CONDITIONS OF SALE.

- I. The highest bidder to be the buyer; and if any dispute arise between bidders, the lot so disputed shall be immediately put up again, provided the auctioneer cannot decide the said dispute.
- II. No person to advance less than 1s.; above five pounds, 2s. 6d., and so on in proportion.
- III. In the case of lots upon which there is a reserve, the auctioneer shall have the right to bid on behalf of the seller.
- IV. The purchasers to give in their names and places of abode, and to pay down 10s. in the pound, if required, in part payment of the purchase-money, in default of which the lot or lots purchased will be immediately put up again and re-sold.
- V. The sale of any lot is not to be set aside on account of any error in the enumeration of the numbers stated, or errors of description.
- VI. The lots to be taken away, at the buyer's expense, immediately after the conclusion of the sale; in default of which, Messrs. SOTHEY, WILKINSON & HODGE will not hold themselves responsible if lost, stolen, damaged, or otherwise destroyed, but they will be left at the sole risk of the purchaser. If, at the expiration of Two Days after the conclusion of the sale, the lots are not cleared or paid for, they will then be catalogued for immediate sale, and the expense, the same as if re-sold, will be added to the amount at which they were bought. Messrs. SOTHEY, WILKINSON & HODGE will have the option of re-selling the lots uncleared, either by public or private sale, without any notice being given to the defaulter.
- VII. Upon failure of complying with the above conditions, the money required and deposited in part of payment shall be forfeited, and if any loss is sustained in the re-selling of such lots as are not cleared or paid for, all charges on such re-sale shall be made good by the defaulters at this sale.

"PROTO-CORINTHIAN" VASES.

LOT

- 219 An Aryballos, with wide body, height  $3\frac{1}{2}$  in.; intact; the clay is pale brownish, with ornamentation in black; the ornamentation consists of a row of rays on the shoulder, and a number of horizontal lines running round body and neck; the vase belongs to the so-called "proto-Corinthian" fabric, the seat of which may have been Sicyon; the wide-bodied aryballos is characteristic of the early proto-Corinthian period, and the vase may be dated to the eighth century B.C.

- An Oinochoe, with trefoil mouth, height  $9\frac{3}{4}$  in.; intact, and in good condition; the clay is a warm pale brown, and the black decoration is enlivened with red and white details; the decoration consists of two zones of animals; the style is proto-Corinthian, the vase is perhaps one of the imitations of this ware which were made in Italy, at Cumae and elsewhere, in the seventh century B.C. (2)

CORINTHIAN VASES.

- 220 A small spherical Aryballos, height  $2\frac{1}{2}$  in.; intact, and in fine condition; the clay is pale buff, the decoration dark brown with red details; a frieze of animals runs round the vase; a duck between two sphinxes and two lions; the field is thickly sown with rosettes of Corinthian type; on the bottom of the vase is a design of crescents; a pretty example of the Corinthian style; seventh century B.C.

- 221 A Pyxis, of pale greenish-white clay, height 6 in.; the vase is intact, but the lid is missing; the animals which form the decoration are three panthers, a goat, two owls, and two other birds; Corinthian rosettes in the field; seventh century B.C.

ATTIC BLACK-FIGURED VASES.

226 AN AMPHORA, height  $12\frac{3}{4}$  in.; intact, save for a crack on one side, and in good condition; on the obverse panel is a four-horse chariot; the young charioteer is dressed in a long white robe, and carries a goad in his hand; a naked youth, holding a wand, stands at the horses' heads; a flying bird completes the design; the scene on the reverse is a replica, with variations, of the other; graceful archaic work, belonging to the middle of the sixth century B.C. [See PLATE I.]

227 AN AMPHORA, height 15 in.; mended and slightly retouched in parts; on the obverse is Theseus overcoming the Minotaur, who holds a stone in each hand; a woman, holding a spear, stands on either side of the group; the picture on the reverse represents the same scene, but the attitudes are different—in particular, the head of the Minotaur is frontal—and the women are replaced by a man and a youth; the inscriptions are meaningless; neat archaic work, middle of the sixth century B.C.

228 AN AMPHORA, 15 in. high, mended; on the obverse, a four-horsed chariot wheeling round; the wheels are foreshortened, and the faces of the two inner horses are frontal; the chariot is driven by a bearded man; the picture on the reverse is an unusual one, two rearing horses facing each other, and a naked youth lying on the ground between them; his attitude, and the drawing of his eye, show that he is unconscious; he has been riding one horse and leading the other, and has been thrown; good drawing of the second half of the sixth century B.C.

229 AN AMPHORA, 16 in. high; intact, save for a small portion of the foot, and in good condition; the picture on the obverse represents a youth riding a horse, accompanied by two naked youths running, in the presence of a man; the reverse picture shows three naked youths running a race, with a man and a youth watching them; lively drawing; second half of the sixth century B.C.

230 AN AMPHORA OF PANATHENAIK SHAPE,  $16\frac{1}{2}$  in. high; intact, and in perfect condition; on the obverse is a figure of Athena Promachos, wearing chiton, helmet and aegis, and advancing with spear raised; the charge on her shield is a snake; on either side of her is a Doric column, with a cock on it; the picture on the reverse represents a race, two naked youths mounted on galloping horses; spirited work of the later sixth century B.C. [See PLATE I.]

- 231 AN AMPHORA, with offset neck and triple handles,  $14\frac{1}{2}$  in. high; intact and perfectly preserved; the scene on the obverse is Herakles mastering the Nemean lion; the hero's bow and quiver are lying on the ground between his legs; the young Iolaos is holding Herakles' club and a second bow; a woman stands opposite Iolaos; on the reverse a party of warriors is leaving home; a youth with sword and spears is seated on horseback, and two soldiers in complete armour are standing, one in front of him and the other behind him; one shield is emblazoned with the hindquarters of a horse, and the other with the forepart of a panther; there is a design of palmettes at each handle; sound, fluent drawing; end of the sixth century B.C. 64/- James.
- 232 A tall Oinochoe, of the shape commonly called olpe, height 8 in.; 10 in. including the high handle; intact, and in good preservation; the mouth of the vase is pinched to facilitate pouring; Dionysos is shown standing with a horn and a spray in his hand, while two satyrs and two maenads move towards him with signs of delight; pretty work; middle of the sixth century B.C. 14/-
- 233 An Oinochoe, with trefoil mouth,  $9\frac{1}{4}$  in. high; the mouth mended; the subject is two warriors wearing metal corslets and Corinthian helmets, fighting in the presence of two youths; second half of the sixth century B.C. 15/-
- 234 Another, 13 in. high; mended and repainted in parts; a bearded charioteer is mounting a four-horse chariot, in the presence of a man (perhaps Hermes), a woman and a dog; second half of the sixth century B.C. 22/- Spink
- 235 Another,  $7\frac{1}{2}$  in. high; mended, but nothing missing; the subject is a warrior driving a four-horse chariot, which is seen in foreshortening as it wheels round; the two inner horses have frontal faces; the device on the warrior's shield is a panther's head; second half of the sixth century B.C. 21/- Spink
- 236 Another, 10 in. high; broken and freely restored; Dionysos, holding a drinking-horn and a vine-branch, is accompanied by two capering satyrs; second half of the sixth century B.C. 10/- Spink
- 237 A HYDRIA,  $13\frac{1}{2}$  in. high; the back-handle and part of the mouth are missing, but the rest of the vase is intact and well-preserved; the main picture, on the body of the vase, represents Herakles fighting with the triple-bodied giant Geryon; the herdsman Eurytion, clad in a short chiton with a skin thrown over it, and a fur hat, has collapsed at the feet of 44/- Spink

Herakles ; the secondary picture, on the shoulder of the vase, represents Dionysos lying on the ground with a big branch in his hand, surrounded by his attendants, a satyr and two mænads ; second half of the sixth century B.C.

- 238 A Kyathos, height  $3\frac{1}{4}$  in., 6 in. including the high handle, which is decorated with a palmette in relief ; mended ; between a pair of big eyes, a naked man, Herakles, is seen overtaking a running bull ; a sphinx is seated at each side of the handle ; vivacious drawing of the end of the sixth century B.C. 28/-
Palmer

- 239 A small Bowl, with offset lips and no handle, height  $3\frac{1}{4}$  in. ; mended ; the figures are painted in black on a white ground ; the subject is Dionysos seated among his satyrs and mænads ; there are eight figures in all ; slight but decorative work ; end of the sixth century B.C. 9/10/-

- 240 A Cup (Kylix),  $7\frac{1}{2}$  in. diam. ; intact ; the subject on the interior is a running satyr ; on the exterior, a band of warriors setting forth, some mounted and others on foot ; there is an ivy-leaf under each handle ; summary work of the end of the sixth or the beginning of the fifth century. 4/-
Spink

A small Lekythos, 6 in. high ; intact ; the subject is a fight between two warriors ; the device on the falling warrior's shield is a thunderbolt.

