CONDITIONS OF SALE.

- I. The highest bidder to be the buyer. If any dispute arise the Auctioneer shall have absolute discretion to settle it; and to put any disputed lot up again immediately.
- II. No person to advance less than 1s.; above five pounds 5s., and so on in proportion.
- III. All lots are sold subject to the right of the seller or his agent to bid or to impose a reserve.
- IV. The purchasers to give in their names and places of abode, and to pay down 10s. in the pound or more, if required, in part payment of the purchase-money; in default of which the lot or lots purchased may be immediately put up again and re-sold.
- V. All lots are sold as shown and with all faults, imperfections and errors of description. Messrs. SOTHEBY & Co. act as agents; they have full discretion to refuse any bidding or to withdraw any lot or lots from the sale without in either case giving any reason; they are not responsible for errors of description or for genuineness or authenticity of any lot or for any fault or defect in it, and make no warranty whatever.
- VI. The lots to be taken away, at the buyer's risk and expense, immediately after the conclusion of the sale; in default of which Messrs. SOTHEBY & Co. will not hold themselves responsible if the same are lost, stolen, damaged, or otherwise destroyed, but they will be left at the sole risk of the purchaser, and subject to a charge for warehousing. If, at the expiration of Two Days after the conclusion of the sale, the lots are not cleared or paid for, they may then be sold immediately, either publicly or by private treaty, without any notice being given to the defaulter.
- VII. Upon failure of the buyer to comply with any of the above conditions, the money deposited in part-payment shall be forfeited; and the defaulter at this sale shall make good to Messrs. SOTHEBY & Co. any loss arising from the re-sale, together with their charges and expenses in respect of both sales.
To prevent confusion no purchases can be claimed or removed during the sale.

Messrs. SOTHEBY & Co. are prepared to advise intending purchasers, as far as possible, and will execute bids on their behalf free of charge. Lots will be procured as cheaply as is permitted by other bids or reserves, if any.

- 1153 LARREY (Jean Dominique) Surgeon-in-Chief of the Army, Author of numerous Medical Works, A VERY FINE SERIES OF EIGHTY-SIX A. L. s. mostly written to his wife during the Spanish Campaign of 1808-9 :

From Vittoria, on March 10, he gives his first impressions of the country, which he found not unlike Egypt, either in appearance or in productions. On August 11, he describes the hurried flight of the French from Madrid after the Spanish rising, and the pitiful plight of delicate women compelled to march all day in the burning sun, many of them carrying children. A vivid picture of the passage of the Guadarrama Hills is contained in a letter of Dec. 30. In spite of marching through snow and mud, of being separated from his carriage, and being left without a shirt and with only one wretched pair of boots, the writer was still well. (86)

- 1154 DAVID (J. Louis) Artist, patronised by Napoleon, A. L. s. 3 pp. 4to, 18 Feby., 1808, speaking of the triumph of his latest picture and Napoleon's approval after an examination lasting an hour; goes on to complain that he receives plenty of glory but reaps no profit; Agreement signed, Jany., 1812.—GÉRARD (F.) ... I saw enough of Lord Cochrane, to prevent any surprise at his conduct with respect to Lord Gambier, he bickered with Bennet about the siege at Rosas, he was very active himself, and enterprising, but the misfortune is that he thinks so well of himself, that he will allow no merit to any other officer, he can bear no control, and is fit only to go upon little expeditions by himself, but he would be astonished to find how much he has been outdone in his own style of war by the frigates and sloops . . .

How well Bonaparte must have educated his Admirals, it is a pleasure to have to act with such polite people, they save you the trouble of beating them, by ruining themselves.

- 1248 WELLINGTON (Duke of) A. L. s. 2 pp. 4to, Oporto, May 13, 1809, to General Mackenzie :

We marched from Coimbra the 9th surprised & drove in the Enemy's Cavalry North of the Vonga the 10th, beat their advanced guard at Grijon on the 11th, forced the passage of the Douro, beat their army and entered Oporto on the 12th. The Enemy retired in the utmost confusion towards Amaranthe . . . I hope soon to be with you on the Tagus.

- 1249 LARREY (Jean Dominique) Surgeon in Chief, a fine Series of Twenty-two A. L. s., describing the Austrian campaign of 1809 :

He writes pathetically of the death of Lannes at Aspern. The Marshal was a personal friend, and Larrey says he tried for three days and nights to save him but in vain :

"Je sais que je dois mourir" said the Marshal when Larrey came to his bedside, "mais si je dois vivre tu peux seul me sauver ainsi ne me quitte plus mon cher Larrey."

In a later letter he records some of the last words of the dying soldier to Napoleon

Dans quelques heures vous aurez perdu le meilleur de vos amis. (22)

- 1358 LARREY (Jean Dominique) Surgeon-in-Chief of the Army, Author of numerous Medical Works, A very fine Series of Eighty-three A. L. s. describing the Russian Campaign of 1812-3

After the battle of Borodino he was obliged, owing to the scarcity of competent surgeons, to perform all the more important operations himself and to labour for days and nights under the most unpleasant conditions. From Moscow he sends an interesting description of the Fire, and the sufferings of some French residents he happened to know

In one of the most remarkable letters of the series Larrey describes his arrival at Königsberg after the great retreat :

Je suis descendu cette nuit chez mon respectable et bien généreux ami M. Jacobin qui a eu d'abord de la peine à me reconnaître par l'état de maigreur et de misère où j'étais, d'ailleurs sans domestique conduisant le dernier cheval qui me reste—je suis votre ancien ami Larrey, je meurs de froid et de besoin donnez moi asile pour cette nuit disais-je Mais mon nom lui fait écarter les bras il m'embrasse sans pouvoir me parler, etc.

