AS PREPARED BY THE INVENTOR, AND SOLE PROPRIETOR,

S. SOLOMON, M.D.

GILEAD-HOUSE, NEAR LIVERPOOL,

Author of "The Guide to Health," and other valuable Works.

To the Nobility, Gentry, and Public in general.

THIS LOTION, which for a series of years has been universally admired by the Nobility and Gentry, is the most elegant, fragrant, mild, safe and valuable Liquid or Wash, possessed of superior qualities in cleansing, clearing, and softening the skin, as well as for freeing it from cutaneous eruptions, so detrimental to female beauty: It gently restores the skin to a degree of fairness and purity beyond the powers of description.

It has been commonly considered an unsafe and dangerous practice to attempt the cure of such eruptions in any other way than by correcting the fluids which at first were supposed to have produced them; that this opinion should have remained so long uncontroverted, by regular practitioners, is somewhat singular; as it appears, from the writings of many authors, that those complaints were constantly and easily cured, as they still are, with local external applications only.

ERUPTIONS ON THE SKIN.

The general notion, which prevailed with respect to these disorders, and which seemed to have no other foundation than antiquity for its support, it was imagined, would soon have been overturned.—The treatment of cutaneous disorders, having been very perplexed and intricate, it is now hoped will soon become a very simple and easy part of the practitioner's employment, from the improvements which have universally resulted from a free spirit of enquiry.

Instead of the tedious and debilitating courses of medicines, which patients went through formerly, and which, perhaps, they are still too frequently obliged to undergo, it is now found, that the greatest number of those complaints are more certainly and speedily removed, by the use of local remedies merely, than they ever were by a contrary course; and that a principal dependence is to be placed upon those which are of an astringent and drying quality.

INTERESTING TO LADIES.

It is certainly distressing to a fine woman, on the perfecting of whose face Nature has lavished all her power, to find the complexion discoloured and the features deformed with disgusting pimples, that destroy the effect of all her charms!—And it unfortunately happens, very frequently, that the female sex, when attacked by these complaints, suffer much more from them than men; as the texture of their skin is endowed with a much greater degree of delicacy and sensibility. It is in this case that the imagination, the influence of which on the softer sex is so very extensive, takes the lead, exasperates the disease, and renders it a thousand times more obstinate:—and yet Dr. Solomon can assure the public, from assiduous observation and long experience, that these impurities arising from obstructed perspiration, are the easiest of all others to overcome. The vessels, when once freed from the matter contained in them, and which had become vitiated by stagnation, readily assume the tone and energy necessary for cutaneous secretion.

Dr. DARWIN, in his Zoonomia, remarks, “that when the stomach and intestines are filled with their proper food, not only the motions of the gastric glands, the pancreas, liver, and lacteal vessels are excited into action; but at the same time the whole tribe of irritative motions are excited with greater energy; and a greater degree of warmth, colour, plumpness, and moisture, is given to the skin, from the increased action of those glands called capillary vessels. But by the addition of certain kinds of stimulants to our food, the stomach and throat are excited into a motion whose direction is contrary to the natural one, and they regurgitate the materials which they contain, instead of carrying them forward. At the time of these inverted efforts of the stomach, not only the lymphatics, which open their mouths into the stomach, but those of the skin also, are, for a time, inverted; for sweats are sometimes pushed out during the efforts of vomiting without an increase of heat.

“When any of these capillary glands are stimulated into greater irritative actions than is natural, they secrete a more copious material, which is also more viscid than usual. This is more or less troublesome or noxious, according to the importance of the functions of the part affected; on the skin, where this secretion ought naturally to evaporate, it becomes so viscid as to adhere to the membrane, and produces the scurf on the heads of many people. When these capillary glands become inflamed, a still more viscid or even cretaceous humour is produced upon the surface of the membranes, which may be the cause of various disorders, and among others of those hard tumours of the legs which are generally, but mistakingly, called scorbutic.