Another,  $4\frac{1}{2}$  in. high, with black figures on white ground, partly repainted ; on the body of the vase is a youth seated with four other persons standing round him ; on the shoulder, a degenerate survival of the hound-and-hare motive ; rough work. (3)

- 241 A LEKYTHOS,  $8\frac{1}{2}$  in. high ; intact, and in fine condition ; in a building, indicated by two Doric columns, a siren is standing on a low pedestal and playing the lyre ; on each side of her is a plant with an owl sitting on it ; the flesh of the siren was originally white ; there is a design of palmettes on the shoulder of the vase ; bold drawing of the beginning of the fifth century. 16/-

ATTIC RED-FIGURED VASES.

- 242 A CUP (KYLIX), with stout stem and offset lip, height  $5\frac{1}{4}$  in., diam.  $11\frac{3}{4}$  in. ; intact, and in perfect condition ; the interior design represents a woman, dressed in a chiton, running with her head turned back, and holding a pair of castanets in each hand ; on one side of the reverse is a naked youth leading two horses, he holds a switch in his hands as well as the reins ; the scene on the other side takes place in the palaestra ; a young athlete is preparing to throw the javelin, and two young men

dressed in himatia, probably instructors, are standing one on each side of him; one of the young men holds a flower; at each handle there are two sphinxes seated with a palmette between them; the inscriptions read, round the interior design, Ευεργίδης ἐποίησεν, that is Εὐεργίδης ἐποίησεν, "Euergides made it"; over the athletic scene, ὁ παῖς καλός, "the boy is beautiful"; over the equestrian scene, Πλέξιππος, that is Πλήξιππος, Plëxippos, the name given by the artist to the youth depicted.

This cup was discovered at Santa Maria, the Capua of the ancients, and was published in the Annali dell' Instituto, 1849, Plate B. It is the finest of the five extant cups which bear the name of the maker Euergides; all five were painted by a single artist, who has been studied by Beazley in the Journal of Hellenic Studies, 33, pp. 347-355. Fifty odd vases are assigned by him to this artist; the present cup is number 41 in his list. With the figure on the interior of this cup, compare the figures on the signed cup in Heidelberg (loc. cit. p. 347), and on the unsigned cup in Munich (ibid. p. 352); charming archaic style of the last quarter of the sixth century B.C. [See PLATE II.]

- 243 A Cup (Kylix), 11 in. diam., composed of many fragments and repainted in places; the foot is broken and did not originally belong to the cup; on the interior is a satyr with a wreath of vineleaves on his bald head, carrying a wine-skin over his shoulder, and plunging a jug into a crater which stands in front of him; the subject on the outside of the cup is an ambush; six warriors, lightly clad, are crouching in a wooded place; three of them are naked, save for helmet and loin-cloth; the other three wear short chiton, chlamys, petasos, and fur boots; about 490 B.C.

- 244 A squat Lekythos, 7½ in. high; mended, and slightly retouched in parts; two mænads stand facing each other; one of them is tying a fawnskin round her body; to free her hands she has stuck her thyrsus in the ground; the other holds her thyrsus across her shoulder and supports a panther cub on her outstretched arm; below the vase is an Etruscan inscription; neat work of about 460 B.C.

- 245 A Cup (Kylix), 10½ in. diam.; mended; part of the external design missing; on the interior a youth seated and supporting his hand on his chin, and a youth leaning on his stick and talking to the other; on the exterior four groups of satyrs and mænads; the satyrs are attacking and the mænads defending themselves; lively drawing; about 470-460 B.C.

- 249 A Lekythos, 14 in. high; the foot seems to have been reattached, and the surface of the vase has flaked in a few places; Poseidon, wearing long chiton and himation, is standing with his trident in his right hand; a woman approaches bringing him a long ribbon; on the shoulder of the vase is a design of three palmettes with two buds; about 470-460 B.C. 12/10/-
Spink
- 250 A small Amphora, of the so-called Nolan type, with ridged handles,  $8\frac{3}{4}$  in. high; mended, and a small piece missing, but no retouches; on the front of the vase a youth is standing, dressed in a himation, with a spear in his hand; a woman stands facing him and offers him a sword; between the pair is a short unmeaning inscription; the picture on the back of the vase is a youth muffled in his himation; slight drawing, not without grace; about 470 B.C. 28/-

- 251 A STAMNOS,  $12\frac{1}{2}$  in. high; mended, and slightly repainted in parts; fine clay and varnish; there are three female figures on either side of the vase; the central figure on the obverse is a woman dressed in a thin sleeveless chiton and wearing a sakkos on her head; she is bending over a table, on which a wreathed stamnos stands; in her left hand she holds a phiale, and in her right a long ladle which she plunges into the stamnos in order to fill the phiale. Behind her is a woman clad in Dorian peplos and sakkos, with one hand on her hip and a phiale in the other, evidently awaiting her turn; facing the central figure, a third woman in a sleeveless chiton holding a kantharos; on the other side of the vase are three women with thyrsi in their hands.

There are a good many stamnoi with similar representations; in most of them the central place is occupied by a rustic idol of Dionysos, in whose honour the ceremony is taking place; Frickenhaus, who has studied these stamnoi in his "Lenäenvasen," supposes that the festival represented is the Athenian Lenaia; fine, graceful work of about 460 B.C. [See PLATE III.]

- 252 A white Lekythos, present height  $10\frac{1}{2}$  in.; the mouth is missing; the slip is brownish-white, the flesh of the figures creamy-white, the shield black, the garments black with red details, and the outline of the figures brown; part of the flesh-white has flaked off, and the black of shield and clothes has been repainted in places; the subject is two Amazons; one stands with one leg frontal, one hand on her hip, and a spear in the other, her shield rests against her leg; she looks at her companion who holds a bow in her hand; both figures wear short chitons, and the kidaris on the head; about 460 B.C.

- 253 A HYDRIA, of kalpis shape,  $13\frac{1}{2}$  in. high; intact, and in fine condition; in the middle of the picture a lady is seated on a chair and looking into a mirror which she holds in her hand; in front of her is a wool-basket; in front of her is a woman holding out a box towards her, and behind a third woman who has just taken an alabastron from a chest which is on the ground; middle of the fifth century B.C.

20. 254 A SMALL HYDRIA, of kalpis shape,  $7\frac{1}{2}$  in. high; intact, and in fine preservation; a lady is sitting on a chair and admiring herself in a mirror; in front of her is a maid, dressed in the Doric peplos, holding a small chest and an alabastron; delicate, charming drawing of the third quarter of the fifth century B.C.

- Another,  $2\frac{1}{2}$  in. high ; intact, with a female figure, roughly drawn, of the same period.
- A small Lekythos,  $3\frac{1}{2}$  in. high ; with a running goat ; the neck mended ; late fifth century.
- Another, the neck broken,  $3\frac{1}{2}$  in. high ; with a figure of a sphinx ; late fifth century.
- Another, present height 5 in. ; the mouth lost ; a woman running ; middle of fifth century.
- A small white Lekythos, with the design effaced.
- A small Lekythos, with the pattern on it.
- Two small fragmentary squat Lekythoi.
- A small squat Lekythos, with a figure of a child ; the drawing nearly all modern.
- Another, black and ribbed ; 3 in. high. (11)

LUCANIAN RED-FIGURED VASES.

- 263 A LARGE AMPHORA OF PANATHENAIK SHAPE, 19 in. high ; intact, and in good preservation ; on the obverse is a woman wrapped in her himation and seated on a rock looking at a naked youth holding a strigil and a stick, who advances towards her ; behind the youth are a woman holding a mirror and Eros holding a stick and a band of cloth, possibly a girdle ; the scene is perhaps bridal, the seated woman being the bride and the youth the bridegroom ; on the reverse of the vase are four youths dressed in the himation ; early fourth century. 307-1
Remain

- 264 An Oinochoe, with squat body, high handle, and spout; height 6 in. with handle; intact, and in fine preservation; there are two figures on either side of the spout; the subject is a Dionysiac revel; all four figures are rushing forward; a bearded satyr holds a wine-skin and a torch; he is followed by a younger satyr with two candelabra and a jug; a maenad waves two torches, and the procession is closed by an old bald satyr, closely wrapped in his himation, his head heavily filleted, a thyrsus in his hand; the drawing is bold and humourous; early fourth century.

