

This day is published, by H.D. Symonds, ... Mathews, ... London, and all other booksellers, an entire new and elegant edition ... of that interesting publication, entitled "Solomon's Guide to Health," or, Advice to both sexes, in a variety of complaints.

Contributors

Solomon, Samuel, -approximately 1818.

Publication/Creation

[Liverpool] : [publisher not identified], [1799?]

Persistent URL

<https://wellcomecollection.org/works/zyrjm2x8>

License and attribution

This work has been identified as being free of known restrictions under copyright law, including all related and neighbouring rights and is being made available under the Creative Commons, Public Domain Mark.

You can copy, modify, distribute and perform the work, even for commercial purposes, without asking permission.

wellcome collection

Wellcome Collection
183 Euston Road
London NW1 2BE UK
T +44 (0)20 7611 8722
E library@wellcomecollection.org
<https://wellcomecollection.org>

1799
61924/P
This Day is published,
By H. D. SYMONDS, Paternoster Row,
MATHEWS, No. 18, Strand, London, and all other Booksellers,
AN ENTIRE NEW AND ELEGANT EDITION

In One Pocket Volume,
With an Elegant PORTRAIT of the Author, Price only 3s.
Of that interesting Publication, entitled

“SOLOMON'S
GUIDE TO HEALTH,”

OR,

ADVICE TO BOTH SEXES, IN A VARIETY OF COMPLAINTS,

Which fully explains, in a concise, plain manner, adapted to every Capacity, the most simple methods of Treatment, and efficacious Remedies for the following among the great number of diseases, which are treated of under their respective heads, viz.

Abortion or Miscarriage,—Asthmas,—Appetite, (Loss of)—Barrenness,—Bilious Complaints,—Chlorosis or Green Sickness,—Child-bearing,—Consumptions,—Female Diseases,—Fits,—Fluor Albus or Whites,—Flatulence or Wind, Gleets,—Gout,—Gonorrhœa,—Hypochondria or Melancholy Complaints,—Indispositions attendant on Pregnancy,—Indigestion,—Juvenile Indiscretions, baneful effects thereof,—Lowness of Spirits,—Menstrual Evacuations,—Nervous Diseases,—Onanism or secret venery,—Pregnancy,—Phthisis or Cough,—Rheumatism,—Seminal Weaknesses,—Scurvy,—Turn of Life,—&c. &c.

TO WHICH IS ADDED,

A Dissertation on the Use and Abuse of Cold, or Sea-Bathing,

BY S. SOLOMON, M. D.

Member of the University and College of Physicians, Aberdeen:

This celebrated Pamphlet assuredly points out the most efficacious remedies for most of the diseases incident to the human frame; particularly those dreadful disorders which are so prevalent in this kingdom usually termed Nervous and Hypochondriac, which in this publication are largely treated on, and the best and most certain remedies strongly and experimentally recommended, into an untimely grave! To such as these, "The Guide to Health," will afford the most permanent relief, and point out the mode of restoration, to the enjoyment of the greatest of all the comforts, HEALTH, without which life is not worth enjoying.

The Author is proud to confess, that he has been assisted by eminent literary medical men, to whose labours and assistance he is much indebted:—they have tried the remedies prescribed as well as himself, and have not been AFRAID OR ASHAMED to acknowledge their salutary and powerful efficacy.

Orders given to any Bookfeller in Town or Country, for "SOLOMON'S GUIDE TO HEALTH," will be duly executed, at only 3s. each copy, free of carriage.

Every person, young and old, should certainly purchase this book, there is scarcely an individual who is not interested in some part of it. In particular it is recommended to young men and boys, as an early attention to the latter, may serve to guard them from a fatal rock on which thousands have been split, and be the means of preserving their bodies from disease, and also their souls, their minds, and all their faculties from destruction.

† For the very excellent character of this book see the different Reviews.

TO THE PUBLIC.—Nothing can be a stronger proof of the utility of this work than the unprecedented sale it has met with, no less than FIFTY THOUSAND COPIES having been disposed of in a very short time.

Extract of the Character given of this Work in the SUN, STAR, COURIER, ALBION, TIMES, DAILY ADVERTISER, MORNING CHRONICLE, and most of the Literary Journals in Europe.

"We have the satisfaction of announcing the publication of another edition of Doctor Solomon's incomparable 'GUIDE TO HEALTH,' a book which has certainly met with the most extensive sale of any medical production we ever heard of—upon an attentive perusal of it, the afflicted will meet with much useful advice and instruction—the best and most approved remedies are certainly pointed out for the various disorders on which it particularly treats, as well as directions for general health highly interesting to persons of every denomination."

