* * * The first German translation of "Paradise Lost." Having been printed at Von Berge's expense, in all probability only a very few copies were issued for his friends.

- 26 Psalterium Davidis [et Libri Sapientiales]. Ad Exemplar Vaticanum Anni 1592, red morocco

Lugduni, apud Ioh : et Dan : Elzevirios Anno 1653

* * * Bound in red morocco for Baron de Longepierre, with his device, the "Toison d'Or," impressed five times on each of the covers, and repeated in five of the six panels on the back. Gilt on marbled leaves. Alphonse Willems, in his book on the Elzevirs, says of this edition : "Il est évident que ce Psautier, où l'on s'est attaché à suivre le texte de la Vulgate, a été exécuté spécialement en vue des pays catholiques. De là la suppression du mot Batavorum, après Lugduni, dans l'adresse des imprimeurs. L'édition est fort jolie, et les exemplaires bien conservés et grands de marges se paient fort cher."

- 27 London. A Collection of the Names of the Merchants Living in and about The City of London ; Very Usefull and Necessary. Carefully Collected for the Benefit of all Dealers that shall have occasion with any of them ; Directing them at the first sight of their name, to the place of their abode, red morocco

* * * The first London Directory. Though many lists were made from time to time of the inhabitants of London for the purpose of levying subsidies and taxes, no printed list of any kind, previous to the present book, was issued. An office of addresses was kept as early as 1650 by a certain Henry Robinson, who for a small fee would furnish information, and that might have suggested the idea of the Collection of Names to Samuel Lee. This collection was only intended to comprise a certain class of the community, and many well-known people of the time will not be found mentioned. A list at the end contains the goldsmiths who kept running cashes, the early bankers, and several well-known names of to-day, such as Child and Hore, occur among them.

224 Locke (John) An Essay Concerning Humane Understanding, in four Books, FIRST EDITION, calf
folio. Printed by Eliz. Holt for Thomas Basset, at the George in Fleet street, near St. Dunstan's Church, 1690

* * * Inserted in this copy Locke's A. L. s. covering 2 pp. folio, dated Oates, 25th Jan. 1698-9, addressed to Sir F. Molyneux. In this letter Locke mentions that he has given orders to Mr. Churchill to send his last reply to the Bishop of Worcester and the last edition of his Treatise of Education. "As for my Essay concerning Human Understanding, it is now out of print, and if it were not I think I should make you but an ill compliment in sending it to you, less perfect that I designe it should be as the next Edition, in which I shall make many additions to it," etc. AN IMPORTANT LETTER, a portion of which (the extract ending with the words "thrust into your study") was printed by Molyneux in "Familiar Letters between Mr. Locke and several of his friends" (A. and J. Churchill, at the Black Swan in Paternoster Row, 1708). The remainder of the letter is unpublished.

paper in English and French. Two years later they published the present volume, consisting of an exposition of the elements of Christian doctrine with certain prayers, in the language of the Montagnais. Under this general name the French included the scattered hordes of Papinachois, Bersiamites, Atticamagues, and other small tribes of hunters wandering between the St. Lawrence and Hudson Bay, though the tribe proper of the Montagnais occupied the country on the head waters of the river Saguenay on the north shores of the St. Lawrence below Quebec, reaching to the Labrador coast. They were nearly allied to the Sauteaux, and both rather degenerate offshoots of the great Algenquin family. Books printed in the Indian dialects are now of excessive rarity; probably few were printed and very few would survive the rough usage to which they were put. Of such as were printed in the eighteenth century the present is THE ONLY ONE KNOWN ISSUED IN THE MONTAGNAIS TONGUE. The present copy is an exceptionally fine one, in the original sheepskin binding. The only other copy that can be traced is one which was in the Puybusque sale and passed into the Maison-neuve collection.

- 280 Cruikshank (George) Punch and Judy, with illustrations drawn and engraved by George Cruikshank, accompanied by the dialogue of the Puppet-show, an account of its origin, and of puppet plays in England, by J. P. Collier, half morocco 1828

* * Only eighteen copies were issued in this form with a double set of the plates, proofs on india paper and coloured. An autograph of George Cruikshank's is inserted.

- 281 Legouve (Gabriel) La Mort de Henri Quatre, roi de France, tragédie en cinq actes et en vers, portraits, blue morocco, UNCUT, by Bozerian Paris, Renouard, 1806

* * The publisher's (Renouard) own, UNIQUE COPY, PRINTED ON VELLUM (the only copy so printed). It has the two portraits of Henri IV by Aug. de Saint-Aubin, after Pourbus, in two states, of which one is on rose-coloured paper; and also the portrait of Marie de Médicis by the same artists. Inserted is the original drawing of the Marie de Médicis portrait. One of the portraits of Henri IV is also printed on satin. Inserted is a holograph letter signed of E. Lemaire, a friend of the author, addressed to the publisher, Renouard, asking for ten copies on the very best paper possible. Renouard has endorsed this letter, "il en a eu douze et n'en a rien payé." An original letter, signed by Henri IV, 1 page, folio, dated 27th June, 1593 (a few days before he renounced Protestantism), is also inserted.