- I. The highest bidder to be the buyer; and if any dispute arise between bidders, the lot so disputed shall be immediately put up again, provided the auctioneer cannot decide the said dispute.
- II. No person to advance less than 1s.; above five pounds, 2s. 6d., and so on in proportion.
- III. In the case of lots upon which there is a reserve, the auctioneer shall have the right to bid on behalf of the seller.
- IV. The purchasers to give in their names and places of abode, and to pay down 10s. in the pound, if required, in part payment of the purchase-money, in default of which the lot or lots purchased will be immediately put up again and re-sold.
- V. The sale of any lot is not to be set aside on account of any error in the enumeration of the numbers stated, or errors of description.
- VI. The lots to be taken away, at the buyer's expense, immediately after the conclusion of the sale; in default of which, Messrs. SOTHEBY, WILKINSON & HODGE will not hold themselves responsible if lost, stolen, damaged, or otherwise destroyed, but they will be left at the sole risk of the purchaser. If, at the expiration of Two Days after the conclusion of the sale, the lots are not cleared or paid for, they will then be catalogued for immediate sale, and the expense, the same as if re-sold, will be added to the amount at which they were bought. Messrs. SOTHEBY, WILKINSON & HODGE will have the option of re-selling the lots uncleared, either by public or private sale, without any notice being given to the defaulter.
- VII. Upon failure of complying with the above conditions, the money required and deposited in part of payment shall be forfeited, and if any loss is sustained in the re-selling of such lots as are not cleared or paid for, all charges on such re-sale shall be made good by the defaulters at this sale.

"PROTO-CORINTHIAN" VASES.

LOT

219 An Aryballos, with wide body, height  $3\frac{1}{2}$  in.; intact; the clay is pale brownish, with ornamentation in black; the ornamentation consists of a row of rays on the shoulder, and a number of horizontal lines running round body and neck; the vase belongs to the so-called "proto-Corinthian" fabric, the seat of which may have been Sicyon; the wide-bodied aryballos is characteristic of the early proto-Corinthian period, and the vase may be dated to the eighth century B.C.

An Oinochoe, with trefoil mouth, height  $9\frac{3}{4}$  in.; intact, and in good condition; the clay is a warm pale brown, and the black decoration is enlivened with red and white details; the decoration consists of two zones of animals; the style is proto-Corinthian, the vase is perhaps one of the imitations of this ware which were made in Italy, at Cumae and elsewhere, in the seventh century B.C. (2)

CORINTHIAN VASES.

220 A small spherical Aryballos, height  $2\frac{1}{2}$  in.; intact, and in fine condition; the clay is pale buff, the decoration dark brown with red details; a frieze of animals runs round the vase; a duck between two sphinxes and two lions: the field is thickly sown with rosettes of Corinthian type; on the bottom of the vase is a design of crescents; a pretty example of the Corinthian style; seventh century B.C.

- 221 A Pyxis, of pale greenish-white clay, height 6 in.; the vase is intact, but the lid is missing; the animals which form the decoration are three panthers, a goat, two owls, and two other birds; Corinthian rosettes in the field; seventh century B.C.
- 222 Two Kotylai, of pale greenish-white clay, decorated with friezes of animals, height 5 in. and 3 in.; both mended and retouched; seventh century B.C. (2)
- 223 A tall, pear-shaped Aryballos, height 9 in.; intact; two friezes of wild boars; Italian imitation of Corinthian ware; seventh century B.C.
- Another, height 9 in., mended and repainted in parts; two friezes of animals; a spherical Aryballos, height 5 in., mended and retouched, with a row of animals in the Corinthian style (3)

ETRUSCAN VASES.

- 224 A Kyathos, of black bucchero ware, height 6 in., including the high handle; intact; the handle is decorated with two duck's heads and a youthful human head, all in relief; the body of the vase is plain, save for two bands of simple incised ornament; sixth century B.C.

An egg-cup-shaped Vessel, of black bucchero, 3 in. high (2)

CHALCIDIAN BLACK-FIGURED VASE.

- 225 AN AMPHORA, with offset neck, height 13½ in.; mended and repainted in parts; a panel is reserved on each side; the front panel contains a representation of two warriors fighting; one warrior wears a leather corslet and carries a Boeotian shield, the other has a bronze corslet and a round shield with a flying bird emblazoned on it; a palmette springs from the ground between the two figures; the reverse panel is decorated with two cocks facing, and a lotus-bud ornament; on either side of the neck of the vase there is a large bearded head; the vase is probably Chalcidian, but possibly belongs to some other, closely-allied fabric; middle of the sixth century B.C.

ATTIC BLACK-FIGURED VASES.

- 226 AN AMPHORA, height 12 $\frac{3}{4}$  in. ; intact, save for a crack on one side, and in good condition ; on the obverse panel is a four-horse chariot ; the young charioteer is dressed in a long white robe, and carries a goad in his hand ; a naked youth, holding a wand, stands at the horses' heads ; a flying bird completes the design ; the scene on the reverse is a replica, with variations, of the other ; graceful archaic work, belonging to the middle of the sixth century B.C. [See PLATE I.]
- 227 AN AMPHORA, height 15 in. ; mended and slightly retouched in parts ; on the obverse is Theseus overcoming the Minotaur, who holds a stone in each hand ; a woman, holding a spear, stands on either side of the group ; the picture on the reverse represents the same scene, but the attitudes are different—in particular, the head of the Minotaur is frontal—and the women are replaced by a man and a youth ; the inscriptions are meaningless ; neat archaic work, middle of the sixth century B.C.
- 228 AN AMPHORA, 15 in. high, mended ; on the obverse, a four-horsed chariot wheeling round ; the wheels are foreshortened, and the faces of the two inner horses are frontal ; the chariot is driven by a bearded man ; the picture on the reverse is an unusual one, two rearing horses facing each other, and a naked youth lying on the ground between them ; his attitude, and the drawing of his eye, show that he is unconscious ; he has been riding one horse and leading the other, and has been thrown ; good drawing of the second half of the sixth century B.C.
- 229 AN AMPHORA, 16 in. high ; intact, save for a small portion of the foot, and in good condition ; the picture on the obverse represents a youth riding a horse, accompanied by two naked youths running, in the presence of a man ; the reverse picture shows three naked youths running a race, with a man and a youth watching them ; lively drawing ; second half of the sixth century B.C.
- 230 AN AMPHORA OF PANATHENAIK SHAPE, 16 $\frac{1}{2}$  in. high ; intact, and in perfect condition ; on the obverse is a figure of Athena Promachos, wearing chiton, helmet and ægis, and advancing with spear raised ; the charge on her shield is a snake ; on either side of her is a Doric column, with a cock on it ; the picture on the reverse represents a race, two naked youths mounted on galloping horses ; spirited work of the later sixth century B.C. [See PLATE I.]

- 231 AN AMPHORA, with offset neck and triple handles,  $14\frac{1}{2}$  in. high; intact and perfectly preserved; the scene on the obverse is Herakles mastering the Nemean lion; the hero's bow and quiver are lying on the ground between his legs; the young Iolaos is holding Herakles' club and a second bow; a woman stands opposite Iolaos; on the reverse a party of warriors is leaving home; a youth with sword and spears is seated on horseback, and two soldiers in complete armour are standing, one in front of him and the other behind him; one shield is emblazoned with the hindquarters of a horse, and the other with the forepart of a panther; there is a design of palmettes at each handle; sound, fluent drawing; end of the sixth century B.C.
- 232 A tall Oinochoe, of the shape commonly called olpe, height 8 in.; 10 in. including the high handle; intact, and in good preservation; the mouth of the vase is pinched to facilitate pouring; Dionysos is shown standing with a horn and a spray in his hand, while two satyrs and two maenads move towards him with signs of delight; pretty work; middle of the sixth century B.C.
- 233 An Oinochoe, with trefoil mouth,  $9\frac{1}{4}$  in. high; the mouth mended; the subject is two warriors wearing metal corslets and Corinthian helmets, fighting in the presence of two youths; second half of the sixth century B.C.
- 234 Another, 13 in. high; mended and repainted in parts; a bearded charioteer is mounting a four-horse chariot, in the presence of a man (perhaps Hermes), a woman and a dog; second half of the sixth century B.C.
- 235 Another,  $7\frac{1}{2}$  in. high; mended, but nothing missing; the subject is a warrior driving a four-horse chariot, which is seen in foreshortening as it wheels round; the two inner horses have frontal faces; the device on the warrior's shield is a panther's head; second half of the sixth century B.C.
- 236 Another, 10 in. high; broken and freely restored; Dionysos, holding a drinking-horn and a vine-branch, is accompanied by two capering satyrs; second half of the sixth century B.C.
- 237 A HYDRIA,  $13\frac{1}{2}$  in. high; the back-handle and part of the mouth are missing, but the rest of the vase is intact and well-preserved; the main picture, on the body of the vase, represents Herakles fighting with the triple-bodied giant Geryon; the herdsman Eurytion, clad in a short chiton with a skin thrown over it, and a fur hat, has collapsed at the feet of

Herakles ; the secondary picture, on the shoulder of the vase, represents Dionysos lying on the ground with a big branch in his hand, surrounded by his attendants, a satyr and two mænads ; second half of the sixth century B.C.

- 238 A Kyathos, height  $3\frac{1}{4}$  in., 6 in. including the high handle, which is decorated with a palmette in relief ; mended ; between a pair of big eyes, a naked man, Herakles, is seen overtaking a running bull ; a sphinx is seated at each side of the handle ; vivacious drawing of the end of the sixth century B.C.

