CHARING CROSS HOSPITAL

ANNUAL REPORT

PRESENTED TO THE ANNUAL GENERAL
COURT OF GOVERNORS, JUNE 5TH, 1946

It is with pleasure that the Council presents to the Governors and Subscribers a satisfactory Report for the year ending 31st December, 1945. The list of subscribers and donors is again omitted owing to the continued restriction in the use of paper but a complete list may be inspected at the Hospital during office hours.

FINANCIAL POSITION

The financial position continues satisfactory, and the Governors and Subscribers will be pleased to note that the income reached the unprecedented figure of £119,920 compared with £115,420 in the previous year. Warmest gratitude is expressed to all concerned for the splendid help accorded to the Hospital during the year. Appreciation is also expressed to the King Edward's Hospital Fund for London, the Hospital Savings Association, the Hospital Saturday Fund, the Hospital Sunday Fund, and to the various contributory schemes for the generous support received from them.

Owing to the opening of additional beds, and also to generally increased costs, the expenditure rose from £103,736 in 1944 to £112,436 in the year under review.

Whilst placing on record the cessation of the war in May, 1945, the Council is proud to be able to state that never for one moment did the work of the Hospital cease, in spite of intensive and repeated air attacks on London.

By successive stages the various wards were re-opened until, by the end of December, with the exception of only ten fracture beds, the whole bed complement was available for the reception of patients. It will be remembered that the Children's Ward and the kitchen of Levy Ward were extensively damaged by fire as the result of an incendiary bomb, and steps were taken to re-model the Children's Ward. It is fitting to record here our great indebtedness to Dr. C. K. J. Hamilton, the Physician to the Children's Department, who has served the Hospital so ably for the past nineteen years, and who found it necessary to retire owing to ill-health just previous to the Ward being re-opened. The Council has also to report the retirement from the Honorary Staff of Dr. Gordon Holmes, Mr. E. D. D. Davis, Mr. Montague Hine, and Dr. Russell Reynolds, and to express to them the gratitude of the Hospital for their long and eminent services, and to assure them of every possible good wish for the future.

The country hospital annexe at Ashridge was finally closed for medical and surgical cases on December 31st, and the unit containing forty-eight maternity beds was due to be closed in March, 1946. The grateful thanks of the Council are extended to all concerned in the successful running of the Ashridge Hospital annexe which made it possible for the Hospital to treat an ever-increasing number of patients during the whole of the war.

The number of attendances in the Out-patient and Casualty Departments increased from 123,877 to 134,955.

DEATH OF THE TREASURER

It is with very great sorrow that the Council record the death of George Foster Abell, Esq., who had been Treasurer of the Hospital since the year 1937, and whose eminent services were so much appreciated.

HONOUR TO THE CHAIRMAN

The Governors, we are sure, will join with the Council in expressing warm congratulations to the Chairman on the honour of a Barony which was conferred upon him by His Majesty the King.

EXPRESSIONS OF APPRECIATION

Grateful appreciation is extended to the Honorary Medical and Surgical Staff, for their ever-ready skill and devoted service during the year. It is also felt that the Governors and Subscribers would wish to be associated with an expression of gratitude to the Nursing Staff, the Executive Staff, and to all who have, in various ways, assisted in the work of the Hospital. Hearty thanks, too, are rendered to the voluntary blood donors who have once again given their blood so regularly and so cheerfully to benefit the patients who need such help.

It is with every confidence that the Council submits its Report to the Governors and Subscribers for consideration and approval.

TO THOSE WHO FEEL THAT THIS HOSPITAL DESERVES TO BE HELPED.

THE day-to-day generosity of the living is the mainstay of this Institution, but the burden so ungrudgingly borne would be greatly lightened for posterity if those benevolent persons who have money to leave would remember the Hospital when making their wills.

A form of bequest will be found at the end of this Annual Report.

HONORARY LIFE GOVERNORS.

HONORARY LIFE GOVERNORS (having all the privileges of Life Governors) are elected by the Council for services and benefits conferred upon the Hospital. An Executor, or one out of several executors, paying a legacy to the Hospital of £100, is qualified for election as an Honorary Life Governor. If the legacy amounts to £200, all the Executors named in the Will are qualified for election as Honorary Life Governors. (Charter, page 15, Clauses 24 and 25.)

Every Executor or Trustee of a Will by virtue of which legacies or trust-moneys are left generally to or for Charities without specification, who shall in the exercise of his discretionary power contribute any portion thereof to the funds of this Hospital, shall be entitled to the same privileges as if the same had been paid out of his own private funds. (Charter, page 11, Clause 8.)

CONTRIBUTION FORM.