“Sometimes the mouths of the lymphatic vessels, and sometimes the belly or glandular part, becomes totally or partially paralytic. In the former case, where the mouths of the cutaneous lymphatics become torpid or quiescent, the fluid secreted on the skin erodes it by its saline acrimony, and produces an eruption termed herpes.

"When the glandular part of these lymphatics becomes torpid, the fluid stagnates, and forms a tumour in the gland. This disease is called the serofula.

"The Gutta-Rosea is a proof of the sympathy between the skin of the face and the stomach, and is frequently the consequence of drinking cold water, eating raw or other insipid fruit, when much heated with exercise. In the beginning of intoxication the whole skin becomes florid from the association of the cutaneous arteries with those of the stomach; because vinous spirit very powerfully excites the fibres of the stomach into action; and the cutaneous capillaries of the face, from their more frequent exposure to the vicissitudes of cold and heat, possess more mobility or irritability than those of other parts of the skin."

Dr. GARNETT, in his Treatise on the Mineral Waters of Harrogate, says, "Notwithstanding the common appearance of these diseases, few have been so little understood by medical practitioners, and perhaps no author has yet described them with accuracy. By persons unacquainted with the science of medicine, herpetic complaints have been almost universally confounded with the scorbutic kind; and it is astonishing that some practitioners should be so ignorant of the distinction, no two diseases being more opposite. Herpes generally attacks the young and plethoric, who in other respects enjoy high health, and is in its nature always inflammatory; the Scurvy, on the contrary, shews every indication of a putrid state; and when it is not brought on by putrescent diet, or long abstinence from fresh vegetables, it is most commonly confined to the weak and debilitated valetudinarian, who has passed the meridian of his life in the habits of rigid abstemiousness. In Herpetic complaints, there is generally a superabundance of oxygen in the blood; Scorbutic complaints have been shewn by Dr. Trotter, Dr. Beddoes, &c. to depend upon a deficiency of that principle; and besides, the real scorbutic ulcer exhibits appearances perfectly different from the disorders now under consideration; inasmuch, that there is scarcely a possibility of mistaking the one for the other: and the remedies of the two diseases are just as opposite as their several symptoms and appearances are different.

"These diseases of the skin have been thought, perhaps too frequently, to depend upon an acrimony in the blood, which, by an effort of nature, is thrown out on the surface of the body; but there are no direct proofs of such acrimony in Herpetic cases; and there is reason to believe that they are less connected with a diseased state of the constitution than has generally been imagined. Indeed, the greatest part of those subject to them enjoy good health, and are perfectly free from any constitutional disease."

OF THE FACE.

The FACE is the most common seat of cutaneous eruption, in consequence of its being more particularly exposed to the action of the air; and it is supposed, that the extreme cutaneous vessels, which, in a natural state, circulate colourless fluids, on being excited in the manner here mentioned, or on the application of stimulants, or perhaps from causes at present unknown to us, absorb oxygen from the atmosphere, which occasions a heat, inflammation, florid appearance, and cutaneous eruption.

The ABSTERGENT LOTION renders the face fair and delicate, and removes every kind of stain, tan, sunburn or freckles, which rouge, long illness or fatigue generally produce; in short, it is the only cosmetic a Lady can use at her toilet with ease and comfort.

SHAVING.

It is the only remedy a Gentleman should have recourse to when shaving is become a dreadful operation by an eruptive disease on the face. It may be used without the smallest hazard, for a more sovereign remedy cannot be devised for even the most delicate frame, than this admirable Lotion.

It clears and beautifies the Skin,

removes speedily, without pain or trouble, all kinds of pimples, tetters, ring worms, spots, redness, swellings or carbuncles of the nose, blotches, and every species of cutaneous eruption on the surface of the human body.

