CONDITIONS OF SALE.

- I. The highest bidder to be the buyer; and if any dispute arise between bidders, the lot so disputed shall be immediately put up again, provided the auctioneer cannot decide the said dispute.
- II. No person to advance less than 1s.; above five pounds 2s. 6d., and so on in proportion.
- III. In the case of lots upon which there is a reserve, the auctioneer shall have the right to bid on behalf of the seller.
- IV. The purchasers to give in their names and places of abode, and to pay down 10s. in the pound, if required, in part payment of the purchase-money; in default of which the lot or lots purchased will be immediately put up again and re-sold.
- V. The sale of any lot is not to be set aside on account of any error in the enumeration of the numbers stated, or errors of description.
- VI. The lots to be taken away, at the buyer's expense, immediately after the conclusion of the sale; in default of which Messrs. SOTHEBY, WILKINSON & HODGE will not hold themselves responsible if lost, stolen, damaged, or otherwise destroyed, but they will be left at the sole risk of the purchaser. If, at the expiration of Two Days after the conclusion of the sale, the lots are not cleared or paid for, they will then be catalogued for immediate sale, and the expense, the same as if re-sold, will be added to the amount at which they were bought. Messrs. SOTHEBY, WILKINSON & HODGE will have the option of re-selling the lots uncleared, either by public or private sale, without any notice being given to the defaulter.
- VII. Upon failure of complying with the above conditions, the money required and deposited in part of payment shall be forfeited, and if any loss is sustained in the re-selling of such lots as are not cleared or paid for, all charges on such re-sale shall be made good by the defaulters at this sale.

Gentlemen, who cannot attend this Sale, may have their Commissions faithfully executed by their humble Servants,

- 88 DICKENS (C.) A. L. s. 1½ pp. 4to, 1, Devonshire Terrace, 10th March, 1840, to Dr. A. Diezmann, of Leipzig, in reply to a proposal for a German translation of his works :
 . . . It is with great regret that I have to inform you in reply to the request contained in your pleasant communication, that my publishers have already made such arrangements and are in possession of such stipulations relative to the proof sheets of my new works, that I have no power to send them out of England. If I had, I need not tell you what pleasure it would afford me to promote your views, etc.
- 89 DICKENS (C.) A. L. s. (in full), 3 pp. 8vo, 48, Doughty St., Saturday (no year), to J. P. Harley :
 I have considered the terms on which I could afford just now, to sell Mr. Braham the acting copyright in London of an entirely new piece for the Saint James’s Theatre ; and I could not sit down to write one in a single act of about an hour long under a hundred pounds. For a new piece in two acts, a hundred and fifty pounds would be the sum I should require, etc.

- 90 DICKENS (C.) A. L. s. $1\frac{1}{2}$ pp. 8vo, Broadstairs, August 29th, 1841, to W. Shoberl:
 . . . My experience of Magazine editing, however, has been by no means a pleasant one, and I have resolved not to connect myself, even in name, with such duties any more, etc.
- 91 DICKENS (C.) A. L. s. $1\frac{1}{2}$ pp. 8vo, Windsor, 17th November, 1841, to G. Shury, with addressed envelope, in reference to Barnaby Rudge and the Gordon Riots:
 . . . It has been necessary—quite indispensable to the progress of the story—to reject many circumstances growing out of them, though in themselves sufficiently amusing and characteristic. Your anecdotes are of this kind; but I am not the less obliged to you for doing me the favour to communicate them, or less entertained by the story of the chimney-sweeper, which is very quaint and whimsical, etc.
- 92 DICKENS (C.) A. L. s. (initials), 3 pp. 8vo, Broadstairs, 7th August, 1842, to his brother Frederick:
 . . . I enclose a note for Mr. Hallam, to whom one of those pamphlets I spoke to you about sending was addressed. . . . Has Maclise's framer sent for the picture and prints in the little room? etc.
- 93 DICKENS (C.) A. L. s. in full, 1 p. 8vo, Devonshire Terrace, 9th January, 1844, to Dr. G. Chremburgh:
 . . . I believe my publishers facilitate the German translations of my writings, by sending early sheets to certain German Booksellers, etc.
- 94 DICKENS (C.) A. L. s. 1 p. 8vo, 27th January, 1850, to David Roberts; A. L. s. 1 p. 8vo, 17th November, 1851, to Mr. Eeles (2)
- 95 DICKENS (C.) A. L. s. 2 pp. 8vo, 21st October, 1851; A. L. s. (initials), 1 p. 8vo, 22nd October, 1851, addressed to Mr. Eeles. Interesting letters, both in reference to the titles for the imitation backs of books he contrived for his library (2)
- 96 DICKENS (C.) A. L. s. 3 pp. 8vo, Household Words Office, 29th October, to T. Crofton Croker, with one of Dickens's Bookplates: (2)
 . . . In compliance with a rule I always observe, I do not consider myself at liberty to communicate the name of the writer of those excellent lines without first asking his consent. I have written to him with that view and entertain no doubt that he will immediately and with much gratification, empower me to give you his authority, etc.
- 97 DICKENS (C.) A. L. s. 2 pp. 8vo, Tavistock House, 6th March, 1852, to T. Crofton Croker, with addressed envelope, respecting a naval dinner: "I hope you will find occasion to put on your cocked hat, that they may see how terrific and imposing 'a fore and after' can be made on shore"; A. L. s. 1 p. 8vo, 18th April, 1852, to the same, in reference to a meeting of the "Noviomagians," with envelope (2)
- 98 DICKENS (C.) A. L. s. (in full), 1 p. 8vo, Christmas Day, 1852, to the Rev. T. Buckley, thanking him for a book