(CHAIRMAN OF THE HOSPITAL)

1945

AN EXPLANATION

CHARING CROSS HOSPITAL cares for many thousands of Londoners every year. And the word "Londoner" has a wide application. It includes those who live in the centre, the suburbs, and the outer belt of the Metropolis. The record of our work may be expected to be of interest to them. But why should those who live at Glasgow or Cardiff, Liverpool or Birmingham, Bristol or Leeds, or indeed any part of the British Isles, be invited to read this Report? There is an answer—and a very good answer. A walk round the wards or through the Casualty Department on any day will supply it. Here in this bed is a man from Sheffield, next to him is a miner from Pontypridd. In this women's ward are patients from Carlisle, from Portsmouth, from Brighton. The Casualty Register for one day shows that seventy-five people received treatment, and of that number fifty-eight came from the Provinces. They were attacked by sudden illness during their stay in London, or had been injured in our busy streets.

Charing Cross Hospital is not a local institution ; it is a national one. It belongs to the whole of Britain. And it is proud to number amongst its friends and supporters those who live in London and those whose homes are many miles away.

The Chairman's Report

LORD LONSDALE, who for over thirty years was our Treasurer, and whose death, on April 13th last year, we all deeply mourn, once said this to me: "I always like to come to the Hospital. There is an atmosphere about the place—a friendly, homely atmosphere." We try to make that spirit of friendliness pervade all our work. That is one reason why our Annual Report has never been a formal document, in which a number of facts and figures are briefly recorded. We like to feel that we are all colleagues working together in a great cause. You are good enough to provide the money to maintain the Hospital. We, the members of the Council, with the doctors and the nurses, are the custodians of your generosity in the interests of the patients. This happy relationship has existed for many years. It is our hope that it will long continue.

Here it may be asked: "Will our interest and help be required when the National Health Service is established? Are not the Government's proposals destined to kill the Voluntary System?" There are two things to be said in reply. The first is that throughout the whole of my twenty-five years at Charing Cross we have been told repeatedly that our Voluntary Hospitals were on their last legs. It would appear that, like Charles II, we are "an unconscionable time a-dying." The second answer is that the Government has stated emphatically that they desire that our Voluntary Hospitals shall continue their splendid work. Here are the actual words from the White Paper: "It is certainly not the wish of the Government to destroy or to diminish a system which is so well rooted in the goodwill of its supporters."

Why should our Voluntary Hospitals "cease to be"? What charge can be brought against us? That we do not do our job properly? That it is derogatory for our health service to be dependent upon private charity? The first criticism can be answered conclusively. On our files we have literally hundreds of letters from grateful patients. I wish I could quote them all, but that would require a volume, not a pamphlet. Let me select a few, taken at random: A lieutenant in the R.N.V.R. writes from Portsmouth: "I spent four weeks recently in the Drummond Ward, and I wish to express my warm gratitude for the kindness and attention of your doctors and nurses. Thanks to the treatment I received, I am now quite fit and able to report for duty." Another letter reads: "I was treated with the greatest consideration by everybody. Doctors, nurses, students and office staff were all as kind and helpful as it is possible for human beings to be." And here is one from the Managing Director of a large engineering works in Birmingham: "I want to take this, the earliest, opportunity of thanking your doctors and nurses for the excellent and expeditious manner in which I was treated for a street accident on Thursday last."

We can produce masses of evidence that would refute energetically and effectively any suggestion that our Voluntary Hospitals are incapable of rendering the finest service.

There is the second criticism. Is it derogatory for our homes of healing to be supported by private gifts? Why should it be? It was not disparaging for the Good Samaritan to spend his money and his time in caring for the one who had fallen by the wayside. And that story was set before us as a noble example to be followed. Right down the centuries the challenge has rung, "Go thou and do likewise." There are many who believe—and I am certainly one of them—that it will be a bad day for our country if the wells of charity are ever dried up. As George Eliot said so truly: "What do we live for if it is not to make life less difficult for one another."

Now having said these things let me emphasise that we all wish to see the finest health service that human skill and planning can produce. We believe that in this service the Voluntary Hospitals can play a vital part. Shall they be allowed to do so? That depends entirely upon the help you are prepared to give. I am confident that the support we have received for so long will not only be maintained but, if possible, increased. Then we shall be able—notwithstanding the war-time prices of everything we need—to continue our great work without running into debt. That has always been our desire and, thanks to the generosity of our subscribers, it has been realised. And so, in the words of a popular slogan: "Please give us the tools and we will do the job."

What kind of a "job" have we been able to do at the Hospital? Here it is necessary to quote some figures. And I think it will be agreed they are very illuminating. During the year there were:—

3,137 Patients admitted.

45,371 Casualties and out-patients, who made no less than 125,059 Attendances.

We have 180 beds open for the care of the civilian sick, and 100 more for war-time casualties—many of which, alas, were occupied by victims of the flying bombs and the V2 rockets. All our departments are fully employed—departments such as the X-Ray, Physio-Therapy, Cardiographic. We have wards for general medical and surgical patients, for those suffering from ear, nose and throat complaints, for maternity cases and for children.