AN ACCOUNT OF
 THAT MOST EXCELLENT MEDICINE,
 THE
 CORDIAL BALM OF GILEAD, SO JUSTLY CELEBRATED FOR
 THE RELIEF AND CURE OF

NERVOUS DISORDERS,
 FEMALE COMPLAINTS,
 WEAKNESSES,
 LOSS OF APPETITE,
 IMPURITY OF BLOOD,
 HEAD-ACHE,
 RELAXATION,

BILIOUS CASES,
 DEBILITY,
 INDIGESTION,
 COUGHS AND COLDS,
 CONSUMPTIONS,
 LOWNESS OF SPIRITS,
&c. &c. &c.

NERVOUS SYSTEM.

THE train of melancholy disorders which afflict the human frame, under the denomination of nervous diseases, are the principal sources of human misery in the privation of health. Those disorders proceed from such an infinite variety and complication of causes, as to render it impossible, if even it were always necessary, to trace them to their true source. The effects however are but too well known and too severely felt amongst too great a portion of mankind; and to these effects, it may without exaggeration be asserted, that any remedy superior or more celebrated for efficacy than Dr. Solomon's Cordial Balm of Gilead, never has been experienced. In all delicate, weakly, and relaxed constitutions, lowness of spirits, hypochondria, horrors, tremblings, weakness of sight, loss of memory, impaired vigour, tabes dorsalis, nervous consumptions, and the numberless symptoms of impaired and tottering constitutions, whether arising from a life of inactivity, intemperance, or inattention to health. Its efficacy has attained throughout the three kingdoms universal and unparalleled celebrity.—By strict perseverance in its use, it cheers, braces, and invigorates the whole nervous system, and gives new tone to all the vital functions, of which numberless instances can be avouched. Thousands at this day in the three kingdoms live to bless the day they first applied to this admirable remedy, and enjoy the blessings of health, who might otherwise have dropped into an untimely grave, the victim of an early imprudence.

Prepared only by S. SOLOMON, M. D. of the University and College of Physicians, and author of "The Guide to Health," at his House, Solomon's Place, Brownlow-Street, Liverpool; where he may be consulted, with his usual fee.

Vide, Lege, et Crede.

Case of JAMES VAUGHAN, Esq.

(The late BANKER,) Park-Street, BRISTOL,

Who has very laudably given permission to its being made public for the good of the afflicted:—

HE is 61 Years of Age, and acknowledges with Gratitude that he received infinite Benefit from seven bottles of THE CORDIAL BALM OF GILEAD; having thereby been restored from an Asthma, cough, violent wheezing of the Lungs, strong Hypochondriac, Lowness of Spirits, great Relaxation, Weakness of Body, Restless Nights, and uncomfortable Dreams, all which reduced him very much: he is now lusty, strong, and hearty, and enjoys better Health than he has experienced for these 35 Years.

Signed 26th June, 1799,

JAMES VAUGHAN,

Extract of a Letter from the
REV. ROWLAND PHILLIPS, B. A.
Long-Ashton, near Bristol, dated June 25, 1799.

"I feel it a duty incumbent on me as a Clergyman, to state, for the good of the Afflicted, that I am restored from a great weakness, with a long Train of horrid Symptoms attendant on a Nervous Complaint of many years standing, by the use of the CORDIAL BALM OF GILEAD, though many Remedies prescribed by the Faculty, as well as those advertized, were tried in vain. My spouse also derived great benefit therefrom; and several of the first families in the vicinity of Bristol have declared they owe the recovery of their health solely to the great efficacy of that valuable restorative. I therefore think it cannot be too generally known,

(Signed)

" ROWLAND PHILLIPS, B. A."

AFFIDAVIT OF J. BROOM, Esq. Downend, near Bristol.

I was long troubled with a nervous complaint, accompanied with great trembling, weakness, debility, and lowness of spirits, and when I conversed with a friend, tears involuntarily gushed from my eyes. Thus I became emaciated and so reduced as not to be able to walk into my own garden, or scarcely stand on my feet. I was afflicted with a bad cough and head-ach, and being constantly in pains both of body and mind, I was rendered incapable of doing any thing. In this deplorable state I entered upon a course of your Cordial Balm of Gilead, and found immediate relief; three bottles of which restored me to my usual state of health. It is now eighteen months ago since I was thus cruelly afflicted, and gratitude compels me to come forward in this public manner to declare that I have not had the least return since.

