The history of Nadir Shah, formerly called Thamas Kuli Khan, the present Emperor of Persia / To which is prefix'd a short history of the Moghol Emperors. At the end is inserted, a catalogue of about two hundred manuscripts in the Persic and other oriental languages. Collected in the East. By James Fraser.

Contributors

Fraser, James, 1713-1754.

Publication/Creation

London: Printed for A. Millar, 1742.

Persistent URL

https://wellcomecollection.org/works/cmx5ss5u

License and attribution

This work has been identified as being free of known restrictions under copyright law, including all related and neighbouring rights and is being made available under the Creative Commons, Public Domain Mark.

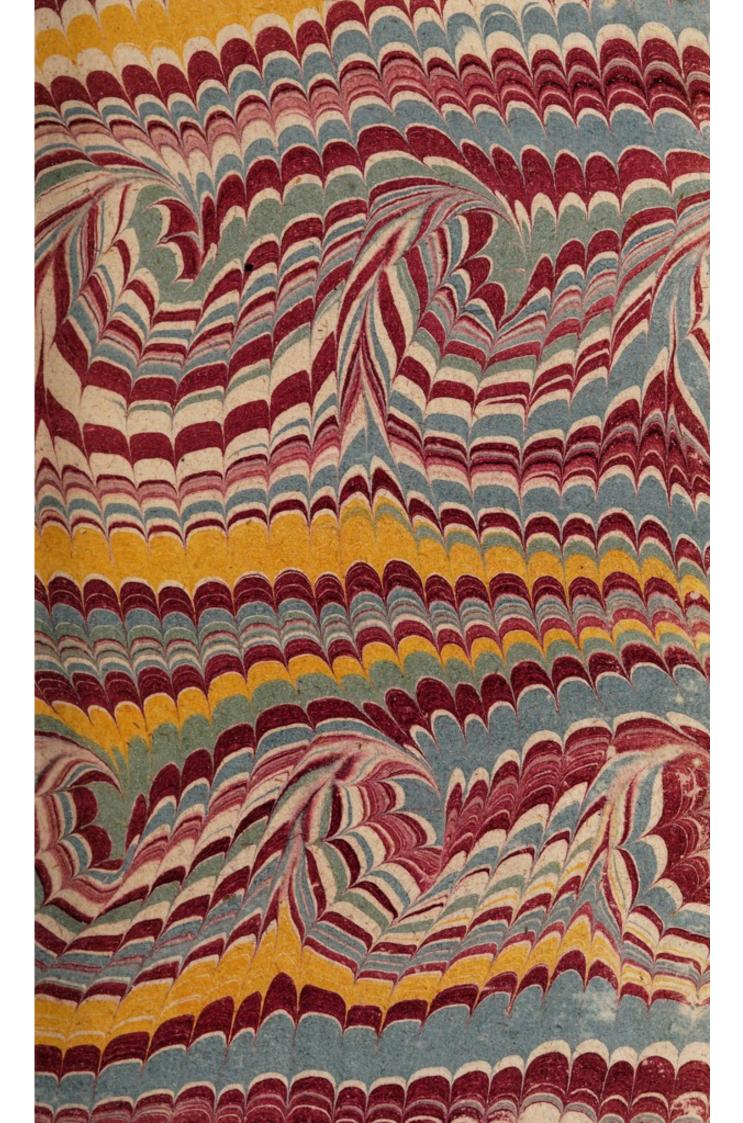

You can copy, modify, distribute and perform the work, even for commercial purposes, without asking permission.

Wellcome Collection 183 Euston Road London NW1 2BE UK T +44 (0)20 7611 8722 E library@wellcomecollection.org https://wellcomecollection.org

1 / s

) FRASER, J. 2) GENUINE

Digitized by the Internet Archive in 2018 with funding from Wellcome Library

Nasr o'din Mahommed Shah? Present Emperor of Hindostan. From an Original

J. Hulett Sculp.

HISTORY

OF

NADIR SHAH,

Formerly called

Thamas Kuli Khan,

The Present Emperor of PERSIA.

To which is prefix'd

A short HISTORY of the Moghol Emperors.

At the End is inferted,

A CATALOGUE of about Two Hundred Manuscripts in the Perfic and other Oriental Languages, collected in the East.

By JAMES FRASER.

The SECOND EDITION.

LONDON:

Printed for A. MILLAR, at Buchanan's Head, over against St. Clement's Church, in the Strand.

MDCCXLII.

Physician to the AV AFF. Present Emperor of PERSIA. NOVA I SOCIETY. ATALOGUE of slow Two Hundred Printed for A. MILLILA M. BELLER, ASER. over againting Chesses's Church, in the Strond,

Dr. Richard Mead,

Physician to the KING,

FELLOW of the College of PHYSICIANS in LONDON,

And of the

ROYAL SOCIETY,

These Sheets (as a grateful Acknowledgment of the Favours received) are, with great Submission, dedicated by

His most obliged

Humble Servant,

JAMES FRASER.

he Richard Mend

ROTAL SOCIETY,

THE

PREFACE.

S the Public is ever favourable to Works of this Nature, I shall make no Apology for the present Undertaking. But to satisfy my Readers what Pains

I have been at not to impose upon them, and what Opportunities I have had of being informed, I beg leave to present them with a short Account of the following Sheets.

The Abstract of the Moghol History is extracted from the 6th Vol. of Tarîkh Rozit al Suffa, Vakeât Babri, Maçir Jehanguîry, Padshanama, and Tarîkh Alumguîri, &c. A particular Account of which will be found in the Catalogue of Manuscripts at the End of the Book. As I have so large and choice a Collection Collection of Eastern Histories for that Purpose, the Authenticness of it will not be disputed.

As to that Part which gives an Account of the State of Affairs in the Moghol Empire before the Persian Invasion, with the Springs that effected the same, I have translated it from a Persian Manuscript sent to Dr. Mead, by Humfries Cole Esq; Chief of the English Factory at Patna in the East-Indies. That the Facts therein are true, I am well assured; having myself lived in India above Ten Years, the last Three of which, I held a constant Correspondence with some Persians and Moghols there, and that frequently on the Subject of Nadir Shah's Expedition.

The Account of Nadir Shah's first Exploits I have been favoured with from a Gentleman now in England, who resided several Years in Persia, speaks that Language, and has been frequently in Company with that Conqueror.

The Journal of his Transactions in India, with the Letters and Cession of the Provinces, were transmitted from Dehli, by the Secretary of Sirbullind Khan (whom Nadir Shah had appointed to be one of the Commissioners for levying the Contributions) to Mirza Moghol, hol, Son to Ali Mahommed Khan at Ahmedabad, who being my intimate Friend, gave it to me.

I have been as full in the Notes as possible, and explained whatever Terms I thought required it: Several proper Names and Words I have expressed in the Original Characters, which I thought would be entertaining to those who know any Thing of the Arabic or Persic, and not disagreeable even to those who do not, as they are immediately after set down in Roman Characters, with a proper Explanation. As several of those Terms have occurred more than once, I have annexed an Index of them, referring to the Page in which they are particularly explained.

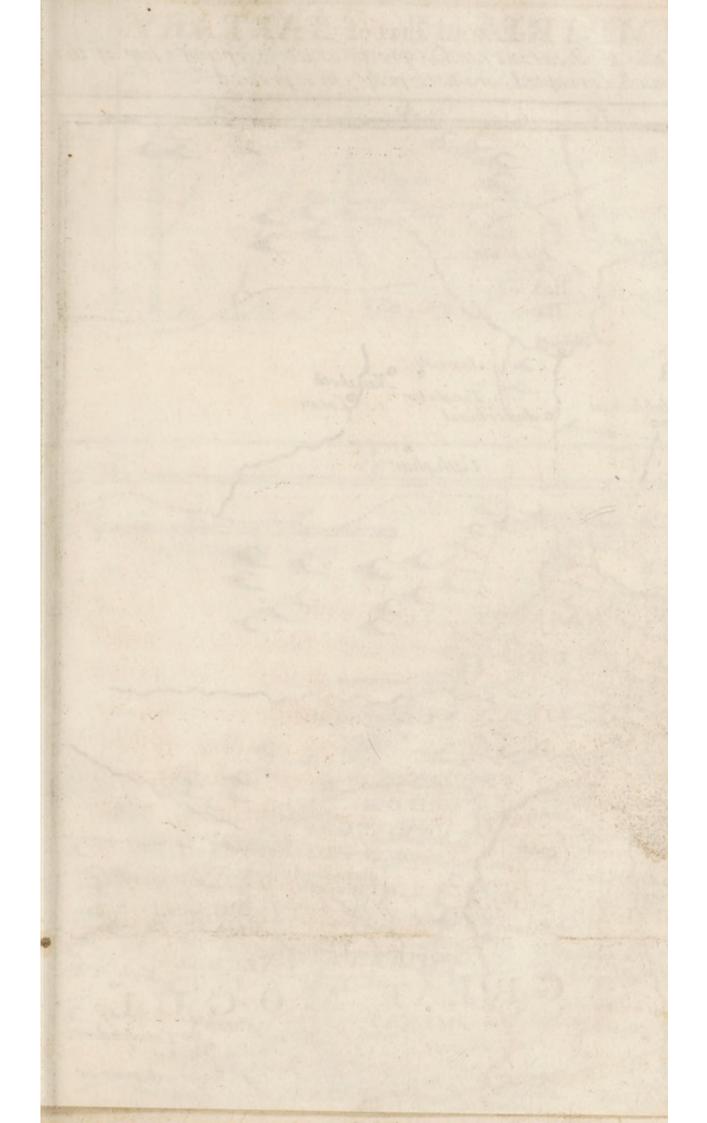

In the Abstract of the Moghol History, I have reduced the Dates of the Hegira to the Year of our Lord, but in the remaining Part I have kept the Original Dates, and put ours in the Notes.

The learned Reader will please to observe, that in two or three Persic Words, I have been obliged to make use of the Letter B. instead of P. there being no such Letter in the Arabic Types, which I have been favoured with by the Society for propagating Christian Knowledge, at the Recommendation of his Lordship the Bishop of Litchfield and Coventry.

The Oriental Manuscripts, of which I have annexed a Catalogue at the End of these Sheets, have been collected from the Year 1730 to 1740, and purchased with no small Labour and Expence, at Surat, Cambay, and Ahmedabad in the East-Indies; excepting a sew which I bought at Mocha in Arabia, from some Persians who passed that Way on their Pilgrimage to Mecca.

Persic, was a Parsi, (or one of the Race of the ancient Persians) now at Surat. The second was a Mullah of one of the Mosques there, whose Name is Fakhr o'din. When I was at Cambay, I studied under Shékh Mahommed Morad, a Man samous in those Parts for his Knowledge of the Mahommedan Civil and Ecclesiastical Laws. During my Stay in that Place, I employed three Hours each Day with one Srî Nât Veaz, a learned Brahmin, whom I allowed a Sallary on that Account; it was by his Means I procured my Sanskerrit Manuscripts, which (I believe) is the first Collection of that Kind ever brought into Europe.

AMAP of the MOGHOL EMPIRE and Part of TARTARY.

This Map has been Copied from one of the most Correct of this kind extant, and is pretty exact, excepting a sew of the distances. The names of several places which hitherto were much Corrupted, are here properly expressed. 65 Samaran Mirufhna Meru James Bokhara Talley de Keith Tapheund Eurghania Nachfab Hak or al Ruth Phariat B Balkh Langhela Makhohan Aingharan Cathghur 35 ABUL Chaparaugue 30 GHOR Cher Barja Rodorow Pena Ribron PITAN AJMIR JESSELMERE Zivry AGR Raja Bargant Raja Rotas Vanp Talle o Charlet Breaben BERAR Bombay & Coast of Girgeling or of Zurzelli linguapums GOLCONDA Bemilipatano Colies of Hindoftan

ASHORT

HISTORY

of the Earth, and HT TO ories that might eclipse the Glory of all the Exploits before

HINDOSTAN Emperors of the Moghol Race, beginning with TEMUR.

EMUR, * the Son of Emir Targhai Khan and Takina Khatun, was born on the 6th of April, 1336. during the Government of Kazan Khan, in the City of Keish,

Religion, Prince Temir of Gairgan, Lord of the

ment of Kazan Khan, in the City of Keish, (commonly call'd Shehrsobz, or the Green B City)

* تبور الله Temur is known in Europe by the Name of Tamerlane, a Corruption of تبور الله Temur Lung, which fignifies Lame Temur, an Appellative seldom or never given him by the Eastern Historians. His Name and Titles at Length are قطب الدنبا و الدبي امبر كوركان صاحب قران تحور كوركان صاحب قران المبر الدنبا و الدبي المبر المبر كوركان صاحب قران المبر الدنبا و الدبي المبر كوركان صاحب قران ماحب قر

Physician to the My MIE. PELLOW OF the College Dans ROYAL SOCIETY ATALOGUE of short Two Handred Be Toith great Submishions dedi-Printed for A. Mittalk M. BELLER ASER.

Dr. Richard Mead, Physician to the KING,

FELLOW of the College of PHYSICIANS in LONDON,

And of the

ROYAL SOCIETY,

These Sheets (as a grateful Acknowledgment of the Favours received) are, with great Submission, dedicated by

His most obliged

Humble Servant,

JAMES FRASER.

And the death of the State of t

Fellow of the College of PHYSICIANS in LONDON

and to had

ROYAL SOCIETY.

Thefe Sheets (as a grateful Acknows ledgment of the Ferburs received) are, with great Submillion, dedicated by

Line of digit

Charles of the later

LARE BRASER

THE

PREFACE.

S the Public is ever favourable to Works of this Nature, I shall make no Apology for the present Undertaking. But to satisfy my Readers what Pains

I have been at not to impose upon them, and what Opportunities I have had of being informed, I beg leave to present them with a short Account of the following Sheets.

The Abstract of the Moghol History is extracted from the 6th Vol. of Tarîkh Rozit al Susfa, Vakeât Babri, Maçir Jehanguîry, Padshanama, and Tarîkh Alumguîri, &c. A particular Account of which will be found in the Catalogue of Manuscripts at the End of the Book. As I have so large and choice a Collection Collection of Eastern Histories for that Purpose, the Authenticness of it will not be disputed.

As to that Part which gives an Account of the State of Affairs in the Moghol Empire before the Persian Invasion, with the Springs that effected the same, I have translated it from a Persian Manuscript sent to Dr. Mead, by Humfries Cole Esq; Chief of the English Factory at Patna in the East-Indies. That the Facts therein are true, I am well assured; having myself lived in India above Ten Years, the last Three of which, I held a constant Correspondence with some Persians and Moghols there, and that frequently on the Subject of Nadir Shah's Expedition.

The Account of Nadir Shah's first Exploits I have been favoured with from a Gentleman now in England, who resided several Years in Persia, speaks that Language, and has been frequently in Company with that Conqueror.

The Journal of his Transactions in India, with the Letters and Cession of the Provinces, were transmitted from Dehli, by the Secretary of Sirbullind Khan (whom Nadir Shah had appointed to be one of the Commissioners for levying the Contributions) to Mirza Moghol, hol, Son to Ali Mahommed Khan at Ahmedabad, who being my intimate Friend, gave it to me.

I have been as full in the Notes as possible, and explained whatever Terms I thought required it: Several proper Names and Words I have expressed in the Original Characters, which I thought would be entertaining to those who know any Thing of the Arabic or Persic, and not disagreeable even to those who do not, as they are immediately after set down in Roman Characters, with a proper Explanation. As several of those Terms have occurred more than once, I have annexed an Index of them, referring to the Page in which they are particularly explained.

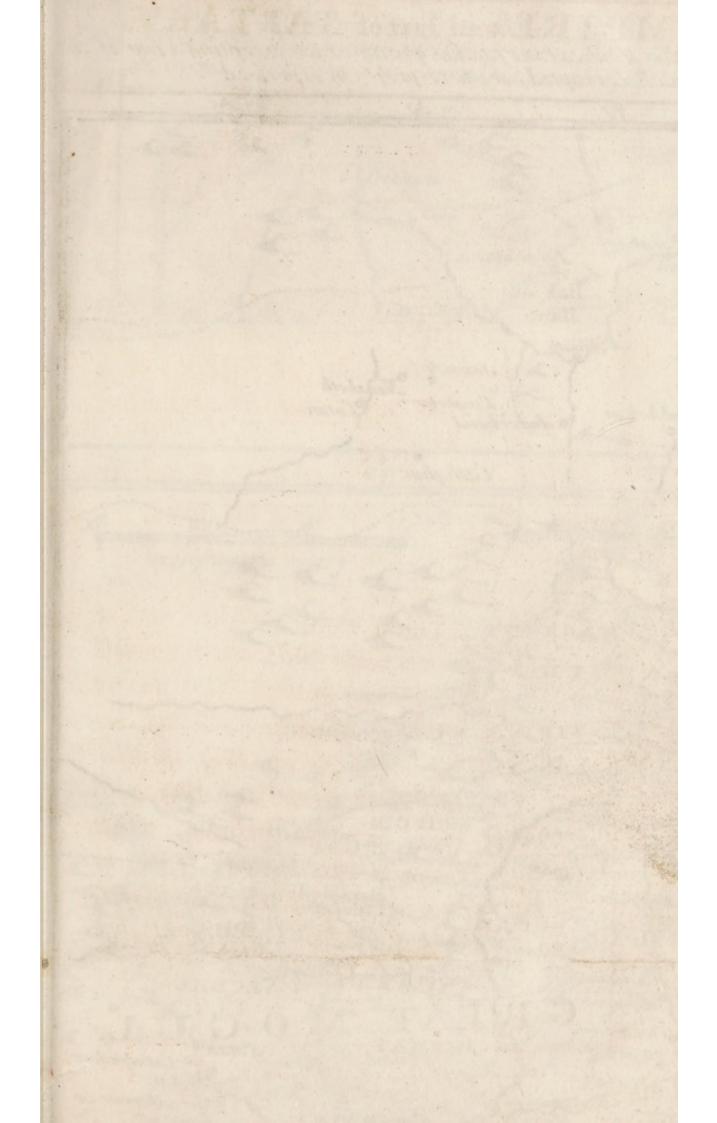

In the Abstract of the Moghol History, I have reduced the Dates of the Hegira to the Year of our Lord, but in the remaining Part I have kept the Original Dates, and put ours in the Notes.

The learned Reader will please to observe, that in two or three Persic Words, I have been obliged to make use of the Letter B. instead of P. there being no such Letter in the Arabic Types, which I have been favoured with by the Society for propagating Christian Knowledge,

at the Recommendation of his Lordship the Bishop of Litchfield and Coventry.

The Oriental Manuscripts, of which I have annexed a Catalogue at the End of these Sheets, have been collected from the Year 1730 to 1740, and purchased with no small Labour and Expence, at Surat, Cambay, and Ahmedabad in the East-Indies; excepting a sew which I bought at Mocha in Arabia, from some Persians who passed that Way on their Pilgrimage to Mecca.

The first Master under whom I studied the Persic, was a Parsi, (or one of the Race of the ancient Persians) now at Surat. The second was a Mullah of one of the Mosques there, whose Name is Fakhr o'din. When I was at Cambay, I studied under Shekh Mahommed Morad, a Man samous in those Parts for his Knowledge of the Mahommedan Civil and Ecclesiastical Laws. During my Stay in that Place, I employed three Hours each Day with one Srî Nât Veaz, a learned Brahmin, whom I allowed a Sallary on that Account; it was by his Means I procured my Sanskerrit Manuscripts, which (I believe) is the first Collection of that Kind ever brought into Europe.

of the

ASHORT IN CHO

HISTORY

From which Time until his Del

of the Earth, and HT TO ories that might eclipse the Glory of all the Exploits before

HINDOSTAN Emperors of the Moghol Race, beginning with TEMUR.

EMUR, * the Son of Emîr Targhai Khan and Takina Khatun, was born on the 6th of April, 1336. during the Government of Kazan Khan, in the City of Keish, (commonly call'd Shehrsobz, or the Green B City)

* تبدور لنك Temur is known in Europe by the Name of تبدور لنك Temur Lung, which fignifies Lame Temur, an Appellative seldom or never given him by the Eastern Historians. His Name and Titles at Length are قطب الدنيا و الدبي امبر المنا و الدبي امبر خوركان صاحب قران المبرا و الدبي امبر كوركان صاحب قران ماحب قران ماحب marcand: And on the 8th of April, 1370, then aged 35 ‡ Lunar Years and 17 Days, fat on the Throne in the City of Balkh. From which Time until his Death, which was Thirty-five Years Eleven Months and Five Days, he subdued the better Part of the Earth, and obtain'd Victories that might eclipse the Glory of all the Exploits before his Time. He conquered Mawaralnahr (or Trans-oxane Tartary) Biddukhshan, Khuarism, Turkestan, Zabulistan, Kabul, Ghor and Hin-

The Axis of (or on whom turns round) the World and Religion, Prince Temur of Gourgan, Lord of the Conjunction; it being said, there was a fortunate Conjunction of the Planets at his Birth. Koteb literally signifies the Pole or Extreme of the Axis; a Part being put to signify the Whole. Temur signifies hardy, and strong, being deriv'd from the Tartar Word Temr, Iron, which the modern Turks by Corruption write Demr.

+ The Stages, which in Tartary and Persia they call Jin Manzel, are from 25 to 30 English Miles.

† The Lunar Year they reckon 354 Days, 22 Gurris, 1 Pull. The Solar Year they reckon 365 Days, 15 Gurris 30 Pulls, $22\frac{1}{2}$ Peels; 60 Peels making 1 Pull, 60 Pulls 1 Gurri, and 60 Gurris 1 Day. This is according to the Bramim's or Indian Priest's Calculation, and what the Moghols and other Mahommedans in India chiesly go by.

dostan * as far as Debli, all Asia Minor, Sy-ria and Egypt.

In the Year 1398, he fet out on his Expedition to India; and on the 16th of December the same Year, he took the Capital Debli, having then an Army of near 100,000 Horse. But finding a general Conquest of India would be attended with much Difficulty, and the keeping it afterwards impracticable, he bent his Thoughts on an Expedition against the Turks; and Three Years Eight Months after the Taking of Debli, in the latter End of 1401, with an Army of near 200,000 Horse he set out against Eildirm | Baiazed, the Son of Sultan Morad Khan (corruptly call'd Amurath;) and on the 18th of July, 1402, on the Plains of Angoria in Galatia, defeated him and his numerous Army. On the 19th at Night Baiazed, المارة Eildirm, which in the Turkish Language fignifies Lightning, was Baiazéd's Surname.

with

^{*} India in the East is known by the Name of فالموستان Hindostan, which signifies the Country of the Hindu's or swarthy People, هناه Hindu being swarthy or black. The Capital thereof is عملك Dehli, which since Shah Jehan removed thither from Agra, is as often known by the Name of المادة ا with his Son Mousa, were taken Prisoners, and presented to him.

After this Victory, all Afia Minor submitted to him, and the Khothah * was read at Mecca and Medina in his Name.

On Wednesday the 8th of February, 1405, while on his Expedition to Khata +, he died at the Village Atrar, which is distant from Samarcand Seventy-six Farsangs ‡. His Body was brought to Samarcand, and buried in a Tomb, which he himself had caused to be erected for that Purpose, having lived Seventy Years, Eleven Months and Twenty-two Days.

His Sons were,

- 1. Jehanguir Mirza, who died in 1374, at Samarcand, in Temur's Life-time, aged Twenty Years.
- 2. Shekh Aumar Mirza, who was kill'd in Temur's Life-time, in January 1394, being Forty Years old.
- * Khotbah is the Harangue read by the Mullahs on Fridays in the Mosques, in which the Prince who then governs is mention'd and pray'd for.
 - + 1 Khata or China.

111111

† Slim, Farsang is about four English Miles.

of the Moghol Emperors.

3. Mirza Miran Shah, born in 1367-8, and kill'd the 9th of April, 1408.

4. Shahrokh Mirza, who reigned after his Father for the Space of Forty-three Lunar Years and Four Months, and died in March, 1447, having lived Seventy-two Years.

Sultan MAHOMMED MIRZA

Was the Son of Mirza Miran Shah who with his Brother Mirza Khulil lived at Samar-cand, and in the Reign of their Uncle Sharokh they both died. The precise Times of their Birth and Death are not recorded in any authentic History.

Sultan ABUSEYD MIRZA,

The Son of Sultan Mahommed Mirza, was born in 1427. fat on the Throne at the Age of Twenty-five, and on the 18th of May 1469, was kill'd, having reigned Eighteen Lunar Years, and lived Forty-three.

AUMAR SHEKH MIRZA,

The Fourth Son of Sultan Abuseyd Mirza, was born at Samarcand in 1456. After his Father's Father's Death he held Possession of Farg-bana, Khogend and Auratia (anciently call'd Astrushna) and died on the 7th of June, 1494, having lived Thirty-nine Lunar Years.

ZEHÎR ‡ O'DÎN MAHOMMED BABR,

The Son of Aumar Shekh Mirza. The best History of his Actions, is the Commentaries wrote by himself, call'd Vakeat Babri ||. He was born the 12th of February, 1483. and on the 8th of June, 1494, aged Eleven Lunar Years, Seven Months, and Twenty-nine Days sat on the Throne at Andjan. While he governed in Mawar-alnahr, he had frequent Conslicts with Shahan Khan Ousbek. After conquering Cabul, Kan-

Formerly the Khalifs gave Titles to the Mahom-medan Princes; such as Desender of Religion, the Champion of Religion, &c. And since the Destruction of their Empire, the Princes have assumed such as they like best. سلطان بابر Sultan Babr took the Title of خاهبر الدبن Zebir o'dîn, the Supporter of Religion; and the Name خاهبر الدبن is presix'd (or understood to be so) to almost every Musulman's Name.

Vakeat Babri, fignifies Babr's Oc-

Tall B A

dahar.

dahar, Biddukhshan, Ghoznavi, and the Places dependant on them, he made five different Expeditions into Hindostan. In the first Four he was unsuccessful; but in the Fifth, on the 1st of May, 1526, near the Village Maltia, he gave Battle to Sultan Ibrahim Loudi, who had 100,000 Afghans *, and 1000 armed Elephants, and totally defeated him, and that numerous Army, tho' he had scarcely 12,000 effective Men.

He afterwards subdued all that Empire, excepting the Kingdoms of Decan, Guzerat, and Bengal. Eleven Months and Five Days after this Battle, he engaged Rana Sanga, the most powerful of the Indian Princes; and tho' the Army of the latter was incredibly numerous, and had many armed Elephants, he got the Victory.

He died on the 25th of December, 1530, in Charbaghi near Agra, on the Banks of the River Chun +, from whence his Body was carried to be interred in Cabul, having lived vingy in the Year's car, inbdued a

^{*} is Afghans are the feveral Tribes of Ma-hommedans, who inhabit the Northern Parts of India; there are some of them spread all over India, known often by the Name of Pattans; they are esteem'd the best Soldiers in the Country.

⁺ The River Chun, is often called Jumna.

Forty-nine Lunar Years, Four Months, and One Day; and reign'd Thirty-seven Years, Eight Months, and Two Days: Thirty-two Years Ten Months and Three Days before the Conquest of India; and Four Years Nine Months and Twenty-nine Days after the Conquest thereof.

Nessîr ‡ o'dîn Mahommed Hemaiun,

1000 armed Elephants, and t

Son to Zehîr o'dîn Mahommed Babr, was born in the Castle of Cabul, on the 4th of March, 1508; and on the 28th of December, 1530, sat on the Throne at Agra.

In November, 1534, he set out to conquer Malva and Guzerat. Sultan Bahadr, who had engaged with him, and was defeated, sled to Mundou; and being pursued, went from thence to Chanpanere; from Chanpanere to Canbaet (or Cambay); and from Canbaet to Diu. Hemaiun after staying some Time at Canbaet, return'd.

Having, in the Year 1535, subdued Malva and Guzerat, in 1538 he conquer'd Bengal; but in 1540, being forsaken by his good Fortune,

إلى الدين Hemaiûn took the Title of مابون إلى الدين Weffir o'dîn, the Affister of Religion.

Fortune, he was driven out of his Country by the Usurper Sher Khan the Afghan, from which he was absent five Years five Months and fifteen Days. The Particulars of which, with his Reception in Perfia, and the Affistance given him by Shah Thamas, Son to Shah Ismael, is fully set forth in Akbarnama +, Padshahnama, Tebcat Akbarshahi, Tarikhalum Arai, and Montékbeb al Tuarikh Bedauvni, being too prolix to infert here. At last, on the 1st of September, 1545, he took Kandahar from Mirza Askeri; who govern'd it as Mirza Camran's Deputy; and on the 16th of November, 1545, he took Cabul from Mirza Camran; and in the Spring 1 546, conquered Biddukhshan from Mirza Suliman, who had revolted and taken the Government thereof into his own Hands. In the Beginning of December, 1554, he fet out from Cabul for Hindostan; and on the 22d of February, 1555, came to Labor. On the 27th of May, the same Year, he came to Serbind; and on the 20th of June, encounter'd and defeated Secandir Sour. This

[†] These are five Histories; the first Three and the Fifth of the Meghol Emperors, and the Fourth of the Persian Kings of the Seffi Race.

Secandir was Son-in-Law to the Usurper Shér Khan. His first Name was Ahmed, and he governed Panjab * under Selim Khan, after whose Death he took the Government into his own Hands, calling himself Secandir, and possessing all from the River Scind † to the Ganges.

On the 24th of January, 1556, Hemaiun departed this Life, and was buried in a Monument erected on the Banks of the River Chun, having lived Forty-nine Lunar Years, Four Months and Ten Days, and reigned Twenty-five Years Ten Months and Five Days.

JILAL ‡ O'DÎN MAHOMMED AKBAR,

Son to Nessir o'din Mahommed Hemaiun, was born in the Fort of Amrkowt on the 12th of

* Panjab is the ancient Name of the Province of Lahor; it fignifies the five Waters or Rivers, fo many running through that Province and falling into the River Scind.

† The River wim Scind, is that known by the Name of the Indus.

לבית Akbar took to himself the Title of באל filal o'din, which signifies, the Aggrandizer of Religion.

October, 1542; and on the 12th of February, 1556, being then Thirteen Solar Years and Four Months old, was proclaimed Emperor at Calanore in the Province of Labor. He was reckon'd a great and good Prince, and was very fortunate, having, in his Reign, made feveral Conquests, and reduced almost all India to Obedience. The Particulars of which are to be seen in Akbarnama, a History compos'd by his Secretary and Vizir Abul Fazl*, and in Tebcat Akbar Shahi, and Montekheb Tuarikh Bedauvni. As he was professedly fixed to no Religion himself, so he was a Persecutor of none. In 1582 he wrote a Letter to the King of Portugal, defiring he would fend to him a Translation of the Scriptures into Arabic or Persian, and at the same

* ابو الفضل Abul Fazl was the Title given to this Great Man, and fignifies, the Father of Excellence. His Writings testify him to be the most learned, and the best Writer then in the East. He was murder'd by Order of mld older Sultan Selim, on Suspicion of being the Occasion of a Misunderstanding that was betwixt him and the Emperor his Father. Akbar greatly lamented his Death, and so did all who had any Regard for Letters; he having left several Things unfinish'd. His History of the Moghol Emperors, he carried on to the 38th Year of Akbar's Reign.

Time a learned Person to explain the Christian Religion. One Geronimo Xavier, a Relation of the samous St. Francis Xavier, was sent; who having learned the Persian, in the Year 1602, presented the Moghol with the Gospels translated into that Language, entirely intermix'd with their Legends, which he imagin'd would make it the more acceptable to Akbar. As I thought the Letter would not be disagreeable to some of the Readers, I have inserted a Translation of it, in which I have kept as close to the Original as possible.

A Letter from the King of Kings to the Ruler * of the Franks.

"LORY of inconceivable to the TRUE KING, whose Dominions are safe from the Disaster of Decay, and his King-

* As the Portuguese had made several Conquests on the Coasts of India, it is probable Akbar imagin'd their King was the most powerful Prince in Europe, and so calls him فرمان رواء ورنك Firman revai Farang, or the Ruler of the Franks or Europeans.

† It is customary with the Mahommedans to begin, not only their Letters, but also most of their other Writings; first, with the Praise of God, and then with the Praise of the Prophet.

" dom

" dom fecure from the Calamity of shift" ing. The wonderful Extent of the Heavens

" and Earth is but a minute Part of the " World of his Creation, and infinite Space

" but a small Corner of his Production.

" A GOVERNOR who has regulated the Or" der of the Universe, and the Management

" of the Sons of Adam, by the Understand" ing of Kings who exercise Justice. A De-

" creer, who by the Ties of Love and Bonds

" of Affection, has implanted in the various

" Beings and feveral Creatures the Paffion

" of Inclination and Union, and the Affec" tions of mutual Tendency and Society.

" And Praises unbounded, an Offering to " the poor Souls of the Company of Pro" phets * and Apostles, who walked in the " truest Paths, and directed the rightest

" Ways, in general and particular.

" It is well known that (with those who " have stored themselves with Knowledge

" and studied Nature) nothing in this lower

"World, which is a Mirror of the spiritual

" one, is preferable to Love, or more facred

" than Friendship. In that they ascribe the

^{*} As Akbar was no found Musfulman, he makes no particular Mention of Mahommed.

[&]quot; Oecono-

" Oeconomy and right Disposition of the " World to Affection and Harmony. For " whatever Heart the Sun of Love shines on, " it clears the whole Soul from the Darkness " of Mortality; and how much more is this " requisite in Princes, the good Correspon-" dence of whom is the Cause of Happi-" ness to the World and the People therein. " For which Reason it has been my earnest " and entire Endeavour to promote and con-" firm the Ties of Friendship and Bonds of " Union among God's Creatures, especially " among the high Rank of Kings, whom "God by his Favour has peculiarly distin-" guished from the rest of Mankind; par-" ticularly with his * Royal Majesty, who is " endoweed with intellectual Knowledge, is " the Reviver of the Ordinances of Jesus, and " stands in no Need of Praise or Description. " Our Neighbourhood + with that renown'd "Prince making an Alliance and Friendship " more indispensibly necessary; and as a " personal Conference is impracticable on " account

^{*} By his Royal Majesty, he means the King of Portugal.

⁺ The Portuguese Conquests on the Coast of India, made them Neighbours.

" account of many Obstacles and several " weighty Reasons, the want thereof can " only be supplied by Embassies, and a mu" tual Correspondence. Since it is certain " that these only can make up the Loss of " a personal Conversation and Interviews;

" we hope they will be mutually carried on,

" without any Interruption, that the Af" fairs and Defires of each may be mani" fested to the other.

"Your Majesty knows that the Learned

" and Divines of all Nations and Times, in " their Opinions concerning the World of " Appearance and the Intellectual, agree in

" this, that the Former ought to be of no

" Confideration in Respect to the Latter;

" yet the wife Men of the Times, and the " Great ones of all Nations, toil much in

" perfecting themselves, as to this perish-

" ing and showy State, and consume the " best of their Lives, and the choicest of " their Time, in procuring apparent De-

" lights, being fwallowed up and diffolved

" in fleeting Pleasures and transitory Joys.

" The most High God, merely thro' his " eternal Favour and perpetual Grace, not" withstanding so many Obstacles, and such

" a World of Business and Employment, " has disposed my Heart so as always to " feek him: And tho' he has subjected the "Dominions of fo many powerful Princes " to me, which to the best of my Judg-" ment I endeavour to manage and govern " fo, as that all my Subjects are contented " and happy; yet Praise be to God, his " Will and my Duty to him, is the End I " propose in all my Actions and Defires. " And as most People being enchained by "the Bonds of Constraint and Fashion, " and regarding the Customs of their An-" cestors, Relations and Acquaintances, with-" out examining the Arguments or Reasons " for it, give an implicit Faith to that Re-" ligion, in which they have been bred up, " and remain deprived of the Excellency of "Truth, the finding of which is the pro-" per End of Reason; therefore at Times " I converse with the Learned of all Reli-" gions, * and Profit by the Discourses of ^{*} Abdallah Khan, Prince of Tartary, in his Letters to Akbar (of which I have got Copies) calls him to a fevere Account, for being fo fond of the Brahmins or Indian Priests, and so indifferent as to the Mahommedan Religion.

" each. As the Vail of a Language inter-" poses betwixt us, it would be expedient you would oblige me with fuch a Per-" fon as could distinctly relate and explain " the above Affair. It has also reached my " fortunate Ears, that the heavenly * Books, " fuch as the Pentateuch, Pfalms, and Gof-" pels, are put into Arabic and Perfic: Should " a Translation of these, or any other Books, " which might be of general Benefit, be " procurable in your Country, let them be " fent. For a further Confirmation of our " Friendship, and securing the Foundation " of Affection and Unity, I have fent my " trufty Friend the Learned and Honour-" able Seyd Mazuffer, + whom I have par-

† I am not certain if this Letter, and the Embassador went any further than God; but it is well known, that upon this Occasion, one Geronimo Xavier, a Jefuit, was directed to learn the Persian Language, and fent to the Moghol's Court. This Letter I translated from the 1st Tome of Abul Fazl's Collection of Letters. " ticularly favoured and distinguished; he'll

" communicate feveral Things personally

" to you, in which confide. Always keep

" open the Doors of Correspondence and

" Embassy; and Peace to him who follows

" the Guide.

"Written in the Month * Ribbi al-

Akbar died at Agra on Tuesday, 12 October 1605, aged Sixty-three Solar Years and one Day; having reigned Forty-nine Solar Years, eight Months, and one Day. His Body was interr'd in the Burying-place of Secandra, near that City.

He had three Sons,

Sultan Selim; † afterwards Jehanguir.

Sultan Morad, ‡ who died by excessive

Drinking in the Year 1598, in Deccan.

* April, 1582.

wire upit "

fignifies, peaceful, safe, secure; and salam Selima is a proper Name for Women, of the same Signification.

t مراد Morad fignifies wished for, desired; being derived from ارادة Eradib, the Will.

of the Moghol Emperors. 19

Sultan Daniel, who died by the like Debauch in the faid Province in the Year 1604.

And three Daughters,

Shahzadah Khanum. *
Shakr Nissa Begum. †
Aram Banu Begum. ‡

Nour | odîn Mahommed Jehanguîr,

Son to Jilal o'dîn Mahommed Akhar, was born at Fattehpour  (formerly called Sikri)

* شاهزاده خانم Shahzada Khanum, the Royal Lady; شاهزاده خانم Shahzada fignifying royally born, and خائم Khanum, Lady.

† شكرنسا Shakrnissa, the sweetest of Women with the Addition of بين Begum, which signifies, Princess.

أرام بانو بيكم Aram Banu Begum, fignifies the calm and peaceful Princess.

الدين الدين

 פושביפן Fattehpour, fignifies the Place of Victory.

which

which is twelve Coss * distant from Agra, on the 19th August 1569, and called Sultan Selim. On the 21st October 1605, being then aged about 36 Solar Years, he fat on the Throne at Agra, and took to himself the Title and Name of Nour o'din Mahommed Jehanguir.

