DRYDEN PRESS: J. DAVY & SONS, 8-9, FRITH STREET, SOHO SQUARE, W. 1.

CONDITIONS OF SALE.

- I. The highest bidder to be the buyer; and if any dispute arise between bidders, the lot so disputed shall be immediately put up again, provided the Auctioneer cannot decide the said dispute.
- II. No person to advance less than 1s.: above five pounds, 2s. 6d.; and so on in proportion.
- III. All lots are sold subject to the right to impose a reserve; and subject to the right to bid by, or on behalf of, the seller.
- IV. The purchasers to give in their names and places of abode, and to pay down 10s. in the pound, if required, in part payment of the purchase money; in default of which the lot or lots purchased to be immediately put up again and resold.
- V. The lots to be taken away, at the buyer's expense immediately after the conclusion of the sale; in default of which Messrs. Sotheby, Wilkinson & Hodge will not hold themselves responsible if lost, stolen, damaged, or otherwise destroyed, but they will be left at the sole risk of the purchaser. If, at the expiration of One Week after the conclusion of the sale the books or other property are not cleared or paid for, they will then be catalogued for immediate sale, and the expenses, the same as if re-sold, will be added to the amount at which the books were bought. Messrs. Sotheby, Wilkinson & Hodge will have the option of reselling the lots uncleared either by public or private sale without any notice being given to the defaulter.
- VI. All the books are presumed to be perfect, unless otherwise expressed: but if upon collating, any should prove defective, the purchaser will be at liberty to take or reject them, provided they are returned within *Ten Days after the conclusion of the sale, when the purchase-money will be returned.
- VII. The sale of any book or books is not to be set aside on account of any worm holes, stained or short leaves of text or plates, want of list of plates, or blank leaves or on account of the publication of any subsequent volume, supplement, appendix, or plates. All the manuscripts, autographs, all magazines and reviews, all books in lots, and all tracts in lots or volumes, will be sold with all faults, imperfections and errors of description. The sale of any illustrated book, lot of prints or drawings is not to be set aside on account of any error in the enumeration of the numbers stated, or error of description.
- VIII. No Imperfect Book will be taken back, unless a note accompanies each book, stating its imperfections, with the number of lot and date of the sale at which the same was purchased.
- IX. To prevent inaccuracy in the delivery, and inconvenience in the settlement of the purchases, no lot can on any account be removed during the time of sale.
- X. Upon failure of complying with the above conditions, the money required and deposited in part of payment shall be forfeited; and if any loss is sustained in the reselling of such lots as are not cleared, or paid for, all charges on such re-sale shall be made good by the defaulters at this sale.

Gentlemen who cannot attend the Sale may have their Commissions faithfully executed by their humble servants,

SOTHEY, WILKINSON & HODGE,

34 & 35, New Bond Street, London, W. (1).

Telegraphic Address: "Abinitio, Phone, London." Telephone: Mayfair 4689.

In sending Commissions please refer to this Catalogue as "FAUNUS."

COMMISSIONS CANNOT UNDER ANY CIRCUMSTANCES BE ACCEPTED BY TELEPHONE.

 Owing to difficulties of transit, 21 days will be allowed during the War to Buyers residing more than five miles from Charing Cross, but unless notice of alleged imperfections is received by Messrs. S. W. & H. within that time, no book will be taken back.*

- * * * The first collected edition of Spenser's poems, and supposed to have been edited by his friend, Gabriel Harvey. The border to the title has recently been brought into prominent notice by the Shakespeare-Bacon theorists. They assume that the male and the female figures on each side of the boar represent the Earl of Leicester and Queen Elizabeth supporting Bacon. It contains the first edition of Two Cantos of Mutabilitie. There is an elaborate collation in the Grolier Club Catalogue of early editions, 1893.

- 134 AMERICA. BIBLE, IN GERMAN, Luther's Translation, lit. goth. original oaken boards and leather
4to. Gedruckt bey Christoph. Sauer, Germantown (Pennsylvania), 1776

* * The third edition of the Bible printed in a European language, and of the greatest rarity. Cotton states that only ten copies were preserved. The printer, Christopher Sauer, was born at Laasphe, in Witgenstein, in Germany. He emigrated to America, and settled in Germantown. He carried on the printing business on a large scale, building a type foundry, the first in America, and manufacturing his own paper. This third edition of the American Bible has a remarkable history. Just as the printing had been completed, and the books stitched, the war between Great Britain and the Colonies broke out. Sauer fled to Philadelphia when Germantown was invaded, and attempted to save some of his stock, but the British troops seized the greater part of the present issue of the Bible, and used the paper for making cartridges. How much of the whole edition was thus destroyed cannot be definitely known, although Cotton states: "Of the third edition, 1776, the sheets of which were seized and made into cartridges, the Editor with difficulty saved ten copies." This copy belonged, in the eighteenth century, to Christopher and Anna Went, and contains on the fly-leaf some entries relating to them and their descendants.

* * * The present excessively rare edition, dated 8 Kal. Januarii (Dec. 25), was edited by Ludovicus Cendrara of Verona, who addresses a prefatory letter, dated Prid Kal. Dec. (Nov. 30), to Antonius Donatus of Venice, governor of Verona. This edition was printed at the cost of Innocens Ziletus, who in 1476 was associated with Felix Antiquarius in the Petrarcha "De viris illustribus," printed at Pogliano. It is the only signed book issued by Maufer at Verona. There are some difficult questions connected with this book. It was issued at Verona on Dec. 25, 1480, and after Jan. 2, 1481, a prognostication of Maufredus, without his name and no name of place, but in the same type, was also issued. But Part I of the Bartolus on the Digests, dated 10 Kal. Dec. (Nov. 22) 1480, was published at Venice, "impensa et cura Petri Maufer" and others. Maufer could not have been working at Venice and Verona at the same time. Attempts have been made to reconcile the inconsistencies by dating the present book 1479, as is done by Burger's Index to Hain and Proctor. A roughly executed coat-of-arms is painted on the first page of text, between the gothic initials J. C.

printer of this edition of Seneca, Bernardus de Colonia, is only known to have printed three books: "Majus, de priscorum proprietate verborum," in 1477; the present book in 1478, and the "Dissensio inter Papam et Florentinos" without date. He made use of a small and neat gothic type of rather peculiar form, which is particularly noticeable as containing the diphthongs. This copy, which contains the rare blank leaf, belonged to some Religious Order at Sens in Champagne, as may be seen from the partly defaced inscription at the foot of the first page. There are two other inscriptions in French below the colophon, the first stating that the book was given by Jehan beuf (?), Bachelor in Theology, to a Brother of the Order of Celestines at Sens. On the first page is a note and autograph of Jacques Rousseau, dated 15th September, 1661, who embellished Montagu House, now the British Museum.

- 137 ALVAROTIS (Jacobus de) Opus super Feudis, lit. rom. double columns, 53 lines, 372 ll. with signs. [Hain, *886; Proctor, 5677], modern thick boarded brown morocco, with gilt and blind ornaments, g. e. by Riviere, fine large and clean copy large folio. Impressum Venetiis Anno Domini 1477, die decimo Julii s. n. impr.

* * * EDITIO PRINCEPS. Of great typographical importance and rarity. The present edition is the first of the four or five printed in the fifteenth century. The type in which it is printed is found in no other book, though it resembles very strongly that used in some books printed at Venice, "nel Beretin convento de la Cha grande," between 1474 and 1478; it is therefore, at present, the only representative of an anonymous press. It is also a very remarkable book as regards the signatures, for while the beginning and end portions are signed, a large part in the middle, nine quires containing seventy-two leaves, are without signatures. In one case in the present book the signature C of the second alphabet has been stamped in by hand, in the very edge of the lower outer margin, and hand-stamped signatures are found in a few early books. There is a curious difference also throughout the volume in the way the small letters for the capital indicators have been printed, in some cases in the centre of the space, throughout other quires in the top corner.

ex typ. Rev. Camerae Apostolicae, Rome, 1662

* * * The binding of this Missal is a magnificent example of contemporary Italian work. It is of red morocco entirely covered with gold tooling. The large centre panel on either side contains a bold geometrical design of strap work generally finished off in curves at each junction. In the centre is a square panel of irregular outline containing an armorial stamp, the other spaces between the strap work are either dispersed with small tools, or filled with gilt curved work and branches of laurel. The panel is enclosed in a double frame, filling the remainder of the sides, built up with a series of elaborate ornamental rolls separated by fillets. The back is flat, and decorated as a whole with a line of gilt stamps down the centre, framed in a border of delicate roll-work and fillets. The edges of the leaves are gilt, and the boards lined with marbled paper. The shield in the centre bears the charge of a tree and is surrounded by an ornamental frame. Above is the Cardinal's hat, with the tasselled strings hanging on each side. The stamp is that of Angelo Celsi, son of Hortensio Celsi, a member of a distinguished Roman family. He was born at Rome in 1617. In 1664 he was elected a Cardinal, attached to the church of St. George in Velabro. He died in 1671. This binding is typically Italian.* While the French and English binders had adopted various new styles in turn, those of Italy remained faithful to the somewhat heavy designs of broad strap-work, arranged in geometrical patterns, which had been in vogue for a hundred years. The splendour of the binding is equalled by the beauty of the book itself. It is finely printed in red and black with well-designed initials, and is illustrated with a series of full-page engravings by the best known designers and engravers. Some later prayers have been inserted at the end of the volume. One printed leaf contains prayers for the commemoration of All Saints; another, in manuscript, has prayers in times of earthquakes.

266 Boccaccio (G.) LES CAS DES NOBLES HOMMES ET FEMMES,
MANUSCRIPT ON PAPER, FRENCH WORK SÆC. XV

* * * This fine French manuscript is written on 417 leaves, two of them being vellum and the remainder paper. It is well written in bold lettres bâtarde, in two columns of thirty-seven lines each. At the beginning of each division of the work is an illuminated miniature, that at the beginning of the book being the most important. It is divided into two parts, one containing the figure of the author or translator, pen in hand, seated before a lectern, the other showing a man kneeling before an altar. Round the page runs a broad border of leaves, flowers and fruit among spirals heightened with gold dots. The other divisions begin with a smaller picture illustrating the subject of the first chapter, and the page is surrounded by an architectural border. The initial letters of each chapter are illuminated. This work of Boccaccio, known to English readers as The Fall of Princes, was one of the most popular books of the fifteenth century. The First Edition in English was printed at London by Richard Pynson in 1494. The French version was the work of Laurent de Premierfait, a noted scholar of the fourteenth century, who took his name from the village of Premierfait, near Areis-sur-Arbe. He was the author of numerous other versions and translations, and died in 1418. His version of the present book underwent several alterations in the fifteenth century. One was made in 1458 by Pierre Favre, the curé of Aubervilliers, and in others the original language is modernized. According to Brunet, the prologue which begins "Selon raison et bonnes moeurs," and which occurs in this manuscript, was addressed to Charles VIII, who reigned from 1483 to 1498. The manuscript is in a contemporary binding of green velvet over wooden boards. The covers are unornamented, the edges gilt and gauffred. In the centre of the fore-edge is the sacred monogram I. H. S., and on either side and on top and bottom panels of complicated scroll work.

