

An account of remarkable cures, performed by the use of herbs and roots, : prepared by Dr. Lamert, No. 12, Church-Street, Spitalfields, Three Doors from Brick-Lane, opposite the French Church, London. Whose reputation is well known by the numerous and surprizing cures performed by him both in public and private. N.B. Dr. Lamert think it necessary to observe, he is no Stroller, Quack, or Emperic; ... Please to read this pamphlet with attention, and take care of it.

Contributors

Lamert, Dr.

Publication/Creation

[London?] : [publisher not identified], [1783]

Persistent URL

<https://wellcomecollection.org/works/efcueapk>

License and attribution

This work has been identified as being free of known restrictions under copyright law, including all related and neighbouring rights and is being made available under the Creative Commons, Public Domain Mark.

You can copy, modify, distribute and perform the work, even for commercial purposes, without asking permission.

Wellcome Collection
183 Euston Road
London NW1 2BE UK
T +44 (0)20 7611 8722
E library@wellcomecollection.org
<https://wellcomecollection.org>

4 B

A N
A C C O U N T
O F

Remarkable C U R E S,

Performed by the Use of

H E R B S and R O O T S,

P R E P A R E D B Y

Dr. L A M E R T,

No. 12, CHURCH-STREET, SPITTALFIELDS,

Three Doors from Brick-Lane, opposite the French Church,

L O N D O N.

Whose Reputation is well known by the numerous and surprizing Cures performed by him both in public and private.

N. B. Dr. Lameret think it necessary to observe, he is no Stroler, Quack, or Emperic; for by observing the following, and writing to any of those whom God has enabled him to restore, you there will find every satisfaction wanted, and more than can be inserted here. He has been regular brought up to the profession; that his motive of thus addressing the Public doth not arise from any mercenary view, but merely to render himself serviceable so far as may be to all mankind. He has done many great cures, which he has performed chiefly by Herbs, which are safer, and much more effectual than chymical medicines or foreign drugs, a few of which are the following, which he is authorized by his Patients to make public, as a testimony of his Skill in the Medical Art.

Please to Read this Pamphlet with Attention, and take care of it.

An Account of the Remarkable Cures, &c.

IN gratitude to Dr. Lamert, and for the good of others, I think it my duty to authorise him to insert these lines in his bills, that the afflicted may know where to find relief; having been afflicted with the Dropsy and Yellow Jaundice for a long time, I applied to several of the faculty but to no purpose, and was like to have remained in this situation, had not Providence directed me to Dr. Lamert, who, through the blessing of God, have made a perfect cure of me. Any Person doubtful of the above, may have satisfaction by calling or writing a line to me, Elizabeth Planten, at Greenhithe, near Gravesend, Kent.

SIR, I should think myself wanting in point of gratitude to you, and humanity to my fellow-creatures, if I longer omitted acquainting the public of the benefit I have received by taking your medicines; having been afflicted with the Gravel and Stone, I constantly voided large stones, attended with the most excruciating pains; I had the advice of several of the faculty, but found no relief, till hearing of Dr. Lamert, to whom I applied, and have, thanks be to God, obtained a perfect cure in a short time. Witness my hand, Thomas Willamot, Son of Mary Willamot, in Queen-street, near the Brook, Chatham, Kent.

Sir,

SIR, in gratitude to you, and for the good of the Public in general, you have my leave to publish this, so that the afflicted may know where to find relief; having been afflicted with the Gravel and Stone for Nine Years and upwards, I applied to several of the most eminent of the Faculty both in town and country, but could find no relief; I voided large stones as big as Pease, and at length despaired of ever gaining a recovery, till Providence directed me to Dr. Lamert, who by his great skill, and the blessing of God, I am restored to perfect health. I am, sir, your humble servant, William Child, the Blue Anchor, Swanscomb, Kent, near Gravesend, Nov. 28, 1782. The stones are to be seen at the Doctor's.

