CONDITIONS OF SALE.

- I. The highest bidder to be the buyer; and if any dispute arise between bidders, the lot so disputed shall be immediately put up again, provided the auctioneer cannot decide the said dispute.
- II. No person to advance less than 1s.; above five pounds 2s. 6d.; and so on in proportion.
- III. All lots are sold subject to the right of the seller or his agent to bid, or else to impose a reserve.
- IV. The purchasers to give in their names and places of abode, and to pay down 10s. in the pound, if required, in part payment of the purchase-money, in default of which the lot or lots purchased will be immediately put up again and re-sold.
- V. The lots to be taken away, at the buyer's expense, immediately after the conclusion of the sale; in default of which Messrs. SOTHEBY & Co. will not hold themselves responsible if lost, stolen, damaged, or otherwise destroyed, but they will be left at the sole risk of the purchaser. If, at the expiration of ONE WEEK after the conclusion of the sale, the books or other property are not cleared or paid for, they will then be catalogued for immediate sale, and the expenses, the same as if re-sold, will be added to the amount at which the books were bought. Messrs. SOTHEBY & Co. will have the option of re-selling the lots uncleared, either by public or private sale, without any notice being given to the defaulter.
- VI. All the books are presumed to be perfect, unless otherwise expressed; but if, upon collating, any should prove defective, the purchaser will be at liberty to take or reject them, provided they are received back within FOURTEEN DAYS after the conclusion of the sale, when the purchase-money will be returned.
- VII. The sale of any book or books is not to be set aside on account of any worm-holes, stained or short leaves of text or plates, want of list of plates or blank leaves, or on account of the publication of any subsequent volume, supplement, appendix, or plates. All the manuscripts, autographs, all magazines and reviews, all books in lots, and all tracts in lots or volumes, will be sold with all faults, imperfections and errors of description. The sale of any illustrated book, lot of prints or drawings, is not to be set aside on account of any error in the enumeration of the numbers stated, or error of description.
- VIII. No Imperfect Book will be taken back, unless a note accompanies each book, stating its imperfections, with the number of lot and date of the sale at which the same was purchased.
- IX. To prevent inaccuracy in the delivery, and inconvenience in the settlement of the purchases, no lot can on any account be removed during the time of sale.
- X. Upon failure of complying with the above conditions, the money required and deposited in part of payment shall be forfeited; and if any loss is sustained in the re-selling of such lots as are not cleared or paid for, all charges on such re-sale shall be made good by the defaulters at this sale.

Messrs. SOTHEBY & CO. are prepared to execute bids, and in addition to advise intending purchasers as far as possible, if requested by them to do so, without making any charge for either service. Lots will be procured as cheaply as is permitted by other bids or reserves, if any.

- 124 AMERICAN REVOLUTION. Surrender of Yorktown, October, 1781, Fitzgerald (Lord Edward) Aide-de-Camp to Lord Rawdon, A. L. s. 7 pp. 4to, Camp, Quarter House [near Charlestown], March 14th, 1782, to Wm. Ogilvie, his step-father:

. . . We have found our way back to the Seaside without having been taken Prisoners: we are within 6 miles of Charlestown with a fine army able to beat anything the Rebels have . . . not that I think we shall ever make anything of the War by force of arms, as it still increases the inveteracy of the inhabitants against us. I think the present circumstances are more favourable for an accomodation than ever before, for since Lord Cornwallis's surrender they hate the French . . . our present General Leslie is not very active or else we might beat Mr. Greene to the Devil, go up the country and save our Charlestown provisions . . . Charlestown is what they call here very strong . . . it cannot be much distressed without a superior Navy force.

 An extremely interesting letter. Fitzgerald afterwards attained notoriety as an Irish rebel.

THE FITZGERALD PAPERS.

126 A REMARKABLE COLLECTION of upwards of Two Thousand Auto. Letters, written by members of the ducal house of Leinster, mainly during the latter half of the 18th Century. Included in the Collection are :

LORD EDWARD FITZGERALD, Irish Rebel. A series of 55 A. L. s. to his mother, the Duchess of Leinster, 1773-91, they deal with his early years in the Navy and relate some of the exploits of Lord Rodney in the West Indies; numerous references to the Duke of Richmond and life at Goodwood are made

JAMES, first Duke of Leinster, 1722-73, procured the recall of the Duke of Dorset from Ireland, 1754. A series of 30 A. L. s. to his wife, giving interesting details of his travels in Italy and Germany

AMELIA LENNOX, first Duchess of Leinster, daughter of the Duke of Richmond. A series of 18 A. L. s. to the Duke and 60 to her second husband, Wm. Ogilvie, a most intimate series dealing largely with Irish society

LADY SARAH LENNOX, sister of above. About 60 A. L. s. mostly written from Goodwood, with interesting reference to the American Revolution and political and society gossip

LADY GEORGIANA LENNOX, sister of above, married secretly to Lord Holland in 1744. A very fine series of about 176 Letters to the Duchess of Leinster, a valuable collection dealing with all important political affairs of the closing years of the 18th Century

WILLIAM, SECOND DUKE OF LEINSTER, 1749-1804, Master of the Rolls of Ireland. A series of 25 Letters to his mother, mainly dealing with Irish politics

LORD CHARLES FITZGERALD. A series of 120 Letters to his mother, describes his life in the Navy, and various actions he took part in, under Rodney

LORD HENRY FITZGERALD. Seventy-three Letters to his mother, also dealing with service in the West Indies

LORD ROBERT FITZGERALD. Seventeen Letters to his mother and father-in-law, gives an account of Rodney's famous capture of "La Ville de Paris," of 110 guns, with Comte de Grass on board; two letters written from Paris in July, 1789, giving a very detailed account of the beginnings of the French Revolution

With others of Mrs. Frances Greville, Lady Barrymore, Lady Albemarle, Countess of Essex, Lady Louisa Connolly, etc.

 This very large correspondence, believed to be entirely unpublished, throws an interesting light on Irish Society in the 18th Century.

Your solicitude for your brother is such as a brother like him deserves and might expect . . . He will doubtless resign his place which has exposed him to censure and when he no longer offends there will be no thought of animadversion. He was very well supported and Smith has agreed to confess that the house was generally on his side. He is by the removal of Impey now Chief Justice and I do not see any reason why he may not enjoy his place till he wishes to return unless a new system of government should be formed and even then I know not why he should not be the first man to be consulted and employed.

- 170 JOHNSON (Dr. Samuel) A VERY EARLY A. L. S. 2 pp. 4to, Lichfield, Oct. 30, 1731 (to Gregory Hickman), on the occasion of the writer being rejected on his application of usher to the Grammar School at Stourbridge, where he had been a pupil about the years 1725-6 :

Sir,

I have so long neglected to return you thanks for the favour and assistance received from you at Stourbridge . . . Time has not made the sense of obligation less warm, nor the thanks I return less sincere. But while I am acknowledging one favour, I must beg another . . . that you would excuse me composition of the verses you desired. Be pleased to consider, that versifying against one's inclination is the most disagreeable thing in the world . . . As I am yet unemployed I hope you will if anything should offer, remember and recommend

Sir,

Your humble servant
Sam. Johnson.

- 171A BOSWELL (J.) A SUPERB A. L. s. 3½ pp. 4to, London, 5 April, 1792, mentioning his "Life of Dr. Johnson" and Johnson's notion of the unhappiness of human life, with references to "The Rambler," and "Rasselas," addressed to the Rev. Ralph Churton, Archdeacon of St. David's:

My worthy friend Mr. Langton had given me the satisfaction of knowing your favourable opinion of my Life of Dr. Johnson, before I had the honour to receive your very obliging letter . . . As to Johnson's notion of the unhappiness of human life, I have when mentioning the Rambler (Vol. I, p. 116) in some degree obviated any reflection against him on that head; and when mentioning Rasselas (Vol. I, p. 186) I suggest that his morbid melancholy may have made life appear to him more miserable than it generally is. But the truth, Sir, is as you have judiciously observed that I myself have a large portion of melancholy in my constitution . . .

You will now be pleased to accept of a copy of the Second edition of my Life of Dr. Johnson, corrected and augmented, and I flatter myself that as you thought so favourably of the work before, you will now be still more pleased with it . . .

He goes on to thank Churton for his sermons that had been sent him:

I have read all of them with more than ordinary satisfaction. They indeed served as cordials to me, while I was under confinement, in consequence of having been knocked down, cut and bruised by one of those street robbers with which London has been grievously infested this year . . .

- 208 BISHOP (Sir Henry) Auto. Musical Manuscript, signed twice, 4 pp. folio, April, 1833, of the song "You say you have not known me long," in dark red cloth folder
- 209 BISHOP (Sir H.), composer of "Home Sweet Home." Auto. Musical Manuscript s. 6 pp. folio, setting for four-part chorus and organ of Luther's famous hymn "Ein' feste Burg is unser Gott"
- 210 BRUCH (Max), well-known German composer. Four A. L. s. 19 pp. 8vo, New York, Breslau and Cologne, 1883-5, an interesting group of letters dealing entirely with musical matters, plans for forthcoming concerts, etc. (4)
- 211 BUCK (Dudley), American composer and organist. Auto. Manuscript s. 2 pp. 12mo, a neatly-written "List of compositions published and unpublished by Dudley Buck"

 An interesting item.

- 212 BÜLOW (Hans Guido von), famous German pianist, conductor, composer and critic; first husband of Liszt's daughter Cosima, who afterwards became the wife of Wagner. A fine series of 17 A. L. s. 30 pp. 8vo and 12mo, lightly hinged to uniform folio sheets, with portrait, brown French levant, title stamped in gold on cover and back, 1860-1874. Letters are addressed to Julius Schubert, the Leipzig music publisher, one of von Bülow's most intimate friends; the earlier letters are written from Berlin, the later during concert tours; nearly all the letters refer to musical matters and the work he was then engaged on, in dark red cloth folder
- 213 CHOPIN (FREDERIC FRANCOIS) EXTREMELY RARE MUSICAL A. L. signed "Ch." 1 p. closely written 4to, Nohant (1841), in Polish, to Monsieur Jules Fontana, with address, referring to the publication of his "Tarantella" Opus. 43, and written from the home of Georges Sand, in dark red cloth folder

[Translation] . . . What a pity that the Tarantella is gone to Berlin, for, as you know from Schubert's letter, Liszt is mixed up in this monetary affair, and I may have some unpleasantness. He is a thin-skinned Hungarian, and may think that I do not trust him because I directed that the manuscript should not be given otherwise than for cash. I do not know, but I have a presentiment of a disagreeable mess . . . Give my compliments also to Pleyel, and ask him to excuse my not writing to him (do not say anything about his sending me a very inferior piano), etc.

except for one slight tear in the folds, in good condition,

* Most of Chopin's letters were destroyed by fire in the house of a relative in Poland.