- 99 DICKENS (C.) A. L. s. 4 pp. 8vo, Chateau de Molineaux, Boulogne, 24th June, 1853, to Peter Cunningham. A very amusing and characteristic letter. After touching on various topics he invites Cunningham to join him at Boulogne, where there are :
 . . . Excellent light wines on the premises, French cookery, millions of roses, two cows (for milk punch), vegetables cut for the pot and handed in at the kitchen window, five summer houses, fifteen fountains (with no water in 'em) and thirty seven clocks (keeping as I conceive Australian time; having no reference whatever to the hours on this side of the globe), etc.
- 100 DICKENS (C.) A. L. s. 2½ pp. 8vo, Dover, 2nd May, 1856, to J. T. Gordon, on the latter's illness, etc.:
 . . . Little Dorrit has beaten all her predecessors in circulation, etc.
- 101 DICKENS (C.) A. L. s. 1½ pp. 8vo, 30th July, 1857, to T. P. Cooke, in reference to the Douglas Jerrold Memorial Performance, with envelope:
 I cannot rest satisfied this morning, without writing to congratulate you on your admirable performance of last night. It was so fresh and vigorous, so manly and gallant, that I felt as if it splashed against my Theatre-heated face along with the spray of the breezy sea, etc.
 A. L. s. 1 p. 8vo, 15th June, 1857, to the same, saying he has "just attended Jerrold's funeral"; and a Telegram from Dickens to Cooke, asking him to play William on July 29th at the Adelphi for its late author (at the performance alluded to above) (3)

- 270 ROSSETTI (D. G.) A. L. s. 1 p. 8vo, Blackfriars Bridge, Friday (no year), to Mrs. Sartoris

- 271 BROWNING (R.) A. L. s. 1 p. 8vo, 19, Warwick Crescent, Nov. 18, 1866, to Lewes

- 272 LOWELL (J. R.) American Poet, A. L. s. 4 pp. 8vo, Cambridge, Massachusetts, 7th July, 1871, to the same; a most charming letter. Tells of his appreciation of Lewes's sympathy:

... Sympathy of the right kind is as pleasant as the notoriety of authorship is disgusting. It is something we can keep to ourselves like a flower pressed at some favourite passage of a poem.

He then speaks of Goethe, whose life by Lewes he has just read, and describes his first acquaintance with "Adam Bede," which he had vowed never to read:

... Once on a fishing tramp, a friend had brought "Adam Bede" in his bag & I—well, I was converted from that day forward. When a man is willing to carry a book on his back in such Julys as ours are I thought. But for that, I should have held out & lost a really new sensation.

qu'il a eu plus grand tort d'écrire aux differens colonels, et que tout ce qu'il a fait là montre peu de tête. Voilà bien de tapage pour un courrier qui aurait été arrêté entre Reggio et Modene. . . . Quant au Courrier arrêté à Rome, ce fait est faux. Faites bien connaître à M. Nardon qu'il ne doit se mêler d'aucune manière du mouvement des troupes. . . . Cette excessive legereté et cette jeunesse de tête de ce Prefet me fait sentir la nécessité d'envoyer quelqu'un de grave pour Commander à Parme, etc.

- 286 BEARDSLEY (Aubrey) A. L. s. 3½ pp. sm. 8vo, Bournemouth, n. d., with envelope dated Oct. 19, 1896, to L. Smithers, thanking him for the Dryden; mentions Ingoldsby, Pierrot's Death, "The Woman in White"; speaking of "my candle sketch . . . to be used thus" (with a diagram in the margin), rare:

The frontispiece to Juvenal is not (after the necessary alteration) at all indecent, but it will always be unpleasant, so do as you think fit about it. Messalina is going in the 8th Savoy, etc.

- 287 DUMAS (Alexandre, Père) Auto. MS. 7½ pp. large 4to, closely written: "Le Comte Edmond de Boerwerk"

- 288 CRUIKSHANK (George) A. L. s. 1 p. 8vo, Octr. 29/26, to T. J. Pettigrew, respecting some plates and sending proofs; with a small sketch in the margin

- 289 LONGFELLOW (H. W.) A. L. s. 3½ pp. 8vo, Cambridge, Sept. 30, 1848:

. . . . The day after you were here the Anglo-Saxon Dictionary you were to have brought me from Dr. Bosworth, arrived with friendly salutations. . . . Let me have the pleasure of taking you once more by the hand before you depart, if it be possible.

- 290 PRIESTLEY (Dr. Joseph) A. L. s. 3 pp. folio, Colne, 10 Feby. to James Keir, Esq., a letter of extreme interest, giving an account of his early researches on the properties of oxygen, which he then termed dephlogisticated air:

. . . . I think I have fully proved, by the firing of inflammable in common air, that this and nitrous air contain, in equal bulks, equal quantities of phlogiston. I must also mention another thing because I only discovered it yesterday, and it is really curious. I find that the black matter into which I had imagined that vitriolin and air was changed by the electric spark is mercury supephlogisticated (black oxide of mercury) which proves that a mercurial vapour is diffused thro' the whole mass of air even when cold.

- 291 DARWIN (C.) A. L. s. 3 pp. 8vo, 12, Upr. Gower St. 30th Nov. (1840), thanking his correspondent for some papers on Red Sandstone Formations

- 292 MENDELSSOHN-BARTHOLDY (Felix) Composer, A. L. s. 1 p. 8vo, in English, 103, Gt. Portland St., 2nd May, mentions a concert at which he is going to conduct one of his own overtures

- 293 PAËR (F.) Composer, A. L. s. in French, 1 p. 4to, 26 Nov. 1836, to Mdlle. E. Chancourtois, returning her air of "Nina" with certain notes marked