NOVEMBER 13, 1782. Sir, I take this method of returning you my most sincere thanks for the Cure I have obtained by taking your most excellent medicines, which, for the benefit of others afflicted in the like manner, I desire may be made public. Having been afflicted with that miserable disorder, the Dropsy, for a long time; I applied to several of the Faculty, but found no relief, but was tapt four times, and found no benefit, but became much worse than before, and expected every hour to be my last; till through the mercy of Providence hearing of Dr. Lamert, to whom I applied, and have, thanks be to God, received a perfect cure in a short space of time. I am, sir, with respect, your humble Servant, Hannah Burton, Milton Parish, near Gravesend.

SIR, I take this method of returning my most sincere thanks for the cure my child have obtained by the use of your medicines, she being afflicted with a large Wen over her Eye, which almost deprived her of the sight of it; I applied to several for relief for her, but could find none, till Providence directed me to you, who have, thanks be to God, made a perfect cure of her without cutting or pain, or the least hindrance to her eye sight, which I am ready to attest to any who need apply. (Witness) John Weston, Captain of the Gravesend Boat.

To Dr. LAMERT, in Spittalfields, London.

I Have happily experienced the efficacy of your medicine, in that miserable disorder, the Evil, which I laboured under for upwards of six years in one of my legs, notwithstanding I had the advice of several of the Faculty; but it no sooner healed in one place than it broke out in another.— In this situation I remained till Providence directed me to Dr. Lamert, who by his great skill, and the blessing of God, I have obtained a perfect cure in six weeks time

Witness my name, William Whittleton.—If any one is doubtful of the above fact, they may have full satisfaction, by writing a Line, or applying to Mr. Whittleton, Carpenter, at Gravesend, Kent.

SIR, I have the pleasure to acquaint you that my wife has received a perfect cure of a most inveterate Scorbutic Wound in her Leg; by taking your most excellent medicines which I should think an omission of justice to conceal from the public, she being afflicted with it for a long time, so bad that she was scarce able to walk. She had the advice of several of the faculty, but to no effect, till providentially seeing one of your Bills, which induced me to apply to you, by which means she has gained her leg to its former use and strength. Witness my name, James Batt, Baker, in Strood, near Rochester.

SIR,

SIR, I have happily experienced the efficacy of your medicines in that painful disorder the Gravel and Stone, which I laboured under for a long time, and could find no relief, but my disorder gained such ground which almost stopped the uriny passage, and put me in such violent pain that I was scarce able to bear myself, notwithstanding I had the advice of the Faculty to no effect; at length hearing of the numerous cures performed by you, which induced me to apply to you, by which means I have obtained a perfect cure, and now discharge my urine as free as ever I did. I am, sir, your humble servant, P. Rogers, at the Gun, next door to Mr. Hart, Baker, at Strood, near Rochester. Nov. 15, 1782,

SIR, I acquaint you of the cure I have obtained by taking your most invaluable medicines, which in justice to you I desire may be made public. I being afflicted with the Gravel and Stone for a considerable time; I had the advice of several gentlemen of the faculty, but to no effect, but found my disorder increase daily, till providentially hearing of you, Dr. Lamert, to whom I applied, and have, thanks be to God, obtained a perfect cure in a very short time. Witness, Arthur Dove, son of Michael Dove, on Smithfield Bank, Chatham.

IN gratitude to Doctor Lamert, and for the good of the public, I send you the following case to publish. It is about eighteen months since, by cutting my Toe Nails too short; occasioned both my great toes to swell and inflame in such a manner, that I was not able to walk; I had timely assistance of four surgeons for ten months, but found no relief; I then went to the hospital, and remained there fifteen weeks during which time I had my toe nails drawn out by the roots and at last was deemed incurable, unless I would suffer my toes to be cut off; not being willing to lose them, I came from

from St. Thomas's incured. I applied to Dr. Lamert, and by the blessing of God, and the judgment of the Doctor, my toes were perfectly cured. I desire you will publish this my case, for the good of mankind, and that the afflicted may know where to find relief.

Sept. 30, 1774.

I am, Sir, your humble Servant,
William Cousins,
At Esq. Horn's, Camberwell, Surry.

To Doctor Lamert, in Church-Street, Spittalfields.