- 310 WAGNER (R.) A VERY FINE LONG A. L. s. 4 pp. 4to, closely written, Zurich, September 23, 1853 :

Largely occupied with his musical theories at the time, he refers at length to "The Ring," which he was then writing, he speaks of a visit from Liszt, and of the songs which his correspondent had sent and dedicated to him, refers in several places to Bach, Beethoven and other composers.

second sheet lightly mounted so as to display both sides

- 311 WAGNER (R.) A. L. s. 1 p. 4to, Dresden, November 28, 1844, to the music publishers, Breitkopf & Härtel of Leipzig, referring to the publication of one of his compositions, with autograph envelope, and two pencil sketches of Wagner (4)

- 312 WAGNER (R.) A. L. s. 4 pp. 8vo, Bayreuth, October 25, 1875, to Georg Unger, with addressed envelope :

Concerning the possibility of Unger's being sued for breach of contract in not fulfilling his engagement with his director. Wagner thinks it will turn out all right and bids the singer think only of his art. He announces that he will arrive in Munich for a one night stay and asks that accommodation be reserved for him at a Hotel, but that nothing be said to anyone, especially at the theatre. He is on his way to Vienna and apparently does not wish his stay in Munich to be known.

a fine letter

- 313 WAGNER (R.) A. L. s. twice (once initials), 2 full pages, 8vo, Bayreuth, August 5, 1876, to Georg Unger, with envelope :

Congratulating Unger upon his performance, and assuring him that he has fulfilled the composer's highest expectations. The letter consists mainly of expressions of advice and encouragement, the latter being apparently needed by his correspondent.

- 314 WAGNER (R.) A. L. s. "Richard W." 3 closely written pages, 8vo, Enge, near Zürich, April 26, 1851, to F. Heine, with address, written during his "exile" in Zürich :

The letter contains a great many personal details, his recent sorry, etc. Mentions several operas and other musical compositions, giving their financial results, referring to his plans for the future, etc.

(265 mm. by 190 mm.) Italian, XV CENT.

 The arms of Aragon appear at the foot of the illuminated border, which is clearly the work of Nicola Rapicano, an artist who worked at the court of Alphonso I of Aragon and of his successor Ferdinand I, until 1488. Cf. G. Mazzatinti, "La Biblioteca dei Re d'Aragona," p. xiii, and P. d'Ancona, "La Miniature Italienne," pl. lxxxix. Among other points of similarity may be noticed the portrait busts and the band of leaves and fruit on a black ground, which occurs in both borders.

On f. 126 the writing changes, a hand of more humanistic character being employed through the rest of the book, but there is no reason to suppose a wide difference in date between the hands. Manuscripts of Tacitus are of considerable rarity.

- 365 CANIBUS (JOHANNES JACOBUS DE) CARMEN AD LUDOVICUM FOSCARENUM DE PATAVINO HASTILUDIO ANNI 1466, FIRST EDITION, roman letter, 18 ll. red morocco, g. e. by Rivière [Hain, *4332; Pellechet, 3202 (one copy only); Proctor, *7134]
4to. [Padua, Leonardus Achates, 1473]

 The tournament celebrated in this poem took place at Padua in 1466 and was organised by an Englishman, John Chetwort, Archdeacon of Lincoln and Rector Juristarum of the University of Padua. Another poem on the same subject by Luigi Lazarelli (first printed in Padua in 1629) was dedicated to Chetwort. Here he is referred to in a passage beginning at line 23 :

"Praemia Johannes praestanti ex stirpe Britannus
Ista magistratus sumens insignia juris
Ipsi contulerat victori gratus honorem:"

Proctor ascribes the book to Vicenza, whither Achates migrated in 1474; it may, however, be regarded as certain that he printed it before he left Padua, which was the home of the Author and the dedicatee, and the scene of the subject of the poem.

- 366 AUGUSTINE (SAINT) DE CIVITATE DEI, CUM COMMENTARIIS THOMAS VALOIS ET NICOLAI TRIVET, gothic letter, 364 ll. wants the last (blank), two columns, printed in red and black, device at the end of each part, half calf, back gilt [G. W. 2884; Hain, *2057; Pellechet, 1555; Proctor, *102]
folio. Mainz, Peter Schoeffer, 5 Sept. 1473

 A fine example of the work of this historic printing house. This copy agrees with the collation given in the "Gesamtkatalog"; the collation in the B. M. Cat. Inc. which adds up to only 351 ll. omits one quire and miscounts two others.

- 367 GREGORY (SAINT) DIALOGI; VISIO TUNDALI; MIRACULA FORSEE EPISCOPI; Ars moriendi; Excerpta ex tractatu quatuor novissimorum, all in German, gothic letter, 193 ll. full-page woodcut, original Augsburg binding of stamped calf (defective) over wooden boards [Hain, *7970; Pellechet, 5360 (Bib. Outline
"The Old Man"

Better Dead.

Chap. I.

When Andrew Reich went to London his intention was to become private secretary to a member of the Cabinet. If time permitted he proposed writing for the Press.

"It might be better if you and Clarrie understood each other," the minister said.

It was their last night together. They paced each other in the marble parlour at Waseem, whose low, peeled ceiling had threatened Mr. Cassie at his desk everytime he looked up with his pen in his mouth - until his wife died, when he ceased to notice things. The one picture on the walls, an engraving of a boy in valisees astride a tree, entitled "Boyhood of Bunyan", had started life with him. The horse hair chairs were not torn, and you did not require to know the sofa before you sat down on it that day thirty years

LETTERS ADDRESSED TO HIS BUTLER, JOHN THOMPSON.

- 722 Auto. Note, 6 lines, on 1 p. 8vo, ordering foodstuffs, including a small cooked ham and a small Yorkshire pie from Fortnum and Mason's
- 723 Auto. Note, 5 lines, on 1 p. 8vo, ordering Thompson to call at Tavistock House for Dickens' brown cloak and to leave it at 21, Norfolk Street
- 724 A. L. s. "C. D." Sat. Jan. 8th, 1859, 1 p. 8vo:
The guard will give you the young gentlemen's box, John. It is in the train . . . I want you to buy me one more of those corner-things like that which is fastened up over my bedstead.
- 725 A. L. s. 1 p. 8vo, Hen and Chickens' Hotel, Birmingham, Oct. 5th, 1856:
I find, John, on measuring here with Mr. Lemon, that the proposed rake of the Stage in the schoolroom is too much . . .
Tell Mrs. Dickens I shall be home tomorrow . . .
- 726 Auto. Instructions concerning an evening party, 23 lines, on 1 p. 8vo:
Regarding Wines he says: Mitchell or John to keep Gin Punch in Ice under the table, all the evening, and to give it only to myself or Mr. Lemon. At supper let there be a good supply of champagne all over the table. No champagne before supper, and as little Wine as possible, of any sort, before supper.
- 727 Auto. Instructions, a supper, 1 p. 8vo:
This is to be a whimsical supper and not a party supper in any way . . . Supper time $\frac{1}{2}$ past 10. There will be a man with a tub of oysters in the dining-room, to open oysters as they are wanted . . .

- 728 A. L. s. 1 p. 8vo, Gad's Hill Place, 13 Aug. 1857 :
 John,
 Mr. Berger wishes you to take the Bell that is struck in the Frozen Deep, to Manchester, among the properties . . . See that the snow you take to Manchester, is better made than the last. It was very badly cut, and much too large . . . C. D.
- 729 A. L. s. $\frac{1}{2}$ p. 8vo, 16, Somer's Place, 19th March, 1865 :
 Dr. John,
 Mr. Holsworth is going to send me up some books on Monday . . . also one of those large square wholesale boxes of toothpicks.
- 730 A. L. s. 1 p. 8vo, Tavistock House, 25th May, 1857 :
 I think, John, on reconsidering the matter, that it will be as well for the Foreman to cut some holes in the top of Mr. Charles's bedroom door . . . I shall be down on Thursday, if not before, very likely before . . .
 with good signature
- 731 Auto. Instructions as journeying to Knebworth :
 Train on Saturday Morning from the King's Cross Station, Battlebridge. Take a ticket for Stevenage Sir Edward Bulwer Lytton's, Knebworth Park . . .
- 732 A. L. s. "C. D." 1 p. 8vo, Gad's Hill Place, Jan. 1859 :
 John,
 On receipt of this, please go up to Tavistock House, get my red and blue morning jacket from behind my bedroom door, take it to Doudney's in the Burlington Arcade, and tell them I will call in the course of the morning and explain what I want . . . I shall be at the Office by one tomorrow.
- 733 A. L. s. 1 p. 8vo, Broadstairs, August 19th, 1845 :
 John,
 We shall come to London tomorrow by the steamboat which leaves Margate at 10 o'clock. I think she will be at London Bridge Wharf, at about 4 o'clock in the afternoon. Be there waiting for us, in good time.
 with a fine signature
- 734 A. L. s. (initials), 1 p. 8vo, Gad's Hill Place, 11th July, 1858 :
 John,
 Please take a cab to Mr. Watkin's Photographic Gallery Regent St. . . . and take away to Tavistock House my writing table and brown cloak. Also, please call at Hall's, my bootmakers, and order me another pair of shepherd's plaid, ankle, spring boots, like the two last pairs . . .
- 735 A. L. s. $\frac{1}{2}$ p. 8vo, Brighton, 10th March, 1850 :
 I forgot to tell you John, if Mr. Wills calls, to shew him any letters there may be, and to admit him into the study, and allow him to take any books or papers he requires.
 with fine signature

- 736 A. L. s. 1 p. 8vo, Gad's Hill Place, 28th Sept. 1857 :
 I have always forgotten to ask you, John, whether the scenery and fittings are all right, and have been all properly put away at Tavistock House. I hope so . . .
 with fine signature
- 737 Auto. Instructions concerning theatrical properties, 1 p. 8vo :
 A light cask . . . headed up again, so that it can be used as a sort of rough table . . . Two dice boxes, and a pair of blanks.
 with 6 others of the same (7)
- 738 A. L. s. 1 p. 8vo, Gad's Hill Place, 15 Aug. 1857 :
 I am particularly anxious, John, that Mr. Austin should have the enclosed letter to night or early tomorrow morning. It relates to the Well here. We have found at last a great spring of water . . .
 with a good signature
- 739 A. L. s. 1 p. 8vo, Gad's Hill, 6th Oct. 1857 :
 John,
 These letters are important. Leave them at the different Newspaper Offices to which they are addressed, as soon as they are delivered into your hands. Do not delay.
 Charles Dickens.
- 740 A. L. s. 1 p. 8vo, Broadstairs, 12th August, 1849 :
 John,
 Ask Anne to make up Miss Hogarth's bed, on the chance of my coming to Town tomorrow (Saturday) night.
 If I come at all, of which I am not quite sure, I shall send my carpet bag home before me. In case you receive it, you will know I am coming, and will then sit up until I arrive . . .
 with fine signature
- 741 A. L. s. 1 p. 8vo, Gad's Hill Place, 21st July, 1862 :
 Dear John,
 Will you send me . . . the black travelling bag off my dining-room table—the Wide awake travelling hat hanging up in that room—the drab travelling coat and waistcoat hanging up in the wardrobe—and the waterproof coat and straps hanging up in my room on the first floor, by my writing table . . .
- 742 A. L. s. 1 p. 8vo, Gad's Hill Place, 16th June, 1860 :
 Dr. John,
 Among the Articles of furniture of which I gave you a list, is the washing stand in my room with marble top. As this same washing stand will not be wanted here until after Miss Katie's marriage, you need not trouble yourself about that at all at present . . . C. D.

