REPORT FOR 1925.

To the Court of Governors.

MY LORDS, LADIES AND GENTLEMEN,

In spite of the difficulties with which we have been faced in 1925, the closed wards, the preparation of accommodation in Cleveland Street to house patients to be evacuated from the West Wing and Centre Block of the old Hospital, and the launching of the greatest individual Hospital Appeal of the last hundred years, we are happy to be able to lay before you what must be considered a very satisfactory report.

The In-Patient work done during the year shows a slight decrease in comparison with 1924. This is due to the fact that it was found necessary to redecorate all the wards in the old part of the Hospital which it is not intended to demolish in the near future. During the year we have also been unfortunate with epidemics which necessitated the closing of certain wards for disinfection.

The admissions to the Hospital were 5,117 during the year, there were in the wards at the beginning of the year 291, while 305 were remaining in the wards on the 31st December, thus making the total number of patients treated 5,103 compared with 5,188 in 1924.

The average number of occupied beds was 298·15 compared with 301·98 in 1924.

The average number of days for which each patient was under treatment was 21·3 which is identical with last year's figure.

The average cost of each In-Patient per week was £4. 5s. 6d. compared with £4. 1s. 1·65d. in 1924.

The average total cost of each In-Patient was £13. 0s. 5·6d., compared with £12. 6s. 11·20d. in 1924.

These increases (4s. 4·35d. and 13s. 6·4d.) are due chiefly to the installation of a new refrigerator rendered necessary by the complete breakdown of the old plant in the early part of the year, and to the redecoration of the wards and the Nurses' Home. This unusual expenditure, and the reduction in the number of occupied beds previously referred to, account for the difference between the cost in 1924 and 1925.

The new cases coming to the Out-Patient Department numbered 39,579 an increase of 1,320 compared with 1924.

The attendances amounted to 196,848 showing an increase of 14,165 over the figure for 1924.

The work of the Out-Patient department thus continues to show a steady increase, the number of new patients having increased 4,880 in the last three years and the number of attendances 51,393. The attendances therefore have increased by over 35 per cent. since 1922.

Out of the total number of attendances 60,452 were dealt with in the Electro-Therapy and Massage Department.

The average cost per Out-Patient was 5s. 9·5d., compared with 5s. 10·11d. for 1924, and the average cost per attendance was 1s. 1·97d., compared with 1s. 2·68d. for the previous year. The decrease in cost of both these items, which is very satisfactory, is due to the greater numbers of patients dealt with.

Our chief interest this year has been, naturally, the launching of the Reconstruction Fund Appeal. That section of the public which already appreciates the immense importance of the Voluntary Hospital System in the life of the community has been quick to respond. We have, however, to educate that far larger section which does not yet realise that the modern Hospital, with its great Research Laboratories, and its medical School, is responsible not merely for the care of the sick poor who come to it, but for the maintenance of the standard of health of the whole community, and for that research into cause, prevention and cure of diseases generally upon which the immense improvement in the standard of public health, the most remarkable social change of the last fifty years, is based.

As this educational work progresses, we do not doubt that the public generally, of whatever class, will realise the duty imposed upon everyone of us, to serve alike our generation and ourselves by maintaining the Voluntary System, the most enterprising and elastic as it is, also the most economic and efficient of the organised social efforts which are the characteristic development of our day.

The Appeal was launched on May 9th, and by December 31st the sum of no less than £191,520. 18s. 7d. had been obtained.

The Reconstruction Fund Committee will, in due course, be issuing its own report.

Allied to this immense effort, and the necessary first step of clearing away the condemned buildings, was the acquisition and reconditioning of the Cleveland Street Annexe. Approximately £40,000 has been spent upon this building, and 180 patients have already been transferred to it from the West Wing and Centre Block of the old Hospital. When the new Hospital is completed, the Annexe will then constitute our Out-Patient Department.

Apart from this the Reconstruction Committee has been hard at work upon the plans for the new Hospital in consultation with the Honorary Medical and Surgical Staff. Our Architect, Mr. Alner W. Hall, has been at immense pains to meet the requirements of a modern Hospital, and at the same time to house these in a framework worthy of the great traditions of the old Middlesex. Sir Reginald Blomfield, who has been appointed our Consultant Architect, has put his most valuable advice at our disposal and we feel sure that when we are in a position to summon a special Court to deal with the plans, you will have reason to be satisfied with the work of your Board.

Before we leave this subject may we say that we earnestly hope that all supporters of the Hospital will do their utmost to assist in the raising of the balance of the great sum required to rebuild the 18th Century portion of the Hospital, by endeavouring to secure the assistance of their friends and of all those who have the welfare of the Voluntary Hospitals at heart, thus enabling us to pursue the policy of linking, in the Hospital Research with Clinical work, through which we are all assured lies the greatest hope of promoting the health and welfare of the community at large. It should be realised that in the natural course of events our task will be lengthy, and that the efforts of all concerned must be sustained over a considerable period.

The normal income of the year under the heading "Subscriptions" has been adversely affected by the launching of the Rebuilding Appeal, but nevertheless shows a decrease of only £534. 19s. 2d. at £4,761. 18s. 9d.

On the other hand "Donations" are increased by no less than £7,829. 4s. 10d. at £12,106. 16s. 3d. The main items in this total are Discretionary Bequests from the estates of the late A. C. de Rothschild, Arthur Lloyd, and Edward Riley of £5,000, £2,240. 16s. 7d. and £1,000 respectively, and a donation of £1,000 from Mrs. H. G. Tetley. For these generous gifts our most sincere thanks are due.

The grants from King Edward's Hospital Fund for London, and the Hospital Sunday Fund show increases of £1,000 and £30 respectively, while that from the Hospital Saturday Fund is less by £208.

Invested property and "other receipts" again show gratifying increases of £2,828. 5s. 3d. and £2,706. 13s. 7d. respectively.

Legacies, however, show a decrease of £11,528. 18s. 9d., and total £9,905. 12s. 1d. for the year. The more important sums received under this head were:—

The total expenditure for the year was £84,078. 10s. 6d., and the total income £81,729. 10s. 1d. The deficit on the year's working was therefore £2,347. 0s. 5d. less indeed than we at one time feared, but a serious factor when our energies should be chiefly concentrated on raising the immense sums required for the rebuilding of the Hospital.

We deeply deplore the death during the year of Her Majesty Queen Alexandra, a Patron of the Hospital. Her unfailing interest in and invaluable support of the services rendered by the Hospitals as exemplified in the institution of "Alexandra Day" are well known to everyone, and the loss sustained by ourselves in common with all Hospitals is a heavy one.

We sincerely regret to have to report the death of Lord Cheylesmore, a Vice-President of the Hospital, and for many years our Chairman. We also regret to announce the death of Mr. J. C. Marshall, a Vice-President of the Hospital and formerly a member of the Board.

We record with deep regret the death of Sir Richard Douglas Powell, who for 22 years was an active member of the Honorary Staff, and since 1900 Consulting Physician to the Hospital.

During the year under review we have also lost Mr. Arthur Godrich, the Accountant, and Mr. George Kohring, the House Steward, after 34 and 29 years service respectively. The death of these two officers who have devoted their lives to the service of the Hospital has been a great loss and is deeply deplored.

We welcome as new colleagues on the Board Mr. H. P. Shepherd, Mr. F. H. Richmond and Sir Benjamin Cherry.

At the same time we regret to record the resignation of Colonel the Hon. George Keppel, M.V.O., after his long association with and services ungrudgingly given to the Hospital. We regret to inform you, also, of the resignation of Mr. Egerton Clarke.

It is with deep regret that we have to report the resignation during the year from the active staff of the Hospital of Dr. Essex Wynter, the Senior Physician of the Hospital. Dr. Wynter has been associated with the Hospital since 1883 in the capacities of House Physician, Medical Registrar, Medical Officer in charge of the Electrical Department, and Assistant Physician. In 1901 he was appointed Physician. Throughout his long association with the Hospital he rendered most eminent services and endeared himself to all with whom he came in contact by his devotion to the interests of the Hospital, and by his unfailing sympathy with all. We are glad to say that he has not entirely severed his connection with the Hospital, as he has been appointed Emeritus Lecturer.

The vacancy created by the retirement of Dr. Wynter has been filled by the appointment of Dr. E. A. Cockayne as Physician to the Hospital. Dr. G. E. S. Ward has been appointed Physician to Out-Patients and Dr. H. E. A. Boldero has been appointed Assistant Physician.

Apart from these appointments no other changes have taken place during the year in the constitution of the Honorary Staff, to whom our most sincere thanks are due for their devotion to the advancement of the interests of the Hospital in every way.

The Middlesex Hospital has for over a century been deeply interested in the treatment of and research in connection with cancer, and it is for this reason that we would draw your attention to a matter which more strictly concerns the Medical School than the Hospital.

The admirable work done by the British Empire Cancer Campaign in raising funds to support these institutions engaged in cancer research, in correlating to some extent their activities, and in encouraging new effort is, we have no doubt, familiar to you.

Since the inception of the Campaign, the Middlesex Hospital has refrained from making direct appeal to the public, relying upon the sympathetic assistance of the Grand Council of the Campaign.

Grants from the Campaign have enabled us not merely to maintain but to extend this vital work, and for the current year a grant of £3,000 to the Cancer Research Fund, has been voted by the Grand Council.

The thanks of the whole community are due to the Grand Council of the British Empire Cancer Campaign for their successful efforts to maintain existing institutions and to promote further research into the causes and cure of this terrible scourge.

The Ladies' Work Society has continued to render sterling service in the provision of garments for the use of the patients, and a total of 924 garments was exhibited at the annual meeting of the Society. Our most sincere thanks are due to the Honorary Secretary of the Association as also to all the ladies who have continued the good work so generously undertaken in earlier years.

A deep debt of gratitude is owing to the Corps of Voluntary Workers who have again devoted so much of their time and attention to the service of our patients in the Wards and Operating Theatres.

The work of the All Help League has gone forward with untiring energy, and we have to record the valuable contribution to our funds of £990. 2s. 0d. The income from this source, has of course, like the income from subscriptions, suffered to some extent from the launching of the Rebuilding Appeal.

The work of the St. Marylebone Hospitals League continues to expand. The membership of the League is now over 26,000, and its untiring efforts to spread the voluntary principles for which we stand is of the utmost educational value. As the public realises more and more clearly the three-fold nature of the Hospital Service, Research, Teaching, and the personal care of those who come directly to it, which together ensure the steady improvement in the standard of health of the whole community, so, we are confident, will the public recognise that support from every class and from every individual is a duty which none should evade.

In addition to this good work admirably done the League has again increased its distributions to the constituent hospitals, and expects to report a new "record" for 1926.

Whilst our cordial appreciation is claimed by all those who work so loyally in this cause, we offer particular thanks to Major F. Cozens, M.C., who has organised and inspired this unique effort. Major Cozens, having seen the League securely established, has resigned his office of General Organising Secretary, but we are happy to report that the League will still have the benefit of his experience and enthusiasm since he has consented to continue its general direction as Honorary Secretary.

Mr. E. A. Rucker, Assistant in the Bland-Sutton Institute of Pathology.

Mr. F. R. Curtis, Research Assistant in the Physiological Department.

We have the greatest pleasure to report the munificent gift of £30,000 from Mr. S. A. Courtauld, J.P., for the establishment of a complete Department of Bio-Chemistry.

The new building will be named the "Courtauld Institute of Bio-Chemistry," and by his generosity Mr. Courtauld has enabled the Council of the Medical School to proceed with developments which it has long desired to bring about.

We again wish to draw special attention to the value and importance of providing for the permanent endowment of the Professorial Chairs which are attached to our Medical School in the University of London. Seven chairs have been established, three have now been endowed. We aim at attaining the best results, but these can only be assured by securing the means to enable us to attract men of the highest capacity to carry on the invaluable work of training future generations of medical students for the benefit of the community in general. Here, indeed, is there a noble opportunity for any individual or body desirous of advancing medical science and associating his or their name with this great movement.

The Council still feels the need for better Library accommodation, and lack of funds alone prevents immediate advance in this direction.

During the past year the Middlesex Hospital Press Committee has continued to issue health leaflets containing valuable information, simply expressed, regarding the early symptoms of some of the most dreaded scourges which afflict humanity, and showing how, at the onset, such diseases may be prevented. Fifteen important town and country Medical Officers of Health have bought, for general circulation, 36,000 copies of the leaflets. These leaflets are also distributed through the Wards and Out-Patients' Departments of the Hospital. Besides this useful activity, the Press Committee hopes later on to guarantee against loss up to a certain amount, any author publishing a book under its auspices, or, alternatively, is willing to contribute towards the cost of publication of such a book. The funds so far received have been inadequate for this purpose, and financial support is needed.

The following contribution to the Medical School Fund is gratefully noted:—

Walter Butcher, Esq. (first half of a promised donation of £1,000 to purchase high-tension apparatus) ... £500 0 0

BOARD ROOM,

THE MIDDLESEX HOSPITAL,

THE MIDDLESEX BRANCH HOSPITAL

AND

HULKE ENDOWED HOME,

CLACTON-ON-SEA.

The year 1925 has been notable in the history of the Convalescent Home for a very valuable addition to the Endowment Fund from the estate of the late Mrs. Julia Hulke, under the will of the late John W. Hulke, F.R.C.S., at one time Senior Surgeon to the Middlesex Hospital. He was appointed Assistant Surgeon on the 13th February, 1862, and Surgeon on the 25th August, 1870, during which time he also acted as Ophthalmic Surgeon from 1865 to 1875. He was Lecturer on Physiology in 1866, on Practical Surgery in 1871, and on Surgery in 1875. He became Senior Surgeon on the 27th May, 1879, and died on the 19th February, 1895, still in office.

His splendid benefaction is commemorated in the title of the Convalescent Home.

The work of the Home has again been most satisfactory. During the year 1,458 patients, an increase on 1924 of 254, were treated.

The average number of patients resident daily through the year was 76·78 against 71 for 1924, and the average duration of stay was 19·22 days, a slight decrease on the figure for 1924 which was 21·58 days. A number of mothers with newly born babies are included in these figures.

The average cost of each patient per week has been £1. 11s. 7·39d., compared with £1. 9s. 6·25d. for the previous year, but the average cost for each patient has been reduced from £4. 11s. 0·25d. to £4. 6s. 9·78d.

The grant from General Funds to balance accounts of the Convalescent Home was £1,927. 3s. 2d., compared with £1,385. 16s. 4d. in 1924. This increase is mainly attributable to the fact that during the year the exterior of the Home was entirely repainted at a cost of £450, and that a good deal of other work in connection with the buildings and grounds was also carried out, with the result that the condition of the Home is now very satisfactory.

A feature of the Home is the Recreation Hall, where numerous entertainments are given for the patients.

ALMONER'S REPORT FOR 1925.

During the year, the work of the Almoner's Department has continued steadily, and tends to increase. The statistics given below give some indications of its scope.

INSTRUMENTS.