S I R,

Jan. 2, 1782.

I Return you my most sincere thanks for the extraordinary Cure you have performed on my wife. She was afflicted with a compound disorder, and the Black Jaundice for a long time, I applied to several of the faculty, but the more medicines she took the worse she grew, and her appetite was quite gone. In this miserable condition she was almost reduced to nothing, and given over for death by several gentlemen of character and skill, and all who had seen her in this deplorable situation, expected every hour to hear of her death. I constantly prayed to the Lord to take her out of her misery, but Providence directed me to Doctor Lamert, who, through the blessing of God, has restored my wife to her former health, to the astonishment of all my neighbours, and every body that saw her; we have reason to pray for him as long as we live. The truth of this we are willing to attest, for the benefit of the Public; if any person is still dubious of this, my neighbours will attest the truth of the same.

Witness my name, William Marsden,
Poplar Marsh Wall.

To Dr. Lamert, in Church-Street, Spittalfields, London.
Theddlethorp, near Alford, Lincolnshire,

SIR,

May 12, 1781.

In gratitude to you, and for the good of my fellow creatures, I do hereby testify that I have been in a deep Decline for several years, I applied to our Doctors but could find no relief; then hearing of one named the greatest Physician, I applied to him, but instead of getting better, I became worse than ever, and was almost dying by inches, till by the Providence of God hearing of your surprizing cures by the use of herbs and roots, I sent my urine, not being able to come to London, and have, thanks be to God, received a perfect cure in one month. Therefore I return you my sincerest thanks, and am, sir, with great respect,

Your humble Servant,

Elisha Ryley,

(Witness) John Hewson, Drover, at Maltby, near Alford, with whom I have sent the money to pay your bill — and William Ryley, in Theddlethorp, who are willing to attest to any who need apply.

To Dr. Lamert, in Church-Street, Spittalfields, London.

SIR,

April 25, 1782.

I Return you thanks for the cure you have performed on me. Having been afflicted with a Fever and Ague for upwards of two years, I applied to the most eminent of the faculty but could find no relief, till by the mercy of Providence hearing of the remarkable cures performed by your valuable medicines, I have, thanks be to God, remained in perfect health ever since. I am, sir, with a heart full of gratitude,

Your humble servant, John Fife,

Gardener at the Earl of Dartmouth's, Black-beath, Kent.

To Doctor Lamert, in Spittalfields, London.

S I R,

Deptford, Kent, Jan. 13, 1781.

I Should think myself undervaluing of the benefits I received, and greatly deficient in point of gratitude to you, if I longer omitted acquainting the public of my late deplorable situation, and the benefits I have received by taking your medicines. I was afflicted for many years with the Gravel and Stone, and Leprosy; I had all the advice I could possibly get, but without any effect; I was recommended to the most eminent of the faculty, but found no relief, till hearing of you, who, with the blessing of God, has made a perfect cure of me in a short space of time. Therefore, I hope you will publish this in justice to your medicines, and for the good of mankind.

I am, sir, your most humble Servant,

George Marshall.

To the P U B L I C.

I James Warren, Ship-street, Wapping, being afflicted with the Black Jaundice, and spitted blood for some time and was swelled in a shocking manner; I applied to many of the faculty, and to the London Infirmary, and could not find relief, but became much worse than before, till being recommended to Doctor Lamert, in Church-street, Spittalfields, who administered his medicines to me, composed of herbs and roots, and, by the assistance of Almighty God, the Doctor has restored me to my former health, to the astonishment of all my friends and acquaintance that saw me in so miserable a condition. Witness my name. Jan. 1, 1782.

To Dr. Lamert, in Church-street, Spittalfields, London.

I Peter Coleman, living in Southend, in the parish of Lewisham, in Kent, do testify for the good of the Public, that that I was afflicted with a most miserable Scurvy all over my body, that the matter ran out of my body and legs, insomuch that I could hardly bear my cloaths on me. I applied to several of the faculty, without relief; till at last through recommendation to Doctor Lamert, and his curing with herbs, I applied to him, who has made a most noble Cure, without cutting, plaistering, or even touching me, by taking his medicines, which I am ready to swear before any magistrate. Any person doubtful of this fact, may apply to Mr. Grub, Officer, at the Black Bull, in the parish of Lewisham, who has paid part of my bill to the Doctor. May 26, 1779.