- 743 A. L. s. 1 p. 8vo, Tavistock House, 17th April, 1859 :
 We will dine, John, on Tuesday instead of Thursday. Mr. Charles and Miss Hogarth will dine with us. The hour is 6 next Tuesday, instead of 5. Don't get too much. I suppose we cannot dine yet, at the All the Year Round Office? . . . C. D.
 and another A. L. s. of the same, concerning a visit to Ipswich, dated Oct. 8, 1859 (2)
- 744 A. L. s. 1 p. 8vo, Gad's Hill Place, 25 June, 1865 :
 Dr. John,
 Take Miss Ellen tomorrow morning, a little basket of fresh fruit, a jar of clotted cream from Tuckers, and a chicken, a pair of pigeons, or some nice little bird. Also on Wednesday morning, and on Friday morning, take her some other things of the same sort—making a little variety each day . . . C. D.
- 745 A. L. s. 1 p. 8vo, Athenaeum Club, 28th June, 1857 :
 I called at the Office to day John, but no one was there. Enclosed is the list of things, to be fetched from Mr. Stanfield's by 10 tomorrow morning . . .
 with fine signature; also the Auto. List of Goods to be fetched from Stanfield (2)
- 746 A. L. s. 1 p. 8vo, 10, Camden Crescent, Dover, 5th August, 1852, concerning a pair of boots; and another A. L. s. Bologne, 1854, about the new gas fittings for Tavistock House (2)
- 747 Auto. Lists of Furniture, Signatures, Addressed Envelopes (19), with Portraits, Play-Bill, Newspaper Cuttings, etc. (a parcel) with others of Lord Beaconsfield, Albert Smith, Sir W. S. Hilbert, etc. (10)

- 758 DICKENS (C.) A. L. s. "C. D." 1 p. 8vo, Plough Hotel, 22nd Jan. 1867, to W. C. Macready, 6 Wellington Sq. with franked envelope :
 My dearest Macready,
 We have just arrived here (¼ to 2) and I find a large packet of proofs that I must have ready to return to the Office before my early dinner at three. Will Mrs. Macready—my love to her—kindly let me know at what time Dolly shall await you at the little back entrance this evening. We begin at 8.

Ever your most affectionate

C. D.

- 759 DICKENS (C.) A. L. s. $\frac{3}{4}$ p. 8vo, Office of All the Year Round, Sept. 1869, to J. S. Le Fanu, the Irish novelist, with franked addressed envelope :

I had best let you know that I have safely received your MS. and have sent it to the printer.

I tried to read it in your writing, but could not succeed without devoting more time to the task than I could spare.

The Property of Mrs. D. Leeston-Smith,

- 760 DICKENS (Charles) AUTO. PROGRAMME OF A PERFORMANCE OF THE MERRY WIVES OF WINDSOR, IN AID OF THE FUND FOR THE ENDOWMENT OF A PERPETUAL CURATORSHIP OF SHAKESPEARE'S HOUSE AT STRATFORD, 1 $\frac{1}{4}$ pp. folio. Nine performances were given in London and the Provinces, and the gross receipts amounted to upwards of £2,500; the endowment was abandoned upon the Stratford Town Council taking charge of the house and the proceeds of these performances were given to James Sheridan Knowles, in excellent preservation

[See ILLUSTRATION.]

- 761 DICKENS (C.) A FINE A. L. s. 3 $\frac{1}{4}$ pp. 8vo, Broadstairs, July, 1847, to F. Robinson. Esq. concerning the Provincial performances of "The Merry Wives of Windsor" :

As it has been proposed that we should act in Liverpool on the 28th. I presume I may consider the 26th as the night fixed for Manchester.

We shall be down to rehearse on the stage, on the morning of performance . . .

A Memorandum of the Bill, I enclose . . . The proposed Liverpool prices are very good, I think,

Lower Boxes	10/-	each person
Upper Boxes	7/6	" "
Do. Boxes	5/-	" "
Pit	5/-	" "

Gallery eighteen pence or two shillings. But it is impossible for me to be so good a judge on this head, as the Committee. Whatever the committee decide on, I shall be certain is the best thing.

I have not in the Bill, mentioned the Ladies, They will all be local Actresses, I believe . . .

Saturday Morning

My Dear Sir

Pray do me the favor to send directions in your office that if Macrone sends any advertisement of "Gabriel Varbon" for the miscellany, it be rejected at my express request. He has just sent to the Pickwick (having only yesterday received the last sheet of the second series of sketches)
a similar advertisement for insertion there: and I have requested Chapman and Hall to send it back, which they have done.

Is Hook's paper coming?

Believe me

Dear Sir

Faithfully yours

Robt Bentley Esq.

Wm. Pickers

- 762 DICKENS (C.) A VERY FINE A. L. s. 3 pp. 8vo, Devonshire Terrace, 24 May, 1848, to F. Robinson, Esq. concerning alterations in a play-bill :

. . . The following alterations for the bill.
 In the caste of the Merry Wives,
 For "Miss Fortescue of the Theatre Royal Haymarket" substitute
 Miss Emmeline Montague,
 after that lady's name, insert
 Mrs. Page ----- Miss Kenworthy.
 In the Caste of Animal Magnetism again substitute for Miss Fortescue
 Miss Emmeline Montague.

The Property of a Gentleman.

DICKENS (CHARLES) A SUPERB COLLECTION OF LETTERS,
 ALL CONTAINING IMPORTANT REFERENCES TO HIS BOOKS.

- 763 A. L. s. 1 p. 8vo, Furnival's Inn, Saturday Morning (? 1836), to Richard Bentley, mentioning "Pickwick" :

Pray do me the favor to give directions in your office that if Macrone sends any advertisement of "Gabriel Vardon" for the Miscellany, it be rejected, at my express request. He has just sent to the Pickwick (Having only yesterday, received the last sheet of the second series of Sketches) a similar advertisement for insertion there; and I have requested Chapman and Hall to send it back, which they have done.

Is Hook's Paper coming?

[See ILLUSTRATION.]

- 764 A. L. s. 1½ pp. 8vo, 48 Doughty St. Saturday Morning, n. y. to Mr. Serjeant Talfourd, mentioning "Oliver Twist" and "Pickwick" :

As my childish anxiety that you should finish Oliver Twist without delay has undergone no diminution in the course of my trip, I send you one of the earliest copies I have been able to lay my hands on—only upon the understanding that you will let me have it back without loss of time, to bind uniform with your Pickwick . . .

- 765 A. L. s. 1 p. 8vo, 1 Devonshire Terrace, 17 Feb. 1841, to Miss Lloyd, he commences at the top of the page with "Faithfully Yours" and a very fine signature, then follows the address, and a note in the third person saying that Miss Lloyd is entirely and thoroughly mistaken in supposing him to be the Author of "Sketches of Young Ladies"

- 766 A. L. s. 1 p. 4to, 1 Devonshire Terrace, 25th March, 1840, to Mr. T. P. Grinsted, referring to the Nickleby Club :

I have to thank you . . . and through you to thank those gentlemen who remembered me in their flowing cups last Thursday.

Do me the favor to convey to the Nickleby Club, the warmest expression of my gratitude and interest in their proceedings. I trust they may continue to hold me, and I them, in pleasant and cheerful recollection for very many years, and long connect their recreations with a name which is naturally associated in my mind with favorite and familiar thoughts . . .

with address on fourth page

- 767 A. L. s. (third person), 1 p. 8vo, 1 Devonshire Terrace, 13th October, 1840, concerning "Master Humphrey's Clock," addressed to Mr. Gray, who engraved the blocks for the book :

Mr. Charles Dickens sends his compliments to Mr. Gray, and if he has no better engagement for next Tuesday, begs the favor of his company to dinner (at Six o'clock for half past punctually) to meet their fellow-labourers in the clock, and celebrate the completion of the first volume.

- 768 A. L. s. 2½ pp. 8vo, Broadstairs, 14th Sept. 1841, to William Hall, mentioning "Barnaby Rudge" and Washington Irving :

Quite right. Gate of Newgate in 78; not in 79. I don't want Barnaby in the subject, but feared he might be there. I plainly see it's all up with the mechanical genius. Don't trust him with anything; keep an eye on the till; restrain him from making any entries in the books; and unconfuse Mr. Cattermole whom I clearly perceive he will distract with wrong instructions . . .

It would be a good thing, wouldn't it, if I ran over to America about the end of February, and came back after four or five months with a one volume book—such as a ten and sixpenny touch? . . . Washington Irving writes me that if I went, it would be a triumph for me from one end of the States to the other, as was never known in any nation . . . When you get the riot block will you send me a proof of it?

WITH A VERY FINE SIGNATURE

- 769 A. L. s. 1 p. 4to, Devonshire Terrace, 15th Oct. 1842, to W. H. Prescott, the historian, mentioning that Longfellow is stopping with the writer, and speaks of "American Notes," with franked address on the fourth page "W. H. Prescott Esquire, Boston, Massachusetts, United States, Charles Dickens. By Mail Steamer" :

My Publishers, Messrs. Chapman and Hall, will be happy to republish that book of which you speak; requiring no better description of its merits . . . Longfellow is staying with me; and has been for some days. He thinks of returning by the Great Western on this day week. I shall charge him with a copy of my American Notes for you. I have no fear but they will find favor in your eyes, though they may not in those of the mass . . .

* A LETTER OF REMARKABLE INTEREST, IN THE FINEST POSSIBLE STATE OF PRESERVATION.

- 770 A. L. s. 2½ pp. 8vo, Devonshire Terrace, 20th December, 1842, to George Cattermole and referring to the latter's illustrations to "The Old Curiosity Shop":

It is impossible for me to tell you how greatly I am charmed with those beautiful pictures, in which the whole feeling and thought and expression of the little story is rendered to the gratification of my inmost heart and on which you have lavished those amazing resources of yours with a power at which I fairly wondered when I sat down yesterday before them.

I took them to Mac straightway in a cab—and it would have done you good if you could have seen and heard him . . . You are a queer fellow and hold yourself so much aloof that I am afraid to say half I would say, touching my grateful admiration . . .

- 771 A. L. s. (third person), 1 p. 8vo. Tavistock House, 4th May, 1843, to Mr. Grimes, mentioning "Bleak House":

Mr. Charles Dickens sends his compliments to Mr. Grimes, and begs to thank him for his curious and interesting communication; the spirit of which Mr. Dickens very cordially appreciates. Two kindred characters are already represented in Bleak House, which makes the letter more agreeable.