464 Surgical, Dental and Optical appliances, costing £834. 14s. 8d. have been supplied to In-Patients, and 899 appliances have been supplied to Out-Patients, at a cost of £1,647. 5s. 8d.

Patients and their friends have contributed towards these amounts. Grants have been given by Approved Societies, and help has been obtained from various charitable sources.

£94. 14s. 8d. was contributed by the Dresden Assistance Fund, and £334. 19s. 1d. by the Samaritan Fund, towards the cost of these appliances.

CONVALESCENT AND SANATORIUM TREATMENT.

1,337 adult patients and 87 children have been admitted to our Home at Clacton-on-Sea, an increase upon the numbers admitted in 1924, of which number 635 have been either In-Patients or Out-Patients of the Hospital.

274 adult patients and 138 children have been sent to Convalescent Homes other than our own, and Grants towards the expenses thus incurred have been given from the Dresden Assistance Fund to the extent of £423. 17s. 0d., and from the Samaritan Fund to the extent of £158. 16s. 1d.

Owing to the fact that the Schiff Home of Recovery at Cobham, Surrey, has been closed during several months of the year, only 21 patients have been admitted there.

Sanatorium treatment has been arranged for 74 adult patients and 6 children, mainly through the London or other County Councils.

Patients have been assisted with the cost of railway fares, cab fares, or ambulances to Convalescent Homes or to their own homes, from the Dresden Assistance Fund to the value of £175. 17s. 6d., and from the Samaritan Fund to the value of £105. 1s. 4d.

Small Grants from the Dresden Assistance Fund, in the way of relief, etc., amounting to £22. 18s. 6d., and £23. 3s. 11d. from the Samaritan Fund, have been given to necessitous patients of the Hospital.

Patients suffering from cancer have been given weekly Grants, or have been helped with their travelling expenses to and from the Hospital, from the George Balfour Black Fund, to the extent of £247. 9s. 11d.

We must again express our thanks to those who have continued to help us; to the various branches of the Charity Organisation Society, Relief Committees, and to the local Clergy; to the Queen Victoria and other Nursing Associations for their assistance in attending patients in their homes; to the United Services Fund and to the Invalid Children's Aid Association for the very valuable help given to the children attending the Hospital.

LIST OF GOVERNORS

INFANT WELFARE DEPARTMENT.
REPORT FOR 1925.

The Infant Welfare Department continues to effect its important work.

We report with regret the resignation in July of Dr. T. Izod Bennett, who has done so much for the Department. Also Nurse Cooper has found it necessary to resign. She has worked in the Department since 1921, and we shall miss her very much. Fortunately Miss C. C. Arnold is still our Health Visitor, and her work and influence are of paramount importance.

The number of new cases that have attended this year is 248, a decrease of 28 on last year; but the figure representing the weekly attendances is practically the same, i.e. 77.

It is feared that during structural alterations to the Hospital the accommodation available for clinics will be reduced, and it is anticipated that this must have an adverse effect on the number of attendances, as well as on the teaching that can be given to students and nurses.

The hours at which clinics are held have been altered to 2 p.m. on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays.

We are very grateful to our voluntary workers, whose help on days when clinics are held is indispensable. Garments continue to be sent to us and are much appreciated.

More mothers and more babies have been enabled to benefit from convalescent holidays in the country than formerly. The effect is striking.

The Welfare Department is organised in very close co-operation with the Children's Out-Patient Department; both of them benefit, but more particularly is the value noticeable in children under one year of age.

H. E. A. BOLDERO,

Medical Officer in Charge.

GOVERNORS.

THEIR QUALIFICATIONS, RIGHTS, AND PRIVILEGES.

1. Annual Subscribers of Three Guineas or upwards to the Hospital's General Fund, or to its particular establishments, viz., the Cancer Charity, the Convalescent Home (Clacton-on-Sea) or to the Medical School, are entitled to be Governors so long as their Subscriptions are paid.

ADMISSION OF PATIENTS.

Patients are required to contribute in accordance with their means towards the cost of their maintenance. The amount of a Patient's contribution is agreed upon after enquiries made, either before or after admission to the Hospital, from the Patient or the Patients' relatives or friends; but no distinction is made between those who can and those who cannot afford to contribute.

No letters of recommendation are required for the Out-Patient Department. Patients are required to contribute 6d. at each attendance, but are excused from payment if their circumstances warrant it. Further contributions are invited from those attending the Special Departments.

Accidents and urgent cases are admitted at any time of the day or night.

A SHORT HISTORY

OF

The Middlesex Hospital.

I.

THE MIDDLESEX HOSPITAL was founded in the month of August, 1745, in order to provide for the needs of Sick and Lame Patients of the poor inhabitants of the then fairly populous districts of St. Giles and Soho. For ten years it consisted of two houses in Windmill Street, Tottenham Court Road, which had been acquired from Mr. GOUDGE at a rental of £30 a year, and during the first year of its existence it was styled "The Middlesex Infirmary." It formed one of several similar philanthropic institutions which, about this period, were established in London and maintained by voluntary contributions.

Founding of the Hospital, 1745.

Windmill Street.

It is interesting to note that with very little, if any, material change the constitution which was framed at its origin has been maintained for The Middlesex Hospital to the present day. Then, as now, every annual subscriber of three guineas was granted the privileges of a Governor, and Quarterly Courts were held for the purpose of electing annually the Weekly Board of Management, appointing the Honorary Staff, and receiving from the Board an account of its transactions during the previous quarter. In 1752 a by-law was enacted which forbade any medical officer or servant from acting as a Governor, a restriction which no longer obtains so far as the honorary officers are concerned. The first President was the second DUKE OF PORTLAND, whose tenure of office was not, however, destined to be of long duration.

Constitution and Management.

Its first President.

In 1747 it was resolved to appropriate one-third of the beds to Lying-in Married Women, and two Medical men were appointed to the charge of that Ward, it being stipulated that no "woman-midwife be permitted to act as midwife to this Hospital." The popularity of this extension of the original objects of the Institution proved to be nearly the cause of its downfall. For, owing to the demands on the resources of the new Department, a project was entertained to provide further accommodation for these cases by erecting a permanent building on a site to the east of Tottenham Court Road, a scheme which had to be abandoned from lack of funds. Nevertheless a determined attempt, energetically promoted by the then Physician, Dr. Cox, to convert the Hospital into a Lying-in Institution, a proposal favoured by the President and other officials, was only frustrated by a compromise. It was resolved that 10 Beds should in future be assigned to the Sick and Lame, 10 to Lying-in Women, and 4 to Cases of Accident. The crisis led to numerous resignations, including that of the President, who was succeeded by HUGH, EARL (afterwards DUKE) OF NORTHUMBERLAND. It is gratifying to record that this office has from that time always been filled by the head of the Noble House of Percy, whose members have been amongst the most generous and zealous supporters of the Hospital.

The second
President.

Building Fund.

In 1750 the number of Beds was increased to 40, but the incommodious and inadequate character of the Windmill Street premises, particularly shown in the growing claims of the Maternity Department, caused the Governors to appeal for Subscriptions to a Building Fund. At length they were in a position to carry out the scheme which had been long in view. A convenient sight in the locality was selected in the Marylebone Fields, and a lease of the same having been obtained from CHARLES BERNERS, Esq., for the term of 999 years at a Ground Rent of £15 per annum, the Building was commenced after the design of J. PAINE, Esq., Architect. The contract for its erection was £2,250. On the 15th of May, 1755, the first stone was laid by the EARL OF NORTHUMBERLAND, to whose unwearied exertions and personal influence the accomplishment of this great object is principally to be ascribed. The following contemporary account of the proceedings is taken from the monthly chronicle of events in the Gentleman's Magazine for June, 1755:—

Laying the Foundation
Stone, 1755.

Thursday, 15. The anniversary sermon of the Middlesex hospital was preached at St. Anne's church, Westminster, by the rev. Dr. Nichols, rector of the Temple. After divine service the right hon. the E. of Northumberland, president, Sir Wm. Beauchamp Procter, Bart., and Col. Cornwallis, vice-presidents, with the stewards and governors, walked from the church to the ground appointed for erecting the new building for the Middlesex hospital in Marybon field, where the president, assisted by the two vice-presidents, laid the first stone. They returned to the great concert room in Dean-street, where, at the chamber door, the collection amounted to 400*l.* Sir Wm. Beauchamp Procter gave 100*l.*

A picture by ROBERT EDGE PINE, representing the ceremony of laying the foundation-stone, was placed in the Board Room in 1768, where it still remains.

II.

Chronicle
of the
building.

The history of the Institution in the century and a half that has elapsed since its first stone was laid can almost be followed in a simple recital of the changes wrought in its fabric, indicative as these are of unwearied endeavour to keep the Hospital abreast of every advance made in the care of the sick and the treatment of disease. It may even be said that the gradual growth of this building, and its eventual and well-nigh entire internal reconstruction.

constitute an outward and visible sign of the progress which has been made in medical and surgical science. In the main a sketch such as this must necessarily be limited to these obvious and salient facts in the life of any institution. It will, however, be necessary to speak occasionally of other matters than those of mere structural improvements in order to convey an adequate idea of the work that is carried on by the Hospital. Without, therefore, adhering too closely to strict chronological sequence, we propose in the first instance to speak chiefly of the main buildings, and to deal subsequently with those additional departments, which in course of time, have so materially expanded the sphere of its benefits. It will be seen how, in spite of periods of financial anxiety, The Middlesex Hospital has been enabled by the generous support it has received from the public to carry on its beneficent work in an enlightened and liberal spirit, keeping always in mind the high purpose for which it was founded—namely, the relief of the “sick and lame,” who, in ever-increasing numbers, seek admission to its charity.

In 1757 the building, of which only the central block had been erected, was ready to receive Patients, the number of beds being at first 64. In 1761 an Operating Room was provided, and in 1763 a temporary building was erected on the eastern side. Two years later the building of the West Wing was commenced, but it was not completed until 1768, nor did its Wards receive patients until 1770, in which year the maternity cases were transferred to the temporary block. The erection of the East Wing was commenced in 1775, and finished in 1780. This slow progress in the completion of the design was undoubtedly due to the exiguity of the exchequer, and for the same reason it was found impossible to furnish and occupy Wards, which long remained unfilled. It is interesting to note that the naming of Wards was introduced in 1774, when the four then open were styled respectively “PERCY,” “CLAYTON,” “PYKE,” and “VILLENEAU,” the last name being that of the first surgeon to the Hospital, but in a few years this name was replaced by that of the “FOUNDERS’” Ward. Not only were Wards left unoccupied after their construction, but in 1782 it was found necessary to retrench to such an extent that some of the Wards which had been opened were again closed, and other economies, especially in the Lying-in Department, had to be resorted to. Amongst the reasons given for the meagreness of public support at this time was that of the greater division of available charitable funds, arising from the increase in the number of dispensaries in the neighbourhood. But whatever the causes, there is no doubt that the favourable progress of the Hospital was much retarded. Many Annual Governors discontinued their subscriptions, the Hospital became involved in debt, and all was gloom and discouragement.

It was under these circumstances that the Governors were enabled to offer some of the Wards as an Asylum for refugees from France at the time of the Revolution, many of them being Clergymen in a state of utter destitution. The West Wing was therefore assigned at low terms to a large body of such Sick French Clergy and Lay Emigrants, and for several years they here enjoyed freedom from persecution. A glimpse of their sojourn is given in the following passage, from a report made to the Governors in 1800 by the Resident Apothecary. It runs: "In June 1793 two Wards were opened for the reception of French Emigrants, of whom 301 Priests and 120 Laity have been admitted; of this number, 83 Clergy and 36 Laity have died, 311 discharged cured, excepting 21 now in the house, of whom only seven have Medical attendance, the rest being in the Hospital for support and maintenance only." When, in 1814, after a long period of exile, permission was at length given them to return to their own country, those who survived availed themselves of the privilege and took their departure, expressing great and lasting gratitude for the quietude and comforts they had enjoyed for twenty-one years.

It was some time before the Hospital surmounted the financial straits in which it found itself. During the first decade of the nineteenth century many appeals were made to the public, and the strictest economy had to be practised, for, owing to the war, the rise in price of bread and other necessaries could not but be felt. Indeed, the allowance of bread, as well as other articles of food, and even medicines, had to be severely curtailed.

Efforts to restore prosperity
—Lord
Robert
Seymour.

The merit of having retrieved the establishment from almost complete ruin is pre-eminently due to the late LORD ROBERT SEYMOUR, whose memory must always be dear to The Middlesex Hospital. With a most earnest desire to see it resume its former useful position, he interested himself in its behalf, and by his personal influence prevailed on a great number of the Nobility, Clergy, and Gentry to join in the good cause. He it was who obtained for the Hospital the Patronage of the PRINCE REGENT, afterwards KING GEORGE THE FOURTH, whose example was followed by KING WILLIAM THE FOURTH, and her late Majesty QUEEN VICTORIA. Our present gracious KING has likewise condescended to declare himself the PATRON of The Middlesex Hospital, and to assist it with his annual bounty.

of Wards,
and opening

Wards, 1811
to 1824.

These efforts, which included a Concert in the King's Theatre, realizing a large sum, and also a Public Meeting at the Argyll Rooms resulted in a reopening of Wards, one of which was named "SEYMOUR," after the noble benefactor, and was assigned to cases of Accidents. In 1819 the "NORTHUMBERLAND" Ward was opened, by which time the total number of beds had reached 179. In 1820 "HERTFORD" Ward was opened, and four years later four other Wards, increasing the accommodation to 200 beds.

Extension
of the Wings,
1834-5.

In the year 1834 the Governors decided to enlarge the building, two most extensive parishes, St. Marylebone and St. Pancras, having grown up about it. The accommodation for In-Patients had become quite disproportionate to the number of applicants, and much difficulty was often found in distributing them, particularly in cases requiring more complete seclusion than could be obtained in the General Wards. Trusting to the liberality which had hitherto supported the Institution, it was proposed to extend each Wing of the Hospital thirty feet towards the street. The alterations thus proposed were satisfactorily accomplished, and the appearance of the Hospital thereby much improved, the whole being paid for by subscriptions raised for this specific object, without at all trenching upon the Funds of the Hospital. By this extension the number of beds was raised to 240.

In 1836, by the exertions of Mr. TOOKE, an Act of Incorporation was obtained for the Hospital, to which further reference will be made.

In 1845 the centenary of the Hospital was duly celebrated, and shortly afterwards further steps were taken to improve the building and increase its accommodation, for, notwithstanding the additions that had already been made, it was still too small to afford relief to all who applied, besides being deficient in many appliances which had been introduced into other hospitals for promoting the comfort and welfare of the Patients. Considering it their duty to remedy these deficiencies, the Governors in the year 1848 determined on effecting extensive and costly improvements.