- 239 A small Bowl, with offset lips and no handle, height  $3\frac{1}{4}$  in. ; mended ; the figures are painted in black on a white ground ; the subject is Dionysos seated among his satyrs and mænads ; there are eight figures in all ; slight but decorative work ; end of the sixth century B.C.

- 240 A Cup (Kylix),  $7\frac{1}{2}$  in. diam. ; intact ; the subject on the interior is a running satyr ; on the exterior, a band of warriors setting forth, some mounted and others on foot ; there is an ivy-leaf under each handle ; summary work of the end of the sixth or the beginning of the fifth century.

A small Lekythos, 6 in. high ; intact ; the subject is a fight between two warriors ; the device on the falling warrior's shield is a thunderbolt.

Another,  $4\frac{1}{2}$  in. high, with black figures on white ground, partly repainted ; on the body of the vase is a youth seated with four other persons standing round him ; on the shoulder, a degenerate survival of the hound-and-hare motive ; rough work. (3)

- 241 A LEKYTHOS,  $8\frac{1}{2}$  in. high ; intact, and in fine condition ; in a building, indicated by two Doric columns, a siren is standing on a low pedestal and playing the lyre ; on each side of her is a plant with an owl sitting on it ; the flesh of the siren was originally white ; there is a design of palmettes on the shoulder of the vase ; bold drawing of the beginning of the fifth century.

ATTIC RED-FIGURED VASES.

- 242 A CUP (KYLIX), with stout stem and offset lip, height  $5\frac{1}{4}$  in., diam.  $11\frac{3}{4}$  in. ; intact, and in perfect condition ; the interior design represents a woman, dressed in a chiton, running with her head turned back, and holding a pair of castanets in each hand ; on one side of the reverse is a naked youth leading two horses, he holds a switch in his hands as well as the reins ; the scene on the other side takes place in the palæstra ; a young athlete is preparing to throw the javelin, and two young men

dressed in himatia, probably instructors, are standing one on each side of him; one of the young men holds a flower; at each handle there are two sphinxes seated with a palmette between them; the inscriptions read, round the interior design, Ευεργίδης ἐποίησεν, that is Εὐεργίδης ἐποίησεν, "Euergides made it"; over the athletic scene, ὁ παῖς καλός, "the boy is beautiful"; over the equestrian scene, Πλεξιππος, that is Πλήξιππος, Plexippos, the name given by the artist to the youth depicted.

This cup was discovered at Santa Maria, the Capua of the ancients, and was published in the Annali dell' Istituto, 1849, Plate B. It is the finest of the five extant cups which bear the name of the maker Euergides; all five were painted by a single artist, who has been studied by Beazley in the Journal of Hellenic Studies, 33, pp. 347-355. Fifty odd vases are assigned by him to this artist; the present cup is number 41 in his list. With the figure on the interior of this cup, compare the figures on the signed cup in Heidelberg (loc. cit. p. 347), and on the unsigned cup in Munich (ibid. p. 352); charming archaic style of the last quarter of the sixth century B.C. [See PLATE II.]

- 243 A Cup (Kylix), 11 in. diam., composed of many fragments and repainted in places; the foot is broken and did not originally belong to the cup; on the interior is a satyr with a wreath of vineleaves on his bald head, carrying a wine-skin over his shoulder, and plunging a jug into a crater which stands in front of him; the subject on the outside of the cup is an ambush; six warriors, lightly clad, are crouching in a wooded place; three of them are naked, save for helmet and loin-cloth; the other three wear short chiton, chlamys, petasos, and fur boots; about 490 B.C.
- 244 A squat Lekythos, 7½ in. high; mended, and slightly retouched in parts; two mænads stand facing each other; one of them is tying a fawnskin round her body; to free her hands she has stuck her thyrsus in the ground; the other holds her thyrsus across her shoulder and supports a panther cub on her outstretched arm; below the vase is an Etruscan inscription; neat work of about 460 B.C.
- 245 A Cup (Kylix), 10½ in. diam.; mended; part of the external design missing; on the interior a youth seated and supporting his hand on his chin, and a youth leaning on his stick and talking to the other; on the exterior four groups of satyrs and mænads; the satyrs are attacking and the mænads defending themselves; lively drawing; about 470-460 B.C.

- 246 A LARGE OINOCHOE, with trefoil mouth,  $11\frac{1}{2}$  in. high, 13 in. including the handle; intact, and in excellent condition; the subject is Dionysos and a maenad; the god is bearded and wears long chiton and himation, his head is filleted, in his hand he holds a forked twig; opposite him stands a maenad wearing chiton, himation and saccos, who holds a thyrsus and offers a kantharos to Dionysos; sound drawing of about 470-460 B.C.
- 247 An Oinochoe, with trefoil mouth,  $6\frac{1}{2}$  in. high,  $7\frac{1}{2}$  in. including the handle; the lip is mended, but the vase is otherwise intact and in perfect condition; a youth dressed in a himation stands at a flaming altar holding a phial, and pouring wine on the flame out of a jug; about 470 B.C.
- 248 A HYDRIA, of the so-called kalpis shape, 11 in. high; intact, and in perfect condition; a band of lotus-bud pattern runs from handle to handle; above this, on the shoulder of the vase, is a framed picture of Kaineus and the Centaurs; Kaineus, a bearded warrior sunk in the ground from his middle downwards, is attacked by two Centaurs; one of them grasps Kaineus by the shoulder with one hand and holds a pine branch in the other; the second Centaur is about to hurl a huge boulder on to the hero's head; two of Kaineus' companions also take part in the struggle; both carry shield and spear; one of the shields has an apron fastened to it with a big eye on it; the charge on the shield is a cock; the vase is said to have been found at Egnazia, and was formerly in the possession of Barone at Naples; it is published in "Bullettino Napolitano" (6, pl. 2); a reduction of the Italian drawing is to be found in Reinach's "Répertoire des vases peints" (1, p. 474); mannered drawing of about 470 B.C.
- 249 A Lekythos, 14 in. high; the foot seems to have been reattached, and the surface of the vase has flaked in a few places; Poseidon, wearing long chiton and himation, is standing with his trident in his right hand; a woman approaches bringing him a long ribbon; on the shoulder of the vase is a design of three palmettes with two buds; about 470-460 B.C.
- 250 A small Amphora, of the so-called Nolan type, with ridged handles,  $8\frac{3}{4}$  in. high; mended, and a small piece missing, but no retouches; on the front of the vase a youth is standing, dressed in a himation, with a spear in his hand; a woman stands facing him and offers him a sword; between the pair is a short unmeaning inscription; the picture on the back of the vase is a youth muffled in his himation; slight drawing, not without grace; about 470 B.C.

- 251 A STAMNOS,  $12\frac{1}{2}$  in. high ; mended, and slightly repainted in parts ; fine clay and varnish ; there are three female figures on either side of the vase ; the central figure on the obverse is a woman dressed in a thin sleeveless chiton and wearing a saccos on her head ; she is bending over a table, on which a wreathed stamnos stands ; in her left hand she holds a phiale, and in her right a long ladle which she plunges into the stamnos in order to fill the phiale. Behind her is a woman clad in Dorian peplos and saccos, with one hand on her hip and a phiale in the other, evidently awaiting her turn ; facing the central figure, a third woman in a sleeveless chiton holding a kantharos ; on the other side of the vase are three women with thyrsi in their hands.

There are a good many stamnoi with similar representations ; in most of them the central place is occupied by a rustic idol of Dionysos, in whose honour the ceremony is taking place ; Frickenhaus, who has studied these stamnoi in his "Lenäenvasen," supposes that the festival represented is the Athenian Lenaia ; fine, graceful work of about 460 B.C. [See PLATE III.]

- 252 A white Lekythos, present height  $10\frac{1}{2}$  in. ; the mouth is missing ; the slip is brownish-white, the flesh of the figures creamy-white, the shield black, the garments black with red details, and the outline of the figures brown ; part of the flesh-white has flaked off, and the black of shield and clothes has been repainted in places ; the subject is two Amazons ; one stands with one leg frontal, one hand on her hip, and a spear in the other, her shield rests against her leg ; she looks at her companion who holds a bow in her hand ; both figures wear short chitons, and the kidaris on the head ; about 460 B.C.

- 253 A HYDRIA, of kalpis shape,  $13\frac{1}{2}$  in. high ; intact, and in fine condition ; in the middle of the picture a lady is seated on a chair and looking into a mirror which she holds in her hand ; in front of her is a wool-basket ; in front of her is a woman holding out a box towards her, and behind a third woman who has just taken an alabastron from a chest which is on the ground ; middle of the fifth century B.C.