FINE
AUTOGRAPH LETTERS & DOCUMENTS.

AUTOGRAPH MANUSCRIPTS OF LORD BYRON
FROM NEWSTEAD ABBEY,

THE
Property of Lt.-Gen. Sir Herbert Chermiside,
G.C.M.G., Pepper Arden, Northallerton.

Extensively used by Mr. E. H. Coleridge for the Standard Edition of Byron's Poems, 1898. All are holograph, except where otherwise stated.

- 267 Verses written upon hearing the report that he had made Miss Bristol an offer of marriage, a Parody upon "The little grey Man," in Monk Lewis's Tales of Wonder, 138 lines, 11 pp. 4to, with signed and dated copy (Nov. 30, 1806), and a note by Miss Pigot on the wrapper; apparently unpublished

* * * The note states that the report was conjectured to have been spread by the lady herself, and that the whole is a true tale, even the description of the lady's dress being accurate. The poem begins:

Mary Ann was a spinster in Southwell well known,
The Darling was she of her parents alone,
The Plague of her fellows by day and by night,
So few in her presence could e'er find delight,
For no maiden surpass'd, or perhaps ever can
In prudish demeanour, the fair Mary Ann.

- 268 "Harriet, why that pensive brow?" Poem, addressed to Harriet Maltby, 3½ pp. 4to, 56 lines, signed and dated Jan. 10, 1807, some corrections made at a later date, with other Verses to the same, beginning "Harriet, why such circumspection?" 1 p. 4to, 12 lines, the first published in Hours of Idleness, the second published 1898; and a copy of other Verses to Harriet, 8 lines (3)

* * * According to a most interesting note on the cover by Miss Pigot, these verses were addressed to Harriet Maltby.

- 269 "Young oak, when I planted thee deep in the ground," Verses addressed "To an oak in the Garden of Newstead Abbey planted by the author, in the 9th year of age, this tree at his last visit was in a state of decay though perhaps not irrecoverable," 3¼ pp. 4to, 40 lines, dated in another hand March 15, 1807, with two copies: published in Works, 1832, vol. VII, p. 206 (3)

- 270 On finding the Fan of Miss A—— H——, Verses, $1\frac{1}{2}$ pp. 4to, 20 lines, the heading not autograph; published in Works, 1832, vol. VII, p. 203
- 271 To a Lady who presented the author with the velvet band which bound her Tresses, Verses, $1\frac{1}{4}$ pp. 4to, 16 lines, signed Byron; published in Works, 1832, vol. VII, p. 151
- 272 To the Author of a Sonnet beginning thus: "‘Sad is thy verse’ you cry, and yet no Tear," Verses, $1\frac{1}{2}$ pp. 4to, dated March 8, 1807; published in Works, 1832, vol. VII, p. 202
- 273 "Adieu to the Muse," Verses, 4 full pp. 4to, 40 lines, dated 1807, with copy by Miss Ann Pigot having her seal; published in Works, 1832, vol. VII, p. 203
- 274 "The First Kiss of Love," $2\frac{1}{2}$ pp. 4to, 28 lines, dated Nov. 23, 1806; published in Poems on various Occasions
- 275 "Cease, cease thou hoary lying priest," 2 pp. 4to, 27 lines of blank verse; apparently unpublished
- 276 "Through many a weary day gone by," Verses, $2\frac{1}{4}$ pp. 4to, 28 lines, with copy, which consists of 32 lines, having one verse not included in the holograph MS.; apparently unpublished (2)
- 277 "Oh, thou that rolls’t above thy glorious fire," $3\frac{1}{4}$ pp. 4to, 52 lines, with copy of the first 32 lines; Ossian’s address to the sun in Carthor; first published 1898 (2)
- 278 "Eliza, how weak are the Mussulman sect," 3 pp. 4to, 40 lines, only 16 lines are published in Poems on various Occasions, and the readings differ
- 279 To Romance, 5 pp. 4to, 64 lines, with a note in prose 8 lines, and a cancelled stanza; published in Hours of Idleness
- 280 To Miss H., an ancient virgin who tormented the Author to write something on her sweet self, 2 pp. 4to, 20 lines, signed at the end and dated Nov. 10, 1806, with auto. note: "These verses were written at the earnest request of Miss E. B. Pigot," with copy, incomplete but signed, and note by Miss Pigot on the wrapper; apparently unpublished
- 281 "I sought to tune my quivering lyre," 22 lines; "Mingle with the genial Bowl," 26 lines; in all $3\frac{1}{2}$ pp. 4to, many erasures, both imitations or translations from the Latin, the former published in Hours of Idleness, the latter in 1898
- 282 "This was the hour when night had driven," 48 lines, $3\frac{1}{2}$ pp. 4to, an imitation of Anacreon, published in Hours of Idleness

- 283 The Death of Calmar and Orla, 12 pp. 4to, incomplete, the last five lines which would have commenced p. 13 being supplied in a copy by Miss Elizabeth Pigot, published in Hours of Idleness
- 284 "L'Amitié est l'Amour sans Ailes," 8 full pp. 4to, 72 lines many cancelled lines, with copy corrected and signed by Byron, published in Works, 1832, vol. VII, p. 161
- 285 Epistle to E. N. Long, 7 $\frac{1}{4}$ pp. 4to, with many erasures and corrections, published in Hours of Idleness
- 286 Nisus and Euryalus, upwards of 30 pp. 4to, early draft with many corrections and erasures, incomplete according to a note on the matter by Miss Pigot, first published in full in 1898
- 287 Epistle to the Rev. J. J. Becher, 6 pp. 4to, 68 lines, signed and dated Feb. 25, 1807, with signed postscript saying that the lines were written between 1 and 2 a.m., and had not been corrected or revised; first published in 1898
- * * We quote the first stanza :
- If Fate should seal my Death to-morrow,
(Though much I hope she will postpone it)
I've held a share of Joy and Sorrow
Enough for Ten : I have, I own it, etc.
- 288 Soliloquy of a Bard in the Country, 5 $\frac{1}{2}$ pp. 4to, with many erasures and corrections, with copy dated Dec. 1806, first published in 1898 (2)
- * * We quote the first lines :
- 'Twas now the noon of night, and all was still,
Except a hapless rhymer and his quill,
In vain he calls each Muse in order down
Like other Females, these will sometimes frown, etc.
- 289 To a knot of ungenerous critics, 7 pp. 4to, signed and dated Dec. 1, 1806; first published in 1898
- * * The verses begin :
- Rail on, Rail on, ye heartless Crew !
My strains were never meant for you.
- 290 Mottoes for some of the poems published in Poems on various Occasions, 2 $\frac{1}{2}$ pp. 4to; these mottoes were not used, at all events in the first edition
- 291 CHILDISH RECOLLECTIONS, about 25 pp. 4to, a most important MS. which includes both prose and verse and many cancellations, notes for insertions, notably in Poems on various Occasions, upwards of 22 pp. however appear to be consecutive; published in Poems on various Occasions
- 292 Four A. L. s. to S. Bolton, Solicitor, and auto. directions for his will, in all 7 $\frac{3}{4}$ pp. 4to and 1 p. 8vo, Aug. 1811, with a bound vol. containing copies of the draft will and of the letters, etc.; the directions and a portion of one of the letters have been traced in ink over pencil (6)
- * * The most remarkable feature of the will is the proviso that

BOOKS.

- 305 BYRON (LORD) FUGITIVE PIECES, PRESENTATION COPY, with autograph inscription: "J. M. B. Pigot, Esq.," on the half-title, and drawing in pen-and-ink and sepia of the Byron Arms, corrections throughout and some manuscript inserted and notes on the covers not in the poet's writing, imperfect, lacking pp. 17-20 and all after p. 58, with facsimile of pp. 17-20, paper covers, uncut

4to. Printed by S. & J. Ridge, Newark, 1806

- * * A most important copy of the very rare earliest volume of Byron's poetry, the whole issue of which, with the exception of only four known copies, was burnt by the author on the advice of the Rev. J. Becher immediately it was published. Of the other three copies one belonged to Mr. Becher himself, and is now in the late Mr. Buxton-Forman's library; the two others were sold at Wellington Street on June 1, 1907, and Dec. 10, 1912, respectively. This copy appears to be of the same printing as the latter copy, and, therefore, earlier than Mr. Becher's copy.

Its interest is enhanced by the fact that a poem to the recipient is printed on p. 46, and that it has for many years been preserved at Newstead Abbey, having belonged to Colonel Thomas Wildman of Newstead.

- 306 BYRON (LORD) POEMS/ ON/ VARIOUS OCCASIONS./ Virginibus Puerisque Canto./ Hor. Lib 3. Ode 1, original boards, uncut, original label at back, FINE COPY

8vo. Newark, printed by S. & J. Ridge, 1807

- * * VERY RARE. Only 100 copies were printed of this, the second volume of Byron's poetry, and many of them were destroyed by the author. According to an inscription by Elizabeth Pigot, inside the top cover, this copy was given by Byron to William Smith of Southwell in 1807, by Smith to his wife, by her to her niece Elizabeth Pigot, and by her to Colonel Thomas Wildman of Newstead Abbey.

- 307 BYRON (LORD) ENGLISH BARDS/ AND/ SCOTCH REVIEWERS,/ A Satire [Quotations from Shakespeare and Pope], FIRST EDITION, VERY RARE, original printed boards, back broken and mended with paper, uncut

8vo. Printed for James Cawthorn, British Library, no. 24, Cockspur Street [1809]

- * * Three leaves, B-F 3 in sixes. The first genuine edition of this work with the watermark E and P, 1805, on thick paper. An early owner, Thomas Grenfield, 1820, has written his name and an inscription on a fly-leaf, and the author's name on the half-title; on a fly-leaf at the end are written lines inserted in the second edition.

FORMERLY

The Property of the late Col. Alexander Ewing, of Tartowie, Aberdeen.