After a Reign of twenty two Solar Years and fix Days (the last eight of which he had been afflicted with an Asthma) he died at Chingarhisti, being then on his Return from Cashmir to Lakor, on the 27th of October 1627, aged fifty eight Solar Years, one Month, and twenty nine Days. His Body was carried to Labor, and there interr'd.

He was a weak Prince, and too much overruled by the beautiful Nour Jehan + (or Nour Mahl) which made the last ten Years of his Reign

* A Coss is the Measure they commonly go by in India, in computing Distances; they are of two Sorts. Feribi, or measured, which are 4000 English Yards each; and Rismi or computed, which are from 2000 to 2500 Yards, according to the different Provinces. Those mentioned here, are the measured Coss.

+ ile ight of the Nour Jehan, fignifies, the Light of the World. She was also called Je Nour Mahl, or the Light of the Seraglio. She was Wife to one Sher Afkan Khan, of a Turkoman Family, who came from Perfia

Reign very uneasy to him, and unfortunate to the Empire. The Omras, who knew her Original, were resolved to oppose all her Schemes; but she persuaded the Emperor to break thro' all Rules, in order to advance her Father, Brother, and other Relations to the highest Employments.

After his Death she endeavoured to secure the Empire for Shebriar, who was Jehan-guir's Son by a Slave, and married to her Daughter by her First Husband Sher Afkan Khan*. But Asof Khan and Eradet Khan, as Sultan Khourm (who was Son-in-law to the former) was far off, and that the three Persia to Hindostan in very indifferent Circumstances. As she was exquisitely beautiful, of great Wit, and an elegant Poetes, Jehanguir was resolved to take her to himself. He sent her Husband, who was esteemed the bravest Man in the Service, with some Troops to command a Place in Bengal; and afterwards sent another with a greater Force to cut him off. When he was killed, Nour Jehan was soon prevailed upon to be an Empress. The Coins struck in Jehanguir's Reign, with the Signs of the Zodiack, were not, as is generally thought in Europe, done by his Empress's Order, nor did she reign one Day, as the common Opinion is; but she ruled the Person who reigned, for above twelve Years.

^{*} האָר וֹפֹלם Sher Afkan fignifies, the Lyon Over-young Princes his Sons, Dara Shekowh, Sultan Sujah and Auringzebe, were in Nour Jehan's Hands, in order to disconcert her Scheme, and protract the Time until he came, immediately proclaimed Sultan Davr Bukhsh (alias Bolaki) Son to Khosro, Emperor.

Jebanguir had Three Sons and Two Daughters by the following Empresses:

By the Daughter of Rajah Bovandass*, who poisoned herself in 1601. because the Emperor did not take the same Notice of her Son as he did of Sultan Khourm.

Sultana Nissa Begum, + born in 1586.

Sultan Khofro, ‡ Father to Sultan Davr Bukhsh or Bolaki, || born in 1587. He died in Confinement in the Year 1622.

* Rajah, signifies, Prince, in the Indian Language, and Rani, Princess.

الله الله الله Sultana Niffa, the Queen of Women.

Kings of the Kaian Dynasty, who was great and powerful, and has been fince generally applied to any great or powerful Prince, and used as a proper Name in some Royal Families.

الم الم Davr Bukhsh, fignifies, God's Gift.

By the Daughter of Khojah Hossan, Sultan Parvéz *, born in the Year 1589.

By the Daughter of Rajah Keffoudass Rattor, Bahar Banu Begum +, born in 1590.

By the Daughter of Rajah Oudefung, Sultan Khourm t, born in 1592, who fucceeded his Father, and took to himself the Name of Shah Jehan.

fix Solar Years and I

Curfiale, Teremere an

Jehanguir had also Sultan Jehandar | and Sultan Shehriar  Twins by a Concubine, born in 1605; which last being Nour Feban's Son-in-law, she endeavoured to secure the Empire to him: But on Shah Jehan's Accession to the Throne in 1627, he and Bolaki, with Sultan Daniel's Three Sons,

^{*} jest Parvez, a proper Name with the Ancient Persians, it fignifies victorious. In the Pebluvi Language, it fignifies Fish, and some imagine it's added to Khofro's Name, because he had a great liking to Fish. Others fay, that Khofro Parvez fignifies the powerful and victorious King,

⁺ sle Bahar Banu, the blooming Princess. عرم المان خرم Sultan Khourm, the joyful Prince. I sla ile Febandar, the Possessor of the World.  Shehriar, the Friend of the City. cloud và Gurstasp *, Teyomars, and Hoisbung were put to Death.

SHAHAB O'DÎN MAHOMMED SHAH JEHAN

Third Son to Nour o'din Mahommed, Jehanguir was born on Wednesday, the 5th January, 1592, and fat on the Throne in Agra, the 1st February, 1628, being then Thirty fix Solar Years and Twenty-eight Days Old. On the 29th March, 1647, being the 20th Year of his Reign, he removed the Seat of his Empire from Agra + to Debli, calling it Shahjehanabad; where on the Banks of the River Chun he built a noble Castle and Palace, with Gardens and other Conveniencies, * Gurstasp, Teyomars, and Hoisbung, are ancient Perfic proper Names of Men.

Shahab o'din, the bright Star of Religion, and ilas shah Jehan, the King of the World, were the Titles Sultan Khourm assumed on his Accession to the Throne.

+ x, SI Agra, is often called Styl , SI Akbarabad or Akbar's Habitation, he having kept his Court there, as مشاه جهان اباد Debli, is called مشاه جهان اباد Shah Jehan abad, or Shah Jehan's Habitation.

which cost above fifty Lacks * of Rupees. After a successful, and, till then, happy Reign of Thirty Solar Years, Four Months and Eighteen Days, he was first confined by his eldest Son Sultan Dara Shekowh, and at last deposed by his Third Son Sultan Auringzebe, and confined in the Castle of Agra, where he died on Sunday the 2 1st of January, 1666, aged Seventy-sour Solar Years and sixteen Days; being, all the Time of his Confinement, attended by his beloved † Daughter Jehan Ara Begum. His Body was interred at Agra,, in the magnificent Monument he caused to be erected for his Empress Mehd Alia ||, and which had cost Sixty

^{*} A Lack of Rupees is 12,500 L. and 50 Lacks is 625,000 L. A Rupee is the Silver Coin struck in the Moghol's Mints, with an Inscription of his Name and Titles, the Year of his Reign, and the Place it was struck at. It weighs from 7 dw. 10\frac{1}{3}gr. to 7 dw. 11gr. and has from 1 to 2 Parts in 100 Allay. 100,000 is one Lack, 100 Lacks are one Crore, and 100 Crores are one Arrib.

[†] Some People suspected he had a criminal Converfation with his own Daughter, long before his Confinement.

Taage Mahl, or the Crown of the Seraglio.

Lacks * of Rupees. The Empire flourished exceedingly in his Time, comprehending no less than Twenty-three Provinces, the Names and Yearly Revenues of each as follows:

- July the the		L.
Debli	100K	Crores of Dams are 3, 125000
Agra	90-	2,812500
Labor	90-	2,812500
Ajmîr	60-	1,875000
Dowlataba		1,718750
Berar		1,718750
Guzerat		1,651250
Bengal		1,562500
Alehabad	40-	1,250000
Bahar	40 -
Malva	40 -	million of manual A - Companie the Silver
Khandeish	40 -
Audib	30.	937500
Multan	28 -	875000
81,000,001		and das from 1 to 2 farts in for
	771	24,093750

^{* 60} Lacks of Rupees are 750,000 L.

Odiffea.

A Dam, which is the fortieth Part of a Rupee, and only imaginary, is what the Land Revenues are computed by. A Rupee is 2 s. 6 d. Sterling.

	Marine College of the College of
Carried over 771	24,093750
Odissea 20-	625000
Cabul 15	- 468750
Cashmir 15	468750
Tatta 8	250000
Balkb 8—	250000
Kandahar 7	218750
Biddukhshan 4.	125000
Tillingana 30 -	- 937500
Buglana 2	62500
3500 M
880	1. 27,500,000

The Five last Provinces were added to the Empire by him.

The Number of his Forces, as they were paid out of the Revenues in 1647, amounted to 911,400 Horse and Foot.

He had feveral Children, as follows:

By the Empress Mebd Alia, Daughter of Asof Khan, whose First Name was Arjumund Banu Begum*, Seven Sons and Four Daughters.

^{*} Jil Arjumund Banu, the noble Princess.

* Hur al Nissa Begum, a born in	- 1612
Jehan Ara Begum' -	- 1614
Sultan Dara Shekowh c	1615
Sultan Sujah d	1616
Roishnrai Begum	1617
Sultan Auringzebe f	1618
* Sultan Amead Bukhsh 5	1620
	1622
Sultan Morad Bukhsh i	1624
* Sultan Loutf Allab k	1627
* Sultan Dowlat Afza 1

Those mark'd with an Asterism died before their Father was deposed.

[&]quot; النسا حور النسا حور النسا - Hur al niffa, the most angelick of Wo-

ارا الله Jehan ara, the Ornament of the World.

دارا شكولا Dara Shekowh, in Pomp like Darius.

دون واوي Roishin rai, of an enlightned Mind.

أورنك زيب Auring-zebe, the Ornament of the Throne.

ا المبد الم

أربا بانو أ Suria Banu, the shining Princess. Suria literally signifies the Pleiades.

مراد بخش Morad Bukhsh, the Giver of Desires or Wishes.

k all Loutf Allah, the Favour of God.

Dowlat Afza, Increase of Fortune.

of the Moghol Emperors. 29

By a Daughter of Mazuffer Hoffein Mirza Grandson to Shah Ismael King of Persia, One Daughter.

Parhéz Banu Begum * born in 1611.

Mohy ‡ o'dîn Mahommed Auringzebe, Third Son to Shah Jeban, was born the 22d of October, 1618. In the latter End of 1656, Sultan Dara Shekowh, endeavouring to posses himself of the Empire, confined his Father Shah Jeban; which Auringzebe having Notice of, begun to make Preparations; and giving out that it was with a Design of securing the Throne to his Brother Morad Bukhsh, then at Abmedabad †, he wrote to him to set out with his Forces and join him at Eugene ||, which is the Capital of the Province of Malva.

* יכליין אונף Parhez banu, fignifies the abstinent

the Titles of الدين Mohy o' dîn, the Reviver of Religion, and الدين Alumguîr, the Conqueror of the World.

of Guzerat, so called from Sultan Ahmed, who was King of that Province, and kept his Court in that City. It is 224 measured Coss distant from Dehli.

ולביים Eugene is 126 measured Coss from Agra.

On the 4th of February, 1658, he marched from Auringabad * in Deccan, with 25000 Horse, his Son Sultan Mahommed, having set out before him, the 24th of January the preceeding Month. Both the Brothers join'd at Eugene, near which Place they encounter'd and defeated the Maharajah + Jessvint Sung, and Kassum Khan, who were fent by Dara Shekowh to oppose them. After which they marched towards Debli, and in the Fields of Kejoub, near Agra, gave a total Overthrow to the Army of Sultan Dara Shekowh, who fled towards Labor; upon which Auringzebe enter'd the Castle of Agra, and on the 20th of July, 1658, he fat on the Throne, and was proclaim'd Emperor ^{*} Interingabad, the Capital of the Province of Dowlat Abad, which is 265 measured Coss distant from Dehli. Auring-zebe had it so called after his own Name.

[†] Maharajah signifies the great Prince; Maha being great or mighty in the Sanskerrit or Bramin's Language. This Title is given by the Moghol to the Rajahs of Marwar of the Rattor Family. The Capital of their Country is Juhdpore, which is 176 Coss distant from Dehli. The Rajpouts of Marwar are esteemed the best Soldiers in India.

of the Moghol Emperors. 31 in the Town of Eazabad, * having first confined his Brother Morad Bukhsh, notwith-standing he had swore by the Koran to be true to him.

Having taken Possession of Debli, he sent his Father from thence to be confined at Agra+; and on Sunday the 2d of January, 1659, he set out for Bengal, where, at a Place called Kuvra, he deseated his Brother Sultan Sujah, and obliged him to sly.

On the 15th of May, 1659, being then aged Forty Solar Years, Six Months, and Twenty-three Days, he fat on the Throne, and was proclaimed a Second Time, and ordered that for the future, the Beginning of his Reign should be dated from the first Ramazan, in the Year 1069 of the Hegira, or the 12th of May, 1659.

Sultan Dara Shekowh being taken Prisoner, was brought in Triumph to Dehli, and sent to Khesrahad ‡, where he was murder'd by Auringzebe's Order, the Night of the 28th of August, 1659.

^{*} عزاياد Eazabad is 21 measured Coss distant from Dehli.

f Agra is 44 measured Coss distant from Dehli.

[‡] مانات Khefrabad is 52 measured Coss from Debli.

The 14th of January, 1661, he fent his own Son Sultan Mahommed, and Suliman * Shekowh, Son to Dara Shekowh, to be confined in the Castle of Gualiar +.

In 1664, going against the Rajpouts ‡, his Son Sultan Mahommed Akhar revolted from him, and joined them. Auringzebe pursued him to Deccan, from whence he found Means to get by Sea to Persia.

During his Reign, which was about 50 Lunar Years, he was constantly in the Field. He conquered Vijapore, from Secander and Hyderabad, from Sultan Abul Hossan, befides several other Territories and strong Holds in Deccan; having twice taken the Vijapore, or Bijapore, as pronounced by the Mogbols, is 357 measured Coss from Dehli.

 Hyderabad, which was formerly called Bhagnagur, is 371 Miles distant from Dehli. There is a Castle in this Province, called Golconda, by which Name the whole Province is chiefly known in Europe.

^{*} عليمان شكوه Suliman Shekowh fignifies, august as Solomon.

t والمار Gualiar is 28 Coss from Agra.

[†] The Rajpouts are the most warlike of the Indians. There are several Tribes of them, all Subjects to those Rajahs or Indian Princes, who are in a manner independent of the Moghol.

famous Seva Rajab, * who as often found Means to make his Escape.

The Revenues of the Empire were greatly increased in his Time, for excluding Balkh, Kandahar and Biddukhshan, which Shah Jehan possess'd, and were afterwards lost, there was a Revenue of 12071876840 Dams, which (at 320 Dams to a Pound Sterling) is 37,724,615 l. ½ from the Twenty-one following Provinces:

161039354

22001110F

142820000

0880211840

* The present Sahou Rajah, who keeps his Court at Settara in Deccan, is a Descendant of this Seva Rajah. He is Prince of the Maharattas, or Ganims, who have of late Years acquired a surprizing Power, making great Inroads into the Moghol's Territories, and levying a Tribute from several Provinces. They have lately taken the Island of Salset, the Castle and Town of Basaim, with other Places, from the Portugueze. They have above 200,000 Horse in the Northern, Southern, and Inland Provinces.

1

The

The Nineteen old Soubahs § or Provinces.

Names.	Capital.	Revenue in Dams.
Debli	Debli	1221950137
Agra	Agra	1146760157
Ajmîr	Ajmîr	652345362
Alebabad	Alebabad	456543248
Panjah	Labor	826132107
Audi	Audib:	322327829
Multan	Multan	214442936
Cabul	Cabul	161039354
Cashmir	Srinagr	229911397
Guzerat	Ahmedahad	607849135
Bahar	Patna	407161000
Scind	Tatta	91816810
Dowlatabad	Auringabaa	1034945100
Malva	Eugene	403901658
Berar	riovinces.	614025000
Khandeish	Brampore	448630000
Bedr	Zafferabad	372974370
Bengall	Dacca	524636240
Qdiffea		142820000
	the fact of the second	9880211840

The

Soubah dar, the Lord Lieutenant of a Province.

of the Moghol Emperors. 35

Carried over 9880211840

The Two New Soubahs,

Hyderabad Hyderabad Vijapore

Vijapore

1113360000 1078305000

12071876840

At 320 Dams per l. are 37,724,615 l. 25. 6d.

On Friday, the 21st of February, 1707, Auringzebe died at Abmednagur, * in the Province of Dowlatahad aged Ninety Lunar Years and 14 Days, having reign'd about Fifty Lunar Years. He was buried there in the Place of Shah Zen al din. +

At

^{*} Ahmednagur is distant from Dehli 280 measured Cofs.

^{+ (} Shah Zen al din. Zen al din fignifies the Ornament of Religion; and Shah, which fignifies King, is a Title frequently given to Derveishes. This Zen al din was a remarkable Santon, who kept his Cell near that City, and was buried there; which being reckoned a fanctified Place, Auring-zebe, in his Will, directed he should be interred there. As this Prince was very zealous, or at least pretended to be so, for Mahommedanism, those of that Religion make a great Merit of visiting his Tomb, especially on the 28th of the Month Zeecadih, which was the Day he died on.

At the Time of his Death, his Third Son Azem Shab was with him, and his Second Son Mahommed Mauzm, at Cabul.* He had left a short Will; of which, for the Satisfaction of the Curious, I shall here give a Translation.

A Translation of Auringzebe's last Will.

" I Came empty-handed into the World, " and empty-handed I quit it. Who" ever of my fortunate Children shall

" chance to rule the Empire, let him not

" molest Mahommed Kambukhsh, + should he

" rest contented with the Two New Sou-

" bahst.

"There cannot be a better Vizir than Emir

" al Omra.

" Let all the King's Servants be true and faithful to Mahommed Azem Shah.

* Cabul is 266 measured Coss from Dehli.

+ Mahommed Kambukhsh, Auring-zebe's fifth Son.

† The two new Soubahs are Vijapore and Heyderabad, fo called, as being lately conquered by Auring-zebe.

Emîr al Omra, which signifies the Prince of Princes, is the Title generally given to the Mir Bukhshi, or Pay-master-General and Treasurer.

of the Moghol Emperors. 37

"Whoever shall chance to have the " Empire, let him not turn out or molest

" those born or bred up in my House.

" If the Division I formerly made proves

" agreeable to my Children, it will prevent

" a great deal of Confusion and Bloodshed.

" There are two imperial Seats, Agra, and

" Debli; whoever fettles in Agra may " have the Province thereof, Deccan, Malva

" and Guzerat.

" And who refides at Debli may have

" Cabul and the other Provinces.

" I came naked into the World, and naked

" I go out of it. Let no Enfigns or royal

" Pomp accompany my Funeral; let Ha-

" mid o'dîn Khan, who is faithful and trusty,

" convey my Corps to the Place of Shah

" Zen al din, and make a Tomb for it, in " the same Manner as is done for Derveishes: *

" let not my fortunate Children give them-

" felves any Concern about a Monument.

"There is in my private Treasury 57382

"Rupees, + let a 1000 Rupees § be distri" buted among the Poor at my Funeral.

+7172 l. 15 s.

^{*}The Tombs for Derveishes are made low and plain, without any manner of Ornament.

Auringzebe had Five Sons:

Sultan Mahommed,

Mahommed Mauzm, * who fucceeded his Father in the Empire,

Mahommed Azem, b

Mahommed Akbar, c

Mahommed Kambukhsh. d

Darah Shekowh had Two Sons:

Suliman Shekowh,

Sepeb Shekowh. f

Sultan Sujah had Two Sons:

Zen al din Mahommed, 8

Bullind Akhter. h

Morad Bukhsh had one Son:

Iesd Bukhsh.

- a his Mauzm fignifies great, glorious.
- ه عظم الله Azem fignifies the same.
- دری Akbar, is the Comparative Mood of کبیج Kobir, great.

d Kambukhsh, the Giver of Desires or Wishes.

- المان شكوه Suliman Shekowh, august, or in Pomp like Solomon.
 - 5 8,5 am Sepeh Shekowh, of military Pomp.
 - E wis Zen al din, the Ornament of Religion.
- h بلند اختر Bullind Akhter, of high Stars, or great Fortune.
 - ا برد بخش ا Iefd Bukhfh, God's Gift.

KOTEB * O'DÎN BAHADR SHAH,

Upon Auringzebe's Death, Azem Shah, with his Father's Troops, fet out from Deccan towards the Capital, as did also Mahommed Mauzm from Cabul, in order to decide their Fortunes in Battle. On the Banks of the River Chun, near Agra, both Armies encountred. They were by far the most numerous that for feveral Ages had come together in India. Mahommed Mauzm having 150,000 Horse, and 178,000 Foot, exclusive of the Auxiliaries furnished by the Rajahs; and the other Brother nigh as many. In short, Azem Shah's Forces were defeated, and himself killed. Mahommed Mauzm was proclaimed Emperor, taking to himfelf the Title of Koteb o' din Bahadr Shah, and Shah Alum. He made Mahommed Khan his a Shab, King of the World.

^{*} Sultan Mahommed Mauzm, on his Accession to the Throne, assumed the Titles of قطب الدبي Koteb al din, the Axis of Religion, عهادر شاه Bahadr Shah, the valiant King, and عاد Shah Alum, the King of the World. Notwithstanding قطب Koteb signishes only the Pole or extreme Part of the Axis, yet it is used here to signify the Whole.

Vizir; Zulfecar Khan his Mir Bukhshi, or Paymaster-General; Daud Khan, Soubahdar, or Lord-Lieutenant of the Provinces of Deccan; and Assad Khan Absolute Agent, whom leaving to take Care of the Capital, he went himself against his Brother Kambukhsh, who had left Vijapore, and settled at Hyderabad; where, after some little Resistance, he was taken Prisoner, and died that same Night of his Wounds.

Bahadr Shah went afterwards to Lahor to fuppress some religious Riots, and died short-ly after, having reign'd about Six Years.

He had Four Sons,

Mauz o'din, a called also Jehandar Shah. Mahommed Azîm, Azîm Al Shan. Raffeeih al Kadr, Raffeeih al Shan. Khojista Akhter, Jehan Shah.

ry of Religion. Mauz o' dîn, signifies the Honour or Glo-د منام عظیم Azim, fignifies great.

ط عظيم الشان ه Azîm al Shan, of great Figure or Rank.

د رفيع القدر Raffeeih al Kadr, of exalted Power.

s رفيع الشان Raffeeih al Shan, of exalted Rank.

اختر المنا لله Khojista Akhter, of happy Stars.

^{* 81} ile- Jehan Shah, King of the World.

of the Moghol Emperors. 41

His Brother Sultan Mahommed Azem had Two Sons,

Mahommed Bedar Bukht, Mahommed Wallah Jah.

His Brother Sultan Mahommed Kambuksh had One Son.

Iesdan Bukhsh, called also Rahman Bukhsh, whose Daughter has been lately married to Nessr allah Mirza, Nadir Shah's Son.

JEHANDAR SHAH.

Jehandar Shah, Jehan Shah, and Raffeeih al Shan, Sons to Bahadr Shah, having joined against their Brother Azim al Shan, defeated and killed him. His Treasure falling into the Hands of Zulfecar Khan, who was in Jehandar Shah's Interest, they marched against the other two Brothers, Jehan Shah and Raffeeih al Shan, and having overcome them, put them to Death. Their Deaths

a تجن Bedar Bukht, whose Fortune is awake.

ا بزدان بخش ا Iefdan Buksh, God's Gift.

e ملا نصر الله Nefr Allah, fignifies, affifted by God.

fecured the Empire to Jehandar Shah, and Zulfecar Khan became his Vizir.

He was a weak Prince, and fo foolishly fond of one of his Wives, called Lal Koar, who was of an obscure mean Parentage, and a Singer by Profession, that he endeavoured to fill the Places of the greatest Trust and Honour in the Empire with her base Relations, which fo difgusted Seyd Abdallah Khan and Seyd Hossan Khan, two Brothers of great Authority in the Empire, and who had a Body of choice Troops, that they refolved to place Mahommed Furrukhsir (Son to Azim al Shan, then at Bengal) on the Throne. This Prince, notwithstanding he had but little Treasure, got Numbers to join him. At first he defeated Eaz o'din, * 'febandar Shah's Son; and afterwards Jehandar Shah himself (thro' his People's Treachery and Cowardice) was defeated near Agra, and obliged to fly, tho' he had near 100,000 Horse and Foot.

Jehandar Shah had one Son; Eaz o'din.

Azim al Shan had one Son:

Mahommed Furrukhsir.

^{*} عز الدبن Eaz o' dîn, signifies the Glory of Religion.

Furrukhsîr, signifies of happy Disposition.

Raffeeih

of the Moghol Emperors. 43

Raffeeib al Shan had Three Sons:

Raffeeih al Dirjat *,

Raffeeih al Dowlat, + and Sultan Ibrahim.

Jehan Shah had One Son:

Mahommed Shah, who is the present Emperor.

MAHOMMED FURRUKHSIR,

Son to Azîm al Shan, being settled on the Throne, Seyd Abdallah Khan was made Vizir, with the Title of Koteb al Muluck ‡ and Iar ba Vafa. And Hossan Ali Khan made Mîr Bukhshi, or Paymaster-General, with the Title of Emir al Omra ||.

The Emperor was only so by Name; for these two had the absolute Management of every Thing. Furrukbsir, at last, with the Advice, and at the Instigation of Khandoran and Mir Jumla, began to contrive Means to

+ رقبع الدو لت Raffeeih al Dowlat, of exalted For-

إلى المالك لله Koteb al Muluck, the Axis of the Empire, and بارباوفا Iar ba vafa, the grateful Friend.

| I low | Imir al Omra, the Prince of Princes.

^{*} رقبع الدرجات Raffeeih al Dirjat, of exalted De-cut off the two Brothers. They, on the other hand, were intent on nothing so much as enriching themselves. They turned out Nizam al Muluck * (Ghazi o' din Khan's † Son) from his Government of Deccan, and Hossan Ali Khan went thither himself. At last, the two Brothers finding the Emperor grew jealous of their Power, resolved to remove him, and put a more passive Prince in his Stead. Having got Ajeet Sang the Maha Rajah (whose Daughter ‡ was married.

* فظامر الملك Nizam al Muluck, is a Title fignifying he who arranges and puts in Order the Empire. His first Name was جي قلبے خان Chin Kuleeijh Khan, which in the Tartar Language, fignifies, the Sword-drawing Lord. Some People, by Corruption, pronounce it Chucklas Caun.

الابن Ghazi o' din, signifies the Champion of Religion. Nizam has also a Son called by the Grandfather's Name Ghazi o' din Khan, who has lately got the Title of ناصر جنك Nasr Jing, which signifies viestorious in War.

‡ It is a Custom with the Moghol Emperors to make Alliances with the Indian Rajahs or Princes, by marrying their Daughters, who, as soon as they are taken into the Harram or Seraglio, are converted to Mahommedanism, by pronouncing in Arabic these Words, There is but One God, and Mahommed his Prophet, and learning a few Prayers.

to Furrukhsir) to join them, they confined him: Shortly after, they blinded him, by drawing a red hot Wire over his Eyes: And on the 16th of February, 1719, offering him a Thousand Indignities and Insults, put him to Death, after a Reign of Seven Years.

'Twas in this Emperor's Reign that the English East-India Company obtained a Firmân * exempting them from paying any Duties in his Dominions, of which I have here subjoined a Translation.

'ALL GOVERNORS, People in Offices, Jaguirdars +, Fojbdars +, Croris ||,

* فرمان Firmân, signifies literally an Order, but it is used for a Patent or Grant from the Emperor.

ther pays him out of the Treasury, or else allots him as much Lands in some of the Provinces, as the Salary and Wages of his wind Mansub, or Post, comes to. The Lands so allotted are called the faguir, and the Officer who receives the Revenues as his Pay, is called the faguirdar.

† Fishdars are Officers who have the Command of a Body of Horse, and take Care of the Suburbs of a City, and the Out-parts.

I Croris are those Officers who collect the Revenues of the several Villages, and often farm them of the Lord Lieutenant of the Province, or of the Jaguirdar.

comperor

Rahadars,

- · Rabadars*, Gouzirbans+, and Zemidarst,
- ' who are at present and shall be hereafter in
- the Soubab | of Ahmedabad, and in the
- ' fortunate Port of Surat, and Cambay, being
- ' in hopes of the Royal Favour; KNOW,
- 'That at this Time of Conquest which
- carries the Enfign of Victory, Mr. John
- Surman and Khojah Serhad, & Factors to the
- English, have represented, by the Means
- of those who stand on the Steps of the high
- 'Throne, "That Customs on English
- "Goods all over the Empire are pardoned,
- " except at the Port of Surat; and that at
- " the faid Port, from the Time of the

* Rahadars are those who have the Charge of the High-way.

+ Gouzirbans are they who collect Duties on the High-roads.

إرمين Zemidars, are the Rajabs or Indian Princes, &c. who have free Estates, and a Tract of Land at their own Command, only paying a fmall Acknowledgment to the Great Moghol. This Name is composed of Zemin, Land, and Is Dar, a Possessor.

|| Soubab fignifies a Province.

§ Mr. John Surman, an English Gentleman, and Khojah Serhad, an Armenian, were the principal Perfons sent from Bengal to the Moghol's Court to sollicit for this Grant.

" Emperor

of the Moghol Emperors. 47

"Emperor who is pardoned *, whose Place

" of Rest is Eternal, Shahab o' din Shah

" Jehan, 2 per Cent. was settled as Customs.

" From the Time of him who has approach" ed the Most Merciful, whose Place is

" everlasting, Moby o' din Mahommed Au-

" ringzebe Alumguîr, 31 per Cent. was ap" pointed, and in other Places none molested

" them on this Account. And in the Time " of the Emperor who is pardoned, whose

" Place of Repose is Heaven, surrounded

" with the Favour of the Almighty, whose

" Rank is most Sacred, Abul Mazuffer +

" Bahadr Shah, 21 per Cent. was settled,

" and is in Force until now: By reason of

" the Oppressions of the Muttesiddis # there,

"'tis three Years fince they have withdrawn

" their Factory. In the Soubabs of Bahar

" and Odissea, this Nation pays no Customs;

" and in the Port of Hugly, in the Province

" of Bengal, they Yearly give Three § Thou-

^{*} This is a fofter Kind of Expression used by the Mahommedans in mentioning deceased Persons.

[†] ابو المظفر Abul Mazuffer, fignifies the Father of Victory.

[‡] Muttesiddis are the King's Officers. § 375 l.

" fand Rupees Peishcush * in lieu of Customs;

" they are in hopes that, according to the " Custom of other Ports, in the Port of

" Surat likewise, a yearly Peishcush may be

" fettled in lieu of Customs; they agree to

" a Yearly Peishcush of Ten + Thousand

" Rupees.

' The ORDER which subjects the World to obey it, and which must be strictly followed, is iffued forth: That fince they

' agree to Ten Thousand Rupees Peishcush

at the Port of Surat, take it Yearly, and

besides that molest them on no Account:

And what Goods or Effects their Factors

bring or carry away by Land or Water, to and from the Ports of the Provinces, and other Parts, looking upon them to be

Custom-free, let them buy and fell at their Pleasure; and if in a Place any of

* بنشكش Peishcush, which literally signifies, presented, or drawn before, is the Term for a Present from an Inferior to a Superior; as are also these Words, نظر Nazr, presented to View, خران Gouzran, laid before, &c. And whatever Superiors give to their Inseriors, which is generally Robes, Arms, Horses, Elephants, &c. is called a Khalaet and Sirrapah; and if Money, an Enam.

* their Effects should be stol'n, use your

' utmost Endeavours to recover them, de' livering the Robbers to Punishment, and

'the Goods to the Owner; and wherever they fettle a Factory, or buy and fell

Goods, be affifting to them on all just Occasions; and whomsoever of the Mer' chants, &c. they may have a just Demand on by Accounts, according to Equity, give the English their Due, and let no Perfon injure their Factors. They have like-

'wife humbly represented, "That the

"Duans * in the Provinces may demand

" the Original Sinnid+, or a Copy with the

" Nazem or Duan's + Seal affixed; to pro"duce the Original in every Place is im-

" practicable; they are in hopes that a Copy

" under the Kazzi's || Seal shall be credited,

I and

* The Duans are the Seconds or Deputies to the Lord Lieutenants of Provinces, and Governors of Cities. They are the General Accomptants, and the Revenues pass thro' their Hands.

+ sim Sinnid, fignifies, a Grant or Patent.

† Nazem is the Governor, or Person who acts for الفي الاهتان الاهتان المتابع المتابع

" and they not demand the original Sinnid,

" or molest them on Account of a Copy

" with the Nazem or Duan's Seal: And in

"the Island of Bombay, belonging to the " English, where Portugueze Coins are Cur" rent, that according to the Custom of

" Chinapattan +, the fortunate & Coins may all Causes; he being generally a Person of the greatest Repute and Learning, a Copy attested by him is thought fufficiently authentic.

* As the Island of Bombay (which was made over to the English in King Charles the Second's Time) belonged first to the Portugueze, their Coins passed current there, until the English East India Company had the Privilege of coining Rupees.

+ Chinapattan is Madrass, or Fort St. George, on the Cormandel Coast, where the English did coin Rupees.

& By the Fortunate Coins (which they call & = w عمار Sicca Mobarek) are meant Silver and Gold Rupees, which last they call Mehr, or Sun, and ought to weigh 7 dw. 31 gr. and are in Value equal to 12 Silver Rupees weighing 7 dw. 101 gr. each. The In-Icription on this present Emperor's Money is, The Fortunate Coins of the valiant Emperor Mahommed Shah. Struck at in the Year in the of the glorious Reign. The first and last Blanks are for the Year of the Hegira and Reign, and the Second for the Name of the Place.

be struck; and that whoever of the " Company's Servants being in Debt, runs

" away, may be fent to the Chief of the " Factory; and that on Account of the

" Fojbdari *, and the other forbidden Arti" cles (by which Meall's the Company's

"Factors and Servants are vex'd and dif-

" couraged) they be not molested.

'The strict and high ORDER is issued forth, that a Copy under the Kazzi's Seal be credited, and that in the Island of Bombay, fortunate Coins struck according to the Custom of the Empire, be current; and whoever of the Company's Servants, being indebted, runs away, let him be taken and delivered to the Chief of the Factory, and let them not be molested on

^{*} As the Fojbdar is the Person who has the Command of the Suburbs and Out-parts, where it is chiefly that intoxicating Liquors are allowed to be sold, and disorderly Houses kept, he used to take up Sailors, and other Europeans, whom he sound there, and not release them without a Sum of Money, which created the Chiefs of the Factories, and the Company's Servants, deal of Trouble. This Article in the Firman to redress that Grievance, and suffer them to pass Wines, and other Liquors and Necessaries, without any Molestation.

Account of the forbidden Articles. "They " have likewise represented, that in Bengal, " Babar and Odiffea, the Company have "Factories, and that they are willing to " fettle in other Places. They are in hopes " that wherever they fettle, Forty Vingas | " of Ground may be graciously bestowed on "them by the Emperor; and that their "Ships fometimes, by Reason of Tempests, "run ashore, and are wreck'd, the Gover-" nors of the Ports do in an oppressive Man-" ner feize the Goods, and in some Places de-"mand a quarter Part." 'The Royal Order is islued forth, that they act according ' to the Customs of the Factories in other Provinces, in regard to this Nation (who have Factories in the Imperial Ports, and Dealings at Court, and have miraculoufly obtained a Firman exempting them from · Customs.) Take Care in a just Manner of the Goods of their Ships that are wreck'd or have lost their Passage, and in all Affairs 'act according to this Great Order, and ' demand not a new Grant Yearly. In

s H

A Vinga is somewhat less than the third Part of an Acre.

of the Moghol Emperors. 53

* this be punctual, written on the 4th of

Safer * in the 5th Year of this Glorious Reign.

On the back Part of the Firman, was the Vizir's Seal, with his Titles, as follows:

The Security of Fortune, and trust-worthy of the Empire,

Chief of the Omras of exalted Rank, Chosen among the Khans of the High Court,

Manager of the Empire and its Riches,
Director of its Fortune and Grandeur,
Master of the Sword and Pen,
Exalter of the Standard and Ensign,
Vizir of a true Judgment,
Of one Colour, (i. e. Ingenuous and Sincere)
Prop of the Empire,
Supreme Manager of its Affairs,
The Victorious General,
The grateful Friend, and Pattern for all Vizirs.

* January 6th, 1716-7.

RAFFEEIH AL DIRJAT.

The Seyds, after having made away with Furrukbsir, took Raffeeib al Dirjat, Son to Raffeeib al Shan, out of the Castle of Selimgur +, where the Royal Family are confined, and placed him on the Throne. He had not reigned above Three Months, before they murdered him, and sending for his Brother

RAFFEEIH AL DOWLAT,

Placed him on the Throne, who in a few Days afterwards died a natural Death, and was succeeded by the present Emperor

NASR O'DÎN MAHOMMED SHAH, ||

Son to Jehan Shah, who being raised to that Dignity by the Seyds, Hossan Ali Khan and built by a Prince of that Name.

المان Mahommed Shah, on being made Emperor, took to himself the Title of ناصر الدبن Nasr o'din, which signifies, the Supporter and Assister of Religion.

Abdallah Khan, they kept the Power so much in their own Hands, that he had nothing, except the Name of Emperor, which made him eagerly wish for an Opportunity of making himself independant, and revenging the Death of his Uncle's Son, Furrukhsir.

In October, 1720, Mahommed Shah, accompanied by Hossan Ali Khan, and several Omras*, fet out from Agra with a numerous Army, in order to reduce Nizam al Muluck, who had grown very powerful in Deccan.

Having marched Nine measured Coss the First Day, the Emperor called a Divan that Night, and after a short Stay withdrew. As foon as he was gone, Mahommed Amin Khan Heydr Kuli Khan S, Master of the Ordnance, Khandoran, and feveral others of the Omras, who were most attached to the Royal Fa-

* fool Omra, is the Plural of Jan Emir, which fignifies, Prince, and is a Title given to all the Nobility of the first Rank, in the Moghol's Empire, and in Tartary.

I signifies, the Slave of the Lion, John Heydr, which fignifies, a Lion, being one of the Appellatives given to Ali Mortifa, and Kuli, in the Turkish Language, fignifies, a Slave.

mily, drawing their Swords, fell on Hollan Ali Khan, and killed him with two or three of his Friends. Upon this Mahommed Shah laid aside that Expedition, and returned towards Debli, in order to cut off Seyd Abdallah Khan, the other Brother, who was in that Capital with a great Force; and who hearing of his Brother's Murder, had taken out Sultan Ibrahim, Son to Raffeeib al Shan, and proclaimed him Emperor. Gathering together what Treasure he could, and having broke to Pieces the famous Throne, (which cost Shah Jehan nine Crores § of Rupees) in order to pay his Soldiers, he foon compleated an Army of 50,000 Horse, and marched out to engage Mahommed Shah, who had encamp'd at Serkad, which is Twelve Coss from Mhetra.

On the 2d of November, 1720, both Armies engaged; and after an obstinate and bloody Battle, Abdallah Khan's Forces were defeated, and himself desperately wounded and taken Prisoner.

[§] One Crore is Ten Millions. So that Nine Crores of Rupees, at 2 s. 6 d. each, amounts to 11,250000 l. Sterling.

The young Sultan, whom he had brought with him to countenance his Rebellion, being taken, had no other Punishment inflicted on him, but being fent back to his old Quarters the Castle of Selimgur.

Upon this Victory the Emperor made great Rejoicings, and appointing Mahommed Amin Khan Vizir, returned to Debli.