- 254 A SMALL HYDRIA, of kalpis shape,  $7\frac{1}{2}$  in. high ; intact, and in fine preservation ; a lady is sitting on a chair and admiring herself in a mirror ; in front of her is a maid, dressed in the Doric peplos, holding a small chest and an alabastron ; delicate, charming drawing of the third quarter of the fifth century B.C.

- 255 A Bell-Krater,  $10\frac{1}{2}$  in. high; intact, and in perfect preservation; on the obverse is a picture of a revel; a youth, naked save for a short cloak thrown over his shoulders, is walking along playing the flutes; in front of him is a bearded man clad in a himation, and behind him a youth, similarly clad, who carries a stick and a kotyle; all three figures are wreathed, and two of them wear woollen fillets as well. On the reverse are three youths clad in himatia; third quarter of the fifth century B.C.
- 256 An Oinochoe, with broad base and trefoil mouth, 6 in. high; intact, and well preserved; a young satyr is running with a wine-skin in his hand; late fifth century B.C.
- 257 A Plate, with a foot like that of a kylix, diam.  $7\frac{1}{4}$  in., height 3 in.; the vase is intact, a great part of the black varnish has become red owing to an accident in firing; the picture, including the border of meander pattern, measures three-and-a-half inches across; it represents a girl dancing; she is dressed in a short, thin chiton with a short stiff garment over it; last quarter of the fifth century B.C.
- 258 A small Hydria, of kalpis shape, 7 in. high; the lip mended, otherwise intact; Eros, carrying an alabastron and a garment, is flying towards a woman; behind him stands another woman; first half of the fourth century B.C.
- 259 An Askos,  $3\frac{1}{4}$  in. diam.; intact, and finely preserved; on one side is a sphinx with one forepaw raised, on the other a running hare; about 400 B.C.
- A black Oinochoe, of the same shape as Lot 256,  $4\frac{1}{4}$  in. high; in perfect preservation; second half of the fifth century B.C.
- 260 AN AMPHORA OF "NOLAN" TYPE, with ridged handles, 11 in. high; intact, and in fine condition; on the front of the vase is a picture of a young Greek attacking an Amazon; the Greek is naked save for the Corinthian helmet on his head; he carries a shield on his arm and lunges at the Amazon with his spear; the Amazon turns round in her flight and strikes down at the spear with her battleaxe; her bow is in her other hand; her costume consists of a long-sleeved and trousered garment of wool, with a short chiton belted over it; her long hair is covered by a kidaris with flaps; her quiver hangs from her shoulder; on the reverse is a figure of a man dressed in a himation with a crooked stick in his hand; very charming drawing of the third quarter of the fifth century B.C. [See PLATE III.]

- 261 An Amphora, with offset neck and triple handles,  $13\frac{1}{2}$  in. high ; this is the vase with Atlas and the Sphinx which is published in the "Bullettino Napolitano" (4, pl. 5); it was then in Barone's possession, and was said to have been found at Nola ; the main picture, however, is completely modern ; ancient are the vase itself, the patterns on neck and mouth, and part of the drapery of the two youths on the reverse.
- A Lekythos, 13 in. high ; small fragments of two vases have been worked up into one to make a vase in modern times ; the subject at present is Eros, with a lyre and a spear, riding a horse ; the head of Eros is antique ; small parts of the clothing are also antique, but belong to another vase ; all else, except a piece of meander pattern and the mouth and neck of the lekythos, is modern (2)
- 262 A squat Lekythos, 4 in. high ; intact, but the picture impaired by the flaking of the varnish ; the picture is a bust of Artemis holding two torches ; third quarter of the fifth century B.C.
- Another,  $2\frac{1}{2}$  in. high ; intact, with a female figure, roughly drawn, of the same period.
- A small Lekythos,  $3\frac{1}{2}$  in. high ; with a running goat ; the neck mended ; late fifth century.
- Another, the neck broken,  $3\frac{1}{2}$  in. high ; with a figure of a sphinx ; late fifth century.
- Another, present height 5 in. ; the mouth lost ; a woman running ; middle of fifth century.
- A small white Lekythos, with the design effaced.
- A small Lekythos, with the pattern on it.
- Two small fragmentary squat Lekythoi.
- A small squat Lekythos, with a figure of a child ; the drawing nearly all modern.

LUCANIAN RED-FIGURED VASES.

- 263 A LARGE AMPHORA OF PANATHENAIK SHAPE, 19 in. high ; intact, and in good preservation ; on the obverse is a woman wrapped in her himation and seated on a rock looking at a naked youth holding a strigil and a stick, who advances towards her ; behind the youth are a woman holding a mirror and Eros holding a stick and a band of cloth, possibly a girdle ; the scene is perhaps bridal, the seated woman being the bride and the youth the bridegroom ; on the reverse of the vase are four youths dressed in the himation ; early fourth century.

- 264 An Oinochoe, with squat body, high handle, and spout; height 6 in. with handle; intact, and in fine preservation; there are two figures on either side of the spout; the subject is a Dionysiac revel; all four figures are rushing forward; a bearded satyr holds a wine-skin and a torch; he is followed by a younger satyr with two candelabra and a jug; a maenad waves two torches, and the procession is closed by an old bald satyr, closely wrapped in his himation, his head heavily filleted, a thyrsus in his hand; the drawing is bold and humorous; early fourth century.

APULIAN RED-FIGURED VASES.

- 265 A large Pelike, height 19½ in.; mended, and rather freely repainted; part of one handle is missing; a lady seated on a chair is receiving gifts from a youth and a woman; two Erotes hover above her holding ribbons; on the reverse of the vase, a woman holding a mirror and a basket is moving towards a seated youth, who holds a laurel staff and a dish; above the pair is a flying Eros; there are elaborate patterns of palmettes at the handles; 350-250 B.C.
- 266 Another, 12 in. high; intact, and in good preservation; a woman with one foot on a heap of stones is offering a wreath to Eros, who sits on a rock with a dish in his hand; on the reverse are two youths; same date.
- 267 Another, 14½ in. high; the mouth mended; Eros, holding a mirror and an aryballos, is moving towards a woman seated on a rock with a phiale and a wreath in her hands; on the reverse are two youths; same date.
- 268 Another, 11 in. high; intact, and well preserved; a youth, with one foot on a rock, is offering a wreath to a woman, seated on another rock, holding a box and a branch; on the reverse are two youths; same date.
- 269 A RHYTON, IN THE FORM OF A BULL'S HEAD, length 7½ in.; mended, but nothing missing; the bull's head, which is finely modelled, is black with yellowish horns and a yellowish tuft on the forehead; the picture on the mouth of the vase represents Eros, kneeling, with a necklace and a tambourine; same date.
- 270 A DRINKING VESSEL, IN THE FORM OF A HORN, height 10½ in.; the mouth mended, and slightly retouched; the horn itself is black and rifled; it terminates in a plastic ram's head, also black; on the mouth of the vase are two figures separated by palmettes; a maenad running with a torch and a tambourine, a fawnskin hanging from her wrist; and a youth, perhaps a young satyr, with cloak, thyrsus and torch; same date.

- 271 An Oinochoe, with square body and narrow spout and high handle,  $8\frac{1}{4}$  in. high; intact, and fairly well preserved; the discs at the junction of mouth and handle are modelled in the form of masks of the youthful Herakles; the picture represents a naked woman, seated, with an open box on her lap, between two other women, one of whom holds a mirror and the other a tambourine; graceful drawing; same date.
- 272 An Oinochoe, with trefoil mouth, 12 in. high with the handle; intact, and in fine preservation; there are four small plastic masks at the junction of handle with mouth and body; the subject is a mænad and a young satyr running; the mænad bears a mirror and a tambourine, the satyr a pail, a box, and a bunch of grapes; at the back of the vase is a rich design of palmettes; same date.
- 273 An Askos, 7 in. high; intact; the decoration consists of a female head wearing saccos, earrings and necklace, between palmettes. Two small Vessels, without handles,  $2\frac{1}{2}$  in. high; intact; decorated with simple patterns in black and white; late Apulian, third century B.C.
- Five Lids of small vessels, in the same technique as the last (8)

CONDITIONS OF SALE.

- I. The highest bidder to be the buyer; and if any dispute arise between bidders, the lot so disputed shall be immediately put up again, provided the auctioneer cannot decide the said dispute.
- II. No person to advance less than 1s.; above five pounds, 2s. 6d., and so on in proportion.
- III. In the case of lots upon which there is a reserve, the auctioneer shall have the right to bid on behalf of the seller.
- IV. The purchasers to give in their names and places of abode, and to pay down 10s. in the pound, if required, in part payment of the purchase-money, in default of which the lot or lots purchased will be immediately put up again and re-sold.
- V. The sale of any lot is not to be set aside on account of any error in the enumeration of the numbers stated, or errors of description.
- VI. The lots to be taken away, at the buyer's expense, immediately after the conclusion of the sale; in default of which, Messrs. SOTHEY, WILKINSON & HODGE will not hold themselves responsible if lost, stolen, damaged, or otherwise destroyed, but they will be left at the sole risk of the purchaser. If, at the expiration of Two Days after the conclusion of the sale, the lots are not cleared or paid for, they will then be catalogued for immediate sale, and the expense, the same as if re-sold, will be added to the amount at which they were bought. Messrs. SOTHEY, WILKINSON & HODGE will have the option of re-selling the lots uncleared, either by public or private sale, without any notice being given to the defaulter.
- VII. Upon failure of complying with the above conditions, the money required and deposited in part of payment shall be forfeited, and if any loss is sustained in the re-selling of such lots as are not cleared or paid for, all charges on such re-sale shall be made good by the defaulters at this sale.