- 303 NELSON (Lord) Signature to Appointment of Lieut. Hon. G. Granville Waldegrave of the "Victory" to the "Hydra," 11th April, 1805
- 304 EMERSON (R. W.) A. L. s. 2 pp. 8vo, Manchester, 3 December, 1853, to Miss Attenburrow
- 305 BLACKMORE (R. D.) A. L. s. 2 pp. 8vo, 1875, to Mrs. F. Kröcker, about "Alice Lorraine" and translating it into German
- 306 GARRICK (David) A. L. s. "D. G." 3 very full pp. 8vo, with an original Auto Poem of 12 lines on the fourth page; a charming letter written in a bantering tone to "My dear Col^l.":
 I have not been able to make one visit, nor even to take a giddy turn at Ranelagh tho' often invited—I have only dined out three times, & if you had not been too quiet an Economist these hard times & kept y^r legs of Mutton to yrself, you might have given me a great Chair and a pint of Port, & I should have forgot my multitudinous cares for three hours at least. . . . Blush, Col^lnel blush—let our wives be foolish, but let us behave like men, etc.
 The verses "for Dr. Hill" are of a bibulous and punning nature
- 307 LONGFELLOW (H. W.) A. L. s. 4 pp. 8vo, 1851, to Miss Hays, thanking her for some Spanish moss, and for "Fadette," "the fascinating book"
- 308 BIZET (Georges) Composer of "Carmen," etc., A. L. s. 1 p. 8vo, n. d., accepting an invitation from the Committee at the Concours at Courtrai, scarce
- 309 BERLIOZ (H.) Fine A. L. s. 2½ pp. 8vo, with envelope, to Pohl, 10 Octobre, 1863, about translating "Les Troyens à Carthage" and "La Prise de Troie"; also mentions "Beatrice"
- 310 HERBERT OF CHERBURY (Edward Lord) Royalist and Author of "De Veritate," Receipt s., 1645, rare
- 311 WILDE (Oscar) Relics of his schooldays at Portora: Two Sets of Auto. Latin Verses, in all seven lines, both signed; a Translation from Thucydides, 19 lines, signed three times and dated 1870; and a Letter to the Rev. B. Moffatt, June 2, 1871, signed by Wilde, among others, protesting against the severity of a punishment (4)
 * * * These interesting relics are the property of the Rev. B. Moffatt, who was Classical Master at Portora School from 1867 to 1871.
- 312 LAMB (Charles) A. L. s. (initials), to Judge Cresswell, with Auto. Verses, 11 lines, being an acrostic on Sarah Thomas, laid down and badly damaged
 * * * Another quite different acrostic on the same lady's name is published by Mr. Lucas.

- 313 BROWNING (Mrs. E. B.) Elegy on the death of Sir Uvedale Price, Bart., Auto. MS. s. with initials, 3 pp. 4to, 71 lines, beginning:

Farewell! a word that human lips bestow
On all that human hearts delight to know;
On summer skies,—and scenes that change as fast;
On ocean calms,—and faith as fit to last—
On Life, from Love's own arms, that breaks away—
On Hopes that blind—on glories that decay, etc.

* * This poem is believed to have been locked in the deed box of the late Rev. Dr. Etheridge ever since it was written.

- 314 BROWNING (Mrs.) A. L. s. 4 very full pp. 8vo, signed "Elizabeth B. Barrett," to Miss Mitford, written from Merry Oak, near Southampton: "I am told that I cant go back to London this winter without performing a suicide." Mentions Landor and Lady Blessington. "Is the Legend of the Brown Rosary a good name? or w^d you like Lenora, the Ballad of Lenora better? . . . Do you like Mr. Horne's poetry? . . . Is not Mr. Taylor too like and too unlike Tennyson?" etc. Apparently the commencement of the letter is missing, though this part is virtually complete in itself

- 315 WAGNER (Richard) Magnificent and entirely unpublished A. L. s. in French, Paris, 29 Dec. '59, 3 $\frac{3}{4}$ pp. 8vo, very closely written, consisting of about 110 lines: "Tout se fait dans ma vie d'une manière extraordinaire, je suis dans mon droit de me n'attendre que des relations extraordinaires." He asks for the loan of 4000 fcs. for a few days. He had relied on getting good receipts from the sale of his new work, "Tristan et Isolde," to the theatres, of which the Grand Orchestral score had just been engraved and printed, but he was unable to assist at the first representation at Carlsruhe, and could not permit it to take place without him. Meanwhile, he is preparing for his concerts in Paris and a representation of Tristan, with German singers at the Salle Ventadour, but finds his capital is very much tied up. He has offered to Schott of Mayence his new work "Rheingold, first drama of the Nibelung Cycle, but they are still haggling about the price," etc.

- 316 BYRON (Lord) A. L. s. 2 $\frac{1}{2}$ pp. 4to, Missolonghi, March 8th, 1824, to Sir F. Storer at Zante. AN EXTREMELY INTERESTING LETTER, written a little over a month before his death, on behalf of some prisoners during the Greek Revolution; not printed in Mr. Prothero's edition:

. . . . Some Greeks have applied to me to endeavour to interest your feelings in behalf of their relatives who were taken in an Ionian boat and carried to Patras. . . . It would be an act of humanity if the release of these poor people could be obtained, or at least their lives spared, and I think that the request might be made with some hope of success, as I lately sent back to Prevesa and Patras eight and twenty Turkish prisoners whom the Greeks gave up at my instance . . . it would also be very much for the benefit of both sides if they could be induced to conduct themselves with some regard to the laws of War—or any laws whatever; etc.