Abdallah Khan being brought before him, the Emperor faid to him, 'Traitor, fee what thou hast done.' To which he anfwered, ' I took you out of a Prison, and gave you an Empire. My Brother being " murdered by your Order, as I was at the ' Head of an Army, Self-preservation directed me to make use of it; Providence decreed you the Victory, use it as you think oproper, by treating this Clay as your Refentment or Interest may prompt you.' Then the Emperor faid to him, ' What Harm had Furrukhsir done to you?' To which he answered: 'He grew jealous of " mine and my Brother's Power, and as it was inconsistent with our Interest to resign it into his Hands, we thought it dangerous to lose any Time in removing him. Had Providence permitted us to have been fo prudent 'prudent hitherto, we should not have come to this tragical End. But when Fate desitines one to Ruin, it begins by blinding the Eyes of his Understanding.' Then the King ordered him to be confined, and four Servants allowed to attend him, and said, As for the young Sultan he is not to blame; were he to be punished, it would distract his poor Mother; let him remain with her.'

Heydr Kuli Khan was in great Favour, and afterwards made Soubahdar * of Ahmedahada. Noufrit Ear Khan was made Soubahdar of Ajmir, Sir Bullind Khan was fent for from Cabul to be one of the Vizirs; and Kandoran was made Mir Bukhshi ‡ with the Title of Emir al Omra §.

Furruksir's Mother desired that Abdallah Khan, the Murderer of her Son, might be delivered to her. Mahommed Shah sent her Word that it was unlawful to kill two Perfons for the Murder of one, and that Hossan Ali Khan was killed in Retaliation. He then ordered that Abdallah Khan should lodge in ^{*} Soubabdar is Lord Lieutenant of a Province.

[‡] Mir Bukhshi is Paymaster-General and Treasurer.

[§] Emir al Omra fignifies the Prince of Princes.

the Palace of Afof all Dowlat, have a Pension of 3000 Rupees Monthly, thirty Houshold Servants, seventy Menial Ones, with Provisions of all Kinds from the Royal Kitchen, sive Women to attend him, and proper Guards over him. He did not live long to enjoy this generous Allowance, dying a few Months afterwards of his Wounds. Five and Forty Women, most of them his Wives and Concubines, and some his near Relations, burnt ‡ themselves in one Room the Night after he died.

I 2

In

t In ancient Times, none but the Wives of the Brahmins (or Indian Priests) had the Privilege of burning themselves with their deceased Husbands: But since the Government fell into the Hands of the Rajpouts, 'tis customary, when any of their Princes die, for one or more of his Wives to be burnt with him. There is no Compulsion to this Sacrifice, as some People wrongly imagine; 'tis entirely of their own accord, and often they are diffwaded from it. Sometimes indeed, when a vain-glorious Passion prevails over natural Affection. the Widow's Relations would gladly have her burn, as it raises the Character of their Family, by making it remarkable for virtuous and loving Women. Yet, according to their Religion, 'tis more meritorious to behave chaftly and decently in their Widowhood, until Death, than burning; because one is but a short Pain, and the other a State of Trial. The Moghols have endeavoured

In the Year 1721-2, the Emperor wrote to Nizam al Muluck, then at Deccan, defiring his Presence at Court, and that he would appoint him Vizir; but if he declined it, he should nominate whomsoever he should judge to be the most deserving. To which he answered: " I am a Derveish, "and not ambitious of so high a Station. "I was contented with the Province of " Malva, when the Seyds intending to di-"ftress me, I was obliged to take Arms. "By the Divine Affistance I baffled their "Designs, and secured myself. At last " your Majesty, by their Instigation, set out " against me with a mighty Army. Here " the Almighty protected me likewise. In "the Beginning one of the Brothers was "killed; and as you knew me to be a deavoured to discourage this Custom as much as possible; but since Money is omnipotent in that Country, as well as in many others, a small Bribe generally purchases the Consent of the Governor, or Commanding Officer. Lately the Seyd and Pattan Families, in several Parts of India, have, thro' their excessive Pride, got into this Custom; and as it is strictly forbidden by their Religion (which is the Mahammedan) they do it privately, by setting an Apartment on fire about their Ears.

ss faithful

faithful Servant, you laid afide that Ex" pedition, and returned to Debli, where,

" being settled to the Satisfaction of all " People, you have now condescended to " distinguish me, the meanest of your Slaves,

" with this extraordinary Mark of your Fa" vour; which I only decline, as knowing

" myself unequal thereto, and that there are " many about your Court more capable and

" defirous of fuch an Employment than I."

As Nizam would not come to Court, Mahommed Amîn Khan was continued Vizir, and after his Death, his Son Kummir o'din Khan * succeeded him in that Office, and enjoys it now.

Nizam continued at Deccan, as Soubabdar of Vijapore, Hyderabad, Auringabad, &c. and though he acknowledged himself a Subject, yet made no Remittances to Court, but appropriated the Revenues to the maintaining of an Army, which he said was to keep in aw the Mabarattas or Ganims, the Sahou Rajah's Subjects in Deccan; whom notwithstanding he permitted to plunder and lay waste several of the King's Provinces. They imposed a Tribute of one quarter Part of the Revenues, which they call Chot, in many Places, and some Parts they have taken entirely to themselves. He well knew, that with the Maharattas Assistance, he could defy any Attempts that could be made against him from Court. At last, in the Year 1738, the Maharattas becoming very formidable, and Nadir Shah having besieged Kandahar last he was prevailed on to come to Court, as shall appear more particularly in the Sequel.

^{*} قدر الدين Kummir o'dîn, signifies the Moon of Religion.

Kandahar, is distant from Dehli 358 meafured Coss, and from Isfahan 463. The State of Affairs in India before the Persian Invasion, with the Motives that induced Nadir Shah to undertake that Expedition.

daily in a worse Situation, and that thro' the Indolence of the Vizir, and his being entirely taken up with his Diversions, there was no Prospect of a Remedy; His Majesty resolved to send for Nizam al Muluck, who being one of Auringzebe's old Emirs +, and of great Experience, his Presence might give a new Turn to Affairs. Accordingly Orders were issued forth for his Appearance; in Compliance with which, leaving his Son Ghazi o'din Khan to command in Deccan, he came to Debli, where he met with a gracious Reception, was made Absolute Agent, which is greater than Vizir, and honoured with the Title of Asof Jab +. Khandoran, who was Bukhshi, or Paymaster General, had the Emperor's Ear fo much, that whatever he requested was granted, His Majesty being entirely governed in all His Actions by him. As Nizam al Muluck was for fettling Affairs upon the fame Footing as they were in Auringzebe's Time, and proceeding in Regard to the Administration of Justice, according to Law, and as was done in the Reigns of former Emperors; whatever he requested on that Score was denied him, and all his new Schemes opposed and laugh'd at by the Omras. He observing the Weakness of the Emperor, and the Diffoluteness of his Courtiers, who employed their Time in the Company of loofe Women and Buffoons, waited on His Majesty, and framing an Excuse, told him the Affairs of his Province required his Presence. On his Arrival at Deccan he entered into a Concert with Rajah Sahou, and contrived

^{*} The Great Moghol.

[†] Emîr fignifies Prince or Commander, being the Name that the Nobility are distinguished by, the Plural of which is Omra.

[†] Asof Jah is a Title commonly given to Vizirs. It fignifies, in Place and Rank as Asof, who, they say, was Solomon's Vizir. At the same Time that they homour their Vizirs with this Title, they flatter their own Vanity, by comparing themselves to Solomon.

frived it fo, that Bajeerau || should march as far as Debli, and plunder and lay waste all before him; that, at length, the Emperor, and those about him, might be roused out of their Indolence, and be fenfible of their ill Conduct. The Maharattas foon over-run the Province of Malva, killed Guerdir Bahadr, the Governor thereof, and feized all his Treafure and Effects. After having laid waste and destroyed all the Country around, they returned to Deccan. As no Notice was taken at Court of these Inroads, next Year they marched towards Guzerat, where, notwithstanding the Inhabitants agreed to pay a quarter Part *, they plundered and distressed them in a fevere Manner: They also ravaged the Country round about Gualiar, which being near the Capital, the Court was alarmed, and Khandoran, with Kummir o'din Khan and other Omras, fent with a powerful Army to chastise them; but these great Officers thought Peace the fafest Measure,

A famous General of the Maharattas or Ganims, who is lately dead.

^{*} A Quarter Part of the Revenues, which they call Chot, is the Tribute the Maharattas have endeavoured to impose on several Parts of India.

agreed to pay the Quarter Part, and returned Home. Notwithstanding this Agreement, and the Money being paid, the Maharattas did not spare those Places from being plundered, but even resolved to march as far as Agra to receive the Quarter Part for Debli. The aforesaid Officers set out again, and came to the City of Agra: A little before their Arrival, the Maharattas had croffed the River Jumna, with an Intent to march into Audib, the Province governed by Saadit Khan, who having Notice of their Defign, march'd against them with a strong Body, and after an obstinate Engagement defeated them, took two of their principal Officers, and killed 5000 of their Men. With the Remains of their Army they marched to Feridabad, which is Ten Coss from Debli. Upon which Khandoran and the Vizir, being joined by Saadit Khan, went in pursuit of them: The Maharattas had left that Place Three Hours before the Omras Arrival, and marched towards Kalka, near Debli; which being a Place of Worship for that Day, the greatest Part of the Inhabitants had affembled there: They robb'd them of all they had, but spared their Lives; and knowing the City

City had but few Forces therein, they intended to plunder it; of which the Emperor being informed, he ordered Emir Khan and Hoffan Khan, with all the Companies belonging to the Train of Artillery, to go and oppose them. They accordingly marched out, and after an Engagement of a few Hours, Hoffan Khan was killed, and Emir Khan, with the rest of his Army, almost routed, and the Maharattas on the Point of entering the City, when the Vizir, who had outmarched the other two Omras, came to his Affistance; the Enemy was soon defeated, and put to Flight: The Vizir pursued them to Allaverdi Khan's Serai, + which is Seven Coss from Debli, where coming up with them, and having no Inclination to fight, he fecretly made up Matters: Upon which they marched back to Deccan. Saadit Khan being somewhat puffed up with his own good Services, and incenfed at this shameful Compremise with the Ganims, marched † Serai, or Sera, fignifies any great Building or Palace. 'Tis the same that, by Corruption, is in Europe called Seraglio, which may as properly be applied to any other Palace, as to that where the King's Family live. By prefixing the Word Caravan, it signifies, a Building for the Reception of Travellers and Passengers.

K 2

towards

towards his own Province, without waiting on his Majesty; but the other Omras enter'd the City, and paid their Respects to him.

The Emperor was again inclined to fend for Nizam al Muluck, thinking that while he continued in Deccan he should be always in Fear of (or actually disturbed by) these Excursions of the Maharattas. Mehr Parvir, his Grandmother, who had great Interest with Nizam, at his Request, wrote him a Letter, full of Affurances that he should have the entire Management of Affairs at Court, provided he came without Delay. He complied with her Request, but met with a worse Treatment than formerly. The Omras not only difregarded him, but took all Opportunities of affronting him, especially Khandoran and his Creatures, who when he came to pay his Respects at Court, used to ridicule him, faying to each other, Observe bow the Deccan Monkey dances. This Usage having wrought him up to the highest Pitch of Resentment, he was resolved to revenge himself by distressing the Empire, and destroying Khandoran and his Creatures. He imparted his Defign to the Vizir, Kummir o'din Khan, imagining he would join with him.

in INDIA, before, &c. 69

him. But notwithstanding the Alliance between them (Nizam's Son being married to the Vizir's Daughter, and the Vizir's Son to Nizam's Daughter) he could not engage him to join in any Plot detrimental to the public Interest; on the contrary, he used his Endeavours to dissuade him therefrom, by representing to him the Infamy of facrificing his Country to private Resentment. When Nizam perceived he would not come into his Measures, he applied himself to Saadit Khan, the Soubabdar of Audib, who then had a great Body of Men, was an Officer of Experience, and had lately raised his Reputation by his Action with the Maharattas; and, what was still more to the Purpose, had fince that Time stood ill-affected towards the Emperor and Khandoran. Having entered into an Agreement, it was refolved that Nadir Shah, Ruler of Perfia, who then was belieging Kandabar, should be the Instrument to distress the Emperor, and remove Khandoran from amongst them.

But before I relate the treacherous Correfpondence carried on between Nizam, Saadit Khan, and Nadir Shah, with the Invitation they they gave him to march towards Hindostan, which was the principal Motive that encouraged him to undertake that Expedition, I shall give a brief Account of the Life and Actions of this Famous Conqueror, who of late has made so much Noise in the World, which I had from a Gentleman who knew him personally, and was in Persia during the Time of the Great Revolution which happened there; that is, from the Time the Afghans invaded Persia, and Mahmud Khan, the Son of Mir Vaez, took the Capital thereof Isfahan, making Shah Sultan Hossein Prisoner, with all his Sons, which were Twenty-three, excepting Thamas Mirza (afterwards Shah Thamas, who made bis Escape during the Siege) until Nadir Shah set out for Kandahar to reduce to Obedience Hossein Khan, a Brother of the said Mahmud Khan.

THE

HISTORY

OF

NADIR SHAH.

ADIR SHAH‡, known in Europe by the Name of Kuli Khan, was born at Calot in the Province of Khorasan ||. His Father was Chief this first Name was Slave, or literally, the Slave of the Wonderful. It is composed of Slave, or literally, the Slave of the Wonderful. It is composed of Slave, wonderful, which, with the Mahommedans, is one of God's Attributes, and Slave. In this Manner the Arabs, and other Mahommedans, compose most of their proper Names, by prefixing the Word and Abd, Slave, to God's Name, or any of his Attributes, thus: Abdallah, the Slave of God, and Slave of the Merciful, &c.

Khorasan is one of the most eastern Provinces of Persia, which its Name imports, signifying, towards

Chief of a Clan of the Affhar * Tribe; and Governor of a Fortress belonging to hat Place, wherein a fufficient Guard was kept to prevent the Ousbeg Tartars from making Incursions into Khorasan. It commanded one of the Paffes, and was so fituated by Nature that a Handful of Men might eafily defend it against a numerous Army. The Father of Nadir Kuli (for that was his first Name) dying during his Minority, his Uncle took the Command of that Fortress. which had been Hereditary in the Family for many Years, under Pretence of keeping it until Nadir Kuli was of Age; but when he was grown up, the Uncle pretended he was still too young to take such a Charge; and infinuated to the Clan, he was a Youth of a fierce and tyrannical Disposition, not fit to command them, unless, instead the Sun; shor, fignifying, the Sun, in the ancient Perfic. The Perfians generally pronounce it Khorafun, making an sa, before an m, or an n, found like an u, which, they think, gives the Words a sweeter and softer Sound. But in Tartary, and all over the Moghol's Empire, the Words are pronounced as they are wrote.

^{*} The Affhars are a Turcoman Tribe, divided into two or three Clans.

of mild Treatment they chose to be fway'd with a Rod of Iron. The Affhars being well satisfied with the Uncle, defired him to continue their Chief, declaring that as they already had fufficient Experience of his Capacity and Humanity, they would not run any Risque by submitting to his Nephew. Nadir Kuli being thus thrust out of his Right by the Cunning of his Uncle, and being of too great a Spirit to live in a State of Subserviency among his Relations, went to Mushad*, a City famous for the Sepulchre of Imam Ali Reza, and there entered into the Beglerbeg's + Service, as one of the under Masters of Ceremonies; in which Office he behaved so well, that the Prince soon gave him the Command of a Troop of Horse. In the frequent Skirmishes he had with the Tartars he gave such Proofs of his Conduct and Courage, that in a few Years he was made Mim Bashi, or Commander of 1000 Horse, ^{*} Mushad is a City in Khorasan, which, since Shah Abass's Intention of making it a Place of Pilgrimage, has been of more Note than Herat, the ancient Capital thereof.

⁺ Beglerbeg is a Title fignifying, in the Turkish Language, Lord of Lords.

in which Station he continued till he was a bout thirty two Years of Age, behaving on all Occasions with the greatest Gallantry and Resolution. He was esteemed and respected by those whom he chose to be familiar with; but others who were not fo intimate with him, and to whom he behaved with Reserve, made little Account of him. He fo well difguifed his Ambition, that, altho' determined to push his Fortune to the utmost, when a proper Opportunity should offer, he took the greatest Care to smother whatever might give the least Jealousy or Offence to his Superiors, feeming perfectly happy in the Station 'he had obtained, until the Year 1720. when the Ousbeg Tartars, by Surprise, entered Khorasan with a Body of 12000 Horse, and began to commit Hostilities. The Beglerbeg not having above 4000 Horse, and 2000 Foot in Readiness to march against them, called a Council of his Officers, and told them if an immediate Stop was not put to the Progress of the Tartars, they would lay waste and plunder the whole Province, and, according to their Custom, carry off Man, Woman, and Child, with every Thing of Value they could lay their Hands on; in Consequence of which he must lose his Head. The General Officers declared the Force his Highness could then muster was not near fufficient to encounter the Enemy with any Probability of Success, and that the King would blame him should he attempt it, and thereby only throw away the Lives of fo many brave Men. The Beglerbeg perceiving their timorous Disposition, declared he would put himself at the Head of what Troops he had, and try his Fortune, it being better to run any Hazard than fit down tamely, and be idle Spectators, while the Tartars ravaged the Country, and carried away the Inhabitants to a perpetual Slavery. Nadir Kuli, who was present at this Council, (but whose Station did not entitle him to speak until the Opinion of those of the same Rank was asked) got up, and defired that he might be indulged to offer fomething on this Occasion: Which being granted, he faid, It was then no Time to deliberate; that the Enemy were advancing towards them, and in a few Days would force the Generals to do what what at present they feem'd to have no Inclination to; that he could not enough commend the brave Refolution of the Prince in offering to go in Perfon, and give them Battle, tho', at the fame Time, there was no Necessity for His Highness to run so great a Risque, since if any Accident happened to him the whole Province would be loft; that it would be more advisable to remain in the City Mushad to take Care thereof with what Forces he could gather from the adjacent Parts, and let the Army set out immediately, in order to give the Enemy Battle, or to secure some Defiles and narrow Passes to prevent the Tartars advancing until his Highness could send Succours: That for his Part, he affured him he was, by Experience, so well fatisfied of the Bravery of the Troops they then had, that if he would honour him with the Command of this Expedition, he was fo well affured of Success, that in Case he miscarried he was willing to forfeit his Head. The Prince was fo pleased with an Offer of this Kind, that he did not wait for any of the Generals Opinions; but immediately told him, You have, in your present Station, when Occasion offered, given such Proofs of your Conduct and personal Valour, as leaves me no Room to doubt of your future Behaviour; I do therefore give you the Title of General, with the Command of all the Troops now here, and order you to march with them, as foon as possible, against the Tartars, and either give them Battle, or take fuch Measures as may feem to you most proper, in order to put a Check to their Progress. Accordingly a Commission pro tempore was prepared and figned for Nadir Kuli to command in this Expedition as General, and the Prince affured him, if he fucceeded, he would use all his Interest at Court to get him confirmed. Altho' the Common-Soldiers were well fatisfied to have Nadir Kuli to command them, yet all the General Officers, and most of the Mîm Bashis, his Seniors, refused to act under him, which the Prince being informed of, defired they would stay with him, and that others, whom Nadir Kuli appointed. should act in their Stead. Accordingly feveral Officers were promoted in order to supply the Places of those who staid; and the Troops fet out with Nadir Kuli at their Head, with the same Resolution that he did, to conquer or die. The Tartar General, who lay about four Days Journey from Mushad, hearing the Persians were in quest of them, called called together all his Forces, who were out a marrauding in different Parts. Nadir, who bent his March directly towards him, on his Arrival, found the Tartar at the Head of his Troops ready to give him Battle; upon which he drew up his little Army on an Eminence, and told them, that half the Tartars at least were a foraging, and left to guard the Captives and Plunder; that he was affured they had not above 6 or 7000 Men, tho' they were drawn up loose in order to make the greater Show; and that he should not doubt of Victory had they been twice as numerous, from the Experience he often had of their Courage on other Occasions, which he was affured they would then exert to the utmost, as thereon entirely depended the Lives, Liberties, and Estates of their Countrymen. The Tartars charged with their usual Fury, which the Persians, animated by the Example of their young Leader, sustained with all the Intrepidity imaginable. Both Parties being brave and equally resolute, a bloody and obstinate Action ensued, in which the Victory for a long Time feemed doubtful: At last Nadir's Fortune prevailed; for having slain the General with his own Hand, the Tartars were immediately put to Flight, the Persians pursuing and slaughtering them for several Miles. In this Battle upwards of 6000 Tartars were killed, and of the Remainder not half returned to their own Country, being either killed or taken Prisoners by the Peasants.

This Victory gained Nadir Kuli immortal Honour; and the Beglerbeg affured him, on his Arrival at Mushad, that he had wrote to the King to make him General under him, that is, Lieutenant General of Khorasan. But Shah Sultan Hoffein, who was then King of Persia, being a weak and indolent Prince, never regarded the Services Nadir had done him, but appointed in that very Post, which he ought to have, a young Nobleman who had never feen any Action. This Affair was managed by the great Interest the other General Officers had at Court, who (tho' afraid to undertake it themselves) were highly chagrin'd at Nadir Kuli's having had the Command of the Tartar Expedition: The King's Weakness giving them a fair Opportunity of indulging their Resentment, by procuring the Difgrace of this brave Man, who had no Friends at Court to follicit for him.

Being highly incenfed at this Treatment, he waited on the Prince, and told him, he had depended on his Promise to no Purpose, for instead of being confirmed in his Post, he was degraded and difgraced for his good Services, and a young Fellow appointed to Command the Army, who was only fit to be shut up in a Seraglio with Women; that he observed, he was a Person nearly related to his Highness, whence he concluded he was raifed to that Station by the very Interest promised him: The Prince assured him of the contrary, and as he had endeavoured to ferve him, was highly displeased at his daring to tax him with a Breach of Promise. Nadir, by infifting on what he had faid; and dropping some other unguarded Expressions, so far trespassed on the Prince's good Nature, that he ordered him to be bastinadoed on the Soles of the Feet, till his Toe-Nails dropt off, and turned him out of the Service. The Reader must not be furprized at this Sort of Punishment to a Field Officer, for it is frequently inflicted on those in the highest Stations, if they incur the King's Displeasure, and all the Nobility are liable to undergo it, if they disobey the Commands of their Superiors in a Post subordinate to them. Nadir was now fet adrift, and having no Friends at Court, had no Hopes of being re-instated; this made him turn his Thoughts on retiring to the Place of his Nativity, and endeavour to recover his paternal Inheritance. On his Arrival there, his Uncle received him very kindly, and he lived with him and his other Relations some Time; but on his endeavouring to recover the Command of the Tribe, by first infinuating privately, and then infifting upon it that it was his Right, his Uncle let him know he would not refign it, and treated him in a most contemptuous and flighting Manner. His other Relations did the same, which was Usage Nadir's high Spirit could not bear, notwithstanding the State of Poverty he was reduced to, which was fo very hard, that he was forced to borrow small Matters of any that would lend him, to procure the common Necessaries of Life. This was enough to beget desperate Resolutions in a Man who had deserved great Things from his Prince and Country, for the good Services he had done them; instead of which, as I have already observed, he was degraded and punished: And when he fled into the Arms of his Relations for Relief, and claim'd his Birth-right, found that withheld from him by his Uncle; and all those who, by Ties of Blood, ought to have been his Friends, turned his Enemies, for no other Reason that I could ever learn, but that they found him a bold enterprising Man, and superior to themselves in Point of Genius and every other Respect. Nadir, in this melancholy Situation, determined to get that by Force, which he could not obtain by any other Method; and having affociated with a Couple of flout Fellows of desperate Fortune, went upon the Highway, and robb'd a small Caravan of Three or Four Mules laden with Merchandize, and found Means to dispose of them, the Produce of which (fetting afide what they wanted for present Expences) he laid out in Arms and Ammunition, and enlifted privately in his Gang all the desperate Fellows he could pick up. He fet out a fecond Time with about 20 or 25, and robb'd a large Caravan of 30 Mules and Camels, laden with Merchandize and Provisions, which he carried to the Mountains, where Persons came fecretly to him with Arms, &c. and exchanged them for Goods, much to their Advantage.

Advantage: In this Manner he frequently robb'd, traded, and enlisted fresh Men into his Gang, most of whom were Soldiers who had formerly ferved under him, until he had got near 500 stout Fellows well mounted, with which Force he kept the Country in aw, and laid them under a Contribution, which they would not comply with, till he had first threatned, and afterwards performed his Resolution of carrying away their Cattle, and plundering and burning their Houses. But it will be proper here to take Notice, that he could not have reigned long in this Manner, but would have been purfued and overpowered by the King's Forces, if the Empire had not been involved in War. The Afghans, under Mir Vaez's Son, had taken Isfahan, and reduced the South-East Parts of Persia to their Obedience; the Turks had entered the Western Parts, and taken most of them; and the Muscovites had taken Poffession of Gilan (the ancient Hyrcania) and other Places bordering on the Caspian Sea; so that Shah Thamas having but two or three Provinces left, which were furrounded by Enemies on all Sides, he could not spare any Forces to reduce Nadir Kuli; the M 2 Country

Country People were afraid to attack him. fo that he lived on them, and exacted what he thought proper for the Support of himfelf and his Followers. At this Time, one Sef o'din Beg, a General in Shah Thamas's Army, and Chief of a great Tribe, called the Bayots, having offended the King, his Persian Majesty was determined to take away his Life, which Sef o'din Beg being privately informed of, he fled from the Camp in the Night with 1500 of his own Men, and not knowing where to take Sanctuary, he went to Nadir Kuli, and joined him. By this Addition to his Force, he had now got upwards of 2000 Men, and was become very formidable and expensive to the Neighbourhood. Nadir's Uncle began to dread the Strength of his Nephew, who not being above 100 Miles off, might come and attack him whenever he pleased: He therefore wrote him a Letter, wherein he affured him, he was of Opinion, that if he would fubmit, and go into the King's Service, his Majesty would grant a Pardon to him and all his People. Nadir feemed very well pleafed with this Propofal, and wrote his Uncle, that if he could procure the Pardon he mentioned, he should be glad to accept of it. Accordingly his Uncle fent a Petition to Shah Thamas, in behalf of his Nephew. His Majesty at first seemed not inclined to pardon a Man who had been guilty of fuch notorious Crimes; but being told the ill Treatment he had formerly met with, forced him to take such Measures in order to support himself, that he was a gallant Officer, and that his Troops might be of great Service to his Majesty, who was in want of such Men, the King comply'd, and fent a free Pardon figned to his Uncle, which he immediately forwarded to Nadir Kuli, who, upon the Receipt thereof, set out with Sef o'din Beg, and 100 chosen Men for Calot. On his Arrival there, his Uncle received him very kindly. Next Day he made a grand Entertainment for him and his Followers, which he intended to have continued for three Days, far from apprehending any Treachery from his Nephew, who now meditated Revenge for the Injury done him in withholding his Right, and flighting him when reduced to the greatest Necessity. He had concerted with his Followers how to put it in Execution before he left the Mountains, and had ordered 500 more of his Men to set out the next Day after him, and to lay concealed near the Castle of Calot (which they might eafily do, it being a mountainous Place.) Accordingly having that very Night made proper Preparations, about two in the Morning, at a Signal given, those within fell on the Sentries, killed fome, and feized the rest, whilst Nadir Kuli went to his Uncle's Chamber, whom having killed, he took the Keys of the Castle, and opened the Gates, in order to let in the 500 Men, who were ready at his Signal. Uncle's Men, who were about 160, besides the Sentries, had taken the Alarm; but Nadir's People having fecured the Doors of the Barracks where they lay, they could make no Resistance, fo that they furrendered; and, being difarm'd, were fet at Liberty the next Morning: there was not much Blood shed on this Occasion, not above fifteen or twenty being killed in all. Nadir immediately dispatched Messengers to those remaining in the Mountains, who came to him in a few Days. This happened about the Year 1726-7, upwards of fix Years after he had been turned out of the King's Service in Mushad, as before-mentioned.

Nadir, by this Action, not at all to his Credit, had gratified his Revenge on his Uncle,

Uncle, and had all his Relations (who lived mostly in the Town, and the adjacent Villages near Calot) in his Power; but he shewed no Resentment to any of them: On the contrary, he treated them with Civility and Respect; several of them entered voluntarily into his Service, and are now with him in great Posts. He continued in this Place for some Months ruling in an absolute Manner, and raifing Contributions, for fifty Miles round, to what Amount he pleased. Shah Thamas was fully apprized of all that Nadir had done, and was highly displeased at the ill Use he made of the Pardon sent him, which was to destroy his Uncle, and get Possession of a strong Place, whence nothing but a great Force could dislodge him; but as his Affairs were in a declining Condition, every Day seeming to threaten his Ruin more and more, being hemm'd in by the Turks on one Side, and the Afghans on the other, he judged it better to make use of the Rebel Nadir's Affistance, than to weaken his own Force by attempting to destroy him. He therefore let him know, if he would fubmit and come to him, he should be graciously received, and admitted into the Service as a Mîm Bashi, and that Sef o'din Beg should likewise be pardoned, and entertained in the fame Station. Nadir accepted this Offer, and having left one of his own Officers, with 500 of his Men, to command the Castle, he fet out with the rest, and waited on the King, who at first rebuked him for what he had done, but told him and his People, that he had forgiven them, and did not doubt but their future Behaviour would make Amends for their past Offences. Nadir excused himfelf as well as he could, by telling the King the ill Treatment he had met with from the Prince of Khorasan, in being turned out of the Service at a Time when he ought to have been rewarded for his fuccessful Expedition against the Tartars; and that the injurious Usage he received from his Uncle and Relations had forced him into the Measures he had taken to support himself; but as his Majesty had now generously pardoned him, he should endeavour to render himself deserving of 'the Clemency which had been shewn him.

As he had now frequent Occasions, he fignalized himself by his Courage and Conduct, and was the Admiration of the King and the whole Army. The Turks (who before Na- dir Kuli's coming into Shah Thawas's Army, were always victorious, and feem'd determined to extirpate the Persian Race, and divide the Empire between the Afghans and themselves, with whom they had made Peace, and entered into an Alliance) were now frequently repulsed with Loss, tho' their Numbers were vastly superior to the Persians; and in all those Actions and Skirmishes, Nadir, tho' he had but an inferior Command, yet he shared the most Honour; till at length the King made him a Lieutenant-General, having removed two of his principal Officers to make Way for him. As Nadir had, by his Station, frequent Opportunities of waiting on the King, he foon infinuated himfelf into his Favour. He had but one Rival to deal with, who was of any Consequence, namely, Fatteb allah Khan Kajar, with whom, in Appearance, he kept a strict Friendship; but the very Moment the King (being fet on by his Creatures) had called that General to an Account for his Management, in Regard to the Army, Nadir Kuli affured His Majesty he had been a long Time sensible of the Abuses committed, and unless there was a Reformation in the Manner of paying N and and disciplining the Army, rhe Troops would defert; that they already began to murmur at not receiving their Pay regularly, and complained of the exorbitant Deductions made out of it for Cloaths, &c. The King, on hearing this, was highly incenfed against the General, and declared, if what was alledged against him was true, he would order his Head to be cut off. He having nothing to fay in his own Justification, but pleading it as a Custom, and what his Predecessors had always done, His Majesty ordered him to be executed on the Spot, and appointed Nadir Kuli General, who readily accepted of it, without the Formality of defiring to be excused on Account of his Inability to acquit himself as he ought in such a Post. This was in the Year 1727-8, and not above one Year fince he was pardoned, and taken into the King's Service. Nadir having obtained that high Station, began to display Talents vaftly superior to what he had discovered hitherto, and the King had fo great a Dependance on his Management, that he feldom or never interfered in any Thing relating to the Military. Nadir, being fenfible of the Trust reposed in him, was resolved to improve it to his own Advantage, by removing those in the Army whom he had Reason to believe were not attached to him, and putting in those who were. He gain'd the Affection of the Common-Soldiers, by paying them with his own Hand the Moment he received the Money, and letting them have Cloaths at the first Cost. Finding himself in this happy Situation, he wish'd for nothing more than Action, but his Forces (being no more than 15 or 20000) were not fufficient to act offensively against the Turks: However, he annoyed them so much by Means of flying Parties, that they were glad to fit still in their Quarters; they fent to acquaint Shah Thamas, that if he would relinquish to them the Right of those Places they had already in Possession, they would make Peace with him, and leave him to recover the rest of his Dominions from the Afghans. Shah Thamas let them know he would confider of it, and defired a Truce till he could get an Answer from the Grand Signior to some Proposals he had to make him; to which the Turks agreed, promising to commit no Hostilities until they received Orders from the Port, and so their Confines were fixed to Hamadan on one Side, and Tabriz and Ardebil on the other. Shab Thamas fent a Messenger to Constantinople with Offers of an Accommodation, but on Terms which he knew would not be granted; he gave private Orders to the faid Meffenger to pretend Sickness on the Road, and to delay his getting thither as foon as possible, fo as not to give the Turks any Cause of Suspicion. Shah Thamas's Defign was only to gain Time that he might go and subdue Meluck Mahmud, Governor of Mushad, who had rebelled during the late Revolution, and fet up as King. Having, thro' the Bravery of his General Nadir, taken the faid Governor Prisoner, and seized his Effects, he set out with 12000 Horse to chastise the Abdollees, a Tribe of Afghans, who had taken Possession of Herat in Shah Sultan Hoffein's Time, and were now preparing a grand Army to invade Khorasan, and lay Seige to Mushad. The Abdollee Afghans met him about three Days Journey from Herat, with an Army of near 30000 Horse. As they were reckoned better Soldiers than the Kandahar Afghans, who had taken Isfaban, the King feem'd to dread the Event of the Battle; but Nadir, whose Courage was invincible, invincible, affured the King he did not doubt of Success; that Victory depended more on Resolution and Conduct than on Numbers, and that he was fatisfy'd his Majesty's Troops had both. Having drawn up his Army in order of Battle, he harangued them in the fame Manner, telling them withal, that the Loss of that Battle would be the Ruin of Persia, and that they and their Generations would be made Slaves for ever, if they did not conquer that Day; after which a general Shout was given. The Abdollee Afghans, who were drawn up at some Distance, hearing their Shout, returned it, and advanced with great Fury to charge the Persians. Nadir kept his Men close, and being posted upon a rifing Ground, he played upon them with fome small Field-pieces, which did great Execution, not fuffering any of his People to discharge their Small-Arms until the Enemy was within thirty or forty Yards, when they made a general Fire, which made fuch Havock among the Abdollees, that they were obliged to retire, and give the Persians Time to load again. In short, after several desperate Attacks, which the Persians sustained with an uncommon Valour, a general Engagement gagement enfued, in which Nadir behaved with a most surprising Conduct; for, tho' his Personal Bravery naturally carried him too far, his Vigilance was fuch, that he always fent timely Affistance wherever it was required; at last, the Abdollees were entirely routed, 5000 were taken Prisoners, and near 15000 killed and wounded. The Loss on the Perfians Side amounted to no more than 1500. After this he marched to Herat, and befieged it for some Months, until the Enemy fubmitted, and had agreed to pay down a certain Sum, and give an annual Tribute on Condition they might have a Governor appointed by the King out of their own Tribe; which being granted, they swore Obedience to Shah Thamas, by whom they were to be treated in future as natural Subjects. The King, who was in the Army, but did not command, set out for Mushad. Nadir Kuli, having Orders to follow him as foon as possible, arrived there in August, 1729. About this Time the King received News that Ashruff, the Afghan (who succeded Mahmud, the Son of Mir Vaez, and was then in Possession of Isfahan) was preparing to come and attack him with a powerful Army

Army. The faid Ashruff, hearing of Nadir Kuli's Success, thought it dangerous to give fuch a Man Time to augment his Forces; he therefore determined to crush him in the Beginning: For which Purpose, having compleated an Army of 30000 Men, he set out from Isfahan in September, 1729, and march'd towards Khorasan. This News alarmed Shah Thamas, and likewise his General Nadir; but his Troops, being flush'd with their late Victory, feem'd eager to be led against the Enemy. He was glad to find them in this Disposition, especially as he had but little Hopes of raising any great Number of Recruits, few People caring to enlift, as they knew they were immediately to enter upon a desperate Action; however, he augmented his Army to near 16000 Men exclusive of the Troops left in Garrison: Having set out from Mushad, by slow Marches he came to a Place called Damgoon, where, posting himfelf advantageously, he waited the Enemy's Arrival. When Ashruff came there, finding Nadir Kuli fo well fituated, he was unwilling to attack him, but was over-ruled in Opinion by his Officers: They told him, that by his declining to come to Action, the Enemy

Enemy would obtain a cheap Victory; as the Country People (on hearing the Afghans were afraid to encounter the Persians) would rebel, and stop all Provisions from coming to the Army. Ashruff then proposed to march directly to Mushad without attacked Nadir Kuli; which being rejected, the Signal was given for Battle. The Event convinced the Afghan Officers of their Error; for attacking them at that Disadvantage gave the Persians a compleat Victory. 'Tis true it cost them dear, having lost above 4000 Men. The Loss sustained by the Afghans was about 12000, among whom were some of their best Officers.

After this Defeat Ashruff retired towards Isfahan, having scarcely a third Part of the Troops he set out with, a great Number of his Men (especially the Persians he had taken into his Service) having deserted after the Battle.

Shab Thamas, who was present in this Action, and an Eye-witness to the Conduct and Valour of his General, told him he had nothing to present him, worthy his Acceptance, but his own Name, and ordered that, for the suture, he should be called Thamas Kuli * with the Addition of Khan, which fignifies Lord.