- 772 A. L. s. "C. D." 3 pp. 8vo, Devonshire Terrace, Tenth February, 1844, to his friend and solicitor, Mr. Thomas Mitton, 23, Southampton Buildings, Chancery Lane, mentioning "A Christmas Carol" and certain piracies of his works, with franked envelope, stamped:

Fred was telling me last night about the impudence of the Pirates—which I think I had better not know, unless they should give us an opportunity of being down upon them in some new fashion. For I can easily conceive the possibility of its being an advantage to us, and certainly a position of dignity, to be able to declare that I have never seen their effusions . . . I should like to receive the book, sealed up, that I might even then pause before I looked into it . . . It is no use to falter with such rascals. Mr. Blanchard's name is not Laman at all. He was christened Edward Lyt, and is desperate bad character . . .

C. & H. promise the CAROL accounts, today!

- 773 A. L. s. 1½ pp. 12mo, Peschiere (Genoa), 30th Sept. 1844, to T. C. Curry, Esq. referring to "Martin Chuzzlewit":

My dear Sir, I send you the Chuzzlewit. My brother Frederick will be happy to avail himself of your hospitality whenever you like between this and Friday . . .

I shall soon be alone here, with my own household, and then I hope we shall see each other often.

- 774 A. L. s. 2 pp. 8vo, Devonshire Terrace, 14th Nov. 1845, to C. E. Cottrell, Esq. speaks of finishing a little book ["The Cricket on the Hearth"]:

. . . My reason for placing a week's interval between your return and my appointment, is that I have arranged to leave town on Monday morning to finish a little book in peace and quietness: and I do not think it likely I shall be here again until the day on which I hope to see you.

- 775 A. L. s. 1 p. 4to, Paris, 48 Rue de Courcelles, 13 Nov. 1846, to Lord Jeffrey, Scottish judge and critic, editor "Edinburgh Review," referring to "The Battle of Life" and "Dombey," with franked address on verso :

. . . We have come from Switzerland, all well and happy, and purpose remaining here until the end of March. My friend Forster, who does all my business for me in England while I am away and is my right hand and cool shrewd head too, will send you by post, probably in the course of this week, proofs of the Christmas Book. There is something in the idea, that I hope will please you. It will not be published until the 18th of December . . . Dombey is a great success. I have forgotten all about the newspapers, and don't believe I ever had anything to do with it . . .

- 776 A. L. s. 2 pp. 8vo, 1 Chester Place, Regent's Park, 14th April, 1847, to J. Serle, Esq. referring to "Dombey" :

I am residing here protem: until I can get my own respected tenant out of Devonshire Terrace, at the end of July. Your proposal in reference to the happy pair (I hope Forster is not a jackass, but appearances are against him) meets with my fullest concurrence. Don't you think it would be well to make that seven pounds-ten? The difference is not great, and the latter has a pleasanter aspect to me. If you should have any commands for Australia after Dombey is finished, I think of making a little excursion there. I shall come round home by way of China (if you want any chopsticks), desiring to ascertain for myself whether the inhabitants of that country really dance with their fore-fingers going up and down close to their ears—and whether twelve of them look at once P.S. and then O.P.—and whether they get behind one another in a row, the tallest man last and a boy in front—as I have seen them represented once or twice in the British Draymer.

You can think about your commissions. Dombey has twelve months to run.

- 777 A. L. s. (third person) $\frac{1}{2}$ p. 8vo, Devonshire Terrace, 5th Feb. 1850, to Mr. Shand, referring to "Sketches by Boz," with envelope :

Mr. Charles Dickens sends his compliments to Mr. Shand. The sketches were first published. Part of them appeared in the Morning Chronicle; part in the Monthly Magazine.

- 778 A. L. s. 2 pp. 8vo, Tavistock House, First May, 1855, containing a paragraph from "David Copperfield" :

. . . Thinking you might like this all the better if it were associated with one of my books. I transcribe a few words from David Copperfield on the opposite side.

The paragraph describes Betsey Trotwood Copperfield as being "for ever in the land of dreams and shadows."

- 779 A. L. s. 2 $\frac{1}{2}$ pp. 8vo, Dover, Second May, 1856, to J. T. Gordon, Esq. mentioning the success of "Little Dorrit" :

. . . They are all well at Paris, and would send all manner of some new compact between the Northern and Southern States.

Meanwhile the Lancashire mill owners are getting very uneasy. The Italian state of things is not regarded as looking very cheerful. Apart from one's natural sympathies with a people so oppressed as the Italians, and one's ~~own~~ natural antagonism to a Pope and a Bourbon (both of which ~~concerns~~ superstitious I do suppose the world where had more than enough of) I agree with you concerning Victor Emmanuel, and greatly fear that the Southern Italians are much degraded. Still, an united Italy would be of vast importance to the peace of the world, and would be a rock in Louis Napoleon's way - as he very well knows. Therefore the idea must be championed, however much against hope. That Louis Napoleon will force himself into collision with England at last, I do not in the least doubt and never have in the least doubted.

My elder brother just home from China, was desired by Townsend's Henri the moment he landed at Marseilles, and was with him borne in triumph to Townsend's rooms. The weather was snowy, shaly, least of all and Marseilles was, as it usually is, very thick, with night intolerable. My boy couldn't stay with Townsend, as he was coming on the express train; "but" he says, "I set with him and saw him die." He had a leg of lamb, and a tremendous cold." That is the whole description I have been able to extract from him.

This journal is doing gloriously, and heart expectations is a great success. Sever's story has been a dead-weight, and obliged me to rush in with the rescue. But it will soon be finished now, and we shall be all the better for that desirable consummation. I shall take my third boy Frank (Duffey's godson) into this office. If I am not mistaken he has a natural literary taste and capacity, and may do very well with a chance so congenial with him, and being also entirely at the bar.

My dear sister

Thy faithful and affectionate friend
Marceline

messages if they knew me to be writing. They leave on Monday week, and we purpose remaining in town through May. We then go to Boulogne for the summer.

Little Dorrit has beaten all her predecessors in circulation.

- 780 A. L. s. 3 pp. 8vo, Broadstairs, Fifteenth October, 1851, to the Rev. George Musgrave, refers to a new book "A Tale of Two Cities," Gad's Hill Place and Bulwer's Comedy :

. . . The usual occupation of my time is greatly augmented just now, by my removal, and by my very great desire to get settled in my new Home-Study that I may work the more steadily at a new book with which I hope he will soon become acquainted . . . the country arrangements in connexion with our Guild and Sir Edward Bulwer's comedy—and the rolling of a sea of correspondence which always flows and never ebbs—leave me less leisure than usual . . .

- 781 A. L. s. 4 pp. 8vo (closely written), Office of All the Year Round, 1st Feb. 1861, to Monsieur W. F. de Cerjat, Elysee, Lausanne, Switzerland, refers to the success of "Great Expectations" and the American Civil War :

. . . The American business is the greatest English sensation at present. I venture to predict that the struggle of violence will be a short one and will soon be succeeded by some new compact between the Northern and Southern States. Meantime the Lancashire mill owners are getting very uneasy . . .

This Journal [All the Year Round] is doing gloriously, and Great Expectations is a great success. Lever's story has been a dead weight, and obliged me to rush in to the rescue. But it will soon be finished now, and we shall be all the better yet for that desirable consummation.

He gives his opinion of the Rood Murder, and gives a delightful description of a severe frost.

[See ILLUSTRATION.]

£400 Gring.

- 782 A. L. s. 3 pp. 8vo, Gad's Hill Place, First August, 1863, to W. W. Story, Esq. mentioning "All the Year Round" :

The Poems you enclosed shall duly appear in All The Year Round, and Nos. shall be posted to you. I am a little doubtful of Lady Harris, but I very much like the others . . .

France will involve us, I very much fear, in general War and Uproar. The Adventurer on that Throne has no chance but in the distraction of his people's minds, and in the jingle and glitter of theatrical glory. The deference to him that has been the low policy of the English Government is, to my thinking, as blind as it is base;—I can't express its wants or right more strongly . . .

£55 W. Hill.

- 783 A. L. s. 1 p. 12mo, Office of All the Year Round, Oct. 6th, 1865, to Mr. Day, mentioning "Our Mutual Friend" :

Dear Mr. Day,

Will you be so good as to send me a pull of the concluding double No. of Our Mutual Friend.

Faithfully Yours
Charles Dickens.

- 784 CRUIKSHANK (George) A. L. s. 1 p. 4to, n. d. referring to his illustrations to Dickens' works:

Sir,

The illustrations to "Sketches by Boz" are etched on steel by your humble servant

Geo. Cruikshank.

P. S. I will just add that there are many works which are mistaken for mine being in some circumstances a imitation of the Style, &c. such are those by "Phiz" in "Pickwick," "Nicholas Nickleby," "R. Crowquills" and various others, but to those of my own hand—you will always find my name at full length.

CONDITIONS OF SALE.

- I. The highest bidder to be the buyer; and if any dispute arise between bidders, the lot so disputed shall be immediately put up again, provided the auctioneer cannot decide the said dispute.
- II. No person to advance less than 1s.; above five pounds 2s. 6d.; and so on in proportion.
- III. All lots are sold subject to the right of the seller or his agent to bid, or else to impose a reserve.
- IV. The purchasers to give in their names and places of abode, and to pay down 10s. in the pound, if required, in part payment of the purchase-money, in default of which the lot or lots purchased will be immediately put up again and re-sold.
- V. The lots to be taken away, at the buyer's expense, immediately after the conclusion of the sale; in default of which Messrs. SOTHEBY & Co. will not hold themselves responsible if lost, stolen, damaged, or otherwise destroyed, but they will be left at the sole risk of the purchaser. If, at the expiration of ONE WEEK after the conclusion of the sale, the books or other property are not cleared or paid for, they will then be catalogued for immediate sale, and the expenses, the same as if re-sold, will be added to the amount at which the books were bought. Messrs. SOTHEBY & Co. will have the option of re-selling the lots uncleared, either by public or private sale, without any notice being given to the defaulter.
- VI. All the books are presumed to be perfect, unless otherwise expressed; but if, upon collating, any should prove defective, the purchaser will be at liberty to take or reject them, provided they are received back within FOURTEEN DAYS after the conclusion of the sale, when the purchase-money will be returned.
- VII. The sale of any book or books is not to be set aside on account of any worm-holes, stained or short leaves of text or plates, want of list of plates or blank leaves, or on account of the publication of any subsequent volume, supplement, appendix, or plates. All the manuscripts, autographs, all magazines and reviews, all books in lots, and all tracts in lots or volumes, will be sold with all faults, imperfections and errors of description. The sale of any illustrated book, lot of prints or drawings, is not to be set aside on account of any error in the enumeration of the numbers stated, or error of description.
- VIII. No Imperfect Book will be taken back, unless a note accompanies each book, stating its imperfections, with the number of lot and date of the sale at which the same was purchased.
- IX. To prevent inaccuracy in the delivery, and inconvenience in the settlement of the purchases, no lot can on any account be removed during the time of sale.
- X. Upon failure of complying with the above conditions, the money required and deposited in part of payment shall be forfeited; and if any loss is sustained in the re-selling of such lots as are not cleared or paid for, all charges on such re-sale shall be made good by the defaulters at this sale.