In a later letter he describes how nobly the soldiers had repaid him for his care of them :

I owe my life to the soldiers he says, and he tells how they rescued him from Cossacks, clothed him, fed him, warmed him at their bivouac fires, when they drove even their own officers away, and at the Beresina where he was left on the wrong side of the bridge at the most critical moment of the whole retreat, passed him from hand to hand, as he says, like a bundle of dirty linen, while generals walking behind him and claiming to be his companions were stopped, turned back and vanished from his sight for ever.

At the battle of Lützen (May 2, 1813) he meet the Emperor who saw him first, and ran towards him, exclaiming :

"Vous voilà Larrey soyez le bienvenu, comment vous portez vous? Vous arrivez juste à propos; voilà une bataille, préparez vous à recevoir les blessés. C'est très bien."

and Larrey worked on for five days and nights in spite of the usual difficulties. The letters continue throughout the winter, and after the Emperor's abdication, on April 6, 1814, comes a letter full of anxiety as to the future of the writer and his family :

"Depuis plus de 15 ans j'ai eu l'idée de la fin malheureuse que je viens de faire, voilà le fruit de mes trente années de travaux et de sacrifices dont 27 ans de service militaire et 24 Campagnes de terre et de mer."

He begs his wife to appeal to their friends among the partisans of the new régime, in the hope of saving something from the wreck, so that they could live honourably till he could build up a practice. (83)

. . . il serait convenable de faire venir Monlosier qu'on enverrait du côté de Stuttgart et dans la Silésie. Ce voyage pourrait être utile, en lui donnant la même direction qu'à l'argent qui est à Koenigsberg Il est essentiel aussi d'avoir à Mémel un Consul qui instruira exactement de toutes les nouvelles qu'on auroit du côté de Riga.

- 1374 NAPOLEON I. L. s. "Napol." 2½ pp. 4to, Dorogobouje, 26 August, 1812, to Maret, at Vilna, if things continue favourable he will be in Moscow on Sept. 3rd :

Que dans cet état de chose j'avais donné ordre au Duc de Bellune de se porter avec son Corps à Kowno et de sa personne le plus rapidement possible à Vilna, afin de conférer avec vous et avec le Gouverneur et de prendre connaissance de l'état des affaires . . .

He continues with instructions as to the protection of his lines of communication

AN IMPORTANT LETTER

- 1375 NAPOLEON I. L. s. "Nap." 3 pp. 4to, Slavkoko, 27 August, 1812, to Maret, at Vilna :

. . . Je n'ai rien à ajouter à ce que je vous ai écrit hier. Il me semble que le General St. Cyr, est dans une belle position, ayant eu des avantages marquées sur Wittgenstein. De Duc de Tarrante [Macdonald] doit s'occuper du siège de Riga, faites lui connaître ma marche sur Moscou qui tiendra en échec toutes les forces de la Monarchie . . .

- 1376 NAPOLEON I. L. s. "Nap." Viazma, 30 August, 1812, to Maret, at Vilna, announcing his entry into Viazma; the Russians had set fire to it before leaving, but the fire had been put out, the town saved and large stores found :

. . . tout paraît se préparer pour une grande bataille; les habitants de Moscou ne semblent pas disposés à se laisser abandonner et tout porte à penser que cette bataille aura lieu avant huit jours.

- 1377 NAPOLEON I. L. s. "Napol." Velitchovo, 1 September, 1812 :

. . . je vois avec surprise les dispositions du Général Hogendorp, qui changent la route de l'armée sur le plus léger bruit. Je n'ai vu dans aucune Campagne des Gouverneurs plus alarmistes—ces bruits retentissent en Allemagne et font le plus mauvais effet. Il faut que le Général Hogendorp ait perdu la tête.

- 1378 NAPOLEON I. L. s. "Nap." 1½ pp. 4to, Ghjatsk, 3 Sept., 1812, to Maret :

... Temoignez mon mécontentement à l'Archévêque de Malines de ce qu'il a laissé passer un courrier Russe par le Duché—Il faut qu'on soit bien bête à Varsovie : je ne connais rien à cette imbécillité. Tous les Courriers Russes doivent être arrêtés . . .

- 1379 NAPOLEON I. L. s. "Nap." 1½ pp. 4to, Ghjatsk, 3 Sept., 1812, to Maret :

... écrivez à Constantinople pour annoncer la prise de Smolensk, et notre approche de Moscou.

- 1380 NAPOLEON I. L. s. "Nap." Mjaiske, 9 Sept., 1812, to Maret, saying that he has a bad cold which he hopes will have gone by the morrow; the weather is cold enough for November :

... La perte des Russes à la bataille de la Moskwa est enorme. C'est le champ de bataille le plus beau que j'ai encore vu. Il y a 2000 francais et 12000 Russes sans aucune exagération . . . J'ai besoin de tous mes renforts. Mon avant garde est à 15 lieux de Moscow. Notre perte est 9000 hommes, celle de l'enneme est 30 à 40,000 . . .

LOT 1381.

NAPOLEON I. L. s. "Nap."  $\frac{1}{2}$  p. 4to, Petelina près Tatarki, 13 Sept., 1812, to Maret :

"Je suis à 6 lieues de Moscou. On ne sait pas bien ce qui se fait dans cette grande ville . . .," etc. This is the only despatch written from Petelina, where Napoleon slept the night of the 12-13. In the morning he moved his headquarters to Borowsk about 3 leagues nearer Moscow.

Le Major Général donne ordre que deux millions de Roubles en papier qui sont à Vilna, provenant de saisies faites dans le Duché de Lithuanie, pendant la Compagne, soient versés dans la caisse du payeur . . ., etc.