"PROTO-CORINTHIAN" VASES.

LOT

219 An Aryballos, with wide body, height  $3\frac{1}{2}$  in.; intact; the clay is pale brownish, with ornamentation in black; the ornamentation consists of a row of rays on the shoulder, and a number of horizontal lines running round body and neck; the vase belongs to the so-called "proto-Corinthian" fabric, the seat of which may have been Sicily; the wide-bodied aryballos is characteristic of the early proto-Corinthian period, and the vase may be dated to the eighth century B.C.

An Oinochoe, with trefoil mouth, height  $9\frac{3}{4}$  in.; intact, and in good condition; the clay is a warm pale brown, and the black decoration is enlivened with red and white details; the decoration consists of two zones of animals; the style is proto-Corinthian, the vase is perhaps one of the imitations of this ware which were made in Italy, at Cumae and elsewhere, in the seventh century B.C. (2)

CORINTHIAN VASES.

220 A small spherical Aryballos, height  $2\frac{1}{2}$  in.; intact, and in fine condition; the clay is pale buff, the decoration dark brown with red details; a frieze of animals runs round the vase; a duck between two sphinxes and two lions; the field is thickly sown with rosettes of Corinthian type; on the bottom of the vase is a design of crescents; a pretty example of the Corinthian style; seventh century B.C.

- 221 A Pyxis, of pale greenish-white clay, height 6 in.; the vase is intact, but the lid is missing; the animals which form the decoration are three panthers, a goat, two owls, and two other birds; Corinthian rosettes in the field; seventh century B.C.
- 222 Two Kottylai, of pale greenish-white clay, decorated with friezes of animals, height 5 in. and 3 in.; both mended and retouched; seventh century B.C. (2)
- 223 A tall, pear-shaped Aryballos, height 9 in.; intact; two friezes of wild boars; Italian imitation of Corinthian ware; seventh century B.C.
- Another, height 9 in., mended and repainted in parts; two friezes of animals; a spherical Aryballos, height 5 in., mended and retouched, with a row of animals in the Corinthian style (3)

ETRUSCAN VASES.

- 224 A Kyathos, of black bucchero ware, height 6 in., including the high handle; intact; the handle is decorated with two duck's heads and a youthful human head, all in relief; the body of the vase is plain, save for two bands of simple incised ornament; sixth century B.C.
- An egg-cup-shaped Vessel, of black bucchero, 3 in. high (2)

CHALCIDIAN BLACK-FIGURED VASE.

- 225 AN AMPHORA, with offset neck, height 13½ in.; mended and repainted in parts; a panel is reserved on each side; the front panel contains a representation of two warriors fighting; one warrior wears a leather corslet and carries a Boeotian shield, the other has a bronze corslet and a round shield with a flying bird emblazoned on it; a palmette springs from the ground between the two figures; the reverse panel is decorated with two cocks facing, and a lotus-bud ornament; on either side of the neck of the vase there is a large bearded head; the vase is probably Chalcidian, but possibly belongs to some other, closely-allied fabric; middle of the sixth century B.C.

ATTIC BLACK-FIGURED VASES.

- 226 AN AMPHORA, height 12 $\frac{3}{4}$  in.; intact, save for a crack on one side, and in good condition; on the obverse panel is a four-horse chariot; the young charioteer is dressed in a long white robe, and carries a goad in his hand; a naked youth, holding a wand, stands at the horses' heads; a flying bird completes the design; the scene on the reverse is a replica, with variations, of the other; graceful archaic work, belonging to the middle of the sixth century B.C. [See PLATE I.]
- 227 AN AMPHORA, height 15 in.; mended and slightly retouched in parts; on the obverse is Theseus overcoming the Minotaur, who holds a stone in each hand; a woman, holding a spear, stands on either side of the group; the picture on the reverse represents the same scene, but the attitudes are different—in particular, the head of the Minotaur is frontal—and the women are replaced by a man and a youth; the inscriptions are meaningless; neat archaic work, middle of the sixth century B.C.
- 228 AN AMPHORA, 15 in. high, mended; on the obverse, a four-horsed chariot wheeling round; the wheels are foreshortened, and the faces of the two inner horses are frontal; the chariot is driven by a bearded man; the picture on the reverse is an unusual one, two rearing horses facing each other, and a naked youth lying on the ground between them; his attitude, and the drawing of his eye, show that he is unconscious; he has been riding one horse and leading the other, and has been thrown; good drawing of the second half of the sixth century B.C.
- 229 AN AMPHORA, 16 in. high; intact, save for a small portion of the foot, and in good condition; the picture on the obverse represents a youth riding a horse, accompanied by two naked youths running, in the presence of a man; the reverse picture shows three naked youths running a race, with a man and a youth watching them; lively drawing; second half of the sixth century B.C.
- 230 AN AMPHORA OF PANATHENAIIC SHAPE, 16 $\frac{1}{2}$  in. high; intact, and in perfect condition; on the obverse is a figure of Athena Promachos, wearing chiton, helmet and ægis, and advancing with spear raised; the charge on her shield is a snake; on either side of her is a Doric column, with a cock on it; the picture on the reverse represents a race, two naked youths mounted on galloping horses; spirited work of the later sixth century B.C. [See PLATE I.]

- 231 AN AMPHORA, with offset neck and triple handles,  $14\frac{1}{2}$  in. high ; intact and perfectly preserved ; the scene on the obverse is Herakles mastering the Nemean lion ; the hero's bow and quiver are lying on the ground between his legs ; the young Iolaos is holding Herakles' club and a second bow ; a woman stands opposite Iolaos ; on the reverse a party of warriors is leaving home ; a youth with sword and spears is seated on horseback, and two soldiers in complete armour are standing, one in front of him and the other behind him ; one shield is emblazoned with the hindquarters of a horse, and the other with the forepart of a panther ; there is a design of palmettes at each handle ; sound, fluent drawing ; end of the sixth century B.C.
- 232 A tall Oinochoe, of the shape commonly called olpe, height 8 in. ; 10 in. including the high handle ; intact, and in good preservation ; the mouth of the vase is pinched to facilitate pouring ; Dionysos is shown standing with a horn and a spray in his hand, while two satyrs and two mænads move towards him with signs of delight ; pretty work ; middle of the sixth century B.C.
- 233 An Oinochoe, with trefoil mouth,  $9\frac{1}{4}$  in. high ; the mouth mended ; the subject is two warriors wearing metal corslets and Corinthian helmets, fighting in the presence of two youths ; second half of the sixth century B.C.
- 234 Another, 13 in. high ; mended and repainted in parts ; a bearded charioteer is mounting a four-horse chariot, in the presence of a man (perhaps Hermes), a woman and a dog ; second half of the sixth century B.C.
- 235 Another,  $7\frac{1}{2}$  in. high ; mended, but nothing missing ; the subject is a warrior driving a four-horse chariot, which is seen in foreshortening as it wheels round ; the two inner horses have frontal faces ; the device on the warrior's shield is a panther's head ; second half of the sixth century B.C.
- 236 Another, 10 in. high ; broken and freely restored ; Dionysos, holding a drinking-horn and a vine-branch, is accompanied by two capering satyrs ; second half of the sixth century B.C.
- 237 A HYDRIA,  $13\frac{1}{2}$  in. high ; the back-handle and part of the mouth are missing, but the rest of the vase is intact and well-preserved ; the main picture, on the body of the vase, represents Herakles fighting with the triple-bodied giant Geryon ; the herdsman Eurytion, clad in a short chiton with a skin thrown over it, and a fur hat, has collapsed at the feet of

Herakles ; the secondary picture, on the shoulder of the vase, represents Dionysos lying on the ground with a big branch in his hand, surrounded by his attendants, a satyr and two mænads ; second half of the sixth century B.C.

- 238 A Kyathos, height  $3\frac{1}{4}$  in., 6 in. including the high handle, which is decorated with a palmette in relief ; mended ; between a pair of big eyes, a naked man, Herakles, is seen overtaking a running bull ; a sphinx is seated at each side of the handle ; vivacious drawing of the end of the sixth century B.C.

- 239 A small Bowl, with offset lips and no handle, height  $3\frac{1}{4}$  in. ; mended ; the figures are painted in black on a white ground ; the subject is Dionysos seated among his satyrs and mænads ; there are eight figures in all ; slight but decorative work ; end of the sixth century B.C.