Messrs. SOTHEBY & CO. are prepared to execute bids, and in addition to advise intending purchasers as far as possible, if requested by them to do so, without making any charge for either service. Lots will be procured as cheaply as is permitted by other bids or reserves, if any.

- 124 AMERICAN REVOLUTION. Surrender of Yorktown, October, 1781, Fitzgerald (Lord Edward) Aide-de-Camp to Lord Rawdon, A. L. s. 7 pp. 4to, Camp, Quarter House [near Charlestown], March 14th, 1782, to Wm. Ogilvie, his step-father :

... We have found our way back to the Seaside without having been taken Prisoners: we are within 6 miles of Charlestown with a fine army able to beat anything the Rebels have . . . not that I think we shall ever make anything of the War by force of arms, as it still increases the inveteracy of the inhabitants against us. I think the present circumstances are more favourable for an accomodation than ever before, for since Lord Cornwallis's surrender they hate the French . . . our present General Leslie is not very active or else we might beat Mr. Greene to the Devil, go up the country and save our Charlestown provisions . . . Charlestown is what they call here very strong . . . it cannot be much distressed without a superior Navy force.

 An extremely interesting letter. Fitzgerald afterwards attained notoriety as an Irish rebel.

- 125 FOX (Charles James) Auto. Verses, "Imitation of Horace 1st Book 4th Epistle: Ch. Ja. Fox at Eton, to Mr. Macartney at Aix," 26 lines of 1½ pp. 4to, signed

THE FITZGERALD PAPERS.

126 A REMARKABLE COLLECTION of upwards of Two Thousand Auto. Letters, written by members of the ducal house of Leinster, mainly during the latter half of the 18th Century. Included in the Collection are :

LORD EDWARD FITZGERALD, Irish Rebel. A series of 55 A. L. s. to his mother, the Duchess of Leinster, 1773-91, they deal with his early years in the Navy and relate some of the exploits of Lord Rodney in the West Indies; numerous references to the Duke of Richmond and life at Goodwood are made

JAMES, first Duke of Leinster, 1722-73, procured the recall of the Duke of Dorset from Ireland, 1754. A series of 30 A. L. s. to his wife, giving interesting details of his travels in Italy and Germany

AMELIA LENNOX, first Duchess of Leinster, daughter of the Duke of Richmond. A series of 18 A. L. s. to the Duke and 60 to her second husband, Wm. Ogilvie, a most intimate series dealing largely with Irish society

LADY SARAH LENNOX, sister of above. About 60 A. L. s. mostly written from Goodwood, with interesting reference to the American Revolution and political and society gossip

LADY GEORGIANA LENNOX, sister of above, married secretly to Lord Holland in 1744. A very fine series of about 176 Letters to the Duchess of Leinster, a valuable collection dealing with all important political affairs of the closing years of the 18th Century

WILLIAM, SECOND DUKE OF LEINSTER, 1749-1804, Master of the Rolls of Ireland. A series of 25 Letters to his mother, mainly dealing with Irish politics

LORD CHARLES FITZGERALD. A series of 120 Letters to his mother, describes his life in the Navy, and various actions he took part in, under Rodney

LORD HENRY FITZGERALD. Seventy-three Letters to his mother, also dealing with service in the West Indies

LORD ROBERT FITZGERALD. Seventeen Letters to his mother and father-in-law, gives an account of Rodney's famous capture of "La Ville de Paris," of 110 guns, with Comte de Grass on board; two letters written from Paris in July, 1789, giving a very detailed account of the beginnings of the French Revolution

With others of Mrs. Frances Greville, Lady Barrymore, Lady Albemarle, Countess of Essex, Lady Louisa Connolly, etc.

 This very large correspondence, believed to be entirely unpublished, throws an interesting light on Irish Society in the 18th Century.

Your solicitude for your brother is such as a brother like him deserves and might expect . . . He will doubtless resign his place which has exposed him to censure and when he no longer offends there will be no thought of animadversion. He was very well supported and Smith has agreed to confess that the house was generally on his side. He is by the removal of Impey now Chief Justice and I do not see any reason why he may not enjoy his place till he wishes to return unless a new system of government should be formed and even then I know not why he should not be the first man to be consulted and employed.

- 170 JOHNSON (Dr. Samuel) A VERY EARLY A. L. S. 2 pp. 4to, Lichfield, Oct. 30, 1731 (to Gregory Hickman), on the occasion of the writer being rejected on his application of usher to the Grammar School at Stourbridge, where he had been a pupil about the years 1725-6 :

Sir,

I have so long neglected to return you thanks for the favour and assistance received from you at Stourbridge . . . Time has not made the sense of obligation less warm, nor the thanks I return less sincere. But while I am acknowledging one favour, I must beg another . . . that you would excuse me composition of the verses you desired. Be pleased to consider, that versifying against one's inclination is the most disagreeable thing in the world . . . As I am yet unemployed I hope you will if anything should offer, remember and recommend

Sir,

Your humble servant
Sam. Johnson.

- 171A BOSWELL (J.) A SUPERB A. L. s. 3½ pp. 4to, London, 5 April, 1792, mentioning his "Life of Dr. Johnson" and Johnson's notion of the unhappiness of human life, with references to "The Rambler," and "Rasselas," addressed to the Rev. Ralph Churton, Archdeacon of St. David's :

My worthy friend Mr. Langton had given me the satisfaction of knowing your favourable opinion of my Life of Dr. Johnson, before I had the honour to receive your very obliging letter . . . As to Johnson's notion of the unhappiness of human life, I have when mentioning the Rambler (Vol. I, p. 116) in some degree obviated any reflection against him on that head; and when mentioning Rasselas (Vol. I, p. 186) I suggest that his morbid melancholy may have made life appear to him more miserable than it generally is. But the truth, Sir, is as you have judiciously observed that I myself have a large portion of melancholy in my constitution . . .

My 8vo. edition is now in the press . . . &c.

- 171B BOSWELL (J.) A SUPERB A. L. s. 1½ pp. 4to, London, 26th July, 1793, mentioning the second edition of his "Life of Dr. Johnson," addressed to the Rev. Ralph Churton :

You will now be pleased to accept of a copy of the Second edition of my Life of Dr. Johnson, corrected and augmented, and I flatter myself that as you thought so favourably of the work before, you will now be still more pleased with it . . .

He goes on to thank Churton for his sermons that had been sent him :

I have read all of them with more than ordinary satisfaction. They indeed served as cordials to me, while I was under confinement, in consequence of having been knocked down, cut and bruised by one of those street robbers with which London has been grievously infested this year . . .

- 206 BACH (JOHN SEBASTIAN) MAGNIFICENT AND RARE AUTOGRAPH MUSICAL MANUSCRIPT, 1 p. small 4to, of a Three-part Canon, written on three staves each of 20 bars, A VERY RARE AND CHARACTERISTIC MANUSCRIPT, in dark red cloth folder
- 207 BEETHOVEN (Ludwig Van) Autograph Musical Manuscript, 1 p. oblong folio, with musical jottings of themes, etc., in pen and pencil, approximately 40 bars

- 208 BISHOP (Sir Henry) Auto. Musical Manuscript, signed twice, 4 pp. folio, April, 1833, of the song "You say you have not known me long," in dark red cloth folder
- 209 BISHOP (Sir H.), composer of "Home Sweet Home." Auto. Musical Manuscript s. 6 pp. folio, setting for four-part chorus and organ of Luther's famous hymn "Ein' feste Burg is unser Gott"
- 210 BRUCH (Max), well-known German composer. Four A. L. s. 19 pp. 8vo, New York, Breslau and Cologne, 1883-5, an interesting group of letters dealing entirely with musical matters, plans for forthcoming concerts, etc. (4)
- 211 BUCK (Dudley), American composer and organist. Auto. Manuscript s. 2 pp. 12mo, a neatly-written "List of compositions published and unpublished by Dudley Buck"
-  An interesting item.
- 212 BÜLOW (Hans Guido von), famous German pianist, conductor, composer and critic; first husband of Liszt's daughter Cosima, who afterwards became the wife of Wagner. A fine series of 17 A. L. s. 30 pp. 8vo and 12mo, lightly hinged to uniform folio sheets, with portrait, brown French levant, title stamped in gold on cover and back, 1860-1874. Letters are addressed to Julius Schubert, the Leipzig music publisher, one of von Bülow's most intimate friends; the earlier letters are written from Berlin, the later during concert tours; nearly all the letters refer to musical matters and the work he was then engaged on, in dark red cloth folder
- 213 CHOPIN (FREDERIC FRANCOIS) EXTREMELY RARE MUSICAL A. L. signed "Ch." 1 p. closely written 4to, Nohant (1841), in Polish, to Monsieur Jules Fontana, with address, referring to the publication of his "Tarantella" Opus. 43, and written from the home of Georges Sand, in dark red cloth folder
- [Translation] . . . What a pity that the Tarantella is gone to Berlin, for, as you know from Schubert's letter, Liszt is mixed up in this monetary affair, and I may have some unpleasantness. He is a thin-skinned Hungarian, and may think that I do not trust him because I directed that the manuscript should not be given otherwise than for cash. I do not know, but I have a presentiment of a disagreeable mess . . . Give my compliments also to Pleyel, and ask him to excuse my not writing to him (do not say anything about his sending me a very inferior piano), etc.
- except for one slight tear in the folds, in good condition,*
EXTREMELY RARE, with translation (2)

 Most of Chopin's letters were destroyed by fire in the house of a relative in Poland.

The Property of a Gentleman.

- 360 TACITUS. ANNALES (Bks. XI-XXI), MANUSCRIPT ON VELLUM, 222 ll. including four blank leaves, 26 lines to a page, written in two clear and beautiful hands of the Italian Renaissance, THE FIRST-PAGE DECORATED WITH A MAGNIFICENT BORDER in burnished gold and colours, introducing a portrait bust, putti, naturalistic birds, rabbits, etc. on a ground-work of "white vine" pattern, several other initials in burnished gold, the text on p. 1 rubbed, otherwise in fine condition with broad margins; polished morocco blind tooled in an interlacing design, and studded with gilt and coloured roundels, by Gruel
(265 mm. by 190 mm.) Italian, XV CENT.

 The arms of Aragon appear at the foot of the illuminated border, which is clearly the work of Nicola Rapicano, an artist who worked at the court of Alphonso I of Aragon and of his successor Ferdinand I, until 1488. Cf. G. Mazzatinti, "La Biblioteca dei Re d'Aragona," p. xiii, and P. d'Ancona, "La Miniature Italienne," pl. lxxxix. Among other points of similarity may be noticed the portrait busts and the band of leaves and fruit on a black ground, which occurs in both borders.

On f. 126 the writing changes, a hand of more humanistic character being employed through the rest of the book, but there is no reason to suppose a wide difference in date between the hands. Manuscripts of Tacitus are of considerable rarity.