To Dr. Lamert, in Church street, Spittalfields, London.

S I R,

March 4, 1780.

IN gratitude to you, and for the good of others, I send you the following case to publish: I was afflicted for a long time with a White Swelling in my knee, which was as big as any lusty man's body, I applied to many of the faculty, without success, I then went to St. Bartholomew's Hospital, where I continued eight weeks, and was then turned out incurable, till Providence directed me to you, to whom I applied on January the 9th, and I have, thanks be to God, received a perfect cure by the 31st of the same month. Witness my name.

Duke-street, in the Park, Southwark.

William Miller, Hatter,

To Dr. Lamert, in Church-Street, Spittalfields, London.

S I R,

I Return you my most sincere thanks for the extraordinary cure my wife has obtained by taking your medicines, she was afflicted with a gathering in her side for upwards of twenty years, and having applied to the most eminent of the faculty in Bristol could find no relief. I then went to London, and had all the advice I could possibly get, but without

out any effect, till, through the mercy of Providence, being recommended to you; and she has, thanks be to God, received a perfect Cure. If any person is doubtful of the above truth, they may have full satisfaction by calling or writing a line to me.

Am, sir, your most humble Servant,

No. 32, Bartholomew Close,
West-Smithfield.

Thomas Billings.

To the P U B L I C.

I Joseph Tanner, Carrier, at Bromley, in Kent, who is to be spoke with every day at the King's Head, Southwark; for the great Cure performed on me by Dr. Lamert, I think it my duty to authorise him to publish this for the good of the public. I being afflicted with the Gravel for several years, which caused a most violent pain in my back, so that I was almost unable to follow my business, I tried all possible means, and had the advice of several of the Faculty, but could find no relief; at last being recommended to Dr. Lamert, I have obtained a perfect cure in a short time. Oct. 24, 1779.

To Dr. Lamert, in Church-Street, Spittalfields, London.

S I R,

Chislehurst, Kent, May 5, 1779.

I Return you my most sincere thanks for the cure I have obtained by the use of your medicines, which in justice to you and for the benefit of others afflicted in the like manner, I desire may be made public. Having been afflicted with a Hurt I received in my Lying-in, attended with a shaking and trembling for many years, which succeeded with the Gravel and Stone and Obstruction; in this misery I continued till I was not able to walk about my room, after having applied to many of the faculty, without getting any relief;

by but finding my disorder increase, till hearing of you, to whom I sent my urine, not being able to come myself. I now, thanks be to God, enjoy a perfect state of health, after taking your medicines for one month.

I am, sir, your most humble servant,
Mary Collins.

To Dr. Lamert, in Church-street, Spittalfields, London.

S I R, Deptford, Kent, Jan. 13, 1771.

IN gratitude to you, I do hereby acquaint the public, that my wife was afflicted with the Rheumatism in her legs, insomuch that she could not stir nor move from one place to another, in this situation she continued for upwards of three years, till hearing of you, to whom I applied, and taking your medicines, she have, thanks be to God, received a perfect cure.

Near the New Church, Bun-lane.

*Witness my name,
J. BERRY.*

To Dr. Lamert, in Church-street, Spittalfields, London.

Sir, April 2, 1779.

IF mankind in general were ready to communicate to the public the benefit they receive from remedies by which they have got relief, many persons labouring under dreadful complaints might be relieved at a small expence. My wishes for the general good of mankind, as well as my gratitude for the benefits I have received, have induced me to tell you my case, which you may make public. Having been afflicted with a Mortification in my Leg, which was given by the faculty incurable without losing my leg. I applied to several eminent surgeons, and tried various medicines prescribed by them, to little or no purpose; till I applied to you, and have taken your Medicines, by which I have obtained a perfect cure.

