OBJECTS

OF THE

HEALTH OF TOWNS' ASSOCIATION.

I. To diffuse information as to the physical and moral evils that result from the present defective Sewerage, Drainage, Supply of Water, Air, and Light, and Construction of Dwelling Houses; and thus to facilitate the work of Legislation, and prepare the Public for the reception of a sound and comprehensive sanatory measure.

II. To correct misconception as to the expense of sanatory improvements, and to remove groundless apprehension as to interference with existing pecuniary interests.

III. To promote local sanatory inquiries and improvements.

IV. To encourage the establishment of Auxiliary Associations, with a view to the local benefit which must thence arise, as well as to procure larger funds, and a wider field of usefulness.

As the important objects of the Association, though carried out exclusively by unpaid agency, and with the strictest regard to economy, involve a large outlay of money, Contributions are earnestly requested. It should be borne in mind, that though not a CHARITY, the Association has the strongest claims on the CHARITABLE, for it aims at preventing the very evils which Charities are formed to palliate. It would substitute health for disease, cleanliness for filth, order for disorder, economy for waste, prevention for palliation, justice for charity, enlightened self-interest for ignorant selfishness; and bring home to the poorest and meanest among us, in purity and abundance, the simple blessings which ignorance and negligence have long combined to limit, or to spoil—air, water, and light.

Those who wish to further the objects of the Association are reminded that there are many ways in which they may be useful. It may suffice to specify the following:—1. By promoting the formation of Branch Associations. 2. By organizing or signing Petitions to the Legislature. 3. By delivering Lectures, or procuring their delivery, in districts where the merits of the sanatory question are not understood. 4. By purchasing the publications of the Association for distribution or circulation among the poor. 5. By donations or subscriptions.

An Annual Subscription of £1 and upwards, or a Life Subscription of £5, and upwards, constitutes a Member.

Subscriptions received by the Treasurer, THE HON. J. T. LESLIE MELVILLE; MESSRS. WILLIAMS, DEACON & Co., Birchin Lane; BARCLAY, TRITTON & Co., Lombard Street; DRUMMONDS & Co., Charing Cross; STRAHAN & Co., 217 Strand; and

Health of Towns' Association.

REPORT.

February 24, 1847.

THIS Association originated in the patriotic exertions of the Most Noble the Marquis of Normanby, Dr. Southwood Smith, and other individuals who have long seen and felt the paramount importance and urgent necessity of sanatory improvements to the welfare of the public at large, and more especially of the poorer classes.

A short statement of the proceedings of the Association, will serve to shew how far that which was put forth as one of its chief objects—namely, “To diffuse among the people the valuable information elicited by recent inquiries, and the advancement of science, as to the physical and moral evils that result from the present defective sewerage, drainage, supply of water, air, and light, and construction of dwelling-houses,” has been carried out.

The first public meeting took place at Exeter Hall, December 11, 1844, under the presidency of the Marquis of Normanby, and was addressed by several distinguished individuals of all political sentiments. The Association was then constituted, resolutions explanatory of its objects were passed, and a form of Petition to the Houses of Lords and Commons was adopted. This petition was subsequently presented to the House of Lords by the Marquis of Normanby, and to the House of Commons by Lord Ashley.

An Abstract of the Proceedings of this Meeting, embodying the resolutions, the speeches, and the petition, was adopted as the Association's first publication; 3750 copies were printed, and sent to the members of both Houses of Parliament,—the Mayors and Corporations of the principal towns,—the Chairmen and Clerks of Poor Law Unions,—the principal London and provincial newspapers,—the public Companies of London,—Literary and Scientific, Mechanics' and Temperance Institutions—and to numerous benevolent individuals, accompanied by an Address from the Committee, a Prospectus, and a circular letter, urging the parties addressed to co-operate with the Association in obtaining Petitions to Parliament, and in otherwise furthering the important purposes it had in view. Advertisements were also inserted in the leading newspapers.

From the numerous letters which they received, the Committee had the gratification of learning that much interest was excited on the subject, and especially of hearing from Lord Duncan, and from James Simpson, Esq., of Edinburgh, that the labouring classes were generally alive to the importance of sanatory improvements.

The next publication of the Association was one for which they were indebted to the liberality of the Marquis of Normanby, who placed at their disposal 2000 copies of the admirable speech delivered by him in the House of Lords on the 26th July, 1844, on the occasion of moving an address to the Crown on the sanatory condition of the people.