Indeed, as in peace-time, we are to-day a fully equipped General Hospital. These facts, striking though they are, do not complete the picture. We have in Hertfordshire a country Annexe. The Medical Superintendent there is one of our Senior Physicians, and he has been good enough to let me have the following report:—

“The number of In-Patients admitted during the year to the Charing Cross Wards here was 513. The number of babies born in the Maternity unit during the same period was 754. The unit has become so popular that it is working to capacity the whole time, and it looks as though we shall be admitting between 950 and 1,000 mothers a year in the future—a very material contribution to the maternity problem, so acute all over the country. And it is gratifying to say that of the 1,378 mothers admitted to the unit since it was opened, not one has been lost in childbirth. I think this is a record of which Charing Cross Hospital may be justly proud.”

We are naturally proud of such a fine record, and I would like to offer our congratulations and gratitude to the Consulting Obstetric Officer (who, by the way, is a specialist from San Francisco) and to the doctors, nurses and staff of our country Annexe.

It will be readily understood that it costs a good deal of money to pay for the work we are doing. Last year our expenditure amounted to £103,000. But every penny was used to good purpose, for our accounts are checked most carefully, and waste of any kind is not tolerated for one moment. The Finance Committee long ago adopted as the basis of its policy: “An order book is equivalent to a cheque book.” That is never forgotten. Our supporters therefore can be satisfied that their generous gifts are used to the best possible advantage.

Now I turn to our hopes and desires for the immediate future. I would like to state them under three headings.

First of all, we shall require at least £100,000 to pay our way during this year. To raise such an amount is a heavy task for these days, but it will, I am confident, be discharged by the continued kindness and generosity of old friends, and by the help of many others who feel that our work is worthy of support. That is our first desire—to be assured of the income to meet our expenditure.

Our second desire will, I am sure, have a wide appeal. In pre-war days we had a very attractive Children's Department on the top floor of the Hospital. When hostilities commenced the little patients were evacuated and the wards closed. It was fortunate that these steps were taken, for during one of the air raids an incendiary bomb destroyed part of our roof. Recently we opened a small ward for children, to meet the ever-growing demand, but, frankly, it is a makeshift arrangement and far from ideal. Will you, therefore, kindly allow me to make an urgent plea for special help to meet the cost of a new Children's Department? Some fine words by John Galsworthy come to mind: "Into the twilight of the world are launched each year millions of tiny ships. Under a sky of cloud and stars, they grope out to the great waters and the great winds—little sloops of life upon whose voyaging the future hangs. Mothers, and you who will be mothers, and you who have missed motherhood, give them their chance." We do want to give the girls and boys who come to us their chance—the chance to grow up to healthy manhood and womanhood. May we count on your help in this great desire?

And our third desire. The full story of our experiences during the last few years cannot be told in the space of a few pages. We can say, however, that we have been called upon to treat many hundreds of victims of the war. Men and women and children who have suffered from enemy action. What we should like to do is to commemorate "these fateful years" by naming and endowing a ward. It would be a fitting way to express our thankfulness for the great blessings granted to us, and surely there could be no more appropriate memorial to a loved one than that of naming and endowing a bed in this ward. So much has been spent in the past in providing something inanimate in metal or stone. Here is an opportunity of helping to restore life and health to a fellow human being. I liked the idea behind a paragraph which appeared recently in a provincial newspaper. It read "Instead of waiting until he died to show their appreciation of their Vicar, the congregation of St. Andrew's Church are raising a fund of 100,000 shillings for him to use for the benefit of his church." The paragraph went on: "No doubt in the normal course, when he had passed beyond, there would be some sort of stone erected in the church to his memory." And it closed with this pertinent question: "But what is the use of a stone? It can be of no help to the man." Many there are who will share the same view. To all those may we commend the proposal to endow our ward.

To summarise our hopes for this year:—

The first is to maintain our existing work, and for that purpose we shall need £100,000.

The second is to equip and endow the Children's Department. Gifts of any kind will be gladly and gratefully received for this purpose, but I may mention that a cot can be endowed for all time for £500.

And the third is to endow a ward in thankfulness for all the blessings we have received, or as a memorial to a loved one.

Here again the smallest sum will be warmly appreciated, though a bed in the ward can be named in perpetuity for £1,000.

I do hope that when I write to you next year I may be able to say that all our hopes were realised.

In bringing this report to a close, let me say three words of very grateful appreciation. First to our subscribers for all the help they have so generously given, and which has made our task possible. Secondly, to the staff of the hospital—medical, nursing, and lay—for their devoted services. And thirdly, in anticipation, to those who will lend us their aid in order that the desires I have outlined may be fulfilled.