1383 NAPOLEON I. L. s. "Nap." 1 p. 4to, Moscou, 30 Sept., 1812, to Maret :

Je vous envoie un rapport du Prince de Neufchatel [Berthier]. Vous verrez à quel point on pousse à Varsovie la mauvaise volonté. Il paraît que mon Ambassadeur est un imbécile qui ne fait rien, et que les Ministres du Grand Duché ne font rien non plus.

1384 NAPOLEON I. L. s. "Napoleo." 1 p. 4to, Moscou, 4 Oct., 1812, to Maret :

Ecrivez au Ministre d'Amérique de venir vous trouver à Vilna pour y arranger toutes ses affaires.

Donnez ordre au Conseiller d'Etat Dalberg de remettre tous les papiers de sa Mission . . . Contrairement à ses devoirs il a communiqué à d'autres qu'au Ministre des pièces de cette négociation, et il a trahi ainsi mes secrets...

1385 NAPOLEON I. L. s. "Nap." 2 pp. 4to, Moscou, 6 Oct., 1812, to Maret :

Vous ne me parlez pas de la requisition des vivres. Je ne vois pas qu'il y ait de Magasins à Minsk et à Vilna. Cependant le blé et la farine ne manquent pas dans ces Gouvernemens. Il y a donc mauvaise volonté . . .

Désapprouvez le Consul à New York [Baron Lescallier] d'avoir donné des passeports à une personne marquante sans vos ordres : que désormais cela ne lui arrive pas. Faites moi connaître quel est ce Consul . . .

P 2

- 1386 NAPOLEON I. L. s. "Nap." 3 pp. 4to, partly in cipher, Moscou, 9 Oct., 1812, to Maret :

Tout porte à penser que lorsque la dernière quinzaine de Novembre arrivera, c'est à dire la véritable saison des quartiers d'hiver je les prendrai entre la Duina et le Borysthène afin d'être plus à portée de mes secours de faire reposer l'armée, et de vaquer à beaucoup d'autres affaires . . .

- 1387 NAPOLEON I. L. s. "Nap."  $\frac{1}{2}$  p. 4to, Moscou, 14 Oct., 1812, to Maret, saying that he is enclosing a document found in the Kremlin which Napoleon desired to have preserved in the Archives of the Foreign Office at Paris. The document which is enclosed, is headed "Copie d'un projet de note trouvé dans les papiers du Cte. Rostopchin et minuté de sa main," and is a scheme for the division of Europe between France and Russia, the boundary of the latter to be the line of the Vistula, the King of Prussia being compensated with Hanover and Brunswick. The document is undated, but the late owner suggests that it was drawn up soon after the Treaty of Campo Formio [Sept. 1797], when Rostopchin was high in favour of the Czar Paul I (2)

- 1388 NAPOLEON I. A Series of Nine Letters (unsigned), dated from Moscow, 15-19 October, 1812, to Maret :

his anxiety for news, any of importance to be sent him in cypher, urgent orders concerning the movements of troops, instructs Maret to allow a credit of a hundred thousand francs for the purchase of horses ; his decision to evacuate Moscow and already the sick and wounded have been moved. Moscow is in ruins, except the Kremlin and the Arsenal, and is no longer of military importance.

** The late owner looked upon this series as the drafts of cipher letters by Maret's secretary. (9)

- 1389 NAPOLEON I. Letter (entirely in cypher) signed "Nap." Troiskoe, 20 Oct., 1812, to Maret, with deciphering :

Je fais sauter le Kremlin le 22 à trois heures du matin. Le Duc de Treviso évacue Moscow et se porte sur Mojaïsk. Je me porte à demi-chemin de Kalonga et de là je me rends à Smolensk et Witepsk par la même route. . . . Ma cavalerie est démontée et il meurt beaucoup de chevaux ; ordonnez en prenez sur vous que l'on ne perde pas tems à en acheter. (2)

- 1390 NAPOLEON I. L. s. "Nap." (partly in cypher), 2 $\frac{1}{2}$  pp. 4to, Vereya, 27 Oct., 1812, to Maret, announcing a retreat and complaining of the Cossacks as :

une nuée de barbares qui jetée sur nos communications et sur nos derrières auraient pu faire essuyer bien des pertes et inquiéter nos quartiers d'hiver . . . envoyez nous une grande quantité de chevaux. Accélérez les mesures du Gouvernement, et dirigez tous les effets d'habillement sur Minsk.

With deciphering ; and Letter (unsigned, partly in cypher), Barovsk, 24 Oct., and deciphering (4)

- 1391 NAPOLEON I. L. s. "Nap." 2½ pp. 4to, Slavkovo, 3 November, 1812, to Maret, sending details of further help required from German Princes; with three decipherings of letters 1-6 November, speaking of the fatigue of the army and that 100 horses die each night (4)
- 1392 NAPOLEON I. L. s. "Nap." with three words added in his hand, ½ p. 4to, Mikaelowka, 6 November, 1812, giving news of the attempted coup d'état in Paris; it is curious that Maret should not have heard of this earlier, since being at Vilna he was considerably nearer Paris than the Emperor
- 1393 NAPOLEON I. Auto. Note signed "Ne les faire pas dissoudre, la marine les doit payer afin de les retrouver au printemps N." 2 pp. folio, 19 Dec., 1812, on a report of the Duc de Feltre, concerning three battalions of Spanish prisoners
- 1394 NAPOLEON I. Licence Spéciale signed "N." 1 p. folio, with vignette and seal, concerning the ship "Le Phoenix"; also signed by the following Ministers Comte de Suset, Decrés, Du Ducy, and Perrières
- 1395 NAPOLEON I. Auto. Minute signed "Accordé N." 1 p. folio, 29 Oct., 1812, on a report of the Duc de Feltre, concerning three soldiers who had been interned in Switzerland; also signed by the Duc de Feltre