The accommodation was increased by no less than fifty-five beds, one of the Wards thus newly opened being the "MURRAY" Ward, dedicated to the memory of SIR JOHN MURRAY under a provision in the will of his widow. A Ward was also opened for the reception of cases of Diseases Peculiar to Women, such for example as those which occasionally occur during or after confinement, and which, unless attended to with a care that can rarely be afforded in their own homes, reduce the sufferers to a state entirely unfitting them for the active duties of life, not infrequently bringing them to a premature grave. New rooms were provided for the superior nurses, the different offices rendered more commodious, and fireproof staircases introduced throughout the building. A laundry was established in the basement of the East Wing, whereby additional comfort was obtained and a saving of expenditure made.

Particular attention was paid to the ventilation of the Hospital, to defects in which had been ascribed in large measure the prevalence of erysipelas, pyæmia, and other septic diseases that were a cause of much mortality following surgical operations. It is perhaps not too much to say that the frequency in those days of such secondary septic infection after operations was almost regarded as one of the inevitable risks a hospital patient had to run, so that by a strange irony of circumstance the place he had entered to be rid of his disease might itself be the cause of his perishing. So strong was this belief that, led by SIR JAS. SIMPSON, an attack was made upon the hospital system itself, and the term "hospitalism" was invented to convey the impressions of these risks. Happily there is no need in the present day to revive the controversy on this debatable question, for, thanks to more and more scrupulous attention to the principles of cleanliness and hygiene, such septic complications are now but rarely seen either within or outside institutions. The recognition of the true nature of these disorders and the means for preventing them followed upon the epoch-making researches of LORD LISTER. And as regards the effect of the improved ventilation adopted in the Hospital and its Wards, the diminution of the class of cases referred to was proof of the necessity as well as of the value of the change. Every subsequent improvement has in point of fact been directed to the same end.

Cholera in London—
Cases treated in the Wards,
1854.

In 1849 Cholera broke out in London, and 60 cases of the disease were admitted into the Wards which were set apart for the purpose. In doing so the authorities of the Hospital reversed the policy of their predecessors who, in the epidemic of 1834, declined to receive such cases. A much greater strain upon the resources of the Hospital was imposed by the memorable visitation of Cholera in 1854, one of the centres of the epidemic being the Golden Square district, owing, as was supposed, to the contamination of the water furnished by the notorious Broad Street pump. The Middlesex Hospital being in the vicinity received as many as 231 cases from July to November, no fewer than 152 seeking admission during the first two weeks of September. There were in addition 47 cases of Choleraic Diarrhoea. Of the Cholera patients 123 died, a fatality rate of 53·2 per cent., one of the victims being a Nurse of the Hospital, who together with another Nurse and a maid-servant were the only instances which arose within the building itself. A detailed account of the experience of the Hospital in respect to all the cases treated in it was drawn up by Mr. S. W. SIBLEY, the Registrar, and published by the authority of the Weekly Board.

Extension
of Out-Patient
Department, 1859.

In the year 1859 the Authorities acquired some premises in Charles Street, adjoining the East Wing, and were enabled thereby to extend the accommodation for out-patients, who were becoming very numerous.

Further
Extensions and Improvements
in East Wing,
1878-9.

Although reference will be specially made to the Nursing Department on another page, it may here be mentioned that during the sixties attention was directed to its improvement and organization. This culminated in the opening of the Nursing Home in Cleveland Street in 1869, which was further extended in 1878, when by a reconstruction of the buildings two special Wards were made connected with the East Wing. Each of these Wards were subdivided into two parts holding two beds each. The one was named "BENTINCK" after a munificent benefactress, Miss A. H. CAVENDISH-BENTINCK, the other "DE MORGAN" after the late Mr. CAMPBELL DE MORGAN, the Senior Surgeon to the Hospital, whose death in 1876 had been widely and deeply lamented. At the same time accommodation was provided for the Registrars on the ground floor of the extended Wing.

In 1879 a Hydraulic Lift was constructed in the East Wing, giving access from the basement to each of the floors of the building, and greatly facilitating the conveyance of Patients to and from the Operating Theatre, besides being of great service to the general work of the Hospital.

Ward
ments.

By the substitution of teak for soft wood flooring in four of the Surgical Wards another advance was made in ward sanitation. The costly improvement, which took place in 1883, was made on the initiative of the late Mr. GEORGE LAWSON, Surgeon to the Hospital, into whose hands a large sum of money had been entrusted by the executors of the late JOHN BIZO, Esq. The alteration was found to be so eminently satisfactory that subsequently the Governors undertook the flooring of all the Wards with the same material, the heavy expense incurred being amply justified by the great gain in cleanliness, non-absorbency, and endurance. Quite recently (1904) the like objects have been further advanced in the case of the large Surgical Ward ("BRODERIP") on the ground floor of the West Wing, of which the walls have been lined with "Crystopal." The cost of this latter alteration considerably exceeded Mr. BISCHOFFSHEIM's generous gift of £250 for the purpose, and amounted to over £1,000, including new furniture and fittings. After removal of the plaster serious defects were discovered in the walls, which had been standing over 150 years, and the necessary rebuilding was the main cause of the excess in the expenditure.

Notwithstanding the improvements in the OUT-PATIENT DEPARTMENT in 1859, the arrangements therein were for many years very cramped and inadequate to the needs of the large and increasing number of applicants for relief, especially as in addition to Casualties, Medical and Surgical Cases, it had been found necessary to add Departments for certain special affections. To meet this extension and subdivision of work very extensive alterations and improvements were undertaken in the East Wing in 1883-4, comprising the erection of a new Dispensary, of an enlarged Waiting Room for Patients with an exit into Cleveland Street, and the installation at the end of the corridor of a Refreshment Bar, where Out-Patients who were awaiting their turn could be served with non-alcoholic drinks and other light refreshments at a moderate charge. At the same time the Consultation Rooms were remodelled and re-arranged. These improvements were effected at a cost of £17,500. The Opening Ceremony took place on the 17th of December, 1884, when T.R.H. THE PRINCE AND PRINCESS CHRISTIAN, THE LORD LIEUTENANT OF THE COUNTY, THE LORD MAYOR OF LONDON, and many influential Governors were present on the occasion. Her Royal Highness made an inspection of the Hospital, and was graciously pleased to allow a Ward to be named "HELENA" in commemoration of her visit.

An important and very desirable step was the acquisition of all the houses in Cleveland Street which still remained on the east side of the Hospital Garden. In 1885 the seal was affixed to an agreement by which these houses were placed at the disposal of the Hospital on the expiration of the existing lease. It will be seen hereafter how the site thus acquired has been gradually covered by buildings connected with the Medical School and the Nursing Department of the Hospital, which obtained thereby much-needed accommodation without encroaching on the area of the Hospital Garden.

In connection with the main building the fulfilment of a long-cherished scheme for the erection of a Chapel, promoted by many warm friends of the Institution, enabled a great improvement to be undertaken in the removal of the Mortuary and Post-mortem Room from their position in contiguity to the Wards to a more convenient site on the western side of the Garden adjacent to the School Buildings. This change took place in 1889, and in the following year a Crematorium was constructed beneath the Mortuary for the destruction of dressings, etc., and has proved of the greatest service in the furtherance of sanitation and cleanliness.

Electric Lighting installed, 1891.

In 1891 Electric Lighting was installed throughout the Hospital Building, entirely replacing gas for illuminating purposes, though the latter is still employed in the kitchen for cooking.

Children's Ward, 1892.

The conversion of rooms on the third floor, hitherto assigned to members of the Resident Staff, into a Children's Ward took place in 1892, and supplied what had come to be felt as a deficiency in the resources of the establishment.

New Operating Theatres, 1894-5.

The next improvement taken in hand was the entire reconstruction of the Operating Theatre, which, when the Medical School was established in 1835, had been removed from its original position on the upper floor of the West Wing to the ground floor adjacent to the Accident Ward (now the "BRODERIP" Ward). Here it remained unaltered until 1894, when it was demolished and a new and more spacious Theatre was erected on the most approved principles. This building comprises a large Theatre capable of seating about 130 students, a small Theatre for special operations, and rooms for the administration of anæsthetics and for the recovery of Patients, all being very effectively lit by Electric Light and ventilated by a special apparatus in the basement. An entirely new set of Instruments and Appliances was provided, and no effort was spared to render the Theatre one of the most convenient and best equipped of its kind. It was opened for use in 1895.

Convalescent Home, 1896; and Cancer Wing, 1897-8.

As evidence of the remarkable zeal with which the Governors were at this time imbued in their endeavours to do all that was possible to increase the usefulness of the Institution, it may be mentioned that in the following year the Convalescent Home at Clacton was opened, and in 1897 was laid the foundation-stone of the new Cancer Wing, to both of which important annexes we shall again refer.

Laundry established at Hendon, 1901.

Nor does this complete the tale of structural improvements which have been effected in the Hospital fabric itself. In 1901 it was decided to remove the Laundry from the position it had long occupied in the basement of the North-East Wing to a site which had been procured at Hendon. Here a Laundry, fully furnished with all modern appliances, was erected. It is maintained in daily connection with the Hospital by means of a steam motor waggon. The part of the Hospital building thus set free has been utilized for an extension of the boiler service, which is applied to the heating of the Hospital and School, and for the construction of disinfecting chambers, cold storage rooms, and other needful objects. At the same time this Wing was extended so as materially to enlarge the three Female Wards, "BIRD," "HELENA," and "SEYMOUR," whilst to the uppermost floor were transferred the kitchens and offices from the basement of the central block, displacing two Wards, "HAWKINS" and "PRUDHOE." Lastly, with the opening of the New Cancer Wing, two of the three Wards, which had for at least half a century been the home of Patients on that foundation, were assigned to the cases of Diseases of Women ("PRUDHOE" Ward), and in 1902 a Special Operating Theatre was constructed on the site of the third Ward for the sole use of that department.

Gynæcological Wards and Theatre, 1900-2.

There are many minor improvements, both in respect to construction and rearrangement, which have from time to time been made, that need not be dwelt on here. Suffice it to say that during its 150 years of existence The Middlesex Hospital has demonstrated the practicability of an institution being modified and expanded in accordance with the demands of advancing knowledge and experience. It has thus undergone a process of evolution without any resort to the wholesale destruction so often deemed to be necessary in adapting old buildings to modern needs. It says something for the simplicity as well as for the stability of Mr. PAINE's design that the structure he planned should have been capable of the transformation it has experienced without interference with its external walls. To be sure there has been some expansion since the DUKE OF NORTHUMBERLAND's foundation in 1755 in order to meet the needs of an increasing population, for a building which originally stood on the outskirts of the town is now buried in the heart of a densely peopled community. But the Hospital buildings, which now form a complete rectangle, still enclose a fairly spacious and shady Garden, which affords both a pleasant outlook from the windows of the Wards and also a grateful retreat in summer, where Patients and Nurses can enjoy fresh air and change of scene without quitting the Hospital premises. It may be recalled that this "garden" was first laid out in 1769, when it was hoped that it would yield sufficient vegetable produce for the Hospital dietary. This hope not being fulfilled, it was later converted into a botanic garden and chiefly stocked with medicinal plants, grass plots being also laid down and poplars planted. This was in 1785, in which year the aeronaut Leonardi sought but failed to obtain permission to use it as a starting-place for his balloon. For many years a local flower show was held in it, whilst its suitability for evening fêtes has been proved on several occasions, the last being in connection with the celebration of the opening of the Convalescent Home in 1896.

III.

The disadvantage of not possessing a CHARTER OR ACT OF INCORPORATION had on several occasions been experienced, and it was therefore suggested that application should be made to Parliament to obviate this inconvenience. In the year 1836 facilities for obtaining this desirable charter of legal perpetuity were afforded by the circumstance of MR. WILLIAM TOOKE, the Honorary Solicitor of the Hospital, being then Member of Parliament for Truro, and he, with great readiness and liberality, undertook the task of conducting through Parliament an Act of Incorporation. His kind endeavours were successful; and, on the 30th of March, 1836, "THE PRESIDENT, VICE-PRESIDENTS, TREASURERS, AND GOVERNORS OF THE MIDDLESEX HOSPITAL" were declared by Act of Parliament to be one body politic and corporate, and by that name to have perpetual succession and a common seal, with such other privileges as are usually granted under similar circumstances. And they are enabled, without incurring the penalties or forfeitures of the Statutes of Mortmain, to hold and retain the Hospital and Premises for the residue of a term of 999 years, created by a lease under which the Hospital premises are held; and, by will, gift, purchase, or otherwise, to obtain, acquire, hold and retain, as well the inheritance in fee-simple of the said Hospital and premises, as also any other lands either in fee or for terms for life or years, so as not to exceed (exclusive of the Hospital and money invested in mortgage) the clear YEARLY value of £10,000.

The Hospital is also authorized, by will, gift, purchase, or otherwise, to obtain, acquire, hold, and retain any monies and personal estate secured on mortgage or charged on land.

The power to hold land has been of great service to this Institution, and in the year 1890 a bequest, which had been withheld by the Executors under the impression that the Hospital was debarred by Statute of Mortmain from receiving it, was fully recovered with the interest accrued thereon.

IV.

So far only leading events in the history of the Hospital, and changes that have taken place in the Main Building have been referred to, but these by no means exhaust all that must be mentioned in order to give an accurate idea of the work that has been and is being done there. In the first place attention may be directed to its special departments, which form such important features of its work.

Midwifery
ment.

The first of these to be established was the Midwifery Department. It may be recalled that within a few years of the foundation of the Hospital it was resolved to apportion some beds to cases of Deserving Married Women during their confinements; and it has been seen how narrowly the Hospital escaped being wholly converted to this branch of philanthropic relief. To be sure, at the present day it would be deemed not only incongruous but worse than foolish to harbour under the same roof persons so susceptible to septic infection, and those suffering from Surgical injuries and diseases, or even contagious fevers. But in the eighteenth century such considerations, even if present to their minds, were not permitted to weigh with the Founders to thwart their laudable desire to extend the benefits of the Hospital where they were much needed and appreciated; added to which this special branch of the Charity was so consonant with the best feelings of the Governors, especially of the Ladies, who had always taken a very warm interest in The Middlesex Hospital, as to occasion great unwillingness to give up the Lying-in Wards. That change, however, had to be eventually made, as the following brief chronicle shows:—

Lying-in Cases no longer admitted

In 1763 we find Dr. Thomas Cooper, who had been elected "physician man-midwife," initiating the system of attending a certain number of cases at their own homes, the number of recommendations being such as to cause the Board to "be under the disagreeable necessity of refusing many objects for want of room." In 1773 it was resolved to apply for a licence for the Hospital

"pursuant to the direction of the Act of Parliament," entitled "An Act for the better regulation of Lying-in Hospitals," an evidence of the estimation in which the Governors held this part of the Hospital's work. However, the impoverished state of finances compelled the authorities to reduce this establishment, and to limit the number of beds to six, whilst two years later it was resolved to appoint a certain number of midwives to attend cases "at their own habitations," under the supervision of the "physician man-midwife," who was granted the sum of five shillings per case "to defray the charge of midwife, coach hire, and other individual expenses." In 1786 it was thought that if no cases at all were admitted the expense would be reduced, but a trial of this proving unsatisfactory, it was decided to return to the practice of admitting patients, the number, however, being reduced to two. It was not until 1807 that the midwifery in-patients were finally done away with, and a few years later Dr. Merriman, who held office from 1809 to 1826, introduced the plan of employing the pupils of the Hospital to attend cases at the option of the patients, "who, if they prefer a midwife, a pupil is never pressed upon them." Dr. Merriman published annual reports of his department, from which it will be seen how rapidly it grew. The number of deliveries in 1814 was 64, in 1824, 374.—From "The Middlesex Hospital Journal," vol. ii., p. 105.