- 283 AMERICA. Chéhadé (Pierre) Histoire de la Découverte de l'Amérique, ouvrage dédié à sa Majesté Alphonse XII, roy d'Espagne, old morocco c. 1880

* * The first History of America in Arabic. Unmentioned by bibliographers, and the present appears to be the only copy known. The presentation copy from the author to Monsieur Perera, the French consul at Beyrouth, with autograph inscription at the end of the volume where the work begins.

- 284 Artois (Comte d') Confession générale de S. A. S. M. le Comte d'Artois, déposée, à son arrivée à Madrid, dans le sein du T. R. P. Dom Jérôme, grand inquisiteur, imprimé dans les décombres de la Bastille, Paris, 23 Juillet 1789. Correspondances d'Angleterre et de Bruxelles, Projet d'établissement pour un grand prince, son établissement à Botany Bay, avec sa proclamation et le choix de ses ministres, 4 parts. Le Comte d'Artois, Roi de Botany Bay, à tous les fuyards, traîtres, proscrits de la France, 3 works in 1 vol. uncut 1789

* * These brochures are of excessive rarity, and were published at the commencement of the French Revolution by the Revolutionaries. They are particularly interesting from their Botany Bay references, the penal settlement having but just been established there (in 1788).

- 285 Barclay (J.) Argenis, Editio novissima, cum Clave, hoc est: nominum propriorum elucidatione hactenus nondum edita, finely engraved title, signed P. S. original vellum
Lugd. Bat. ex officina Elzeviriana, 1630

* * Hartley Coleridge's and Anthony Trollope's copy. It has the autograph ex-libris, "H. Coleridge, Bought of Bote 1812," of the former (the son of S. T. C.) on the fly-leaf and the book-plate of the latter.

- 286 Burns (Robert) His Snuff Box, elaborately carved (in wood), with a scene from Tam o' Shanter:

"Weel mounted on his grey Mare Meg"
at the keystone of the brig, and Cutty Sark (Nannie) seizing the mare's tail,

"The carlin claut her by the rump,

At the end are the "Twa Dogs" (Caesar and Luath) at their collishangie, with other figures at back and front

* * A printed authentication of its genuineness accompanies the snuff box. It was carved and presented to the poet in his old age by an admirer.

- 6/157- 287 Berquin (M.) Romances, LARGE PAPER, with frontispiece, and 3 engravings after Marillier, brilliant unlettered impressions, red morocco extra, richly gilt to a Derome pattern, à l'oiseau, uncut Paris, 1776

* * The ÉDITION ORIGINALE of the Works of Molière and of great rarity. This extremely important edition comprises all the plays of Molière which had been published separately up to the year 1666. The finely engraved frontispieces represent characters from Molière's Comedies.

- 327 Tennyson. Parables from Nature, by Mrs. Alfred Gatty, 3 engravings, original blue cloth, uncut Bell & Daldy, 1857

* * THE PRESENTATION COPY FROM LORD TENNYSON TO HENRY CAMERON, with the following inscription on the inside of the front cover in the poet's autograph: "Henry Herschel Hay Cameron from Alfred & Emily Tennyson, May 12th/57." At this period the Poet Laureate was engaged upon the Arthurian Poems. "Enid" was ready in 1856 and "Guinevere" 1858.

- 328 Philotes. Della notabile & famosa Historia de I Felici Amori del delfino di Francia, et di Angelina Loria, Nobile Siciliana, Libro Secondo: Nuovamente Ritrovata, & dall' antica lingua Normanna tradotta nella Italiana. Da M. Giulio Filoteo di Amadeo Siciliano, 4 vol. green morocco

In Venetia, appresso Lucio Spineda, 1609

* * The binding of these four volumes is a particularly good and representative specimen of Roger Payne's work. It is of straight-grained green morocco with plain sides. The boards are edged with a single line fillet, while another is ruled half an inch further in, both being finished at the corners with small rosettes. In each corner of the frame thus formed is a delicate spray of leaves and flowers. The top and bottom panels of the back are richly gilt, and the lettering is in Payne's usual bold style. The insides of the covers are very distinctive of Payne's work. A broad border of morocco runs round the four sides edged with a gilt fillet, and each side contains a large gilt ornament made up of small tools, flowers, leaves, rosettes, crescents, and at each corner is a spray. The centre portion and end papers are dull purple cob paper. The present copy belonged to the celebrated book collector Richard Heber, and contains some notes in his hand. It is the only copy quoted by Brunet (IV, 622).

of St. Ignatius Loyola, sometimes assigned to St. Dominic, it is not very clear which. The costume is that of a Dominican friar. This miniature, which is very well painted, and by the same hand as the "St. George and Dragon," and probably all the rest, was executed in all likelihood by Germain Hardouyn himself, who was, in his own time, considered to be "in arte litteraire picture feritissimus," as the subscription says in the copy of the "Hours of the Virgin," published in 1514.