- 308 BYRON (Lord) Miniature Portrait as a boy, with long hair, carrying a bow and arrows, a target in the background, on card, oval, framed and glazed, signed and dated W. Kay, 1795; with two letters relating to it from T. Moore to Dr. Ewing of Aberdeen

* * * This and the following lot were presented by Byron's nurse, May Gray, a native of Aberdeen, to Dr. Ewing, father-in-law of the present owner, of the same town, in which Byron lived as a child with his mother. Moore (Works of Lord Byron, 1833, vol. I, p. 55) says that they were presented to her by the poet in gratitude for her attention to him when she left his mother's service; but letters published by Mr. Prothero (Byron's Letters and Journals, 1898, vol. I, p. 10) show that Gray was very far from being a good servant, and that Byron was very glad when she left. The miniature is also mentioned in the Dictionary of National Biography, vol. VIII, pp. 133, 153, and vol. XXX, p. 249; and by R. Edgecumbe and A. Graves, in Notes and Queries, sixth series, vol. VI, pp. 422, 472, and vol. VII, p. 269. It is also reproduced in an article on the authentic Portraits of Lord Byron, which appeared in The Connoisseur. William Kay was the son of John Kay, an Edinburgh painter known as a miniaturist and caricaturist.

- 309 BYRON'S First Gold Watch, given by his nurse May Gray to Dr. Ewing, with gold outer case bearing the Byron coat-of-arms and motto; the watch signed John Ewen, Aberdeen; mentioned in D. N. B. vol. VIII, p. 133
- 310 BYRON (Lord) The Giaour, Auto. MS. of four additional lines to be inserted, with directions for placing them, 1 p. 4to, presented by Mr. John Murray to Dr. Ewing, according to a note by the latter which accompanies the lot (2)
- 311 BYRON (Lord) Portion of a Crimson Curtain connected with a very curious episode of his early married life, unmentioned by any of his biographers; with copy of a letter from Mr. R. Edgecumbe, recording it; Letter from the late Lady Wilson Todd, owner of Halmaby Hall, where it took place, photographs of the house, etc. a parcel
- 312 BURNS (Robert) A. L. s. 3 full pp. 4to (last page and signature slightly defective), Ellisland, Jan. 14th, 1790, finished Feb. 2nd, to Mr. William Dunbar

* * * A most cordial letter, pressing his friend to resume their correspondence:

We are not shapen out of the common, heavy, methodical clod, the elemental stuff of the plodding selfish Race, the Sons of Arithmetick

. . . wee shall press all wee can the two attaques upon the town, the affaires of Germany being in soe ill a posture, that wee must not stay long here. I hope my next will give you a good account of the effect our Batteries have had there being mounted 90 peece of Canon and 30 morters, etc.

- 314 CHARLES II, A. L. s. $\frac{1}{2}$ p. folio, in French, as Prince of Wales, with seal and silks, to the Prince of Orange, thanking him for a letter of condolence

- 315 Marriage Contract, dated April 21st, 1708, between Guillaume Homberg, Physician to the Duke of Orleans, and Angelique Dodait, signed by the Duke and Duchess of Orleans, the Duc de Chartres, and other members of the Royal Family, etc.

- 316 GORDON (General C. G.) A. L. s. $1\frac{1}{2}$ pp. folio, July 17th, 1863, to Col. Ewing, when they were in China together, about the death of a friend

- 317 ELDON (Lord) A. L. s. $\frac{1}{2}$ p. 4to, Dec. 9th, 1834.—CANTERBURY (Archbishop of) A. L. s. 1834 ; twelve Portraits, 1782, possibly the work of Charles Bretherton, etc. (15)

The Property of a Gentleman.

a relative of LADY DAVY, in the possession of whose family the following Letters have remained since LADY DAVY's death.

LETTERS ADDRESSED TO JANE LADY DAVY, 1780-1855,
WIFE OF SIR HUMPHREY DAVY, 1778-1829, THE CELEBRATED SCIENTIST.

- 318 THACKERAY (W. M.) A. L. s. 1 p. 8vo, Paris, Rue d'Angoulême, July 5, 1853, in the sloping, with P.S. in the upright, hand, thanking her for an invitation and giving his plans for the summer

- 319 THACKERAY (W. M.) A. L. s. 1 p. 8vo, declining an invitation
Would I not eat a dinner of herbs and be content. I know they would be excellently cooked and offer myself for a meagre day with pleasure—but I have promised to partake of a stalled ox with Sir A. Rothschild.

- 320 THACKERAY (W. M.) A. L. s. 1 p. 8vo, a similar note
I am just this instant returned from a visit to Eothen at Taunton.
- 321 BYRON (Lord) A. L. s. 2 pp. 8vo, May 15, 1813, accepting an invitation, with amusing comments on the guests he was to meet
- 322 BYRON (Lord) A. L. s. 1 p. 8vo, a similar note, with copy of a savage epigram by him "On the discovery of the Bodies of Charles I and Henry VIII by the Prince Regent" (2)
- 323 SCOTT (Sir Walter) Seven A. L. s. and one to Dr. Kerr, in all 12½ pp. 4to and 2 pp. 8vo, 1811-26, AN IMPORTANT SERIES, two of the letters are addressed to Lady Davy when she was still Mrs. Apreece, some with seals (8)
- * * * Lady Davy, née Kerr, was a distant relation of Sir Walter's, and one of these letters asks information about the coat-of-arms of a common ancestor, which the writer wished to have emblazoned at Abbotsford; another gives a notice of his mother's death, and a third the full history of his eldest son's marriage. Yet another congratulates the recipient on her engagement to Sir Humphrey Davy, while the most interesting of all gives a brave account of his financial losses in 1826:
A very few minutes since I received your kind letter and answer it in all frankness and in Iago's words I am hurt—but not killed—nor even kilt. I have made so much by literature that should even this loss fall in its whole extent . . . it will not break and has not broken my sleep . . . If I have good luck I may be as rich again as ever—if I have not I have still far more than many of the most deserving people in Britain, soldiers, sailors, statesmen or men of literature. . . I have been much more perplexed with the blowing off my hat on a hill side than the loss of so large a proportion of my fortune as is in danger, etc.
- 324 ACTORS, ARTISTS, ETC. including Talma, Two A. L. s., Mrs. Siddons, Canova, Sir E. Landseer, A. L. s., Sir T. Lawrence, A. L., and W. Wordsworth, L. s., etc. (9)
- 325 RUSKIN (John) Fifteen A. L. s. 37 pp. 8vo, 1846-9, most interesting letters, giving graphic descriptions of Scotland and Italy, and containing many notices of his wife. In one he announces his engagement:
. . . I am seeking your hills again to bring back from them a bride . . . I cannot tell you much of her—she is a sweet and modest girl—open hearted—and gentle in temper and manner. I think I may, without even a lover's privilege, speak of her as beautiful—she is the daughter of a lawyer in Perth, etc.
- 326 ROYALTIES, including Christian Frederick, King of Denmark, A. L. s. Nov. 14, 1835, with envelope and fine seal; Empress Augusta of Germany, A. L. s. 1834; Duchess of Teck, A. L. s. 1844; Frederick, Prince of Prussia, A. L. s. c. 1842 (4)
- 327 LETTERS in French and other foreign languages, including a large number from Mme. de Stael, others of Chevalier Bunsen, Countess of Albany, Arago, Cuvier, Alexander von Humboldt, Marshal Soult, etc. a parcel

AUTOGRAPH MANUSCRIPTS OF ALGERNON CHARLES SWINBURNE.

NOTE.—Such copyright (if any) as belongs to the Vendors is included with Lots 332 to 400, but the Vendors do not guarantee that the purchaser of any lot will acquire the copyright of the manuscript comprised in such lot, or any right of publication with regard to it.

- 332 A STUDY OF SHAKESPEARE. Auto. MS. upwards of 90 pp. folio, forming a very considerable portion of Parts II and III of this famous work, its author's most important contribution to the study and criticism of English literature. In many places this valuable MS. differs widely from the printed text, and a considerable number of unpublished passages are to be found in it
- 333 MARY STUART. Auto. MS., nearly complete, of Acts I, III, IV and V, with list of Dramatis Personæ, 163 pp. folio, one of the longest and most valuable Swinburne MSS. ever sold
- 334 Portions of an Essay on Coleridge, Auto. MS. pp. 1, 2, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 12, 13, 14, in all 12½ pp. folio, with some cancelled passages, etc., AN IMPORTANT MANUSCRIPT
- 335 TRISTRAM OF LYONESSE. Auto. MS. of parts of the first rough draft, about 45 pp. folio, including one in pencil, with many erasures and corrections, and including many cancelled and unpublished passages
- * * A most interesting manuscript of Swinburne's most important narrative poem.

- 336 OTHELLO. Auto. MS. of Swinburne's Essay, 13 pp. 4to, published in Three Plays of Shakespeare, 1909; the manuscript is incomplete, lacking the first and last pages
- 337 A CENTURY OF ENGLISH POETRY. Auto. MS. 33½ pp. 4to, of Part II, printed in Miscellanies, 1886
- 338 DEDICATION to Theodore Watts-Dunton of the collected edition of Swinburne's Works, Auto. MS. 27½ pp. 4to, with cancelled and corrected passages; a remarkable memorial of a great literary friendship, full red morocco, Jansenist, inside dentelles, plain end papers, by Riviere
- 339 A Story in French of Life in England. Auto. MS. of parts of Chs. X and XI, 18 pp. 4to, entitled "Le Prince Prolétaire" and "Où l'on voit que les Tartuffes sont de toute couleur," probably about 1860
- * * * These two fragments are from what would have been an extravagantly comic burlesque of the French idea of English life. It is apparently a version, in the manner of Alexandre Dumas père, of the Chartist movement of 1848.
- 340 Poem in Greek Elegiacs, Auto. MS. 2 pp. folio; Latin verses, Auto. MS. 2 pp. 8vo, one apparently on the Headmaster of Eton, "Plagosissimus Omnium Magister"; and four Greek Epitaphs, one apparently on Théophile Gautier, 2 pp. folio (3)
- 341 Auto. MS. prose, 1 p. folio, nine points for a defence of his attitude towards Byron, Browning, Keats, Shelley, etc.; with an Auto. fragment on Marlowe and Keats, 1 p. 8vo (2)
- 342 The Chaotic School, Auto. MS. prose, 5 pp. folio, incomplete, unpublished
- * * * A violent attack on Browning's poetry:
Never, surely, did any wretched incoherent dialect of human speech endure such unnatural tortures as those time after time inflicted, with diabolical versatility of violence on our patient mother tongue by the inventive and unsparing author of "Sordello," etc.
- 343 Cancelled passage and notes for the essay on Wilkie Collins, Auto. MS. 1½ pp. folio, prose
- 344 Concluding portion of a lengthy prose essay, apparently on humourists, 5½ pp. folio, mentioning Anthony Trollope, Prior, Horace, Carlyle, Thackeray, Voltaire, etc.
- * * * The first is spoken of as:
The creator of such living masterpieces as Mrs. Proudie and Archdeacon Grantley, whose elevation to the Episcopal Bench...can surely be only a question of time, etc.
- 345 Essay in defence of his attitude towards English literature, 7 pp. folio, numbered 2-8, but apparently complete
- * * * Chiefly deals with Shelley, Byron, Carlyle, Coleridge and Wordsworth.
- 346 Auto. Copy, 1¾ pp. folio, of a Letter from Robert Burns to Mr. Thomson, containing verses entitled "Cumnock Psalms"