I am, sir, your humble servant,
M. Hicks, London-House, Aldersgate-street.

To Dr. Lamert, in Church-street, Spittalfields, London.

S I R,

Jan. 16, 1782.

IN gratitude to you, and for the good of others, I send you the following case to publish: Having been afflicted with the Fever and Ague for a long time, which reduced me to the lowest state; I could neither eat nor drink, but before it was quite down it came up again, attended with a continual faintness and weakness, so as to hinder me from sleep, I was unable to stand or lie down without assistance. I had the advice of several Doctors but could find no relief, but might have remained in this situation, had not Providence directed me to you, and by taking your medicines, I have, thanks be to God, obtained a perfect cure in a short space of time.

Russel-Street, near Greenland-dock.

I am, sir, your most humble Servant,

J. Morgan.

To Dr. Lamert, in Church-Street, Spittalfields, London.

S I R,

July 27, 1782.

I Should think myself wanting in gratitude to you, and humanity to my fellow creatures, if I longer omitted acquainting the public of the cure I have obtained by taking your medicines. Having been afflicted with the Gravel, Stone, and Leprosy for a considerable time, which broke out in several parts all over my body, and my legs appeared in large blotches so bad, that I was unable to move it being attended with violent Rheumatick pains. I tried every thing that could be thought of for my relief, but in vain; for my disorder began to take such ground that my life became quite miserable, till fortunately hearing of you, and knowing the great benefit my sister had received by taking your medicines, which I resolv'd to make trial of, and accordingly I did, after every other means which I tried have failed; and have the pleasure to inform you that they have effectually effectually removed my complaints, so as to leave no appearance of the disorder. Please to accept my thanks for the same, and my sincere wishes that this testimony of the efficacy of your invaluable medicines may be so publickly known, that others labouring under the same affliction, may find the same relief. I am, sir, with great respect,

No. 187, Wapping,
near Execution-dock.

Your humble Servant,
William Pruden.

To Dr. Lamert, Church-Street, Spitalfields, London.

S I R,

April 3, 1782.

I Take this method of returning you my most sincere thanks for the Cure I have obtained by taking your most excellent medicines, after trying many others in vain: Having been greatly afflicted with the Rheumatism for a long time, which raged so violently through every joint in my body, as rendered me quite helpless; at length it flew up into my head, attended with a violent Fever, which almost deprived me of my senses, in this dreadful situation I remained, expecting every hour to be my last, for I was unable to move without assistance, in short, I was so bad that I despair'd entirely of a recovery, till Providence directed me to try your medicines, which has, much beyond my expectation, restor'd me to my former health, which I now enjoy much better than ever I did, my complaint having entirely left me, and am continually praying for the author of such valuable medicines. I am, sir,

At Mr. Archer's, the Fox,
Hungerford, near Charing-cross.

Your humble Servant,
John Strong, Lighterman.

To Dr. Lamert, in Church-Street, Spitalfields, London.

S I R,

Apr. 5, 1782.

HAVING been afflicted with an Ague and Fever for a considerable time, which rendered me quite incapable of doing my business, it being attended with such violent pains all over me, that I could find no rest night nor day, but reduced me almost to anatomy; I remained in this situation without hopes of recovery, after trying every method that could be thought of, and vain,

vain, till fortunately seeing one of your advertisements, and finding it was no imposition (like many others) I resolved to try your medicines, and have obtained thanks be to God a perfect Cure, by taking them for a short time. You have my leave to make what use you please of this for the satisfaction of those afflicted with the like disorder. And am, Sir,

At Gen. Frazer's, Charlton, near Greenwich, Kent.

Your humble Servant,

D. Williams.

To the P U B L I C.

John Fleming, of St. Paul's Cray, in Kent, was afflicted with the Rheumatism so bad, that I was not able to stir for four months; having had the advice of several Doctors, and tried various medicines without effect; at length hearing of Dr. Lamert, to whom I applied, and by taking his medicines for a short time was cured.

June 9, 1779.

To the Public.