- 240 A Cup (Kylix),  $7\frac{1}{2}$  in. diam. ; intact ; the subject on the interior is a running satyr ; on the exterior, a band of warriors setting forth, some mounted and others on foot ; there is an ivy-leaf under each handle ; summary work of the end of the sixth or the beginning of the fifth century.

A small Lekythos, 6 in. high ; intact ; the subject is a fight between two warriors ; the device on the falling warrior's shield is a thunderbolt.

Another,  $4\frac{1}{2}$  in. high, with black figures on white ground, partly repainted ; on the body of the vase is a youth seated with four other persons standing round him ; on the shoulder, a degenerate survival of the hound-and-hare motive ; rough work. (3)

- 241 A LEKYTHOS,  $8\frac{1}{2}$  in. high ; intact, and in fine condition ; in a building, indicated by two Doric columns, a siren is standing on a low pedestal and playing the lyre ; on each side of her is a plant with an owl sitting on it ; the flesh of the siren was originally white ; there is a design of palmettes on the shoulder of the vase ; bold drawing of the beginning of the fifth century.

ATTIC RED-FIGURED VASES.

- 242 A CUP (KYLIX), with stout stem and offset lip, height  $5\frac{1}{4}$  in., diam.  $11\frac{3}{4}$  in. ; intact, and in perfect condition ; the interior design represents a woman, dressed in a chiton, running with her head turned back, and holding a pair of castanets in each hand ; on one side of the reverse is a naked youth leading two horses, he holds a switch in his hands as well as the reins ; the scene on the other side takes place in the palæstra ; a young athlete is preparing to throw the javelin, and two young men

dressed in himatia, probably instructors, are standing one on each side of him; one of the young men holds a flower; at each handle there are two sphinxes seated with a palmette between them; the inscriptions read, round the interior design, Ευεργίδες ἐποι, that is Εὐεργίδης ἐποί(ει), "Euergides made it"; over the athletic scene, ὁ παῖς καλός, "the boy is beautiful"; over the equestrian scene, Πλεχσιππος, that is Πλήξιππος, Plexippos, the name given by the artist to the youth depicted.

This cup was discovered at Santa Maria, the Capua of the ancients, and was published in the Annali dell' Istituto, 1849, Plate B. It is the finest of the five extant cups which bear the name of the maker Euergides; all five were painted by a single artist, who has been studied by Beazley in the Journal of Hellenic Studies, 33, pp. 347-355. Fifty odd vases are assigned by him to this artist; the present cup is number 41 in his list. With the figure on the interior of this cup, compare the figures on the signed cup in Heidelberg (loc. cit. p. 347), and on the unsigned cup in Munich (ibid. p. 352); charming archaic style of the last quarter of the sixth century B.C. [See PLATE II.]

- 243 A Cup (Kylix), 11 in. diam., composed of many fragments and repainted in places; the foot is broken and did not originally belong to the cup; on the interior is a satyr with a wreath of vineleaves on his bald head, carrying a wine-skin over his shoulder, and plunging a jug into a crater which stands in front of him; the subject on the outside of the cup is an ambush; six warriors, lightly clad, are crouching in a wooded place; three of them are naked, save for helmet and loin-cloth; the other three wear short chiton, chlamys, petasos, and fur boots; about 490 B.C.
- 244 A squat Lekythos, 7½ in. high; mended, and slightly retouched in parts; two mænads stand facing each other; one of them is tying a fawnskin round her body; to free her hands she has stuck her thyrsus in the ground; the other holds her thyrsus across her shoulder and supports a panther cub on her outstretched arm; below the vase is an Etruscan inscription; neat work of about 460 B.C.
- 245 A Cup (Kylix), 10½ in. diam.; mended; part of the external design missing; on the interior a youth seated and supporting his hand on his chin, and a youth leaning on his stick and talking to the other; on the exterior four groups of satyrs and mænads; the satyrs are attacking and the mænads defending themselves; lively drawing; about 470-460 B.C.

- 246 A LARGE OINOCHOE, with trefoil mouth,  $11\frac{1}{2}$  in. high, 13 in. including the handle; intact, and in excellent condition; the subject is Dionysos and a maenad; the god is bearded and wears long chiton and himation, his head is filleted, in his hand he holds a forked twig; opposite him stands a maenad wearing chiton, himation and saccos, who holds a thyrsus and offers a kantharos to Dionysos; sound drawing of about 470-460 B.C.
- 247 An Oinochoe, with trefoil mouth,  $6\frac{1}{2}$  in. high,  $7\frac{1}{2}$  in. including the handle; the lip is mended, but the vase is otherwise intact and in perfect condition; a youth dressed in a himation stands at a flaming altar holding a phial, and pouring wine on the flame out of a jug; about 470 B.C.
- 248 A HYDRIA, of the so-called kalpis shape, 11 in. high; intact, and in perfect condition; a band of lotus-bud pattern runs from handle to handle; above this, on the shoulder of the vase, is a framed picture of Kaineus and the Centaurs; Kaineus, a bearded warrior sunk in the ground from his middle downwards, is attacked by two Centaurs; one of them grasps Kaineus by the shoulder with one hand and holds a pine branch in the other; the second Centaur is about to hurl a huge boulder on to the hero's head; two of Kaineus' companions also take part in the struggle; both carry shield and spear; one of the shields has an apron fastened to it with a big eye on it; the charge on the shield is a cock; the vase is said to have been found at Egnazia, and was formerly in the possession of Barone at Naples; it is published in "Bullettino Napolitano" (6, pl. 2); a reduction of the Italian drawing is to be found in Reinach's "Répertoire des vases peints" (1, p. 474); mannered drawing of about 470 B.C.
- 249 A Lekythos, 14 in. high; the foot seems to have been reattached, and the surface of the vase has flaked in a few places; Poseidon, wearing long chiton and himation, is standing with his trident in his right hand; a woman approaches bringing him a long ribbon; on the shoulder of the vase is a design of three palmettes with two buds; about 470-460 B.C.
- 250 A small Amphora, of the so-called Nolan type, with ridged handles,  $8\frac{3}{4}$  in. high; mended, and a small piece missing, but no retouches; on the front of the vase a youth is standing, dressed in a himation, with a spear in his hand; a woman stands facing him and offers him a sword; between the pair is a short unmeaning inscription; the picture on the back of the vase is a youth muffled in his himation; slight drawing, not without grace; about 470 B.C.

- 251 A STAMNOS,  $12\frac{1}{2}$  in. high; mended, and slightly repainted in parts; fine clay and varnish; there are three female figures on either side of the vase; the central figure on the obverse is a woman dressed in a thin sleeveless chiton and wearing a sakkos on her head; she is bending over a table, on which a wreathed stamnos stands; in her left hand she holds a phiale, and in her right a long ladle which she plunges into the stamnos in order to fill the phiale. Behind her is a woman clad in Dorian peplos and sakkos, with one hand on her hip and a phiale in the other, evidently awaiting her turn; facing the central figure, a third woman in a sleeveless chiton holding a kantharos; on the other side of the vase are three women with thyrsi in their hands.

There are a good many stamnoi with similar representations; in most of them the central place is occupied by a rustic idol of Dionysos, in whose honour the ceremony is taking place; Frickenhaus, who has studied these stamnoi in his "Lenäenvasen," supposes that the festival represented is the Athenian Lenaia; fine, graceful work of about 460 B.C. [See PLATE III.]

- 252 A white Lekythos, present height  $10\frac{1}{2}$  in.; the mouth is missing; the slip is brownish-white, the flesh of the figures creamy-white, the shield black, the garments black with red details, and the outline of the figures brown; part of the flesh-white has flaked off, and the black of shield and clothes has been repainted in places; the subject is two Amazons; one stands with one leg frontal, one hand on her hip, and a spear in the other, her shield rests against her leg; she looks at her companion who holds a bow in her hand; both figures wear short chitons, and the kidaris on the head; about 460 B.C.

- 253 A HYDRIA, of kalpis shape,  $13\frac{1}{2}$  in. high; intact, and in fine condition; in the middle of the picture a lady is seated on a chair and looking into a mirror which she holds in her hand; in front of her is a wool-basket; in front of her is a woman holding out a box towards her, and behind a third woman who has just taken an alabastron from a chest which is on the ground; middle of the fifth century B.C.

- 254 A SMALL HYDRIA, of kalpis shape,  $7\frac{1}{2}$  in. high; intact, and in fine preservation; a lady is sitting on a chair and admiring herself in a mirror; in front of her is a maid, dressed in the Doric peplos, holding a small chest and an alabastron; delicate, charming drawing of the third quarter of the fifth century B.C.