In the year 1884 a suggestion was made by the Obstetric Physician that the employment of Midwives should be dispensed with, and that all Maternity cases should be attended by Students, under proper supervision. This scheme was carried into effect, and these cases are now entrusted to duly appointed "Extern Clerks," under the supervision of the qualified Medical Officers of the Department.

V.

A special and in some respects a unique feature of The Middlesex Hospital is the Cancer Charity, which was established in 1792 under the following interesting circumstances. In the previous year Mr. JOHN HOWARD, surgeon, of Argyll Street, addressed a letter to the Weekly Board of Governors offering, on behalf of a gentleman who wished to remain anonymous, to defray the cost of fitting up a Ward for the admission of Patients afflicted with cancer. The objects of the donor were set forth in this communication as twofold in scope—namely, in the first place, to give relief to a most deserving class of sufferers, and secondly, to afford opportunity for the study and investigation of a disease which was as obscure in its origin as it was fatal in its effects. The offer was accepted, and the unknown benefactor undertook to fit up a Ward for the reception of these cases, as well as to settle the interest of £4,000 Three per Cent. Consolidated Bank Annuities for ever by way of endowment of the Cancer Establishment. The death of SAMUEL WHITBREAD, Esq., in 1796 made known the secret that he was the munificent benefactor whose name had been so far concealed, and it was by his expressed wish that his son (SAMUEL WHITBREAD, some time M.P. for Bedford) was appointed a trustee of the fund of the Charity, in which he throughout continued to take a keen interest. It may be added that in 1797 Mr. HOWARD was requested to act as Surgeon to the Department, an office he held until his death in 1811, leaving behind him a record of his clinical experiences which was afterwards published. From that time the Wards have been mostly in the charge of the Surgeons of the Hospital.

Mrs. Stafford,

Sir J. de C.
Laffan,
1854.

Since then the Cancer Fund has been augmented by numerous other Donations and bequests, notably by a Legacy bequeathed by Mrs. ALITHEA MARIA STAFFORD in 1815; and in 1854 by a bequest of SIR JOSEPH DE COURCY LAFFAN, BART., M.D. It is interesting that in her will Mrs. Stafford expressly states that she made her bequest in the hope of its aiding in "curing persons afflicted with cancer and of investigating and promoting our general knowledge of treating that dreadful disorder," objects practically identical with those that the Founder of the Charity had in mind.

The Cancer
Wards.

These further endowments enabled the Governors to appropriate three Wards, namely, "WHITBREAD," "STAFFORD" and "LAFFAN," exclusively to females suffering from cancer, besides providing accommodation for men suffering from the same disease, a few beds being set apart in one of the Surgical Wards for this purpose. Here the victims of this almost hopeless malady find a permanent refuge, where everything that human skill and kindness can effect is provided for the cure of their disease, or at least for the alleviation of their sufferings.

The Founders of the Cancer Establishment, actuated by a wise benevolence, determined that this refuge should be permanent, by directing that the Patients might remain until "relieved by art, or released by death." No one who has interested himself in the unhappy lot of the Patients in these Wards, being forty-five in number, can have failed to observe how greatly their mental suffering is mitigated by the knowledge that they have here offered to them, if they so desire it, a peaceful and permanent refuge for the remainder of their existence. In it they are exempted from the anxious cares of providing for the daily wants of life, as well as from the sad necessity of repeated solicitations for another and another refuge, as the term for which they can be received into other Hospitals from time to time approaches to its close.

Male
Cancer
Ward.

In the year 1886 the question, which had long been engaging the attention of the Governors, how to provide accommodation for the Male Cancer Patients, was solved by the appropriation of "HANDEL" Ward to the purpose. This Ward was entirely remodelled and renamed. A partition was made so as to give space for nine beds and to provide a sitting-room in which these Patients might spend the daytime and enjoy the privilege of smoking.

A large bow-window was opened in the north wall, overlooking the garden, which gave the room a bright and home-like appearance. It had long been a wish that a Ward should be called after the eminent Physician Dr. E. H. GREENHOW, who had taken an active and zealous part in the promotion of the scheme, and finally that gentleman's scruples were overcome, and the double Ward was named "GREENHOW" Ward.

In 1893 the important step was taken with a view to move the Female Cancer Establishment to a separate building entirely devoted to the treatment of that disease. It was considered that the removal of these incurable cases from under the roof of the Hospital would be for their benefit in respect of health, comfort and convenience, while the space thus set free would be available for other purposes. The generous offer by Mr. C. H. BERNERS of a seventy years' lease of some property in Nassau and Union Streets adjacent to the Hospital at a low rental was accepted, and it was decided to utilize the site for the erection of a block of Female Cancer Wards.

In support of this project a Festival Dinner was held in 1894 under the special patronage of HER LATE MAJESTY QUEEN VICTORIA, at which H.R.H. THE PRINCE OF WALES (now H.M. KING EDWARD VII.) presided, and was supported by numerous Governors and Friends of the Hospital. His Royal Highness made a strong appeal on behalf of the Special Fund for building the New Cancer Wing, with the result that over £9,300 was subscribed.

The foundation stone of the new building was laid with appropriate ceremony on 15th July, 1897, by H.R.H. THE PRINCESS CHRISTIAN, and on 1st January, 1900, the Female Cancer Patients were transferred from the old Wards to the commodious and well-equipped establishment in Nassau Street. It contains three Wards (bearing the original names) of twelve beds each, and two smaller Wards of two beds each, together with a small operating room for emergencies. There are also a large day-room for the use of patients not confined to bed, administrative offices, nurses' rooms, and kitchen. It is thus quite self-contained, having its own Nursing Staff, controlled by a Resident Matron, subject to the authority of the central administration, and a Medical Officer whose sole duty is the care of the Patients in this Wing, for which he also acts as Registrar.

Although in accordance with the trust there have from time to time ever since its earliest days been investigations into suggested (and occasionally very fanciful) methods of the treatment of Cancer, it has been left for these latter days to see the inauguration of a scheme for systematic inquiry into the nature of the disease, which was obviously one of the objects that the founder of the Charity had in view. The enlargement of the building afforded an opportunity to remedy this defect, for it was well recognised by the Governors that an Institution such as they had established offered inestimable advantages for such systematic study, both clinical and pathological. A Cancer Investigation Committee was formed, and a Research Laboratory instituted, of which Mr. A. G. R. FOULERTON was appointed the first Director. To him and to his successor in that office Dr. LAZARUS BARLOW, together with the band of zealous workers who have been engaged in these laboratories, are owing the already published four volumes of Reports containing memoirs and records of considerable interest and value, which have more than justified the foundation of this Research Department, and which are full of promise for the future.

Department of Children's Diseases.

Cases of DISEASES IN CHILDREN had, until the year 1888, been under the care of the Assistant Obstetric Physician, but the growth of the work in the Obstetric Department caused his time to be fully taken up in attending Women Patients, the consequence being that the children were relegated to the care of the Obstetric House Physician. It seemed undesirable that this state of things should continue, both for the sake of the Patients, and also in the interests of the Students, who were thus deprived of tuition in a most important branch of medical practice. A special department was therefore formed, and placed under the charge of a fourth Assistant Physician, who was added to the Staff for the purpose. In the year 1904, 2,512 cases were treated in this Department.

In the year 1891 an "Old Student" was instrumental in obtaining the sum of 1,000 guineas towards the cost of such alterations as would allow of a special Ward being opened for Children; and it was decided to transfer certain of the Resident Officers to the Residential College which had recently being erected, and to utilize the space thereby obtained for a Children's Ward. In the following year the Ward was opened, and was subsequently, by permission of H.R.H. THE DUCHESS OF YORK (now PRINCESS OF WALES), named "PRINCESS MAY" Ward. It contains eight Medical and five Surgical Cots for the treatment of Infants of both sexes.

The Out-
partments.

There are no branches of the work of a general Hospital that have increased so much in favour as the Out-Patient Departments. Originally much of this work was done by Dispensaries, but gradually the Hospitals, although primarily intended for the housing of Patients, have outstripped these Institutions in the amount and variety of Out-Door Relief they bestow. It does not appear to what extent this practice was followed in the early years of the existence of The Middlesex Hospital; but it must doubtless have always had to deal with minor Surgical Casualties, which did not require to be treated in the Wards. Whatever its origin, there is no doubt that the Out-Patient Department, once initiated, continued to grow, and we have seen that in order to furnish the needful accommodation, the buildings allotted to it had to be extended in 1859 and more thoroughly in 1883. Moreover, as time passed it became necessary to subdivide the work of the Department, so that, in addition to provision for the separate treatment of Medical and Surgical Cases and Casualties, special classes of disease were dealt with at separate hours and in most cases by specially appointed Medical Officers.

Dental,
1843.

1. The first of the Departments thus detached from the general body was the Dental Department. It was constituted in 1843, and placed under the charge of a Dental Surgeon, Mr. (later Sir) J. TOMBS being the first to be appointed to that office. It may, we think, be said that it was here that the recognition of Dentistry as an important branch demanding a special course of study came first to be recognised. As to the Department itself it increased to such an extent that in 1864 two Assistant Dental Surgeons were appointed, reduced in 1866 to one.

2. In 1862 a Department for Diseases of the Eye was opened. For three years this Department was in the charge of Mr. SOELBERG WELLS, and on his resignation in 1865 it was assigned to Mr. J. W. HULKE, then one of the Assistant Surgeons to the Hospital, who continued to conduct it until 1876, when Mr. G. CRITCHETT was elected to the separate office.

3. Although for some years Diseases of the Skin had been seen chiefly by one of the Physicians, it was not until 1879 that this branch was formed into a special Department under the charge of Dr. R. LIVING, who had recently been one of the full Medical Staff.

4. As in the previous cases, Diseases of the Throat and Ear had been seen on special days by one of the Assistant Surgeons or Physicians prior to 1880, when the Department of Diseases of the Throat and Ear was detached from the rest of the Out-patients, and placed in the charge of a specially appointed officer, Mr. A. HENSMAN.

5. In 1885 a Department for Electrical Treatment was started on a limited scale; and in 1901 this was entirely reconstituted and enlarged in order to include the new and valuable methods of treatment by Light as well as by Electricity, with which was incorporated the Rontgen Ray Department that had been in vogue since 1896. In 1903 a temporary building for this new and enlarged Department was erected in the Courtyard, and much valuable work is being done there.

In view of the ever-increasing number of Out-Patients applying for treatment, in the year 1873 the question was considered how far these Out-Patients ought to receive gratuitous treatment; but the opinion of the Solicitors that the Act of Incorporation of the Hospital precluded any payment, however small, prevented any change in the system.

The question of Out-Patient Relief.

VIII.

In order that the Hospital should be enabled to take advantage of the latest teachings of science, and at the same time afford opportunity for a thorough investigation of disease clinically as well as pathologically, it was determined on the recommendation of the Medical Committee to institute Clinical Laboratories, in which bacteriological and other researches in connection with diseases under observation in the Wards might be carried on. It was felt that this Department, too, would afford facilities for Instruction of Students in certain methods of investigation which are essential to the pursuance of subjects connected with the public health. Accordingly in 1903 the Clinical Laboratories were opened under the directorship of Mr. FOULBERTON, who vacated the office of Director of the Cancer Research Department, and already much valuable work has been done therein, as may be gathered by the Reports he has issued.

IX.

the Medical School.

The part taken by a Hospital such as this in Medical Education has now to be considered, whereby it confers a special boon on Society, and in order to clearly describe the evolution of the Medical School of the Middlesex Hospital it will be necessary to glance back at its early history.

For almost from the very first it would appear that the Physician or Surgeon was entitled to introduce pupils to follow his practice in the Wards. Such pupils selected the "clinique" they wished to attend for six months or a year, the fees going to the Physician or Surgeon concerned. There were also "apprentices" and "dressers."

The Medical Society.

In 1774 the Students of the Hospital formed themselves into a Medical Society, and were permitted the use of the "Physicians' room to meet on two nights a week on condition that they should pay to the treasurer three guineas per quarter for the benefit of the charity," to which proposal the Quarterly Court agreed, with the proviso "That the Society would be at the expense of their own candles." It may be added that the Society, which still flourishes, celebrated its centenary in 1874, Mr. ANDREW CLARK, being then its President,

The Students, besides going round the Wards at other times, received instruction from the Apothecary and attended the operations and clinical lectures. These latter were instituted when the new building was opened in 1757 by Dr. HUGH SMITH, one of the Physicians, whose application was met by the Quarterly Court resolving "That the Physicians and Surgeons of this Hospital have liberty to read lectures on physic and surgery at this Hospital." The instruction was not entirely limited to clinical subjects, for we find that in 1796 a Chemical Laboratory was fitted up, and lectures on Chemistry delivered, whilst there seems to be no doubt that systematic instruction in Midwifery was given long before the Medical School was founded.

Foundation
of University College,

Up to the year 1835 there was no deficiency of pupils at The Middlesex Hospital. For a series of years the main supply was drawn from a celebrated school of medicine in Windmill Street, where the preliminary scientific subjects of the curriculum were taught. Upon the establishment in 1828 of the London University (now University College) the school in Windmill Street was broken up, and the Students of the London University sought their practical instruction in The Middlesex Hospital, but in 1834 the London University built a hospital of their own, and their Students no longer appeared in any numbers in the Wards of The Middlesex Hospital.

Foundation
of Medical School,
1835.

It was under these circumstances that in the summer of 1835, the Governors, encouraged by the success that had attended their efforts to enlarge and improve the Hospital, entertained the question of the establishment of a MEDICAL SCHOOL in connection with the Hospital. The Hospital requires a succession of Pupils, who should be educated and trained under the observation of the Physicians and Surgeons of the Institution; and Medical Attendants who have thus acquired a practical knowledge of their profession are undoubtedly the most competent to take charge of individuals and large communities. It was therefore resolved, at a Quarterly Court in May, 1835, that a School should be erected by Subscription. By July the amount was such as to encourage the Governors to commence the buildings, which, under the superintendence of GEORGE BASEVI, Esq., the Architect, were completed by the 1st of October, when the Medical Session began.

It would occupy too much space to relate here the varying fortunes of the Medical School. There were years of great anxiety, when the entries of new Students fell to so low a number as not even to suffice to fill the few posts of resident officers to the Hospital, which form one of the main advantages of the connection between the two institutions. There were also years of prosperity, culminating in the eighties, when in point of numbers The Middlesex Hospital Medical School took a high position among the London Medical Schools. But throughout adversity and prosperity the institution, which was managed by a Committee formed of the Lecturing Staff, maintained a reputation for sound and thorough education, attracting to its service as teachers in subjects not dealt with by members of the Hospital Staff, men of eminence in their departments, and sending out every year well-trained medical men, whose subsequent careers have testified to the value of the training they have received.