- 347 Auto. Notes, 1 p. folio, on Meinhold, author of Sidonia the Sorceress, and M. de Lescombat (2)
- 348 Auto. List of passages extracted from Chapman's Poems in England's Parnassus, 8 pp. 8vo
- 349 List of proposed Selections from W. S. Landor, 1 p. folio
- 350 A portion of Dekker's part of the King's Entertainment, Speech by Genius Loci, 9 lines, $\frac{1}{2}$ p. 4to
- 351 Notes for Swinburne's Review of Chambers' Encyclopædia in the Athenæum, about $4\frac{1}{4}$ pp. 4to, of which $\frac{1}{2}$ p. is in pencil
- 352 Thoughts on Liberty, $1\frac{1}{2}$ pp. 8vo, apparently an early MS. submitted to a friend, to whom, at the top, the author has written and initialled a request for his opinion
- 353 Portion of a Criticism of Manon Lescaut and Balzac, with unpublished verses; and another prose Fragment, in all 2 pp. folio (2)
- 354 Portion of a prose Tale, $2\frac{1}{2}$ pp. folio, intended to form part of a projected Triameron, an early scheme; with contemporary notes, 1 p. folio (2)
- 355 Portion of a prose Tale, $1\frac{1}{4}$ pp. folio, $1\frac{1}{2}$ pp. 4to, with 1 p. 8vo in pencil, giving a synopsis of the story, which was never completed
- 356 Notes on Shakespeare and Burns, with notes at the back on Coleridge and Shelley, 2 pp. 4to
- * * The notes on Shakespeare begin:
Absence in Shakespeare, alike of aspiration and apprehension of supernatural terror, etc.
- 357 Notes on some of Shakespeare's Plays, mentioning Mariana's Song and Cordelia's end, 1 p. 4to
- 358 SONGS OF THE SPRING-TIDE. Title-page, Table of Contents, etc. 1 p. folio
- 359 LOVE'S CROSS CURRENTS. List of the thirty Letters composing the book; and an Anecdote in French, 2 pp. folio
- 360 ATALANTA IN CALYDON. Prose Draft or Synopsis for this, Swinburne's greatest work, 1 p. folio; it gives the title as Meleager—Atalanta in Calydon
- 361 List of Titles of Poems for selections from his own works, 1 p. folio
- 362 A Channel Passage, and other Poems. Table of Contents, 1 p. 4to
- 363 Draft of an A. L. in French, 2 pp. 8vo, n. d. probably to M. Raphael Périé; and rough unfinished Drafts of French Poems, $1\frac{1}{4}$ pp. folio, and 2 pp. 8vo (3)
- 364 French Poems. Stances à Collette, 1 p. folio, signed Berquin fils; and Chanson de Mer and Ballade, and two unnamed poems, all apparently complete, 3 pp. folio (2)

- 365 French Poems, perhaps intended for use in Chastelard, with a few scraps of English verse, $2\frac{3}{4}$ pp. folio, and 2 pp. 8vo
 * * One of the French poems begins:
 Quand l'amour s'endort La trahison veille.
- 366 John Day, portions of the Essay upon him, part II, signed in full at the end, $7\frac{1}{4}$ pp. 4to, numbered 11-16 and 21
 * * This fine manuscript contains many references to Shakespeare.
- 367 A Study of Victor Hugo, Preface, $1\frac{1}{2}$ pp. folio, the MS. used in the setting-up
- 368 Charles Lamb and George Wither. Cancelled Leaves intended for this study, printed in Miscellanies, 1886, pp. 157-200, 4 pp. 4to, numbered 7, 8, 11 and 12
- 369 Appendix to an Article which appeared in the May, 1884, number of the Nineteenth Century, 2 pp. folio, the MS. used in the setting-up
 * * This Appendix is complete in itself, and consists of Swinburne's acceptance of an acknowledgment by Sir Henry Taylor, that he had under-estimated Shelley's genius.
- 370 Fragments from an Essay on Thomas Heywood, one consisting of two consecutive 2 pp. folio, numbered 3 and 4, the other $\frac{3}{4}$ p. 4to
 * * At the back of one page of the longer fragment is a vitriolic epigram on Irish Patriots.
- 371 Fragments from an Essay on Christopher Marlowe, $1\frac{1}{2}$ pp. 4to, not consecutive
 * * In a greatly enlarged form the essay was published in the Encyclopædia Britannica.
- 372 Portion of the Essay on Charles Wells and his drama, "Joseph and his Brethren," 2 pp. folio, many lines crossed through but legible
- 373 A Retrospect, 6 pp. 4to, May 2, 1887, consecutive but lacking the concluding portion
 * * This was a letter to the press on the Irish Question.
- 374 The Journal of Sir W. Scott, $3\frac{1}{2}$ pp. 4to, partly in pencil, an amusingly savage denunciation of the omission from a new edition of Lockhart's Journal of a passage in which Scott expressed his dislike of Roman Catholicism, consecutive, and apparently complete
- 375 Ben Jonson, first rough Draft of the Essay on him, $5\frac{1}{2}$ pp. folio, much crossed through but legible, the last $\frac{1}{2}$ p. in pencil
- 376 The Masque of Queen Bersabe, portions of the first rough notes for passages from this famous poem, one of the greatest ever written by Swinburne, $4\frac{1}{2}$ pp. folio, differing greatly from the published text
 * * On one page is a draft of a passage in Chastelard.

- 377 Let us go hence, my Songs, first rough notes for this exquisite Lyric, differing greatly from the published text, with notes for another poem, 2 pp. folio
- 378 Chastelard, a portion of the original version, discarded when the tragedy was rewritten and shaped into its final form, 2 pp. folio
- 379 The Jubilee, first draft of the first portion of this important poem, 16 lines, followed by an unpublished prose Note on Walt Whitman, in all $1\frac{3}{4}$ pp. folio
- 380 I found in Dreams a place of Wind and Flowers, first rough notes for this poem, $\frac{1}{2}$ p. folio
- 381 Summer in Auvergne, first draft of this poem, 2 pp. folio, differing greatly from the printed text, with a suggestion for a dedication to Sir R. F. Burton
- 382 Dolores, Note for a Stanza of this most celebrated poem, also a number of Genealogical Notes, perhaps for a novel, 2 pp. 4to
- * * The verse begins :
 She slays, and her hands are not bloody,
 She moves as a moon in the waves, etc.
- 383 Old Malignity, Draft of a bitter Sonnet on Carlyle's Death ; Draft of another savage Sonnet on him ; and Notes for other poems, probably all unpublished, 2 pp. folio
- 384 Drafts of a Sonnet on Charles Lamb, and of three Epitaphs on Carlyle, $1\frac{1}{2}$ pp. folio, torn but perfect
- 385 Draft of an unpublished Border Ballad, 1 p. folio, at the back is a list of titles for a probably imaginary volume of French verse, 2 pp. folio
- 386 Lincoln and Garfield, an unpublished Sonnet, 1 p. 4to, with some alternative suggestions
- 387 Count Giordano, a Dialogue or Scene from a Play in blank verse, 4 pp. folio
- * * The interlocutors are Giordano and Pope Celestin III.
- 388 Rough Drafts for two Poems on France, one written in 1870, the other apparently about 1866, 4 pp. folio (2)
- * * The latter poem begins :
 All the lights of the sweet heaven that sing together,
 All the years of the green earth that bare men free.
 Rays and lightnings of the fierce and tender weather,
 Heights and lowlands, waves and tempests of the sea, etc.
- 389 Rough Notes for Poems, all possibly unpublished, too fragmentary to be identified, $1\frac{1}{2}$ pp. folio and 2 pp. 8vo (4)
- 390 A similar lot, $3\frac{1}{2}$ pp. folio

- 391 Draft of the end of a long poem ; at the bottom of the second page are four heads, drawn by the poet
 * * The poem is a soliloquy in heroic couplets by Death, followed by an epilogue spoken by Pleasure.
- 392 Draft of a portion of "A Ballad of Dreamland"; and two other fragments, in all 1 p. 8vo and 1¼ pp. folio
 * * The first of these is unfortunately torn, and retains only about half the first verse ; of the third verse only the first three lines are written, but the second is complete :
 The green land's name that a charm encloses
 It never was writ on the traveller's chart, etc.
 The third fragment contains the famous lines :
 While three men are found together,
 The kingdoms are less by three.
- 393 Ode on the Insurrection in Candia, 2 pp. folio, first rough draft, with many corrections, of this fine poem, printed in Songs before Sunrise
- 394 Two fragments of blank verse, apparently from one of the plays of the Marian trilogy, 2 pp. 4to
- 395 Prose fragment, ½ p. folio, apparently the conclusion of a published essay or tale, used for setting up by the printers
- 396 Rosamund, proof sheets, with a portion of the typescript ; and a Letter from the publishers to Mr. Watts-Dunton
- 397 Tristram of Lyonesse, complete proof sheets of the volume containing this poem, with corrections
- 398 Miscellaneous proof sheets, with some auto. corrections and additions
- 399 The Sailing of the Swallow, one page of the text of this portion of Tristram and Iseult, from The Gentleman's Magazine, with important corrections and alterations in the poet's writing ; and a portion of a prose story, not autograph (2)
- 400 Beaumont and Fletcher, Swinburne's essay, cut from the Encyclopædia Britannica, with corrections and alterations in his writing, 12 columns of print ; and MS. of a part of his essay on Wordsworth and Byron, 4 pp. folio, not autograph

BOOKS.