- 317 WORDSWORTH (W.) A. L. s. 1 p. 8vo, Rydal Mount, 30 April (no year), on his intended visit to Collerton and London
- 318 IRVING (Washington) A. L. s. 1½ pp. 8vo, May 30th (no year), to Mrs. Sitwell, respecting a visit to the Opera
- 319 LAMB (C.) A. Note s. (with initials) 1 p. 12mo:
Barry Cornwall will be with me on Saturday at 6 to Tea. Will you come and meet him?
- 320 TENNYSON (Alfred, Lord) A. Note s. 1 p. 12mo, to Miss Stovin; others of James Hogg, to Allan Cunningham, interesting, Lord Macaulay, W. Kennedy (Auto. Verses), etc. (6)
- 321 DICKENS (C.) A. L. s. 2 pp. 8vo, 1 Chester Place, 15th April, 1847, to Major Jebb, respecting an intended visit of Dickens to Pentonville Prison
- 322 SWINBURNE (A. C.) 1837-1909, A. L. s. 4 pp. 8vo, closely-written, dated Jan. 11, 1867, to Capt. Burton, i.e. Sir Richard F. Burton, translator of the Arabian Nights
- * * A most interesting and remarkable letter, dealing with the outcry raised on the publication of Poems and Ballads, and denouncing the conduct of Moxon, his publisher: "I am still the centre of such a moral chaos that our excellent Houghton maintains a discreet and consistent neutrality," etc. The writer proceeds to give an account, with evident enjoyment, of the letters he had received from his indignant compatriots, adding: "I have in hand a scheme of mixed verse and prose—a sort of étude à la Balzac plus the poetry—which I flatter myself will be more offensive and objectionable to Britannia than anything I have yet done. You see I have now a character to keep up, and by the grace of Cotytto I will endeavour not to come short of it—at least in my writings. Tell me, if you have time, what you think of Dolores and Anaetoria in full print," etc.
- 323 GORDON (General C. G.) the Hero of Khartoum, Four very interesting A. L. s. to the same, 16 pp. 8vo, written between December, 1877, and April, 1878, one from Khartoum, the others from Egypt or Abyssinia, with two envelopes and a letter in Arabic (7)
- * * One long letter from Harar gives an account of the fighting and disturbances which took place before Menelek became Emperor of Abyssinia; elsewhere Gordon epitomizes his religious belief, gives directions for travelling in the Sudan, etc.

The Property of H. H. Gilchrist, Esq.

By whom the Letters are being used for a Memoir of his Father, which is shortly to appear.

- 324 CARLYLE (Thomas) Four A. L. s. 15 pp. 4to and 8vo, to Alexander Gilchrist, the biographer of Blake, March-July, 1856, with three addressed Envelopes, and a Bill for books supplied to Gilchrist, with four lines and signature (initials) by Carlyle, for whom the books were apparently bought (8)

* * * Very interesting letters and in excellent preservation. Gilchrist was of assistance to Carlyle in his historical work, and the letters show that his services were accepted as readily as they were offered. They refer to pamphlets and books which Gilchrist obtained for Carlyle when he was writing Frederick the Great; to an edition of Carlyle's works projected at this time by Messrs. Chapman & Hall, of which Gilchrist offered to read the proofs and supply the index; and other literary matters. Gilchrist also suggested dating every page of the "French Revolution," on which the author observes: "Do it by all means if you like—only I fear you will find it a trouble beyond what you are aware!"

- 325 ROSSETTI (D. G.) Ten A. L. s. (one with envelope) 72 pp. 8vo, to the same, March-July, 1861 (10)

* * * A remarkably fine series of letters, in excellent state, on matters of literary, artistic and biographical interest. There are references to T. G. Wainwright, the murderer, of whose writings Rossetti speaks with enthusiasm, to Browning ("I am sure he and you ought to know and would like each other"), to Ruskin, Swinburne, and William Morris, all in more or less intimate and affectionate terms. Gilchrist's "Blake" is frequently mentioned, and throughout the letters Rossetti speaks of the ill-health of his wife, who died early in the following year. But the chief interest of the letters consists in the allusions to the writer's own work. He was at this time busy with his translations from "The Early Italian Poets," first published in this year, and has much to say of negotiations with publishers; but he found time to paint as well, for he invites Gilchrist to see his "daubs," and speaks of a "large head which I have made into Fair Rosamond." In one very long and important letter of 28 pp. he starts to write a notice of Benjamin Woodward, the architect of the New University Museum and of the Union Society's Debating Hall at Oxford, and diverges into a detailed and vivid description of the painting of the frescoes with which the latter building was decorated by himself and his friends. This letter was used by its recipient for a biographical note on Woodward, and he has annotated it in pencil.

The Property of a Gentleman.

- 326 CHARLES I (King of England) A long and very important A. L. s. 5 pp. folio, from Sir Francis Windebank, his Secretary of State, Westminster, October 7, 1635, to Charles I, with His Majesty's answers to the various points written in the margin in his own hand, s. with initials C. R. and sent back the next day from Hampton Court where the king then resided; with a printed transcript of the letter from "The Evening Advertiser" of Jan. 30, 1755 (2)
- * * Of extreme interest. Windebank, after giving the king full details of recent occurrences abroad, seeks instructions as to the titles by which the French Princesses shall be addressed, and then enters upon a vigorous protest against the growing power of Father Phillips, and the dangers it may lead to. In concluding, he requests the King "to burne these imediatly," but Charles sends it back with the remark "This is better than burning."
- 327 WILLIAM III (King of England) Royal Sign Manual on a Warrant, 28th December, 1692, countersigned by Godolphin, Sir Stephen Fox and others.—ANNE (Queen) Royal Sign Manual on a Warrant (torn and mended) 28 February, 1704, countersigned by Godolphin (2)

- 331 MARIE DE MEDICI (Queen of France) wife of Henry IV, A. L. s. 1 full p. 4to (undated) to her son the Duc d'Anjou, with seals and silk, FINE LETTER, speaking of her improved health, and referring to Cardinal Richelieu
- 332 BYRON (Lord) Envelope addressed and franked "Byron" to R. C. Dallas; A. L. s. 1½ pp. 8vo, of Countess Guiccioli; others of S. Rogers, G. P. R. James, conclusion of A. L. s. of Sir Walter Scott; etc. (8)
- 333 AINSWORTH (W. Harrison) A. L. s. 1 p. 8vo, May 3rd, 1843; Auto. Verses s. "The Dirge of Bourbon," June 14th, 1845 (2)

- 334 WORDSWORTH (W.) Auto. Lines s. Rydal Mount, 24 August, '40 (2)

If thou indeed derive thy light from heaven,
Then, to the measure of that heaven-born light,
Shine, Poet! in thy place, and be content.