This was followed by "Suggestions for forming Branch Associations," by R. A. Slaney, Esq. one of Her Majesty's Commissioners for inquiring into the state of large towns and populous places. Of this tract, which embraces an excellent general view of the subject, 2000 copies were printed and distributed.

Mr. Simpson, on the invitation of a large body of the labouring class, delivered two public Lectures on the Sanatory Question, at his own expense, in Exeter Hall, at which Lord Brougham and Lord Francis Egerton (now the Earl of Ellesmere) respectively presided. Mr. Simpson also travelled through many parts of the country, delivering Lectures where favourable opportunities offered.

Dr. Guy, Mr. Grainger, and Mr. Toynbee, three indefatigable members of the Committee, have also delivered several lectures in furtherance of the objects of the Association. Dr. Guy has delivered Lectures, and courses of Lectures, at Crosby Hall, at Manchester and Liverpool, at Greenwich, at Hackney, at the City of London Institution in Aldersgate Street, and at the Russell Institution. Mr. Grainger has delivered Lectures at the Royal Institution, Liverpool; at the Athenæum, Manchester (after which, a Branch Association was formed); at the Town Hall, Bath (after which, also, a Branch Association was formed); two Lectures at the Institution in Bristol; a Lecture at the Town-Hall, Marlborough (after which a Branch Association was formed); also at the Literary Institution, Reading; the Walworth Institution, and the London Institution, Moorfields. Mr. Toynbee delivered two Lectures at the Beaumont Philosophical Institution; one at the Institute of British Architects; one at the Mechanics'

Institute in Carlisle Street, Portman Market; and one at Hampstead.

These Lectures having excited much attention, the Committee printed and circulated 1500 of the first-mentioned Lectures delivered by Dr. Guy and Mr. Grainger, and distributed 250 copies of the Lecture delivered by Dr. Guy, at the Russell Institution, "On the Health of Towns as influenced by Defective Cleansing and Drainage; and on the Application of the Refuse of Towns to Agricultural Purposes." The Committee having learnt that Viscount Ebrington had also delivered a most interesting lecture on the Sanatory Question to his constituents at Plymouth, applied to his lordship for permission to publish the same, which he kindly granted. One thousand five hundred copies have accordingly been printed and circulated.

There is another member of the Association to whom gratitude is due—the Rev. Charles Girdlestone, late Rector of Alderley, in Cheshire, and now of Kingswinford, who published at his own expense a series of letters, containing a most excellent digest of the various official and other publications on the subject of sanatory improvement, illustrated by various plans and diagrams; one hundred copies of which publication he presented to the Association.

There is, moreover, a very pleasing circumstance attending this publication: two benevolent ladies residing in the vicinity of London, into whose hands it fell, were so impressed with the importance of the subject, that they placed £100 at the disposal of Mr. Girdlestone, to be applied in such way as he might judge best; and, in the exercise of that discretion, he has presented £50 to this Association, and £50 to that of the labouring classes.

Branch Associations have been formed in the following towns :—Edinburgh, Liverpool, Manchester, York, Halifax, Derby, Bath, Marlborough, Walsall, Plymouth, Worcester, and Rugby: and sanatory committees have been appointed in various other places.

Through the exertions and co-operation of Mr. Toynbee, a separate Association of the labouring classes for promoting the same important object was formed, which has been instrumental in publishing and circulating several thousand copies of valuable Tracts on the Sanatory Question, and, by Lectures and other means, in spreading a knowledge of the subject among the important class for whose good it was established.

The several publications of the Association having been supplied to the Branches, to a great number of public institutions and individuals, and to the public press throughout the kingdom, information has, it is believed, through such means, been very generally diffused.

Lord Lincoln having, in the last Session of Parliament, presented to the House of Commons a Bill, partly founded on the Report of the Health of Towns' Commission, the Committee, although approving of many of its provisions, observed several defects and omissions; and considering that it was of the utmost importance that the proposed enactment should undergo the strictest investigation, requested Dr. Southwood Smith to undertake this task, to which he most kindly devoted great time and attention. The result has been a Report, subsequently referred to the Committee for its approval, which has taken a large and enlightened view of the whole subject, much to the honour of its author and the Association, and it is confidently hoped, to the ultimate benefit of the country at large. Three thousand copies of this Report were printed, and it was sent to every member of both Houses of Parliament, to the editor of every newspaper in the United Kingdom, to all the Branch Associations, to various Public Institutions, and to a great number of private persons.