Thamas Kuli Khan, (for fo we shall call him until he is elected King) having refreshed his Troops at Damgoun, marched towards Isfaban. The Afghans, on his Approach, quitted several of their Garrisons, and fled towards the Capital, and in some Places the Persians cut them off, declaring openly for Shah Thamas, and fending to Kuli Khan what Supplies of Men and Money they could furnish; so that, by the Time he arrived at Cashan, which is four Days Journey from Isfahan, his Army confisted of 40000 Horse and Foot. The Afghans laid in great Stores of Provisions, and seemed determined to defend themselves to the last Extremity; but their Leader Ashruff chose to try the Event of another Battle before he fuffered himself to be befieged. Having brought together all the Forces he could muster, which amounted to no more than 30000, confisting of Afghans, Darguzzis, Hazarris, Perhans, &c.

he

97

^{*} Thamas Kuli, signifies Thamas's Slave. The greatest Honour a Persian King can confer on any Subject, is giving him Liberty to make use of his own Name, altho' it is only to signify, he is his Slave.

he marched out to a Place called Mourcha Khor, which is about thirty English Miles from the City, and encamped there, waiting Khuli Khan's Arrival, which not being fo foon as he expected, he had fufficient Time to exercise his Cruelty on the Persians in and about Isfaban: At first, he ordered all the principal Men to be cut off, and afterwards all they could find in the Streets; fo that, for the Space of twenty Days, there was not a Persian to be seen abroad, none appearing but Women, who came out to buy the common Necessaries of Life. At last, Kuli Khan arrived at Mourcha Khor, where, engaging the Afghans, he obtained a compleat Victory. Ashruff, having lost 7000 Men, retired to Isfaban, where, calling a Council, it was refolved, that all the Inhabitants should be flaughtered, and the Palace and other Houses set on Fire; which being done, they were to march off with all the Effects they could carry with them. Just as they were on the Point of executing this barbarous Refolution, those whom Ashruff had appointed to watch the Motions of Kuli Khan, fent to acquaint him, that the Persian Army was in full March towards the City. Upon which, Ashruff

Ashruff ordered his Men to come to the Palace and load their Beafts with Money (of which there was a great Quantity) and then follow him, as they could only fave themselves by Flight. This Order was executed with fo much Dispatch, that before two o' Clock in the Afternoon there was scarce an Afghan to be seen in the City. The Perfians, who before lay concealed, came out, and began to plunder all Houses without Distinction; even the Peasants from the Outparts flocked in in great Numbers to have their Share of the Booty; but on the Arrival of 1500 of Thamas Kuli Khan's Troops, all the Rabble disappeared, and the Officers took Possession of the Palace, and placed Guards at the City Gates. The next Day being

November, 1730, he entered Isfaban with his whole Army, and continued there, cloathing his Men, and dividing among them the Plunder recovered from the Inhabitants. It was a Matter of Surprize to most People that he did not pursue the Afghans; but in a few Days afterwards it appeared he had some private Reasons for it: For, on Shah Thamas's Arrival (which was three Weeks afterwards) he declared that unless his Majesty would would give him the Power of levying Money in all Parts for the Payment of the Army, he would decline the Command thereof, and return to his own Country, being well affured that the Persons who should be ordered to supply him would be negligent, and by that Means frustrate all his Defigns. The King was averse to this Propofal, and had Thoughts of removing him, but could fix on no other who was fit to fupply his Place; having founded some of the principal Officers, he found them of Opinion, that it was better to comply with Kuli Khan's Humour for the present, and shew a proper Resentment of his Insolence when there was less Occasion for his Service; adding, that the Soldiers, at this Juncture, would be unwilling to ferve under any other General. At last, His Majesty consented but with the greatest Reluctancy: For, in giving that Power, he (in Effect) parted with his Crown. He did not even stop here, but heaped more Honours upon him, appointing him Generalissimo and Beglerbeg of Khorasan, and giving him his Aunt in Marriage. After obtaining these Favours he seemed perfeetly zealous for his Master's Service; and, in order to convince the World of his Sincerity, would fet out with an Army in the Middle of Winter against the Afghans, who, finding the Persians did not pursue them, when they quitted Isfahan, had taken up their Winter Quarters at Shiraz, and plundered and ravaged that Part of the Country in a barbarous Manner.

Kuli Khan, thro' the Severity of the Seafon, had lost upwards of 3000 Men; but, as his March was to the Southward, the Weather grew daily more favourable. Having arrived near Shiraz, Ashruff and his Afghans marched out with a Resolution once more to try their Fortune in Battle; they fought desperately for some Hours, but at last were put to Flight, having left a great Part of their Treasure and most of their Women and Children behind them. A strong Detachment of the Persians were sent in Pursuit of them, who made several of them Prisoners.

Ashruff, with about 1500 of his Men, marched directly towards Kandahar. In the Way most of them deserted him, having only 100 when he was surprized and set upon by a Body of the Balluches; with these sew he made a desparate and brave Defence, but being greatly overpowered, he and most of his Party were cut to Pieces.

Thamas Kuli Khan, having staid about a Month in Shiraz, fet out for Hamadan, in order to recover it, with other Places formerly belonging to the Perfians, which the Turks had feized during the late Troubles. On his Arrival there, Abdallah Basha came against him with all his Forces, who, being worsted, sled towards Carmanshah: Thamas Kuli pursued him thither, and defeated him a second Time. Having staid a few Days at Carmanshab, and fixed a Garrison there, he fet out for Tabriz. As soon as he recovered and fecured that important Place, he detached a strong Party to Ardebil, which the Enemy had quitted on their Approach. The Turks, being thus unfuccessful, demanded a Truce; which Thamas Kuli granted the more readily, as the Abdollees at Herat rebelled a second Time, and had a powerful Army in the Field.

Having secured, and left sufficient Garrifons in those Places he had lately recovered, he set out for Herat. After defeating the Abdollees Army, he laid Siege to the City, which which being a Place of great Strength, held out until Famine obliged them to furrender. He put the Governor and all the principal Men to Death, and having peopled the Place with Persians, and left a Garrison of his own Men therein, he marched to Mushad.

During this Time, Shah Thamas, who was at Isfaban, finding the Turks were fending Forces from Constantinople and other Parts towards the Frontiers of Persia, he raised an Army of 20000 Men, and set out for Tabrîz, where, joining the Troops left there by Thamas Kuli, he marched to Erivan, and defeating a Body of Turks, befieged the Castle, but not being able to supply his Army with Provisions there, he returned to Tabriz, and from thence intended to advance towards Carmanshab, but was prevented by Abmed Basha, who, coming against him with a superior Army, entirely defeated him. A few Days after this Battle, the Basha sent him Word, he was impowered by the Grand Signior to conclude a Peace with him. The King came readily into the Basha's Proposals, which were, that each Party should remain in Possession of what they had then got.

When

When Thamas Kuli Khan was informed of this Peace he was greatly enraged, and wrote to the King and several of the Nobility, acquainting them, he would foon wait on His Majesty, and convince him of the Necessity there was to break this scandalous Peace. Accordingly he fet out with all Speed from Mushad, and in August, 1732. arrived at Isfaban with his whole Army, which amounted to upwards of 60000, all choice Troops. He waited on the King, and told him, He ought first to make an Example of those who advised him to such dishonourable Meafures, and then carry on the War with Vigour against the Enemy. The King seeming unwilling to break the Peace he had concluded with the Turks, Thamas Kuli Khan told him, he had good Reason to believe most of the Courtiers were his Enemies, and had been endeavouring to prevail with His Majesty to take away his Life. The King asfured him his Informations were not true. Upon which Kuli Khan presented the King with a Bundle of Letters, telling him, these would convince his Majesty, that he had just Ground for his Apprehensions. After which he took his Leave.

These Letters had been wrote to him privately by several of the Nobility at Court; in which they informed against each other, and acquainted him with their Designs against him. They also let him know what had passed in several Conversations with the King; at the same Time resecting on his Majesty's Incapacity, and assuring Kuli Khan how much they had his Interest at Heart.

The King was astonished when he perused these Letters, and finding the Treason too general to be taken any notice of, unless he resolved to cut off the greatest Part of the Nobility, he destroyed the Letters, being determined to wait for a more convenient Opportion.

tunity of refenting their Villany.

In Italian and his Friends, and disband the Army; and that the King's Intention was to defroy him and his Friends, and disband the Army; and that the late shameful Peace concluded with the Turks was chiefly with a View of having more Leisure and Opportunity to accomplish his Designs. Kuli Khan told them, the only Expedient to save them and himself, would be to depose the King, and set up his Son in his Stead; by which Means they should have a fair Pretence of making a Rupture with the Ottoman Porte: His Officers came readily into this Scheme, which was executed in the following manner.

Kuli Khan invited the King to a Review of the Army; he accordingly went, and was exceedingly delighted with the fine Appearance they made, and the Performance of their Exercise, the Merit of which he publickly attributed to the General. As the King was riding thro' the Ranks, some of the Under-officers and Soldiers faid aloud, " If your " Majesty has any Commands, we are ready " to execute them." This at first surprized Kuli Khan, but on recovering himself, he, with his usual Presence of Mind, addressed the King, defiring him to tell them they were to obey their General Thamas Kuli Khan, to whom he had given the fole Command of the Army; which his Majesty complied with, and then went to a Banquet which had been prepared for him in the General's neral's Tent. The King having indulged too freely in drinking Wine, (which 'tis supposed was mixed with some introxicating Drug) he fell asleep on his Sofa. The General ordered his own People to carry him to a Seraglio in the Garden of Hazar Jerib. His Majesty's Servants who were then in Waiting, seeming to dispute Kuli Khan's Orders, by telling him, they would take Care of the King, were commanded to withdraw at their Peril; upon which they endeavoured to make their Escape, but were seized by the Guards, and confined.

After Kuli Khan had fecured the King, and placed Guards over him, he returned to his Tent, where most of the General Officers, who had been present at this Scene, were attending. He asked them, what was to be done further with the King? They replied, Nothing more than what is already done: But he soon perswaded them it would be necessary to keep him confined in some remote Part of the Empire: and accordingly three Days afterwards he was sent to Mazandran, attended by a Guard of 6000 Men, among whom were very sew Persian Troops, being P 2 chiefly Afghans, and others of the Sunni Religion.

After seizing the King, he sent a strong Detachment to the City, to take Possession of the Palace, and place Guards at the City Gates, and in some of the principal Streets. Early next Morning he was proclaimed by Beat of Drum, that no Persons, on Pain of Death, should stir out of their Houses: At Noon sinding every Thing was quiet and easy, a second Proclamation was made, ordering all People to carry on their Business and several Occupations, and go abroad, as usual.

The Persians made secretly great Lamentations, imagining their King was killed; but being informed he was alive, they flattered themselves with Hopes that the Army would rife in his Defence.

Next Day after the King was fent away, Kuli Khan went to the Palace in great Pomp, attended by all the Officers both Civil and Military. He ordered the King's Son to be brought out of the Seraglio, who being then in his Cradle, was placed on the Throne; the Royal Diadem was put at the Head, and the Sword and Target fixed to the Side thereof; after after which, with the proper Ceremony, he was declared King, by the Name of Shah Abass the Third. Kuli Khan first swore Fidelity to him on the Koran, and the rest sollowed his Example.

This Mock Ceremony being over, he continued in the Palace until he had appointed proper Officers in the City, and removed those Governors of distant Province whom he did not care to confide in: Afterwards he fet out with his Forces against the Turks, and meeting Ahmed Basha at the Head of a numerous Army, within a few Days Journey of Baghdad, he entirely defeated him, and marched towards the City, which he laid close Siege to. The Garrison being very numerous, defended it a long Time, but a terrible Famine raging amongst them, they were on the Point of furrendering, when Topal Othman, Basha Seraskier, and several other Bashas came with an Army, which, including Servants, &c. was upwards of 200000 Men. Having advanced near Baghdad, they obliged Thamas Kuli Khan to raise the Siege, and give 'em Battle. The Perfian Army, which then confisted of 120000 Men, charged so furiously, and seconded their Attacks with so much Vigour, that the Turks were on the Point of giving Way, when Kuli Khan's Horse was shot under him. Having fought some Time on Foot, before he could get re-mounted, his Standard-bearer concluded he was killed, and rode off with the Colours. This alarm'd the whole Army, who instantly faced about and fled: Kuli Khan endeavoured to rally them, but to no Purpose; the Turks purfuing with great Fury, made a terrible Slaughter of them: The Perfians lost in this Action upwards of 60000 Men, and the Turks nigh as many.

This Defeat would have discouraged any but Kuli Khan, who had a Soul fuperior to all Misfortunes. He stopped at Hamadan, where in a few Days most of the Troops who were dispersed joined him. He told them he had certain Intelligence the Turks had given over Pursuit, and had divided their vast Army into lesser Parties, for the Convenience of foraging and getting Provisions, of which they were in great Want: He was determin'd to go and attack 'em one Party after another, and either conquer or die, fince after what had been already done they could expect no Mercy from their Country, to which they must must never return but in Triumph: And should they give the Turks any Time to refresh and unite their Troops, they would certainly be an Over-match for them. His Officers being entirely of the same Opinion, he marched back with great Expedition, and fell upon the first Party of the Turks, who, imagining him to be at a great Distance, were not prepared to receive him. Having successively beat three considerable Bodies of them, he at last encountered Topal Othman Basha, at the Head of 60,000 Men, who being shot in the Beginning of the Action, his whole Army was soon routed, and put to Flight.

NADIR SHAH. iir

Since this Battle the Turks have not appeared in the Field against him, but suffered him for two Years successively to take one Place after another, some by Storm, and others by Capitulation, till he had recovered all the Territories they had seized during the late Troubles.

This unexpected Success had greatly raised his Reputation, and Volunteers came from all Quarters to offer him their Service. Having compleated a choice Army, he marched a second Time to besiege Baghdad. When

When the Siege was pretty far advanced, he received News, that Mahommed Khan Bulluche, one of his Generals, had rebelled, and proclaimed Shah Thamas King; that he had taken the City of Shiraz, and had an Army of 30000 Men, which increased daily: Whereupon Kuli Khan immediately raised the Siege, and marching with all Expedition against the Rebels, was upon them when they least expected him. Upon the first Report of his Troops being near, they marched out to attack them, imagining it was only a finall Detachment under the Command of one of his Officers, but they had not advanced above 20 Miles before they met him at the Head of his Van-Guard, which confisted of 12000 Men. Mahommed Khan Balluche being overjoyed to find him attended by fo few, told his Officers, that Fortune had delivered Thamas Kuli Khan into their Hands; that they might eafily defeat him, before he could have any Succours, as his main Army was a Days Journey behind: But when they approached each other, and heard Kuli Khan thundering out his Orders, they were struck with such a Panick, that they fled, without fustaining his first Attack:

Attack. Mahommed Khan Balluche, who was personally brave, having fingled out Kuli Khan, rode full Speed towards him; being repulfed, he fought his Way back again, and intended to make his Escape, by croffing the Gulf of Perfia in an Arab Veffel; but those treacherous People seized him, and, in hopes of a Reward, carried him to Thamas Kuli Khan, who fent him to Prison, in order to force him into a Confession of his Accomplices, and what Treasure and Effects he had. In this he was disappointed, for the Moment Mahommed Khan Balluche was left alone, he hanged himself. They could find no Papers that gave any Account of the Persons he corresponded with, or where his Effects (which were very confiderable) had been deposited. Thus ended this brave Man, who was defervedly esteemed for several good Qualities; he was as great (tho' not fo fortunate) a Soldier, as any in the East, and judged to be the best Horseman in Persia.

Thamas Kuli Khan staid a few Days in Shiraz, being employed in putting to Death fome of the principal Persons concerned in the Rebellion, and seizing their Effects. He afterwards returned to Isfahan, where settling fome Affairs, he set out for Georgia, and took the Capital Teffis by Storm, upon which the whole Country submitted to him; from thence he marched to Erivan, the Capital of Armenia, which having recovered, he afterwards took Shamakhi by Capitulation, and Ganjan by Storm. In the mean Time, hefent a Messenger to the Russians to desire them to relinquish Gilan and the Silk Countries, according to their Promise, otherwise he should be obliged to pay them a Vifit; as they had no Inclination to enter into a War with him, they evacuated all the Places on this Side the Cafpian Sea, except Derbend and Bachu, which he had given up to them. Upon this he concluded a firm Peace with them, and not long after made a Peace with the Turks.

Having thus settled Affairs in Regard to those two Powers, he sent a general Edict to all the Rulers of Provinces, Chiefs of Tribes, and Governors of Cities and Towns, commanding them to meet him on a certain Day in the Plains of Chuli Mogham, on Pain of high Displeasure. At the Time appointed they appeared, to the Number of 6000 and apwards, at the said Place, where they found him encamp'd with an Army of 150000 Men.

Men. Thamas Kuli Khan ordering them to appear before him, he told them, the Reason of calling them together was to acquaint them that he had now fubdued all the Enemies of the Persian Empire, except the Kandahar Afghans, whom he was determined to march against very soon; that, after he had reduced them to Obedience, he intended to retire, and end the Remainder of his Days in Peace and Tranquility, unless his Country should again require his Service; that he had made Peace with the Turks and Muscovites, and chastised the Tartars, and other Enemies on the Frontiers, in fuch a Manner, that (in all Probability) they would remain quiet for a long Time, fo that it only remained with them to elect a King, either Shah Thamas their late Sovereign, or any other whom they judged the most capable; adding that he expected their Answer in three Days. After this he retired to his Tent, and gave Orders that the faid Assembly should be entertained at the public Expence, during their Stay in the Camp. In the mean Time, Kuli Khan's Creatures took Care to intimate to the principal Persons, that they ought to compliment their Regent and General with an Offer of the Crown, tho' at the fame Time, they were certain he would not accept of it. When the Time was expired, they waited on him with an Address; in which, after setting forth the fignal Services he had done to his Country, they begg'd he would accept of the Crown and take the Charge of the Empire upon him, and that they (as faithful Subjects) would affift him on all Occasions with their Lives and Fortunes. Thamas Kuli Khan told them, that he thank'd them for the Honour they had done him, which was contrary to his Intention in calling them together, yet as he look'd upon the Voice of the People to be the Voice of God, he must fubmit to the Cares of a Crown, and facrifice his own Ease to the public Good, not doubting but (by the Bleffing of the Almighty, and their unanimous Concurrence) he should raise the Persian Nation to as great a Pitch of Glory as any of their former Kings had done. And, in order to fet out right, and have a perfect Understanding with them, he should require three Things to be solemnly confirmed by them:

of

I. That they should make the Crown Hereditary to his Heirs for ever.

II. That no one, on Pain of Death, and Confiscation of Effects, should presume to take up Arms in Favour of the late Royal Family, or any Branch thereof, on any Pretence whatever, nor so much as mention any Thing tending to Rebellion.

III. That, as great Disturbances and Mischiefs had always arose between them and their Neighbours, the Turks, Indians, and Tartars, on Account of the Disserence of Religion, he desired a Number of the Religious of both Sects might assemble to consider of, and resolve upon, an Uniformity; adding, that as the Points in which the Sunnis and Schias* differed were not very essentiation.

The Schias are they who dispute the Lawfulness of the Succession of Abubuckr, Aumar, and Othman, and maintain that Mortisa Ali (according to the Prophet's Will) ought immediately to succeed him. They pay no Regard to the Opinions of the abovementioned Doctors, but are entirely guided by their own Imâms.

^{*} The Sunnis are those Mahommedans, who acknow-ledge as lawful the Succession of Abubuckr, Aumar, Othman, and Ali, and receive the Koran and Mahommed's Traditions in the Sense they are expounded by their four great Doctors, Abul Hanifa, Malek, Shafi, and Hanbal.

tial, he was of Opinion an Accommodation might be easily effected.

The Grandees came readily into the two first Articles, but as to the last they defired he would first hear what the Mullah Bashi (or High-Priest) had to offer on that Head before they should subscribe to it. Accordingly the High-Priest addressed him, and said, As to Matters of Religion we have the Law of God, and the Traditions of his Pro-' phet Mahommed to direct us, it is not for ! Princes to make Innovations therein; and ' therefore I humbly hope your Majesty will onot begin your Reign with attempting to overthrow the Established Religion, as a Step of that Nature must be attended with ' dangerous Consequences.' Then Kuli Khan immediately ordered him to be strangled, to prevent the People from attempting to fecond his Discourse, which they would certainly have done, if this fudden Execution has not detered them from it. He then asked the People whether they would fubscribe, and take Oaths to what he had proposed; which they tamely and readily submitted to. The next Day, being March 1735-6. he was proclaimed Emperor of Persia, by the Name of Nadir Shah, on which Occasion Coins, with a pompous Inscription *, were struck in his Name.

Having

* On Nadir Shah's being proclaimed King, Coins were struck in his Name with the following Inscription.

سکه بر زر کرد نام سلطنت در جهان نادر بران نرمین و خسرو کبتی ستان

Sicca bir Zir Curd nam é Sultanit dir Jehan Nadir é Irân Zemmi v' Khofro é Geti Setun.

Which fignifies,

Coins and Money have proclaimed through the Earth, the Reign of Nadir of Persian Soil, and the King who conquers the World.

On the Reverse in a Cypher,

Al Khér fi ma vackeh.

Which signifies, What has happened is best.

The Numerical Letters of the faid Motto, make up 1148. the Year he usurp'd the Crown.

Dr. Mead has one of these, with two other different Coins, which have been struck in Nadir Shah's Name. One

120 . The HISTORY of

Having entertained the Assembly in a grand Manner, for the Space of three Days, he dismissed them with Presents, and treated them all with great Civility, excepting the Priests, who he found were commenced his

The other, which was struck in India, after his Victory at Karnal, has on one Side.

هستسلطان بر سلاطبی جهان شالا شاهان نادر صاحب قران

Hist Sultan, bir Salain Jehan Shah é Shahan Nadir Shaheb é Kéran.

Which is to fay,

Nadir, the Master of Fortune, and King of Kings, is the most powerful of the Princes of the Earth.

On the Reverse,

Which fignifies,

May God perpetuate his Reign. Struck at Ahmedabad in 1152.

bitter

bitter Enemies, for cutting off the Mullah Bashi, and for the Alteration they found he was determined to make in Religion; but, in order to prevent their being able to do him any Injury, he fent for the Chiefs of them, and ask'd in what Manner they employed the vast Revenues they had. The told him. that they apply'd them to the religious Purposes for which they were intended, such as Salaries for Priests, the Maintenance of Colleges, and a great Number of Mosques, in which Prayers were daily and hourly offered up for Success to the Arms of their Prince, and Prosperity to the Empire of Persia. He told them, that by Experience it was evident their Prayers had not been heard, fince for fifty Years past the Nation has been on the Decline, and at last almost ruined by Invafions and Rebellions, until God's victorious Instruments (meaning his Army) had come to its Relief, who were now ready to facrifice their Lives for the Defence and Glory thereof; that these poor Priests (pointing to his Soldiers) were in Want, and must be supply'd by fome Means or other; that therefore it was his Royal Pleasure, that the greatest Part of the Church Lands and Revenues should be confiscated and appropriated towards paying the Army; which was accordingly done, and by an exact Computation found to amount to near 1,000,000 Tomans, which is about 3,000,000 l. per Annum. The Priests were highly enraged at this Treatment, and did all they could to stir up the Army and People against him; the former, being above half Sunnis, only laughed at them; and the latter, when they confidered that by this they were to be eased of a Part of the Taxes, were not diffatisfy'd with it. After this Kuli Khan sent for the Chiefs of the People, and, acquainting them with what he had done, told them, if they wanted Priests, they must provide them at their own Expence; that, for his Part, having little Occasion for any, he would be at no Charge about them. He then published an Edict (of which the following is a literal Translation) ordering all his Subjects to conform to the Sunni Religion, on Pain of his Royal Displeasure.

be

A Translation + of Nadir Shah's

Edict for an Uniformity of Religion between the Schias and Sunnis.

of great Power, the Governor, Ministers of the Law, and learned Men of the Royal Residence of Isfahan, being exacted at the King's Favour, K N O W, alted thro' the King's Favour, K N O W, at the While the abode of our Ensigns (on whom Victory attends) was at Sebrat Mogham ‡. It was agreed at several Meetarings, that from henceforth, according to ancient Custom (being fix'd and establish.

† This Edict is translated from a Copy in the Original Persic, which Dr. Mead was pleased to favour me with.

* The Sedr is a Person of great Authority in the Empire, who has the absolute Management of Church Lands, and what Revenues are appropriated towards the maintaining of public Schools, Salaries to Learned Men, and other pious Uses.

I The fame as Chuli Mogham.

willing as

ke ed

"ed in the Religion of Hanifa | and Jaffer §,
"as transmitted to us by our Predecessors)
"we do acknowledge the + directing Khalifs

" (in all whom the high God is pleased) as

" the Successors of the Chief of Messengers *;

"and whenever they present themselves,

" mention the Names of each of the Four

"with great Respect. Moreover, in some " Places of these Kingdoms, at the Time

" of calling to Prayers, and standing up at

" Prayer, they mention these Words, Ali

" the Friend of GoD I, according to the Hanifa, one of the four great Doctors, so famous for expounding the Mahommedan Law.

§ Jaffer, one of the Imâms, whose Opinion in several Points the Sunnis themselves pay the greatest Regard to.

† خلفا راشدى Khulfa Raschedein, the directing Khalis, by which are always meant Abubucker, Aumar, Othman, and Ali.

* By the Chief of Messengers is meant Mahommed.

‡ على ولجائله Ali vulli Allah, or Ali the Friend of God, is always annexed by the Schias to their Kelmah in this Manner,

لا اله الا الله محمد رسول الله وعلى ولي الله

La Ilah il Allah, Mahommed Rasoul Allah v' Ali Vulli Allah. Which is literally, There is no God but God, and Mahommed the Prophet of God, and Ali the Friend of God.

" ufual

" usual Method of the Schias, and contrary " to those who are Orthodox. This is repug-" nant to Religion, and contrary to the " Agreement and Covenant enter'd into. " Besides, it is evident to the World, that " as the Prince of the Faithful, the Lyon " of God, the Victorious ||, is elect, prais'd s and acceptable to the Lord of Glory, his "Rank and Interest at the Court of Unity " will not be increased by vulgar Testimony, " nor the full Moon of his Power be di-" minished by omitting these Words. The "ill Consequence of this Form is, that both " Sects §, who equally acknowledge the " Chief and Prophet + of both Worlds, will by this Difference be provoked to Animofities, which are difagreeable both to the " Prophet and to the Prince of the Faithful *. "Wherefore, as foon as the Purport of this

"Emîr al Mominîn, أمير المومنين اسد الله الغالب ال Affad Allah, al Ghaleb, the Prince of the Faithful, the Lyon of God, the Victorious, were Mortisa Ali's Titles. He is faid to be Elect, Praised, and Acceptable to GoD, because there is honourable mention made of him in the Koran.

[§] The Sunnis and Schias.

⁺ Mahommed.

^{*} Mortisa Ali.

126 The HISTORY of

" high Edict is known, let it be fignified to " all Mussulmen, High and Low, Great and Small, the Callers to Prayer in the City, its Dependencies, and the adjacent Countries, That from this Day henceforth, these Words, as differing from the Ortho-"dox Custom, be not mentioned. It is " also usual with the Governors in their " Assemblies, after Fattaba and Tokbîr t, to " fay, May the King from whom all our " Fortune flows, live for ever. As a Tokbir for perpetuating a mortal Man is vain, and " of no Effect, I expresly order that every " Khan who is a Master of a Tabal | and En-" fign, fay it in this Manner, Thanks to the " true King for all Benefits. From hence-" forward all Persons must observe these ce settled Regulations, and written Or-" ders: For, whosoever deviates therefrom, will incur the Displeasure of the King

Fattaba is a prefatory Prayer, which is generally the first Soura or Chapter of the Koran. Tokbîr is repeating three times these Words, Allah Akbah, which is to say, God is Greatest, before the Kelmah abovementioned.

Tabal is a small Drum, which General Officers have fixed to their Saddles.

of Kings. Written in the Month Safer, 1149*."

This Edict was received with great Joy by Numbers of his Subjects, as many being fecretly of that Perfwasion, as of the Schia established Religion; it was particularly agreeable to his Soldiers, who being chiefly Sunnis, became thereby the more attach'd to him. However impolitic these Steps might have seem'd at first, yet it was the only Method he could have thought of in order to establish himself and his Heirs on the Throne of Persia; besides the Advantages it already has and may still give him in his future Designs on his Neighbours, who are of the same Religion which he has now established in Persia.

Shortly after he was elected and proclaimed King, he went to the City of Kazvin (or Kasbin) where the Ceremony of Inauguration of the Persian Monarchs is performed. Having girt on the Royal Scymitar, and put the Imperial Crown on his Head, he took the usual Oath, which is, To govern the People according to the Laws of God, as revealed by his Prophet Mahommed, and protect and defend them against all their Enemies.

* June 1736,

After this, he marched with his Army to Isfahan, where he continued some Time, making Preparations for his Expedition to Kandabar. During his Stay there, he received the Compliments of the neighbouring Powers: The Grand Signior and Moghol acknowledged him as Emperor of Perfia, and at the same time congratulated him on having established the true Orthodox Religion in his Empire, and discouraged the former Herefy.

In December, 1736, Nadir Shah set out from Isfaban, with an Army of upwards of 80000, chiefly Horse, and marched towards Kandahar, by the Way of Carmania, and was shortly after followed by Thamas Khan

Vakeel with about 40000 more.

What happened after this, the Gentleman who favoured me with the above Memoirs is a Stranger to; excepting that on his Departure from Persia to India, which was in February. 1736-7, he heard Nadir Shah had befieged Kandahar. His Transactions fince that Time, I shall continue as translated from some Persie Manuscripts, Manuscripts, which I have mentioned in the Preface.

The same Gentleman has also savoured me with a personal Description and Character of this great Heroe, which I shall reserve for the Conclusion of these Sheets.

Nadir Shah, having securely established himself, and settled his Affairs in Persia, he left his Son Reza Kuli Mirza to command there, and set out with his Army towards Kandahar. Hossein Khan, the Governor thereof, having laid up great Stores of Provisions and Ammunition, held out for 18 Months; at last, being reduced to Straits, he sallied out with his Men, most of whom died bravely sighting. Hossein Khan and his Son being taken Prisoners, the Persians entered the Castle, and took Possession thereof.

While Nadir Shah was bufy in fecuring and fortifying Kandahar, and bringing over to him the Zemidars of those Parts, Letters came from Nizam al Muluck and Saadit Khan, inviting him to march towards Hindostan. In Answer to which, he objected the Difficulties of getting thro' the Defiles, passing the great Rivers, and the many Encounters he must must expect to have with the Afghans, and the warlike Nations of those Parts, the Opposition he must expect from Naçir Khan, Soubabdar of Cabul, and Zekaria Khan, Ruler of Labor; and, last of all (should his Fortune surmount all these) his Fate will depend on his Success against a powerful Imperial Army. They foon fatisfied him how unnecessary his Fears were, and that, before he cross'd the Attok*, he should have a Proof how able they were, and how much inclined to facilitate his Passage. Being encouraged by those Representations, he set out with an Army of 125,000 Horse, Kuzzlebash, Georgians, Turks, Khorasanis, Balkhis, &c. all inured to Fatigues and Hardships; they were well provided for this Expedition, and greatly encouraged thereto by the Hopes he gave them, of not only enriching themselves, but bringing Wealth and Glory to their impoverished Country, by the Plunder of India. In ^{*} Attok is the Name of a River, that separates the Province of Lahor from Peishor. There is but one Place where an Army can be conveniently transported, the Stream being so rapid in most Parts. There is a Castle commanding that Passage, called the Castle of Attok.

the mean Time, Nizam al Muluck and Saadit Khan used all their Endeavours secretly to promote his Interest, and wrote to Sherzih Khan +, Governor of the Castle of Cabul, and Naçir Khan, Soubabdar of that Province (who was a Creature of Khandoran's) as also to Zekaria Khan, Ruler of the Province of Lahor, to this Purport: ' Nadir Shah, being thoroughly informed of the State of ' Affairs in India, and that his Imperial Ma-' jesty and favourite Courtiers employ their 'Time in Wine and Women, has come to 'a Resolution to strike a Blow at this Em-' pire. You well know that none of the great Ones here are fit to take the Field, much less to resist a Man who is conducted by Fortune. As this is the Case, you can have little Hopes of Affistance from hence; the best you can do will be to be-' have discreetly, and save yourselves.' These Letters cooled them pretty much, and had + 'Tis customary in India to have two Governors, the Mogbol. The Governor of the City is called the Mogbol. The Governor of the City is called the Caftle is called the Mogbol. The Governor of the City is called the Mogbol. The Governor of the City is called the Mogbol. The Governor of the City is called the Mogbol. The Governor of the City is called the Mogbol. The Governor of the City is called the Mogbol. The Governor of the City is called the Mogbol. The Governor of the City is called the Mogbol. The Governor of the City is called the Mogbol. The Governor of the City is called the Mogbol.

132 The HISTORY of

the defired Effect with Naçir Khan and Ze-karia Khan.

Nadir Shah, having fubdued Ghorbund and Ghoznavi, and garrison'd them with his own People, came to Cabul and befreged it. Nagir Khan (before his Arrival) had left it, and marched to Peishor; but Sherzih Khan defended both the City and Castle for 6 Weeks with the utmost Bravery, and wrote repeatedly to Naçir Khan, and to Court for Affistance; but none coming, both City and Castle were at last taken by Storm, and he and his Son were put to Death. Nadir Shab found Treasure, Jewels, Arms, &c. to a great Value, which, fince the Great Moghol Babr's Time, had been shut up in Vaults. When the Taking of Cabul was known at Court, the Emperor gave Orders to get his Troops in Readiness, and provide all Things necessary for taking the Field. As Rajab Jessing was more attached to Khandoran than to any of the other Omras, he repeatedly wrote to him to this Purport: ' Nadir Shah's ' Coming is a concerted Thing. You must be watchful over the Moghol Omras +, who

' feem to be united in order to compass some

' treacherous Defign. Naçir Khan and Sher-

' zib Khan have always been supported by

' the Court; one has facrificed his Life to 'its Interest, and the other (afraid of his Life) has fled to Peishor. If Zekaria Khan,

Ruler of Labor, makes any Opposition, it

' will give the Emperor's Army Time to ad' vance pretty far, in order to check this In-

' vader; as for us Rajpouts we are ready to

' join the Royal Enfigns.

Khandoran knowing him to be well-affected, represented this to the Emperor, and told him, it would be very imprudent in him to leave the Capital, and take the Field: However, it was at last agreed, that the Army should march to Labor, that the Emperor should accompany it so far, and that from thence it should proceed towards Cabul, under the Command of Nizam al Muluck, and the other two Omras; for which Purpose,

[‡] By the Moghol Omras, he means those of Tartar and Persian Families, whom the Indians, without Distinction, call Moghols.

the Peishkhanna * was ordered out to the Gardens of Shalimar; but after it was fent thither, to every Body's Surprize, Khandoran came back to the Palace, and delayed the March, whereas Nizam seemed to be for haftening it all in his Power. The Emperor's Bervants, who knew Khandoran to be attached to their Master, contrived all the Impediments they could think of, so that Nadir Shah had not only Time to secure Cabul, but was far advanced in his March to Peisbor +, where the Afghans and Mountaineers very much incommoded him, and kept him in Play for Seven Weeks; in which Time he had a great many Men wounded and killed. Seeing there was no forcing the Passes, without much Bloodshed, and that the Afghans had fortified themselves on the Tops of the Hills; he fent them Offers of Accommodation, which they came into the more readily, as the Soubabdars had fent no Affistance; and that they had been four or five Years without

+ Peishor is 202 measured Coss from Dehli, 97 from

Lahor, and 35 from Aitok.

^{*} Peishkhanna signifies the Tents, &c. that are sent before to the Place where the Prince, or General Officer, designs to halt, or encamp.

receiving any of their usual Allowance t from Court: Upon Nadir Shah's paying them a certain Sum of Money, they not only let him pass unmolested, but several of them listed in his Army; the other Afghans hearing of this, followed their Example. So, leaving the main Army behind, with 10,000 chosen Horse of Kuzzlebash ||, in seven Days he got to Peishor. Naçir Khan, who with 7000 Horse had incamped without the City, not imagining he could get through the Passes so soon, upon hearing of his Approach with so large a Body of Horse, was greatly perplexed; several of his Auxiliaries left him, and few besides the King's Men stood by him, who, after a brave Resistance, were defeated,

† As the Revenues of those mountainous Parts and the Passes, are not sufficient to maintain a requisite Number of Troops for the Defence thereof, there was a certain Sum appointed to be yearly remitted thicher, which of late had been neglected.

الماش الالاعتادة Kuzziebash, are an Order of Soldiers among the Persians, as the Janizaries (or more properly Ingecherris) among the Turks. It fignifies, in the Turkish Language, Red Heads, so called from the Red Caps they wore when first instituted by Shekh Heydr, the Father of Shah Ismael first King of the Seffi Family.

and Naçir Khan taken Prisoner. Some Afghans who, waiting the Event, were posted on the Hills, feeing Nadir Shah prevail, came and offered him their Service. After this Victory, he entered Peishor and took Possession thereof. When the News of this Defeat came to Court, Nizam al Muluck, Khandoran, Kummir o'din Khan, and the other Omras, according to the King's Order, on the second of January, 1738-9, marched out with a numerous Army, a large Train of Artillery, and other warlike Necessaries, in order to oppose this Conqueror; and halted at the Gardens of Shalimar. Nizam, who was the Contriver of this Storm, endeavoured all he could to prepoffess the Minds of the Soldiers with a Terror of Nadir Shah's Forces, and how vain it was to refift him; and, at the same Time, amused them to divert their going too far forward: But the King iffued out Orders, that Nizam and the other Omras should advance with all Expedition, he himself intending to follow soon after them. Nizam al Muluck, and the rest, according to these Orders, marched on, and encamped in the Plains of Karnal, which is Fifty-Five Coss Coss * distant from Dehli. The Emperor also set out the 18 of January, 1738-9, and on the 4th of February joined them.

Nadir Shah having secured Peishor, and croffed the Attok, marched directly towards Labor; Zekaria Khan, Soubabdar thereof, had (to Appearance) fortified the Place in the best Manner possible, and having entrenched himself without, seemed eager to engage the Enemy, but as foon as Nadir Shah's Troops came within Sight of the Intrenchments (having had his Lesson from Nizam al Muluck) at a Signal given, he and all his Forces retreated to the Castle, from whence they cannonaded the Persians three Days, after which, having capitulated, one of the Conditions being, that the City should be spared, a Thousand Kuzzlebash took posfession of the Castle, and Nadir Shah having staid one Week in the Gardens called Shalimar + of that City, he, with his whole Army, by continued Marches, arrived at the Village Tillauvri, which is near Karnal.

^{*} The Coss mentioned here are short computed ones, this Place being no more than 26 measured Coss from Dehli.

[†] There are Gardens at Lahor also called Shalimar, as well as at Dehli.

Before I begin with the Journal of Nadir Shah's Transactions, after bis Arrival at Karnal, I shall trouble the Reader with Translations of some genuine Letters, which having been wrote before the Persian Army crossed the Attock, I thought this the properest Place for inserting them.

A Translation of a Letter from Nadir Shah to Mahummed Shah, received the Begining of Jumadi al avul 1 151, which is about the middle of August.

RE it clear to the enlightened Mind of your high Majesty, that my coming to

- Cabul, and poffeffing myself thereof, was
- purely out of Zeal for Islâm*, and Friend-' ship for you. I never could have imagin-
- ed, that the Wretches + of Deccan should
- ' impose a Tribute on the Dominions of the
- ' King of Mussulmen. My Stay on this side
- ' the Attock is with a View, that, when these

^{*} By Islâm (which literally fignifies Safety) is meant the Mahommedan Religion.

⁺ The Maharattas or Ganims.

Infidels

Infidels move towards Hindostan +, I may

' fend an Army of the victorious Kuzzlebash

' to drive them to the Abyss of Hell. Hi" story || is full of the Friendship that has

' fubfifted between our Kings, and your

' Majesty's Predecessors. By Ali Mortisa,

' I swear, that (excepting friendship, and a ' Concern for Religion) I neither had, nor

' have any other views; if you suspect the

' contrary you may; I always was, and will ' be a Friend to your illustrious House.'

About the latter End of August, an Embassador came with another letter, demanding four Crores of Rupees (5,000,000 l.) and four Soubabs or Provinces.