M.) Marshal of France, Two important A. L. s. Jany., 1814, on the military situation.—MACDONALD (E. J. J. A.) Duc de Tarante, Marshal, A. L. s. 1 p. 4to, Gratz, 1809, thanking a friend for his congratulations on the writer's new honours, A. L. s. Barcelonne, 4 April, 1811, to Berthier, mentioning the good services of several of his officers; and Auto. Minute signed, to a Petition (7)
- 1397 BONAPARTE (Elisa) sister of Napoleon, L. s. ½ p. 4to, Pitti, 5 August, 1812, to Duc de Feltre, thanking him for a map of Russia
L. s. Pisa, 20 Jany., 1813, to Feltre, a letter recommending a soldier for advancement (2)
- 1398 JOSEPHINE (Wife of Napoleon) A. L. s. 1 p. 4to, Milan, 4 August [1812], to Hortense, ex-Queen of Holland:
La vice reine continue à être tres bien, ma chère Hortense; sa fille est forte et bien portante en tout elle a les plus beaux enfants que j'aye vus. J'ai reçu ce matin une lettre d'Eugene . . . il était enchanté d'être plus près de l'Empereur . . .

- 1399 MARIE LOUISE, second wife of Napoleon, A. L. s.  $\frac{1}{2}$  p. 4to, Paris, 15 August, 1812 [? to Maret], thanking him for sending news of Napoleon. She has been glad to arrive at St. Cloud and find her son as well as she could wish
- 1400 MOREAU (J. V.) General, A. L. s. 2 pp. 4to, when in exile in America, 16 March, 1812, to Mons. St. Paul saying he has lost all his books in a fire and wishes to renew them.
A. L. s. 3 pp. 4to, New York, 17 Feb., 1813, to Colonel Rapatel (who was in the service of the Czar):
Toute cette campagne de Russie a un caractère bien particulier d'imprudence et de faute tant en allant qu'en revenant qu'il m'est bien difficile de concilier avec l'habitude que Bonaparte a de la guerre. Il a joué comme un enfant gâté qui ne croyait rien d'impossible à son étoile, mais celle du nord lui a fait faux-bond.
A. L. s., 4 pp. 4to, Philadelphia, 3 April, 1813, to the same:
" . . . Je crois que l'Empereur de Russie veut détruire Bonaparte et conserver la France intacte. Ceci lui est du plus grand intérêt, malgré la folie momentanée de Bonaparte, ce n'est pas cette nation que la Russie doit craindre . . .," and he proceeds to suggest that he should be authorised to raise an army from among the French prisoners captured in Russia, and to land with it in France.
AN EXTREMELY INTERESTING CORRESPONDENCE. (3)
- 1401 MURAT (Joachim) A. L. s. 3 pp. 4to., Posen, 26 May, 1812, to General Belliard, describes the confusion that prevailed during the advance into Russia:
 . . . J'arrivais ici comme un petit St. Jean moine Saint que lui sans doute, mais pour le moins aussi pauvre—je veux dire en équipages, car vous saurez que j'arrive seulement avec quelques officiers, sans chevaux, sans cuisine, et sans équipages, etc.
A. L. s. 4to, Rozelvo (31 Oct., 1812), to Belliard, expressing a sanguine view of the military situation:
 . . . Sois tranquille sur nos opérations, je sais être prudent quand il le faut, et sûrement c'est maintenant le cas . . . Que fait on à Moscow, je ne reçois plus de lettres de l'Empereur, et très peu du Major General fais moi le plaisir de me donner des nouvelles de la santé de l'Empereur . . .
A. L. s. 2 pp. 4to, Keonigsberg, 26 Dec., 1812, after the great retreat when Murat was left in command of what remained of the grand army after the Emperor had left it; he speaks in indignant terms of generals who desert the Army:
 . . . Tout le monde demande à quitter l'armée. Je suis en vérité indigné de cet état de démoralisation générale. Si cet état de choses continue, on ne peut prévoir où le mal s'arrêtera. Parlez donc aux officiers Généraux de Cavalerie—parlez leur de leur gloire; rappelez leur les journées de Wertingen, de Dubec, d'Eylau et de la Moskowa. La cavalerie pourrait elle plus longtemps fuir devant de misérables Cosaques qu'elle a mené tambours battants pendant l'espace de 300 lieux. Murat himself left the army, without leave, in less than a fortnight, and was disgraced by the Emperor. (3)
- 1402 WELLINGTON (Duke of) L. s.  $2\frac{1}{2}$  pp. 4to, Villa Toro, Oct. 9, 1812, to Popham, (partly in cypher), is glad to learn that Popham will remain on the coast during the winter. The Portion in

- 1403 WELLINGTON (Duke of) L. s. 1½ pp. folio, Fuente Guinaldo, 28 April, 1812, to "Monsieur le Général":

Concerning the Town of Badajos, he is going to repair the damage done by the English and has left certain troops to do the work.

- 1404 WELLINGTON (Duke of) A. L. s. 1½ pp. 4to, Cuellar, August 4, 1812, to Sir Home Popham:

Announcing that he has driven Marmont's army as far as Burgos. Congratulates Popham on his successful operations which have been of great assistance to Wellington.

- 1405 WELLINGTON (Duke of) L. s. 3½ pp. folio, Villa Toro, Oct 2nd, 1812, to Popham:

... The great object for me is that you should draw the attention of the Enemy by your operations ... and prevent Caffarelli from detaching troops to aid Marmont's Army. It would be desirable ... that you should get possession of Santona and also of Guataria ... I confess that I entertain so bad an opinion of the Spanish Troops that I don't think you can rely upon them ...

I am very much afraid that I shall not take this Castle [Santona]. It is very strong, well garrisoned and well provided with artillery. I have only 3 pieces of cannon and not much ammunition ...

