my deare friend and brother M. Iohn Florio, one of the Gentlemen of hir Maiesties Royall Priuy-chamber.

I Stand not to giue praise before the face
Of this great worke, that doth it selfe commend:
But to congratulate the good and grace
That England com's thereby to apprehend:
And in hir name to thanke your industry
Laborius Florio, who haue so much wrought
To honour hir in bringing Italy
To speake hir language, and to giue hir note
Of all the treasure that rich tongue containes:
Wherein I cannot but admire your paines
In gathering vp this vniuersall store,
And furniture of words for euery arte,
And skill of man: So that there seem's no more
Beyond this search, that knowledge can impart.
Which being a worke that would take vp the powers
Of more then one whole man, I wonder how
You could subtract so many serious howres
From that great summe of seruice that you owe.
But that it seemes the beaming Gracefulnesse
That lightens from the most refulgent QVEENE
Our sacred Mistris, work's that ableneſſe
As mak's you more, then els you could haue beene.
Wherein the power of Princes well is seene
That can infuse such force, and make age greene.
And it were well, if in this season, when
They leaue erecting Churches, Colledges,
And pious monuments, they would build men
Who of their glory may be witnesses,
And what they doe be theirs: As Mazons raise work's not for them, but for their masters praise.
For, would they but be pleas'd to know, how small
A portion of that ouer-flowing waste
Which run's from them, would turne the wheeles and all
The frame of wit, to make their glory last:

I thinke they would doe ſomething: but the ſtirre
ſtill about greatneſſe, giues it not the ſpace
To looke out from it ſelfe, or to conferre.
Grace but by chance, and as men are in place.
But that concern's not me, It is ynow
I doe applaud your worke. Thus from my Plow.

Samuel Daniel.

To my dearely-eſteemed friend M. Iohn Florio.

KInde friend, the ſtrictneſſe of theſe few-few lines
Can not expreſſe thy worth, nor my good will:
As for thy worke, I leaue it to the skill,
And ſharpeſt cenſure of the beſt engyn's.
Nor can thy choiſe be better'd, who propynes
Th' induſtrious labor's of thy painefull quill
To one who is, and was, and ſhalbe ſtill
That Phœbe, who in fulneſſe euer ſhin's.
She ſhalbe great Protectrice of thy paines,
And ſhe will weigh this worke at no ſmall rate;
I know hir high Heroike heart diſdain's
To ſhow it ſelfe forgetfull or ingrate:
Els ſhe ſhould wrong that race from whence ſhe ſpring's
B'ing Daughter, Siſter, Mother, wife to Kings.

Vpon the tittle of M. IOHN FLORIO'S second Italian Dictionarie, called QVEEN ANNA'S New World of Words.

FLorio, thou doeſt deſerue a World of flowers,
No garden can ſupply thy ſtore of merit;
A garland made out of Parnaſſus bowers
Muſt girt thy temples and adorne thy ſpirit.
Thy FORMER WORLD, built vp thy Fames high-towers,
Whereby eternall praiſe thou doeſt inherit;
But this NEVV WORLD, giuen thee by ſacred powers
Doeth to a neuer-falling height now reare it.
What Name, but from the Font of Maieſty
Could haue bin giuen vnto ſo rare a child?
It's fit, whoſe Sire liues in the Princes eye,
He, ſhould to all hir ſubiects paſſe, ſo ſtil'd.
The QVEEN his praiſes mak's hirs; hirs his are;
For ſhe with him, and he with hir doeth ſhare.