- 361 HORAE B. V. M. CUM CALENDARIO. ILLUMINATED MANUSCRIPT ON VELLUM, well and clearly written in a bold gothic hand, 15 lines to a page, 137 ll. (including two blanks); TWELVE VERY FINELY EXECUTED LARGE MINIATURES within arched compartments, all with beautifully painted full borders of flowers, fruit and acanthus decoration, the ground being either liquid gold or divided into irregular geometrical compartments alternately liquid gold and plain, and introducing human and animal figures, grotesques, etc.; in the border to the large miniature of the Annunciation a small oval miniature of Adam, Eve and the serpent, below the large miniature of King David a small miniature of David and Goliath, and below the large miniature of the Three Quick and the Three Dead a small miniature of a burial service; each page has a lateral border of flowers, fruit and acanthus ornament with dot-work decoration; numerous large and small initials and bar-terminals in gold and colours; a few of the lateral borders very slightly shaved but on the whole in good condition with wide margins at top and bottom; old black morocco gilt, g. e. with 17th Century inscription of ownership on fly-leaf, "Bourdelet Ecuyer Avocat en Parlement," and bookplate of Joseph Strutt inside the front cover 8vo (162 mm. by 115 mm.) FRENCH, XV CENT.

[See FRONTISPIECE.]

The Property of Harold Acton, Esq.

- 362 HORAE B. V. M. AD USUM ROMANUM CUM CALENDARIO, MANUSCRIPT ON VELLUM, written in a neat gothic hand in red and black, 15 lines to a page, 216 ll.; FIFTEEN FINELY EXECUTED MINIATURES within arched compartments, including St. Catherine and the Raising of Lazarus (three miniatures a little rubbed) all with full borders of flowers and fruit in natural colours, acanthus decoration, etc.; each page within a delicate three-quarter border of flowers and fruit and feather-work sprays and spirals relieved with ivy-leaf decoration and circles of burnished gold; three small historiated initials, numerous other initials in gold and colours, two or three leaves at end slightly water-stained, otherwise in good condition. Brown morocco gilt, g. e. by Rivière small 8vo (104 mm. by 75 mm.) FRENCH, XV CENT.

Other Properties.

SIZES MIXED.

- 363 HORAE B. V. M. CUM CALENDARIO [Use of Dijon ?], MANUSCRIPT ON VELLUM, 126 ll. 20 lines to a page, written in lettres batardes, the calendar in gold, crimson and blue, 12 WELL EXECUTED LARGE MINIATURES in arched compartments, eight smaller miniatures, full borders in gold and colours with scrollwork, floral designs and grotesques to all the large miniatures and to two other pages, decorative panels or corner-pieces in the same style to almost every page, initials in gold on coloured ground, wants first leaf of text and one other leaf, some water-stains in the calendar but otherwise in excellent condition, with wide margins, old red velvet over wooden boards, worn and defective, remains of clasps

(170 mm. by 120 mm.) French, XV CENT.

-  At the end is a large miniature of St. Benignus with a long prayer to him in French verse. This, together with certain peculiarities of the miniatures, e.g. the blue distances in the backgrounds, suggests that the book was produced at Dijon. Cf. M. R. James MSS. in Fitzwilliam Museum, pp. 191, 261.

[See ILLUSTRATION.]

- 363A Augustine (Saint), Saint Bernard, etc. OPERA VARIA, MANUSCRIPT ON VELLUM, 205 ll. double columns, 52 lines to a column, some ornamental initial letters in red and blue, four leaves badly mutilated, two of which have been neatly repaired, written in neat 13th Century gothic hands, modern stamped morocco binding gilt
- XIII CENT.

- 364 Tritheim (Jo.) Compēdiū siue Breuiariū primi voluminis annalium sive historiarum, de origine regum et gentis Francorum, armorial woodcut on title and full-page woodcut on next leaf, a little water-stained, cardboard covers covered with leaf of musical manuscript folio. Mainz, Joh. Schöffler, 1515

-  With the well-known colophon at end in which Schöffler ascribes the invention of printing to his grandfather, Johann Fust.

INCUNABULA.

- 365 CANIBUS (JOHANNES JACOBUS DE) CARMEN AD LUDOVICUM FOSCARENUM DE PATAVINO HASTILUDIO ANNI 1466, FIRST EDITION, roman letter, 18 ll. red morocco, g. e. by Rivière [Hain, *4332; Pellechet, 3202 (one copy only); Proctor, *7134]
4to. [Padua, Leonardus Achates, 1473]

 The tournament celebrated in this poem took place at Padua in 1466 and was organised by an Englishman, John Chetwort, Archdeacon of Lincoln and Rector Juristarum of the University of Padua. Another poem on the same subject by Luigi Lazarelli (first printed in Padua in 1629) was dedicated to Chetwort. Here he is referred to in a passage beginning at line 23 :

“ Praemia Johannes praestanti ex stirpe Britannus
Ista magistratus sumens insignia juris
Ipsi contulerat victori gratus honorem :”

Proctor ascribes the book to Vicenza, whither Achates migrated in 1474; it may, however, be regarded as certain that he printed it before he left Padua, which was the home of the Author and the dedicatee, and the scene of the subject of the poem.

- 366 AUGUSTINE (SAINT) DE CIVITATE DEI, CUM COMMENTARIIS THOMAS VALOIS ET NICOLAI TRIVET, gothic letter, 364 ll. wants the last (blank), two columns, printed in red and black, device at the end of each part, half calf, back gilt [G. W. 2884; Hain, *2057; Pellechet, 1555; Proctor, *102]
folio. Mainz, Peter Schoeffer, 5 Sept. 1473.

 A fine example of the work of this historic printing house. This copy agrees with the collation given in the “Gesamtkatalog”; the collation in the B. M. Cat. Icc. which adds up to only 351 ll. omits one quire and miscounts two others.

- 367 GREGORY (SAINT) DIALOGI; VISIO TUNDALI; MIRACULA FORSEE EPISCOPI; Ars moriendi; Excerpta ex tractatu quatuor novissimorum, all in German, gothic letter, 193 ll. full-page woodcut, original Augsburg binding of stamped calf (defective) over wooden boards [Hain, *7970; Pellechet, 5360 (Bib. Nat. only); Proctor, *1605] folio. Augsburg, Monastery of SS. Ulrich and Afra, 1473.

 One of the first two books printed in the monastery; printed in J. Bämmler’s type 2.

1494 Edition (ln) 369 SPRENGER (JACOBUS) AND HENRICUS INSTITOR. MALLEUS MALEFICARUM, gothic letter, 190 ll. two columns, initials supplied in red, rubricated [Hain, *9240; Proctor, 2389], Speier, Peter Drach, c. 1492; Panormitanus (Nic.) Processus Judiciarius, gothic letter, 72 ll. the last blank [Hain, *12360; Proctor, 500], Strassburg, J. Grüninger, c. 1490, in 1 vol. some leaves water-stained at top, contemporary stamped calf over wooden boards, two lozenge-shaped stamps on sides, one with the arms of the Abbey of Heilsbronn (one impression), the other with the horned head of Moses between the initials F. M. (six impressions), brass clasps and catches, joints renewed 4to

370 PETRARCA (FRANCESCO) OPERA LATINA, FIRST COLLECTED EDITION, roman letter, 389 ll. the last blank, somewhat wormed, wooden boards, stamped calf back [Hain, *12749; Proctor, *7608]
folio. Bâle, Johann Amerbach, 1496

371 AUGUSTINE (SAINT) Expositio in Evangelium secundum Johannem, FIRST EDITION, gothic letter, 206 ll. the last blank, two columns, first initial in red, blue, green and magenta, others in red, rubricated, original stamped calf over wooden boards, title and shelf number lettered on strips of vellum on upper cover [G.W. 2912; Hain, *1982; Pellechet, 1495; Proctor, *7630]

folio. Bâle, Johann Amerbach, not after 1491

 Inscribed at the foot of fol. 2 (contractions amplified): "Iste liber pertinet monasterio Sancti Egidii Nurmberge ordinis S. Benedicti Bambergensis diocesis. Emptus per reverendum patrem dominum Johannem Rotenecker Abbatem ejusdem monasterii."

LETTERS ADDRESSED TO HIS BUTLER, JOHN THOMPSON.

- 722 Auto. Note, 6 lines, on 1 p. 8vo, ordering foodstuffs, including a small cooked ham and a small Yorkshire pie from Fortnum and Mason's
- 723 Auto. Note, 5 lines, on 1 p. 8vo, ordering Thompson to call at Tavistock House for Dickens' brown cloak and to leave it at 21, Norfolk Street
- 724 A. L. s. "C. D." Sat. Jan. 8th, 1859, 1 p. 8vo :
The guard will give you the young gentlemen's box, John. It is in the train . . . I want you to buy me one more of those corner-things like that which is fastened up over my bedstead.
- 725 A. L. s. 1 p. 8vo, Hen and Chickens' Hotel, Birmingham, Oct. 5th, 1856 :
I find, John, on measuring here with Mr. Lemon, that the proposed rake of the Stage in the schoolroom is too much . . .
Tell Mrs. Dickens I shall be home tomorrow . . .
- 726 Auto. Instructions concerning an evening party, 23 lines, on 1 p. 8vo :
Regarding Wines he says : Mitchell or John to keep Gin Punch in Ice under the table, all the evening, and to give it only to myself or Mr. Lemon. At supper let there be a good supply of champagne all over the table. No champagne before supper, and as little Wine as possible, of any sort, before supper.
- 727 Auto. Instructions, a supper, 1 p. 8vo :
This is to be a whimsical supper and not a party supper in any way . . . Supper time $\frac{1}{2}$ past 10. There will be a man with a tub of oysters in the dining-room, to open oysters as they are wanted . . .