- 362 GARRICK (MRS.) HER AUTOGRAPH DIARY FOR THE YEAR 1769, in the original wrapper, enclosed in a morocco case 1769

* * Of unusual interest, as this was the year of the famous Stratford Jubilee in honour of Shakespeare. "Garrick was the whole soul of the affair." On June 18th she notes that they set out for Stratford-on-Avon. They left Garrick's house at Hampton at $\frac{1}{4}$ after 7, arrived at Henley $\frac{1}{4}$ before 12, left Henley 10 minutes before 3, arrived at Oxford 20 minutes before 7 (stayed at the Angel Inn). On June 19th they left Oxford at 20 minutes before 7, arrived at Chapel House 5 minutes before 10, leaving Chapel House at $\frac{1}{4}$ before 12, they arrived at Stratford-on-Avon at 5 o'clock. She also gives the distances:—

From Hampton to Egham...	...	8 miles
„ Egham to Maidenhead	...	10 „
„ Maidenhead to Henley	...	9 „
„ Henley to Oxford	22 „

From Oxford to Chapel House, then 18 miles to Stratford. This is almost the identical route followed by Shakespeare on his many journeys from Stratford to London; at Oxford, however, Shakespeare stayed at the Crown Inn. The diary on the 22nd and 23rd June relates the return journey by the same route. The Garricks left again for Stratford on the 1st September, arriving (by the previous route) on the following day. Sept. 3rd, 4th and 5th, were spent at Stratford in preparation for the Birthday. September 6th was "the great day," as Fitzgerald, in his "Life of Garrick," terms it. Mrs. Garrick notes that they attended Handel's Oratorio of "Judith," the dinner, and the ball. Sept. 7th—She records the famous "Ode upon dedicating a building and erecting a statue to Shakespeare," which was both written and spoken by Garrick. This recital was followed by a dinner (with a turtle weighing 150 lbs.) fireworks and a masquerade.

June 8th—Mrs. Garrick went to the horse-race (for the Jubilee Cup of £50), the dinner, fireworks, and the ball. (A curious account of the horse-race and its winner is given in Fitzgerald's "Life of Garrick," vol. II, p. 230-231.)
June 9th—They left Stratford, arriving at their house at Hampton on the 12th. An entry of June tells us that Garrick recited his "Ode on Shakespeare" at his own theatre in London on that day.

à Paris, de l'imprimerie de P. Didot l'Aîné, 1791-4

* * * UNIQUE. It is No. 353 in De Bure's Catalogue of Books printed upon vellum. This magnificent example of vellum printing was formerly Prince Galitzin's. Since it left his library it has been enriched by the insertion of twenty-one Molière family documents bearing the signatures of his relatives. They are, inter alia: His father, his wife, and his brother (J. B.) and his wife, his brother (Robert), his sister (Catherine), his uncle (Robert), his nephew (Pierre), his niece (Martha), his niece (A. C.), his cousin (Nicholas), his cousin (Louis), his cousin (Pierre), his cousin (Guy).

- 399 ORDONNANCES (Les) DE L'ORDRE DE LA TOISON D'OR, PRINTED UPON FINE VELLUM, old vellum gilt
Christopher Plantin (1560)

* * * This is the second issue of the Ordonnances, according to Brunet, and comprises eleven more pages of text than the first. The title is followed by a beautiful full-page engraving of the coat-of-arms of the Dukes of Bourgogne, and another full-page engraving of the Collar of this famous Order, both by Cornelius Galle and each printed upon separate leaves of vellum. Inserted in the present example is a contemporary manuscript note (an introduction to one of the chiefs of the Order) also on vellum, addressed to a Prince ("Monseigneur") and presenting a Chevalier elected by the King Francis II, the husband of Mary Stuart.

- 400 DUCHAT (Yves) CARMEN, PRINTED UPON VELLUM and probably the only copy so printed, original vellum [Paris, 1625]

* * * The work was entirely unknown to Brunet and to De Bure. The headpieces and capitals are illuminated in red, blue and gold. The text is in Greek and Latin. The binding of white vellum has panels on the sides formed with a three-line fillet and with a floral ornament at each corner, and in the centre a wreath formed of two branches. The volume had originally blue silk ties of which the ends remain. Duchat's writings are exceedingly rare. Brunet, not noticing the present, mentions only one. The British Museum has a copy of this (on paper) as well as his two other poems.

401 THE IMAGE OF PITY

Wynkyn de Worde [1515]

* * * This is, as yet, the only example which has come to light. The very few existing English examples, all of which are later than the present, differ from the majority of foreign in two ways. They never contain the figure of St. Gregory, and the emblems of the Passion, instead of being grouped more or less artistically in the background, are arranged methodically in a border divided into square compartments. There seems to have been no rule or tradition regulating the number of emblems to be depicted or the order in which they should occur, each individual engraver working according to his own fancy. In the present example the border contains twenty emblems in the following order, beginning from the lower left-hand corner: The scourge and bunch of twigs crossed, the pillar with cords crossed, the ladder for the cross, the sword and club crossed, the lantern (John, xviii, 3), a left hand pulling the hair, the basin and ewer. The centre of the cut is occupied by the usual half-length figure of Our Lord standing in an altar-tomb with the cross behind and the spear and reed with sponge on either side; below is the text of the Indulgence also cut on wood and with the words much abbreviated: "To al them that devoutly say V. pater noster. V. aues and a crede afor such a figure ar graunted XXXII. m. VII. C. Lv. yeres of pardon." The present example offers another point of interest. Below it are printed the lines, running, with the abbreviations filled out:

"Though I am not present before your eye
(In) your good prayers have mynde on me. T.d.
(Qu)i pro aliis orat, pro seipso laborat."