In furtherance of the views of the Association developed in the Report, the Committee requested an interview with her Majesty's Government, and Sir George Grey having appointed Friday, the 20th November last, to receive the same, a deputation consisting of several members of the Committee, and of delegates from some of the Branch Associations, waited on him; the result of which interview was an assurance, on the part of Government, of the deep interest they felt in the subject of sanatory improvement, and a determination to introduce a comprehensive measure in the then ensuing session of Parliament. An abstract of the conference was published in the leading papers of the day.

The result of the deputation to Government was brought under the notice of the members of the Association, at a general meeting, held December 4th, 1846, when several resolutions were passed, pledging the meeting to renewed and extended efforts—pledges which the Committee are happy to be able to report have been redeemed.

Within less than a week of the date of this meeting, the Sub-Committee, with a view to increased efficiency, divided themselves into two sections,—a town section and a country section, and appointed to each an honorary secretary, whose duty it should be to further the general objects of the Association in town and country, respectively.

This arrangement, while it has contributed to the efficiency of the Sub-Committee, has tended to relieve the Honorary Secretary of the Association, Mr. Austin, of some of the labour which he has kindly taken upon himself. Dr. Guy has consented to act as Honorary Secretary to the town section, and Dr. Southwood Smith as Honorary Secretary to the country section. This arrangement has been the means of infusing fresh life into the efforts of the Association.

The town section of the Sub-Committee has printed an address to the inhabitants of the metropolis, and a statement of its sanatory condition. These they have caused to be extensively circulated from house to house, and have directed their collector to wait upon the inhabitants to explain to them the objects of the Association; and to solicit contributions to its funds. This effort has proved, and still continues to prove, successful, as a means both of inviting the attention of the educated and wealthy classes to the important subject of sanatory reform, and of increasing the funds of the Society.

The town section has also succeeded in making arrangements with Mr. Renshaw, Publisher and Bookseller, 356 Strand, for the opening of a Depôt for the sale of the publications of the Association.

The country section has not been idle. A series of tabular statements, showing at a glance, the mortality, waste of life, and sacrifice of money, taking place in our principal provincial towns, are in course of preparation; Mr. Grainger has been authorised to issue circulars for the purpose of obtaining returns of the sanatory state of villages; and an Address, prepared by Dr. Southwood Smith, and signed by Lord Ashley, setting forth the claims of the sanatory question as a branch of preventive charity, is being circulated among the supporters of charitable institutions. The important subjects of interment in towns, the consumption of smoke, and the operation of the present Building Act, have been referred to select sub-committees.

At no period since the establishment of the Association have the efforts to disseminate information on the sanatory question been more energetic or sustained, than since the beginning of the present year.

On the 4th of January, the Association issued the first number of a periodical publication, under the title of a "Weekly Sheet of Facts and Figures," with the object of presenting at short intervals of time, and in a form to attract attention and offer facilities for quotation, some of the more striking facts which have been recently placed before the public. There is every reason to believe that this publication is answering all the purposes for which it was designed.

On the 6th January, the Sub-Committee adopted "An Address to the Working Classes," by Dr. Southwood Smith, originally published in Howitt's Journal, and ordered an impression of ten thousand to be printed, together with a form of Petition to both Houses of Parliament.

January 13th, the Sub-Committee ordered the publication of two thousand additional copies of the Report on Lord Lincoln's Bill.

They have also recently authorised the publication of an Analysis of the Evidence laid before the Health of Towns' Commission and the Select Committee on Metropolitan Sewage Manure, together with a short form of Petition for Agriculturists, &c., residing in the neighbourhood of large towns.

As a guarantee that the funds of the Association will be strictly devoted to the advancement of its professed objects, it may be proper to state, that through the liberality of the Statistical Society, the Committee has been furnished with a place of meeting, free of expense, and that through the continued kindness of Mr. Austin, the Honorary Secretary, and of the gentlemen who have consented to act as Honorary Secretaries to the town and country sections of the Sub-Committee, no charge is incurred for duties ordinarily performed by paid officers.

The Committee have ordered a balance sheet to be prepared, by which it will be seen that the active assistance of the public is still required to enable the Association to carry on its labours with efficiency.

In conclusion, the Committee have much pleasure in stating that the objects of the Association are becoming every day better known and more fully appreciated. The sanatory question is now fairly before the public; the provincial towns are joining, one by one, in the movement, and there is every reason to believe, that sanatory reform has taken such hold on the minds of every class of the community, that nothing can prevent its ultimate and speedy triumph. In the mean time, the Association will not relax its exertions; and it appeals with confidence to its members and to the public at large, for that countenance and pecuniary support which may enable it not merely to continue, but to extend its efforts.