Auto. Lines s. Aug. 16, 1844 :—

At last divine Cecilia came,
Inventress of the vocal Frame.

- 335 JOHNSON (Dr. S.) A. L. s. 1 p. 4to, April 8, 1775, to Dr. Bentham

... Having so much of your approbation, I hope to be admitted to your friendship, and shall applaud myself, if the opinion of my merit which my writings have impressed upon such a judge, is not impaired by more familiar knowledge.

- 336 DICKENS (C.) A. L. s. 2 pp. 8vo, 22nd January, 1844, to Mrs. Procter, a very amusing letter

Your kind note coming in, met, or might have met, a man in spectacles going out. And to the man in spectacles the unhappy writer hereof had said "Dine with me on Sunday next at 6," to which the man in spectacles made answer. "Yes! I will." Moreover, the man in spectacles said he would bring his sister. For which may my curse—a father's curse—! At this crisis, the five children are borne in. They twine themselves about my legs, the nurse seizes my outstretched arm; I relax—look upon my offspring—become penitent—burst into tears. At the same moment the man with the spectacles, happening to come back for his gloves (which he left behind him) looks in at the cottage window. He raises his arms and eyes, as invoking a blessing upon the family. I am heard to sob "My love to Procter," and the curtain comes down very slowly.

- 337 SEWARD (Anna) Auto. Verses s. "Impromptu," 1 p. 4to, June 29th, 1806; others of Mrs. Piozzi, A. L. s. 1 p. 8vo; Catherine Sinclair, Lady Morgan, Agnes Strickland, etc. (8)

- 338 BURNS (R.) Fragment containing 10 lines in his autograph, including a complete stanza :—

Maria, send me too thy griefs and cares,
In all of thee sure thy Esopus shares,
As thou at all mankind the flag unfurls,
Who on thy fair one satire's vengeance hurls?
Who calls thee pert, affected, vain coquette,
A wit in folly and a fool in wit?

- 339 RICHARDSON (T.) A. L. s. 5 pp. folio, a long and interesting Letter with quotations from Milton and Fenelon

- 340 MARRYAT (Capt. F.) A. L. s. 1 p. 8vo; others of Harriet Martineau, Agnes Strickland, Sir E. Bulwer Lytton (2), etc. (7)

- 341 ROUSSEAU (J. J.) A. L. s. 1 p. 4to, Montmorenci, 31 Juli, 1762, in reference to the production of one of his books :—

... Inquiet de la manière dont M. Neaulme exécute mon livre je lui en demande des feuilles par la poste; il me dit qu'il faut au préalable en obtenir de vous la permission: je vous la demande donc.

- 342 ARAGO (F.) French Astronomer, A. L. s. 2 pp. 4to; others of Lamartine, Georges Sand, A. Dumas, E. Scribe, etc. (6)

- 344 NEWTON (Sir Isaac) Signature to a Receipt, 24 December, 1718; s. also by Hopton Haynes and J. Aislabie, who was expelled the House for implication in the South Sea Bubble
- 345 JUXON (William) Bishop of London, L. s. folio, 6 March, 1639, to Sir R. Pye, John Hampden's son-in-law
- 346 BRADSHAW (John) Signature to an Order to the Sheriff of Wilts to distribute proclamations for the seizure of Charles II in the various towns of the county, 26 August, 1651
- 347 SUNDERLAND (Robert Spencer, Earl of) Lord Chamberlain, A. L. s. 1 p. 4to, Newmarket, March 10, to the Earl of Rochester, relative to Judge Jeffreys' appointment, and also alluding to tea
- 348 FOX (C. J.) L. s. 1 p. folio; others with signatures of Sarah Duchess of Marlborough, Sir H. Fox, Sir R. Howard, etc. (6)
- 349 DISRAELI (B.) Earl of Beaconsfield, A. L. s. (initial) 10 pp. 8vo, to Mrs. Dawson, giving advice to a young man on oratory.—BROUGHAM (Lord) A. L. s. 8 pp. on Disraeli's "Coningsby," with criticism and conjectures as to the identity of characters, both interesting (2)
- 350 POLITICAL, including Letters of C. J. Fox (initials), W. E. Gladstone, Lord Palmerston, Sidney Herbert, Lord J. Russell, Lord Melbourne, etc. (10)
- 351 KNELLER (Sir G.) Painter, Signature to a Receipt, 16 Dec. 1715, scarce; others of Sir E. Landseer, S. Prout, W. H. Hunt, with pretty sketch of pinks, etc. (7)
- 352 GARRICK (David) A. L. s. 4 pp. folio, Hampton, May 20, to Wilson, a long and important letter referring to his appearance as "Anthony," and about a quarrel with Young:—
 ... If a snuffer of candles had been accus'd, his offence must be prov'd & ye culprit must be heard before he is sent to the House of Correction, but I am brought in guilty of several inditements, and the moment I clear myself of one, another is prefer'd against me, so that by this shifting of my offence, I am continually fighting of shadows & am left like poor Shirly in ye Rehearsal.
 Hey ho! hey day!
 I know not what to do, or what to say!

The Property of a Gentleman.

- 357 BEAUFORT (Henry, Cardinal) d. 1447. Doc. on vellum s. by him and by Richard Beauchamp, Earl of Warwick, d. 1440, and John, Lord Tiptoft, d. 1443, an Order for payment of 100 "Salluz d'or" to the "Celestins de Mante" for supplying wine to the King of England, Donné à Rouen soubz nos sceaux le 19^e jour de Novembre lan mil CCCC et trente

* * The date of this warrant shows it to have been signed at Rouen, when Joan of Arc was a prisoner there, and by those very lords, who a few weeks after, sat in judgment on the heroine.