This "Image of Pity" is the earliest extant example of any English Indulgence. The inscription is printed in the type of Wynkyn de Worde, and may be dated not later than 1515.

- * * The rare second edition, and unknown to Lowndes. Only two or three copies are recorded. The verso of signature A 3 and the whole of the next leaf are occupied by "A Dire; made by the Pilgrime in the Ile Negroponti, when hee was constrained by Greekes to keepe Centinell sixe daies (according to the times), who then stood in feare of two Turkish Gallies."
- 408 Le Clerc. Œuvres Choiesies De Sebastien Le Clerc, Chevalier Romain, Dessinateur et graveur du Cabinet du Roi, 239 Estampes, dessinées et gravées par ce célèbre Artiste, représentant des Costumes, des Fables, des Paysages et autres objets intéressants; ouvrage utile aux Artistes et aux Elèves des Beaux-Arts, contemporary calf Paris, 1784
- 409 VOLTAIRE. La Henriade, en Dix Chants, précédée, accompagnée et suivie de toutes les pièces relatives à ce Poëme et à la Poésie Epique en général; auxquelles on a joint, le Temple du Goût, les Discours sur l'Homme, les Poëmes de Fontenoy, sur le Désastre de Lisbonne, sur la Loi Naturelle, etc. frontispiece, containing a portrait of Voltaire and 10 plates, after Gravelot, by Flipart, Le Vasseur, De Lorraine, Née, Rousseau, and De Launay, also a portrait of Henri IV, after Hannet, by Cathelin, added, contemporary red morocco Genève, 1768

- 410 Bayardi (Octave Antoine) Prodromo delle antichità d'Ercolano, 5 vol. medallion portrait of the author, after Paderni, by Pozzi, and many folding plates, contemporary red morocco gilt, with the arms of Pope Clement XIII impressed on the sides of each volume, gilt leaves Naples, 1752
- 411 Ardelin. L'Effervescence et l'Amour Maternel ou Histoire du Prince Ardelin, MANUSCRIPT of the 18th century, 258 pp. old French red morocco, g. e.
 * * This unpublished manuscript is illustrated with 38 original French drawings in water-colour. They are very valuable for the decoration of the period, interiors, furniture, drapery, costume, carriages, etc. of the reign of Louis XVI.
- 412 Seaweeds. An Album containing dried Seaweeds, bound in smooth calf extra, the sides being exquisitely hand-painted; the upper cover has a full-length portrait of her late Majesty Queen Victoria in the centre, attired in state robes, surrounded by a charming design composed of flowers and fruit in all colours, the whole enclosed within geometrical lines of gold; the lower cover has a large device of the rose, shamrock and thistle as centre ornament
 * * This beautiful example of bibliopegistic ornament was especially painted by Count Imhoff for presentation to his friend Mrs. Skelton, née Adye, in 1852. (See note in the volume).
- 413 Bayfii (Lazari) *Annotationes in legem II. De Captivis et postliminis reversis, in quibus tractatus. De re Navali, per autorem recognitæ. Ejusdem Annotationes in tractatum. Basileae (H. Frobenium et N. Episcopium), 1537
 * * An excessively rare work by the brother of the celebrated poet J. A. Baif. A VERY LARGE COPY.
- 414 Ceramics. A remarkable Manuscript, comprising 55 Original Drawings, with text in German, quite complete, old vellum 1740
 * * Extremely curious. The calligraphist, F. D. Schneider, wrote it for one practised in the Ceramic art, Johannes Rupp, for the leaf following the frontispiece contains a full-page illumination of four tools pertaining to the potter's art, in gold, brown and olive; above the tools the name of John Rupp appears in red. The MS. was written at Frankfurt-am-Main (see leaf 3). The drawings are very cleverly drawn, and the text very neatly written in a large old German hand. At the end are three contemporary portraits of Luther as he appeared before the Diet of Worms, in 1521, in his robes as Doctor in Theology, 1544, and as he appeared after death, 1546. There are also portraits of Luther's wife Catherine and of the Duke of Wurtemberg, Luther's patron.

- * * AN INTERESTING MS. containing indubitable authority for the attribution of the authorship of the "IMITATIO CHRISTI" to THOMAS A KEMPIS (or Van Kempen). On folio 326 is the following entry: "Contingit añ paucos Dies sui Obitus ut duo frēs nobilis de mōte frē Agnetis ppē Zwollis Ordīs nostri dictum priorem nōsem sūp certis rebz Osultus in Wideshē advenerit quorum unus fr THOMAS DE KĒPIS vir pbati⁹ Viri qui plures devotos libros Oposuit Videlz 'qui se-guitur me de imitatioe Xpi' cum aliis," etc. There are also MS. notes in the front fly-leaves by learned men, relating to the passage, and a letter of the late Edward Waterton, and a certificate, signed by E. A. Bond and E. Maunde Thompson of the British Museum, guaranteeing the genuineness of the passage above quoted.