† The Province of Dehli, in particular, is called by this Name; but it is generally used to signify the whole Empire.

| Vide Tarikh Alum Arai by Secander Beg in the Life of Shah Thamas, and the first Volume of Akbar

Nama in the Life of Hemaiun.

- A Translation of some Paragraphs of a Letter wrote by a Kuzzlebash in Nadir Shah's Camp, at Jillalabad, to a Friend of his at Dehli, concerning Nadir Shah.
- HE has 36,000 Horsemen with himfelf; Kassum Beg Khan is Nazem
- Munazem, Motbir al Muluck, and Ait-
- " mad al Dowlat *; the Son of Maurli, is
- · Arrizbegi +. Questions and Answers are
- entirely managed by these two, and besides
- ' them, none have the Power of preferring
- Petitions, or representing any Thing to him;
- ' of the above Army 1000 Horse are Hajee
- Bashi's, called also Niquibs ‡, and 1000 are
- ' Shamkhi ||, and 1000 are Chaux §, who go
- before, crying out, Victory to the King of
- " Kings; 1000 Horse his special Guards, and
- * Nazem Munazem, the Orderer of what is to be ranged or put in Order; Mother al Muluck, Trust-worthy of the Kingdom; Aitmad al Dowlat, the Security of Fortune; these are the Titles of Kassum Beg Khan, who was Vizir.
- † Arrizbegi is the Person who presents all Petitions, either written, or by Word of Mouth.
 - † Niquibs are much the same as Corporals.
 - || So called from the Place they come from.
 - 5 Ghaux are a kind of Guards.

1000 Horsehis Jeloudan*, who alight and

" march on Foot close by his Person, but

' in Fight none of them attend him. Who' ever runs away, or turns his Back, is ordered to be cut off.

5000 Horse are detached with Hajee

Beg Khan, a Courd +, who is General. At ' present we are arrived at Peishor to fight

' Navob + Naçir Khan; 1000 Horsemen of ' his own People are along with Juan Kuli

' Beg Bashi, and 2000 Ous beg Horsemen from

Gunjh, 2000 Horse Rijee, 2000 Horse of the Turcomans, and 1000 Horse Kuzzle-

' bash, are under the Command of Sirdar

' Beg Afshar; 4000 Afghan Horse with

' Sêf Khan and Shahîn Khan, the Officers of

' Hoffein Khan, Governor of Kandahar, and

12000 Horse are lately arrived with Nadir

' Kuli's Son from Balkh, of which 1500 are

' fent back, aad the rest kept. There are

+ Courd, a Native of Courdistan.

‡ Navob is a Title frequently given to the Omras in India, derived from the Word Naib, Deputy, fignifying that they are the King's Vicegerents. In Persia 'tis given, among their other Titles, to the Wives, Sons, and Daughters of the Royal Family.

^{*} Jeloudar signifies, belonging to his Train or Equi-

4000 Shop-keepers, Musfulmen, who

' trade with the Shah's * Money, he standing to the lofs, if any happens.

' After Morning Prayers, he fits on a " Throne, the Canopy of which is in the Form of a Dome, and of Gold; 1000

' Young Men with Royal Standards of Red

Silk, and the Lance Tops and Taffels of Silver, are disposed regularly, and at a proper Distance; 500 beautiful Slaves, from 12 to 20 Years old, stand one half on his ' right Hand, and the other on his left; all

' the great Men stand fronting him, and the

' Arrizbegi stands between in a Readiness to represent whatever he is defired, and every Body has his Cause decided at once; Bribery is not so much as known here. He has ' particular information given him of every 'Thing that passes; all Criminals, Great and Small, Rich and Poor, meet with im' mediate Death. He sits till Noon, after which he dines, and then reposes a little;

when Afternoon-Prayers are over, he fits

' till the evening Prayers, and when they are ^{*} Nadir Shah.

- over, he shoots five Arrows into the Khak
- · Towda*, and then goes into the Womens
- ' Apartments.'
- A Translation of a Letter wrote by Sirbullind Khan's Secretary at Dehli, to Mirza Moghol, Son to Ali Mahommed Khan, at Ahmedabad, dated the 15th of Shaval, 1151, and received the 6th of Zeecadih, 1151; It is a true Account of the State of Affairs at Dehli, and the Reports that were Current there before Nadir Shah's Arrival.
- NADIR SHAH's coming has been talked of these eight Months past.
- ' He came to Khandahar, and from thence
- * Khak Towda is a Heap of fine Mold, well fifted, and beat strongly in betwixt two Stone Walls. 'Tis five Foot high, three Foot thick, and from three to four Foot broad. The Front of it very smooth and even, beat hard with a heavy Trowel. One who is well skilled, can shoot his Arrow into it quite to the Head; whereas one that shoots ill (be he never so strong) can't put a third Part in. The Arrows for this Exercise have the Iron Part quite round, about four Fingers long, of the Size of the Reed, until near the Point, where they are somewhat thicker, from which Part they taper gradually to a sharp point. The Length, from the thickest Part to the Point, is from \(\frac{3}{4} \) to 1 Inch.

† 15 January 1738-9. ‡ 5 February 1738-9.

144 The HISTORY of

to Cabul, which is the Limits of Hind *, of which he took Poffession; from thence

he fent an Embaffador to Mahommed Shah.

When we heard here of the Embassador's coming, and Cabul being taken Possession of, which was in the Month + Ribby al

' avul. The Emperor's Peishkhanna was sent out for an Expedition against Nadir Shah;

' which on Account of the Disharmony of

' the Omras, was kept in Suspence. About forty Lacks ‡ by Bills at different Times

' were remitted to Navob Naçir Khan, Sou-

' bahdar of Peishor, that he, joining with the ' Afghans of that Quarter, might make Head

' against Nadir Shab; the said Navob enlisted

' Men, and prepared to fight, expecting to

' be supported by an Army from Shahjehana-bad; notwithstanding which, until Rijub §, onothing was put in Execution. Nadir Shah

' at Cabul cultivated a Friendship with the

' Zemidars of that Quarter, and brought over

' to his Side the Tribe of the Safis, who ' are famous in those Parts. There were se' veral Messages passed and repassed between him and Naçir Khan, to whom no Affif-

^{*} Hind, the same as Hindostan.

⁺ June 1738. ‡ 500,000 l. § October 1738.

^{&#}x27; tance

ance came from Court; nevertheless he fought one good Battle, in which Nadir

Shah was victorious. The Safis conducted

' him through unufual and short Ways to

' the City of Peishor, which he took Posfession of in the Month of Shaban *. Navob

' Naçir Khan, who had run away, was taken by the Afghans, and delivered up to Nadir

' Shah, who kept him confined for some Days; but, at last, made him one of his · Vizirs.

When this News arrived at Court, on the 1st of Ramazan +, the Emperor sent

· Khandoran, Nizam, and Kummir o'dîn Khan against Nadir Shah; and, besides their own

' Jaguirs, advanced them one Crore || of

' Rupees out of the Treasury to enlist Men, and gave them 700 Carriage-Guns, and 5 3000 Harquebusses, and ordered the chief

" Omras to attend them; for which Purpose

they marched out this Day, and pitched

' their Tents in a Place close by the City, and began to enlist Men. Saadit Khan, being fent for from his Province to join them, had

^{*} November 1738. † December 3, 1738. | 1,250,000 l.

" already crossed the Ganges in his Way to Court, but was ordered to go back again, which he did. The Omras have been di' vided in Opinion and Interest a long Time;

for which Reason several unbecoming Mes-

' fages now passed between them. The · Emperor, who confulted Khandoran's Ease

' and Pleasure, ordered Nizam al Muluck and

' the Vizir to leave him at Court, and they

' to go on with the Expedition; but they excused themselves. In the mean Time,

' News was brought, that Nadir Shah (by

' Naçir Khan's Advice) had put on the In' dian Dress, and sat on the Throne in the ' Manner of the Indian Emperors, and that his Forces had croffed the Attock, and were on their March to Labor. On this News

the Emperor was quite confounded, and,

' fending for the Superintendant of the Boats,

' asked him how many Days it would take

' to go by Water to Patna or Kassi Benaris ||.

' It being told the Vizir and Nizam al Mu-

' luck, that the Emperor had fuch a Defign, they petition'd him, that these Slaves (mean' ing themselves) might not go upon the Ex-

|| A city in the Province of Alebabad, famous for the Indian Worship, and their Colleges there.

' pedition

' that he would resolve to put himself at their

' Head. Some Days passed in this Debate;

' at last it was agreed to send for Saadit Khan

' from his Province to take Care of his Ma' jesty in Shahjehanabad, and that the other

' Omras should march on towards Labor.

' Accordingly, on the 20th of Ramazan *,

one Mourid Khan was dispatched to Saadit

' Khan; in the Road to the Province of Au-

' dib fome Rebels robb'd him; however, af' ter much Trouble, he got to Saadit Khan,

' who happened to be then so sick that he ' could not stir; with which the Emperor

' being acquainted, he sent Physicians with ' orders to cure him as foon as possible; in ' the mean while a Petition arrived from Zeka-

' ria Khan Bahadr, Soubahdar of Lahor, to his

' Imperial Majesty, and three Letters more to

' the Navobs +, to this Purport: Nadir Shah's

' Army (which is a great one) is arrived near

' this Place, and all the Zemidars have joined

' bim; I with my little Army am ready to ' fight him. You must, by all Means, be ex-

^{*} December 22, 1738.

⁺ Nizam, Saadit Khan, and Khandoran.

· peditious in succouring me, lest Things should be past Remedy.'

' Ieminabad, which is a confiderable Place, and subordinate to Labor, was under Kul-

' linder Khan, one of Zekaria Khan's Officers, with a Body of 10000 Horse. Emir Khan,

one of Naçir Khan's Dependants, who now

' had fubmitted to Nadir Shah, with his own

' People and feveral Kuzzlebash, made an ' Attack by Night on the faid Place, in which Kullinder Khan was killed, and

' Emir Khan possessed himself of the Place.

' Nadir Shah's Munaddi * being beat about,

' and his Government acknowledged there:

' Upon hearing of this, Zekaria Khan, who ' had advanced 10 Coss from Labor, with ' an Army of 20,000 Horse, retired into

' the City: Upon which News here, on the

' 9th of Shaval +, Khandoran Nizam al Mu-

· luck, and Kummir o'din Khan, marched on 10 Coss, and the next Day 10 Coss

f more, and fo on, that they are now at

. Sonput, and Nadir Shah is yet in Peishor."

P. S. Corn prodigious dear, the People distracted.

* A small Drum that is beat about to notify or proclaim any Thing.

+ January 9, 1738-9.

A Translation of a second Letter from the same Person, dated the 20th of Shaval, received the 8th of Zeccadih, 1151 *.

Wrote you the 15th, with an Account of Affairs at Shahjehanabad and Lahor to that Date, and of the Omras being ' marched as far as Sonput. On the 18th of this Month + arrived News, that Zekaria Khan (being wrote to so to do by Naçir ' Khan, Soubabdar of Cabul, now Nadir Shah Vizir) sent Kefaet Khan, one of his principal Officers, to Nadir Shah, who used him kindly, and presented him with two Shauls; after some Conference, he sent his own Ambassador along with him to Zekaria Khan, who called the Ambassador into his General Divan, and to Appearance spoke very roughly to him, and at last confined ' him; after which he marched out of the ' City to fight Nadir Shah's Army: When ' the Fight began, and one Discharge of the ' Cannon was made, as they were preparing ' a fecond, the Kuzzlebash and Georgians fell ' in among them with their Swords, and ^{*} January 20, and February 7, 1738-9.

[†] January 18, 1738-9.

" made a great Slaughter. Zekaria Khan,

' upon this, retired into the City, and Nadir

Shah's Men purfued so fast, that they got

' in at the same Time. Zekaria Khan went to his own House, and Nadir Shah's Army

' to the Castle, who was immediately proclaimed there.

'On this News there was a fad Confusion

' here. The Emperor, on Thursday the 19th *

' in the Morning, sent for the young Prince

Sultan Ahmed, who came to wait on him

' in great Pomp and Splendor, fitting in a

' Paleki adorned with the richest Jewels; at

' ten o'Clock he mounted and came out of ' the Castle with an Intent to go upon the ' Expedition against Nadir Shah, and made the ' Prince (whom he had dignified with Titles and nominal Employments) his Harol +,

' and sent him before to the Gardens of Sha-

' limar: To-morrow they defign to continue

' their March till they overtake the Omras,

' to whom they wrote not to advance any further until they join them; Saadit Khan is

* January 19, 1738-9.

[†] Harol fignifies the Vanguard, or any Number of Forces that are fent before the main Army. The Officer who commands such a Body is also called Harol.

onot come up as yet; they fay he is arrived on the Banks of the Ganges. Things are in ' a terrible Confusion here, Numbers of creditable People and Merchants going daily

' away to distant Places, and to the Rajahs

' strong Holds; 80 Kuzzlebash had their

' Bellies ript up at Cabul, for only being pre-

' fent when some of their own People forced

one of the Countrywomen.'

A Journal of Nadir Shah's Transactions in India, translated from the original Copy, wrote at Dehli, by Mirza Zuman, Secretary to Surbullind Khan.

N the 12th of Zeccadib §, the Royal Camp *, in Circuit about feven Coss, was pitched in the Fields of Karnal; it was furrounded with Mourchas +, on which were mounted near 5000 Carriage Guns, belonging to the Emperor and the Omras. In the Centre was the Emperor himself, and fronting him were Nizam at Muluck's and Saad o'din Khan's Mourchas, on which were mounted the Emperor's own Ordnance, attended by the Train belonging thereto: On the right Hand were Khandoran, Mazuffer Khan, Ali Hamed Khan, Mîr Gullou, Shehdad Khan, [§] February 11, 1738-9.

^{*} The great Moghol's Camp.

⁺ Mourcha fignifies Barricadoes, but generally the Intrenchments and Breast-works about a Camp, or any other Post.

and Khan Zuman Khan: on the Left, Kummir o'dîn Khan, Azîm Allah Khan, Jani Khan, and Seyd Neaz Khan; behind the Emperor was posted, Sirbullind Khan, and in the Rear of all was Mahommed Khan Bungush; behind Khandoran was Kirpa Ram, with the Jaats ‡, and behind the Vizir was Hernind Amul Kowtpoutli; on the Right, close by the Nakar-Khanna §, were the Men of Bebroz Khan, Ishak Khan, and Asslih Ali Khan; behind them was the Station of the Abeers ||; each of these Omras had his own proper Army, and the whole Number encamped amounted to 200,000 Horse and Foot. This fame Day News was brought, that Hajee Khan, Nadir Shah's Kurrol*, had advanced as far as the Village Tillauvri (which is five Coss from hence) with a Party of 6000 Horse, all Courds: On the

‡ The Jaats are a Tribe of Rajpouts.

|| The Aheers are another Tribe of the Rajpouts.

[§] The Place where all the Drums and Warlike Mufick are kept.

^{*} Kurrol fignifies the advanced Guard that goes before the main Army; also the Officer that commands such a Body. It is the same as Harol already explained.

13th + some Kuzzlebash Horsemen appeared at different Quarters of the Camp, and killed and took Prisoners several People who were coming from the Out-Parts thereto; four of the Kuzzlebash were likewise taken and brought to Nizam al Muluck. On the 14th # Nadir Shah having left one Boungab || at Shahabad (which is one Stage from Serbind) and a second at Taniseer, he advanced with 40,000 Horse, partly Lancemen, Archers and Musqueteers, to the Village Tillauvri, each Horseman having two and fome three Attendants, Grooms, and Camel-drivers, all robust young Men, compleatly armed and mounted, fome on Camels, fome on Mules, and others on Yabous §, not one in his whole Army being on Foot, even those who followed the Camp, and trafficked for Necessaries to the Men, were compleatly armed and mounted, the Number of all amounting to near 160,000. In the Time of Action the Master could not be distinguished from the servant, nor the Tradesmen and Traffickers belonging to the Camp, from the common Soldiers, all in general being bold and resolute, and well qualified to execute the most desperate Attempt they could be employed in: There were also about 6 or 7000 Women, who had been taken Captives from the Turks and in Kandahar, who on a March could not be distinguished from the Soldiers, having a Barranni * over their own Clothes, girt round with a Girdle, their Faces veiled with a fine Cloth, a Shaul solded round their Heads in Form of a Turban, and booted and armed as the Men.

⁺ February 12, 1738-9. ‡ February 13, 1738-9.

^{||} Boungab fignifies the Baggage, and all the Furniture appertaining to a Camp.

[§] Yabous are a Sort of small Horses, which are very hardy and serviceable.

This Day several Messengers came to Nizam al Muluck with Offers of an Accommodation, all which he rejected, and would hear of nothing but War.

On the 15 +, Nadir Shah, being necessitated for Water, marched from Tillauvri, and encamped in a Place flanking Khandoran's Rear, at a Distance of four Coss. This Morning Saadit Khan arrived in the Camp, and went to wait on the Emperor. About ^{*} Barranni fignifies a Cloak to cover one from the Rain, being derived from Barran, Rain.

[†] February 14, 1738-9.

nine o'Clock News was brought that his Attendants * and Baggage (some of whom were at a Distance behind, and others had pitched their Tents without the Mourchas, between Nadir Shah's Camp, and Khandoran's Rear) had been attacked, and feveral of them killed and plundered by the Persians Van. Saadit Khan, upon hearing this, left the Dirbar +, and (with all Expedition) marched to his People's Affistance. Khandoran being nigh, he, with his two Sons, and the rest of his Troops, joined him; as did also Mazuffer Khan, Seyd Hoffan Khan, Khan Zuman Khan, Mir Gullou, Shehdad Khan, Afflib ali Khan, &c. in all twenty-two Omras and General Officers, each with a Body of his own Men.

Nadir Shah, who had just then arrived from Tillauvri, being apprized of this Affair, advanced towards that Quarter, and de-^{*} Mahommed Reza Khan, Saadit Khan's Bukhshi, or Paymaster and General, was the Person first attacked by four or five hundred Kuzzlebash; several of his Men were killed, and he was taken prisoner.

⁺ Dirbar fignifies literally, the Door of Admittance, being a Word composed of of Dir, Door, and Bar, Admittance. 'Tis the common Name for the King's or a Governor's Palace.

tached 1000 Courds, 1000 Kajirs , 1000 Backhtiaris, and 1000 Harquebusers, in all 4000 Horse, 3000 of whom he planted in three different Places in Ambush, 500 Harquebusers he sent towards Saadit Khan, and the other 500 towards Khandoran to draw them into the Field; in which having fucceeded, the Horsemen who lay in Ambush poured in upon them in three different Places, and engaged them in a most obstinate Manner. Besides these 4000 none else of Nadir Shab's Men joined in that Action, excepting that he himself, attended by a 1000 Afshar Horse, rode to and from all Quarters to encourage and direct these Men: The rest of the Army (according to his Order) stood drawn up at a Distance, each Nation separate, ready at a Signal to come to his Affistance; but, as it happened, there was no Occasion for them; these 4 or 5000 having fought obstinately until near the Evening, when the Emperor's Forces gaveGround, Saadit Khan, Sheerjing and Khandoran's youngest Son, were taken Prisoners; Khandoran, having received feveral mortal ^{} Kajirs are a Tribe of Turcomans, and the Backhtiaris, or Bactrians, are so called from Bakhtir, or Bactria, the Place they come from.

Wounds,

Wounds, was carried back to his Quarters; Mazuffer Khan, with several other Officers, were killed, and fome mortally wounded, returned to their Camp; Seyd Hossan Khan, being wounded, marched towards Debli; and great Numbers lay dead in the Field of Battle *.

When those who fled from the Engagement returned back, there was a great Tu-

* In a Letter that was wrote from Mahommed Shah's Camr, a Day after the Engagement, it is faid, that Nadir Shah fought with 50,000 Horse: And when Khandoran and Mazuffer Khan came with their Forces. he divided his Men into three Bodies, and at last routed the Moghol's Army. Saadit Khan's and Sherjing's Elephants getting foul of each other, the Kuzzlebash furrounded and took them Prisoners. Khandoran received a Bullet in his Arm, and another in his Side. - Mazuffer Khan was killed, jumping from his Elephant.-Mir Gullou, Shehdad Khan, Akhlass Khan, Eadgar Khan, and Khandoran's eldest Son were killed. Akul beg Khan Kumlpoish, with his Son, and Abdal Rizak Khan, and Jaffer Khan, with his Son and Brothers, and Sirdar Muluck were wounded. Mirza Khoudabunda, Grandson to the great Mohabit Khan, was killed .- Khan Zuman Khan was wounded by a Bullet in his Throat .-Ghazi beg Khan was also wounded .- On Nadir Shah's Side seven principal Officers, and 2500 Men were killed, and about 5000 wounded with Swords, Cuttarri's, and Bullets.

mult and Noise in the Camp, and most of the Tents and Effects of Khandoran, Mazuffer Khan, Saadit Khan, &c. were plundered by their own People.

Amidst this Confusion the Emperor went towards Nizam al Muluck's Mourcha, who was in the Front, and in Conjunction with the Vizir and other Omras, went without the Mourchas, and drew up their Men in a Line of Battle, with a Design to put a Stop to the Enemies advancing any farther; but, had not the Night come on, these Precautions would have served them in little Stead, and that Day would have put an End to the whole affair. About an hour after Sun-set the Emperor returned back to his Tent.

Several of those who escaped out of the Field, as also those who attended the Baggage and Carriages, sled towards Debli; a great many of whom were killed and plundered in the Way.

The Camp in some Places was very thin of Men, insomuch that when at Midnight, the Emperor sent for Nizam al Muluck, the Space from his Mourcha to the Emperor's Tent (which is about three Quarters of a Coss) was found entirely empty.

Nizam

Nizam al Muluck, Sirbullind Khan, Kummir o'din Khan, and all the other Omras that were left, staid with the Emperor in deep Confultation until near the Morning, when each returned to his own Quarters.

On the 16th ‡, finding the Camp fo thin, and being apprehensive of the Kuzzlebash's attacking them, they contracted the Circuit thereof, and their Mourchas into the Compass requifite to contain the Number of Troops they had left, which was the Space between the Emperor's Tent and Nizam's Mourcha, and there they stood under arms the whole Day, every Minute expecting the Enemy's Approach. Towards the Evening a small Tent was pitched for the Emperor, and all the Troops were disposed of to their respective Posts, where they continued under Arms the whole Night, and their Horses saddled, without either Hay or Corn.

The 17th | also passed in Fear and This Day, according to an Order, from Nadir Shah, Saadit Khan sent for his own Men and Baggage; fome of them who were scattered up and down the Camp, went to him, carrying along with them all that escaped being plundered of his Horses and other Effects. Nadir Shah had ordered a Tent to be pitched not far from his own Quarters, for Saadit Khan, Sherjing, and Khandoran's Son; their Baggage and Attendants he gave a Place to, without his Camp; none durst so much as come to see them, nor were they allowed to make use of any of their own Necessaries.

‡ The 15th of February. | The 16th Ditto.

On the 18th +, Nizam al Muluck * and Azîm Alla Khan went to accommodate Matters to Nadir Shah's Camp; after a Stay of fix Hours, they returned back; what they might have done there, was kept a Secret. Towards the Close of the Evening, Khando-ran died of the Wounds he had received.

⁺ February 17, 1738-9.

^{*} Nizam al Muluck, with Azim Allah Khan, and feveral Horsemen, went out, and pitched a small Tent betwixt the two Camps, to which Nadir Shah's Ait-maud al Dowlat, or Vizir (Kassum Beg Khan) came, and from thence conducted him to his Master, who embraced him sitting, and made him stand honourably, close by himself; he gave him a Cup of Sherbat, and made him eat at the Vizir's House; after which it was agreed, that Mahommed Shah should come and see Nadir Shah.

The 19th † also past in Deliberation, and at Night, Nizam al Muluck received a Khalaet ‡, on being appointed Mîr Bukhshi || and Emîr al Omra.

On the 20th * in the Morning the Corps of Khandoran was carried out of the Camp to the Village Karnal, and the Emperor fiting in a royal Litter §, with a Canopy and an Umbrella, one led Horse and a Drum, attended by Ghazi o'dîn Khan, Azîm Allah Khan, the Vizir's Son, and several Eunuchs, with about 200 Horse, marched out of the Camp, and when he had gone a little Way, by a Sign he forbad the Horsemen to accompany him any farther; then with his Eunuchs and the abovesaid Omras (each of whom had not above two or three Servants to attend him) he went on to Nadir Shah's Camp;

[†] The 18th of February.

[†] Khalaet, a Present of a rich Vest, Arms, &c.

Mir Bukhshi, or Chief Bukhshi, fignifies Paymaster General, who commonly commands all the Forces. Emîr al Omra, fignifies Prince of Princes, a Title given to the Favourite Minister, who thereby becomes Head Omra.

^{*} The 19th of February.

[§] The Word in the Original is تخت روان Takht Revan, or a moving Throne.

when he was about half Way, Thamas Khan Vakeel * came to meet him, and did him the usual Honours. Afterwards Nesr Allah Mirza, Nadir Shah's Son, who came in a Royal Litter, having alighted, paid his Respects according to the Form + of his Country. The Emperor ordering his own Litter to be set down, embraced Nesr Allah Mirza, after which they both marched on until they came as far as the Train of Ordnance; here all the Attendants were obliged to stay behind, only the Emperor with two or three Eunuchs, and the Omras abovementioned, were allowed to pass; when they came to the Door of the Royal Tent, and the Emperor was alighted, Nadir Shah came forth to receive him, having embraced him, he feated him close by himself on the same Mushidd +; after the accustomary Forms of Salutation, and the Enquiry after each other's ^{*} Vakeel fignifies Agent, also Factor.

⁺ Not in so submissive a Manner as is done at the Moghol's Court.

[†] Mushidd is a particular Place in the Divan, commonly higher than any other, and large enough for two or three People to sit thereon. It is spread with a better and softer Carpet than any other Part, and is covered over with fine Linnen.

Health were over, Nadir Shah addressed having the Forefight to leave an sudfimid

'It is strange that you should be so unconcerned and regardless of your own Affairs, that notwithstanding I wrote you feveral

Letters, fent an Ambassador, and testified

' a Friendship for you, your Ministers

' should not think proper to send me a satis' factory Answer; and by Reason of your

' Want of Command and Discipline over

' your own People, one of my Ambassadors *, contrary to all Laws, has been kile led in your Dominions.

Even when I entered your Empire, you

' feemed under no Concern for your Affairs,

' nor so much as sent to ask who I was, or what was my Defign. When I advanced as far as Labor, none of your People came with a Message or Salutation, nay, not with an Answer to my Salutation to you: Afsterwards when your Omras were awaked out of their Lethargy and Indolence, they reprevented all Means of a Reconciliation;

and coming tumultuously with an Intent to stop my farther Progress, they brought them-

^{*} The Ambassador was killed on the Peissor Side of the Attock, by some rebellious Rajpouts.

" themselves into one general Snare, without ' having the Forefight to leave any behind, ' who upon an Emergency could make Head, and retrieve their Affairs. Besides this, you ' have foolishly cooped yourselves up in your " Mourchas, not confidering that if your ' Enemy was stronger, you could not re-' main within these Barricadoes without ei-" ther Water or Grain; and if he was weaker, ' 'twas both unnecessary and disgraceful to ' fuffer yourselves to be besieged by him; be-' fides, if you thought lightly of him, and ' imagined him a rash inconsiderate Man, ' without exposing your own Person and Re-' putation fo much, you ought to have de-' tached a faithful and experienced Officer, ' who, in a little Time, might have found Means to distress and cut him off; but if you dreaded his Experience and Conduct, you had still the less Reason (after provoking him thus far) to venture your All at one Blow. Even when you had thus en-' tangled yourself, I sent you Offers of an Accommodation, but you was so puffed up with your own childish Conceits, and fool-' ish Resolutions, that you would not give Ear to any honourable Overtures, or confult theme fult your own Interest, until, at last, by ' the Affistance of the Creator of the World, and the Strength of the Arms of the victorious Warriors, you have feen what has happened. Moreover, your Predecessors were wont to take the * Jeziah from the Infidels, and you in your Reign have given it to them, having in these twenty Years, ' fuffered the Empire to be over-run by them. ' But as hitherto the Race of Temur have ' not injured or misbehaved towards the ' Seffi Family, and the People of Persia, I ' shall not take the Empire from you, only as your Indolence and Pride have obliged "me to march fo far, and that I have been ' put to an extraordinary Expence, and my ' Men, on Account of the long Marches, are ' much fatigued, and in Want of Necessaries; ' I must go to Debli, and there continue some ' Days, until the Army is refreshed, and the ' Peishcush, that Nizam al Muluck has agreed ' to, is made good to me; after that I shall ' leave you to look after your own Affairs.' Mahommed Shah gave no Answer during the whole Speech, but was fixed in a Silence,

* Jeziah is a Poll-Tax levied on all who were not Mahommedans, especially the Hindu's.

which

which testified a good deal of Confusion and Shame.

To this Discourse, there was none present but Javead Khan, Behroz Khan, and Ghazi o'din Khan; towards Evening the Emperor returned back to his own Camp, and feveral of his officers having represented to him, that the Banians made the Grain very dear, he ordered their Shops to be plundered, which, instead of mending the Matter, very much increased the Dearth of Provisions. On the 21st*, in the Morning, Nizam al Muluck, the Vizir, Azîm Allah Khan, and Ghazi o'dîn Khan, went to Nadir Shah: On their taking Leave to return, Nizam was honoured with a Present of a Coat, Vest, and a Horse; the Vizir, Azîm Allah Khan, and Ghazi o'dîn Khan, each with a Coat and Vest; at nine o'Clock at Night, they waited on Mahommed Shah, and communicated to him what had passed in their Conference, which was not made publick. That same Day the Emperor ordered 500 Beldars to bury the Corps of those who fell in the Field of Battle, the Number of whom were found to be 17000, all of the Hindostan Army, and the

^{*} The 20th of February.

Bodies lay spread over the Space of seven Coss; the said Beldars having strewed a little Earth on some of the Carcasses, returned back. It was reported that 400 of Nadir Shah's People sell in Battle, and that 700 were wounded, but of those that were killed not one was to be seen in the Field, they having buried them that same Night. Of the Hindostan Army, several were wounded in such a Manner, that they were not able to stir, nor had any the Compassion to bring them off the Field of Battle to be cured, so that in a little Time they expired among the rest of the dead Bodies: Three Elephants were also killed.

On this Day (which is the 21st *) there was no Grain to be had without great Trouble, and that at the Rate of 1 and 1½ Seers § of Wheat, per Rupee, and 2 to 4 Rupees per Seer of Ghee †; the Reason of which was, that since the Day of Battle the Camp

^{*} February 20, 1738-9.

[‡] A fingle Seer, which they call Seer Cacha, is 14 Ounces, 15 ‡ Drams; but the Seer mentioned here is a Seer Pucca of 1 lb. 13 Ounces, 15 ½ Drams.

⁺ Ghee is only Butter well boil'd and skimm'd, which is preserved in Jars, and keeps sweet a long Time, especially if a little Salt is put at the bottom of the Jar.

was in a Manner besieged, and no Provisions allowed to come to them, nor durst any of the Soldiers go without their Mourchas. In Nadir Shah's Camp (as they went out a foraging for 30 or 40 Coss round) Wheat was fold at the rate of 12 Seers for a Rupee.

The Numbers of those killed since the Battle, on the Roads, and round about the Country, by Nadir Shah's Men, when they went out a Marrauding, amounted to 14 or 15000 Men.

On the 22d * Kassum Beg Khan came from Nadir Shah's Camp, and stayed with Nizam al Muluck until the Evening.

Mîr Hossan (who being wounded in the Battle, set out for Shah Jehanabad) being afraid of the Dangers upon the Road, returned back, and came to the Camp this Day.

On the 23d + the Camp was removed to the Side of Karnal, opposite to Nadir Shah's Army. In their March the Kuzzlebash Horsemen carried off 27 Elephants, and 25 Camels, and in the Night Time discharged a great many Guns.

^{*} The 21st of February. + The 22d Ditto.

On the 24th * Nizam being sent for, went to Nadir Shah's Camp, where he, with five or fix of his Attendants, was kept.

Several of the Kuzzlebash being sent against Taniseer, having plundered the said Place, and slaughtered the Inhabitants, returned with a great Booty.

In Mahommed Shah's Camp, what Grain was to be had, was fold from $2\frac{1}{2}$ to 3 Rupees per Seer, and whoever went to Nadir Shah's Camp, were allowed to buy as much as they confumed there, but not to carry any away. About eight o'Clock at Night, the Vizir received a Firman (or Order) from Nadir Shah, to this Import, 'Kummir o'dîn Khan' Vizir, Know, that to-morrow Mahommed

' Shah, Sirbullind Khan, Mahommed Khan

Bungush, and Azîm Allah Khan, shall ' come into the Presence +, therefore look

' well after your People, that they be not

' dispersed, or straggle abroad; when you have fecured that Point, come you hither also.

When the Emperor was appriz'd of this, he fent for Sirbullind Khan, and all the other Omras, with whom he held Council,

* The 23d Ditto.

^{† &#}x27;Tis common in the East, instead of Court, to use the Word خضر Hazour, the Presence; and likewise the Word خضرت Hazerit, Presence, to signify Majesty.

until

until Midnight; at last the Emperor declared that Affairs were now gone beyond his Power, and that he must do one of three Things; To-morrow to march out and make one desperate Push, to determine his Fortune at once, or put an End to all Thoughts and Misery by a Dose of Poison; or else submit peaceably to what Terms may be imposed. The Emperor's Inclination (tho' he did not then declare it) was for the last of these.

On the 25th * Sirbullind Khan, Mahommed Khan, &c. were ready each with his own Men, that in Case the Emperor should make a Push, they might not be unprepared, and if on submitting, he should go to Nadir Shah, and bid them come, they should sollow his Fate. But neither one nor the other of these Resolutions was fixed on that Day; Grain was not to be had on any Terms, and old carrion Beef, notwithstanding there was a great deal of it, was sold, 1½ Seers, for a Rupee. At Night arrived a Note from Nadir Shah to this Effect: 'Sirbullind Khan, be of good Chear, and perfectly composed,

^{&#}x27; get yourself hither before Mahommed Shah

^{&#}x27; fets out.'

^{*} The 24th Ditto.

On the 26th * Sirbullind Khan having obtained Leave, marched towards Nadir Shah's Camp, and, according to an Order, leaving his Men and Baggage on the Righthand thereof, he, with Khan Zad Khan, three Horsemen and four or five Servants entered the Camp, and pitched a small Tent for himself near the Bargab †, close by Saadit Khan's Quarters.

About nine o'Clock that Morning, Mahommed Shah (according to an Order) being feated in a Royal Litter, with a Canopy and Umbrella, fet out for Nadir Shah's Camp, attended by Emîr Khan, Ishak Khan, and some Eunuchs. On his Arrival he alighted at a Tent, which had been pitched the Day before by Nadir Shah's Order, for that Purpose, in the Front of the Camp, where he was allowed to have as many of his Domesticks of all Sorts as were necessary, and 1000 Kuzzlebash Horsemen were detached as Guards round him. About 8 o'Clock in the Evening, Mahommed Shah being called, went to wait on Nadir Shah; after three Hours

^{*} The 25th Ditto.

[†] Bargah signifies the Place of Admittance, or the publick Divan, where Audience is generally given.

Hours Stay he returned to the Camp, and there was an Order, that none of the Omras should be allowed to go to see him.

On the 27th +, Sirbullind Khan, being called, went to Nadir Shah's Dirbar ‡, he was ordered to attend the Towpchi Bashi || and the Nissikhchi Bashi *, who had each 200 Horse, and that, with the Assistance of Saad o'din Khan, the Towpchi Bashi should seize all the King's and Omras Ordnance; and the Nissikhchi Bashi, with Kummir o'din Khan's Help, the Treasury, Jewels, Toishik-khanna‡, and all the other Implements and Arms that belonged to the Emperor and the deceased Omras, and to send to Mahommed Shah, his Son Sultan Ahmed, and Malika al Zumani §, the Empress, and to give Orders to Kummir

⁺ The 26th of February.

[†] Dirbar fignifies the King's or Governor's Palace.

[|] Towpchi Bashi, the Master of the Ordnance.

^{*} Nissikhchi Bashi, literally, Head Regulator, or Manager, an Officer who is generally sent to regulate Disorders, and make Seizures.

⁺ Toishik-khanna, where all Arms, warlike Furniture, Implements, &c. are kept.

[§] Malika al Zumani, literally, the Queen of the Times, Mahommed Shah's Empress.

o'din Khan and Saad o'din Khan, that all the Emperor's old Servants and Soldiers be continued in their Places, and brought along with them, but to let the Baheers || and new enlifted Men go where they please.

Accordingly they went and seized all these Things, and sent the Emperor's Son, with Malika al Zumani, and the rest of the Mahl* (according to Nadir Shah's Orders) to Ma-hommed Shah.

This Day there were great Diforders and Confusion in Mahommed Shah's Boungah, infomuch that a great many Things were plundered and lost, and several out of Fear leaving their Tents and Effects, ran to and fro, looking out for a Corner to secure their Lives, especially the Artisans and Servants.

On the 28 +, Mahommed Shah, with his Men and Baggage, leaving only the Ordnance behind, went towards Nadir Shah's Camp:

|| Baheers, People employed for carrying Baggage.

^{*} Mahl fignifies a Place, but particularly where the Women are kept. It is also called Harram (i. e. prohibited, or unlawful, in Regard to Men) and in Turkey 'tis called Serai, which fignifies the same as Mahl. The Women therein are also called Mahl, which is the Signification it bears here.

⁺ The 27th of February.

In the Way he discharged the Baheers and new listed Men, letting them go where they pleased. The Omras and the Emperor's old Servants, according to an Order for that Purpose, took up their Quarters at one Side of the Camp, being separated by a small Rivulet. The Effects of Mahommed Shah and the Omras, which were brought, were put into Nadir Shah's Possession; and having picked out 200 Cannon with their Carriages out of Mahommed Shah's Ordnance, they fent them with some Treasure and other Effects then feized (accompanied by 1000 Horsemen, which belonged to the Emperor's Train of Artillery, and 2000 Kuzzlebash) to Cabul, to be from thence carried to Khandahar.

This Day Nadir Shah gave three Months pay as a Gratuity to every Man in his Army, Soldiers, Servants, Attendants, &c. just as he had done before at Kandahar upon taking it.

On the 29th *, in the Morning, Thamas Khan Vakeel was dispatched to Shahjehanabad, with 4000 Horse and Musqueteers to take Possession of the Castle; as was also Saadit Khan for the Safe-guard and Care of the City, and the Houses and Effects of the Omras; and Azim Allah Khan, for the Superintendency of the River, each with his own Men and Baggage, and several Nissikhchi Horsemen; they were strictly ordered to prevent any Harm or Damage being done to the Inhabitants of the City. Sirbullind Khan being ordered, went to his own Boungah.

^{*} The 28th Ditto.