- 358 LAMB (C.) A. L. s. 1 p. 4to, Enfield, Wedny (no year) to Miss Fryer :

We had expected with pleasure the seeing of you here to have renewed some of our old walks, but as your transit is so quick, we have only to beg you to convey our loves to Emma and our leave (if that ceremony be necessary) for her accompanying you to hospitable Chatteris—it being always understood that we are to see her again some time or other. We lend her to you, and depend upon your reasonableness for the time of her restitution. With my Sister's kind rememb^{ces}.

- 359 SCOTT (Sir W.) A. L. s. 3½ pp. 4to, Edinburgh, 26 June, 1812, to Miss Edgeworth, fine letter, acknowledging the receipt of her volumes of "Tales" which he praises highly, and especially the story of the "Absentee," contrasting the position of the smaller gentry of Ireland with those of Scotland, he says :

. . . . But the pressure of the times in Scotland bear at present on a very useful and interesting class of people, the Lairds of small estates, a race which only subsists by sending their black cattle to England and their children to India. I have often thought what a tale you would make of a mother buckling the portmanteau of a fourth, fifth or sixth son to follow his brethren on this distant and dangerous course of adventure, etc.

- 361 COLDEN (Cadwallader) b. 1688, d. 1776, American Botanist and Loyalist, author of "History of the Five Indian Nations of Canada," an important series of four A. L. s. covering 8 pp. folio and 4to, written from New York between 1753 and 1766 to Peter Collinson, the botanist, of extreme interest, one letter giving a long and detailed account of the engagement between the American and Canadian forces at Lake Sacramento in 1755, another written in 1765 speaks of the early troubles which led up to the War of Independence, the mob having attacked the fort and offered him various indignities. One letter is continued by his son David, and speaks of his father's sufferings as a loyalist (4)

- 362 WHITE (Rev. Gilbert) Author of "Natural History of Selborne," Notes in his Autograph, 1½ pp. 4to, giving the dates on which a sermon "On a devout behaviour at Church" was preached

- 363 COLERAINE (Henry Hare, Lord) Antiquary, b. 1693, d. 1749, Autograph MS. 62 pp. sm. 4to, giving a History of the Hare Family; on p. 26 is an interesting entry of a Coleraine, sitting in her chair dying before the open window:

Two harmless Robbins entered in and placed themselves, one on one shoulder and the other on the other, in which manner she died.

- 367 ELIZABETH'S PRIVY COUNCIL, Letter s. by Robert Dudley Earl of Leicester, Lord Burghley, Sir C. Hatton, Earl of Sussex, Sir F. Walsingham, and others, 1 p. folio, 25 March, 1579, granting leave to certain Scottish gentlemen to proceed to Scotland for the "dispathe of certaine their private affaires," a fine group of signatures
- 368 BYRON (Lord) A. L. s. "N. B." 1 full p. 4to, Pisa, July 21st, 1822, to Captain Roberts, R.N. AN EXTREMELY INTERESTING LETTER ON SHELLEY'S DEATH:

I have just received your letter. The account seems to tally with all that we have heard before. Trelawney is expected in Pisa this evening with the ladies who are not aware of the extent of their calamity, and still cling to some slight hopes. Shelley's body has been completely identified by a book in his pocket, which was found by the Health officers upon him in his jacket. That of Williams is supposed to be the one found near the Lerchio (where he went in search on Thursday). You have done well to heave down "the Bolivar," etc. Shelley's yacht the "Ariel" was capsized or run down on July 8th, the bodies of Shelley and Williams were not recovered until July 18th, so this is probably the earliest letter written by Byron after the sad evidence of identification, it is not printed in Mr. Prothero's edition

368* GARRICK (D.) A. L. 3rd person, 1½ pp. 4to, Adelphi, April 23, to Mr. Bowes :

. . . . Mr. G. takes the liberty of informing Mr. Bowes that he is made the Father, Founder, President, &c. of the Theatrical Fund & has engag'd many gentlemen to attend the benefit next Monday, if Mr. Bowes will honour him with his name & take a Ticket, etc.

* * We quote the letter which explains the circumstances under which it and the manuscript were sent by Burns to his friend :
Dear Sir,

This morning's loss I have severely felt.—Inclosed is a small but heart-felt tribute to the memory of the man I loved.—I shall send it to some Newspaper with my name.—

Mr. Clarke will accept of this MS. copy, as a testimony how sincerely I am,

Robt Burns.

The Sonnet begins :

No more, ye warblers of the wood, no more ;

Nor pour your descant grating on my soul :

Thou young-eyed Spring, gay in the verdant stole,

More welcome were to me grim Winter's wildest roar.

These fine manuscripts have been in the possession of Mr. Clark's family ever since they were written, and are now sold by his great grandson, who recently found them among some old letters.

370 BURNS (R.) Autograph Verses "To Miss Ferrier, enclosing the Elegy on Sir J. H. Blair," 4 stanzas of 4 lines each

Nae heathen name shall I prefix

Frae Pindus or Parnassus ;

Auld Reekie dings them a to sticks

For rhyme-inspiring lasses.

Jove's tuneful dochters three times three,

Made Homer deep their debtor ;

But gien the body half an e'e

Nine Feriers wad done better.

* * * *

The mournfu' sang I here inclose,

In gratitude I send you :

And pray in rhyme sincere as prose,

A' gude things may attend you.

The Miss Ferrier here addressed was Jane, eldest daughter of James Ferrier, Writer to the Signet, and sister to Miss Ferrier, the novelist

- 371 BURNS (R.) Poem in his Autograph, "On the death of the late Lord President," 2 pp. 4to, containing 40 lines

Lone on the bleaky hills, the straying flocks
Shun the fierce storms among the sheltering rocks,
Down (a) foam the rivulets, red with dashing rains;
The gathering floods burst o'er the distant plains;
Beneath the blast the leafless forests groan;
The hollow caves return a sullen moan.