- 410 SEVEN YEARS WAR IN AMERICA, Two A. L. s. 7 pp. 4to and folio, to Major (afterwards the American Major-General) Gates, the victor of Saratoga, from James MacDonald, Detroit, Aug. 8, 1763, and William Eyre, New York, giving an account of the rash and unsuccessful attack of Capt. Dalyell at the Detroit (2)
- 411 WELLINGTON (Duke of) A. L. s. 4 pp. 4to, Vienna, March 24, 1815, to Viscount Beresford; most important letter about the measures being concerted to oppose Napoleon, and suggesting that Beresford should invite Portuguese co-operation in Flanders
- 412 JOSÉPHINE (Empress) A. L. s. 1½ pp. 8vo, with envelope and seal, to Lavalette:
Je vous envoie, mon cher Lavalette, une lettre pour l'empereur à l'occasion de sa fête. Vous recevrez incessamment par le courier de la malle un paquet contenant les vues du Simplon que je lui offre pour bouquet, etc.
- 413 NAPOLEON I. L. s. 1 p. 4to, Trianon, March 12, 1813, to the Duc de Valmy (Kellermann), on military matters
- 414 NAPOLEON I. L. s. 1½ pp. 4to, Stolpen, Aug. 29, 1813, at 7.30 a.m., to his brother-in-law, Murat, King of Naples, giving an account of his plan of action for the following days

- 415 NAPOLEON I. L. s. 1 p. 4to, Dresden, Aug. 29, 1813, at 7.30 p.m., to the same, giving an account of General Vandamme's victory at Nollendorf over the Prince of Würtemberg, "l'épouvante est dans toute l'armée Russe"
- 416 NAPOLEON I. L. s. 1 p. 4to, Dresden, Sep. 1, 1813, to the same, giving military directions
- 417 NAPOLEON I. L. s. 2 pp. 4to, ? Dubin, Oct. 10, 1813, to the same, an important letter, calculating the forces at Murat's disposal, and speaking of his intention of concentrating the whole army at Leipzig on Oct. 13
- 418 NAPOLEON I. L. s. ("Buonaparte," the earliest and rarest form of signature), 1 p. 4to, Antibes, le 27 prairial, an 2 (June 15, 1794), to Citoyen Bertier (probably the future Marshal of France and Prince de Wagram), giving military instructions relative to the siege of Toulon
- 419 NAPOLEON I. D. s. (Buonaparte) as First Consul, 2 pp. 4to, Paris, le 11 frimaire, an 8 (Dec. 2, 1799), Proclamation to the Army of the East, on official paper, with printed heading:
 L'Europe entière vous regarde.
 Je suis souvent en pensée avec vous.
 Dans quelque situation que les hasards de la guerre vous mettent soyez toujours les soldats de Rivoli et d'Aboukir, vous serez invincibles.
- 420 NAPOLEON I. Brevet s. (Bonaparte) as First Consul, 1 p. vellum, with engraved heading, le 30 fructidor, an onze (Sep. 17, 1803), appointing A. G. T. Lepoitevin sub-lieutenant of Engineers
- 421 HAMILTON (Lady) A. L. s. 1 $\frac{3}{4}$ pp. 4to, March 13, 1813, to Lady Rush, thanking her for a loan
- 422 NELSON (Lord) A. L. s. 2 pp. 4to, May 1, 1796, with the right hand, to Admiral Collingwood, giving him the political news:
 Peace is concluded between the Sardinians and the French . . . I think, in case of a Spanish war, Naples is preparing to desert us also, and Spain is certainly going to war with somebody.
 Alludes to Cornwallis's trial:
 I suspect some ill-treatment of the Admiralty after he sailed, etc.
- 424 NELSON (Lord) A. L. s. 2 $\frac{1}{2}$ pp. 4to, Victory, Sep. 25, 1805, to the same, an interesting letter on the precautions to be taken against letting the enemy get any accurate knowledge of the reinforcements joining the fleet
- 425 NELSON (Lord) A. L. s. 1 p. 4to, Victory, Oct. 5, 1805, to the same, about taking wine on board
- 426 NELSON (Lord) A. L. s. 2 pp. 4to, Victory, Oct. 13, 1805, to the same, with Auto. note by Collingwood:
 The Rochford Squadron has been seen near Oporto with several prizes with them, if they cannot get to Vigo I should not be [surprised] if they hunt for the Mediterranean, or try to put into Cadiz, unless they go into Lisbon; upon looking at the chart I see they can get into Vigo, etc.

- 427 NELSON (Lord) A. L. s. 2 $\frac{3}{4}$ pp. 4to, torn and imperfect, with the right hand, Boreas, English Harbour, Sep. 25, 1785, an interesting letter with regard to the difficulties created by his seizure of American ships for irregular trading. He justifies his conduct, and states that he has the approbation of the king:

When Ministers support officers, they will ever find alert and good ones, etc.

- 428 NELSON (Lord) A. L. s. 3 pp. 4to, Agamemnon, Leghorn, Nov. 28 [1794], with the right hand, to the same, about the naval situation:

I am, as you will believe, uneasy enough for fear they will fight, and Agamemnon not present it will almost break my heart . . . it is misery for me to be laid up dismantled . . .

Speaks of the Danes and Swedes taking timber to Toulon:

The rascality of neutral powers is all known, therefore I have only to say they are as bad as ever, etc.

- 429 NELSON (Lord) A. L. s. 2 pp. 4to (J. T.), Victory, Jan. 14, 1805:

. . . . All our friends at Naples are pressing me to stay and save them, and certainly their situation becomes every day more critical. The Usurper has made most unjust demands upon them and held out threats, but the Queen is firm. I must not go on with this subject, for Lord Nelson insists that I shall put nothing of politics in my letter, therefore I can only assure my dear Emma of my truest affection and love for you, etc.

* * Nelson used sometimes to address Lady Hamilton as Mrs. Thompson, and he is here no doubt writing in the character of Mr. Thompson. The letter, however, is directed to Lady Hamilton, Merton, Surrey

- 430 GARRICK (David) A. L. s. 3 full pp. 4to, Hampton, May 3, 1766, to the Duc de Nivernois:

I have deferred giving you this trouble in hopes that I might have been guilty but of one impertinence, and have presented my dramatick and poetical trifles at the same time—they were to be published this spring in three volumes, but I am obliged to delay their appearance till next year. A Comedy called The Clandestine Marriage is now acting upon our stage with great success—it was written by my friend Coleman and me, as a commemoration of a friendship which is not every day to be found among the genus irritabile vatum, I have made bold to send your Grace a copy of the play, etc.

- 431 GARRICK (D.) A. L. s. 4 pp. 4to, London, Oct. 6, 1767, to Mme. Riccoboni, a sprightly letter, defending himself against charges of neglecting her:

. . . . I mean to break my theatrical chains and be a Gentleman at large—when that happy Day is arriv'd, my first thoughts will fly to my dear friends in Paris, and do you above all, Mme. Riccoboni, prepare yourself for being tormented from morning to night—I'll haunt you more than ghosts ever did a guilty conscience, or to come a little nearer the truth, more than ever Lover did a mistress. I will so torment you that our names shall be echo'd all over Paris, and we will make a figure in ye Chronique Scandaleuse.

He goes on to speak of Smollett, and protests against being condemned on account of Smollett's prejudices

- 432 SCOTT (Sir Walter) A. L. s. 2½ pp. 4to, Oct. 18, 1800, to Dr. Currie, the biographer of Robert Burns, a most interesting letter, asking whether any materials could be found among Burns' papers which would be of use to his collection of Scotch border ballads:

I am induced to believe (from some passages in the interesting correspondence of Burns) that our late lamented Bard may have had among his numerous collection of Scottish songs some of the description I am in search of. I do not mean entirely to limit my collection to the Riding Ballads, as they are called in our country, those, namely, which relate to Border feuds and forays, but, on the contrary, to admit Scottish Ballads of merit upon romantic and popular subjects, provided they have been hitherto unpublished; indeed, my second volume will consist chiefly of the latter class.

Later, he speaks of his enthusiasm in this hobby-horsical pursuit, and apologises for his enquiry

- 433 SCOTT (Sir W.) A. L. s. 3 pp. 4to, Edinburgh, Dec. 19, 1812, to James Boswell, referring to "The Lady of the Lake," his artistic ideas, and the disaster of Napoleon in Russia:

I have always been of opinion that a bad portrait of a celebrated character, if taken from the life, is likely to be more generally interesting, with all its admitted faults, than a fancy representation of the same personage by a much better pencil. . . . As for the scenery round Loch Katrine, which was a favourite haunt of my grouse-shooting days, I would have been inexcusable if I had made very gross blunders, having known it so long, etc.

- 434 STERNE (L.) A. L. s. 3 pp. 4to, York, Nov. 11, 1764, to M. Foley, of Paris, slightly torn at the seal, FINE LETTER:

I will contrive to send you these 2 new vols. of Tristram as soon as ever I get them from the press. You will read as odd a Tour thro' France as ever was projected or executed by traveller or travell writer since the world began—'tis a laughing, good tempered Satyr against Traveling (as puppies travel) . . . I am quite civil to the Parisiens—et per cosa—you know, 'tis likely I may see 'em again, and probably this spring?

He asks him to get him a copy of his picture by Mlle. Navarre, which he could show in London:

I really believe 'twil be the parent of a dozen portraits to her—if she executes it with the spirit of the original in y^r hands, for it will be seen by half London, and as my Phyz is as remarkable as myself, if she preserves the character of both 'twil do her honour and service too.

- 435 STERNE (L.) A. L. s. (L. Shandy), 1 p. 4to (slightly imperfect), to Hannah:

. . . . I have something else for you, which I am fabricating at a great rate, and that is my Journey, which shall make you cry as much as ever it made me laugh, or I'll give up the Business of sentimental writing, and write to the Body, etc.

- 436 EVELYN (John) A. L. s. 1 p. folio, Berkeley St. Dec. 21, 1698, to Ralph Thoresby, the Yorkshire antiquary, an interesting letter, giving the tragic history of his great collection of autograph letters of Mary Q. of Scots, the Earl of Leicester, and the most famous personages of Q. Elizabeth's reign, most of which were borrowed by the Duke of Lauderdale, and never returned. Of those he had left, some were lent to Bp. Burnet, and lost by him, and the remainder he gave away :

The famous sculptor Nanteuil (celebrated by Monr Perrault) engraved my Picture when I was a very young man, but this being now above forty years since (heu quantum mutatus) is no more me. The plate is still among my other trifles, etc.

- 437 NANTEUIL (R.) Engraver, A. L. s. $\frac{1}{2}$ p. 4to, n. d., to Evelyn, asking him to lend him the pencil portrait which the writer had done of him.

- 438 HUNT (Leigh) A. L. s. 1 p. folio, Genoa, Jan. 2, 1823, to Severn, about the internment of Shelley's ashes :

Mrs. Shelley begs, as a favour, that you would take the trouble to order a plain marble to be put over them, with a name and date, merely to mark the spot till another can take its place . . . I have sent you an inscription for the present overleaf, in case you might feel at all perplexed.