On the 1st of Zelhujh * Nadir Shah began to prepare for his March to Shahjehanabad, and at four next Morning he set out, attended by 20000 choice Horsemen; 4000 Harquebusers were detached as a Kouruck for that separate Quarter where the Mahl marched, betwixt which and the Army there was a Distance of near one Coss, no Soul on Pain of Death, either of the Persians or Indians, being allowed to pass that Way; each Party marched at the Distance of one

^{*} The first of March.

⁺ Kouruck. When the King's Women in Persia go out any where, a Number of Men go before-hand to those Places through which they are to pass, to signify the same, that no Body may appear there. The Women are guarded by armed Eunuchs, and sometimes by a Body of Soldiers at a Distance, who if they find any Man or Boy in the Way, will kill him, or, at least, drub him very severely, and this is called the Kouruck.

Arrow shot from the other. Mahommed Shah, with 40 or 50 of his principal People, and about 10,000 Kuzzlebash Horsemen, and 2000 Harquebusers, followed Nadir Shah at a Distance of one Coss: On one Side was Sirbullind Khan, with his own Men and Baggage, next him the Men and Baggage of Mahommed Shah; on another Side were the Men and Baggage of Nizam al Muluck, and Kummir o'din Khan, and next them Mahommed Khan Bungush with his Men and Baggage, each Party separated by a Distance of ½ and some ¼ Coss, and between them marched Kuzzlebash Horsemen to prevent their joining, and make each Party march the Way that was appointed for them. The Compass of Ground they covered in their March, was five Coss in Length, and three in Breadth, and this Method was observed every Day's March.

After five Days continual marching they came to Sonput; there were feveral Villages in the Way which they not only plundered, but likewise killed a great many of the Inhabitants, Paniput and Sonput were also facked.

On Tuesday the 6th of Zelbujh * they marched from Sonput, and came to Nirela. In the beginning of the Night, Sirbullind Khan having feigned an Indisposition, had Leave to go before to the City, and on the Morning he arrived at his own House.

On Wednesday the 7th + Nadir Shah arrived at the Gardens called Shallimar.

On Thursday the 8th ‡, Mahommed Shah, by Nadir Shah's Order, being seated in a Royal Litter, with a Canopy and Umbrella, two Standards, about 200 Horse and Foot of his own Servants, and 4000 Kuzzlebash Horsemen entered the Castle. After which they gave him a Place near Aeysh Mahl §. Nadir Shah having heard, that the People of the City were of a seditious and turbulent Temper, did not care to enter in the Night Time. But this Morning, attended by 20,000 Horse, he marched with all the Caution imaginable to the Castle, leaving the rest of his Army encamped without the City:

^{*} The 6th of March. † The 7th Ditto.

[†] The 8th Ditto.

[§] Aeysh Mahl, fignifies the Place of Joy, one of the Apartments in the Castle. The Place they gave Mahommed Shah near it, was Suliman Bourge, or Solomon's Tower.

After he had alighted, Mahommed Shah came to congratulate him, and they breakfasted together. They were in Conversation until the Evening, during which Time Nadir Shah behaved with the greatest Complaisance and feeming Affection to him. He issued out Orders in the most peremptory Manner, to prevent the Soldiers wronging or infulting any of the Inhabitants, and enjoined the Niffikhchis, who have the Inspection of these Things, to spare no Punishments, such as cutting off Ears and Nofes, and bambooing to Death, whoever molested the Indians; for which Reason, none of the Kuzzlebash, either high or love, durst injure any of the Natives; but most of the People were so frighten'd at the terrible Aspect of these Men, and the barbarous Figure + they made, that they avoided (as much as possible) having any Dealings or Conversation with them.

On the 9th ‡ at Night, Nadir Shah, having called Saadit Khan before him, spoke

[†] The Persians, however polite and luxurious, in Regard to the more Western Nations, are but rude and hardy, as to their Apparel, Diet, and Living, in Comparison with the delicate India Moghols and the Persians, who have lived some Time in that Empire.

The 9th of March.

with a great deal of Warmth and Paffion in Regard to the collecting the Peisboush * Money, and used some hard Words to him. At four o'Clock next Morning, Saadit Khan, who had been for fome Time weak and indisposed, departed this life. Some imagine he died thro' Anger for the Usage he met with, and others are of Opinion Jealoufy provoked him to take Poison.

On Saturday, which was the 10th + of the Moon, and the Eid Zoba (or Feast of Sacrifice) after five Ghurris, and thirty Pulls ‡, the Sun entered Aries. This Morning Sirbullind Khan (being called) went to the Castle, where with Thamas Khan Vakeel, Mustapha Khan Arrizbegi, Nizamal Muluck, and Kummir o'din Khan, he staid the whole Day, deliberating on Means for collecting the Peisbcush Money. This Day at Noon Thamas Khan had fent nine Nissikhchi Horsemen towards Pahr Gunjh &, to order the opening of the Granaries, and fettle the

^{*} This was a Present of 20 Crores of Rupees, which Nizam had agreed should be paid to Nadir Shah.

⁺ The 10th of March.

[†] Two Hours and twelve Minutes after Sun-rife.

[§] Pahr Gunjh, the Place where Corn is fold.

Price of the Corn: Being arrived there, they caused them to be opened, and Wheat was fold ten Seers for a Rupee: As this Price did not turn to the Proprietors Account, towards Evening they affembled the Mob *, and a great many disaffected People joining them, they killed the abovefaid Nishkhchis, with feveral Kuzzlebash, who had come over to buy Corn. After Sun-fet they spread a Report that Nadir Shah was taken Prisoner, and fome faid he was poisoned, on which the Mob and Tumult exceeded all Bounds, all the idle Vagabond and disaffected People joining from all Quarters, with what Arms they could most readily find, poured like a Torrent towards the Castle. Of those of Nadir Shah's Troops, who were posted without at the Foot thereof, some retired within, and others went towards the Reti +, (which is the Place 'twixt the Castle and River) and feveral of them were cut off: Those of the Kuzzlebash who had taken up their Quarters in Khandoran's Palace, and other great Houses, kept a strict and careful Guard the whole Night; feveral Cannon, Harquebuses and Musquets were discharged from the Castle and the said Houses, to keep the Mob at a Distance; all this Time they were encreasing, and became more and more furious: Seyd Neaz Khan, Son-in-Law to Kummir o'dîn Khan, had shut up in a Room feveral Nissikhchis (whom he had taken before, as a Safeguard to his House) and now fet Fire to it.

^{*} The Promoters of the Mob were Seyd Neaz Khan, Sheh Soar Khan the Son or Relation of Kourrih Khan, and Raiban Nazr.

⁺ Reti signifies Sand in the Indostan Language.

On Sunday the 11th +, about eight o'Clock in the Morning, when the Tumult was in its Height, Nadir Shah being highly provoked, walked out of the Castle, and mounting his Horse, went from thence towards Chandni Chok ‡, to quell the Mob, who were committing great Diforders in that Quarter, and in the Way perceiving a great many of the Bodies of his own People, who had been killed in the Night, he fent a strong Party to endeavour to suppress them, and in Case Threatning and fair Means were ineffectual, he licensed them to cut them off, but on no Account to injure others who were

⁺ The 11th of March.

[†] The Name of a Square Bazar.

not concerned. At first, they proceeded gently, which, instead of appearing the Mob, made them more bold and infolent, and without the least Awe, they began to difcharge Fire-Arms, and Arrows, at them. Nadir Shah went into the Misjid | of Roishin al Dowlat, which is near the Cutual's § Chaboutra *; the Inhabitants near that Misjid got upon their Terraffes, and began to throw Stones; and, either from one of these Terrasses, or a Window thereabouts, a Musquet was designedly shot at Nadir Shah, which missing him, killed one of his Officers who stood next him: This made him give Way to his Passion, and order a general Slaughter to be commenced from that very Place; the Soldiers in an Instant getting upon the Walls and Terrasses, began to plunder and kill. This bloody Scene extended from | Misjid is what is vulgarly called a Mosque.

* Chaboutra fignifies a Tribunal,

[§] The Cutual is a Magistrate who, in all Cities, has the Care of punishing those who drink or sell intoxicating Liquors, and keep disorderly Houses; with several other Affairs, which are not of Consequence enough to be brought before the Governor.

the Serafa Ardui +, which is before the Castle, to the old Eidgab +, which is three Coss Distance, and on one Side as far as Jittli Tomb, and on the other as far as the Tobacco Mandavi and Poul Meetai | . The whole Streets of the Bazar, and the Alleys and Wards on all fides, the Khanum's Bazar, and round about the Famib Misjid*, and the Cotton and Jewellers Bazars, were all plundered, several Places they fet on Fire, and whomfoever they found in the Wards and Houses, Streets, Alleys and Shops, Great and Small, Men and Women, they put to the Sword, even the Brute Creatures did not escape their Fury; feveral Women were made Prisoners. Loutf Ali Khan, the Officer who was appointed to flaughter and plunder towards the Square of Saad Allah Khan and Dehli Gate, when he came as far as Sirbullind Khan's House, he, in a great Surprize and Fright, came out to meet † Serafa Ardui, where all the Bankers and Money-Changers, belonging to the King and his Army, have their Shops.

‡ Eidgah, the Place where all the People affemble to Prayers, on the Two great annual Eids or Festivals.

|| Poul Meetai, a Bridge so called, because there are a great many Confectioners Shops thereon.

* Jamih Misjid, the Cathedral, or great Mosque.

the faid Officer, and representing to him, that the People of that Quarter were not to blame, he made them defist and stop his Men, on promising they should pay a Sum of Money. But in other Places the Slaughter, Plundering, and Burning, went on in a most barbarous Manner.

Nadir Shah, after he had given the Orders, returned back to the Castle; about two o'Clock Mahommed Shah and Nizam al Muluck waited on him, who having made great Intercession for the city, the soldiers were ordered to desist, and it was proclaimed by Beat of Drum, that none of the Inhabitants should be any longer molested.

The Slaughter continued from eight in the Morning till three in the Afternoon; above 400 Kuzzlebash were killed, and of the Citizens (great and small) 120000 were slaughtered, others computed them 150000. What Treasure and Effects were plundered, some Nadir Shah had, and a great deal was destroyed by the Fire. In several of the Hindu Houses, where one of a Family survived, he used to pile thirty or forty Carcases a-top of one another, and burn them; and so they did in the Streets, notwithstanding which

Bb

nO

there still remained so many, that, for a confiderable Time, there was no fuch Thing as paffing any of those Ways. When the Slaughter began, those who raised the Commotion disappeared in an Instant, and left the innocent Shopkeepers, Bazaris, and many honest Families, to be butchered by the enraged Kuzzlebash; several, jealous of their Honour, not only killed their Women, but laid also violent hands upon themselves; one of these unfortunate Wretches in particular, when the Soldiers came near his House, burnt about twenty Women of his Family, and was in Expectation of their entering every Minute and killing him; by Chance they missed that House, but he was so infatuated, that, finding himself disappointed, he went out, and bringing some of them back, shewed them the Way to his own House, telling them there was a good deal of Money and Effects therein. After they had plundered his House, they went their Way without killing him, which so enraged him, that he difpatched himself. There were great Numbers of People, especially Women and Children, burnt in their Houses.

On Monday the 12th *, the Prisoners, especially the Women +, according to Nadir Shab's Orders, were all conducted back to their own Houses, but with Eyes sull of Tears, and in Circumstances not to be described or uttered.

On Tuesday the 13th ‡, a Party, who had been sormerly detached by Nadir Shab to seize the Cannon at the Serai of Roub Allah Khan, having been cut off by the People there, in Conjunction with those of Mogbols, a strong Body was sent over thither, who slaughtered between 5 and 6000 of these People, and brought bound with them about 300 of those belonging to the Ordnance, also the Hazarris § and head Officers. This Day, Scidy Folad Khan received a Khalaet on being confirmed Cutual of the City. Proclamation was made by Beat of Drum,

^{*} The 12th of March, 1738-9.

[†] About 10,000 Women threw themselves into Wells, some of whom were taken out alive, after being there two or three Days. The Number of Prisoners released, Men and Women, were 50,000.

[†] The 13th of March, 1738-9.

[§] Hazarri fignifies Captain of a Thousand.

ordering every Body to betake themselves to their feveral Employments, and to be under no Apprehension of the Soldiers any more. A Body of Men was fent to the Granaries at Pahr Gunjb, which they fealed up and put Guards on; Saadit Khan's Effects were seized, and Nizamal Muluck and Kummir o'din Khan made a Peishcush of some Money and Effects which they had given in an Account of, and was registered in the List; the Effects of Khandoran and Mazuffer Khan were likewise feized; the Jewels, Treasure and Goods of the former, (not reckoning what he had in the Camp) was computed at no more than one Crore of Rupees; but Mazuffer Khan's amounted to very nigh four Crore. This Day, according to the Shah's Order, Parties of Soldiers were planted as Guards all around the City to the Banks of the River, and in the Retee opposite to the Castle, to prevent any Persons going out without Licence, but to hinder none from coming in: All those who were brought bound from the Serai of Rough Allah Khan, had their Heads cut off, and were thrown into the Retee.

On Wednesday the 14th *, a number of Fakirs , wanting to go out of the City, with a Design to travel and beg abroad, the Out-Guards cut off their Noses and Ears, and made them return back again.

On Thursday the 15th †, as the great Number of dead Bodies that lay about the Castle, and in the Bazars, and other Places, caused a very offensive Stench, they pressed most of the People they met with in the Streets, and employed them in removing the Bodies. Some, by tying Cords to the Feet, they dragged without the City, some they threw into the River, and those whom they imagined to be Hindu's, they piled forty or sifty of their Bodies a-top of each other, and burnt them with the Timber of the demolished Buildings.

On Friday the 16th ‡, a Firman, exempting the Dominions of Persia from Taxes for three Years, was drawn up and dispatched by a Choppar ||: At the same Time the Ar-

^{*} The 14th of March, 1738-9.

^{} Fakirs are Beggars, or poor People.

⁺ The 15th of March, 1738-9.

[‡] The 16th of March, 1738-9.

[|] Choppar, an express Messenger.

rears * formerly due to the Soldiers, as also one Year's Pay before-hand, and fix Months Pay as a Gratuity, was given to all his People, even to the Servants, and those who trafficked for Necessaries in the Camp (each of these having a fettled Pay from Nadir Shah.) Niçar Mahommed Khan was fent with 1000 KuzzlebashHorsemen, to bring Saadit Khan's | Treasure from Pourib.

On Saturday the 17th ‡, Sirbullind Khan, according to an Order, went to the Dirbar, where he staid until the Evening. Nadir Shah let him know, he was pretty well affured, that under a Pretence of old Age and Infirmity, he did not care to stir about in collecting the Peisboush Money and Beavra + from the People in Offices, Merchants, &c. However, his Advice to him was, to behave with more Activity in that Affair, and make an End of it very foon.

* The Year's Arrears due to Nadir Shab's Men was 4 Crores, 88 Lacks, or 6,100,000 l.

Saadit Khan's Treasure, sent from Luknowti by Munfour Ali Khan, arrived the 25th of Mohirrim, or 23d of April; being 80 Lacks of Rupees. which is 1,000,000%.

‡ The 17th of March, 1738-9.

[†] Beavra, fignifies a forced Contribution.

On Sunday the 18th *, the faid Sirbullind Khan went likewise to the Dirbar, where were prefent Nizam al Muluck and Kummir o'din Khan, and he stayed there until Noon; Thamas Khan and Mustapha Khan pressing them concerning the Money, Sirbullind Khan told Nizam al Muluck as follows: " I have " a long Time ago foreseen this Disgrace, " and frequently represented to the Emperor, " that before Things were past Remedy, he " ought to take some Measure, and not thro' " too much Security, reckon any Accident " unworthy his Care and Prevention; I de-" fired him to employ some experienced and " faithful Person, and to give him full Power, " that with a Sum of Money and other va-" luable Things, as a Peisbcush, he might " make up Matters, prevent the impending " Calamity, and live, as formerly, with the Shab in an amicable Manner.

einl

" Every Body imagined I couched some " Defigns and Self-Views under this Advice; " they themselves would contrive no Ex-" pedient, nor would they rely on the Con-" trivance of another, until, at last, Affairs

" are come to this calamitous and difgraceful

^{*} The 18th of March, 1738-9.

"Iffue." To this Nizam al Muluck made no Answer. Then Thamas Khan addressing himself to Kummir o'din Khan, repeated to him the Substance of what Nadir Shah, at first Meeting, reproached Mahommed Shah with: Afterwards he told him, " What is " past shall not be remembered. Now my " Shah wants the Money, use all Means " you can to raise it, and bring not yourselves " into any further Difgrace by being dila-" tory." Sirbullind Khan answered, " Un-" doubtedly we will raise it, wherever it is " to be found." Thamas Khan asked him, if he had not Money himself. Sirbullind Khan said to him, " If I had had Money, " I would have fent it to you to Kandahar, and prevented you the Trouble of coming " hither." In short, by what passed at this Meeting, it was known, that Nadir Shah, after his Victory, and having established his Power, had demanded of Nizam al Muluck, twenty Crore * of Rupees (exclusive of the Jewels, Gold Plate fet with precious Stones, and other fine Goods, feized of the King's, and other Omras) to be collected in the best Manner he could out of the King's Treafury, Iffue.

^{*} Twenty Crores are 25 Millions Sterling.

his own Effects, and all the other Omras, wealthy People and Inhabitants. Such a Sum was not to be raifed out of the King's Treasury, or the Omras Effects; for, in the King's, the Gold and Silver Coins did not exceed three Crore §: But, in the inward Vaults (which had been shut up and sealed for many Years, no Body knowing by whom they were sealed, or what they contained) there was found of Gold and Silver to a much larger Amount than the Money in the Treasury. Nizam al Muluck contributed a Peisbcush of 1½ Crore || in Jewels, Treasure, and Goods, as did also Kummir o'din Khan to the same Amount.

Saadit Khan had formerly agreed to pay one Crore * of Rupees, and made good thirty Lacks † thereof, which was all that had escaped being plundered; he promised to send for the Remainder from his Soubab.

Sirbullind Khan, on Account of his Poverty, was excused from any Share, and three Crore ‡ of Rupees were appointed to be levied on some Mansubdars, Muttesiddys, Officers, and the rich Inhabitants, each in Proportion to his Circumstances. Formerly Saadit Khan was ordered to collect this Money: After his Death, and the Slaughter and Plunder of the City, this Business was recommended to the Care of Sirbullind Khan, and the other Omras, which Thamas Khan, at this Meeting, pressed them about: Accordingly it was now agreed, that Azîm Allah Khan, Chuckl Keishvir, Vakeel of the Soubabdar of Bengal, Seeta Ram, and all the Mansubdars and Officers of the Chaboutra, &c. should meet at Sirbullind Khan's House, and make an End of this Affair. All Officers, Inhabitants, &c. who were suspected to be rich, were ordered to give in a List of what Money or Effects they were Masters of, to be laid before the Shah, that what he liked he might take, and what he forgave them they might keep; and whoever pleaded Poverty, fuch Person should declare the same by a Writing under his Hand and Seal, that in Case it should be afterwards proved, that he had given in a false Account, he might be punished.

§ 3,750,000 l. | 1,875,000 l. * 1,250,000 l. † 375,000 l. † 3,750,000 l. C c portion

That Day the People beforementioned came to Sirbullind Khan's House, and having staid until the Evening, and enrolled fome Names, returned to their own Houses,

On Monday the 19th * they all met there again, and were taken up all that Day in the enrolling of Names, and preparing the Lift. This Day Seyd Neaz Khan who, the Night before the Slaughter, had shut up several of the Kuzzlebash in a Room, and burnt them) was, by Nadir Shah's Order, strangled with a Shaul, and Sheb Soar Khan and Raiban, who in that Night were the Promoters of Mischief, were punished likewise. The first had his Head cut off, and the second his Belly ripped up.

On Tuesday the 20th +, Sirbullind Khan being fent for, went to the Dirbar, where he received a Khalaet of a rich Vest, from whence he returned Home to affift Azim Allah Khan, and the rest in the Business they were about.

On Wednesday the 21st +, Rebim Beg Amîn Bashi, with 200 Horsemen and Musqueteers, were appointed to be under the Command of Sirbullind Khan, that he might

^{*} The 19th of March, 1738-9.

[†] The 20th of March, 1738-9.

The 21st of March, 1738-9.

fent them to the Mansubdars, &c. to oblige them to produce all their Elephants, Horses, and Camels, with Orders that what should be judged proper for the Shah's Stables, should be immediately feized.

On Thurfday * also they were employed as the Day before.

On Friday the 23d +, Sirbullind Khan, Azîm Allah Khan, &c. according to an Order, met at the Castle, where was held a Council for ascertaining the Money of the Peishcush.

There was an Order made, that Murid Khan t, with fifty of Sirbullind Khan's Horsemen, should carry a Sirrapah and Firman to Sujaat Khan, Soubahdar of Bengal, and to take from him the three Years Treasure and a Peisbcush: Accordingly 1000 Rupees | were given out of the Shah's Treasury to Murid Khan for his Expences, and 3220 Rupees § to the fifty Horsemen for their Charges.

^{*} The 22d of March, 1738-9.

⁺ The 23d of March, 1738-9.

[†] Murid Khan, (alias Mahommed Hadi) was fent in Company with Mir Tuckee Kuli beg.

^{$ 402 % 105.} 1 x25%

Saturday, Sunday, and Monday*, were employed in the Peishcush Affair. During this Time they were busy in preparing Illuminations on the Banks of the River, and Fireworks for the Wedding of Nestr Alla Mirza, Nadir Shah's Son, who was to be married to the Daughter of Iesdan Bukhsh, the Son of Kam Bukhsh, and Grandson of Auring-zebe.

On Tuesday Night + the Marriage was confummated. Mahommed Shah made the young Princess a Present of Jewels to the Value of 50000 Rupees +, and in ready Money 50000 more. Some Days after the Marriage, Nadir Shah sent her Jewels to the Value of five Lack of Rupees §.

The Council for ascertaining the Peisbeush was continually held in the Castle, near the Divan of Justice, at which assisted Thamas Khan, Mustapha Khan, and Mahommed Shah's Omras, until the tenth of Mohirrim * at Noon, and during that Time every Body was present at the said Place from Sun-rise to Sun-

+ The 27th of March, 1739.

* The 28th of April, 1739.

^{*} The 24th, 25th, and 26th of March, 1738-9,

^{‡ 6250}l. $ 62,500l.

fet. All the Vakeels and Agents of the Mansubdârs, and other Officers, gave constant Attendance, and at night each returned to his own House without having a Sentry or Guard over them. In those Days, and also afterwards, several People finding Affairs go hard with them, left their Effects and Families behind, and made their Escape out of the City in the best Manner they could, being glad at any Rate to fave their Lives; feveral of Mahommed Shah's Omras were obliged to stay the whole Day in the Castle, in a mean Manner and perpetual Fear, with but one Horse and a few Servants to attend them, and at Night they returned to their own Houses.

In these Days of Mobirrim, no Person, either of Hindostan or the Kuzzlebash, durst fo much as mention the Words, Tazia * or

* Tazia fignifies Mourning, and Mâtim fignifies Death. It is customary with the Schias, to make great Lamentations annually for Mortifa Ali's two Sons, Imâm Hoffan and Imâm Hoffein, on the first ten Days of Mohirrim. The former was poisoned by his Wife Jeada, at Medina, in the Khalifship of Mauvia, on Thursday the 7th of Safer, in the 50th Year of the Hegira. The latter was killed in the Defert of Kirbela, by Shimr, a Soldier belonging to Iezid, the Son of Mauvia, Khalif of Syria, on Friday the 10th Mobirrim, in the 61st Year of the Hegira, Matim. Some of Nadir Shah's Soldiers, who were incamped without the City, having one of these Nights made a Noise of Mourning and beating their Breafts, were feverely punished by him. During this Time, a great many People were very hard preffed for their Quota's of the Peisbcush, insomuch that several, to save their Credit and Reputation, killed themselves. Amongst the rest, Alim Allah, the adopted Son of Scidy Folad Khan; and his Naib, who acted entirely in all Things belonging to the Cutual's Office, having been ill used, and publickly disgraced, on the fifth of Mobirrim +, cut open his own Bowels with his Cuttarit, and died foon after.

On the 6th ||, Mijilis Rai, Kummir o'din Khan's Duan, was sent for by Thamas Khan, who ordered one of his Ears to be cut off in his Master's Presence. Kummir o'din Khan was going to intercede for him, which Thamas Khan perceiving, he told him, in an angry Tone, "It will be your Turn by and by," which presently silenced him, and Mijiliss

⁺ The 3d of April, 1739.

[‡] A Sort of Dagger wore by the Indians.

H The 4th of April, 1739.

Rai taking the above Usage to Heart, killed himself afterwards, on the 12th *. Several of the King's Muttesiddys were so beat with Sticks, in Thamas Khan's Presence, that the Blood slowed out about their Faces and other Parts.

Sitâ Ram, and Chuckl Keishvir +, were violently beat on the Back and Sides. When the List of Names was ready, Nadir Shah appointed Nizam al Muluck, Sirbullind Khan ||,

* The 10th of April, 1739.

† Chuckl Keishvir, the Bengal Vakeel, being ordered to fend for Seven Crores of Rupees, said, So much would make a String of Waggons from Bengal to Dehli; for which being roughly used, he went home, and murdered himfelf and Family.

| Sirbullind Khan pressing very hard upon the People, Kamiab Khan, Relation to Kummir o'dîn Khan, with Arrib Khan, and others, killed themselves, after paying in several Lacks; and the Complaints thereof coming to Nadir Shah, Twenty Lacks of Rupees were remitted to great Men, who were found indigent. Sherîf Kuli Khan, Son to Khadr al Nissa Begum, and several Eunuchs, complained to Mahommed Shah of Sirbullind Khan's ruining People, and his Exactions, and that he wanted Three Lacks from him; Mahommed Shah sent for Abdal Baki Khan, one of Nadir Shah's Vizirs, who manages betwixt them Two, and bid him acquaint his Master therewith, who sent for Sirbullind Khan, whom he found innocent of what was laid to his Charge.

Kummer o'din Khan, Azim Allah Khan, and Mortisa Khan, the Brother of Murid Khan, to collect the Money; he told them, he expected they would collect the faid three Crore *, and pay it in ten Days Time: They divided the Sum and Names into five Parts, and had a 1000 Kuzzlebash Horsemen, 200 each, that in Case any on their List made Delays in paying their Quota, they might oblige them thereto by Blows: So that on the 10th + at Noon, the faid Omras, with the appointed Horsemen, set about collecting the Money: The People, in Respect to their Circumstances, were very unequally taxed, for some who were Masters of ten Lacks ‡, were only fet down 5000 ||, and others who could not muster 10,000 §, were set down 12,000 *. This was not owing either to the Favour or Ill-Will of the Managers, but to their own good or bad Luck; and when the Sums were once afcertained, there was no Redress to be had. Many of them, during the collecting of the Money, were,

^{* 3,750,000} l. † April 8, 1739. ‡ 125,000 l. || 625 l. § 1250 l. * 15000 l.

by bad Usage, forced to dispatch themselves, and Numbers died of the Blows they received; those who came best off, had either a Leg or an Arm lamed; from Morning to Night, nothing was done or thought of, but gathering in this Money, in which no Barbarities were left unpractifed. This fo dispirited the Inhabitants, that if one Kuzzlebash Horseman came among 10000 of them, he might fafely use them with all the Severities he pleased. This Work went on until the Day Nadir Shah left the City, when near four Crore * were collected from the People. Three Crore +, and thirty Lacks of Rupees, were paid into Nadir Shah's Treafury, and feventy Lacks ‡ were made away with among his Omras, and some expended among the 1000 Horsemen; a great deal was funk in the undervaluing of Goods, for a Horse worth 500 Rupees ||, was only rated at 5 Tomans &, which is 100 Rupees, and Shauls of 50 Rupees * taken at one Toman, or twenty Rupees +, and Jewels and other Goods, in the same Proportion: What the Shab took was valued in this Manner, and received for so much in the Contribution Account; but what he had no occasion for was sold, and the Produce brought to Account, which was no Advantage to the Owners of the Goods, as there were no Buyers but the Kuzzlebash.

* 5,000,000 l. ‡ 875000 l. § 12 l. 10 s. ‡ 2 l. 10 s. + 4,125,000 l. || 62 l. 10 s. |* 6 l. 5 s.

Since the Day of the general Slaughter, wherever any Granaries were, the Kuzzlebash seized them; this and the Roads being stopt to all Quarters made Wheat 2 Seers a Rupee, Rice 1½ Seer, and Ghee ½ Seer: Things were at that Rate for about twenty Days; at last, Sirbullind Khan and Azim Alla Khan, having obtained a Pass and Licence, sent several Waggons to fetch Corn from Feridabad. Whoever had any Carriages, sent them, several of the poor People and Banians going along with them.

Seers for a Rupee, but no more Rice than 2½ Seers, and Geer ½ of a Seer; during this Time the Kuzzlebash Horsemen were wont to go round about Feridabad, and other Places, marrauding twenty and thirty Coss each Way, spoiling all the Fields, and plundering all the Villages as they went, and killing the Inhabitants that made any Refistance. They gave their Horses, Camels, &c. Barley and Wheat-Straw instead of Grass, and the People of the City could have neither at any Rate, so that most of their Cattle died.

Dd2 Inha-

The latter End of Mobirrim *, Danishmund Khan (whose Brother Mullah Ali Akbar was the Shah's Mullah Bashi) was, by Nadir Shah's Recommendation, raised to the Mansub of 7000, with its full Jaguir, befides the Post of Mahommed Shah's Khan Samans; but a fevi Days after Nadir Shah's Departure he fell fick, and on the 14th of Ribby al Avul + departed this Life. Excepting him, Nadir Shab recommended none else to the Emperor.

On Tuesday the 3d Safer ‡, all the Omras were ordered by Nadir Shab to be present at Makommed Shah's by five o'Clock in the Morning, where they plut on forty-two Khalaets, fent thither by Nadir Shah for them. The Khalaeits for Nizam al Muluck, Sirbullind Khan, Kummer o' din Khan, and Mabommed Khan Bungush, were:

* The latter End of April.

[§] Khan Saman, Steward of the Houshold.

⁺ The 10th of June, 1739.

[‡] The Ist of May, 1739.

A rich Atlass Vest.

A Hunting Coat, of a rich Stuff wove with Gold.

Four Yards of Tiffue.

A rich Mandil or Turban.

A Persian Sabre mounted with Gold.

A Knife with a Sheath of enamell'd Gold.

The rest of the Khalaets were different, some had sive Pieces, some sour, three and two, and some had only one Piece of Gold, or one Piece of Silver Stuff, according to the Rank they bore.

About eight in the Morning, Mahommed Shah, feated in a Royal Litter, with a Canopy, Umbrella, and one led Litter, with feveral of the Omras, went towards the General Divan, the Omras being mounted at a small Distance behind him; when they came near the General Divan, the Emperor ordered Saad o'din Khan to let none but the Head Omras, and a few of the Chief Manfubdârs go further. At the Door of the General Divan all the Omras alighted, and followed on Foot to the Door of the private Divan, where Nadir Shah was; there the Emperor came off his Royal Litter, and went in; after they had mutually embraced, they breakfasted together, and the Omras likewife had Breakfast given them. A little after, the following Things were brought in for Mahommed Shah:

A Crown fet with Jewels.

A Sirpeach ||, Ditto.

A Bazoubund *, Ditto.

A Girdle, Ditto.

A Sword, the Handle fet with Jewels.

A Sword with a straight Blade, such as most of the Deccanners use, called Dhoup.

An enamelled Cuttarri.

The Crown Nadir Shah put on with his own Hands, making him an Apology at the fame Time. After giving him fome Advice, he took Leave of him. The Substance of the Advice was as follows: 'In the first ' Place, you must seize all the Omras Ja-" guirs, and pay each of them according to ' their Mansubs and Rank, with ready Mo-' ney, out of the Treasury. You are to al-' low none to keep any Forces of his own, || Sirpeach is a Band or Fillet richly wove, and sometimes fet with Jewels, which is wore round the Turban.

^{*} Bazoubund is a Bracelet.

but you yourself are constantly to keep 60,000 chosen Horsemen, at fixty Rupees ' per Month, one with another: Every ten ' Men to have one Dehbashi , every ten ' Dehbashi's one Sudival +, and every ten Sudivals one Hazarri ‡. You ought to be well acquainted with the Merits of each, ' their Name, their Family, and Nation, not allowing any of them, Officers, Soldiers, or others, to be idle or unactive. 'When an Occasion may require, detach a sufficient Number, under the Command of one, whom you can trust for Conduct, ' Courage, and Fidelity, and when that ' Bufiness is over, recal them immediately, not letting any Person stay too long in Command, for Fear of bad Confequences. You ' are more particularly to beware of Nizam ' al Muluck, whom, by his Conduct, I find ' to be full of Cunning, and Self-interested, ' and more ambitious than becomes a Subject.' Mahommed Shah knowing these Advices proceeded from Good-will, was very thankful, and defired him, as his Empire depended on ^{} Dehbashi, an Officer over ten Men.

⁺ Sudival, an Officer over a Hundred.

[‡] Hazarri, a Captain of a Thousand.

him, that he would appoint those whom he thought most deserving of the principal Posts. Nadir Shah said, 'That will not be " at all for your Interest; such Officers will have little Deference for you in my Ab-fence; when I am gone, dispose of every · Post to those whom you think most worthy, and should they or any of them rebel,

" upon the first Advice, I'll send a Person to chastise them; if it be necessary, I'll send Forces; or, on Occasion, I can be with you myself in forty Days, from Khandahar;

but upon all Events don't reckon me far off.

After this, Mahommed Shah taking Leave, returned back to Aeysh Mehl, from whence he gave the Omras leave to go Home.

On Wednesday the 4th *, Nadir Shah sent for Nizam al Muluck, Sirbullind Khan, and the other Omras, and having enjoined them Obedience to Mahommed Shah, and threatned them in Case of their rebelling, took his Leave.

It was reported that Nadir Shah declared before some of his Omras, such as Thamas Khan, Loutf Ali Khan, and others, that he

^{*} The 2d of May, 1739.

Things; one was his giving the Empire to Mahommed Shah, who being unequal to fo great a Task, the Affairs of India would become worse than formerly; the other, his giving Quarter to Nizam al Muluck, who being so very subtle and crafty, it was more than probable he would raise Disturbances; but as according to the Decrees of Providence, and the Assistance of their own good Fortune, he had once passed his Word to them, he could not act contrary thereto.

On Friday the 6th the Shah's the Peishkhanna went to Shalimar. A Munaddi went about to give Notice, that after the Troops should begin to march, none of the Kuzzlebash, or others belonging to the Army, should tarry in the City, and forbid any Person to entertain or conceal any such in their Houses, and that none belonging to the Army should carry along with them any Male or Female

⁺ The 4th of May, 1739.

[†] Nadir Shah's March was to have been the 27th Mohirrim, but was delayed, on Account of Fojdar Khan Balouche's running away with his Men towards the Rajahs, on being demanded more than one Lack of Rupees, which he was first taxed with.

Captives, excepting Slaves bought with ready Money with a Writing from the Seller, attested by Witnesses declaring his Consent and Satisfaction, or Women lawfully married to them, and even those Slaves and Wives not to be carried away if in the least contrary to their own Inclinations; and that whoever should transgress any of these Orders should forfeit both his Life and Estate.

Upon this almost all who were married in Debli sent back their Wives on finding them unwilling to leave their Native Country, only a few of the Chief Commanders and Officers, by the mildest Means and Intreaties, prevailed on some to seem contented to go; which Nadir Shah, after some Day's March, being informed of, he ordered them all to be immediately fent back.

On Saturday the 7th §, Nadir Shah moved to Shalimar, and gave positive Orders, that all the Soldiers should quit the City that Day.

On Sunday *, before his March from these Gardens, he ordered his Army to be mustered; and it was reported to him, that § May 5, 1739. * May 6, 1739.

Captives,

shah ordered Scidy Folad Khan, the Cutual, to find out those People, and send them with a Guard to the Army, and commanded several of the Nissikhchis and Rîkas likewise to assist. The Cutual, after great Search, found about sixty, and sent them away with a Party of his own Horse and some Nissikhchis; they reached the Army near Serbind, where the Shah ordered all their Heads to be cut off.

In the mean Time, Scidy Folad Khan, having feized feveral more of those Deserters, he was going to send them also; but on hearing how the others were treated, he waited on the Emperor, and represented the Matter to him. Mahommed Shah said: 'He'll' certainly kill these poor Wretches also, if they are sent; why should we be accessary to so much innocent Blood? Let them go

Nadir Shah, by continual Marches, arrived near Lahor, and we are informed, that he plundered and killed the People of Tannifer, and feveral other Villages. The Occasion of which was thus: The Army constantly sending out Parties to forage, and bring Corn and other Necessaries; the

' wherever they please.'

Words:

E e 2 Country

Country People, who used to watch these Opportunities, attacked the Stragglers, and killed and plundered them of their Horses, and what else they had; in the Night-time also they were very troublesom, and stole whatever they could come at, which very much enraged the Shah, having lost above a thousand Mules, Camels and Yahous before he got as far as Lahor. It was reported, that Nadir Shah, having called the Zemidar of Karnal (which is the Place where he got his Victory) gave him 5000 Rupees towards peopling a Village on the same Spot he incamped, and directed him to give it the Name of Fatteh abad ||.

Some Days before he left Debli, he sent Part of his Army before to Labor; when they approached the Place, and Zekaria Khan was apprized thereof, he called together all the great Men, Merchants, Serafs*, and wealthy People of the City. At their Meeting it was agreed, that the Khan and they should go out of the City, and send a Message to the Commanding Officer, in these ا اجاد ا Fatteh abad, fignifies the Habitation of Victory.

^{*} Bankers and Money Changers.

Words: ' If your Defign be to flaughter the ' Inhabitants, Lo! we are here present; if Plunder be your Intent, the City is deserted, ' and our Effects left there; or, if Money be what you want, the Soubabdar and Citis zens can raise no more than one Crore +; ' fo whatfoever your Intentions or Orders are, ' that execute: This is a small City, and ' not able to withstand the Fury of an Army, s as Debli is.' On Receipt of this Message, the Commanding Officer thought proper to represent the Affair to his Master, who ordered him to receive the Crore of Rupees, and to molest them no further. After the Payment of the Money, he drew off, and joined the main Army upon their March.

Nadir Shah, by continual and long Marches, paffed by Labor, on one Side.

On Tuesday, the 10th ‡, Sirbullind Khan, having placed Guards about the Castle, commanded as Chief Officer for that Day: Next Day, he was ordered to come off, and to mount Guard only on Mondays. After going from the Castle, he went to see Nizam al Muluck, who happening to be in Kummir o'dîn Khan's House, he had an Opportunity of visiting both, and then returned to his own House.

† 1,250,000 l, ‡ The 8th of May, 1739.

Until this Day, a great many of the Bodies killed on the Day of the general Massacre, lay putrified in some of the Streets and Bazars.