It was not to be supposed that the buildings consisting of a Lecture Theatre, Laboratory, Dissecting Room, Library, and Museum, which were adequate for medical education in 1835, would always suffice. Yet apart from enlargement of the Museum in 1848 and again in 1860, but little addition was made to the original block until 1875, when another floor was added, and in 1880 when a new Lecture Theatre and Dissecting Room were built. The funds needed for these essential improvements were supplied by the Governors by way of loan, it being recognised that it was to the advantage of the Hospital that its School should be properly maintained.

On the Hospital acquiring the Lease of the Houses in Cleveland Street in 1885, the opportunity was seized for extending the Medical School. The Medical Authorities had long been of opinion that, if the School was to keep pace with the progress of similar institutions, more accommodation should be provided for the prosecution of the various studies. The Board of Governors, looking upon the interests of the School as intimately bound up with those of the Hospital, concurred in this view, and advanced a further loan to enable the School to erect a new Lecture Theatre, Library, Laboratory, and other Offices.

Until the year 1895 the School, which had been under the management of the Medical Staff, was self-supporting, but in that year it became evident that it could not be carried on any longer in a satisfactory manner apart from financial assistance. Without this the necessary additions and improvements to the School Buildings and their equipment could not be made, and the salaries of the lecturers, who were required for giving instruction in the preliminary scientific part of the curriculum, could not be provided. The position was a critical one. On the one hand, the Hospital authorities were convinced that the loss of the School would damage the Hospital, and on the other hand they doubted whether, having regard to the quasi-independent relation of the School to the Hospital, they would be justified in recommending the Governors to provide the moneys required to keep the School in existence. Accordingly, after prolonged conference between the Hospital and School Authorities, in which a leading part was taken by LORD SANDHURST and SIR RALPH THOMPSON, as Chairmen of the Weekly Board, it was decided that the time had come when a complete fusion should be effected. A Scheme of Amalgamation was prepared and approved by the Quarterly Court in August, 1896, whereby the Hospital took over all the property of the School and its liabilities, would receive the income, and after defraying the necessary expenses would provide a fixed annual sum for the remuneration of the Teaching Staff. The plan was to be subject to revision at the end of three years. The administration of the School was vested in a Council, on which the Weekly Board of Governors, the Medical Officers, and the Lecturers were represented.

Extension
of School Buildings,
1897-8.

The new body lost no time in setting the School in order, and the necessary additions and improvements to the School Buildings and their equipment were completed early in the year 1898. The new scheme of government has been found to work very satisfactorily, and according to the proposal some financial rearrangement was effected in 1902. It seems likely that in the near future the preliminary scientific subjects of the curriculum, of which the maintenance forms no inconsiderable item of the Annual Expenditure, will cease to be taught in any one of the Medical Schools of London, and be transferred to central institutions. In that case it is hoped that the School may again become self-supporting.

The Museum.

The Anatomical and Pathological Museum, which, as seen, formed part of the original block of buildings, was founded on the collections of the late Dr. SWEATMAN, Mr. LANGSTAFF and others, and has been continually enriched by additions to the specimens. In 1884 its valuable contents were catalogued by Dr. FOWLER and Mr. BLAND-SUTTON at a total cost of £250, towards which, the Museum being the property of the Hospital, the Governors made a grant of £100.

The
"Hospital Journal."

In 1896 the first Number of "The Middlesex Hospital Journal" was published, the need of such a periodical being felt by the Students, with whom it originated. The most active promoter of its publication was Mr. LEOPOLD HUDSON, whose early death, which occurred before the second issue, was deeply felt.

Prizes and
ships.

The interest evinced by the Governors in the fortunes of the Medical School has been shown in the foundation of awards to meritorious Students. Thus we find in 1850 Mr. MICHAEL SMITH, a member of the Weekly Board, gave a prize of £5 for general proficiency. In 1851 was instituted the "TREASURERS' PRIZE," succeeded in 1859 by the "GOVERNORS' PRIZE," which has ever since been annually awarded.

In 1872 two scholarships were founded and named the "BRODERIP SCHOLARSHIPS," in memory of the munificent Benefactor, Mr. FRANCIS BRODERIP, in whose honour the Male Accident Ward was also named "BRODERIP" Ward. In the same year were instituted "ENTRANCE SCHOLARSHIPS."

In 1873 the "MURRAY SCHOLARSHIPS" were founded (in connection with the University of Aberdeen) in memory of Dr. JOHN MURRAY, who had died at the early age of 29. All who were privileged to know Dr. MURRAY recognized in him a man of genius and of the most untiring zeal. He would doubtless have become one of the brightest ornaments of his profession. By means of the Scholarship his memory has been perpetuated as an abiding incentive to diligent labour and conscientious discharge of duty on the part of those who should thereafter pursue their studies at this Hospital, to the service of which he devoted his short but valuable life.

In 1884 Dr. HETLEY presented a Clinical Prize of £25 per annum, for the purpose of stimulating the Students to efficiency in the Wards of the Hospital.

Since the year 1885 a Foundation Scholarship has been awarded annually to a pupil of the Medical Benevolent College at Epsom. The Scholarship was named the "FREER LUCAS SCHOLARSHIP" in 1893 to perpetuate the memory of WILLIAM FREER LUCAS, the first to obtain it, who died of diphtheria contracted during the discharge of his duties in the Hospital.

A Gold Medal, value £5 5s., founded in memory of the late ROBERT WISHART LYELL (died 1882), Assistant Surgeon to the Hospital, is awarded annually. Under the will of his brother, Mr. J. W. LYELL, who recently died, a sum has been bequeathed to provide a money prize to be given to the holder of the medal.

To these may be added the "LEOPOLD HUDSON PRIZE" in Pathology, given by Mrs. HUDSON, and the "FREEMAN SCHOLARSHIP" in Midwifery by Mrs. FREEMAN, each of them founded to commemorate past Students of the School.

The office of Dean of the School was established in 1856, Dr. TEMPLE Deans. FRERE being the first nominated to the post, which has been held in succession by Dr. GOODFELLOW (1858), Mr. NUNN (1859), Dr. GREENHOW (1868), Mr. H. ARNOTT (1870), Dr. CAYLEY (1871), Dr. J. MURRAY (1873), Dr. R. KING (1874), Mr. ANDREW CLARK (1876), Mr. PEARCE GOULD (1886), Dr. COUPLAND (1892), Dr. W. PASTEUR (1896), Mr. J. MURRAY (1902), with whom is now associated as Sub-Dean, Dr. P. THOMPSON (1904).

X.

Simultaneously with the Cleveland Street Extension of the School Buildings in 1885 there was carried into effect an idea which had long been contemplated by the Authorities both of the Hospital and School. On a site rented from the Hospital, adjacent to the School, was erected by private enterprise a RESIDENTIAL College for the accommodation of Students. Although the Hospital accepted no liability in the undertaking, yet, as the Shares were largely taken up by Members of the Staff, the College may be fitly mentioned in a narrative dealing with the Hospital.

Residential College.

The College itself is an imposing red-brick Building overlooking the Garden, with accommodation for thirty Students, and was designed by Mr. K. D. YOUNG, Architect to the Hospital. When the Resident Officers were deprived of their quarters in the Hospital, to make way for the new Children's Ward, they were transferred to rooms in the College, which were connected with the main Building by a system of electric bells, and subsequently by telephone, so that the Officers could be summoned as readily as if they were residing in the Hospital. Accommodation is also provided in the College for the Extern Clerks attending Maternity cases at the Patients' homes.

XI.

Administration.

The affairs of the Hospital are administered by a Board of Governors, appointed at the February Court in each year. The Board meets every week for the transaction of business, and elects its own Chairman and Deputy-Chairman. It has been fortunate in having been presided over by Chairmen of great practical sagacity, who have taken the keenest interest in the Institution, and spared neither time nor pains to promote its welfare. The gentlemen who have held this office during the past fifty years have been Mr. MICHAEL SMITH (1851 to 1866), Major A. H. ROSS, M.P. (1867 to 1888), LORD SANDHURST (1888 to 1894, and 1902 to 1904), SIR RALPH THOMPSON, K.C.B. (1895 to 1902), and LORD CHEYLESMORE (1904).

The Weekly
Management.

The Weekly Board, in respect to all questions involving the treatment of the Patients is in harmonious accord with the Medical Committee, to whom such matters are referred, and by whom recommendations and nominations are made.

The Executive.

The Chief Executive Officer is the Secretary-Superintendent, the Medical management being entrusted to the Resident Medical Officer, and that of the Nursing Department to the Lady Superintendent of Nursing, an office which about thirty-five years ago was substituted for that of Matron.

Election Committee,
1879.

Formerly elections to the Honorary Staff were made by the votes of the whole body of Governors, a cumbrous method not invariably calculated to result in the appointment of the best qualified candidate. In 1879 this plan was, by a resolution of the Quarterly Court replaced by one which is both more equitable and more rational. An Election Committee was constituted, consisting of twelve representatives of the Governors nominated by the Court, six by the Weekly Board, and six by the Medical Committee, the nominations being made annually in May.

Revision of Laws.

In 1902 the Laws of the Hospital were remodelled and moulded in their present form by a Committee consisting of SIR ARTHUR WATSON, Bart., K.C., Mr. W. E. GILLET, and Lt.-Col. T. LAMBERT MEARS, M.A., LL.D.

Details in
ment.

As regards the control over the Expenditure and the keeping of the Accounts, the Board of Governors have always exercised a rigorous supervision. From time to time the Management has been the subject of favourable criticism from outside persons. In the year 1874 SIR SYDNEY WATERLOW, at a Meeting of the Council of the Metropolitan Hospital

Sunday Fund (whose timely aid has often enabled the Hospital to meet the yearly expenditure without trenching on capital), mentioned this Institution as one of the best managed in London.

In the year 1892 the office of Steward was abolished, the duties previously discharged by that functionary being committed into the direct charge of the Secretary-Superintendent, whose staff was reinforced by the additional appointment of another Clerk.

In the year 1892 a change was made in the system of keeping the Accounts, in accordance with a form drawn up by the Committee of Hospital Secretaries with a view to introduce a uniformity of system in all Hospitals. Another change was made in the abolition of the office of Collector, and the appointment of a Collecting Clerk under the direct supervision of the Secretary-Superintendent.

An important question in regard to the diet of Patients was raised by Mr. GEORGE STURGE in the year 1885. That gentleman, whose name will ever be remembered in connection with this Institution for his generous benefactions, as well as for the genuine interest which in other ways he evinced in its welfare, drew attention to the success which had attended the efforts of other charities in the reduction of expenditure on wines, spirits, and beer; at the same time expressing his regret that similar results had not been obtained at other Hospitals, including The Middlesex. The Board at once instituted an investigation into the question of consumption of alcoholic liquors, and were able to give Mr. STURGE a far from unsatisfactory answer, showing a steady decrease in the expenditure under this head in the previous ten years. The cost per Patient (exclusive of the Cancer Patients) was found to be 1s. 10d., a figure which compared very favourably with the results for other large Hospitals. Wines and spirits are regarded as articles of medicine, and are issued as such by the Dispenser only upon written order of the Medical Authority, a record being kept of such issues and returned weekly both to the Board of Governors and to the Medical Committee.

Consumption of Alcohol.

XII.

The growth of a Hospital is represented by the additions that are found to be necessary to the Staff of Medical Men as the number of Patients increases and special Departments are opened up; and The Middlesex Hospital, which in its first decade was fully equipped with a Staff of three Physicians, three Surgeons, a Physician Man-Midwife, a Resident Apothecary, and a "House-Pupil," has now come to employ a Staff (including Resident Officers) of no less than 40 members of the Medical Profession, the majority of whom give their services "without fee or reward." No better proof could be given of the amount of work required for the efficient administration of the Institution and of the wide expansion of its benefits.

The Medical Staff.

The records show that although the Honorary Staff normally comprised three full Physicians, three Surgeons, and a Physician-Accoucheur, yet from time to time and for varying periods there have been four Physicians or four Surgeons. In all, since its foundation there have been fifty-five Physicians and thirty-three Surgeons in office, the latter having served on an average for longer terms than the former, one indeed, Mr. SAMUEL HOWARD, holding office for the space of fifty-one years, from 1759 to 1810. It may be well to record the names of a few who have added lustre to the Hospital by their personal character and scientific attainments. Amongst the Physicians may be named RICHARD WARREN (1756 to 1758), LUCAS PEPYS (1769 to 1775), H. R. REYNOLDS (1773 to 1777), JOHN LATHAM (1789 to 1793), HENRY VAUGHAN (1793 to 1800), PETER M. LATHAM (1815 to 1824), H. H. SOUTHEY (1815 to 1827), F. HAWKINS (1824 to 1858), THOS. WATSON (1827 to 1843), A. P. STEWART (1855 to 1866), S. J. GOODFELLOW (1858 to 1871), H. THOMPSON (1859 to 1879) C. MURCHISON (1866 to 1870), E. H. GREENHOW (1871 to 1879), J. MURRAY, Assistant Physician (1871 to 1873). Amongst the Surgeons are the names of CHAS. BELL (1814 to 1836), JOHN SHAW (1825 to 1827), H. MAYO (1827 to 1842), JAS. M. ARNOTT (1833 to 1848), ALEX. SHAW (1842 to 1869), C. DE MORGAN (1848 to 1876), C. H. MOORE (1849 to 1870), J. W. HULKE (1870 to 1895), G. LAWSON (1873 to 1895); and amongst Assistant Surgeons W. H. FLOWER (1858 to 1862), R. W. LYELL (1879 to 1882), and C. L. HUDSON (1895 to 1897). The list of Physician-Accoucheurs includes the names of THOS. DENMAN (1769 to 1783), S. MERRIMAN (1809 to 1826), who subsequently became Treasurer to the Hospital, CHAS. WEST (1847 to 1850), TEMPLE FRERE (1850 to 1861), W. PRIESTLY (1861 to 1863), J. HALL DAVIS (1863 to 1883), and A. W. EDIS (1883 to 1889).

Honorary

The office of Assistant Physician was first established in 1840, when Dr. MERVYN CRAWFORD was appointed. There continued to be one Assistant Physician until 1853, when a second was appointed. In 1863 the number was increased to three and in 1889 to four. There was an Assistant Surgeon in 1746 and again in 1806, but the office was not permanently created until 1831, Mr. J. M. ARNOTT being the first holder. In 1858 the number was increased to two, and in 1894 to three. The office of Assistant Obstetric Physician was created in 1874, there having been previously only one Physician to this Department.

Reference has already been made to the special Departments, most of which are of comparatively recent origin, and the formation of which has considerably increased the Staff of Honorary Officers.

Anæsthetist

The first appointment of an Anæsthetist was made in 1874, the number of such officers being increased to two in 1885, and to three in 1895.