With A. L. s. from Wellington to Popham requiring the delivery of 200 quintals of gunpowder (2)

- 1406 BONAPARTE (Caroline) Queen of Naples, sister of Napoleon, A. L. s. 3 pp. 4to, Naples, 4 Feby. [1813], to the Emperor Napoleon

Referring to Murat who was left in command of what remained of the Grand Army, in the retreat from Moscow, after the Emperor had left it. Murat was disgraced by Napoleon for leaving the Army without leave in less than a fortnight and returning to Naples. This letter begs Napoleon to pardon her husband and to believe that he only left the Army on account of his health and because he felt he could be of no further use there:

 ... I shall set out to join the Army in a day or two and we shall immediately commence our operations by again penetrating into the heart of Spain. If the Spaniards were capable of any energy I have no doubt but we should perfectly succeed but they have neither the spirit of men nor common honest intentions. All with them is a mass of intrigue and deceit.

as no one likes to see the man by whom he has been beaten . . . He is very gay and certainly not unhappy, but at the same time I do not think him easy in his present situation, and very far indeed from the tranquility of a philosopher . . . Talking to me of the American War, he said "C'est une guerre de vengeance, the frontier can be of no importance to you, and you have no object in continuing the contest." he thinks it weakens us at the Congress.

... I give credit to everything that is bad that is told to me of Frenchmen. Their late conduct in the face of all Europe shews what they are. But I must add that the intercourse which I had with them last year proved to me that all sense of morality and justice and all ideas of honour excepting of that which is more properly called courage and I believe is to be found in all nations, have vanished and have been replaced by the stupidest, grossest and lowest order of selfishness, viz. that kind which would sacrifice everything, including a man's own worldly prospects for the gratification only of his vanity for a moment.
The French by their revolutions and their military operations have certainly ruined the world, but I must say that bad as is the situation of other countries, their own is in a worse.

This important correspondence shews beyond doubt that it was impossible for Napoleon to escape in a French ship owing to the vigilance of the English, and that he was forced to take refuge on the "Bellerophon," because if he had not done so he would have been arrested by the Government of Louis XVIII. This is proved by Bonnéfoux's letter dated July 14, and delivered early the following morning.

Je suis dans les angoisses, j'ignore si l'Empereur est parti, et je reçois l'ordre de le faire arrêter s'il est à terre. Veuillez voir s'il est encore à l'Isle d'Aix, lui faire connaître de suite et à lui seul cette cruelle disposition, afin qu'il se détermine sur le champ à partir, etc. (8)

- 1631 NAPOLEON I. Auto. Memorandum, 7½ lines on 1 p. 4to, written at Longwood:

The headings for the different chapters on the Egyptian Campaign dictated by the Emperor. Ten different headings are given and numbered. "Correspondance," vol. XXIX, 431, contains the headings as given in this MS.

- 1632 NAPOLEON I. A Portion of the "Memoires pour servir à l'Histoire de France," 1 p. small 4to :

Fin d'avril . . . de la Monarchie Autrichienne etaient . . . pour lever armes, équiper de nombreux bataillons. Le gouvernement francais ordonne à son armée du danube et à celle d'Italie de prendre l'offensive afin de prévenir l'arrivée de l'armée Russe, d'avoir défait les armées Autrichiennes avant l'arrivée de leur alliés d'Autriche desiroit prolonger la suspension d'armes pour gagner du tems et donner aux Russes celui d'arriver.

The words in italics are in the hand of Napoleon, the remainder in the hand of his valet de chambre St. Denis.

- 1633 O'MEARE (Dr. B. E.) Auto. MS. 3 pp. folio, Extracts of correspondence with His Majesty's Government and Agreement for rendering the Island of St. Helena available for the safe custody of General Bonaparte; probably prepared for his book "Napoleon in Exile, or, A Voice from St. Helena," London, 1822

- 1634 FREDERICK, DUKE OF YORK, Commander-in-Chief, L. s. 1½ pp. folio, Horse Guards, 8 April, 1816, to Sir Hudson Lowe, saying that the two second battallions of the 53rd and 66th Regts. would be relieved by the first battalion of the 66th, A. L. (third person), ½ p. 4to, 1823 (2)
- 1635 COCKBURN (Rear-Admiral Sir George), A. L. s. 4 pp. 4to, [St. Helena] Castle, 22 May, 1816, to Sir Hudson Lowe :
 . . . with a view to keeping slaves and people of colour from the establishment of Longwood, I was induced to give my consent for a certain number of the seamen of the Northumberland to go thither as servants . . . provided the remuneration for their services and in short the whole expenses of their being there were defrayed from the private resources of those they were to serve . . .
 I beg to observe that in consequences of the persons of Longwood not having actually with them, the necessary private funds . . . I have been obliged to do so from the Public money . . .
- 1636 O'MEARE (Barry), Medical Officer, R.N. attached to Napoleon, A. L. s. 1½ pp. 8vo, Longwood, 18 June [1816] to Major Gorrequer :
 Saying that the chief cook has had an accident with his right thumb and will be incapacitated for at least 5 or 6 days and requesting that another person may be sent who understands French dishes.
 . . . You have no idea what consternation has appeared upon the countenances of more than one, at the idea of such a calamitous circumstance taking place, or their being deprived of the skill of Maitre Le Page for such a length of time as a week or ten days.
 I have been requested with lengthened visage to make a signal to you with all haste, as if the fate of Cesar and of Rome depended upon it.
- 1637 READE (Sir Thomas) Deputy Adjutant General, A. L. s. 3 pp. 4to, St. Helena, June 6th, 1818, to J. Ashley :
 . . . We are getting on very dully here—Bonaparte is still sulky and refuses to see any body—how long matters will remain thus it is impossible to say. He certainly does not show himself the Great Man by it . . .
- 1638 BERTRAND (Lt. General H. G. Comte) A. L. s. ½ p. 4to, Longwood, 15th June, 1818, to Sir Hudson Lowe :
 Thanking for "The Times" for the month of January also for "The Morning Chronicle."
- 1639 BAXTER (Dr. Alexander) Medical Officer at St. Helena, A. L. s. 1 p. 4to, 10 July, 1818, to Sir Hudson Lowe :
 It is quite impossible to say positively what disease Napoleon Bonaparte is afflicted with from these symptoms. He has repeatedly had them all, with the exception of the irregular pulse. The increase of pain of the Hypochondrium would indicate the advancement of the Hepatic affection, etc.
- 1640 PLAMPIN (Rear-Admiral B.) A. L. s. 1 p. 8vo, 19 May, 1818, to Sir Hudson Lowe :
 . . . Your observations relative to the Port regulations, and the means of preventing clandestine correspondence between the people at Longwood and their friends in Europe shall have our consideration.