I am, Sir, your humble servant,

J. BROOM.

Witnesses. { W. Sheppard, No. 3, Wine-street, } Bristol.
 { William Saunders, }

Sworn before me, January 28, 1799. C. J. HARFORD, Bristol,
One of his Majesty's Justices of the Peace for the County of Gloucester.

Sir, TO S. SOLOMON, ESQ. M. D. LIVERPOOL:

I feel much pleasure to have it in my power to communicate to you a most surprising cure, effected by your valuable medicine, the Cordial Balm of Gilead. A young man (a mercer) of this city, about twenty-five years of age, has been afflicted from his infancy with a nervous complaint, attended with great debility, languor, want of appetite, lowness of spirits, which latterly increased so much as to render him incapable of attending to business for the last twelve months. In this deplorable state he was advised by his physician, as the last resource, to go into the country, but he found no relief in the change.—He then tried your Cordial Balm of Gilead, from the first bottle of which he found immediate relief, and six bottles more have restored him to a sound and perfect state of health. This case has occurred within my own observation, and the particulars stated from the young man's narration, who, as well as myself, will give you or any enquirer such further information as may be desired respecting this wonderful and surprising cure.—I am, Sir, your humble servant,

JOHN FLETCHER,
 Printer of the Chester Chronicle.

WONDERFUL CURE, OF MR. E. FOX,
Livery-Street, Harper's-Hill, Birmingham.

I long laboured under the painful effects of indigestion, and could obtain no relief from regular medical advice. In this state I was recommended to try the Cordial Balm of Gilead, but having an objection to public medicines, I resisted the idea for some time. The weakness, however, gained on my constitution, as scarcely any sustenance remained on my stomach, I determined to give the Cordial Balm of Gilead a fair trial, and immediately sent for some to Mr. Swinney's, printer, in this town; and the consequences have fully justified the report I had of your medicine; for my spirits were soon recruited, and my appetite and digestion, after eighteen months' wasting and excruciating illness, are now happily restored. As this singular case may be the means of inducing others, under similar complaints, I consent to make it public:

Livery-Street, Harper's-Hill, EDWARD FOX.

Birmingham, December, 6th, 1798.

The following Gentlemen, Residents of Birmingham, are Witnesses to Mr. Fox's Cure;

James Millar, Esq.

Walter Archer,

John Taylor, Esq.

John Ellis,

John Robotham,

Henry Hawkins.

FROM A PRINCIPAL OFFICER OF A 74.

Spithead, Dec. 2, 1798.

FOR the benefit of mankind, and my brother Officers in particular, I authorize Dr. Solomon, of Liverpool, to publish this my acknowledgement of the efficacy of his medicine, the Cordial Balm of Gilead. As I do not chuse my name to appear in print, persons desirous to know the truth of my assertion, may, by enquiring of Messrs. Toulmins, Navy Agents, Surry Street, Strand, London; or Mr. Alexander, Navy Agent, opposite the Navy Post-office, Broad Street, Portsmouth, learn my name and address. By an irregular life I had been excessively weakened and debilitated; a dozen bottles of the Cordial Balm of Gilead, absolutely restored me to my primitive health.

A LADY RESTORED FROM THE JAWS OF DEATH.

DEAR SIR,

London, Nov. 29, 1798.

THE disorders with which a lady of my acquaintance was afflicted, were nervous affections, and a very high inflammation of the lungs, attended with excessive coughing, which reduced her to death's door.—She told me that she had had the best medical advice she could procure, and Dr. Pitcairn among others, but to no good purpose. She continued twelve months in this disordered state; went to Bristol, and found no relief; that for four months together she could not lay down in her bed without the hazard of excessive pain or suffocation, and during that period could only rest by being propped up with pillows. Being almost worn out with suffering, a friend advised her to buy a bottle of your CORDIAL BALM of GILEAD: she purchased two half-guinea bottles, and found much relief by them, and then bought a L. 5 box, which perfectly restored her from the debilitated state of her lungs, and nervous disorder. She also added that many of her friends, thro' her recommendation, had found great benefit by taking them. She informed me that she had it in contemplation to have written to you, but as she had relations in the medical line, she did not like her name to be made public, and thereby incur their displeasure. Mrs. Mathews and myself had an interview with the lady, who related the particulars; and either of us will with pleasure refer any respectable enquirer to the lady herself. Wishing that your medicine may prove productive to you by an extensive sale, and beneficial to mankind, I am, dear Sir, your humble servant,

JAMES MATHEWS, No. 18, Strand

DR. SOLOMON, LIVERPOOL.