- 728 A. L. s. 1 p. 8vo, Gad's Hill Place, 13 Aug. 1857 :
 John,
 Mr. Berger wishes you to take the Bell that is struck in the Frozen Deep, to Manchester, among the properties . . . See that the snow you take to Manchester, is better made than the last. It was very badly cut, and much too large . . . C. D.
- 729 A. L. s. $\frac{1}{2}$ p. 8vo, 16, Somer's Place, 19th March, 1865 :
 Dr. John,
 Mr. Holsworth is going to send me up some books on Monday . . . also one of those large square wholesale boxes of toothpicks.
- 730 A. L. s. 1 p. 8vo, Tavistock House, 25th May, 1857 :
 I think, John, on reconsidering the matter, that it will be as well for the Foreman to cut some holes in the top of Mr. Charles's bedroom door . . . I shall be down on Thursday, if not before, very likely before . . . with good signature
- 731 Auto. Instructions as journeying to Knebworth :
 Train on Saturday Morning from the King's Cross Station, Battlebridge. Take a ticket for Stevenage Sir Edward Bulwer Lytton's, Knebworth Park . . .
- 732 A. L. s. "C. D." 1 p. 8vo, Gad's Hill Place, Jan. 1859 :
 John,
 On receipt of this, please go up to Tavistock House, get my red and blue morning jacket from behind my bedroom door, take it to Doudney's in the Burlington Arcade, and tell them I will call in the course of the morning and explain what I want . . . I shall be at the Office by one tomorrow.
- 733 A. L. s. 1 p. 8vo, Broadstairs, August 19th, 1845 :
 John,
 We shall come to London tomorrow by the steamboat which leaves Margate at 10 o'clock. I think she will be at London Bridge Wharf, at about 4 o'clock in the afternoon. Be there waiting for us, in good time.
 with a fine signature
- 734 A. L. s. (initials), 1 p. 8vo, Gad's Hill Place, 11th July, 1858 :
 John,
 Please take a cab to Mr. Watkin's Photographic Gallery Regent St. . . . and take away to Tavistock House my writing table and brown cloak. Also, please call at Hall's, my bootmakers, and order me another pair of shepherd's plaid, ankle, spring boots, like the two last pairs . . .
- 735 A. L. s. $\frac{1}{2}$ p. 8vo, Brighton, 10th March, 1850 :
 I forgot to tell you John, if Mr. Wills calls, to shew him any letters there may be, and to admit him into the study, and allow him to take any books or papers he requires.
 with fine signature

- 736 A. L. s. 1 p. 8vo, Gad's Hill Place, 28th Sept. 1857 :
 I have always forgotten to ask you, John, whether the scenery and fittings are all right, and have been all properly put away at Tavistock House. I hope so . . .
 with fine signature
- 737 Auto. Instructions concerning theatrical properties, 1 p. 8vo :
 A light cask . . . headed up again, so that it can be used as a sort of rough table . . . Two dice boxes, and a pair of blanks.
 with 6 others of the same (7)
- 738 A. L. s. 1 p. 8vo, Gad's Hill Place, 15 Aug. 1857 :
 I am particularly anxious, John, that Mr. Austin should have the enclosed letter to night or early tomorrow morning. It relates to the Well here. We have found at last a great spring of water . . .
 with a good signature
- 739 A. L. s. 1 p. 8vo, Gad's Hill, 6th Oct. 1857 :
 John,
 These letters are important. Leave them at the different Newspaper Offices to which they are addressed, as soon as they are delivered into your hands. Do not delay.
 Charles Dickens.
- 740 A. L. s. 1 p. 8vo, Broadstairs, 12th August, 1849 :
 John,
 Ask Anne to make up Miss Hogarth's bed, on the chance of my coming to Town tomorrow (Saturday) night.
 If I come at all, of which I am not quite sure, I shall send my carpet bag home before me. In case you receive it, you will know I am coming, and will then sit up until I arrive . . .
 with fine signature
- 741 A. L. s. 1 p. 8vo, Gad's Hill Place, 21st July, 1862 :
 Dear John,
 Will you send me . . . the black travelling bag off my dining-room table—the Wide awake travelling hat hanging up in that room—the drab travelling coat and waistcoat hanging up in the wardrobe—and the waterproof coat and straps hanging up in my room on the first floor, by my writing table . . .
- 742 A. L. s. 1 p. 8vo, Gad's Hill Place, 16th June, 1860 :
 Dr. John,
 Among the Articles of furniture of which I gave you a list, is the washing stand in my room with marble top. As this same washing stand will not be wanted here until after Miss Katie's marriage, you need not trouble yourself about that at all at present . . . C.D.

- 743 A. L. s. 1 p. 8vo, Tavistock House, 17th April, 1859 :
 We will dine, John, on Tuesday instead of Thursday. Mr. Charles and Miss Hogarth will dine with us. The hour is 6 next Tuesday, instead of 5. Don't get too much. I suppose we cannot dine yet, at the All the Year Round Office? . . . C. D.
 and another A. L. s. of the same, concerning a visit to Ipswich, dated Oct. 8, 1859 (2)
- 744 A. L. s. 1 p. 8vo, Gad's Hill Place, 25 June, 1865 :
 Dr. John,
 Take Miss Ellen tomorrow morning, a little basket of fresh fruit, a jar of clotted cream from Tuckers, and a chicken, a pair of pigeons, or some nice little bird. Also on Wednesday morning, and on Friday morning, take her some other things of the same sort—making a little variety each day . . . C. D.
- 745 A. L. s. 1 p. 8vo, Athenaeum Club, 28th June, 1857 :
 I called at the Office to day John, but no one was there. Enclosed is the list of things, to be fetched from Mr. Stanfield's by 10 tomorrow morning . . .
 with fine signature; also the Auto. List of Goods to be fetched from Stanfield (2)

- 753 DICKENS (C.) A FINE A. L. s. "C. D." Broadstairs, August, 1848, to My dear Fred, an amusing letter complaining of begging letters :
 I have about three shillings worth of stamps to pay to day for imposter's documents.
 You will have heard about the pony and Kate! All well, thanks God.
 I wish you would do what I have asked with a damned packet I send with this . . .
- 754 DICKENS (C.) A. L. s. 1 p. 8vo, Devonshire Terrace, Dec. 1850, to Mr. H. Fraser, a very cordial letter of thanks, with fine signature
- 755 DICKENS (C.) A. L. s. 1½ pp. 8vo, Tavistock House, First February, 1854, to Charles Mathews, Esq. :
 I am glad you do me the justice to believe that so admirable an artist as yourself . . . can possible have no better introduction to me than his own genius, and my remembrance of the pleasure for which I am his debtor . . .
- 756 DICKENS (C.) A fine A. L. s. 1 p. 8vo, Gad's Hill Place, 12 August, 1857, to T. German Reed :
 Mr. Macready has altered his time for coming to us . . . to the fifth (or thereabouts) of next month, September. We still hope that Mrs. Reed and you may be able to come and pass a day with us . . .
- 757 DICKENS (C.) A. L. s. 1 p. 8vo, All the Year Round Office, 18 Decr. 1861, to T. Holmes :
 . . . I hope there may be nothing amiss that would have disturbed the peace of poor dear Arthur.

- 760 DICKENS (Charles) AUTO. PROGRAMME OF A PERFORMANCE OF THE MERRY WIVES OF WINDSOR, IN AID OF THE FUND FOR THE ENDOWMENT OF A PERPETUAL CURATORSHIP OF SHAKESPEARE'S HOUSE AT STRATFORD, $1\frac{1}{4}$ pp. folio. Nine performances were given in London and the Provinces, and the gross receipts amounted to upwards of £2,500; the endowment was abandoned upon the Stratford Town Council taking charge of the house and the proceeds of these performances were given to James Sheridan Knowles, in excellent preservation

[See ILLUSTRATION.]

- 761 DICKENS (C.) A FINE A. L. s. $3\frac{1}{4}$ pp. 8vo, Broadstairs, July, 1847, to F. Robinson, Esq. concerning the Provincial performances of "The Merry Wives of Windsor":

As it has been proposed that we should act in Liverpool on the 28th. I presume I may consider the 26th as the night fixed for Manchester.

We shall be down to rehearse on the stage, on the morning of performance . . .

A Memorandum of the Bill, I enclose . . . The proposed Liverpool prices are very good, I think,

Lower Boxes	10/-	each person
Upper Boxes	7/6	" "
Do. Boxes	5/-	" "
Pit	5/-	" "

Gallery eighteen pence or two shillings. But it is impossible for me to be so good a judge on this head, as the Committee. Whatever the committee decide on, I shall be certain is the best thing.

I have not in the Bill, mentioned the Ladies, They will all be local Actresses, I believe . . .

- 762 DICKENS (C.) A VERY FINE A. L. s. 3 pp. 8vo, Devonshire Terrace, 24 May, 1848, to F. Robinson, Esq. concerning alterations in a play-bill :

. . . The following alterations for the bill.
 In the caste of the Merry Wives,
 For "Miss Fortescue of the Theatre Royal Haymarket" substitute
 Miss Emmeline Montague,
 after that lady's name, insert
 Mrs. Page ----- Miss Kenworthy.
 In the Caste of Animal Magnetism again substitute for Miss Fortescue
 Miss Emmeline Montague.

DICKENS (CHARLES) A SUPERB COLLECTION OF LETTERS,
 ALL CONTAINING IMPORTANT REFERENCES TO HIS BOOKS.

- 763 A. L. s. 1 p. 8vo, Furnival's Inn, Saturday Morning (? 1836), to Richard Bentley, mentioning "Pickwick" :

Pray do me the favor to give directions in your office that if Macrone sends any advertisement of "Gabriel Vardon" for the Miscellany, it be rejected, at my express request. He has just sent to the Pickwick (Having only yesterday, received the last sheet of the second series of Sketches) a similar advertisement for insertion there; and I have requested Chapman and Hall to send it back, which they have done.

Is Hook's Paper coming?

[See ILLUSTRATION.]

- 764 A. L. s. 1½ pp. 8vo, 48 Doughty St. Saturday Morning, n. y. to Mr. Serjeant Talfourd, mentioning "Oliver Twist" and "Pickwick" :

As my childish anxiety that you should finish Oliver Twist without delay has undergone no diminution in the course of my trip, I send you one of the earliest copies I have been able to lay my hands on—only upon the understanding that you will let me have it back without loss of time, to bind uniform with your Pickwick . . .

- 765 A. L. s. 1 p. 8vo, 1 Devonshire Terrace, 17 Feb. 1841, to Miss Lloyd, he commences at the top of the page with "Faithfully Yours" and a very fine signature, then follows the address, and a note in the third person saying that Miss Lloyd is entirely and thoroughly mistaken in supposing him to be the Author of "Sketches of Young Ladies"

- 766 A. L. s. 1 p. 4to, 1 Devonshire Terrace, 25th March, 1840, to Mr. T. P. Grinsted, referring to the Nickleby Club :

I have to thank you . . . and through you to thank those gentlemen who remembered me in their flowing cups last Thursday.

Do me the favor to convey to the Nickleby Club, the warmest expression of my gratitude and interest in their proceedings. I trust they may continue to hold me, and I them, in pleasant and cheerful recollection for very many years, and long connect their recreations with a name which is naturally associated in my mind with favorite and familiar thoughts . . .

with address on fourth page

- 767 A. L. s. (third person), 1 p. 8vo, 1 Devonshire Terrace, 13th October, 1840, concerning "Master Humphrey's Clock," addressed to Mr. Gray, who engraved the blocks for the book :

Mr. Charles Dickens sends his compliments to Mr. Gray, and if he has no better engagement for next Tuesday, begs the favor of his company to dinner (at Six o'clock for half past punctually) to meet their fellow-labourers in the clock, and celebrate the completion of the first volume.

- 768 A. L. s. 2½ pp. 8vo, Broadstairs, 14th Sept. 1841, to William Hall, mentioning "Barnaby Rudge" and Washington Irving :

Quite right. Gate of Newgate in 78; not in 79. I don't want Barnaby in the subject, but feared he might be there. I plainly see it's all up with the mechanical genius. Don't trust him with anything; keep an eye on the till; restrain him from making any entries in the books; and unconfuse Mr. Cattermole whom I clearly perceive he will distract with wrong instructions . . .