On Thursday, the 12th ||, in the Morning, Azîm Allah Khan, and in the Afternoon, Kummir o'dîn Khan, went to visit Sirbullind Khan.

On Sunday, the 15th*, the Emperor came from Aesh Mehl, to the General Divan, where he sat four Gurris §, during which Time, the Omras came to pay their Obeifance, making their Presents at the same Time. Nizam al Muluck, on returning from the Castle, went to Sirbullind Khan's House; for since Nizam al Muluck's coming from Deccan, until the 11th Instant, neither of them had been to visit each other.

On Friday, the 20th +, Emîr Khan was

[|] The 10th of May, 1739.

^{*} The 13th of May, 1739.

[§] One Hour 36 Minutes.

[†] The 18th of May, 1739.

honoured with a Sirrapah, a Paleki, with Net-work, and the Office of third Bukhshi ‡.

Ishak Khan, with a Sirrapah, a Paleki with Net-work, and the Office of Duan Khalesib ...

Azîm Allah Khan, with a Sirrapah, and the Office of Sedr.

Ahtisham Khan, Khandoran's Son, with a Sirrapah, and the Office of Darogha Khass*.

On the 14th of Ribby al Avul +, Danish-mund Khan, who, by Nadir Shah's Recommendation, had got the Office of Khan Saman, departed this Life. So, on the 16th ‡, Saad o'din Khan received a Sirrapah, and was promoted to that Office.

From the Day that Nadir Shah left Dehli, until this, which is the 26th of Ribby al Avul ||, nothing was done or proposed, in Regard to the State of Affairs in the Empire. Even this Blow, which is sufficient to give an Idea of the Trumpet of the Day of Judg-

[†] The Third Paymaster.

^{||} Duan Khalesih, the Accomptant General of the King's Revenues.

^{*} Darogah Khass, Superintendant of the Houshold.

⁺ The 10th of June, 1739.

The 12th of June, 1739.

[|] The 22d of June, 1739.

ment, could not in the least awaken out of the heavy Sleep of Security, and Lethargy of Indolence, those People, who were so much intoxicated with the Wine of Pride. and Self-conceit. They all agreed in a general Ill-will to each other, and their whole Talk and Conversation was full of Envy and Detraction.

Of the Buildings that were in Part demolished, and damaged, in the Day of the general Massacre, some that suffered least, are inhabited again, and the rest remain desert; which, if not begun to be repaired before the Rains fet in, will be quite destroyed.

The Inhabitants, from the Terror of this Calamity, like People poffes'd, and in Fits, are quite stupisied, and not yet come to themselves, and what is still more strange, (notwithstanding the Oppressions and Difgrace, the People of this Empire have met with, fince Nadir Shah's Departure) the indecent Expressions, and beastly Actions of his Soldiers, are the constant Subjects of Discourse, in all Companies, related with a feeming Satisfaction and Pleasure, and by Way of Jest and Drollery; not being in the least affected with a Reflection on their

their past Disgrace and Missortunes; but, on the contrary, feemed forry for his going away, excepting Sirbullind Khan, who, three Years ago, forefaw this Calamity, and retired from public Bufiness, dreading the Consequence of Affairs being managed by fuch Omras as then bore Sway: His being an Instrument in collecting the Peisboush was involuntary, and much contrary to his Inclinations, in which he help'd and favoured feveral People as much as lay in his Power, and that in so private a Manner, that they themselves knew not who affisted them: But hypocritical and ignorant Persons, who had neither Will or Power to affift those People, gave their Tongues too much Liberty in complaining of him: However, I refer this innocent Man's Character to the following Arabic Verses:

They say for certain that God has a Son, And say for certain the Prophet is a Magician;

Neither God nor his Prophet has escaped The Tongues of Slanderers, and how shall I?

When

When after the Battle, Nadir Shah had fent for Mahommed Shah and his Boungah to his Camp, one of his Omras represented to him, that in the Hindostan Camp there were 100,000 Horses and a great many Camels, and as those People had, by his Clemency, received Quarter, should he order what Camels and Horses were fit for the Royal Stables to be seized for his Use, it would not be fo great a Hardship upon them. To which the Shah answered: 'I have given these Peo-ople Quarter in all Respects; besides, the Bread of Soldiers depends on their Horses,

' most of them are in wretched and indigent

' Circumstances; should they lose their Horses,

" they and their Families would be reduced

' to Beggary and Starving. It would be far from Humanity to treat them ill, now they ' are at our Mercy; therefore don't molest or infult them on any Account.'

Mahommed Khan Bungush had, for a long Time, been in Expectation of the Soubabdari of Alebabad, especially after Nadir Shah's Departure; but not finding he was likely to fucceed, on the 27th of Safer*, he made off, and went towards his own Zemidari. In his

^{*} The 25th of May, 1739.

Way he plundered several Villages, and meeting the Vanjarras +, who were carrying Corn to Shahjehanabad, carried them along with him.

After some Days, Ali Hamed Khan, Ali Amjid Khan, Ali Afghur Khan, Khan Zuman Khan, Terab Ali Khan, Azem Khan, and others, in all Twenty-two Omras and Mansubdars, who had run away out of the Field of Battle and Camp, as also Mahommed Khan Bungush, who (without Leave) had retired Home, were all discharged the Service.

Nizam al Muluck and Kummir o'din Khan wrote to Mahommed Khan, that if he came back, or fent his Son to attend at Court, it was probable his Mansub and Jaguir should still be continued to him, if not, he must expect no Favour. Mahommed Khan returned for Answer: 'If my Request is complied with, I will come, if not, I will go on to my own Zemidari.'

Since the Battle of Karnal, until Nadir Shab's Departure from Shahjehanabad, the Loss sustained by the Emperor and the People within

Ff2

[†] People who go a Trading in great Droves, and carry their Goods on Oxen.

within and without the City, in Jewels, Treafure, Goods, Effects, and destroying of Fields, fetting afide the Loss of the Buildings, amounted to very near one Arrib t of Rupees, out of which Nadir Shab carried away to the Value of 70 Crores || in Jewels and other Effects; and his Officers and Soldiers 10 Crores*. The Charges of his Army, while he continued there, the Arrears, Pay and Gratuity advanced them, with what Goods were destroyed by Fire, and Fields laid waste, made near 20 Crores + more.

The Particulars of what Nadir Shab carried away with him:

Crore: Jewels from the Emperor and Omras, valued at 25 Utenfils and Handles of Weapons set with Jewels, with the Peacock Throne, and nine others fet with precious Stones Money Coined in Gold and Silver Rupees 25 Gold and Silver Plate which he melted down and coin'd 5 64 1 125,000,000% 1 87,500,000 % * 12,500,000 % † 25,000,000 %. Fine

200,000

Carried over 64
Fine Cloths and rich Stuffs of all Kinds
Houshold Furniture, and other valuable Commodities
Warlike Weapons, Cannon, &c.

70

Elephants 1000, Horses 7000, Camels 10,000, Eunuchs 100, Writers 130, Smiths 200, Masons or Builders 300, Stone-Cutters 100, Carpenters 200.

Nadir Shab had the Draught of the Castle and City of Shabjehanabad taken, and gave to the abovementioned Artificers, Horses, and what other Carriages were necessary for their Journey, allowing them a sufficient Pay. The Terms he entered into with them were, to sollow their several Occupations for three Years in Kandabar; at the Expiration of which, they were to have Liberty, either to return Home, or continue there. But in their Way to Labor, several of them made their Escape, and returned hither.

Since Nadir Shah's entering this Country, until his getting to Labor in his March back,

200,000

222 The HISTORY of

200,000 of the Inhabitants of this Empire were destroyed, as follows:

From Labor to Karnal were killed on the Roads and in the Villages 8000. Killed in the Battle of Karnal 17,000:

Those killed during the Space of three Days after the Battle, in the Highways and round about the Camp, were 14,000.

Those killed on their March to the City, in Sonput, Paniput, and other Villages that were plundered

Those killed in the general Mas-facre, by the exactest Computation 110,000.

After the general Massacre were killed in Roub Allah Khan's Serai, and the Villages and Fields round about where they went a marrauding, which is about thirty Coss each Way.

On their March back, in Taniseer

and other Villages

Those who had laid violent Hands upon themselves, the Women who drown'd and burnt them25,000 12,000.

193,000 felves,

Carried over 193,000

felves, as also those who died of Famine and other Hardships, amounted to about 7,000.

200,000%

A Translation of the Cession made by Mahommed Shah to Nadir Shah of all the Territories to the Westward of the River Attok.

Ormerly, the Ministers ‡ of his High Majesty (who is exalted like Saturn ||, fierce as Mars*, impetuous as the God of War, King of the Kings of the Earth,

Prince of the Princes of the Age, the Sha' dow of God and Refuge of Islâm, in Pomp

' like Alexander, the Heavens his Court, the

* Sultan who is merciful, and the Emperor

" who is august, Nadir Shah, may God pere petuate his Reign) had fent Ambassadors

‡ In the East it is not polite to say to a Prince, he did or said such a Thing, but that his Ministers and Servants did it.

|| Saturn being the most remote from the Centre of the System.

* In the Original it is عهرام صولة مربخ سطوة Beberam Solat, Merikh Suttuvit. Beheram, in the ancient Perfic, fignifies Mars, and مربخ Merikh, in to this Court, to treat of certain Affairs which I intended to comply with; afterwards Mahommed Khan Turcoman arrived from Kandabar, to remind me thereof, but my Ministers and Agents having delayed the Ambaffadors, and postpon'd an An-' fwer to his High Majesty's Letter, raised ' fuch a Misunderstanding between us, that his fuccessful Army having come to the Confines of Hindostan, both Parties encoun-' tered in the Fields of Karnal, where, after 'a Royal Battle was fought, as Providence would have it, Victory to Appearance rose from the East of his undeclining Fortune. ' As his High Majesty, who is mighty as ' fumsheid +, and the greatest of the Turcomans, is the Source of Goodness and · Prowefs; relying on his Honour, and ' trusting to his Support, I had the Satisfaction of an Interview, and enjoyed the Pleasure of being entertained in his Paradife-like Com-' pany. After which, we came together to ' Shajehanabad, where I brought forth to his View, and with the proper Ceremony pre-

' fented to him, all the Treasure, Jewels,

+ One of the ancient Kings of Persia, remarkable for his Greatness and Power.

and precious Effects of the Hindostan Em-perors; his Majesty, in Compliance with

' my Request, accepted of some: And out of " the Greatness of his Soul, and abundant

' Humanity, in Regard to the illustrious Fa' mily of Gourgan, and the Honour of the "Original Tree of Turkan, was graciously

' pleased to restore to me the Crown and Gem of Hindostan. 'In Consideration of this Favour, which ono Father shows to a Son, nor no Brother to a Brother, I make over to him all the " Countries to the West of the River Attok, the Water of Scind, and Nala Sunkra which ' is a Branch of the Water of Scind: That is to fay, Peishor with its Territories, the Principality of Cabul, Ghoznavi, the moune tainous Residences of the Afghans, the Hae zarijat and the Passes, with the Castle of Buckar, Sunkar, and Khoudabad: The rest of the Territories, Passes, and Abodes of ' the Chokias, Balluches, &c. with the Pro' vince of Tatta, the Castle of Ram, and the Village of Terbin, the Towns of Chun,

' Sumawali and Ketra, &c. Places dependant on Tatta: All their Fields, Villages,

Castles, Towns, and Ports from the first

Rife of the River Attok, with all the Paffes ' and Habitations, which the abovefaid Water 'and its feveral Branches comprehends and ' furrounds, as far as Nala Sunkra, where it ' empties itself into the Sea: In short, all Places Westward of the River Attok, and ' those Parts, and Westward of the River ' Scind, and Nala Sunkra, I have annexed to the Dominions of that powerful Sove-' reign, that from henceforth his Agents and Servants may enter upon and fet about the ' Management and the fecuring of the above-' faid Territories, taking the Government and Command of those several Places, 'Tribes and Inhabitants into their own ' Hands; my Officers, Servants, &c. evacuating the abovefaid Places, as being feve-' red from my Dominions, and entirely re-' nouncing all Right they have or might for-" merly have had to command, controul or collect any Revenues there; the Castle and 'Town of Lobry Bundar, with all the Countries to the East of the River Attok, Water of Scind, and Nala Sunkra, shall, as formerly, belong to the Empire of Hin-' dostan. Dated at Shajehanabad, the 4th of · Mobirrim +, 1152. 1 The 2d of April, 1739.

A Per-

A Personal Description and Character of Nadir Shah, which I had from the Gentleman who favoured me with the Account of his Exploits before his Expedition to India.

ADIR SHAH is about fifty-five Years, upwards of fix Foot high, well-proportion'd, of a very robust Make and Constitution, his Complexion fanguine and inclining to be fat, but the Fatigue he undergoes prevents it; he has fine large Black-eyes and Eye-brows; and, in short, is one of the most comely Men I ever beheld. The Injury the Sun and Weather have done to his Complexion only gives him a more manly Aspect. His Voice is so uncommonly loud and strong, that he frequently, and without straining it, gives Orders to his People at above a hundred Yards Distance. He drinks Wine with Moderation, but is extremely addicted to Women, in which he affects great Variety, and yet never neglects his Business on their Account; his Gg 2

Hours of Retirement among the Ladies are but few, feldom entering their Apartments before Eleven or Twelve at Night, and is up and in Public by Five in the Morning. His Diet is simple, chiefly Pillaw and plain Dishes; and, if public Affairs require his Attendance, he neglects his Meals, and fatisfies his Hunger with a few parched Peafe (of which he always carries some in his Pockets). and a Draught of Water. In the Camp, or in the City, he is almost constantly in Public, and if not, he may be fent to, or spoke with by any Person. He musters, pays and cloaths his Army himself, and will not suffer any Perquisites to be taken from the Soldiers by his Officers, on any Pretence whatever. He has Monthly Accounts tranfmitted to him of the State of Affairs in all Parts of his Dominions, and holds a Correfpondence with his feveral private Spies in every Place: Besides, in every Province and City there is a Person called Hum Calâm, appointed to inspect into the Governor's Actions, and keep a Register of them; no Affair of any Consequence can be transacted but in the Presence of that Officer, who, besides the Account the Governor is obliged to fend Monthly,

NADIR SHAH. 229

Monthly, transmits his Journal by a separate Conveyance whenever he thinks proper, without permitting the Governor to peruse it; he has no settled Salary or Gratuity for his Trouble, but is rewarded or punished just as Nadir Shah finds he deserves. This extraordinary Caution in a great Measure prevents the Governor's oppressing the People, or entering into any Conspiracies or Rebellions He is extremely generous, against him. particularly to his Soldiers, and bountifully rewards all in his Service, who behave well. He is, at the same Time, very severe and strict in his Discipline, punishing with Death those who commit a great Offence; and with the Loss of their Ears, those whose Transgressions are of a slighter Nature; he never pardons the Guilty of what Rank foever, and is highly displeased, if, after he has throughly examined the Affair, any Person prefumes to intercede in their Behalf, before which they may give their Sentiments with Freedom.

When on a March, or in the Field, he contents himself to eat, drink, and sleep like a common Soldier, and enures all his Officers to the same severe Dicipline. He is of so hardy a Constitution, that he has been often known, of a frosty Night to repose himself upon the Ground in the open Air, wrapt up in his Cloak, with only a Saddle for his Pillow, especially when, upon an extraordinary Enterprize which required Expedition, he has been obliged to out-march his Baggage, by which Means he has fallen upon the Enemy when they least expected him. He is never happy but when in the Field, and laments the Time he is obliged to stay in a City to refresh his Troops, in which (as in all Things else) he uses the utmost Dispatch. His Meals are over in less than Half an Hour, after which he returns to Business; so that the Servants who attend him standing are changed three or four Times a Day. He never indulges himself in any Kind of Pleasure in the Day-time, but constantly at Sun-set retires to a private Apartment; where, unbending himfelf at once from Business, he sups with three or four Favourites, and drinks a Quart, or at most three Pints of Wine, behaving all the Time in the freest and most facetious Manner. In this private Conversation no Person is allowed to mention any Thing relating to public Business; nor, at other Times, must they with more Familiarity than their Equals. Two of his Evening-Companions happening to transgress in that Point, by taking the Liberty to advise him in Public, he immedately ordered them to be strangled, saying: Such Fools were not fit to live, who could not distinguish between Nadir Shah and Nadir Kuli. He has been very kind to those who please him in private Conversation, and behave with a becoming Decency and Deference in Public, where they are taken no more Notice of, nor have they any more Influence over him than othersofthe same Rank.

His Mother, who was living in the Year 1737, (at the Request of some who were attached to the Royal Family) intreated Nadir Shah, some Time after he had seized the King, to restore him, not doubting but his Majesty would make him sufficient Amends, by creating him Generalissimo for Life. He ask'd her 'whether she really thought so?' She told him, 'She did.' Upon which he smil'd and said, 'If I was an old Woman, 'perhaps I might be inclined to think so too, 'and desired her to give herself no Trouble

He was married to Shah Thamas's Aunt, the youngest Sister of Shah Sultan Hussein, by whom, I heard, he had one Daughter. He has feveral young Children by his Concubines, and two Sons by a Woman he married in his Obscurity. The Eldest, Reza Kuli Mirza, is about twenty-five Years of Age. He was trained up from his Childhood in the Army, where from a Subaltern he has been gradually advanced to the Rank of a General, and appointed Vice-Roy of Persia, during his Father's Expedition to India. The second Son Nesr Allah Mirza, who is about twenty-one Years of Age, is nominal Governor of Mushad and the Province of Khorasan, having a Person to direct and manage for him.

His eldest Son, when he ranked as a Lieutenant, had only that Pay to subsist on, and in all other Stations had no more than his Commission entitled him to. His Father regarded him no more than he did the other Officers, and permitted him to associate with them, giving him to know, that if he was guilty of any Crime or Breach of Duty, he should be punished with as great Rigour as any of the rest. On his behaving well he not only promoted him, but increased his Pa-

ternal

NADIR SHAH. 233

ternal Affection for him. They who knew the young Man (for I never faw him) judge he'll make full as great a Figure in the World as his Father; having given fignal Proofs of his Courage and Conduct in feveral Battles, and of his great Abilities in other Respects while Nadir Shah was in India. By my private Advices from thence I'm inform'd, that he govern'd the Empire with great Skill, and kept every Thing quiet and easy until his Father's Return.

Among Nadir Shah's extraordinary Faculties, his Memory is not the least to be admired, there being few Things of Moment that he ever said or did, but what he remembers; and can readily call all the principal Officers in his numerous Army by their Names. He knows most of the private Men who have served under him any Time, and can recollect when and for what he punished and rewarded any of them. He dictates to one or two Secretaries, and gives Orders about other Affairs at the same Time, with all the Regularity and Promptness imaginable.

In Time of Action, I'm told, he is equally furprifing, it being scarce credible how quick he is in discerning the Odds on either Side, and how active in fuccouring his Troops. If any of his General Officers give Ground without being greatly over-powered, he rides up and kills him with a Battle-ax (which he always carries in his Hand) and then gives the Command to the next in Rank. In all the Battles, Skirmishes, and Sieges he has been engaged in (altho' he generally charges at the Head of his Troops) he never received the least Wound or Scar, and yet several Horses have been shot under him, and Bullets have grazed on his Armour.

Hh

I could relate many other remarkable Things that I have feen and heard of this great Hero, whose Actions already are sufficient to convince the World, that few Ages have produced his Equal. As he has performed fuch Wonders when he had hardly Money or Men, what may we not expect from him now he is posses'd of so immense a Treasure? 'Tis probable he may live thirty Years longer; and in that Space of Time, if his Defigns are attended with the same Success he has hitherto met with, to what Pitch of Grandeur may not a Man of his unbounded Ambition and Courage arrive at?

AN IN-

N'A give Ground with-

INDEX

Referring to the Page where the following Words are particularly Explain'd.

		an Dune) In E
ever received the	Page	Arrizbegi -	- 140
A BD -		Albritt	- 01
Abdallab	71	Asof Jah -	- 64
Abdollees	92	Attok -	- 130
Abd o' Rahman -	- 71	Aumar	- 117
Abu Buckr —	117	Auringabad
Abul Fazl -	II	Auringzebe -	7
Abul Mazuffer	47	Azem -
Aeysh Mahl —	178	Azim -
Afghans — —	1000	Azim al Shan
		a superior
Affhars of	72	Janba SuB De
Agra — 24 Abeers ——	1, 3,	Babadr Shab -	1000
Abmedabad	29	Bahar Banu
Abmednagur -	35	Baheers -
Aitmad al Dowlat		Bajeerau -	65
Akbarabad —	38	Bakhtiaris —	— 157
Akbarabad —	24	Bakhtir —
Ali	117	Bargab -
Alumguîr	29	Barrani —	155
Amead Bukhsh	28	Bazoubund —	- 207
Aram Banu Begum	19	Beaura -	- 190
Arjumund Banu	27	Bedar Bukht -	41
Arrib	25	Beglerbeg -	- 73
	Trees.		Begum

Begum -	19	44 - (11
Bhagnagur —	32	E.
Bijapore —	32	Ezabad	- 31
Boungah -	154	Eaz o'dîn -
Bukhshi	215	Eidgah -
Bullind Akhter	38	Eildirm
		Emir
C.		Emir al Momini
Cabul -	36	Emir al Omra	0
Chaboutra -	183	Enam
Chandni Chok	182	Eugene —
Chaux -	140
Chîn Kuleejh Khan	44	F.
Choppar —		Fakirs — -	- 189
Chot -	65	Farfang -
Coins of Nadir Shal		Fattaba
32 1016	120	Fattehabad
Coss measured and	com-	Fattebpour -
, ,	20	Firmân
Courd	141	Fojbdar	2 645
Crore -		Furrukbsir	42
Croris
Cuttari —	199	G.
Cutual	183	Ganîms	33
		Ghazi o'din	44
D.		Ghee	168
Dam -	26	Golconda -	32
Dara Shekowh	28	Gouzrân	48
Darogha Khass	215	Gouzrbans	46
Davr Bukhsh	22	Gualiar -	32
Debbashi -	207	Gurris	2
Dehli —	3
Dirbar 156,		H.
Dowlat Afza	28	Hakem	131
Duan -	49	Hanbal -	- 117
Duan Khalsib	215		Hanifa

	Antibe was the		The part of the last
Hanifa	117, 124	Kassi Benaris	146
Harrol	150	Kazzi	49
Hazarri	187, 207	Khak Towda	143
	73	Khalaet	48
Hind	144	Khan	97
	3, 139	Khan Saman	204
Hindu -	3	Khanum	19
Hur al Nissa	29	Khata	4
Hyder		Khefrabad	31
Hyderabad	32	Khojista Akhter	40
Hyder Kuli	55	Khor	72
,		Khorasan	71, 72
I.		Khofro	22
Faats -	- 153	Khotbah	4
Faffer	124	Kobîr	38
Faguir	45	Koteb	2,39
Jaguirdar -	45	Koteb al dîn	39
Famil Misjid		Koteb al Muluck
Iar ba Vafa	43	Kouruck	176
Feban Ara	28	Kuli	55
Jehandar	23	Kuli Khan	97
Jehanguîr	19	Kullehdar	131
Jehan Shah	40	Kummir o'dîn	61
Feloudar	141	Kurrol	153
Iesdan Bukhsh	41	Kuzzlebash	135
Iesd Bukbsb	38	AND AND ADDRESS OF THE PARTY OF
Feziah -	166	L.
Filal o'dîn	10	Lack	25
Islâm -	138	Loutf Allah	28
Jumsheid	224	Lunar Year	2
	Les Griro
K,		M.
Kajirs	157	Maharajah	30
Kambukhsh	38	Maharattas	33
Kandahar =	62	Mahl	174
		Me	rbommed

- //-		77.6 47.7
Mahommed	6	Nefr Allah	41
Malek	117	Nessir o'dins	8
Malika al Zumani	173	Niquibs	140
Mansub	45	Nissikhchi	173
Mansubdar	45	Nizam al Muluck	44
Manzel	2	Nour Jeban	20
Matim	198	Nour Mahl	20
Mauzm	38	Nour o'dîn	19
Mauz o'din	40	801
Mebd Alia	25	0.
Mim Bashi	73	Omra	55
Mir Bukbshi	58	Othman	117
Misjidd	183	Shekemby 28	Same
Moghol Omras	133	P.
Moby o'din	29	Pabr Gunjb	180
Morad	18	Panjab	10
Morad Bukhsh	28	Parhez bame	29
Mothir al Muluck	140	Parvez	23
Mourcha	152	Pattans	7
Munaddi	148	Peisboush	48
Mufbadd	73	Peilhor	134
Mufnidd	163	Peishkhanna	134
Muttesiddis	47	Poulmeetai	184
4. Zarrayana	Stant S	R.	1042
N.		Raffeeib al Dirjat	43
Nadir 71	, 119	- Dowlat	43
Nadir Kuli	71	Kadr	40
Naib	141	Shan	40
Nakar Khanna	153	Rabadars	46
Nasr jing	44	Rahman Buksh	41
Nasr o'din	54	Rajah	22
Navob	141	Rajah Sahou	33
Nazem	49	Rajpouts	32
Nazem Munazem	140	Rani	22
Nazr	48	Reti	181
11021	40		binrai
		2009	-2111 000

Roishinrai	28	Sudival	207
Rupee 25,	E. T. T. T.	Sujab	28
S.	Sqribin	Suliman Bourge	178
Sahou Rajah	33	Suliman Shekowh	32
Schias	117	Sultana Nissa	22
Scind	10	Sultan Khourm	23
Sedr	123	Sunnis	117
Seer Cacha and	d Pucca	Suria Banu	28
	168	T.
Selîm	18	Taage Mahl	25
Selima	18	Tabal	126
Selimgur	54	Takht Revan	162
Sepeh Shekowh		Tazia	198
Sera, Serai, or	Seraglio	Temur	I
OF 1 STATE OF	67	Thamas Kuli	97
Seraf	212	Toishik Khanna	173
Serafa ardui	184	Tokbîr	126
Settara	33	Toman	202
Shafi	117	Towpchi Bashi	173
Shah	35	V.
Shahab o'dîn	24	Vakeât Babri	6
Shah Alum	39	Vakeel	163
Shah Jehan	24	Vanjarras	219
Shahjehanabad	3	Vijapore	32
Shah zada	19	Vinga	52
Shakr nissa	19	W.
Shehriar	23	Wallah Jah	41
Sher Afkan	21	Y.	7.
Sinnid	49	Yabous 1.	251
Sirpeach	206		154
Sirrapah	48	Z.	-
Solar Year	2	Zebîr o'din	6
Soubab	34	Zemi	46
Soubabdar	34	Zemidars	46
Stage	E I N	Zen al dîn	35
	FIN	I I S.

BOOKS Printed for and Sold by A. MILLAR.

HE Works of Francis Bacon, Lord High Chancellor of England. With several Additional Pieces, never before printed in any Edition of his Works. To which is prefix'd, A New Life of the Author, by Mr. Mallet. In 4 Vol.

II. The Additional Pieces, and Life, may be had alone to compleat the former Edition. In one Volume Folio.

III. The LIFE, in Octavo. In this Work, besides an accurate Review of the Reigns of Queen Elizabeth and King James I, the Characters of the most eminent Persons that sourished under both those Princes, are occasionally drawn.

IV. A COMPLETE COLLECTION of the Historical Political, and Miscellaneous Works of JOHN MILTON. Containing several Original Papers of His, never before published. With an Historical and Critical Account of the Life and Writings of the Author. By Mr. BIRCH. In 2 Vol. Folio.

V. The OCEANA and Other Works of JAMES HAR-RINGTON, Esq; with an exact Account of his Life prefix'd, by John Toland. To which is added, An APPENDIX, Containing all the Political Tracts wrote by this Author, omitted in Mr. Toland's Edition.

The Appendix may be had alone.

VI. An HISTORICAL and POLITICAL DISCOURSE OF the LAWS and GOVERNMENT OF ENGLAND, from the First Times to the End of the Reign of Queen Elizabeth. With a Vindication of the Ancient Way of Parliaments in England. Collected from some Manuscript Notes of John Selden, Esq; by Nathaniel Bacon, of Gray's-Inn, Esq;

There are a few of the above Four Books printed on a fuperfine Writing-Paper.

Preparing for the Press, and to be published with all convenient Expedition.

VII. A NEW and COMPLETE COLLECTION of the WORKS of the Hon. ROBERT BOYLE, Esq; printed from the best Editions, with considerable Improvements and Additions from his own Manuscripts: As likewise a large Number of Letters upon various Subjects written by Himself and his Friends to him; with some other Tracts never before published. To the Whole will be prefix'd, A New Account of bis Life, consisting partly of Memoirs drawn up by himself.

If fuch Gentlemen who have any Papers in their Hands, which may contribute to the Advantage of this Work, will please to communicate them to the Undertaker A. MILLAR.

they will be thankfully acknowledged.

CATALOGUE

OF

MANUSCRIPTS

INTHE

Persic, Arabic, and Sanskerrit

LANGUAGES.

Collected in the EAST by $\mathcal{F}AMESFRASER$.

LONDON:
Printed for A. MILLAR. M.DCC.XIII.

Printed for A. MILLEYS. MEDCCKLIL

CATALOGUE

OF

Oriental MANUSCRIPTS.

HISTORY.

ARIKH Rozit al Suffa. By Mahommed ben Khoavind Shah ben Mahmud. Dedicated to Mîr Ali Sheir. In Five Volumes, Folio.

Vol. I. Containing, An Introduction concerning the Usefulness of History, how necessary it is for those who Command and Govern, to be acquainted therewith; and what is requisite, in order to be able to compose a good History. After which, follows an Account of the Creation, Noah's Flood, and the Lives of the Patriarchs, Prophets, and Kings of Israel.

An Account of the Lives of the ancient Poets and Philosophers.

A History of the ancient Kings of Persia, from Kayomars, until the entire Conquest of that Empire, (in the Reign of Iesdegerde Shehriar) by the Saracens, in the Khalisship of Othman; in which is also comprehended the Life of Philip, and of Alexander the Great.

Vol. II. The Genealogy, Birth, Prophetic Miffion, and Actions of Mahommed, until his Death.

The Khalifships of Abubuckr, Aumar, Othman, and Ali; wherein is a particular and copious Account of the first Foundation of the Arab or Saracen Empire; all the Wars, Conquests, and Changes, that happened in their Khalifships.

Vol. III. The Lives of the Twelve Imams, and of all the Khalifs, from Mortisa Ali to Motezum B'illah; with an Account of their Wars, Conquests, &c. until the final Dissolution of their Empire by Holaku Khan.

Vol. IV. The History of all the Kings that reigned in Persia, from the Saracen Conquest, until it was subdued by Chinguéz Khan's Sons. The History of all the Princes that govern'd in the several Parts of Tartary, and the Confines of India, from the Time Mahommedanism was first propagated there, until the Conquest of these Countries by Chinguéz Khan's Sons.

Vol. VI. The History of the famous Temour, or Tamerlane, his Sons and Successors, until the Year 830.

Tuarîkh Tebri. By Abu Jaffer Mahommed ben Herîr ben Iezîd al Tebri. Translated into Persic; with a Continuation, at the Command of Abu Saleh ben Noh at Khorasan, by Abu Ali Mahommed ben Abdallah al Balaâmi. It contains the same as the first Four Volumes of Tarîkh Rozit al Sussa, but only to the Year 550. It is reckoned the most authentick History they have, and is much esteemed in the East. There is an Appendix to it, containing a Geographical Account of the Countries and Places mentioned in History.

TUARÎKH é Padshahan Hînd. A History of all the Mahommedan Kings that reign'd in Debli, to the Time of the Great Moghol Jilal o'dîn Mahommed Akbar.

ROZIT aul' albab fi tuarikh al akaber v'al insab. By Abu Suliman Daud ben abi al fazl Mahommed Bena Geti, in the Time of Sultan Abuseyd, the Sixth in a lineal Descent from Chinguéz Khan. Containing the Genealogy, &c. of the Patriarchs and Prophets, from Adam to the Death of Abraham.

The History of the ancient Kings of Persia, from Kayomars to Iesdeger de Shehriar, the last King; with an Account of the samous Men and Philosophers that flourished in their Times. The Genealogy, Birth, and Life of Mahommed. The History of the Four first Khalifs, or Successors, and the Twelve Imâms, with the rest of the Khalifs, to Motezum B'illah, the last Khalif of Binni Abass.

The History of the several Kings that govern'd in Persia, Tartary, &c. from the first Out-set of Iacub ben Leiss, to the latter Days of Khowr Shab.

The History of the Jews, the Prophets and Kings of Ifrael, from Moses's Time, to their last King Mattina, called by Bukhtnissar, Sedkiah. The History of the Nazarens and Franks, with the Genealogy of the Virgin Mary, traced up to David. Also an Account of their Country, their Casars and Popes, from the Time of the Messiah, until the Year 717 of the Hegira.

An Account and History of India, and its Kings, from the Time of Pasdeav, to Ala è dîn. The History of Khatai, from the Time of Nékou Padshah, to Altan Khan, with whom Chinguéz Khan, and his Successors, had Wars. The Time of their Government, according to their own Historians, is 42, 875 Years.

The History of the Moghols, and Origin of Chinguéz Khan, his conquering of Persia &c. with an Account of his Sons and Successors, to the 25th Shuval, 717.

AKBAR

AKBAR NAMA. By the famous Abul Fazl ben Mobarek. Containing the Genealogy of the Tamerlane Race, from Adam to Akbar the Great Moghol.

The particular History of each, from Tamerlane, until the 38th Year of Akbar's Reign.

A List and Account of all the Poets, Physicians, Astronomers, and learned Men; with a Muster-Roll of the Standing Forces then in the Empire.

TEBCAT Akbar Shahi. By Nizam o' din Ahmed ben Mahommed Mokim alroui. Containing the History and Actions of the first Invaders and Conquerors of Hindostan, from the Year 367 of the Hegira, to the Conquest thereof by Tamerlane, in 801; and from him, until the 38th Year of Akbar's Reign: With a List of all the famous Men that flourish'd in Akbar's Time, and a Muster-Roll of the Army in 1002.

The History of the Kings of Deccan, to the Year

1002.

the	Guzerat,	to 980 1	nd nd
f t	Bengal,	929	we all
Jo Jo	Malva,	967	d, the
SS 6	Chunpore,	967	th tot
ing	Scind,	980	ar ue d t
HX	Cashmîr,	995	Ye nd de de
he	Multan,	980	he co co
H	2.2,	900	LF .

Towards the latter End, it contains fundry Things relating to India.

PADSHAHNAMA. By Abdal Hamîd Labori, in 3 Vols. Folio.

Vol. I. A Review of the Moghol's History, from Tamerlane to Shah Jehan.

The

The History of the first Ten Years Reign of Shah Jehan, to which is annexed his History before his Accession to the Throne.

A Muster-Roll of the Standing army, and an Account of the Treasury, Revenues, Jewels, &c. as they then stood. With an Account of what Presents were made, the Money laid out on Publick Buildings, and Pensions settled on the Queens, Princes, and Princesses.

Vol. II. Containing the fecond Ten Years of Shah Jehan's Reign; with a muster-Roll of the Standing Army, and an Account of the Trea-fury, Revenues, &c.

Vol. III. The third Ten Years of Shah Jehan's Reign, with a Muster-Roll, &c. &c. &c.
The whole interspersed with several curious Relations, regarding the different Provinces of India, and an Account of the most remarkable Buildings, Mosques, Tombs, &c.

Maçır Jehanguîry. By Kamgar Hosseini. Being a full and exact History of the Great Moghol Jehanguîr, from his Birth to his Death. Interspersed with a great many curious Relations. The Manner he was entirely managed by, and at last insulted on Account of, his beautiful Mistress Nour Jehan.

VACKEAT Babri. The Great Moghol Babr's Commentaries of himself, from the Time he sat on the Throne, which was at Twelve Years of Age, until one Year before his Death. Containing an Account of his several Relations; as also the Princes who then govern'd in several Parts of Tartary.

A full Account of his Battles in Tartary and India; a correct Description of India; the Soil, Climate, Manners of the People, Commodities produced therein; a List of the several Powers

MUJA A

Powers who then possess'd India. Also a Defcription of the Beafts, Birds, Fruits, Herbs, and Flowers, peculiar to that Country.

- VAKEAT Jehanguiry. The Great Moghol Jehanguir's Commentaries of himfelf, from his fitting on the Throne, until the 13th Year of his Reign; wherein is fet down all the new Regulations and Experiments he made.
- ALUMGUÎRNAMA. By Munshi Mahommed Kazm ben Mahommed Amin Munshi. Containing the History of India and Auring-zebe, from Sultan Dara Sheckowh's first confining his Father Shah Feban, until the 13th Year of Auring-zebe's Reign; wherein is a full Account of the Means he used to cut off his Brothers, and fecure the Empire to himfelf.
- TARÎK H Cashmir. By Hossan ben Ali Cachmiri. Wrote at the Command of Jilal o'din muluk Mabommed Nachi ebn Muluk Nousserit. Containing The History of Cashmir, from the earliest Times, until its being conquered by the Great Moghol Jilal o'din Mahommed Akbar, being the Space of near 4000 Years, by their Account; with a fhort Appendix, giving a Description of the Country, and the remarkable Places therein.
- Mîrat Secandri. By Secander Ebn Mahommed. Containing the History of Guzerat, from the earliest Times, until its Conquest by the Great Moghol Akbar.
- TARÎKH alum arai Abassi. In Three Vols. By Secander Beg, Secretary to Shah Abass the Great. Containing, lov organisation and the laces of the World

Vol. I. The Genealogy of the Persian Kings of the last Race, or the Sessi Family, lineally from Mortisa Ali; with the particular Life of each, to Shah Ismael, who was the first King of that Race.

The Life and History of Shah Ismael.

The Life and History of Shah Thamas, his Son. An Account of the Learned Men, Poets, Phyficians, Astronomers, Painters, Musicians, and fine Writers, that flourished in Persia, in Shah

Thamas's Reign.

Vol. II. and III. Containing a full History of the Persian Kings, from Shah Thamas's Death, until the Death of Shah Abass the Great; wherein is set down every remarkable Incident that happen'd in Persia during that Time, with many other curious Relations.

TARÎKH Shah Ismael. By Shirf o' dîn Ali Iesdi, the Author of Habib al seir. Containing,

I. A fummary Account of Shah Ismael's Predecessors, as high as Mortisa Ali; with a short Account of the several Kings of Persia, who were their Contemporaries.

II. A compleat History of Shah Ismael, from his Birth to his Death; giving a particular Account of the several Powers who bore Sway in Persia, and round about it, at the Time of his first setting out, and for some Time afterwards.

TARÎKH Mokhtêsir. Containing,
A short History of the Great Moghols, from Auring-zebe's Death, to the third Year of the present Emperor Mahommed Shah's Reign.

ATHAR al Belad v. akhbar al Ebad. By Zekaria ben Mahmud al Kazvini. Being a Geographical and Historical Account of most Places in the World, B Nature Nature of the People, Curiofities, &c. divided into feven Climates.