* * * * *

Ye dark, waste hills, (b) and brown, unsightly plains,
Congenial scenes, ye sooth my (c) melancholly strains,
Ye tempests, rage! ye turbid torrents, roll!
Ye suit the joyless tenor of my soul:
Life's social haunts and pleasures I resign;
Be nameless wilds and lonely wanderings mine,
To mourn the woes my country must endure,
That wound degenerate ages cannot cure.

(a) "from," (b) "ye," (c) "mournful," in printed poems.

On Robert Dundas of Arniston, who became Lord President in 1760, and was much esteemed for his courtesy and ability. He died 13 Decr. 1787. Accompanying this fine poem is an A. L. s. from Burns, 1 p. 4to, Monday morn (undated), addressed to Charles Hay, Advocate

The enclosed Poem was in consequence of your suggestion, last time I had the pleasure of seeing you. It cost me an hour or two of next morning's sleep but did not please me; so it lay by, an ill-digested effort till the other day that I gave it a critic brush. These kind of subjects are much hackneyed; and besides, the wailings of the rhyming tribe over the ashes of the Great, are damnably suspicious, and out of all character for sincerity. These ideas damp'd my Muse's fire; however I have done the best I could, etc.

This gives a different account as to the origin of the poem, for in a letter to A. Cunningham of 11th March, 1791, Burns states he wrote the verses at the suggestion of Alexander Wood, Surgeon, and that Wood left them, together with a letter from the author, in the house of the Lord President's son (2)

- 372 BURNS (R.) Autograph Verses "On a Scotch Bard gone to the West Indies," 2 pp. folio, containing 10 stanzas of 6 lines each

A' ye wha live by sowps o' drink!
A' ye wha live by crambo-chink!
A' ye wha live an' never think,
Come mourn wi' me

(a) Our billie Tam has taen a jink,
An' oure the sea!

Lament him a' ye rantin core
Wha dearly like a random splore;
Nae mair he'll join the merry roar
In social key;
For now he's taen anither shore
An' oure the sea.

* * * * *

Jamaica bodies, use him weel
And hap him in a cozie biel
Ye'll find him ay a dainty chiel,
An' fu' o' glee.
He wad na wrang'd the vera de'il
That's oure the sea.

a) "Our billie's gien us a' a jink," in printed poem.

Fareweel, my rhyme-composing billie !
 Your native soil was right ill-willie
 But may ye flourish like a lilly
 Now bonalíe !
 I'll trast you in my hindmost gillie,
 Tho' oure the sea.

- * * A MANUSCRIPT OF EXTREME INTEREST, being to a certain extent autobiographical. It was probably among the last written for the Kilmarnock Edition and while Burns had a great mind to emigrate, for on 17th July, 1786, he wrote to David Brice, Glasgow : "I am now fixed to go for the West Indies in October." A manuscript of this poem is quoted as being in the possession of the editor of the Aldine Burns, but the above presents certain variants to this, judging from the notes in the Centenary Edition.

- 373 JOHNSON (Dr. S.) A. L. s. 1 p. 4to, undated (probably 1784), to Mr. Cadell, giving a number of his own works which he wishes to be sent to Dr. Adams at Pembroke College, Oxford, including "Johnson's Dictionary," folio and 8vo, "Rambler," "Idler," "Political Tracts," "Hebrides," "Rasselas," and "Lives of the Poets"

- 374 WORDSWORTH (W.) A. L. s. 1½ pp. 4to, Grasmere, Jany. 14, 1801, interesting early letter, referring to his "Lyrical Ballads"

.... it cannot have remained unnoticed with what alarming rapidity our written language has been receding from the real language of life and that from the increasing circulation of books this practice must act powerfully towards adulterating our moral feelings, and of necessity the language of real life itself, thus poisoning our future literature at its best and most sacred source. I claim therefore with confidence from you those favourable predispositions in the perusal of these volumes which are perhaps his due who has sincerely wished.

- 375 COLERIDGE (S. T.) A. L. s. 1¾ pp. 4to, Grove, Highgate, 21 Aug. 1831, to C. Stutfield, fine letter

.... Christianity is the Humanization of the man, but it is the Apotheosis of the woman, in every name of duty, daughter, wife, mother and friend.

He thus expressed himself on the elective franchise :

.... the Elective Franchise is but a means to a Legislature and a Legislature itself but a means to a right Government, the best definition of which would be—that which under the circumstances most effectually provides security for the possessors, facility for the acquirers and hope for all.

- 376 SOUTHEY (R.) A. L. s. 1½ pp. 4to, Keswick, 31 Aug. 1818, on Malthus's "Essay"

.... We agree perfectly in opinion respecting Mr. Malthus's "notions," miserably shallow as his book is its tendency is to degrade man & to misrepresent his Maker. There is one subject upon which we do not think alike. I cannot but think that both reason & scripture warrant an expectation of a happier state of things on earth than has ever existed since the Fall, etc.

- 377 BURKE (Edmund) A. L. s. 2½ pp. 4to, Beaconsfield, Sept. 3, 1777, to Garrett

.... As to publick affairs, I attend to them because I must, not because they give me any sort of pleasure; for things are in such an unfortunate situation, that nothing can happen which can do more than diversifye the mode of our misfortune. In truth, until the Session opens, I turn my mind as much from them & every thing which relates to them as I possibly can, etc.

- 379 ELIZABETH (Queen of England) L. sub. and s. "Your lovinge frende Elizabeth R." 1 p. folio, 22 August, 1572. "To our right trusty and right welbeloved cousin the Erle of Marre, Regent of Scoteland." The Earl of Mar had recently consented to give up the Earl of Northumberland at the price of Elizabeth's assistance. She complains that the Indentures of abstinence have not been kept, that the City of Edinburgh is still held by his garrison, and that the country remains unpacified:

.... The French Ambassador here resident hath been very earnest with us in this matter, and in furthering the complaint, as a thing that toucheth both the King, his M^{rs} honor and ours, If this good work so well begun among youe at the testimony and accord of both or Ambassaidurs shuld of your part be so little regarded and kept.