It is unnecessary to enumerate the advantages resulting to the constitution of every person, by effectually removing obstructions from the surface of the skin, and thereby keeping free and open the innumerable passages and pores through which nature expels all useless or noxious humours from the vital fluid, and which being obstructed, are forced back again into the blood, and become the sources of many dangerous diseases. It is therefore a matter of much consequence, as well to prevent hurtful disorders, as for the

Preservation of Ease, Comfort, and Beauty

to Persons, (however slightly affected), that they should occasionally have recourse to the Abstergent Lotion; but more especially it becomes urgently requisite when the effects of obstruction make their appearance, and break out into pimples, redness, carbuncles, or other cutaneous eruptions. The Abstergent Lotion never fails of success with those who and as its price evidently shows that no private emolument is sought for by the proprietor, so also may the public be convinced that nothing but a certainty of its success could induce Dr. SOLOMON to hazard the good opinion he is honoured with by all ranks, in presenting them with this Cosmetic, were it not a safe and certain remedy for herpetic complaints in general.

The most respectable references are given, but by the particular desire of many persons of the first rank and distinction in the United Kingdom, no cases will be made public of those who use the Abstergent Lotion.

It is the only remedy that will restore to health those persons who, by an immoderate indulgence of their passions, have ruined their constitutions, and occasioned various affections of the nervous system, as obstinate gleets, involuntary emissions, excesses, irregularity or obstruction of certain evacuations, weaknesses, total impotency, barrenness, &c. Thousands at this moment live to praise the day they first applied to this remedy, and enjoy the blessings of health, who might have dropped into an untimely grave.

To induce the patient to give the CORDIAL BALM OF GILEAD a fair trial, and by due perseverance to obtain a radical cure, Dr. Solomon has sent to his Agents a supply of FAMILY BOTTLES, that contain four half guinea ones, for which only 33s. are charged, on which, of course, nine shillings are saved to the purchaser, including also the duty, the Stamp of which, by order of his Majesty's Commissioners, bears the words, "*Saml. ORIGINATING IN AN IMPURE STATE OF THE BLOOD,

DR. SOLOMON'S ANTI-IMPETIGINES,

Founded on a Chymical and Philosophical basis,

Warranted by the experience of a series of years, and sanctioned by "CULLEN'S PRACTICE OF PHYSIC AND NOSOLOGY."

IT is an alterative and purifier of the blood, its operation is gradual, gentle, and almost imperceptible, it is the best substitute that has ever been discovered for that dangerous mineral MERCURY; it sweetens the blood, and stimulates it to expel all noxious and impure juices, giving strength and tone to the nerves, enlivening and invigorating both body and mind.

For Scorbutic, Cutaneous Eruptions, Dry or Wet Leprosy,

The ANTI-IMPETIGINES certainly claims a pre-eminence over all other medicines, being decidedly adapted for the speedy removal of these complaints, and will not only clear the skin, but heal all old sores and ulcers of ever so long standing.

In DISORDERS where SALIVATION has repeatedly failed, when no other remedy could restore the unhappy sufferer to that health he unfortunately lost, the ANTI-IMPETIGINES will be found the great and only restorer of health and vigour. It purifies the blood, and restores the system when impaired by the imprudent use of Mercury!

Dr. John Hunter and many other medical men have treated masterly on certain complaints, but they all follow the steps of their predecessors—Mercury, Mercury is still their grand climacteric!—and which, notwithstanding all its alledged improvements and combinations, is mercury nevertheless!! But the Anti-Impetigines has long been used in an extensive private practice, and in a multiplicity of instances found to be a sovereign, a safe, a speedy, and effectual remedy to every stage and symptom; it justly claims a pre-eminence over all other medicines, being decidedly adapted for the speedy removal of these complaints, as well as the Scurvy, Scrofula, King's Evil, and even the Leprosy itself; it is not to be paralleled in the whole Materia Medica.

Price Half-a-Guinea a Bottle, or the quantity of FOUR at 10s. 6d. in one FAMILY BOTTLE, for 33s. by which 9s. is saved.

Sold by every vender of Patent Medicines in the United Kingdom.