The inscription is :

PERCY BYSSHE SHELLEY,
Cor Cordum.

Nat. Aug. 4, 1792.

Ob. Jul. 8, 1822. [68]

- 439 BYRON (Lord) A. L. s. (Byron: signature has been cut off, and the letter has either the original signature replaced, or an added signature) 3 pp. 4to, Trin: Coll: Cambridge, Dec. 22, 1807, to Mr. Crosby, stationer :

A Friend of mine of this University and son of a member of Parliament, has a satire in imitation of Juvenal ready for the press, but as it is hardly considerable enough to fill a volume, I have consented to publish a poem of mine in conjunction with his and we wish to know if you will undertake the publication. The Satire consists of above three hundred lines. . . Mine is of the same nature, but original, and contains above four hundred lines, with several notes, the subject, the poetry of the present Day. It must be published (if at all) anonymously, and in such a manner that my name as the author may never transpire at any future period, as I feel no inclination to give it to the world a second time, etc.

In a postscript he speaks of the second edition of his poems, to be printed the same size as "Little's Poems." This extremely interesting proposal for the publication of English Bards and Scotch Reviewers is not printed by Mr. Prothero.

- 440 BYRON (Lord) A. L. s. 4 pp. folio, Athens, Jan. 20, 1811, to Hodgson ; several of his letters have been taken by the French

Talking of taking, I was nearly taken myself six weeks ago by some pirates (Lacedaemonians and be damned to them) at Cape Colonna, but being well armed, and attended, the varlets were afraid and made off, or they might have bagged us all with a little skirmishing !

Gives a most lively account of his life in Athens :

I am living at the Capuchin convent, Hymettus before me, Acropolis behind, the Temple of Jove to my right, the Stadium in front, the town to the left, eh, Sir, there's a situation, there's your picturesque ! Nothing like that, Sir, in Lunnun, no not even the Mansion House. And I feed upon woodcocks and red mullet every day and I have three horses (one a present from the Pasha of the Morea), etc.

* * * A MAGNIFICENT LETTER, not printed by Mr. Prothero.

- 441 BYRON (Lord) A. L. s. 3 pp. 4to, April 16, 1816, to Webster, asking for the repayment of a loan :

I have no desire to dun or distress you—but I was surprised at your silence—more especially hearing that you were purchasing lands and tenements. Hearing this I naturally thought you were in a state of disentanglement. And my own affairs being at present in a very poetical posture, I stated to you my expectation that you would take steps towards the payment, for which I can hardly be considered as very importunate, as it is now the third year without allusion to the subject. Nor had it been made now were I not about to leave England, and anxious to settle my affairs previously, etc.

* * * Not published by Mr. Prothero.

- 442 BYRON (Lord) A. L. s. (initials), 2 pp. 8vo, Genoa, July 16, 1823, to Leigh Hunt, referring to The Age of Bronze and other contributions to The Liberal, and to Shelley's death :

Will you tell Mrs. S that the Compass turned out not to have been our late friend L's but to have always belonged to the other vessel—or I would have sent it—but there are some of his books here which I will look out and send, etc.

* * * This letter has been split. It is not printed by Mr. Prothero.

- 443 BYRON (Lord) A. L. s. (Bn) 3½ pp. 4to, Missolonghi, March 4, 1824, to Moore, mended

* * * A fine letter, giving an account of his life at Missolonghi, his illness, etc.

On the 15th (or 16th) J^r I had an attack of Apoplexy or Epilepsy—the physicians have not exactly decided which—but the alternative is agreeable. My constitution therefore remains between the two opinions—like Mahomet's sarcophagus between the Magnets. . . All that I can say is—that they nearly bled me to death.

Speaks also of adopting a Greek girl

- 444 JOHNSON (Dr. Samuel) Receipt s. for £15 15s. from Mr. Ed. Cave, for the Life of Richard Savage, Dec. 14, 1743

- 445 JOHNSON (Dr. S.) A. L. s. 1¼ pp. folio, Oct. 20, 1774, describing his tour in North Wales :

Wales has nothing that can much excite or gratify curiosity. The mode of life is entirely English. I am glad that I have seen it, though I have seen nothing, because now I know there is nothing to be seen. . . . I have [word illegible : ? completed] two hundred and fifty pages of my Journey to the Hebrides. I hope to have the book out in a month, and a pretty book, I hope, it will be.

Sends also the draft of an election address for his correspondent to the electors of Derby County.

- 446 JOHNSON (Dr. S.) A. L. s. 1¾ pp. 4to, May 4, 1779, to Mrs. Aston, asking after his correspondent's health, complaining of his own, and expressing his affection for her

- 447 JOHNSON (Dr. S.) A. L. s. 1¼ pp. 4to, Feb. 19, 1783, to Sir Joshua Reynolds, speaking of his Lives of the Poets :

As I suppose you to have lost your Lives, I desire you to accept of these volumes and to keep them somewhere out of harm's way, that you may sometimes remember the writer.

- 448 SHELLEY (P. B.) A. L. s. 1 p. 4to, Bishopgate Heath, Oct. 12, 1815, to Mr. Hayward, about raising a loan

- 449 BURNS (Robert) A. L. s. $2\frac{1}{4}$ pp. 4to, with remains of seal, Carlisle, June 1, 1787, "or I believe the 39th o' May rather," to "Kind honest-hearted Willie"—William Nicol

* * A remarkable letter, in Scotch, giving a lively account of his mare and journey; we quote the latter portion:

I hae dander'd owre a' the kintra frae Dumbar to Selcraig, and hae forgather'd wi monie a guid fallow and monie a weelfar'd hizzie. I met wi' twa dink quines in particular, ane o' them a sonsie fine fodge lass, baith braw and bonie; the tither was a clean flankit, straight, tight, weelfar'd winch, as blythe's a lintwhite in a flowerie thorn, and as sweet and modest's a new blawn plumrose in a hazle-shaw. They were baith bred to mainers by the beuk, and onie ane o' them had as muckle smeddum and rumbelgumption as the half o' some Presbyteries that you and I baith ken. They play'd me sik a deevil o' a shavie that I daur say if my harigals were turn'd out, ye wad see twa nicks in the heart o' me like the mark o' a kailwhittle in a castock, etc.

- 450 ADDISON (J.) A. L. s. 4 pp. 4to, London, Aug. 24, 1710, to the Lord Lieut. of Ireland, mentioning several people of note, and important political events; also sending some books, including Bickerstaff detected by Congreve

- 451 TENNYSON (Lord) A. L. s. $1\frac{1}{2}$ pp. 8vo, Park House, Maidstone, Nov. 12, 1853, to Moxon, asking him to advance £1,000 as he has heard of a good investment:

My wife looks over the proofs; so you may continue to send them to Twickenham. We leave however on the 23rd or 26th. I have taken a house near Freshwater in the Isle of Wight for three years and I intend if I can to buy it at the end of or during my term of 3 years.

- 452 SMOLLETT (Tobias) A. L. s. 1 full p. 4to, Boulogne sur mer, Aug. 11, 1763, to Dr. Hunter, asking him to thank Lord Hertford for a service done to the writer, and telling of his doings and plans at Boulogne

- 453 SWIFT (Jonathan) A. L. s. 2 full pp. 4to, Dublin, Oct. 26, 1725, to the Earl of Oxford, congratulating him on the birth of a child and promising to send him any Irish coins that he could find:

I doubt this Kingdom will make but a poor Addition to your Collection of Coyns. Severall small silver ones have been sometimes found, but they are onely of some Saxon kings, which I suppose are no Rarityes. If you know Sir Andr. Fountain who was here with L^d Pembroke, he can tell your Lordship more than anybody.

- 454 POPE (Alexander) Auto. MS. Verses on his Grotto, 14 lines, 1 p. 8vo, beginning:

O Thow who stop'st where Thames translucent wave
Shines a broad Mirrour through ye gloomy cave,
Where ling'ring Drops through min'ral Roofs distil,
And pointed Chrystals break ye sparkling Rill, etc.

- 455 POPE (A.) A. L. s. 1 p. 4to, Nov. 23, 1743, to Mr. Slingsby Bethell, merchant on Tower Hill, acknowledging the receipt of a hamper of Madeira on Mrs. Blount's account

* * Urges him to go to Madrid in time to see the entry of the new King of Spain, Philip V, and speaking of the political situation created by the French breach of the Partition Treaty :

What wee of this Nation are likely to doe upon this Revolution, is yet very little knowne, or rather not at all. But nothing appears likely, either from this Court or any other, to interrupt your New King's present Possession of all, whatever may happen to disquiet it afterwards, etc.

- 457 VOLTAIRE (F. M. A. DE) A. L. (in French), 4 pp. 4to, to a fellow Academician, au Château de Ferney, Oct. 22, 1760, mended :

Venons d'abord, Monsieur, à ce dictionnaire que l'Académie va faire imprimer. Voicy un billet de six cent livres, et dans un an je donnerai six cent livres encore. C'est tout ce que peut faire un pauvre homme qui se ruine en églises et en théâtres.

Goes on to speak of Mme. de Pompadour and Crébillon, and exhorts his correspondent to stand firmly to his academic labours :

. . . le temps est venu où le bon sens ne doit plus être opprimé par la sottise . . . l'honnête liberté est notre partage, etc.

Fife," and says that he makes his will "being now bound out on a Voyage to Sea, but calling to minde the Perrills and Dangers of the Seas and other Uncertainties of this Transitory Life," etc.

- 490 HOGARTH (William) THE ANALYSIS OF BEAUTY, original MS., partly autograph, with many drawings by the author in pen and pencil, corrections, erasures, additions, etc., in six quarto volumes, old vellum, a most interesting and valuable manuscript

* * Among the drawings is one of a child crying, another of a Roman general in a periwig, and a third of the capitol of a classical column decorated with three-corner hats. Some rough sketches in red pencil show great vivacity and power. This MS. was said by Mr. Austin Dobson, in his work on Hogarth, to have been included in the Ireland sale.

- 491 ROUSSEAU (J. J.) Se cerca, se dire, Auto. Music, six pieces of Piccini, Galuppi, Sacchini and Pergolese, in four parts, 72 pp., the first part signed by Rousseau with his monogram, an auto. memorandum by him bound in obl. 4to

* * Rousseau's memorandum is an account of his charge for copying the music; at 50 sous a page this amounted to 36 livres.

- 492 VOLTAIRE (F. M. A. de) Copies of a very large number of Letters chiefly addressed to Mr. Gabriel Cramer, of Geneva, and relating to business matters; some, however, are addressed to Baron Grimm; and there are some Letters signed V.