Miss Ling, living in Southend, having been afflicted with an Ague and a most violent Fever, which continued for upwards of six years, and almost reduced her to anatomy; and she could neither eat, drink, nor sleep, notwithstanding every remedy was used that could be thought of, without effect, till hearing of persons being cured of the same disorder by Dr. Lamert and by applying to him, have obtained a perfect cure, by taking his medicines for two weeks only.

April 2, 1779.

To Dr. Lamert, in Church street, Spitalfields. London.

S I R,

July 5, 1782.

I Return you my most sincere thanks for the Cure I have obtained, having been afflicted with the Rheumatism, attended with inexpressible pains in all my joints, my sinews were so contracted, and my feet were affected to that degree as rendered me incapable to walk ; in short, my rest, spirits, and appetite were almost gone, having used every remedy that could be thought of, but to no effect. I remained in this situation, without hopes of recovery for a long time, till fortunately hearing of the remarkable Cures performed by the use of herbs and roots, which induced me to apply to you, and by taking your medicines my complaints are quite gone, so that I now enjoy a perfect state of health. You have my leave to publish this, in justice to your medicines, and for the good of others afflicted as I was.

No. 5, Farmer-st.
Shadwell.

I am, sir, your most humble servant,
Alice Pruden.

To Doct^r Lamert, in Spittalfields, London.

I Have happily experienced the efficacy of your medicines in a very painful humour and disorder, which I laboured under for a long time in one of my legs, attended with a violent inflammation, and profuse discharge ; the sharpness of which spread off the skin, and at last turned to a Mortification, and had twenty-eight holes in it. The agony I was in prevented my getting, but at short intervals, either sleep or rest, after trying innumerable medicines in vain, almost wearied out with pain and grief, I was recommended to make trial of your medicines, which I took, and have the pleasure to inform you that they have effectually removed the complaint, so as to leave no appearance of the disorder.

Please to accept my thanks for the same, and my sincere wishes that this testimony may be the means of relieving others afflicted as I was.

I am, sir, with great respect,

Your humble servant,

March 3,
1783.

ABRAHAM HIVE.
Gravesend, Kent.

THE Reader must observe, he don't pu'lish this with any other view than entirely to serve the Publick, as it may be the means of relieving Persons afflicted with dreadful Complaints and Disorders which they labour under, without hopes of getting Relief, which if I was to publish the CURES I have performed within these few Years past, which is upwards of TWO THOUSAND, one large Volume would not contain them; but they are to be seen at my House, where I give Advice to the Poor (GRATIS), and may be consulted every Morning from Eight till Twelve o'Clock; after those Hours, Advice One Shilling, for the Benefit of the Poor.

HAVING made Physic his peculiar Study upwards of Thirty Years, with great Success, and for easy Expences from his universal Knowledge of the Herbs of the whole Earth. He CURES all internal and external Disorders, such as Fevers, Agues, Black and Yellow Jaundice, Dropsy, Consumptions, Coughs, Gravel and Stone, Rheumatism, Scurvy in the Blood, or any other Disorder in the fair Sex, such as Weakness or Obstruction in the Menses, Sores, Wounds, Ulcers in any Part of the Body or Legs, King's Evil, or Cancers, without cutting or Pain to the Patient; likewise cures Deafness of ever so long standing, all Disorders in the Eyes, tho' nearly Blind, restoring the Patient to perfect Sight; gives immediate Ease in the most inveterate Tooth and Ear-Ache.

PERSONS of either Sex afflicted with the VENEREAL DISORDER, may rely on the strictest Honour and Secrecy, and without the least hindrance of Business, tho' ever so inveterate; all Persons not capable of coming themselves, may send their Urine by any Person who knows their Disorder, and will find full Satisfaction. The Medicine is without Mercury, and may be used by Sea or Land, and can be used even without the knowledge of a Bedfellow.

THOSE who cannot conveniently wait on the Doctor, may have Relief by sending their Morning Urine.

ANY Person that cannot call in the Day with the Secret Disorder, may be attended on every Evening, in convenient Apartments for that purpose.

THE AGUE AND FEVER CURED IN NINE DAYS.

F I N I S.