- 436 Pitcairne (Archibald) Dissertationes Medicae, contemporary blue morocco Edinburgh, Robert Freebairn, 1713

- * * The present copy is of great interest, being the magnificently bound presentation copy to James Edward Francis Stuart, the "Old Pretender," son of James II and half-brother to Queen Anne. On each side is the bold inscription, "Regi Scotorum Jacobo Octavo, Pitcairnius," an unequivocal statement of the author's political opinions. To the Jacobites he was James III of England and James VIII of Scotland. The binding is an extremely fine example of the very distinctive Scottish school, which flourished at Edinburgh in the early years of the eighteenth century. On the inner board is the book-plate of the Scots College at Paris, engraved by Ingram. In the centre is a figure of St. Andrew, and on the left the arms of Scotland. On the right are two shields surmounted by a cardinal's hat. The first is that of Cardinal James Beaton, Archbishop of Glasgow, who, at his death in 1603, left all his fortune and library to the college, the second that of some other bishop, the arms being apparently those of the family of Murray.

Episcopo Riuensi: Super qualibet dictione symboli apostolici deuote compositū Incipit. Quod sacre theologie facultati Parisii presentatum fidei orthodoxe consonum approbatum est, brown morocco gilt Paris. Jodocus Badius, 1515

- * * Important volume printed on fine vellum. Only two other vellum copies are known. The present book is beautifully printed on fine vellum by the scholar-printer, Josse Bade, usually known from his native place, Assche, as Badius Ascensius. Working first under Jean Trechoel, the printer of Lyons, he remained there until that printer's death in 1498, when, marrying his daughter Hostelye, he removed to Paris. For a time he worked for others, but in 1503 started in business for himself, continuing until his death in 1535. He was a learned man and edited many of the books which he produced. This book is remarkable for the number and beauty of the initial letters, and on the verso of the title is a woodcut of St. Peter holding the keys and a book. Copies even on paper appear to be very rare; it is not mentioned by Brunet or other bibliographers. There are copies on vellum in the Vatican Library and in the Bibliothèque Nationale, but no others appear to be known. The present beautiful copy was formerly in the library of the Convent of S. Maria Major at Rome. The work was apparently composed in or before 1497, in which year a copy was submitted to the professors in the faculty of Theology at Paris. It was written on ten leaves, and certified to contain nothing opposed to sound doctrine. Maittaire, Panzer and Hain, all quote an edition printed at Paris in 1497, but no such edition exists. Each simply quotes from the other, and the original authority appears to be the Nova Bibliotheca of Labbaeus. The mistake probably arose from a careless scrutiny of the last page with the date 1497. The binder of the present copy has fallen into this error and dated it 1497. We learn that the book was approved by the doctors of Paris, and afterwards sent "in forma libelli" (in the form of a book), which doubtless means a printed book, to Pope Leo X, who added an indulgence to those who should recite it. This indulgence was dated 6th August, 1516, so that the book sent to the Pope was the vellum copy of this edition now in the Vatican.

438 Booke (The) of Common Praier noted, original calf

Richard Grafton, 1550

- * * EXCESSIVELY RARE; no copy appears to have occurred for sale since the defective one in the collection of the late Mr. F. S. Ellis in 1901. Its importance in connection with the English Liturgy and Plain Song is well known. The author was organist to St. George's Chapel, Windsor, and the compiler of the first English Concordance to the Bible. The compiler of the book had a curious career. Of his early life we know nothing, but by 1541 he was organist of St. George's Chapel, Windsor. He had early become a convert to the reformed religion, and, when in 1543 a search for heretical books was made, the commissioners found in his possession, not only tracts attacking the Six Articles, but the manuscript of a Concordance to the Bible on which Marbecke had worked for years. On July 26, 1544, he was tried, and sentenced along with three companions, to be burnt. His three friends were executed, but Marbecke on account of his great musical skill received, through Gardiner, a royal pardon. Marbecke sent Foxe an account of his trial, but the latter while inserting it in his Book of Martyrs, also described the burning of the writer! After the accession of Edward VI, Marbecke persevered with his labours, and in 1550 published the Concordance. This book is one of the rarest of the reformed service-books, and though copies are to be found in the great English Libraries, the British Museum, Bodleian, Cambridge and Lambeth, exceedingly few copies remain in private hands. The present copy is a fine and sound one in the original binding of brown calf, the sides ornamented with the stamp J. A., a blind tooled border. It contains the book-plate dated 1736, of the Rev. Francis Blomefield, the author of the History of Norfolk.

- 439 Parsenno (Cardinal) Statuta domini Sylvii Cardinalis Hieronymus Franciscus Carthularius, original calf Perugia, 1526

* * * Printed on VELLUM, possibly unique in this state. The book consists of the statutes and orders promulgated by the Cardinal, as well as some others also relating to the town of Perugia. On the title-page is a large shield containing at base the arms of Sylvio Passerino: a bull couchant; below, those of Leo X, or, five balls in or le, gules; in chief a larger one of the Arms of France, the whole surmounted by a cardinal's hat. On the reverse of the leaf is a square cut with the arms of Perugia, above a set of verses by Hieronymus Cibbus. The printer of the book, Hieronymus Franciscus Carthularii, is found at Perugia, at least between the years 1502 and 1526, and he is specially mentioned by Deschamps among the more important printers of the town at the beginning of the sixteenth century. The volume is in a handsome contemporary brown leather binding, having a centre panel formed by a frame made by the repetitions of an intricate square rope-work strap placed end to end with great exactness, and the appearance of having been made with a good roll, a tool not then invented. Within this is another diamond-shaped panel of similar though smaller work, and on the blank spaces are occasional rosettes. It is lined with vellum leaves from some large legal manuscript, and like most Italian bindings of the period had four ties. On the title-page is the autograph "Philippi baldacchini a die ulti. Jañ. 1526." Philippo Baldacchini was a celebrated Italian poet, born at Cortona, who flourished in the first quarter of the sixteenth century. He was Apostolic protonotary to Leo X. Amongst his published poems the best known is Nox illuminata, ovvero predica d'amore, which was published at Florence in 1519. The prefatory letter to this book is addressed to Sylvio Passerino, so that the two were evidently great friends, and the present volume a presentation copy. There is a copy in the British Museum, but it is on paper.