Of Hill Rise, Richmond, Surrey.

- 526 LAMB (Mary) A. L. s. 1 p. 4to, May 3, 1819, to Miss F. M. Kelly, the actress, with addressed wrapper
* * An interesting letter, being the first ever written by Mary Lamb to Miss Kelly, and sending a message from Charles Lamb.
- 527 LAMB (Charles) A. L. s. 1½ pp. 4to, Enfield, March 10, 1828, to the same
* * Written in answer to an inquiry for the services of Emma Isola as a governess; she is engaged, but recommends a young friend in her place. The letter is signed also by Mary Lamb.
- 528 LAMB (Charles) A. L. s. to the same, ½ p. 8vo, n. d. [endorsed Sep. 13, 1828], about orders for the theatre

- 529 LAMB (Charles) A. L. s. to the same, 1 p. 8vo, Oct. 12, 1827, patting off a party, owing to his sister being much affected by bad news of Mrs. Hood
- * * * None of the above letters have been published by Mr. Lucas. They are of special interest for that reason, and also because Miss Kelly was the only woman to whom Charles Lamb ever proposed marriage.
- 530 DICKENS (Charles) A. L. s. 3½ pp. 8vo, to the same, with envelope, 1, Devonshire Terrace, York Gate, Regent's Park, Aug. 7, 1845, a most interesting letter, the first he ever wrote her
- * * * Speaks of showing her "little theatre" to Stanfield and others interested in their play, suggests an appointment for rehearsing there, and concludes :
- Believe me that I had great pleasure yesterday, in becoming personally known to one whose truthful observation of nature and uncommon art in portraying it, have often afforded me the highest delight. I address you in the least ceremonious form because I have known you in your best spirit for some years ; and I feel, somehow or other, like an old acquaintance.
- 531 DICKENS (C.) A. L. s. to the same, 2 pp. 8vo, with envelope also signed, Aug. 14, 1845, referring to the rehearsal mentioned in the last letter
- 532 DICKENS (C.) A. L. s. 1¼ pp. 8vo, with envelope also signed, to the same, Sep. 22, 1845, on the same matter
- 533 DICKENS (C.) A. L. s. 1 p. 8vo, with signed envelope, Broadstairs, July 4, 1847, to the same, asking for the loan of her theatre for a rehearsal
- 534 DICKENS (C.) A. L. s. 1 p. 8vo, with envelope, to the same, Broadstairs, Aug. 11, 1847, sending cheque for £5 for 10 rehearsals at her theatre
- 535 DICKENS (C.) A. L. s. 1½ pp. 8vo, with envelope, to the same, Devonshire Terrace, Feb. 18, 1848, about the use of his name on a circular
- 536 DICKENS (C.) A. L. s. (initials) 1 p. 8vo, with signed envelope, to the same, Brighton, March 15, 1848
- I have come down here to finish my book. . . After the 25th I shall be in Devonshire Terrace and visible any morning at 11 o'clock.
- 537 DICKENS (C.) A. L. s. (initials) 1 p. 8vo, with signed envelope, May 13, 1848, to the same, making an appointment
- 538 DICKENS (C.) A. L. s. (initials) 3 pp. 8vo, with signed envelope, to the same, Aug. 15, 1848, a friendly letter, giving her detailed and practical advice about the composition of a letter to a business man
- 539 DICKENS (C.) A. L. s. 3½ pp. 8vo, with envelope, to the same, Sep. 11, 1848, mentioning the death of his sister and giving Miss Kelly excellent advice on business matters
- Mind !—Once more !—Wherever you go, or write, go straight to

- the point, instead of round it, and you will thank me, one of these days, for perpetually flourishing that piece of counsel before your reproachful eyes!
- 540 DICKENS (C.) A. L. s. 1 p. 8vo, with signed envelope, to the same, May 10, 1853, Guild of Literature and Art, 10, Lancaster Place, Strand, to the same, making an appointment
- 541 GRIMALDI (Joseph) the Famous Clown, Two A. L. s. 2 pp. 8vo and 4to, to the same, May 23 and July 1, 1828, with printed announcement of Grimaldi's benefit, June 27, 1828, and statement of accounts of the same; one of the letters thanks Miss Kelly warmly for her great help in making the benefit a success (4)
- 542 DICKENS (C.) A. L. s. 1½ pp. 8vo, Oct. 27, 1845, to the same, making an appointment
- 543 DICKENS (Catherine) wife of Charles Dickens, A. L. s. to the same; others of Fred Dickens (3) and John Forster, some with envelopes (5)

GRANDDAUGHTER OF SIR CHARLES NAPIER, K.C.B.

- 544 NAPIER (Admiral Sir Charles) 1786-1860. A large collection of letters by or to him, papers, newspaper cuttings, etc., throwing light on the principal episodes of his varied and adventurous career; used by Mr. H. Noel Williams in his recently published biography of the admiral

* * Three events in the life of Sir Charles Napier stand out conspicuously; first, his defeat of the Miguelite fleet, and subsequent activity in Portugal, 1833-5; second, his daring conduct at Beyrout, 1839, when in command of the land forces; and third, his naval campaign in the Baltic during the Crimean War. On all three there is much information of great interest, together with packets of letters from Lord Palmerston, Admiral Dundas, and many other of the most celebrated men of the day. In all there are 31 packets of letters and papers, in addition to a number found in two large volumes. It is unfortunately impossible, within the limits of an auction catalogue, to give any idea of their varied interest and importance, but it may be said that by using them Mr. Williams has been able to place Sir Charles Napier's career in a new light.

Various Properties.

- 545 NELSON (Lord) A. L. s. 2 full pp. 4to, Victory, Aug. 8, 1804 [to John Falcon, formerly H.M. Consul at Algiers], respecting matters in Algeria, and thanking him for his services to Lady Hamilton:

I am obliged by your attention to my dear honour'd respected friend, Lady Hamilton. Monsr. La Touche does not seem yet inclined to give me the meeting which most probably is to finish my naval career, etc.

- 546 NELSON (Lord) A. L. s. 1 $\frac{3}{4}$ pp. 4to (top of page cut off, but text perfect), to the same, n. d., speaking of the arrangements for sending him and his luggage to Algiers

- 547 COPIES in English and Turkish of Treaties with the Dey of Algiers, 1698-1765, old gilt vellum, 4to; etc. a parcel

- 548 NELSON'S LETTER BOOK. The official letter book of Lord Nelson while Vice-Admiral of the Blue, Feb. 20 to Oct. 22, 1801, written on 118 pp. folio, with alphabetical index, rough calf

* * Of extreme importance, being the official copies of Nelson's orders, taken down by his clerks from day to day. The arrangement of the attack on Copenhagen (April 2, 1801), and the line-of-battle are given in full, and form a most instructive illustration of Nelson's tactics; the series ends with an order that in his absence the ships will be under the command of Commodore Sutton. Many of the orders are believed to be extant in this volume only.

- 549 GARIBALDI (General G.) one of the Liberators of Italy, A. L. s. 1 p. folio, Palermo, July 7, 1860, to Rear-Admiral G. R. Mundy, C.B., thanking him in glowing phrases for his humane and generous conduct during the bombardment of Palermo by the Neapolitans, with full English translation by the Admiral's secretary, and draft of his reply; Letters from the commander of the Bourbon troops, transmitting telegrams, etc. Palermo, May 28-9, 1860, with English translation and comments by the Admiral; HISTORIC LETTERS, commemorating the decisive episode of Garibaldi's campaign against the Neapolitan Bourbons, with a photograph of Garibaldi; etc. (10)

- 550 EDWARD VII. A. L. s. (as Prince of Wales) 3 pp. 8vo, Sandringham, Nov. 9, 1884, to the same, thanking him for a gift, and speaking of his voyage across the Atlantic in a line-of-battle ship in 1860.—WILLIAM IV. L. s. March 5, 1830, accepting the dedication of a life of Lord Rodney.—VICTORIA (Queen) Signature to Warrant appointing Admiral Mundy, K.C.B., Feb. 11, 1863, with 12 copies of the "London Gazette," 1810-8; etc. (20)

- 551 SHERIDAN (R. B.) A. L. s. 1 p. 4to, Aug. 18, 1780, to Ozias Humphrey, with three portraits
 * * * Refers to some purchase that is being negotiated, and the possibility of his going to Bridgewater with Fox.
- 552 WESLEY (John) A. L. s. 1 p. 8vo, London, Feb. 13, 1790, to his sister, referring to his failing eyesight:
 But I can work almost as well as ever I could, and it does me no harm, but rather good to preach once or twice a day. I love to hear and read the particulars of your experience. . . .
 Yours most affectionately,
 J. WESLEY.
- 553 WESLEY (John) A. L. s. 1 p. 8vo, near Bristol, July 22, 1790, to his sister:
 I have reason to bless God that I can still see a little. . . . I hope Mr. S. . . . will be more and more usefull among you, as his eye is single. Therefore there can be no objection to his continuing with you a little longer. . . .
 Yours most affectionately,
 J. WESLEY.
- 554 JOHNSON (Dr. Samuel) A. L. s. 1 p. 4to, Oct. 22, 1782, to Mauritius Lowe, R.A. Gold Medallist, Johnson's personal friend, congratulating him on receiving an allowance from a nobleman, with Auto. draft of a letter for him to write to his benefactor
- 555 JOHNSON (Dr. S.) A. L. s. 1 p. 4to, Oct. 1, 1783, to Mr. Tomkinson, recommending Mr. Lowe, with full Auto. address
- 556 JOHNSON (Dr. S.) A. L. s. 1 p. 4to, June 20, 1783, probably to Lowe, offering to write on his behalf to Mr. Barry
- 557 BROWNING (Mrs. E. B.) Five A. L. s. 21 pp. 8vo, 1847-8, cordial and affectionate letters to an intimate friend; other letters from Mrs. Browning to the same correspondent were sold in Wellington Street in June, 1913
- 558 WATTS (Isaac) Hymn Writer, Auto. MS. s. 4 pp. folio, with A. L. s. April 19, 1743, being notes on the life and character of Mr. Samuel Say
- 559 COBDEN (Richard) Two A. L. s. to Dr. Pollock; specimens of Father Prout, W. E. Gladstone, Daniel O'Connell, Grisi, etc. (9)
- 560 DICKENS (Charles) A. L. s. 1½ pp. 8vo, May 30, 1863, to Capt. C. Boyle, mentioning his son, H. F. Dickens, and speaking of his readings:
 I read the "Poor Traveller" on Friday, the 12th of June. If you come let me know, and I will take care you are placed near me. There was quite a tremendous demonstration with my favourite reading, Copperfield, last night. I have never seen such an enthusiastic audience; no, not even when I read in Paris, etc.
- 561 DICKENS (C.) A. L. s. (initials), ½ p. 8vo, June 30, 1866, to Miss M. Boyle, inviting her to come down to Gad's Hill
- 562 THE GAD'S HILL GAZETTE. Nine numbers and two supplements of this excessively rare magazine, dated July 22 and 29, Aug. 26, with supplement, undated, and Dec. 30, 1865,

Jan. 6, 13, 20, 27 (with supplement), Feb. 3, 1866; with an A. L. s. Two L. s. and an A. L. by the editor, H. F. Dickens, the novelist's sixth son, to Capt. Cavendish Boyle, relating to the magazine (15)

* * * This was a private magazine dealing with Gad's Hill and the Dickens family. All the numbers included in this lot, except that for Jan. 6, and the supplement for Jan. 27, 1866, were printed at the little press presented to the family by W. H. Wills. The numbers from Dec. 30, 1865, onwards, including the supplement to Jan. 27, 1866, have Dickens' crest at the top of the first page. The number for Aug. 26, 1865, has been torn, but the text is not injured. The various numbers give accounts of happenings at Gad's Hill, sporting intelligence—chiefly cricket and billiards, etc.; in the number for Dec. 30, 1865, there is a thrilling account of Dickens' railway accident.