Registrars.

The first incumbent of the office of Registrar was Mr. S. W. SIBLEY in 1853, and he continued to act in this capacity until 1861. The records show that there was also at intervals a Surgical Registrar, of whom the first to hold office was Mr. D. B. BALDING in 1855, but it was not until 1867 that the permanent introduction of a Medical and Surgical Registrar was made. To these have now been recently added an Obstetric Registrar. The duty of performing the post-mortem examinations devolved upon the Registrars until the year 1875, when the office of Pathologist was linked with that of

Pathologist.

Curator of the Museum. It must not be omitted to mention that from 1867 to the present time one part of the duty of the Registrars has been to publish annual reports. With the commencement (in 1903) of the publication of the "Archives of the Middlesex Hospital" these reports are now embodied in that production, of which some four volumes are issued yearly, including the Reports of the Cancer Research Department, and contributions on clinical and pathological subjects by members of the Staff.

Lastly, reference may be made to the Resident Officers. From the beginning there has been a Resident Medical Officer, until 1886 styled "apothecary." In 1890 the offices of Casualty Medical and Surgical Officers were created, owing to the great increase of the numbers attending these departments. Of the Junior Resident Appointments that of House Surgeon dates back the farthest, for in 1757, when the Hospital acquired its building the post was created under the title of "House Pupil." Its tenure was for about a year, the appointment being made to each Surgeon in turn. From the year 1823 two House Surgeons were appointed annually, at an interval between each of six months, and this arrangement of Senior and Junior House Surgeon lasted for more than fifty years, when the change was made to the present plan of a House Surgeon to each of the Surgeons, and holding office for six months. It was not until 1859 that the office of House Physician (then termed "Resident Medical Assistant") was created, the duties now discharged by the holders having been performed by the Resident Apothecary. There are three such officers, one to each Physician, and also an Obstetric House Physician. The recent creation of the office of House Surgeon and Registrar to the Cancer Wing completes the tale of such Appointments.

XIII.

The question of the Nursing Department came under consideration during the first year of the late Major Ross's long tenure of office as Chairman of the Weekly Board, with the result that it was reorganized and placed on a better basis under the control of a Lady Superintendent, an office to which the first appointment was made in May, 1867. As already mentioned, the Nurses' Home was opened in 1869 by H.R.H. THE PRINCESS MARY OF CAMBRIDGE. In 1870 there was instituted the system of addition to the Regular Nursing Staff of a certain number of Lady Probationers, who on payment of a fee, were employed in the service of the Hospital for a definite period, and were thus enabled to gain experience in sick-nursing as well as to afford material assistance in the work of the Wards.

Nurses'
Home.

About the year 1872 considerable difficulty was experienced in procuring NURSES, and in retaining their services when trained. The general public were awaking to the immense importance of skilful nursing, as well as of medical treatment; and consequently there was much inducement for those who had passed a few years at a Hospital to leave it, and join some association for providing private persons with Nurses, and thereby emancipate themselves from the restraint and discipline which are essential to the well-being of a large Institution. With a view to improve the position of the Nurses, and to offer more inducement to them to give the Hospital the benefit of their mature experience, it was decided to devote the fees paid by the Lady Probationers to the formation of a Fund from which pensions and gratuities should be granted to such of the Nursing Staff as should have completed certain fixed terms of satisfactory service. Later on considerable improvements were made in the Nurses' quarters, and in the year 1878 the new buildings in Cleveland Street were opened, containing six additional bedrooms for Lady Probationers and eight for Nurses, and also a new day room, tastefully furnished at the expense of Miss CAVENDISH BENTINCK, a well-known Benefactress of the Hospital.

Another use made of the Lady Probationer Fee Fund was the institution of Lectures to the Nurses by Members of the Medical Staff, which have continued with signal success to the present day, Certificates being granted to such Nurses as have attended the Course of Lectures.

In 1886 a new departure was taken, which has been thoroughly justified by its results. The tendency on the part of nurses to attach themselves to Nursing Institutions, rather than continue in the service of the Hospital, led the Governors to consider whether such an Institution could not be founded in direct communication with this Hospital. A building was accordingly erected adjoining the Nurses' Home, and was opened in the following year as an Institution for supplying Nurses, who should have been thoroughly trained in the Hospital, to the general Public. From that time forward the Institute has been a signal success, amply repaying the expenses incurred on its behalf; providing as it does for the requirements of sick persons of more or less affluent circumstances, by whom the Nurses' services are greatly appreciated, and affording to the Nurses (after five, or in some cases three years' training) a comfortable home and remunerative occupation for their years of activity, and an assured pension in old age.

The Management and Finances of the Trained Nurses' Institute are entirely under the control of the Governors, and a table of Income and Expenditure is published annually with the Hospital Accounts.

In the year 1892 an arrangement was made, at the suggestion of the Lady-Superintendent, by which Lady Probationers who had shown exceptional promise were enabled, at the completion of their term of training, to enter the service of the Hospital as Staff Nurses.

In the year 1893 the Nursing Committee examined carefully the question of the Nurses' dietary, and as a result of their report, some improvements were made in the meals and in the refreshment provided for the Night Nurses.

Extension
of the Nurses'
Home, 1904.

Quite recently the Nursing Home has been extended by the erection of a building on the last remaining plot in Cleveland Street that was unoccupied. This building is architecturally in keeping with the Nursing Institute, which it adjoins. The addition not only provides for the accommodation of an increased number of Nurses, but supplies the Home with a greatly improved dining hall and recreation rooms.

The Nursing Staff now consists, in addition to the Night Superintendent, of 9 Head Nurses or Sisters, 62 Staff Nurses, 37 ordinary Probationers, and 16 to 20 Lady Probationers. There are also 10 Wardmaids. These are exclusive of those employed in the Cancer Wing.

XIV.

Besides the several Philanthropic persons whose names occur in various connections in the foregoing pages, mention should not be omitted of the many Donors, who from time to time have contributed large sums to the Funds of the Hospital. Of such are the Rev. F. JACOX and LUDWIG NEUMANN, Esq., both of whom have endowed Beds in the Hospital, LORD ROBERT SEYMOUR, the DUKE OF NORTHUMBERLAND, the MARQUIS OF WESTMINSTER, "D. T. S.," Rev. E. R. JODRELL, SIR R. WALLACE, "A Suffolk Rector," "T. W. R.," SIR ELLIOTT LEES, Bart., M.P., W. H. JOHNSON, Esq., BARON DE HIRSCH, JOHN MAPLE, Esq., Mrs. A. TOWRY HALL, "CAMBRIDGE," A. W. DAVIS, Esq., the Trustees of Smith's Charity, Kensington, TIMOTHY BEAN, Esq., MATTHEW WHITING, Esq., the 16th EARL OF DERBY, many of the large City Companies, and several anonymous Donors who have given sums of £1,000 and upwards.

Benefactors

HER LATE MAJESTY QUEEN VICTORIA throughout the whole of her reign contributed yearly the sum of One Hundred Guineas, a contribution which has been graciously continued by HIS GRACIOUS MAJESTY THE KING.

There are many others whose contributions may have been smaller, but whose names are recorded in the REGISTER OF BENEFACTIONS, though, for want of space, their generous actions cannot be chronicled at length in these pages; and there are also many who, though not making any great contribution directly to the Funds, have no less contributed most materially to the welfare of this Institution by exerting themselves in various ways on its behalf: of such are JOSEPH W. THRUPP, Esq., SIR E. SCOTT, RUTHVEN PYM, Esq., and FRANCIS HOARE, Esq., who successively for long periods filled the responsible office of Treasurer to the Hospital.

The most noteworthy LEGACIES have been the Bequests of Miss MARY EASON in 1890, and PROFESSOR DAVID HUGHES, F.R.S., in 1900. The former will, when fully realized, amount to nearly £90,000; the latter consists of one-fourth of the residue of the Testator's large estate, which constitutes the "DAVID E. HUGHES' HOSPITAL TRUST," and is intended to make a substantial addition to the permanent endowment of the Hospital. The full benefit of this Gift will not be enjoyed until twenty-one years after the death of the Testator. Amongst other munificent bequests are those of LADY MURRAY, FRANCIS BRODERIP, Esq., J. F. PIKE SCRIVENER, Esq., and Mrs. ISABELLA CHANDLESS, who each gave sums of Ten Thousand Pounds and upwards, and very many others who bequeathed amounts varying from Ten to Ten Thousand Pounds. The benefactions of the late HENRY SPICER, Esq., and EDMOND DRESDEN, Esq., are dealt with in a subsequent paragraph under the Heading of Samaritan Fund.

A glance at the yearly Accounts will show how important a part these and other pious Bequests have had in the maintenance of the revenues of the Hospital; in fact, but for them the scale of its operations must have been much reduced.

XV.

Entertainments in aid of the Hospital.

To assist in defraying the expenses occasioned by the enlargement and improvements of the Hospital, CONCERTS and other ENTERTAINMENTS have from time to time been given in Aid of the Funds of the Charity, which have been supported by distinguished patronage and by marked liberality. In 1757 we find a record of Mr. DAVID GARRICK having given the Hospital the proceeds of an Entertainment at his Theatre, and in 1791 a contribution of £1,000 was made by the Directors of the Sacred Concerts in Westminster Abbey. To LORD ROBERT SEYMOUR the Hospital is greatly indebted for the success of the Concert at the King's Theatre, in the year 1808, which produced, after all expenses were paid, the sum of £2,498, and thus enabled the Hospital to get rid of a large accumulation of debt. In the year 1854 a performance of Mendelssohn's "Elijah," at Exeter Hall, produced the sum of £1,517; and in 1858 the St. James's Hall was opened by Concerts in aid of this Charity, under the patronage of HER MAJESTY and the PRINCE CONSORT, which produced a clear profit of £1,185. Since that time the Hospital has continually received substantial aid from Musical and Dramatical Societies, which have generously devoted the proceeds of their Entertainments to the funds of the Hospital. In 1887 a most successful Concert was held at the Albert Hall, under the direction of SIR ARTHUR SULLIVAN, at which the CROWN PRINCE OF GERMANY and a large number of the Nobility and Gentry were present, and which realized over £500.

It is gratifying also to record that for some years the Hospital has been benefited by the proceeds of a Smoking Concert annually organised by the Students, which has proved in every respect very successful.

XVI.

Samaritan Fund.

In the year 1812, a SAMARITAN FUND was proposed by RICHARD CARTWRIGHT, Esq., one of the Surgeons, and this Fund has since been established upon an enlarged and permanent basis. Its objects are to afford temporary assistance to poor convalescent Patients, whose residence in the Hospital is no longer necessary, but who still require Medical Aid as Out-Patients; to forward poor Patients, especially cripples, to their homes; to supply Flannel, Linen, or other necessaries to those whose diseased condition may require such comforts; and for other charitable purposes.

The Samaritan Fund is altogether a distinct and separate Fund, no part of the Donations or Subscriptions for the maintenance of the Hospital being applicable to it; it is not distributed indiscriminately to all applicants but the assistance granted is voted by the Weekly Board, on the application of the Chaplain, either from his own knowledge that the Patient is deserving and necessitous, or on the recommendation of one of the Physicians, Surgeons, or Visiting Governors.

Since the year of its foundation the work of the Samaritan Fund has steadily increased, and no deviation has been made from the original benevolent intentions of the Founders, except that the assistance given to convalescent Patients, instead of being confined to mere pecuniary support, granted to those who were able to attend the Out-Patient Department, has developed into a system of taking such necessitous persons from their own home, too frequently unhealthy and depressing, to the fresh air and pleasant surroundings of a Home in the country. It is in fact chiefly to this truly "Samaritan" branch of the work that special attention has of late years been paid, and a number of Patients has been annually distributed, according to the means at the Disposal of the Fund, to Convalescent Homes at Margate, Eastbourne, and elsewhere. In the year 1893 the Trustees of the Convalescent Home at Swanley allotted twenty beds for the use of the Patients of this Hospital, and this generous act relieved the Fund of considerable expenses for subscriptions to other Homes.

As early as 1877 the Board took the first steps toward securing premises for the erection of a Convalescent Home which should be entirely devoted to the Patients of this Hospital. Convalescent
Home.

There had long been a desire to have such a Home, where not only Patients who were thoroughly convalescent, and therefore suitable for Convalescent Homes of the ordinary kind, but also Surgical Patients before and after operation, and Medical Patients not strictly convalescent could be sent and could remain under medical treatment and nursing. The site then contemplated was one offered at Hemel Hempstead, but after an inspection by members of the Staff it was decided that the great need for London convalescents was the bracing air of the sea, and that a home built for The Middlesex Hospital Patients should be located on the sea-coast.

In the years immediately following the preliminary consideration of the project the receipts of the Fund were so poor, in spite of appeals made by the Weekly Board, that there were no means for expenditure other than that for the supply of clothing, etc., to necessitous Patients, and the journeys to their respective homes; so the scheme of building a Convalescent Home had to fall into abeyance.

A gift received in 1884 formed a pleasing relief in a melancholy period of the annals of the Fund. In that year Mr. GEORGE STURGE, in addition to a gift of £3,000 to the General Funds, presented Stock of the value of £1,000 to the Samaritan Fund on the condition that "this Fund shall be kept entirely separate from the General Funds of the Hospital, and that the income shall be paid to, or applied for, such In-Patients as may be necessitous, and within three months from their discharge from the Hospital, and for the purpose of their having necessary nourishment or change of air." Mr. STURGE added that he hoped that this Fund might be made known, and that others might be induced to subscribe to it. In 1892 the Fund was still Gift by Mr.

in a languishing condition, and it was then ordered that the proceeds of the Alms Boxes within the Hospital should be applied to its support.

"Dresden Assistance Fund."

The work of the Samaritan Fund has recently been considerably enhanced. By his will the late MR. EDMOND DRESDEN bequeathed £5,000 to the general purposes of the Hospital, and a substantial sum of money to be vested in the names of specially appointed Trustees, the income to be applied exclusively for assisting poor and needy In-Patients on their discharge from the Hospital. The Trustees are the Almoners of "THE DRESDEN ASSISTANCE FUND," who are empowered to make grants to such persons on the advice of responsible officers, not exceeding the sum of £10 in each individual case. The greater part of this legacy has already been received, Trustees appointed, and a working scheme for the administration of the Fund formed. To mark the Governors' appreciation of this benefaction a ward in the Convalescent Home has been named the "EDMOND DRESDEN" Ward.

Selection of site at Clacton.