in examples of the finest work of the more celebrated Continental artists and engravers of the period, e.g. Alix, Allais, Audouin, Charon, Coqueret, Dubucourt, Duplessis-Bertaux, Fiesinger, Hubert, Janinet, Levachez, Lefevre, Mecou, Morret, Ruotte, Tassaert, Verité, etc.; while the English school of engraving is represented by the mezzotints and other styles of Wm. Smith, C. Turner, Hodges, Cooke, R. Sayer, etc. Portraits of nearly all the more famous contemporaries of Napoleon I are contained in the collection, including many superb specimens of printing in colours; two portraits are on satin. The series of views, historical events, allegorical prints, etc. is truly representative of the stirring days of the Revolution in France, 120 of the plates are coloured and comprise not only excellent examples of colour-printing, but also several prints of the "popular style," which have become very rare. The caricatures (84 coloured) are for the most part by French artists, and include several specimens which are now of excessive rarity, viz. those relating to Louis XVI and his Queen, the Royal Family, Napoleon, the Jacobins, Robespierre, etc., but the collection also includes fine specimens of the work of Gillray, Woodward, etc.; the original drawings are six in number, and include a finely executed portrait of St. Just, and a sketch in water-colours of the town of La Haye. No pains have been spared to gather together a magnificent series of autographs, and the collection of upwards of 220 pieces includes the signatures to documents, and in many cases signed Autograph letters of most of the celebrated personages of the Revolution—Empire period, comprising Napoleon I, (1) as General "Bonaparte," (2) as Emperor "N.," Louis XVI, Louis XVIII, Philippe Égalité, Talleyrand, Barras, Danton, St. Just, Fouché, Cambacères, Mirabeau, Carnot, Babeuf, Collot d'Herbois, Billaud-Varennés, etc.; the Bonaparte Family, Joseph and his wife Julie, Lucien, Caroline, etc.; Napoleon's Marshals and Generals, Berthier, Murat (both as Joachim and Murat), Davoust, duc d'Eckmühl, Ney, Soult, Kellermann, Macdonald, Scherer, etc.; Autograph Letters of English notables, Pitt, Wellington, Rodney, Cornwallis, and a very fine specimen of Lord Nelson (Holograph, left-hand, 2 pp. 4to) to Captain Ball, relating to naval matters, dated Palermo, April 3rd, 1799, and marked "Secret."

Other Properties.

448 ARCHBISHOP LAUD'S COMMON PRAYER FOR THE USE OF SCOTLAND

- (a) THE BOOKE OF COMMON PRAYER, and administration of the Sacraments. And other parts of divine Service for the use of the Church of Scotland, Edinburgh, printed by Robert Young, printer to the Kings most excellent Majestie, M.D.C.XXXVII cum privilegio—The Psalter, or Psalmes of David according to the last translation in King James his time. As they shall be said or sung throughout all the Churches of Scotland, ib. anno M.D.C.XXXVI, black letter, both titles within woodcut ornamental borders, numerous woodcut ornamental initials; in 1 vol. original English (Lyonnese) calf, with gilt ornaments on back, chain borders with corner ornaments, and the ARMS OF KING CHARLES I (England, Scotland and Ireland) in centres Edinb. 1637-36

* * A FINE LARGE PAPER COPY OF THE FIRST ISSUE OF THE FIRST EDITION. Sign. hh 3 in the Psalter is the wrongly printed leaf in which a line in the 30th verse and the whole of the 31st is omitted, and ends with the catchword "Yea." The Psalter ends with the word "Certaine." This is probably one of the early special copies issued in April, 1637, for use in the Chapel Royal.

- (b) THE BOOKE OF COMMON PRAYER, ETC. (as above); WITH THE PSALTER, Edinburgh, Robert Young, 1637-6—THE PSALMS OF KING DAVID, TRANSLATED BY KING JAMES (in metre with musical notes), London, printed by Thomas Harper, 1636, black letter, with woodcut titles and initials; in 1 vol. mottled calf extra, inside dentelles, g. e. by Riviere

* * Another copy, on small paper, of the first issue, with the wrongly printed leaf for hh 3 in the Psalter, which ends with the catchword "Certaine" as above. The front fly-leaf contains "A Prayer for ye Kings Majesty" out of the Liber Regalis in a contemporary hand, and on the title is a signature: "Tho. Leigh pret. 0-1^s-6^d."