- 1641 MONTHOLON (General Comte de) A VERY FINE A. L. s. 12 pp. folio, Longwood, 23 August, 1816, to Sir Hudson Lowe :

Of extreme interest, protesting against his being held prisoner by the English.

- 1642 RECUEIL DE PIÈCES et de Documens Officiel sur Le Prisonnier de St. Hélène, a translation from the English, MS. of 56 pp. roy. 8vo, 1818

- 1643 POPPLETON (Captain) Orderly Officer at Longwood, A. L. s. 2 pp. 4to, Longwood, 22 Sept., 1816, to Major Gorrequer, A.D.C., Plantation House :

There seems to be some mistake respecting the communication made by me to General Montholon, as expressed and desired to do in your note to me.

General Montholon applied to me for an officer to accompany him to James Town, for the purpose of disposing of the Plate, and likewise for a soldier to accompany a French Domestick who was to leave Longwood early in the morning, carrying with him the plate, Genl. M. following after breakfast, and although Genl. M. declined going before I communicated the instructions I had received, yet he told me Cypriani was to go. Have the goodness to explain this to the Governor. The Admiral took his leave of Napoleon yesterday.

- 1644 MONTHOLON (Comte de), A. L. s (3rd person) 1 p. 8vo, Longwood, 7 July, 1816, to Sir Hudson Lowe :

Thanking him for his letter, the contents of which he will acquaint Napoleon with and send his reply. Sends certain letters that he wishes to be sent to Europe.

- 1645 WEBB (Mrs. Mary) A long A. L. s. of 10 pp. folio, St. Helena, Sept., 7, 1817, to Miss Routledge of London, giving a detailed account of life in St. Helena :

... the E-p-r never visits, neither theatres, church, balls nor races. The new Admiral Plymton lives at a sweet spot called the "Briars," the Lady he brought with him is not visited. Farther this deponent sayeth not . . . etc.

- 1646 O'MEARE (B. E.) A. L. s. 1 p. folio, Longwood, 25th, Oct., 1817, to Sir Hudson Lowe :

... I communicated to Napoleon Bonaparte that Captain Gou had denied to you that he had ever made any enquiry from General Gourgaud touching the palpitations mentioned in one of the bulletins, and that he had not even seen or spoken to him since such a bulletin or report had been issued. The whole of this . . . I mentioned as it were from myself, and for my own satisfaction. He replied :

"Non era a Gourgaud. Ma tutti l'hanno domandato era una cosa Publica che tutto il mondo sapeva forse non vorrebbe compromettersi forse é un delitto di domandare notizia della mia salute."

Such, sir, were the words made use of by him on the occasion, and observing him to be low spirited, I did not wish to increase his depression or to irritate him further by any more questions of a similar nature.

- 1647 O'MEARE (Barry) Auto. Declaration signed, 2 pp. folio, St. Helena, 16 Oct., 1816, sworn as a true copy of a paper written by Napoleon, protesting that he ought not to be called General Bonaparte, that he wished to remain altogether outside politics, and his disappointment in not being permitted to live in England or America
- 1648 LAS CASES (Comte de) L. s.  $\frac{1}{2}$  p. folio, Balcombe's Cottage, 4 Dec., 1816, to Sir Hudson Lowe, asking to be released from St. Helena
- 1649 STÜRMER (Baron de) Austrian Commissioner at St. Helena, A.L.s. 1 p. folio, Rosemary Hall, 21 July, 1816, to Sir Hudson Lowe, making application to visit Napoleon
- 1650 BATHURST (Earl) Colonial Secretary, L. s. 1 p. folio Colonial Office, 18 Novr., 1817, to Sir Hudson Lowe :
It being desirable that H.M. Government should have before them a complete copy of all the regulations which are actually in force at St. Helena, with respect to General Bonaparte and his attendants, I have to desire that you would immediately forward to me in a collected shape, a copy of all Regulations upon the subject at the time of the receipt of this dispatch.
- 1651 BINGHAM (Sir George R.) Colonel commanding 66th Regt., A. L. s. 2 pp. 4to, Knollcombe Cottage [St. Helena], Dec. 30th, 1817, to Sir Hudson Lowe :
Respecting the limits allowed for exercise to Napoleon Bonaparte unaccompanied by a British officer. The Colonel has always considered the space allowed as ample and quite sufficient for the preservation of health.
- 1652 MALCOLM (Rear-Admiral Sir Pulteney) L. s. (copy certified by the Admiral), 1 $\frac{1}{2}$  pp. folio, Newcastle, St. Helena Roads, 12 Jany., 1817, to the Senior Officer of H.M. vessels employed under his command at the Cape of Good Hope, concerning the passage of Count Las Cases and his son to England
- 1653 MALCOLM (Sir Pulteney) A. L. s. 1 p. 4to, 24 May, 1817, to Sir Hudson Lowe :
The sail that was seen yesterday was a schooner, and was chased by the Leveret to leeward of the Island. I think it more probable that the stranger now in sight, from her veerings, distance and course, is passing, however, the Leveret is between her and the island.
- 1654 GOULBOURN (Henry) Under Secretary for the Colonies, L. s. 1 p. folio, Colonial Office, 25 Jany, 1817, to Sir Hudson Lowe :
Saying he is directed by Lord Bathurst to submit the account furnished by Messrs. Bullock of the expenses attending the voyage of those in charge of the furniture provided for the use of General Buonaparte.
- 1655 LOWE (Sir Hudson) Governor of St. Helena, L. s. 4 pp. folio, (duplicate), to Earl Bathurst :