It would be a good thing, wouldn't it, if I ran over to America about the end of February, and came back after four or five months with a one volume book—such as a ten and sixpenny touch? . . . Washington Irving writes me that if I went, it would be a triumph for me from one end of the States to the other, as was never known in any nation . . . When you get the riot block will you send me a proof of it?

WITH A VERY FINE SIGNATURE

- 769 A. L. s. 1 p. 4to, Devonshire Terrace, 15th Oct. 1842, to W. H. Prescott, the historian, mentioning that Longfellow is stopping with the writer, and speaks of "American Notes," with franked address on the fourth page "W. H. Prescott Esquire, Boston, Massachusetts, United States, Charles Dickens. By Mail Steamer" :

My Publishers, Messrs. Chapman and Hall, will be happy to republish that book of which you speak; requiring no better description of its merits . . . Longfellow is staying with me; and has been for some days. He thinks of returning by the Great Western on this day week. I shall charge him with a copy of my American Notes for you. I have no fear but they will find favor in your eyes, though they may not in those of the mass . . .

 A LETTER OF REMARKABLE INTEREST, IN THE FINEST POSSIBLE STATE OF PRESERVATION.

- 770 A. L. s. 2½ pp. 8vo, Devonshire Terrace, 20th December, 1842, to George Cattermole and referring to the latter's illustrations to "The Old Curiosity Shop":

It is impossible for me to tell you how greatly I am charmed with those beautiful pictures, in which the whole feeling and thought and expression of the little story is rendered to the gratification of my inmost heart and on which you have lavished those amazing resources of yours with a power at which I fairly wondered when I sat down yesterday before them.

I took them to Mac straightway in a cab—and it would have done you good if you could have seen and heard him . . . You are a queer fellow and hold yourself so much aloof that I am afraid to say half I would say, touching my grateful admiration . . .

- 771 A. L. s. (third person), 1 p. 8vo. Tavistock House, 4th May, 1843, to Mr. Grimes, mentioning "Bleak House":

Mr. Charles Dickens sends his compliments to Mr. Grimes, and begs to thank him for his curious and interesting communication; the spirit of which Mr. Dickens very cordially appreciates. Two kindred characters are already represented in Bleak House, which makes the letter more agreeable.

- 772 A. L. s. "C. D." 3 pp. 8vo, Devonshire Terrace, Tenth February, 1844, to his friend and solicitor, Mr. Thomas Mitton, 23, Southampton Buildings, Chancery Lane, mentioning "A Christmas Carol" and certain piracies of his works, with franked envelope, stamped:

Fred was telling me last night about the impudence of the Pirates—which I think I had better not know, unless they should give us an opportunity of being down upon them in some new fashion. For I can easily conceive the possibility of its being an advantage to us, and certainly a position of dignity, to be able to declare that I have never seen their effusions . . . I should like to receive the book, sealed up, that I might even then pause before I looked into it . . . It is no use to falter with such rascals. Mr. Blanchard's name is not Laman at all. He was christened Edward Lyt, and is desperate bad character . . .

C. & H. promise the CAROL accounts, today!

- 773 A. L. s. 1½ pp. 12mo, Peschiere (Genoa), 30th Sept. 1844, to T. C. Curry, Esq. referring to "Martin Chuzzlewit":

My dear Sir, I send you the Chuzzlewit. My brother Frederick will be happy to avail himself of your hospitality whenever you like between this and Friday . . .

I shall soon be alone here, with my own household, and then I hope we shall see each other often.

- 774 A. L. s. 2 pp. 8vo, Devonshire Terrace, 14th Nov. 1845, to C. E. Cottrell, Esq. speaks of finishing a little book ["The Cricket on the Hearth"]:

. . . My reason for placing a week's interval between your return and my appointment, is that I have arranged to leave town on Monday morning to finish a little book in peace and quietness: and I do not think it likely I shall be here again until the day on which I hope to see you.

- 775 A. L. s. 1 p. 4to, Paris, 48 Rue de Courcelles, 13 Nov. 1846, to Lord Jeffrey, Scottish judge and critic, editor "Edinburgh Review," referring to "The Battle of Life" and "Dombey," with franked address on verso :

. . . We have come from Switzerland, all well and happy, and purpose remaining here until the end of March. My friend Forster, who does all my business for me in England while I am away and is my right hand and cool shrewd head too, will send you by post, probably in the course of this week, proofs of the Christmas Book. There is something in the idea, that I hope will please you. It will not be published until the 18th of December . . . Dombey is a great success. I have forgotten all about the newspapers, and don't believe I ever had anything to do with it . . .

- 776 A. L. s. 2 pp. 8vo, 1 Chester Place, Regent's Park, 14th April, 1847, to J. Serle, Esq. referring to "Dombey" :

I am residing here pro tem: until I can get my own respected tenant out of Devonshire Terrace, at the end of July. Your proposal in reference to the happy pair (I hope Forster is not a jackass, but appearances are against him) meets with my fullest concurrence. Don't you think it would be well to make that seven pounds-ten? The difference is not great, and the latter has a pleasanter aspect to me. If you should have any commands for Australia after Dombey is finished, I think of making a little excursion there. I shall come round home by way of China (if you want any chopsticks), desiring to ascertain for myself whether the inhabitants of that country really dance with their forefingers going up and down close to their ears—and whether twelve of them look at once P.S. and then O.P.—and whether they get behind one another in a row, the tallest man last and a boy in front—as I have seen them represented once or twice in the British Draymer.

You can think about your commissions. Dombey has twelve months to run.

- 777 A. L. s. (third person) $\frac{1}{2}$ p. 8vo, Devonshire Terrace, 5th Feb. 1850, to Mr. Shand, referring to "Sketches by Boz," with envelope :

Mr. Charles Dickens sends his compliments to Mr. Shand. The sketches were first published. Part of them appeared in the Morning Chronicle; part in the Monthly Magazine.

- 778 A. L. s. 2 pp. 8vo, Tavistock House, First May, 1855, containing a paragraph from "David Copperfield" :

. . . Thinking you might like this all the better if it were associated with one of my books. I transcribe a few words from David Copperfield on the opposite side.

The paragraph describes Betsey Trotwood Copperfield as being "for ever in the land of dreams and shadows."

- 779 A. L. s. $2\frac{1}{2}$ pp. 8vo, Dover, Second May, 1856, to J. T. Gordon, Esq. mentioning the success of "Little Dorrit" :

. . . They are all well at Paris, and would send all manner of

messages if they knew me to be writing. They leave on Monday week, and we purpose remaining in town through May. We then go to Boulogne for the summer.

Little Dorrit has beaten all her predecessors in circulation.

- 780 A. L. s. 3 pp. 8vo, Broadstairs, Fifteenth October, 1851, to the Rev. George Musgrave, refers to a new book "A Tale of Two Cities," Gad's Hill Place and Bulwer's Comedy :

. . . The usual occupation of my time is greatly augmented just now, by my removal, and by my very great desire to get settled in my new Home-Study that I may work the more steadily at a new book with which I hope he will soon become acquainted . . . the country arrangements in connexion with our Guild and Sir Edward Bulwer's comedy—and the rolling of a sea of correspondence which always flows and never ebbs—leave me less leisure than usual . . .

- 781 A. L. s. 4 pp. 8vo (closely written), Office of All the Year Round, 1st Feb. 1861, to Monsieur W. F. de Cerjat, Elysee, Lausanne, Switzerland, refers to the success of "Great Expectations" and the American Civil War :

. . . The American business is the greatest English sensation at present. I venture to predict that the struggle of violence will be a short one and will soon be succeeded by some new compact between the Northern and Southern States. Meantime the Lancashire mill owners are getting very uneasy . . .

This Journal [All the Year Round] is doing gloriously, and Great Expectations is a great success. Lever's story has been a dead weight, and obliged me to rush in to the rescue. But it will soon be finished now, and we shall be all the better yet for that desirable consummation.

He gives his opinion of the Rood Murder, and gives a delightful description of a severe frost.

A LETTER OF THE GREATEST IMPORTANCE

[See ILLUSTRATION.]

- 782 A. L. s. 3 pp. 8vo, Gad's Hill Place, First August, 1863, to W. W. Story, Esq. mentioning "All the Year Round" :

The Poems you enclosed shall duly appear in All The Year Round, and Nos. shall be posted to you. I am a little doubtful of Lady Harris, but I very much like the others . . .

France will involve us, I very much fear, in general War and Uproar. The Adventurer on that Throne has no chance but in the distraction of his people's minds, and in the jingle and glitter of theatrical glory. The deference to him that has been the low policy of the English Government is, to my thinking, as blind as it is base;—I can't express its wants or right more strongly . . .

- 783 A. L. s. 1 p. 12mo, Office of All the Year Round, Oct. 6th, 1865, to Mr. Day, mentioning "Our Mutual Friend" :

Dear Mr. Day,

Will you be so good as to send me a pull of the concluding double No. of Our Mutual Friend.

Faithfully Yours
Charles Dickens.

- 784 CRUIKSHANK (George) A. L. s. 1 p. 4to, n. d. referring to his illustrations to Dickens' works :
 Sir,
 The illustrations to "Sketches by Boz" are etched on steel by your humble servant
 Geo. Cruikshank.
 P. S. I will just add that there are many works which are mistaken for mine being in some circumstances a imitation of the Style, &c. such are those by "Phiz" in "Pickwick," "Nicholas Nickleby," "R. Crowquills" and various others, but to those of my own hand—you will always find my name at full length.
- 785 BROWNE (H. K.), "Phiz." Auto. Receipt s. 1 p. 8vo, Aug. 1865 :
 Received of Fred Cousins Esq. the sum of one hundred & five pounds for 41 sketches to Nic. Nickleby.

- 787 SCOTT (Sir Walter) A. L. s. 1 p. 4to, Abbotsford, 21 Sept. 1825, to James Ballantyne, mentioning his "Life of Napoleon":
 I forward the 3rd. vol. of Miscellaneous Works, the numbers are all marked in order & I shall wish to correct every sheet where any material correction occurs. I have finished about half the 1st. Vol. of Boney and am ready to go to press when the form is determined but this I imagine cannot be until Constable has been in London . . .
a little torn in the folds
- 788 SCOTT (Sir W.) A. L. s. "W. S." 2½ pp. 16mo (23 Feb. 1828), to James Ballantyne :
 I send an awful set of sheets, Two revises and two proofs. I believe the additions are so many that I had best see the whole again before they go to press with duplicates as corrected.
 He goes on to mention "The Chronicles of Canongate"; with a Bill drawn on Ballantyne by Sir Walter Scott for £250 (2)

- 795 TENNYSON (Alfred Lord) A. L. s. 1 p. 8vo, July, 1854 :
 . . . I had a housemaid (happily now gone) who not only would read all my letters but also put them out of the way, so that yours being "out of sight" became also "out of mind." I am not inclined to close with your proposal of writing a life of Cowper in the Encyclopaedia Britannica, but I am obliged to you for making the offer.