- (c) THE BOOKE OF COMMON PRAYER, ETC. (as above); WITH THE PSALTER, Edinburgh, R. Young, 1637-[36]—The Psalmes of King David, translated by King James (in metre with musical notes), Lond. Thos. Harper, 1636, black letter, woodcut titles and initials (top corner of title slightly defective); in 1 vol. old calf gilt, with the crest of the Earl of Bridgewater on sides Edinb. 1637-36

* * The first issue (?). Another copy, with the corrected leaf for hh 3, and the omission of the catchword "certaine" at the end of the Psalter, which ends with "FINIS" above the ornament.

- (d) THE BOOKE OF COMMON PRAYER, ETC. (as above); WITH THE PSALTER, Edinburgh, Rob. Young 1637-[36]—The Psalmes of King David, translated by King James (in metre with musical notes), black letter, woodcut titles and initials; in 1 vol. original calf (worn) Edinb. 1637-36

* * THE SECOND ISSUE, with leaf hh 3 corrected and its proper catchword "Dixit." The Psalter ends with the catchword "certaine."

Note.—The first three copies have in the rubric following the Venite (when the people respond to the Gloria Patria, "As it was in the beginning," etc.), the words "Everyone standing up, etc." These words are omitted in the last copy. As will be noticed the two last copies have the corrected leaf for hh 3. The history of this famous historical edition of the Prayer Book is well-known, and it is improbable that four such examples will soon occur again for sale. The different issues of this edition of 1637 are of GREAT AMERICAN interest, because the Scottish (and not the Anglican) Prayer of Consecration was adopted in the American rite.

- 451 Tennyson (Alfred Lord) The Original Set of Doré's Proof Illustrations to Tennyson's Idylls of the King 1868

* * Each of the eight proofs has the Autograph Signatures of Tennyson, Doré, and the engraver. They are on india paper and measure 16½ in. by 12 in., mounted and bound in red morocco. The only set of proofs or illustrations of any kind to his Poems signed by Tennyson that are recorded. The first proof is Doré's portrait of the poet himself surrounded by numerous characters from the Idylls. The remainder illustrate seven passages from the Idylls. These beautiful illustrations were designed by Doré for the 1868 edition.

The Original Assignment (to his son) of the Copyright of Milton's Paradise Lost and Paradise Regained, signed twice by Tonson, 1 p. on vellum, Sept. 1718, with the fine wax seal intact

* * This extremely important literary document, which appears to have escaped the researches of all Milton's biographers, is the original deed by which Tonson assigns his copyrights to his son. "And also all those three parts in four in the copy of a book entituled Milton's Paradise Lost, in twelve books, and also all his share or part in the copy of a book intituled Milton's Paradise Regained, with his other poems."

* * * The Diary of Pope Alexander VI is unpublished. This transcript is therefore valuable, as it is in all probability the only copy outside the Papal Archives. "The Diary of Buccian, who was Master of the Ceremonies to Pope Alexander VI, is invaluable as an historical document, and has never been printed with the exception of a small excerpt from it by the celebrated Leibnitz."—[Note in Evans' catalogue, lot 340 in the sale Dec. 8th, 1830]. Stephan Infessura was the Pope's chancellor, and appears to have been of some importance. He imitated the example of Burchardt in consigning to paper the facts of which he was a witness, and

sm. folio. SÆC. XIII

- * * The MS. is imperfect, beginning in the middle of Sententia XXX. On folio 41a is a colophon: "Expliciunt Sententie Numero Centum." This is preceded by five lines as follow: "Hic huic Sententie Sententiarum nostrarum ultime finē pono, quia de omnibus in libro nostro de perpropriis Philosophiae secundo sufficienter dissertum recolo. Sit omnibus Rievallensibus a deo Pax et Veritas sine fine et Sanctimonia Amen." On folio 41b begins: "Sermo brevis de beato Johē Baptista," and on folio 43a the name of the scribe or author (?) "Solet sic facere sepius Walterus danielis amen," and on 44a, "Spiritus Sancte deus in te semper gaudeat Walterus amen." Walter Daniel, the scribe or author, appears to have been a monk in the Abbey of Rivaux [See Leland's Collectanea, iv, 38]. The MS. was formerly in the possession of Thomas Comber, Dean of Durham (1691), and author of "The Companion to the Temple," who has transcribed in extenso in the margins several portions of the contracted text, and has signed his name on the first page, "T. Comber, 1676." Notes from the British Museum MS. authorities are inserted.