An important letter concerning Napoleon's claim to the privilege of conversing with whomever he pleases, whether a British officer is present or not, and thus throwing a real bar in the way of any extension of his present riding limits. Says he has replied to Napoleon's strictures in French.

I have endeavoured to be as moderate as possible, carefully omitting anything which might tend to create fresh discussion . . .

Where the attack is all on one side, that the accuser thinks himself at liberty to use every weapon that falls under his hand—fair or foul—and has a shield in his own adversity against any arm but that of self defence being raised to resist his blows, the contest has every advantage for him . . .

- 1656 GOURGAUD (General Baron) A. L. s. 1 p. 4to, St. Helena, Mars, ce 11me, 1818, to Sir Hudson Lowe :

Monsr. le General Baron Gourgaud declare sur sa parole d'honneur a S. E. le Lieutenant General Sir Hudson Lowe Gouverneur de Ste. Helene qu'il n'est porteur d'aucuns Papiers, pamphlets ou Lettres, de la part des personnes a Longwood contraires aux reglemens etablis pour leur detention et autres que ceux qui ont été visités.

- 1657 LOWE (Sir Hudson), Instructions, signed, for the Orderly Officer at Longwood, 3½ pp. folio, Plantation House, 1st May, 1818 :

He is to see or obtain satisfactory information of Napoleon Buonaparte's being on the spot twice in the twenty-four hours.

To see that none of the established Orders or Regulations are infringed.

He is to be prepared at all times to attend upon Napoleon when he may desire to pass the limits, but should he approach the Coast or any Fortified part of the Island, the orderly officer is respectfully to request him to turn in some other direction, etc.

- 1658 MONTCHENU (Le Marquis de) French Commissioner, A. L. (3rd person), ½ p. 4to, Jamestown, 28 May, 1818, to Sir Hudson Lowe, accepting his invitation for the King's birthday

- 1659 MONTHOLON (Comte de) A. L. s. ½ p. folio, Longwood, 26 June, 1819, to Sir Hudson Lowe, thanking him for getting a passage to Europe for the Countess de Montholon

- 1660 VERLING (Dr. J.) Surgeon at Longwood, A. L. s. 2 pp. 8vo, Longwood, 13 August, [1819], to Major Gorrequer, A.D.C. :

I had formerly occasion to converse with the Governor upon the subject of my acting as Interpreter when communications were to be made by Captain Nicholls to the persons at Longwood, and he then coincided fully with the ideas I expressed to him, etc.

- 1661 NICHOLLS (Captain George) Orderly Officer, A. L. s. 1½ pp. 4to, Longwood 13 Sept., 1819, to Major Gorrequer, A.D.C. :

Not having been able to obtain a sight of Genl. Bonaparte before 10 o'clock this morning, I requested the General's chief valet to inform him that I wished to be admitted to see him. Marchand said that it was impossible for him to carry such a message to Napoleon Bonaparte, and further added that the General was then in his bath, where it was probable he would remain 'til 2 o'clock. He also stated that Napoleon Bonaparte was unwell. I took Lieut. with me and proceeded to Count Bertrand and requested that he would have the goodness to inform Napoleon Bonaparte that I wished to be admitted to see him in the execution of my duty solely. The Count said "he would carry my message to him."

- 1662 BERTRAND (Comtesse) A. L. s. 2 pp. 4to, 26 Sept., 1819, to Sir Hudson Lowe :

Saying that she and her family had for the past 14 months received medical advice from Dr. Verling. She objects to Dr. Antommarchi owing to her lack of knowledge of the Italian language and the latter knowing only a few words of French ; and she hopes she may continue to have medical advice from Verling.

- 1663 BALMAIN (Count) Representative of the Russian Government, A. L. s. 1 p. 4to, St. Hélène, 30 April, 1820, to Messrs, Hammond & Co., London, concerning his financial allowance.—BALCOMBE (W.) Purveyor at St. Helena, A. L. s. 1 p. 4to, 3 March, 1818, to Sir Hudson Lowe, asking for six months' leave to proceed to Europe (2)

- 1664 LAMBERT (Rear-Admiral Robert) Commander-in-Chief, L. s. 1 p. folio, [H.M.S.] Vigo, St. Helena, 12 Oct., 1820, to Sir Hudson Lowe :

Saying that he is transmitting a copy of the orders he has issued for the government of H.M. ships and vessels anchoring at St. Helena.

- 1665 LUTGENS (Captain E.) Orderly Officer, A. L. s. 2 pp. 8vo, Longwood, 18 Nov., 1820, to Major Gorrequer, A.D.C. :

When Newby went to the Kitchen last evening about his Master's dinner, Marchand was going to and from Genl. Bonaparte's bed chamber with hot flannels and cloths which he heated at kitchen fire to put to the general's feet.

