

Where do I go? / by Rumi Clinton.

Contributors

Clinton, Rumi

Publication/Creation

[United States] : [Rumi Clinton], [2016?]

Persistent URL

<https://wellcomecollection.org/works/whx739wg>

License and attribution

You have permission to make copies of this work under a Creative Commons, Attribution, Non-commercial license.

Non-commercial use includes private study, academic research, teaching, and other activities that are not primarily intended for, or directed towards, commercial advantage or private monetary compensation. See the Legal Code for further information.

Image source should be attributed as specified in the full catalogue record. If no source is given the image should be attributed to Wellcome Collection.

wellcome collection

Wellcome Collection
183 Euston Road
London NW1 2BE UK
T +44 (0)20 7611 8722
E library@wellcomecollection.org
<https://wellcomecollection.org>

WHERE DO I GO?

©RUMI CLINTON

7
For social conservatives, the proximity of the penis is what makes bathrooms inherently unsafe,

1
For me and for many of the people I know, it's about needing to use the goddamn bathroom (also safely).

I JUST WANT TO PEE

1

2

The public bathroom straddles the line between public and private space. In recent months it has become the subject of political controversy.

For the conservatives creating this havoc, I believe this bathroom discomfort is ultimately about their paternalistic views of sex and gender.

For pro ba

For social conservatives, the proximity of the penis is what makes bathrooms inherently unsafe,

r der.

For kn go

SIR, THIS IS THE WOMEN'S BATHROOM

5

?

UM...

6

4

For me and for many of the people I know, it's about needing to use the goddamn bathroom (also safely).

On spa bat que bec

6

IF YOU DON'T LEAVE I'M CALLING SECURITY.

7

le I e

On a personal level it is a difficult space. I do not question what bathroom I belong in, but I have often questioned my right to be there because of how I am perceived.

As into othe reco
mol

7

BUT I AM A WOMAN

UM...

I JUST WANT TO PEE

1

ften As a transmasculine person walking into a public bathroom I look to others to confirm that I have been recognized as a woman. My identity molds to fit what will keep me safe.

by Rumi Clinton

WHERE DO I GO?