- 255 A Bell-Krater,  $10\frac{1}{2}$  in. high; intact, and in perfect preservation; on the obverse is a picture of a revel; a youth, naked save for a short cloak thrown over his shoulders, is walking along playing the flutes; in front of him is a bearded man clad in a himation, and behind him a youth, similarly clad, who carries a stick and a kotyle; all three figures are wreathed, and two of them wear woollen fillets as well. On the reverse are three youths clad in himatia; third quarter of the fifth century B.C.
- 256 An Oinochoe, with broad base and trefoil mouth, 6 in. high; intact, and well preserved; a young satyr is running with a wine-skin in his hand; late fifth century B.C.
- 257 A Plate, with a foot like that of a kylix, diam.  $7\frac{1}{4}$  in., height 3 in.; the vase is intact, a great part of the black varnish has become red owing to an accident in firing; the picture, including the border of meander pattern, measures three-and-a-half inches across; it represents a girl dancing; she is dressed in a short, thin chiton with a short stiff garment over it; last quarter of the fifth century B.C.
- 258 A small Hydria, of kalpis shape, 7 in. high; the lip mended, otherwise intact; Eros, carrying an alabastron and a garment, is flying towards a woman; behind him stands another woman; first half of the fourth century B.C.
- 259 An Askos,  $3\frac{1}{4}$  in. diam.; intact, and finely preserved; on one side is a sphinx with one forepaw raised, on the other a running hare; about 400 B.C.
A black Oinochoe, of the same shape as Lot 256,  $4\frac{1}{4}$  in. high; in perfect preservation; second half of the fifth century B.C.
- 260 AN AMPHORA OF "NOLAN" TYPE, with ridged handles, 11 in. high; intact, and in fine condition; on the front of the vase is a picture of a young Greek attacking an Amazon; the Greek is naked save for the Corinthian helmet on his head; he carries a shield on his arm and lunges at the Amazon with his spear; the Amazon turns round in her flight and strikes down at the spear with her battleaxe; her bow is in her other hand; her costume consists of a long-sleeved and trousered garment of wool, with a short chiton belted over it; her long hair is covered by a kidaris with flaps; her quiver hangs from her shoulder; on the reverse is a figure of a man dressed in a himation with a crooked stick in his hand; very charming drawing of the third quarter of the fifth century B.C. [See PLATE III.]

- 261 An Amphora, with offset neck and triple handles,  $13\frac{1}{2}$  in. high ; this is the vase with Atlas and the Sphinx which is published in the " Bullettino Napolitano " (4, pl. 5) ; it was then in Barone's possession, and was said to have been found at Nola ; the main picture, however, is completely modern ; ancient are the vase itself, the patterns on neck and mouth, and part of the drapery of the two youths on the reverse.
- A Lekythos, 13 in. high ; small fragments of two vases have been worked up into one to make a vase in modern times ; the subject at present is Eros, with a lyre and a spear, riding a horse ; the head of Eros is antique ; small parts of the clothing are also antique, but belong to another vase ; all else, except a piece of meander pattern and the mouth and neck of the lekythos, is modern (2)
- 262 A squat Lekythos, 4 in. high ; intact, but the picture impaired by the flaking of the varnish ; the picture is a bust of Artemis holding two torches ; third quarter of the fifth century B.C.
- Another,  $2\frac{1}{2}$  in. high ; intact, with a female figure, roughly drawn, of the same period.
- A small Lekythos,  $3\frac{1}{2}$  in. high ; with a running goat ; the neck mended ; late fifth century.
- Another, the neck broken,  $3\frac{1}{2}$  in. high ; with a figure of a sphinx ; late fifth century.
- Another, present height 5 in. ; the mouth lost ; a woman running ; middle of fifth century.
- A small white Lekythos, with the design effaced.
- A small Lekythos, with the pattern on it.
- Two small fragmentary squat Lekythoi.
- A small squat Lekythos, with a figure of a child ; the drawing nearly all modern.
- Another, black and ribbed ; 3 in. high. (11)

LUCANIAN RED-FIGURED VASES.

- 263 A LARGE AMPHORA OF PANATHENAIC SHAPE, 19 in. high ; intact, and in good preservation ; on the obverse is a woman wrapped in her himation and seated on a rock looking at a naked youth holding a strigil and a stick, who advances towards her ; behind the youth are a woman holding a mirror and Eros holding a stick and a band of cloth, possibly a girdle ; the scene is perhaps bridal, the seated woman being the bride and the youth the bridegroom ; on the reverse of the vase are four youths dressed in the himation ; early fourth century.

- 264 An Oinochoe, with squat body, high handle, and spout ; height 6 in. with handle ; intact, and in fine preservation ; there are two figures on either side of the spout ; the subject is a Dionysiac revel ; all four figures are rushing forward ; a bearded satyr holds a wine-skin and a torch ; he is followed by a younger satyr with two candelabra and a jug ; a maenad waves two torches, and the procession is closed by an old bald satyr, closely wrapped in his himation, his head heavily filleted, a thyrsus in his hand ; the drawing is bold and humorous ; early fourth century.

APULIAN RED-FIGURED VASES.

- 265 A large Pelike, height 19½ in. ; mended, and rather freely repainted ; part of one handle is missing ; a lady seated on a chair is receiving gifts from a youth and a woman ; two Erotes hover above her holding ribbons ; on the reverse of the vase, a woman holding a mirror and a basket is moving towards a seated youth, who holds a laurel staff and a dish ; above the pair is a flying Eros ; there are elaborate patterns of palmettes at the handles ; 350-250 B.C.
- 266 Another, 12 in. high ; intact, and in good preservation ; a woman with one foot on a heap of stones is offering a wreath to Eros, who sits on a rock with a dish in his hand ; on the reverse are two youths ; same date.
- 267 Another, 14½ in. high ; the mouth mended ; Eros, holding a mirror and an aryballos, is moving towards a woman seated on a rock with a phiale and a wreath in her hands ; on the reverse are two youths ; same date.
- 268 Another, 11 in. high ; intact, and well preserved ; a youth, with one foot on a rock, is offering a wreath to a woman, seated on another rock, holding a box and a branch ; on the reverse are two youths ; same date.
- 269 A RHYTON, IN THE FORM OF A BULL'S HEAD, length 7½ in. ; mended, but nothing missing ; the bull's head, which is finely modelled, is black with yellowish horns and a yellowish tuft on the forehead ; the picture on the mouth of the vase represents Eros, kneeling, with a necklace and a tambourine ; same date.
- 270 A DRINKING VESSEL, IN THE FORM OF A HORN, height 10½ in. ; the mouth mended, and slightly retouched ; the horn itself is black and rifled ; it terminates in a plastic ram's head, also black ; on the mouth of the vase are two figures separated by palmettes ; a maenad running with a torch and a tambourine, a fawnskin hanging from her wrist ; and a youth, perhaps a young satyr, with cloak, thyrsus and torch ; same date.

- 271 An Oinochoe, with square body and narrow spout and high handle,  $8\frac{1}{4}$  in. high; intact, and fairly well preserved; the discs at the junction of mouth and handle are modelled in the form of masks of the youthful Herakles; the picture represents a naked woman, seated, with an open box on her lap, between two other women, one of whom holds a mirror and the other a tambourine; graceful drawing; same date.
- 272 An Oinochoe, with trefoil mouth, 12 in. high with the handle; intact, and in fine preservation; there are four small plastic masks at the junction of handle with mouth and body; the subject is a maenad and a young satyr running; the maenad bears a mirror and a tambourine, the satyr a pail, a box, and a bunch of grapes; at the back of the vase is a rich design of palmettes; same date.
- 273 An Askos, 7 in. high; intact; the decoration consists of a female head wearing saccos, earrings and necklace, between palmettes. Two small Vessels, without handles,  $2\frac{1}{2}$  in. high; intact; decorated with simple patterns in black and white; late Apulian, third century B.C.
- Five Lids of small vessels, in the same technique as the last (8)
- 274 A Kantharos of Gnathia ware,  $4\frac{1}{4}$  in. high; intact; the handles are knotted; the vase is black and rifled, with a white and yellow garland round the neck; pretty shape; third century B.C.

CAMPANIAN VASES.

- 275 A Phiale, black, with decoration in relief, made from a mould, diam. 8 in.; intact; the decorations consist of four galloping chariots, each driven by a Victory; the passengers, as may be seen in finer replicas preserved elsewhere, are Athena, Herakles, Achilles and Dionysos; Calene, third century B.C.
- A black Phiale,  $8\frac{1}{4}$  in. diam.; intact; round the boss, a row of stamped floral ornaments; third century B.C. (2)
- 276 A black Phiale,  $6\frac{1}{2}$  in. diam., with stamped strokes and stars round the boss; intact; third century B.C.
- A black Bowl,  $6\frac{1}{2}$  in. diam., with stamped palmettes inside; same period
- A black Dish, 6 in. diam., with stamped palmettes; same period
- A black Askos, 4 in. diam.; intact; on the top, a head of the young Herakles, wearing the lion-skin, in relief, from a mould; Calene, third century B.C.