His chamber window shutters were not opened until near 10 o'clk. At 12 Turly saw Genl. Bonaparte come from his room and walk up and down in the inner garden facing the guard house for about five minutes. Marchand, St. Dennis and Novoroy were with him. At  $\frac{1}{2}$  past 12 I saw the Genl. and Count M. in the garden on the other side of the house.

- 1666 ANTOMMARCHI (F.) Surgeon to Napoleon at St. Helena, A. L. s.  $\frac{1}{2}$  p. 4to, Longwood, 18 Luglio, 1820, to Sir Hudson Lowe :
Eccellenza Sigre. Governatore,

Nell' atto che mi prendo La Liberta d'inviarle alcune lettere per darle il loro corso, Lo prego di volersi compiacere di legalizzarmi un atto di procura che sono obbligato di mandare a Firenze coll' apposizione del suo sigillo e che quivi ritrovera acclusa.

- 1667 NAPOLEON I. Auto. Memorandum, 3 pp. folio, in pen and pencil, circa, 1820, a list of short titles of books which were at Longwood, at the foot of the 1st page is written :

- 1670 GORREQUER (G.) Lieutenant-Colonel, A. L. s. 1½ pp. 4to, Ebury St., 9 Sept., 1822, concerning a memorial that he is presenting to the Duke of York

- 1671 DEATH OF NAPOLEON. ARNOTT (DR. ARCHIBALD), Surgeon of the 20th Regt., Four Auto. Bulletins, written in pencil from the death bed of the Emperor, and sent into the outer room to Major Gorrequer, on 4 pp. 12mo. [St. Helena, May 5th, 1821]:

The pulse cannot be felt at the wrist now, and the heat is departing from the surface. But he may hold on some hours yet. Arch. Arnott.

He is worse, the respiration is become more hurried and difficult.

½ after 5 p.m.

Arch. Arnott.

He is dying. Montholon prays I will not leave the bed-side. He wishes I should see him breathe his last. A. A.

Capt. Crokat.

He has this moment expired.

[Endorsed Recd. at 6 o'clock].

A. Arnott.

[See ILLUSTRATION.]

- 1672 [DEATH OF NAPOLEON.] Sir Thomas Reade, Deputy Adjutant General at St. Helena, A. L. s. 4 pp. 4to, Longwood, 6 May, 1821, 4 p.m., to Sir Hudson Lowe:

Dr. Shortt is gone over to Plantation House and will give you an account of the Dissection.

Nothing was said about the Heart untill Dr. Shortt ordered the body to be sewed up, when Count Montholon came to me and pressed so exceedingly hard about it, that I was obliged to consent to its being put in a vessel and left under the particular charge, in the same room with the corpse, of Dr. Rutledge. Count Montholon pledged his word of honor in a most distinct manner, that nothing should be done with it untill you had decided about it. He made no objection to Dr. Rutledge remaining with it. Major Emmett says the vault cannot be ready until Monday morning, etc.

- 1673 FREDERICK, DUKE OF YORK, L. s. 1½ pp. folio, Horse Guards, 6 July, 1821, to Sir Hudson Lowe:

Acknowledging the receipt of his letter of May 6th, announcing the death of General Bonaparte, and thanks him for the particulars which he has communicated respecting that interesting event.

Promises to send particulars respecting the disposal of the military force and establishment at St. Helena.

- 1674 AMHERST (Lord), A. L. s. 3 pp. 4to, Montreal, 2 Oct., 1822, to Sir Hudson Lowe :
 . . . I have a distinct recollection of Bonaparte's intimating an intention of making me the bearer of his complaints in writing and of his almost immediately afterwards withdrawing such intimation . . . It is impossible that I could have been beaucoup frappé at Bonaparte's communication respecting the prohibition imposed upon him during his rides . . . I have no distinct recollection of any conversation having passed between Mr. O'Meara and myself . . . etc.

- 1755 MIRABEAU-TONNEAU (A. B. L. R. Viscomte de) Colonel and Representative, 1754-92, a fine series of upwards of 164 A. L. s. to his wife and others:

The writer belonged to the extreme royalist party and emigrated while the National Assembly was still sitting. The great bulk of the letters were written during 1790-1-2, when their author was serving in the army of the émigrés.

His wife seems to have acted as a Royalist agent, and they give remarkable testimony of the state of opinion in the royalist party and of the intrigues and cabals by which it was divided. The writer seems to have disliked the conservative reformers almost as much as the Jacobins.

He denounces several of them by name in a letter of June 1st, 1791, and records a long debate with Cazalès (Sept. 9, 1791) on the question of absolute or Constitutional Monarchy. His brother he refers to in the bitterest terms (Feby. 5, 1791):

Tu sais sans doute que M. Riquetti l'ainé est Roi de France c'est à dire président de la caverne de brigands, il y avait longtems qu'il briguait ce poste éminent, je souhaite que son règne ne soit pas marqué par le nouveaux crimes mais je n'ose l'espérer.

And in an interview with the King of Prussia, reported in a letter of July 17, 1792, both the King and he spoke of the great Mirabeau in terms of the greatest scorn. He sends news of an interview with the Emperor (Oct. 10, 1790), the arrest of Théroigne de Méricourt at Liège and her imprisonment in the Tyrol, of his reception by the Comte de Provence, the assassination of Gustavus III of Sweden. Finally in a conversation with Mallet du Pan, he learnt that extremely well-informed person's views of the state of affairs in Paris at the time (June 17. 1792):

Le Parti Brissot, Condorcet, mené par l'Abbé Siéyès veut un changement de dynastie pour nous mener plus tard à une République: le parti Pétion Robespierre Manuel veut une République sur le champ; les premiers veulent faire passer la Loire au Roi, les seconds s'en défaire dans un mouvement populaire, etc.

He was familiarly known as Mirabeau-Tonneau, from his extraordinary figure which was nearly as wide as his height. 164