- TARÎKH Mobarek Shahi. By Iahya ben Ahmed ben Abdallah al Serindi. Containing the History of the Sam Ghori Kings, from Sultan Mahommed Sam, in the Year 569 to 837.
- Mîrat al Mokhlucat. By Abd o' rhaman Cheisti, which he says is an Explanation of a small Book, in the Brahmin's Language; composed, at first, in the time of the Genii, which he, by great Chance, found; containing a Prediction in regard to the Creation of Adam and Eve, peopling the Earth with Mankind, and foretelling Mahommed's Mission.

Marege al Nabouet fi Medarege al fattouet. By Mayîn al Meskin. In four Vols. Containing Four Parts, and one Appendix.

I. Treats of the Creation, Paradife, &c. and all the Patriarchs and Prophets, to the Time of Mahommed.

II. From Mahommed's Birth to his Mission.

III. From his Mission to his Flight. IV. From his Flight to his Death.

Appendix. Giving an Account of all the Miracles that are recorded of him.

TARÎKH Jehan numai. Containing
The History of Chinguéz Khan, and his Successors, from his first Appearance in the World, until the latter End of Holaku Khan's Reign.

Montekheb Tuarîkh. Containing Part of Holaku Khan's History, the whole of Temour's, and until the Death of Shah Rokh Mirza, Temour's Son.

It contains an Account of Three Chinese Embassies to Shahrokh Mirza, and Copies of Daimung Khan, Emperor of China, his Letters to him; with Copies of two Letters in Arabic and Persic, sent from Shahrokh by Shekh Mahommed Bukhshi to him; wherein, among other Things, he endeavours to convert him to the Mahommedan Religion.

It contains his Correspondence with Khesr Khan, then Emperor of Hindostan, and an Appendix, giving a Description of Mawaralnahr (or Transcreas Tentence) in Civin Diagram Soxane Tartary) its Cities, Rivers, &c.

Montekheb al Tuarîkh. Composed by Abdalcadr Muloukshah Bedauvni, in the Year 999, at the Command of the Great Moghol Jilal o' din Mahommed Akbar.

It contains the History of all the Mahommedan Princes that invaded and bore Sway in India, to the Year 999. according to their several Dynasties.

TARÎKH Gozidib. By Mahommed ben Abibect ben Ahmed ben Nasser Mustofi al Kazvini. Divided into a Preface, Six Parts, and an Appendix. Preface. Creation of the World.

Part I. Account of the Patriarchs, Prophets, and ancient Philosophers. In two Sections.

II. Account of the Kings who ruled the Empire of Persia before Mahommedanism; such as the Peishdadians, Kaianians, Samanians, and Sasanians. In four Sections.

III. Concerning Mahommed, his Successors, Khalifs, Imams, Followers, &c. In one

Introduction, and Six Sections.

IV. Account and History of all the Kings who reigned in the several Parts, from the Beginning of Mahommedanism, until the B 2

Year 730. In Eleven Sections. Containing the following Dynasties. Binni Leis, Samanians, Ghoznavi, Kings. Ghori, Ditto.

Dielman al Boui, Ditto.

Siljowkian, Ditto. Khuarism, Ditto. Atabakan, Ditto.

Ismaelian, Ditto.

Kara Khatai, Sultans. The Moghol Kings.

V. Concerning the Imams, or Antistes of the Mahommedan Religion; the Readers, Elders, and Learned Men, who, through their Piety and Exemplary Life, arrived to a State of Excellence: With some of their most remarkable Sayings.

VI. An Account of the City of Kazvin, its Situation, Buildings, Canals, Tombs, Misjidds, &c. with an Account of the feveral Families, and great Men that have fprung from that Place.

Appendix. The Genealogy of the Patriarchs, Prophets, Kings, Philosophers, &c. mentioned in this History, in a Tree, to the Year 730.

KELMAT TYBAT. All the remarkable Sayings of the Great Moghol Auring-zebe; with Copies of all the Letters, Notes, &c. he wrote himself.

Ayîn Akbari. Composed by a Society of Men assembled for that Purpose. By Jilal o'din Makommed akbar, the Great Moghol. Containing, I. A particular Account of each Province, City, Town, and Village of the Moghol's Empire.

pire. The Extent of each Province in Coss's and Measure of all the cultivated Fields belonging to them, in Vingas. Their Latitudes and Longitudes; the latter taken from Jezair Khaldat, or the Canarie Islands. The Revenues and Income of each Place. The Quota of Men each Province and Government is obliged to furnish. The Kinds of Grain and Commodities each produces; with an Account of the Powers who formerly bore Sway in each Province, and the feveral Sorts of People who now inhabit those Places.

II. A full Account and Lift of the Great Mogbol's Army. The Wages, Salary, and Office of each particular Servant, or Officer about him. The Manner of training and feeding all his Elephants, Camels, Mules, Horses, Oxen, &c. with an Account of the Grooms, Servants, &c. who attend them. An Account of the Attendants, Salaries, and daily Expences allowed for the Harram, or Seraglio. A List of all the Imperial Implements used in Peace and War; fuch as Scepters, Standards, Drums, Tabbals, Battle-Axes, &c. and all the Weapons used in Hindostan, with their different Prices. Account of all the different Sorts of Weights, Coins, and Measures used in the Empire; with the Charges and Method of Refining and Coining Gold and Silver in the Royal Mint; with the feveral Inscriptions, Weight, and Value of each Coin. The Receipts of several Sorts of Dishes ferved up to the Moghol's Table. Receipts of the different Sorts of Perfumes used at his Court. Account of all the different Flowers, fweet Woods and Gums, with their Prices, and Places of their Produce. Ditto of all the Herbs, Fruits, &c. at the different Seasons of the Year. Account of the Moghol's manner of Hunting, Exercise, Exercise, fighting Elephants, and other Diversitions. The Geremonies and Manner of Marrying in the Royal Family; their Rejoicings, Feastings, &c. The Names and Description of the different Sorts of Apparel, Ornaments, and Jewels used by the Men and Women at Court. The Moghol's Manner of holding a Divan, and receiving People, and the Obeisance and Honours they do him. His Method of employing his Time.

III. A full Account of the Brahmin's Religion; their Books, and the Subject of them; the feveral different Sects, and what Points they differ in; with the whole Particulars of their Eating, Drinking, Marrying, Purifications, Worfhip, and burning when Dead. After which, follows an Account of the principal Mahommedan Saints; the Places they are buried in, and the Days that their Tombs are chiefly visited. To the whole is added the remarkable Sayings of the Great Moghol Akbar, on sundry Subjects and Occasions; and a short Account of Abul Fazl, and his Family, by himself.

POETRY, &c.

SHAHNAMA. I Vol. Fol. containing 60,000 Couplets of Verses. Composed by the Prince of Poets, Molana Hossan Firdows, Native of Tous, who, in Majesty of Stile, and Harmony of Numbers, has surpassed all who wrote in that Language.

The Subject is, The History and Wars of the ancient Kings of Persia, until the Conquest of their Empire by the Arabs, in the Reign of Jesdegerde Shehriar.

There is a Lexicon prefixed to it, explaining all the difficult and ancient Words to be met with in the Book.

Kuliat Khacani, or the whole Works of that famous Poet, Afzal o'din Ibrahim Khacani ebn Alal nijar al Shirwani. It contains several Books on various Subjects.

Shirreh Duan Khacani. Being a Comment on one of Khacani's Books, call'd his Duan; explaining what feems mysterious and obscure. By Mahommed Daud Alui Shadiahadi.

Kuliat Aibli. The whole Poetical Works of Molana Aibli Shirazi. He is very much admired for a certain Sweetness and Smoothness peculiar to his Poems. It contains the following Books on various Subjects.

Sehr Halal,
Shama v' Purwana.
Ketab Kussayd.
Ketab Ghuzliât.
Kussayd Muzouh.

Kuliat Jami. The Works of the famous Mullah Abd o' Rahman Jami. Containing Twenty One Books, viz.

Selselit al Zahab, 1st Tome.
Selselit al Zahab, 2d Ditto.
Selselit al Zahab, 3d Ditto.
Kessih Salman v' Absal.
Tohsit al Aberar.
Sejit al Abrar.
Isof Zulikha.
Leli Mujnoun.
Kherad nama Secander.

Duan Avul. Duan Sani. Duan Salig. Rissalih Maimai Kobîr. Rissalih Maimai Mottevissit. Rissalih Maimai Sagbîr. Rissalih Maimai Asgbur. Riffalib Arouz. Rissalih Kafia. Baharistan. Munshiat. Moufica.

DUAN KHOSRO. In Four Vols. A Book greatly esteemed in the East. It is on the Subjects of Divinity and Love; wrote in a Spiritual Strain, and is generally fung to Musick.

TOHFIT al Irakan; which is also one of the Books of Kuliat Khacani. It is a beautiful Poetic Description of several Rivers and Places, in Persia, Diarbecr, (or Mesopotamia) and Arabia.

Isof Zulikha, or the Loves of Joseph and Potiphar's Wife. It is also comprehended in the Twenty One Books of Kuliat Jami.

Delsowz nama. Hal nama

Are both Poems on the Subject of Love.

Duan Hafez. The Poems of Mahommed Shuns o' din Hafez al Shirazi. They are wrote in a fublime Stile, and a little mysterious. They are used in the East, as the Sortes Virgiliana in Europe, and much credited on that Score.

Oriental MANUSCRIPTS.

SECANDER NAMA. The History and Actions of Alexander the Great. Composed by Nizami, in Verse.

SECANDER NAMA BEHRI. Ditto, more compendious, by another Hand.

METHNOVI Manivi Moluvi. By Mahommed ben Mahommed ben al Hossein al Balkhi, afterwards al Roumi. This Book, which is in great Esteem among the Mahommedans, is entirely on the Subject of Religion and Moral Duties.

Khosro Shîrîn. By Nizami. A Poem; celebrating the Loves of Khofro King of Persia, and his beautiful Mistress Shirin.

NITEEJIH al Tabbeh.

SAKI NAMA Zihouri.

Khlassih Bostan. An Extract of Sadi's Bostan.

Duan Anvirri. Being the Works of the famous Poet Anvirri.

DUAN Peerzada.

BIRZOU NAMA.

KUSSAYD KELÎM.

TEMOUR NAMA. The History and Actions of Temour, in Verse. Dedicated to Shah Thamas.

KUDDRIT AL AÇAR Ghazali Mushaddi.

NUKHSH BIDDEEIH. Ditto. Ditto.

BÊHR

BEHR AL ABRAR. By Hashmi Tatari.

HIDÎKA Hakîm Sinai.

Nozhit al Ariwah. With an Explanation, by Abdal Wahed Ibrahîm.

ETHICS, POLITICS, NOVELS, &c.

UVAMEH al Ashrack fi Mokarem al Akhlack. By Jani Mahommed ebn Assaad Duani, and dedicated to Sultan Hossan Beg, Bahadr Khan. It is a Treatife of Moral Philosophy, containing Rules and Directions for tempering the Passions and Appetites; each Moral Duty, and vicious Habit, being fully treated of under their distinct Heads. This Book is divided into Three Sections. The First of which considers Man in Regard to his own Person singly, as a Member of Society, and what Duties are incumbent on him. In the Second, he is confidered as the Head of a Family, and Rules laid down for his Management, in Regard to each of those whom he has under his immediate Care. In the Third, he is confidered as Head or Ruler of a Society or Kingdom, and Directions laid down for his Government in that State. Towards the latter End are annex'd, Plato's Instructions to Ari-Stotle; containing fundry excellent Advices: As also a Translation of the Secret of Secrets, or Aristotle's Instructions to Alexander the Great, regarding his Conduct in Persia, which, by Order of the Khalif Maimun, was translated from the Original Greek into Arabic.

AKHLACK Nasri, A Treatise on the same Subict, and disposed in the same Order, by Nasr o'din

Oriental MANUSCRIPTS. 19

o' din Mahommed ben Mahommed ben Hossan al Toussi.

Destour al Vizra. The whole Duty of a Vizir, with proper Rules and Directions for his Management, in Regard to all Ranks of People, from his King to the meanest Subject. It is dedicated to Emîr Fakher o' dîn ben Hossan.

AKHLACK al Mohossinin. By Moula Hossan ben Ali

al Kashfi, and dedicated to Sultan Hossein.

A Treatise of Ethics; much esteem'd in the East. Divided into Forty Chapters, each treating of a different Head. The whole interspersed with pleasant and improving Narratives, adapted to the Subject.

AYAR Danish. The History of which Book is thus. The ancient Brahmins of India, after a great deal of Time and Labour, compiled a Treatife, (which they called Kurtuk Dumnik) in which were inferted the choicest Treasures of Wisdom, and the perfecteft Rules for governing a People. This Book they presented to their Rajabs, who kept it with the greatest Secrecy and Care. About the Time of Mahommed's Birth, or the latter End of the VIth Century, Noisbervan the Just, who then reign'd in Persia, discovered a great Inclination to fee that Book: for which Purpose, one Burzuvia, a Physician, who had a surprising Talent in learning feveral Languages, particularly the Sanskerrit, was introduced to him, as the properest Person to be employed to get a Copy thereof. He went to India; where, after some Years Stay, and great Trouble, he procured it. It was translated into the Pehluvi Language by him, and Buzrjumehr the Vizir. Noishervan ever after, and all his Successors the Persian Kings, had this Book C 2 in in high Esteem, and took the greatest Care to keep it secret. At last, Abu Jasser Munsour Zu Nikky, who was the Second Khalif of the Abassi Reign, by great Search, got a Copy thereof in the Pebluvi Language, and ordered Imam Hossan Abdal Mokassa, who was the most Learned of that Age, to translate it into Arabic. This Prince, ever after, made it his Guide, not only in Assairs relating to the Government, but in private Life also.

In the Year 380 of the Hegira, Sultan Mahmud Ghazi put it into Verse. And afterwards, in the Year 515, by Order of Bheram Shah ben Massaud, that which Abdal Mokassa had translated, was re-translated into Persic, by Abul Mala Nasser allah Mustoss; and this is that Kulila Dumna, which is now extant. As this latter had too many Arabic Verses, and obsolete Phrases in it; Molana Ali ben Hossein Vaez, at the Request of Emîr Sohéli, Keeper of the Seals to Sultan Hossein Mirza, put it into a more modern Stile, and gave it the title of Anuar Sohéli.

In the Year 1002, the Great Moghol Jalal o' din Mahommed Akhar ordered his own Secretary and Vizir, the Learned Ahul Fazl, to illustrate the obscure Passages, abridge the long Digressions, and put it into such a Stile as would be most familiar to all Capacities; which he accordingly did, and gave it the Name of Ayar Danish, or the Criterion of Wisdom.

Anuar Sobéli. An Edition of the same Book, wrote in Sultan Hossein's Time.

Kulila Dumna. The Edition wrote in 515, by Bheram Shah's Order.

Açar Asmutt, or the Vestiges of Chastity. A Novel. In which the Author has given the Character of a virtuous chaste Woman.

Touti Nama. By the famous Nakhshebi. In this Book, the whole Discourse is seigned to have passed betwixt a Parrot and her Mistress, whose Husband had gone a distant Voyage. In which the artful Tricks and Ingratitude of Women are laid open by a Relation of several curious and surprising Intrigues, which the Parrot relates every Night, in order to divert the Time, and bring on the Morning, to prevent her going to her Gallant, until her Husband's Return.

Dowzd v Kazzi, or the Thief and the Judge. Being a Dispute betwixt the Kazzi of Baghdad, and a Thief, who had laid Hold of him as he was going out to his Country Garden, about an Hour before Day-light. The Thief happens to prove too hard for the Kazzi; for he cites more Passages from the Koran, to justify his robbing him, than the Kazzi can well answer.

MAHAVERAT. Rules and Directions for behaving in Company; with a Relation of feveral famous Repartees, witty Answers, and inoffensive Jests; with a Collection of Proverbs, and the best Passages out of the most eminent Poets, on the feveral different Subjects that can happen in Conversation.

NEGARISTAN. By Mayîn Jouîni, in the Time of Sultan Abouseyd Bahadr Khan. Dedicated to his Vizir Mahommed Rischid. It is wrote in a beautiful Stile. It contains some Hundreds of very pleasant and improving Relations, which are true true in Fact, and regarding each of the following Heads, viz.

I. A virtuous Disposition.

II. Abstinence, and Self-Denial.

III. Humanity towards our Fellow-Creatures.

IV. Love and Friendship. V. Council and Advice.

VI. Greatness of Soul, and Mercy.

VII. The many Advantages arifing from the Knowledge of Arts and Sciences.

KESSIH Kamroup. A fine Novel. Wrote by Hemit Khan ben Islam Khan Alumguiri.

Tokvim al AKHLACK. A Treatife of Ethics; digested into a very regular Method.

Pund NAMA. A Treatife, containing feveral good Instructions: By Shekh Ferid otar.

ARTS, SCIENCES, &c.

ANISH NAMA é Jehan. A Treatise of Phyfics. By Ghyath o' din Ali ebn Ali Emiran al Hosseini, al Isfahani. It is divided into Ten Sections, Twenty Divisions, and an Appendix; which treat of the following Subjects.

The Universal Intelligent, and Universal Soul. The Heavenly Bodies; their Order, the Time and Manner of their Revolutions.

Concerning the Elements.

Concerning a Body.

Of a Simple and Compound Body.

That there is no Vacuum.

The Theory of Vapours, Exhalations, Wind, Clouds, Rain, Snow, Hail, Dew, Thunder, Light-

Lightning, falling Stars, Redness of the Sky about the Horizon, feveral Suns appearing at once, Rain-bows, Halo's, Earthquakes; Sounds, Wind, and Fire, coming out of the Bowels of the Earth; Springs, Fountains, Hills, &c. Produce of all Sorts of Minerals, Stones, &c. Reason of their different Weights, Colours, Tastes, and what Planets govern each. Vegetables; their Theory, Production. Account of the Vegetable Soul, and its Faculties.

Production of Brute Animals; Account of their Soul, and its Faculties.

Creation of Man; Account of his Intellectual Soul, Faculties, and his Form.

Account of the Continuance of Production.

The Production of Animals by Generation, the Manner and several Degrees of the Formation of a Fætus, its Position in the Womb, its Birth, and the Causes of Male and Female. Account of the outward and inward Senfes ; where they differ in Man and Beaft; how Objects strike the Senses and Mind.

Of the Immortality of the rational Soul.

Of Mifery and Happiness.

Of Predestination and Providence.

That it is possible a Man may be inform'd of hidden Things, and what is not to be perceived by the Senfes, both in Sleep and awake, and the Manner thereof. In Seven Discourses. Of Dreams, and the feveral Sorts of them.

Of Inspiration, Prophecy, and the Degrees of Prophets, Miracles, Sorcery, Magick, an Evil Eye, &c. and living by little or no Food.

Of Opticks; the Theory of Sight, Light, and Colours.

Proving the Earth and Water to be of a Spherical Form.

Geographical Definitions and Paradoxes.

Abu Ali Sina's Advice.

A Treatife of Anatomy; with the Use and Functions of the several Parts.

Mijmouh Teb v' Gherih. By Isof ben Mahommed ben Isof al Tabîb. Dedicated to the Great Moghol Nessîr o' dîn Mahommed Hemaîun. Containing,

Hefz Seht, or Rules for the Preservation of Health, in Regard to Eating, Drinking, Exer-

cife, Rest, &c.

Names of Medicines, in the Indian Language. Jameh al Fovaed, or an Account of all Difeases incident to the several Parts of the Body, from the Head downwards; with Remedies for each. Cures for venomous Bites.

Receipts and Remedies for several Diseases. In Verse.

Dir Anasır v' havassha. Concerning the Four Elements, and Five Senses.

RISSALIH fovaed al Sabian; or Instruction to Youth.

Mijмouн al Fazael dir elum Najum v' Abkam. A Treatife of Astronomy and Astrology; chiefly according to the Indian Method. By Mahommed Fazel ebn Molana Abdal Shuckour. Dedicated to Shah Jehan. Divided into 159 Chapters.

RISSALIH dir Marefet Astrolab. Concerning the Use of the Astrolabe.

RISSALIH Heyit. A Treatise of Geometry.

RISSALIH Hissab. Of Arithmetick.

HISSAB aihl Tinjum. The Accounts used by Astronomers.

Dir Mussahit. Mensuration of Superficies's, Solids, &c.

TAKHLÎS al Moftab. In Arabic.

Arouz. The Method of composing Verses of all Kinds.

Reml, or Geomancy.

These Eight Treatises by Abdalwabid Gilani.

Khafiah Aflatoun fi elum adad. In Arabic. By Shekh Malek Moghrebi.

ELUM Munazerib, the Art of Disputing and Pleading.

Elum Hiffab, of Arithmetick, &с.

AL GEBR v Mokabla, of Algebra.

Elum Duvavin, the Method of writing the best Stile; with Quotations from the most approved Authors, on several Subjects.

ELUM Bideeib, The Art of Composing and Ranging the several Parts of a Discourse in the best Manner.

ELUM Mithal.

Estiarih ou Elum Bayan. By Molana Asam o'dîn.

ELUM Ziraet. A Compleat Treatife of Husbandry and Gardening; wherein is set down the proper Season and Manner of managing all Kinds of D Grain, Grain, Fruit-Trees, Greens, &c. The Prognosticks of the Weather; with an Account of the Physical Uses of the different Fruits and Herbs; how to destroy or drive away all Kinds of Vermin, or hurtful Reptiles; with the Method of making Wine.

MIZAN.

AJINASS FEAL.

PANJH GUNJH.

NEHV Zeriri.

MESBAH.

SHIRREH Moula Jami.

These Six Books are the Rudiments, Grammars, &c. that are necessary, in order to read, write, and pronounce the Arabic Language.

Seh Rissalih é Tîrandazi. Three different Treatifes on the Art of shooting with Bows and Arrows; with the Method of making Bows, and all Kinds of Arrows. The Art of Shooting on Horseback, at full Speed, either forwards or backwards.

Zeech Ulogh Beg. By Mahommed Mirza Ulogh Beg, Grandson to Temour. It contains the different Æra's, and Manner of counting Time, in all Places. The Festivals and remarkable Days, as all the different Nations hold them. The Chinese Computation of Time, and their Æra; with a Treatise of Astronomy and Astrology.

Dir Khavass Chowb Chini, Cha, v Koava. A Treatife on China-Root, Tea, and Coffee; explaining the Natures and Physical Uses of them; with the Method

Method of preparing each, especially the China-Root, when used as a Diet-Drink in the East.

RISSALIH Munték: A Treatise of Logick.

RISSALIH Heyit. Of Geometry, and the Doctrine of the Sphere.

RISSALIH Arouz. Another Treatife on the Art of making Verses.

Dir Elum Khutt. The Rules for writing the Perfian Characters.

FARS NAMA. Wrote by Nizam o'din Ahmed, at the Command of Shah Abass the IId. It is a Treatise on Horses; the Method of Riding and Managing them; the Marks by which they are known; with Receipts for all the Diseases incident to them.

Anîs al Ashakain. The Method of reading and understanding the Persian Poets, and discovering the Beauties in them.

JUVAHR NAMA. A Treatife on all precious and valuable Stones, from the Diamond to an Agate; the Places they are found in; with the Method of understanding them, and the Prices of each.

Tokvîm farsi. A Persian Almanack.

Destour al amul. Containing an Account of the Great Moghol's Revenues from each Province in general, and each Town and Village in particular, throughout the Empire; with a List of all the Posts, Offices, &c. therein.

MAIMA, namba v Tarikha.

ELUM Khourd as hindi.

HEELHA Ismaeli (or, Al alat alroubaniat) A Book of Machinery, containing about 300 Figures. It was composed by Aboulezz Ismael al Gezeri, and is divided into fix Parts.

Part I. Of strange Clocks and Clepsydras.

II. Veffels of a strange Structure.

III. Mufical Instruments.

IV. Hydraulick Engines and Machines for raifing weighty Things from deep Places.

V. Vases for Drinking, Plates, &c.

VI. Several Sorts of Machines. wrote in Arabic, and dedicated to Kara Erstan al Ariki.

DICTIONARIES, VOCABULARIES, &c.

TARHANG Jehanguîri. By Mîr Jemal o'dîn Hofsein Anjou ebn fakbr o'din Hossan. Dedicated to the Great Moghol Nour o'din Mahommed Jehanguir. 'Tis compiled from Forty Eight different Dictionaries, and contains all the Words modern or ancient, that properly belong to the Perfic Language, with their true Vowels, and their feveral Significations; each Signification authorized by a Quotation from fome eminent Author. The Introduction is divided into Twelve Sections, relating to the feveral Changes the Letters and Words have undergone, the Syllables and Words that are added for Ornament in Writing; with a Copious Grammatical Differtation, necessary to be perused, for the more perfect Knowledge of the Perfic Language; with an Appendix, explaining

29

ing those Words of the Zend, which are not to be found in the Body of the Book.

LETAEF al Loghat. By Abdal Letîf ben Abdallah Kobîr. A Dictionary in great Esteem.

FARHANG adàt al Fazla. By Kazzi Khan Pedr Mahommed Deblui; known by the Name of Bedbarwal. It contains chiefly the ancient Persic Words.

AKD al Juvabr. A Vocabulary.

LOGHAT Arabi, Farsi, v Turki, Ditto.

NISSAB Sabian, Ditto.

FARHANG Ifofi.

ALFAZ Advia. By Nour o'din Mahommed Abdallah Hakim Ain al Muluck Shirazi. Dedicated to the Great Moghol Shahab o'din Mahommed Shah Jehan. It explains, in an Alphabetical Order, all Drugs, and Medicines; their Qualities, Virtues, Doses, &c. with the Names of each, in the Arabic, Perfic, and Indian Languages. To which is added, an Appendix, fully treating of Bezoars, Mummy, China-Root, Tea, Coffee, and Tobacco.

LETTERS, FORMS OF WRITING, &c.

INSHA, Abul Fazl. In Three Tomes. Being Copies of all the Letters wrote by the Learned Abul Fazl (Secretary and Vizir to the Great Moghool Jilal o'din Mahommed Akbar) in his Master's Name, to the several Kings and Powers he corresponded responded with. They are reckoned the best writ of any Thing in that Language.

INSHA 150st. Rules and Precedents for writing to all Degrees of People, from the King to the meanest Subject. Also Forms of all Kinds of Writs, Bonds, Receipts, Firmans, Conveyances, Petitions, &c.

INSHA Harkerrin v Burhemun. Containing the same as Insha Isofi.

JINAB Abuvi. Forms of Letters to Parents, Relations, &c.

INSHA Khot Nifkh.

Sehîfa Shahi. By Hossein ben ali al Vaez al Kash-

fi. Dedicated to Sultan Hossein.

It contains Rules and Precedents for writing to Princes, and all Ranks of People, in the most elegant Manner, and in so regular and well-disposed a Method, that Persons of an ordinary Capacity, with moderate Application, may soon attain to a very good Stile in that Language.

With several Copies of Persic and Arabick Writings, by the most eminent Masters that have been in Persia, India, or Tartary, for the Two last Centuries.

DIVINITY.

WO KORANS.

TAFSÎR Bedavi. Bedavi's Comment on the Koran in Arabic.

TAFSÎR

TAFSÎR Hosseini. Hossein Vaez his Comment on the Koran in Persic.

TAFSÎR Kashani. A large Comment on the Koran, according to the Schias Doctrine. By Fatteh Allah ebn Shuckr Allah al Kashani. In Two large Folio Volumes. The Two first Comments are according to the Sunnis.

Muskat. A Book containing all the authentic Traditions of Mahommed, in Regard to Points of Faith, Worship, &c. and what is not determined in the Koran, whether by Inspiration, or as his own Opinion, which are called Abadic, Koddish v Nebvi.

SHIRREH Sourat al Zoha. Explanation of the Sourat al Zoha, (a Chapter of the Koran so called)
By Baha ben Mahmud, ben Ibrahim.

ORAD. Prayers for all the Set-Times of the Day and Night. By Shekh Mahommed ebn Ibrahim al Kadri.

ORAD Mauzm. Mahommedan Prayers for the different Festivals, Fasts, Months, &c.

Tokmîl al Iman v Tokviet al iekan. An Explanation of all the Articles of Faith in the Mahommedan Religion. By Abdalbuck ben Sef o'dîn al Turk al Debluvi al Bokhari.

AL MOTMED fil Motkad, or Akaed Toreishi. Dedicated to Silghar Sultan Atabak. It is divided into Three Parts, and each of these Parts into Ten Chapters.

Part I. Concerning a Belief and Faith in God.

II. Ditto

II. Ditto in the Angels, Reveal'd Religion, and the Prophets.

III. Ditto, other particular Points; fuch as are most consentaneous to the true Orthodox and primitive Faith.

RISSALIH Shok afza. A spiritual Work, by Othman Birgi ben Alhedad.

Kunz al fovaed v Shirreh al Akaed; of the same Nature as Tokmîl al Imân in Verse.

AITKAD NAMA: upon the same Subject. By Motana Abdo'rahman Jami.

KHAVASS Souratha. The Properties of each Sourat, or Chapter in the Koran, in Verse.

MIRAT al Akhra, concerning the Resurrection and last Judgment. Wrote in Arabic, by Shekh Abdorable o'rahman, and translated into Persic, by Mahommed Ghani ebn Shekh abdal Ghosour.

Jameh Abassi. A Collection of the Mahommedan Civil and Ecclesiastical Laws, according to the Schias. By Baha o'din Mahommed Aumli; dedicated to Shah Ahass. In Twenty Parts; and each of these Parts divided into many Sections and Chapters.

Part. I. Purifications of all Kinds.

II. Prayers; their Forms, Times; what are necessary and supererogatory.

III. Zikât, or what is set aside of one's Effects for charitable and religious Uses.

IV. Fasts, Festivals, &c.

V. The whole Ceremony of a Pilgrimage to Mecca.

VI. Alms,

VI. Alms, appropriating to pious Uses, Charity, and freeing Slaves, fighting with the Infidels; its several Laws and Rules.

VII. The Visitation of Mahommed's, Mortisa Ali's, and the Imams Tombs; with the Days of their Births and Deaths.

VIII. Concerning Promises, Vows, Oaths, and the Performance of them.

IX. Buying, Selling, Sureties, Pledges, and Partnership.

X. Hiring, Renting, Lending, Pawning, and appointing Agents.

XI. Marrying for ever, and for a limited Time; with all its Laws and Rules.

XII. Divorces, and Rules.

XIII. The Laws of Hunting, and all Sorts of Game.

XIV. Killing of Animals for Food; what are lawful and forbidden.

XV. Laws and Rules of Eating, Drinking, and Cloathing.

XVI. Law-Suits, Cases of Equity, and how they are to be decided.

XVII. Concerning Contracts and Last Wills. XVIII. Sharing of Heritages, Legacies, &c.

XIX. The Punishments that are by Law inflicted on Thest, Adultery, Fornication, Sodomy, &c.

XX. The Price of Blood for Murder, maiming, wounding, being bit by one's Dog, &c.

FEKTH Mazbub buck Ayima Masoumin. In Eighteen Parts, and each Part divided into many Chapters and Sections, on the above Subject, according to the Schias.

- MIJMOUH KHANI. A Book of the Mahommedan Civil and Ecclefiastical Law in all its Branches. By Kumal Kr m. Dedicated to Beheram Khan. At the latter End is a Calculation of what Number of Letters of each Sort there is in the Koran.
- Khlassit at Fekih. A compleat Body of the Mahommedan Civil and Ecclefiastical Laws, according to the Sunnis, as regulated by Abul Hanifa; and wherever he differs from the other Three Malek, Shafi, and Hanbal, Notice is taken thereof. These Four last Books are what the Mustis and Kazzis are guided by, in whatever they decide or determine; and what directs all forts of People, as to their Purifications, Prayers, and all other Rites and Ceremonies of their Religion.
- KHOTBAH. A Form of the Harangue spoke by the Mullah on every Friday in the Mosques, where in the Prince who governs is mention'd and pray'd for.
- Jehan Ara Begum, Sister to Auring-zebe, her History of the Ajmr Saints.
- LUVAVIH TOHÎD. By Molana Abdo' Rahman Jami. Being a Treatise of the Tusvuff Religion, or the Eastern Quietism. With Rules how to acquire a Habit thereof.
- Dir Mazhub Aramin. A Treatise wrote by an Armenian Priest, who turned Mahemmedan in Shah Hossein King of Persia his Time, or 1123 of the Hegira; in which he endeavours to expose the Christian Religion, as practised by the Armenians and Roman Catholicks, by quoting several Parts of their Missal, and describing their Forms of Worship. It is dedicated to Shah Hossein.

The

The ZEND of Zeratusht, in the ancient Persic Character.

A TRANSLATION of all the Remains of Zeratusht, or Zoroaster, into Persic; with several other Pieces, as follows.

Liturgy of the antient Persians.

Concerning Women, Heaven and Hell. Dialogue betwixt Minukherad and Ormisd.

Account of the antient Kings.

Account of the several Books of their Religion, before they were destroyed by Alexander, and what was the Subject of each.

Zeratusbt's Conference with Ormisd.

Account of the first peopling of the Earth; with the several Excellencies peculiar to the Month Firvirdin.

Concerning the Soul and Death.

Account of the Creation.

Ormisd and Aberman, the Two Principles:

The Guardian Angels.

Religion explain'd.

Explanation of some Terms used in their Religious Offices.

Concerning the Existence and Nature of a Deity.

Explanation of the 101 Names of God.

Of the Nature of Sin, necessary good Works, Works of Supererogation, Charity, Obedience, &c.

State of the Bleffed in Heaven, and Wicked in Hell.

Refurrection, and last Judgment.

Dastan Noisher- History of those and the prevan, ceding Times, intermix'd with Morality.

Dastan Mirghou Zin. Ardaverafnama.

E 2

Letters

Letters from the Gebers in Persia to those in India.

Of the Good Angels Affistance, and the Evil's Resistance.

Account of Zeratusht's Conference with God, in Regard to the Soul; the several Kinds of Sin, Women, Worship, Religion; the Worship of the Fire; Gurstasp's Soul; State of the Blessed and Wicked. A Prediction.

Of Marriage; Purifications of Women; Offices to the Dead; Religious Duties; the Merits of each explain'd.

How particular Angels prefide over every Action.

The Ghahanbars and Festivals to be observed.

The Ceremony of the Kusti.

Continuance of the World; the Refurrection, its Manner, the Method of Judgment and Punishment; how the Soul is disposed of after Death.

Ketab sud dir; in Verse. In 100 Parts.

Mar nama.

Mudit Dunia v' ajaebba.

Explanation of a Confession of Sins.

Prayers, &c. to be used in setting out on a Journey, or commencing any Work.

The Purifications that are to be used on all Occasions.

Several Questions and Answers relating to Cases in Religion and Law.

Rules in Eating, Drinking, &c. Worship of the Sun and Fire.

Another Conference of Zeratusht's with God.

Abkam Hakim Jamasp, concerningseveral Things in the Time of Gurstasp.

Predictions concerning the latter Times.

Account of the ancient Kings.

Prayers

Prayers of fundry Sorts.

Poems on the Months, and their Guardian Angels.

Form and Method of Bathing and Purification.

On DIVINITY, and other Subjects, in the Sanskerrit, or the Brahmin's ancient Language and Character; being all in loose Leaves.

Atch Pouran. 601 Fol.

Bhagvit Pouran. 620 Fol.

Visseeshik Shaster. 105 Fol.

Muns Smirti Dirbm Shafter. 280 Fol.

Mitakra, Dirhm Shafter. 523 Fol.

Anintvitti, Dirbm Shaster. 124 Ditto.

All these Pourans and Shasters are Glosses and Comments on the Vedh. They contain every Particular relating to the Brahmin's Religion, and a great deal of ancient History.

Bhagvit G ta. A Translation of which into Persic, is already mentioned.

Ramain, or the History of Rajab Ram, intermix'd with Divinity. In Three Parts. Containing 367 Folio's.

Krishn Krrit, or Krishin's History and Worship.

Provowd Chander oudéh. Deeds of the ancient Rajah's.

38 A CATALOGUE of Titi Nerimeh. The Duties of each Day. 35 Folio's.

Jallindrow Paxhshan. Jallindr Raja's Actions. 60

Rittin Koish. Concerning Jewels, Stones, &c. 70 Ditto.

Abhedan Maha. A Vocabulary of Sanskerrit Words. 66 Ditto.

Dwarka Matim. Concerning Dwarka. 117 Ditto.

Aneakrit Teluk. A Vocabulary. 46 Ditto.

Purvass Kund. The Excellencies of each particular Place of Worship in India. 54 Ditto.

Veakrin. The Sanskerrit Grammar. 150 Ditto.

Madbiv Nidban. Of Physic. 96 Ditto.

Sharir. Of Anatomy: 155 Ditto.

Teebsutt. The Method of knowing Distempers.
117 Ditto.

Vagvit. Of Physic. 253 Ditto.

Several Veakrin's, or Grammars. 300 Ditto.

Norâtr Kutta. 3 Ditto.

Raaghindi. A Treatise of the Indian Musick.

Anoubbidra. A Part of the Vedb; showing the Character, and the Manner it is writ in.

Kowk Shafter.

Sanskerrit Alphabet; with the Method of joining all their Letters.

The Banian Alphabet. Ditto.

Five Brahmin Almanacks, from the Year 1739, to 1743.

Three Eclipses, as calculated and drawn out by Shri nât Veâz, a Brahmin, at Cambay.

TIRJUMMA Jowg Visisht. A Translation of the Jowg Visisht, from the Original Sanskerrit, (the Brahmin's Language) into Persic. It treats of the Vanities of the World, and what Happiness attends a true Retirement from it.

TIRJUMMA Bhagvit Gîta. A Translation into Perfic, of the Gîta. This Book the Brahmins call, The Marrow of the Vedh. It gives a Light into the most mysterious Part of their Religion, and explains the Substance of the Vedh.

Mujmah al Babrain, (i.e. the uniting of both Seas.) A Treatife wrote by Sultan Dara Shekowh, eldest Brother to Auring-zebe; in which he endeavours to reconcile the Brahmins Religion with the Mahommedan; citing Passages from the Koran, to prove the several Points. It was his writing this Book, and conversing so much with the Brahmins, that chiefly lost him the Empire; for Auring-zebe made a Pretence of that, and consequently had all the bigotted Mahommedans to join him.

The Gospel of Geronimo Xavier. — In April 1582.
The Great Moghol Jilal o'dn Mahommed Akbar (who

(who was fix'd to no Religion) wrote a Letter to the King of Portugal, by Seyd Mazuffer, defiring to fend him a Translation of the Scriptures into Arabic or Persic; and at the same Time, one who was capable of explaining to him the Christian Religion.—One Geronimo Xavier, a Jesuit, and Relation to the samous St. Francis Xavier, was appointed for that Purpose, who having learned the Persic Language (as he says) in the Space of Eight Years; with the Assistance of Molana Abdal Settar ben Kassum Labori, composed this Book, and presented it to the Moghol in April 1602.

The Moghol's Letter, which is curious in its Kind, is to be found in the first Volume of Insha Abul Fazl. This Manuscript is the Original one that Xavier presented to the Moghol.

FINIS.