* * PRINTED ON VELLUM. Only four vellum copies are known to exist, three of which are in great German libraries. The present is, therefore, the only one outside Germany. Indeed, Libri considered it to be unique. This book, as the title states, also treats of the common land-order, statutes of the land, law and usage of the Principality in Upper and Lower Bavaria as enacted in the year 1516. The first twelve pages are occupied by indices, and on the thirteenth is the proclamation by the two brothers Wilhelm and Ludwig, Counts Palatine of the Rhine, Dukes of Upper and Lower Bavaria, the reigning princes, followed on the next leaf by another proclamation of Maximilian, King of Rome, Hungary, Dalmatia, etc., Archduke of Austria. The book is divided into four parts, the first contains general regulations for preserving the peace, concerning criminals, etc. The next treats of authorities and procedure, trustees, etc. The third of blasphemy, drunkenness and such crimes, while the last has miscellaneous laws about inns, sale of beers, peasants and property, cattle credit, sale of produce, trades and manufactures, forbidding peddling, mills, servants, labourers, wages, etc. The colophon is interesting. It sets out that these laws were originally ordered to be published at Ingolstadt in 1516, but, as since that date there had been numerous mistakes and misunderstandings, the Dukes had ordered some of the Judges to revise the earlier version. They altered, enlarged and improved the laws, which were thereupon ordered to be printed in the present book at Munich on the Monday after "Judica" Sunday (i. e. Passion Sunday, fifth in Lent), 1520. The title, in six lines of bold red lettering, is printed from a wood-block, and below is an engraving of the two Dukes, H. W., H. L. (Hertzog Wilhelm, Hertzog Ludwig) in armour, standing in an architectural compartment, supporting the arms of Bavaria. The body of the book is printed in gothic type in red and black, and is almost certainly from the press of Johann Schobser, who printed at Augsburg from 1485 to the end of the century, and settled later in Munich, where he was succeeded about 1520 by a son. This copy is bound in a plain half-binding, with wooden boards and a pigskin back, with brass clasps. It was an official copy, and the marks are apparent on the last leaf, where a seal was affixed. It was sold (in 1859) in the choicer portion of the Libri collection (lot 273).

- 481 LACTANTIUS. HISTORIAE, MANUSCRIPT ON VELLUM, XVTH CENTURY (116 ll.) in double columns, 37 lines to a page, 11 in. by 8 in. - 490 ARIOSTO (L.) ORLANDO FURIOSO, in English heroical verse by John Harington, FIRST EDITION, fine full-page engravings and ornamental frames, wanting title, dedication, first leaf of Apologie, leaves D 1, E 1 and Oo 4, first leaf of work and leaf A 5 slightly defective, with autograph signature of Wm. Wordsworth on fly-leaf and a note in his hand on p. 258, old calf, rebounded russia, joints cracked sm. folio. R. Field, 1591
- * * * THIS VOLUME HAS A MOST INTERESTING PROVENANCE; formerly in the possession of Wordsworth, it is believed to have been presented by him to Samuel Taylor Coleridge, who in turn gave the book to Charles Lamb. One leaf (pp. 347-8) is said to have been torn by young Hartley Coleridge, during a visit with his mother to Lamb, and to have been repaired there and then by Mrs. Coleridge. Inside the lower cover appears part of the name (all save the final two letters) of Hartley Coleridge, written in separate capitals, on the lighter portions of the marbled lining paper.
- 491 Scots Acts of Parliament, original Scottish binding, very richly tooled Edinb. Thomas Finlason, 1621

* * * This beautiful volume was in the library of David Laing, Librarian of the Signet Library, Edinburgh, who died in 1878, and whose splendid library was sold in these rooms in 1879-80. In the frontispiece to Laing's Life (printed in 1878) he is shown holding this volume in his hand. The present copy is remarkable for its extremely ornamental and elaborate binding, a very curious and uncommon specimen of Scottish work of the period. The whole side is minutely worked with small tools, hardly any use having been made of the roll. The elaborate centre ornament is arranged in the form of a circle, usual in Scottish work, in place of a diamond or lozenge more common in England, while each corner of the panel is filled with a quarter-circle. The whole field is semé with gold rosettes and quatrefoils, while the whole ground is heightened with gilt dotting. The diamond-shaped spaces throughout the ornament appear to have been coloured. It seems most probable that this binding was specially prepared for presentation to King James himself, in the printer's office, for the paper used for the lining and end-papers is the same as that on which the book is printed. A copy of the "Life of Laing" containing the portrait, in which he is seen holding this volume, accompanies it.

- 492 Gravelot. Planches gravées d'après plusieurs positions dans lesquelles doivent se trouver les Soldats, conformément à l'Ordonnance du Roi de l'Exercice de l'Infanterie, du 1er Janvier, 1766, charming engraved title and 10 folding plates containing 31 military subjects, engraved by Delahaye, after the designs of Gravelot, and a cul-de-lampe with the arms of France, half morocco, uncut s. l. 1766

- 493 Hogarth (William) A Collection of his Engraved Works, including The Harlot's Progress, The Rake's Progress, Marriage à la Mode, Industry and Idleness, etc. 50 plates in 1 vol. 1735-63

* * * Formerly in the possession of John London M'Adam of Ayrshire, who purchased it from the widow of Hogarth, and he has written a note inside the front cover to that effect.

- 494 Thackeray. An Original Portrait, an oil painting, measuring 24 in. by 20 in. appropriately framed and glazed

* * * This recently discovered portrait, which is in perfect condition, was painted by L. Poyet (signed), an artist of note and a friend of Thackeray's during his residence in Paris about 1840. It is beautifully painted and highly finished, and is a most pleasing portrait, showing Thackeray in his early manhood, with a healthy colour in his face, the dark hair just beginning to be streaked with grey. The spectacles are identical with those in the Lawrence portrait; the broken nose is apparent, but without being at all obtrusive. The size of the canvas is 24 in. by 20 in. and is life-size of the head and shoulders. This is an important "find" amongst Thackeray relics, and, apart from the Thackeray interest, is a most excellent portrait of the great novelist. It fills up an important gap in the none too rich gallery of Thackeray portraits. It has been engraved (but very much reduced) in Dent's edition of Thackeray's collected works. It was exhibited at the Charterhouse Thackeray Exhibition.