From internal evidence, it seems probable that Feb. 3, 1866, was the last number issued. There were then forty-six subscribers, but on July 29, 1865, there were only thirty, so that all numbers of the Magazine must be excessively rare.

563 DICKENS (C.) Auto. Note s., Dec. 27, 1841, to Francis Ross; others of Sir E. Bulwer Lytton, Sir Robert Peel, W. Harrison Ainsworth, Sir J. E. Millais, C. J. Matthews, Madam Vestris, J. B. Buckstone, etc., with portraits; and Two Auto. Invitation Notes of Mrs. Piozzi a parcel

564 DICKENS (C.) A. L. s. 1½ pp. 4to, Aug. 12, 1840, to his brother Alfred, sending domestic news, telling of the loss of a dog, and of the baby's illness, etc.

565 [STEVENSON (R. L.)] To the Thompson Class Club, "from their stammering Laureate," a 4-page leaflet, unbound, folded
8vo. for Christmas, 1883

* * * "The Thompson Class Club" was composed of the old pupils of the Edinburgh Academy, who belonged to the class of Mr. D'Arcy Wentworth Thompson. Stevenson joined the class in 1861, and left the Academy in 1863. According to Col. Prideaux (Bibliography of R. L. S. 1903, p. 126) the poem has not been reprinted.

566 LANDOR (W. S.) "Dry Sticks," 1858, a complete set of the proofs of this volume, with many auto. corrections and additions by the author, additional proofs, similarly annotated, with a large quantity of auto. or printed copy for the book, and about Twenty A. L. s. or fragments relating to it by the author, an interesting collection a parcel

* * * "Dry Sticks," published in 1858, was one of its author's last publications. One of the pieces in it, a scandalous lampoon, gave rise to an action for libel, which forced Landor to assign away his property, sell his pictures, and retire to Italy, where he died six years later.

- 567 GARRICK (David) A. L. 1½ pp. 8vo, n. d., to L. Brown, a curious note about getting him a seat at his theatre :

My wife is resolv'd to make room for you as well as she can in her box.

- 568 BURGHLEY (William Cecil, first Lord) Doc. s. 1 p. 4to, with Holograph Note, being an order to pay expenses incurred by William Hartley, a Queen's messenger, for taking a message from Burghley, "from his house in Strand" to Walsingham at Richmond, and returning with the answer, Feb. 1582 ; and L. s. to Robert Petre, Auditor of Exchequer, sent with an order to make certain payments to Sir Horatio Palavicino or his assignees (2)

- 569 MILTON (John) Signature in full, "John Milton junior," as witness to an indenture on vellum of the post-nuptial settlement of his sister Anne, wife of Edward Phillips, Nov. 27, 1623, signed also by his brother-in-law Edward Phillips and his father John Milton as principals ; and by his sister Susan Milton, James Hodgkinson, Thomas Hutton, and John Bower as witnesses, with typed transcript and a number of letters, etc. relating to his signature

* * This is the earliest known signature of Milton, and it differs in several respects, notably in the capital letters J and M, from all signatures hitherto known. These differences, however, are easily accounted for by the fact that Milton, then a boy 15 years of age, was working at that time in the office of his father, a London scrivener, and the signature is in the scrivener's hand of the period. Shortly after this date the father retired from business and the son went up to Cambridge, so the scrivener's hand was not required further. It may perhaps be objected that the signature may have been written by a clerk ; but this is most unlikely, for the rule was and is that witnesses must sign their own names unless they are unable to do so : and it is impossible to suppose that Milton would stand by and see his name signed for him. This signature may, therefore, be accepted as probably the earliest of Milton's signatures in existence, and perhaps the only specimen of his first handwriting.

- 570 MISCELLANEOUS, including G. Mazzini (Two A. L. s. with envelopes, one in English), Sir William Forbes, Sir Rowland Hill, Rev. W. Gaskell, John Britton the Antiquary, Sir Thomas Phillipps, Dion Boucicault, etc. (15)

- 571 PENN FAMILY. Deed on vellum, March 29, 1727, between W. Aubrey and Letitia his wife on the one part, and John Penn, administrator of Hannah Penn his mother, and of the will of William Penn his father, on the other part, witnessing an arbitration agreement with regard to the estate of William Penn senior ; signed and sealed by William and Letitia Aubrey, John Penn, Thomas Penn, and Richard Penn

- 572 ITALIAN DOCUMENTS, 1592-4, believed to have been purchased in Rome in 1826, and to come from the Papal Cancellaria, many on vellum, consisting chiefly of Letters from members of the Habsburg family to Pope Clement VIII (Aldobrandini). Some are from the Archduchess Maria, others from the Archdukes Ernest and Mathias (afterwards Emperor) and Maximilian; several are signed by the reigning Emperor Rudolph II; there is also a Letter addressed to Theodore I, Czar of Russia, about the Cossacks, a most interesting collection of Sandwell, Radlett, Herts.

- 573 THACKERAY (W. M.) Auto MS. from "Vanity Fair," 1 p. large 8vo, numbered 432, containing the account of a conversation between Becky Sharpe, Lord Steyne, and Miss Briggs
- 574 MEREDITH (George) Thirty-one A. L. s., one in pencil, three with envelopes, 134½ pp., 1882-1904, to Sir Leslie Stephen and his wife, the most important series of Meredith letters sold since those addressed to Dr. Jessopp were sold at Wellington Street in December, 1912

* * Sir Leslie Stephen was one of the great novelist's most intimate friends, and is always supposed to have been his model for Vernon Whitford, in The Egoist. These letters contain many interesting references to Meredith's later works, including Diana of the Crossways:

My Diana still holds me; only by the last chapter; but the coupling of such a woman to her man is a delicate business. She has no puppet pliancy. The truth being, that she is a mother of experience, and gives that dreadful baby suck to brains. I have, therefore, a feeble hold of her; none of the novelist's winding-up arts avail. It is she who leads me, etc.

Stephen's work on The Dictionary of National Biography is spoken of jocularly:

I see that the Biographical Dictionary is advertised. I trust that the Master of the Cemetery for this Necrology is content with the epitaphs on the tombstones, meekly forethoughtful that his 19th century estimates will have no readers but the moons of the 20th, and the moonstruck.

There are many references to political matters: The Egyptian Question, Home Rule, Woman's Suffrage, etc., in all of which the writer's strong radical and progressive tendencies are displayed. In one letter he speaks of Watts' wish to paint his portrait:

for the list among his gift for the nation. It is distressing, for I could not consent to absorb any of his precious time, or to sit for such a purpose. . . I have no ambition to provoke an English posterity's question, who is he? and my grizzled mug may be left to vanish.

Meredith also alludes to the honours paid him in old age, his illness, the deaths of his wife and Mrs. Leslie Stephen, etc. THE WHOLE SERIES IS OF VERY GREAT INTEREST.

- 575 THE AUTOGRAPH MANUSCRIPTS of the following articles by Sir Leslie Stephen: Sir Thomas Browne, Sir Walter Scott, Horace Walpole, Nathaniel Hawthorne, Pope, Dr. Johnson, Crabbe, etc., all published in "Hours in a Library"; also MSS. of "The Regrets of a Mountaineer," "Sunset on Mt. Blanc," published in "The Playground of Europe"; and of "A byeday in the Alps"

- 576 MEREDITH (George) A. L. s. 4 pp. 8vo, Box Hill, Dorking, Feb. 23, 1904, to Miss Vanessa Stephen, with envelope, written in pencil, condoling with her on her father's death

One of the most beloved of my friends Last autumn I was near to going—the loss of my friend spurs the wish that I had preceded him.

- 577 TWO ALBUMS, containing Autograph Letters, Signatures, etc. including Menu of a Luncheon at one of the Allied Conferences, Dec. 27, 1917, signed by General Cadorna and Sir Henry Wilson; Humorous Auto. Verses, etc. upwards of 2 pp. 4to, by Sir F. C. Burnand; Sir Owen Seaman, Auto. Verses, "Between Midnight and Morning," 12 lines 1 p. 4to, written for King Albert's book; Daniel O'Connell, A. L. s. 3 pp. 8vo (last page laid down), Aug. 22, 1844; Cardinal Newman, A. The Property of A. D. George, Esq.

of Chewton Lodge, Highcliffe, Hants.

- 519 AN ANTIQUE CUP OF FINE GOLD, hammered out of a single sheet of metal, cylindrical, with receding base forming a slight circular foot with a depressed ring around the under side, the top edge turned over forming a narrow flat rim, the sides decorated with repoussé double lines forming four squares, at the base of each of which the lines break and turn downwards at right angles to the foot; $4\frac{3}{8}$ in. high, rim $2\frac{5}{8}$ in. diam., foot $1\frac{1}{8}$ in. diam.; wt. 7 ozs. 278 grs., with part of the red earthenware amphora in which it was found 2

* * * This beautiful piece of antique workmanship was found during excavations below the apex of a tumulus practically within sight of the ancient city of Troy, and suggests a very remote period of art—not later than 1200 B.C.—probably of the Mycenaean age. Its great antiquity is beyond dispute, an antiquity which is confirmed by the simple form, chaste ornament, and the purity of the gold of which it is made.