In the year 1891 Mr. W. DEBENHAM, a member of the Weekly Board, generously offered the sum of £500 towards the erection of a Convalescent Home, whereupon a Committee was appointed to reconsider the project, which was now destined to be carried into effect. The Committee inspected various sites in different parts of the country, but it was not till 1893 that their choice was made in favour of Clacton-on-Sea, a popular resort on the Essex coast. This flourishing watering-place seemed to possess all the qualifications needed for the building of a Home and the laying out of a suitable garden. Accordingly a freehold site of five acres was purchased in December, 1893, for £1,500. Before the completion of the purchase was announced the Hospital became the recipient of a munificent bequest, which put at rest any doubts that may have been entertained as to the wisdom of incurring the increased expenditure which would be entailed by the erection and maintenance of a Convalescent Home, without an assurance that the Funds would be forthcoming to meet it. On the 4th of March, 1895, the will was proved of the late HENRY SPICER, Esq., who devised one-sixth of his residuary estate in trust for the benefit of the Samaritan Fund, to be applied for the relief and comfort of poor and needy Patients, but not for the General purposes of the Hospital, and in no case to be expended in religious teaching or religious observances." The sum received from this Legacy amounts to £22,157 0s. 8d., and is vested in Trustees appointed by the Weekly Board of the Hospital.

Opening of the Convalescent Home.

After the receipt of this benefaction no further time was lost, and a contract was shortly entered into for the erection of a suitable building from designs by Mr. K. D. YOUNG, and it was opened in August, 1896, for the reception of Patients, the completion of the Building being celebrated in July by a Garden Fête at the Hospital, which was attended by T.R.H. THE DUKE AND DUCHESS OF YORK (NOW PRINCE AND PRINCESS OF WALES).

The Building, which is of handsome design, was fitted up with all modern improvements. It contains four Male Wards (named "YORK," "SPICER," "DEBENHAM," and "EDMOND DRESDEN") and four Female Wards ("EASON," "BREADALBANE," "PORTMAN," and "DE HIRSCH"), and can accommodate about sixty Patients. It is furnished with a complete Electric Plant, and has its own Laundry and other offices. The staff consists of a Matron, Home-sister, and five Nurses, and a Medical Man in the locality is appointed to visit it regularly.

The entire cost, including purchase of Freehold, Building, Electric Plant, Water-supply, Laundry, Furniture, and the laying out of the Grounds, amounted to £34,559 11s. 9d. It should be noted that the Spicer Fund is devoted towards the expense of maintenance.

The Convalescent Home has proved of inestimable value to the Hospital, enabling many Patients, especially from the Surgical Wards, to leave the Hospital at a much earlier date than they otherwise could, and resort to a purer air where their convalescence is consolidated. Its advantages have been still further extended by the erection in the grounds of a Pavilion for the "open-air" treatment of phthisis. This Pavilion was completed in 1902, at a cost of £809 11s. 3d. It provides accommodation for four Male Patients who are allowed to stay there for a period of six months.

XVII.

The benefits which the Founders and Supporters of The Middlesex Hospital designed to confer would be incomplete were the Charity confined to the mitigation of the bodily suffering of the inmates. Their spiritual wants are not to be neglected; and the duty of furthering this important object is committed to a CHAPLAIN, a Clergyman of the Church of England in Priest's orders, whose daily care it is to direct and assist the devout aspirations of those who are convalescent, and to administer to others that consolation by which the weariness and depression of protracted sickness are best supported, and the bitterness of death assuaged.

Patients who are not members of the Church of England are visited by their own Spiritual Advisers, who are afforded every facility for ministering to the members of their communion. A Roman Catholic Priest attached to the Church of St. Charles in Ogle Street and a Sister of Mercy attend regularly to console and instruct such Catholics as may be undergoing treatment in the Wards.

From the earliest date Divine Service has been held in the Wards and elsewhere, but a few years ago a movement was started towards providing a special building to be dedicated solely to the service of Worship. The prime mover in the realization of this laudable intention was Mr. GEORGE LAWSON, who in 1882 generously guaranteed the expense of erecting a suitable Building. His offer was thankfully accepted, but considerable difficulty was experienced in finding a site which should not encroach upon the Garden.

The consideration of this question presented a favourable opportunity for instituting a reform, the need for which had been long felt. Frequently attention had been called to the grave objections arising from the Post-Mortem Room being located under the roof of the General Hospital, and the importance of its removal was generally admitted.

Religious
tion.

The Chapel.

The plan which suggested itself was to build a joint Post-Mortem Room and Mortuary on the site of the old Mortuary, and to utilize the space thus set free for the erection of the chapel.

Such a course would involve considerable outlay above that required for the building of the Chapel itself, and while the Board were deliberating whether they would be justified in embarking on such a costly scheme, a most opportune and unlooked-for gift removed the financial difficulty. Miss LEICESTER, a Governor, announced her intention of presenting the munificent sum of £1,500 for the erection of a Chapel.

The sum, previously subscribed was therefore, with the consent of the Donors, utilized for the preparation of the site and the building of the new Post-Mortem Room and Mortuary in memory of the late Chairman, MAJOR ROSS. This was completed in November, 1889 (at a total cost of £3,000), under the supervision of Mr. K. D. YOUNG, the Architect, who made a gift of his professional services as a tribute to the memory of MAJOR ROSS.

The Chapel itself was completed in 1891 from designs prepared by Mr. J. L. PEARSON, R.A., and has been universally admired for its internal beauty, while the outside, being entirely veiled from view by the adjacent buildings, is of red brick of an unpretending character. Miss LEICESTER added to her generosity by contributing an Altar-rail and Pulpit, designed by the same eminent artist, while the cost of the mural decorations was defrayed out of the Ross Memorial Fund, and a tablet commemorating the life of that Officer adorns the marble dado on the west wall. A marble altar is now in course of erection, the cost of which is being defrayed out of funds collected by the late Mrs. Ross.

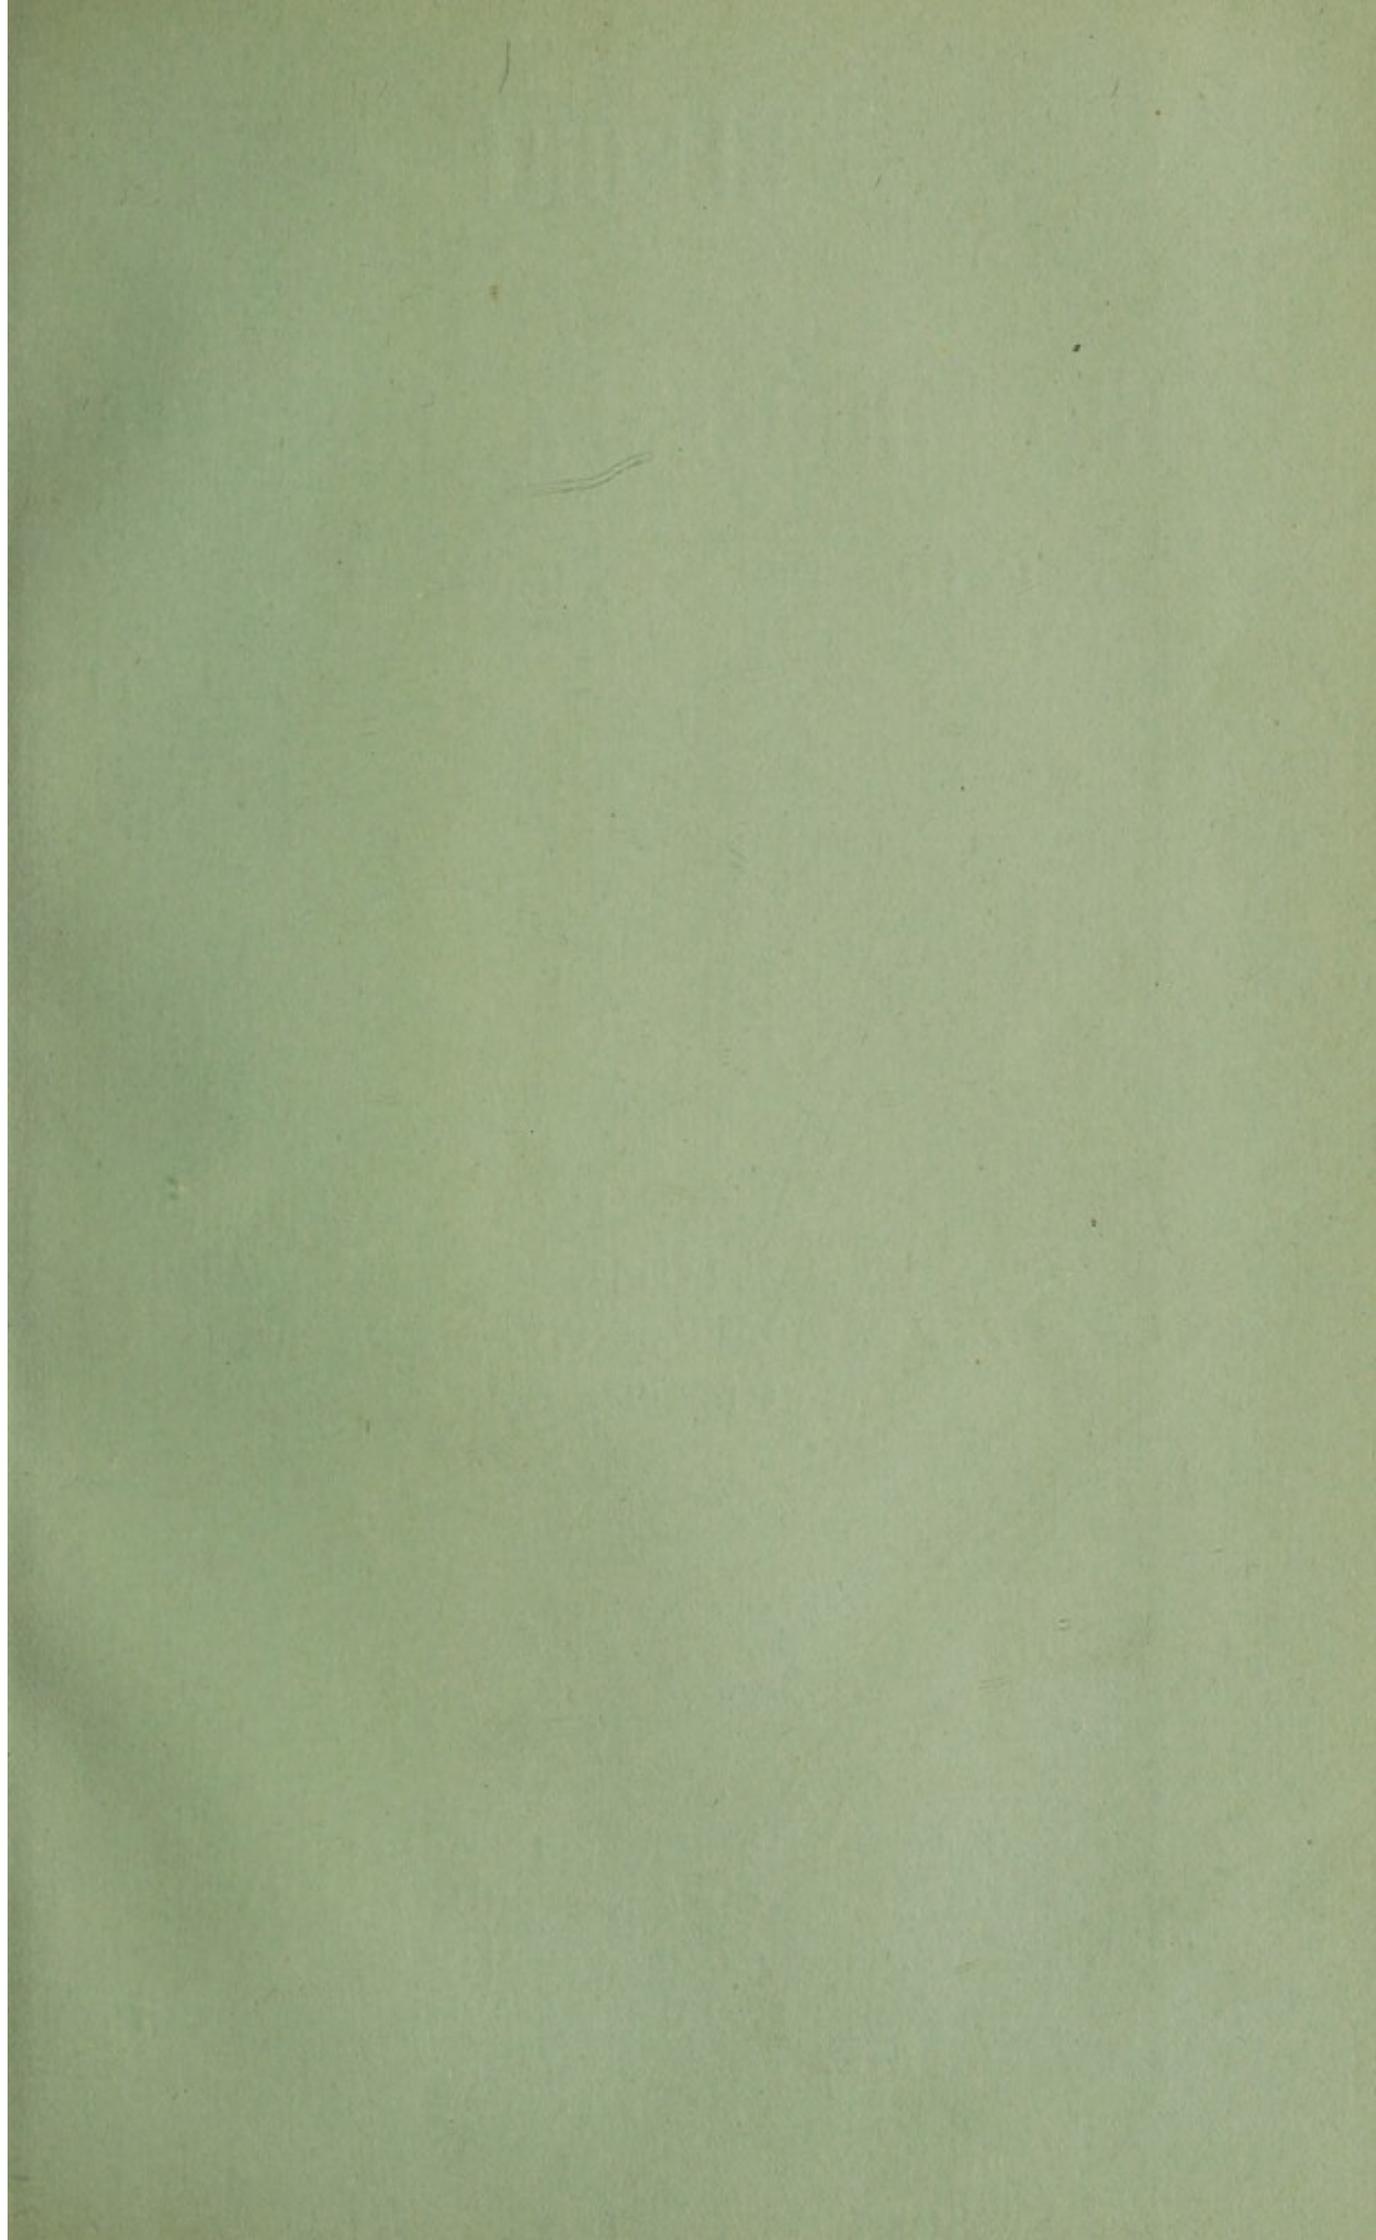

The stained-glass windows are dedicated to the memory of Nurses who have died in the service of the Hospital, and of the following members of the Medical and Surgical Staff: Mr. BERNARD LAWSON, Dr. TEMPLE FRERE, Mr. ARTHUR HENSMAN, Mr. LEOPOLD HUDSON, Mr. STORER BENNETT, and Mr. GEORGE LAWSON. In the ante-chapel several memorial tablets have been placed with the same object.