A young man, about twenty years of age, writes that he had been for upwards of three years labouring under a nervous complaint, with a constant depression of spirits, which almost rendered him useless in society, all the powers of his mind having become impaired, so that his spirits can scarcely sustain him, accompanied with a wandering imagination and with great loss of memory; flying pains all over the body, particularly in his forehead, extremely tremulous and feeble after a few hours exercise, his heart continually palpitating; great pain in his bowels occasioned by wind; flushing of heat, and sometimes cold in different parts of his body. Though almost every medicine failed, the Cordial Balm of Gilead was found to be the only remedy that gave him relief; and he obtained a radical cure by a little perseverance.

Want of room, and delicacy, preclude the insertion of letters of importance to the community, and to youth in particular. They may however be seen at large in the Doctor's publication entitled "A GUIDE TO HEALTH:" a new edition of which is now just publishing at three shillings, and may be had at H. D. Symonds, Paternoster-row, London; and all booksellers, with an elegant portrait of the Author.

* * Persons in the country requiring the Doctor's opinion relative to inveterate cases, are to enclose his usual fee of HALF-A-GUINEA, in a letter, with the state of their case.—Such letters should (for safety) be thus directed—"Money-letter, Dr. Solomon, Solomon's-place, Brownlow-street, Liverpool; paid double postage."

Letters may be ordered to be addressed for X. Z. or A. B. at the post-office till called for.

A saving of One Pound Six-shillings.

N. B. The Cordial Balm of Gilead is sold in bottles, price Half-a-Guinea each.—There are also boxes, price 5l. containing equal to twelve bottles at 10s. 6d. by which the patient saves 1l. 6s. which can be had of the Doctor, by remitting a FIVE-POUND bank-note.

A book of directions with a variety of remarkable cases, is sealed up with each bottle.

TO THE AFFLICTED.

Dr. Solomon derives the greatest satisfaction from the number of cases that almost daily occur, wherein the efficacy of the Cordial Balm of Gilead is demonstrated, in eradicating the worst and most dangerous symptoms of nervous disorders; and he is fully convinced that nothing has tended so much to establish the fame of this Medicine, as its certain success in those complaints which strike their root so deep in the constitution, and are so fatal to the happiness of Mankind.

The Cordial Balm of Gilead is therefore earnestly recommended to those who in advanced age feel the consequences of youthful excess, or unfortunate youth who have thereby brought on themselves a numerous train of evils. It is at once the most elegant and efficacious Medicine ever yet discovered for nervous diseases.

To the young it will afford lasting health, strength, and spirits, in place of lassitude and debility; and to the aged and infirm it will assuredly furnish great relief and comfort by gently and safely invigorating the system.

Nervous disorders of every kind, and from whatever cause arising, all that train of sinkings, anxieties, and tremors, which so dreadfully affect the weak, the sedentary, and the delicate, will in a short time be succeeded by cheerfulness, and every preface of health.

Those who have resided in the West Indies, can testify the salutary effects of this wonderful Medicine, its senative qualities have particularly been proved in the late alarming epidemic complaint, the yellow fever; and those who are languid and relaxed in their whole system, take this Medicine with the happiest effects; persons therefore going to the East or West Indies, cannot store a more important article of health and life.

Youth of either sex, who have practised a secret and destructive vice, and thereby relaxed, weakened, and debilitated the whole nervous system, will find the Cordial Balm of Gilead the most powerful, certain, and effectual restorative.

The Cordial Balm of Gilead is now considered as the greatest discovery that has been made in the memory of man; it is potent, safe and pleasant. The rapid and increasing fame bestowed on its author and inventor (Dr. Solomon, of Liverpool) is the true and only criterion to judge of the merits of a Medicine, which has been administered from the highest to the lowest class of people with such happy and uniform success.—The Venders of this Medicine frequently cannot get supplied as quick as the demand is for it, and it is a fact worthy of remark, that they are sold nearly as soon as they arrive at hand, most of the Half-Guinea Bottles being bespoke before they are ordered.

Sold Wholesale by Dr. Solomon, LIVERPOOL; Mr. Mathews, No. 18, Strand, LONDON; Mr. M'Donald, GLASGOW; Mr. Smith, No. 38, North Bridge-Street, EDINBURGH; Spilsbury, and Co. No. 45, Mary-Street, and Mr. Davison, No. 1, Parliament-Street, DUBLIN.

And in the country by all Printers, Booksellers, and Venders of Medicines in the three kingdoms, with directions.