It is remarkable that this letter is in the concluding paragraph given under our signet at Killingwnde on the very day that Northumberland was surrendered to the English authorities. Elizabeth was apparently at Woodstock at this time, so the concluding paragraph was most likely added when Northumberland had been delivered up, and the letter with its fresh complaints handed to Mar.

- 380 CROMWELL (OLIVER) AN EXTREMELY FINE HOLOGRAPH LETTER s. in full "Oliver Cromwell," 1 p. folio, closely written, undated, but written from Cambridge about the end of January, 1643, addressed to "My noble freinds Sir Willm. Springe, Knight, and Maurice Barrowe, Esq." with remains of seal. Relating to a very critical period of the Civil War. Cromwell had recently been recalled from the Army of Essex, had just established himself at Cambridge, and was busily occupied in raising horsemen to resist a threatened inroad by Lord Capel:

I have beene nowe two dayes att Cambridge in expectation to heere the fruite of your endeavors in Suffolke, towards the publike Assistance, beleive itt you will here of a storme in few dayes, you have noe infantrie, att all considerable. Hasten your horses, a few howers may undoe you neglected. I beseech you bee carefull what captaines of horse you chuse, what men bee mounted, a few honest men are better than numbers, some tyme they must have for exercise. If you choose Godly honest men to bee captaines of horse, honest men will followe them and they will bee carefull to mount such, the Kinge is exceedinge stronge in the west. If you bee able to foyle a force att the first cominge of itt, you will have reputation, and that is of great advantage in our affaires. God hath given itt to our handfull, let us endeavor to keep itt. I had rather have a plaine russett coated captaine that knowes what hee fights for, and loves what hee knowes, than that w^{ch} you call a gentleman and is nothinge else. I honor a gentleman that is soe indeed, etc.

He then speaks of the 3,000 men to be furnished by the Eastern association; begs them to be careful on the line of march and in joining with the main body. This important historic letter was purchased at the Dawson-Turner sale in 1859.

- 381 RANDOLPH (Thomas) Queen Elizabeth's Ambassador in Scotland, A. L. s. 1½ pp. folio, Edinburgh, the last of March, 1565, to Robert Dudley, Earl of Leicester. A letter of the greatest importance, in which he sends information of Mary Queen of Scots' intention to wed Lord Darnley at the time when Leicester was a suitor for her hand:

.... To marrye thys Q. wth a papyste is toe throwe all. To joyne her wth hym that ether for title or privat quarrell maye mayke dyscention is as vyle as that. To forsake the Q. my mystres frendeshipe and to allie her self with any other is worse thought of all. To have a sounde man in judgements, a constante man in religion, a wyse man to governe is so harde to fynde, that blessed shalbe that nation that may have hym. Thys Q. is determyned not to remayne in this state, what movethe her y^r L. knoweth.

He then goes on to say that many of her friends, though not all, wish her to marry Lord Darnley. It is almost unnecessary to point out the great historical interest of this letter.

- 382 BERWICK-ON-TWEED. A true discourse of ye deformed gouvernement and distressed estate of Berwyck, 3 pp. folio, a very interesting XVIIth century manuscript
- 383 HENRIETTA MARIA (Queen) A. L. s. 1½ pp. 4to, in French, Paris, 30 Aprill, to the Earl of Lauderdale, fine letter, with seals and silks. Apparently written in answer to a letter from the Earl apprising her of the prospect of her son's speedy recall to the throne, and expressing every confidence in his good judgment
- 384 JAMES I (King of England) L. s. when King of Scotland, with Holograph Postscript of 6 lines, 1 p. folio, Falkland, 15 July, 1586, to Sir John Maitland of Thirlestane, the Vice-Chancellor of Scotland, respecting a dispute with the Master of Glamis
- 385 JAMES I'S PRIVY COUNCIL. Letter to the Bailiffs of the town of Ipswich, prohibiting the further manufacture of starch from "corne and other stuffe fit for the foode of his Maties. subjects," 2 pp. folio, Whitehall, Jan. 31, 1609, stained, with signatures of T. Egerton, Lord Ellesmere, R. Cecil Earl of Salisbury, Henry Earl of Northampton, T. Howard Earl of Suffolk, Sir Julius Caesar, and others

- 386 HENRY IV (King of France) A. L. s. 1 p. folio (undated), to Sir John Maitland of Thirlestane, Chancellor of Scotland, a fine letter. He speaks of the high esteem in which he holds the friendship of the King of Scotland, and adds:

... le Sr de Lyste le vous fera antandre plus partyculyeremant et vous racontera les benedictyons que Dyeu vous anvoye parmy ces desordres et confusyons et come J'ay besoyen de quelque secours, auquoy Je vous pry de (?) favoryser ma demande de v^{re} credyt et authoryte vous oblygeres tout le party de nos eglyses et au partyculyer feres ung syngulyer plesyr a

- 387 BAXTER (Richard) Author of the "Saints' Everlasting Rest," A. L. s. 1 $\frac{3}{4}$ pp. folio, June 24, 1670, to the Earl of Lauderdale, FINE AND EXTREMELY RARE. Lauderdale has wished him to reside in Scotland in order to escape imprisonment. He thanks him for his offer, but gives various reasons why he is unable to accept it. He then dwells pathetically on the difficulties which beset him in his desire to live peaceably:

I am aweary of the noise of contentious revilers and have often thought to goe into a foreigne land, if I could find any where I might have a healthfull aire and quietness, that I might live and die in peace. When I sit in a corner and meddle with nobody and hope the world will forget that I am alive, Court, City and Country is still filld with clamour against me... I think I broke no law in any of the preachings w^{ch} I am accused of, & I most confidently thinke that no law imposes on me the Oxford oath any more than on any conformable minister, and I am past doubt that the present mittimus for my imprisonment is quite without law, etc.