THE CANCER CHARITY. MIDDLESEX HOSPITAL.

REPORT FOR 1925.

To the Court of Governors.

MY LORDS, LADIES AND GENTLEMEN,

The work of the Cancer Charity, as that of the Middlesex Hospital, is this year overshadowed by our great Reconstruction Fund Appeal. Nevertheless that work goes forward steadily. We would remind you that it has a paramount claim upon your support. Not only do we care for and alleviate the sufferings of the victims of cancer, but we work for the better protection of the whole community from this terrible disease. Just as the Cancer Research Departments are essential to the Cancer Charity so is the Charity to the research workers.

The Charity is, as you will see from the accounts, more than £17,000 in debt, and its income last year was £1,150 less than in 1924.

We would earnestly appeal to you to enlist the support of all your friends who are not already subscribers, and further beg them to use their influence upon others, for an institution which has done and is still doing all in its power to assist its patients, and in recent years has added to its duties that of seeking a cure for perhaps the most deadly of the ills to which humanity is subject. It is a privilege for any of us to support the Charity, it is a duty incumbent on all of us to help to eradicate the scourge.

The number of patients admitted during the year was 720. 84 patients were in the wards at the beginning of the year and 86 remained in on the 31st December; thus the number of patients treated during the year was 718, compared with 710 for 1924.

The average number of patients resident daily through the year was 84·6, compared with 85·29 for the previous year, and the average length of stay of each patient was 43·02 days, compared with 43·96 for 1924.

The total cost of each patient was £28. 12s. 11·47d., and the average total cost of each In-Patient per week £4. 13s. 3·07d. These figures show slight increases of 11s. 10·27d. and 3s. 11·02d. respectively over the figures for 1924. These small increases are mainly due to a slight increase in the cost of provisions in 1925, and to the installation of the new refrigerator.

As regards the Out-Patient Department, the total number of new Out-Patients was 233, compared with 205 for 1924, and the number of Out-Patient attendances 861, compared with 849 for the previous year. The costs of the Out-Patient Department were correspondingly smaller, being £1. 1s. 0·87d. per Out-Patient, and 5s. 8·42d. per attendance, compared with £1. 3s. 11·41d. per Out-Patient and 5s. 9·40d. per attendance for 1924.

The income from the George Balfour Black Fund has once more enabled the Lady Almoner to afford valuable help in the form of grants to patients suffering from cancer.

The total income for the year was £19,039. 11s. 1d., compared with £20,191. 18s. 11d. for 1924. Subscriptions remained practically the same at £1,305. 11s. 0d., but donations showed a decline of £1,357. 15s. 0d. at £2,045. 12s. 8d. Legacies also produced a considerably smaller amount than in the previous year, being £100, compared with £1,084. 9s. 7d. On the other hand, the income from invested property was £664. 11s. 5d. higher at £10,982. 2s. 11d., and the receipts on account of services to patients were increased by £497. 6s. 8d. at £2,571. 15s. 0d.

Our thanks are again due to Miss C. A. M. Mason and to Messrs. W. and T. Faulkner for their gifts in money and in kind of smoking materials for the male patients.

We have pleasure in recording our sincere thanks to the Rev. and Mrs. W. E. Cargill, who in addition to their generous gifts of £150 each to the Reconstruction Fund have endowed a bed in Stafford Ward in memory of the late Charles Rentham Maw, J.P. The first instalment of this endowment £525 appears in our balance sheet for 1925. It will be remembered that for several years Mr. Cargill held the appointment of Chaplain to the Hospital when he endeared himself to all with whom he came in contact.

We also gratefully acknowledge the sum of £1,000 from the trustees of the late Frederick Hornshaw Pilley, for the endowment of the Frederick Hornshaw Pilley bed in the Whitbread Ward.

We again express our grateful thanks to Miss Fanny Marriage who has sent us the sum of £100, the proceeds of her sale of jams and pickles.

From the Delmar Charitable Trust we have again received a grant of £100 through Messrs. Kerly Sons & Karuth, to whom our sincere thanks are due.

The following are the most notable contributions to the Charity and Cancer and General Research Funds, and we record them with gratitude:—

The Cancer Charity

OF
The Middlesex Hospital,
 INSTITUTED 1792.

On the 19th of June, 1792, a ward was opened at the Middlesex Hospital for the reception of patients suffering from cancer, in accordance with a resolution, passed at a special Court of Governors on the 19th January—"1. That wards capable of holding ten or twelve beds, shall be immediately fitted up and furnished. 2. That when the ward is completely fitted up and furnished patients shall be admitted, and that at least six, if so many shall offer, shall be there constantly maintained." There were other resolutions bearing on the same subject, one of which provided that such patients should remain an unlimited time, "until either relieved by art or released by death, unless it should be thought necessary to discharge them for ill-behaviour." It also provided for an out-patient department, where persons afflicted with cancer could obtain advice and medicine. The seventh resolution ran: "That in conformity to the particular wish of the benevolent donor, the name of every patient admitted into the ward fitted up for the reception of patients afflicted with cancer shall be entered in a journal; and when, in the judgment of the medical gentlemen of the Hospital, any extraordinary circumstance may occur, or any remedy be discovered, a record shall be made and kept of the same for the inspection of the public, agreeably to the spirit of the original paper presented by Mr. Howard, which the donor particularly requests may be strictly adhered to."

From that day to this—a period of 110 years—the Cancer Department of The Middlesex Hospital has remained a distinctive feature of the establishment having its separate foundation, and affording a refuge to a vast number of unfortunate persons who have been the subjects of an insidious and incurable disease. The department, from the benefactions received from time to time, has been considerably extended since the single ward was opened, but throughout the whole course of its history it has been conducted in the spirit of its founder. A brief sketch of the origin and aims of this Charity, in some respects unique, may, it is thought, fittingly introduce this Report.

The first step was taken in a letter addressed to "The medical gentlemen of The Middlesex Hospital," by Mr. John Howard, surgeon, of Argyll Street, on 12th October, 1791. It ran as follows:—

"GENTLEMEN,

"The deplorable situation of paupers afflicted with the disease called a cancer was casually a topic of conversation, and, in consequence of that conversation I was requested to put down in writing what I conceived were the best means of affording relief to such persons by a public institution.

"The present state of The Middlesex Hospital—the funds of which are small when compared with some others—its wants of immediate patronage, and having at this time several wards unoccupied, were the circumstances which occasioned the present application.

"To professional men it becomes me to write with diffidence, and any amendment of the plan I shall presently mention will be received with pleasure.

"I take the liberty to observe that two principal objects present themselves to my mind on this occasion, namely, the relief of persons suffering under this disease, and the investigation of a complaint which, although extremely common, is, both with regard to its natural history and care, but imperfectly known.

"For the attainment of the first object, it is proposed that an airy ward of The Middlesex Hospital be appropriated to this specific disease, and to this disease only; that the diseased shall there find such an alleviation of their sufferings as their respective situations may require, and that for an unlimited time.

"That one large airy ward divided into two, one part for men and the other for women, or two distinct wards, containing ten or twelve beds, might be fitted up if a sufficient fund could be raised; and the ward or wards being already built, there would be wanting only the usual furniture of beds, coal, candles, board, and nursing; and, I believe, the expense of the above articles, including medicines, may amount to about £20 per annum for each of the ten or twelve; and, as some patients would go off as others come in, within the space of a year there may probably be about forty in-patients relieved in succession.

"The worst and most deplorable cases of cancer may be divided into two classes—in the one class the symptoms proceed to their final termination rapidly, in the other slowly.

"The first of these classes, as it will contain the more distressing and speedily-destructive cases, will comprehend the most proper objects for admission as in-patients. Among these will be reckoned scirrhus and cancerous tumours, proceeding with such quickness in their progress that they readily admit of a removal at an early, but not at a distant period; and also spreading ulcerated cancers, both when relievable by art and when not.

"The second class will comprehend such women as have cancers not admitting of any operation, the disease going on slowly in its own natural course for years. These cancers, although generally adherent, are frequently not ulcerated, nor do they, when so circumstanced, greatly impede the ordinary business of life. Such cases, however, are not only objects of charity, but curious subjects for investigation, and therefore may be relieved as out-patients, with the liberty of being admitted within the Hospital whenever their symptoms should become more distressing or require constant daily attendance.

“And, that an opportunity may not be wanting of improving our knowledge of the disease and present methods of cure, I beg leave to suggest farther, that, whenever the fund of the institution shall enable the Governors to do so, a power be then given to the medical gentlemen of the Hospital to admit occasionally, either as in- or out-patients, such cases of scrofula or leprosy as may lead to the knowledge of cancer or be liable to become cancerous; and that they may be at liberty to recommend, when necessary, warm or cold sea-bathing at the sea, mineral waters, or country air, for such cases as may require more particularly these remedies in aid to other means of relief.

“With regard to the second object, namely, the investigation of the disease, Lord Bacon has observed that medical men should make themselves proficient in physic by studying one disease at a time. It is an opinion worthy of so great a man; it was particularly adopted by the late Mr. Pott, and by him recommended to all students in surgery.

“By confining one or more wards to cancer only, the attention of pupils and others will be directed very strictly to the study of this disease. They will see facts as they arise in the aggregate from a large number of patients; new lights will appear, and new discoveries will probably be made.

“‘I have often thought,’ says Dr. Sydenham, ‘that if I knew accurately the natural history of any disease, I should never be at a loss for a proper method of treating it’; and the wonderful improvements be made in science by his great attention to the natural history of diseases, and the effects of medicine upon them, have been justly admired by practitioners of every country. (Vide the Preface to Dr. Sydenham’s “Observations on the History and Cure of Acute Diseases.”)

“The natural history of cancers, although a common disease in the enlarged comprehensive sense in which this great man understood the natural history of diseases, is but little known. I would therefore, in order to improve a subject on which a successful practice greatly depends, propose that a faithful account of the history and circumstances of every case be kept: its antecedents and consequences should be marked, the effects of medicine and of operations, when necessary, noted, together with all the collateral helps to be gained by an inquiry into constitutional habits and diseases not strictly cancerous, but probably connected with it. This examination may be made by a medical gentleman of the hospital with the patient before him, his notes to be corrected by himself, and kept as a record of the history and circumstances of each case, to be recurred to, as an authority, by any intelligent or scientific person. A copy of these notes may be kept, fairly written, for general inspection; and if anything extraordinary or worthy of more particular notice arise from these sources, let the circumstances be published to the world at large.

“By an institution comprehending the two objects now pointed out, I have a hope not only that the diseased, but that practitioners in general may be benefited, that much useful knowledge may be disseminated, and that we may, in no great length of time, be furnished with documents on the disease and cure much more authentic than any we are at this time in possession of. It is a very important subject of inquiry, equally interesting to the rich and independent part of mankind as to the poor; and if such an institution be fairly set on foot, it cannot fail of producing beneficial consequences to all descriptions of persons labouring under this dreadful malady.

“Having now, gentlemen, submitted to your consideration ideas which have arisen in the way above mentioned, I leave their completion with you to be amended by such further additions as may arise from the action of minds embarked in the same cause—that of useful science.

“I will only add (and I repeat their names with reverence) that a better instructor in all philosophy is not to be found than Lord Bacon; and that after the lapse of more than a century, regard being had to subsequent improvements, there is not a brighter example of sound, unsophisticated physic than Dr. Sydenham; nor, I believe, a better guide to surgery than the late Mr. Pott.

“I am, with the greatest respect,

“Gentlemen,

“Your most obedient servant,

“JOHN HOWARD.

“Argyll Street,

“October 12, 1791.”

The letter was favourably received, and with praiseworthy promptitude the Board of the Hospital invited the attendance of Mr. Howard, who laid before it the proposals of his anonymous friend in furtherance of the object they had in view, which had arisen out of the “casual conversation” mentioned in the letter. The proposal at first was to contribute £3,000 for the endowment of a cancer ward, and an additional £400 to fit it up, this being subsequently modified by the donor to a proposal to place “as much money in the 3 per cent. Consols, in the names of William Drake, jun., Esq., Mr. John Howard, of Argyll Street, and the Treasurers of the Hospital for the time being, as trustees, as should furnish an annual income of £120, and also that he would pay the expense of fitting up and furnishing the ward for the reception of ten or twelve cancerous patients.” The proposal and plan were accompanied by an Explanatory Paper by Mr. Howard, who subsequently republished all the documents relative to this foundation, together with “Notes and Observations,”* which fairly well illustrate the state of knowledge of cancer at this time, and also the scientific spirit which animated the desire to found this special sphere of observation. From the Explanatory Paper, addressed to the Court of Governors, it may suffice to quote a few paragraphs, which again shew what was in the mind of the founder and his surgical friend in making the proposal:—

“The fund proposed for this institution, liberal as it undoubtedly is, does not preclude the receipt of other subscriptions. The intention of the donor is only to make a handsome beginning, in the hope of many contributions from the charitably-disposed to the further extension of the plan.

“It is wished that relief may be given, in every stage of the disease, to a large number of patients afflicted with cancer, and that the accession of medical knowledge hereby arising may be generally and widely diffused.

“It is presumed such an institution, although supported by a separate subscription, will tend to the aggrandisement of The Middlesex Hospital, for in no particular is the subsisting economy deranged; that economy is strengthened and enlarged by the addition of new resources, backed by immediate patronage, which may probably be the means of raising future subscriptions to a great amount. The business of the house will continue to go on in the usual way. It is no impediment to so benevolent a foundation; it only enlarges the sphere of action by holding out relief to poor cancerous patients (many of whom are not now received into any hospital, or, if received, are soon discharged without finding benefit), and by attempting to investigate scientifically the nature and cure of a disease which, from the character of incurable hitherto annexed, has been long, much too long, neglected."

He then describes the class of cases it is intended to relieve, distinguishing those which are from those which are not suitable for operation, and those that can be treated as out-patients, and goes on to say:—

"From the foregoing outline it is clear that the plan embraces not only the most distressing objects, but every symptom and circumstance of the disease; abstracted therefore from the relief and comfort it will afford to many a suffering individual, there will be a fair scope for investigation and improvement, which no institution upon a smaller scale could possibly give.

"Had the affair of investigation been omitted, the plan would not only have been extremely imperfect, but it would neither have filled the mind nor have answered the intentions of the donor. I can only say he has the whole matter much at heart. He does not mean to prescribe to the medical gentlemen of the house, but hopes that this part of the plan will be kept up with due attention and spirit. . . ."

The "Notes and Observations," which Mr. Howard appends to the reprint of his letter, occupy some fifty of the eighty pages of the duodecimo pamphlet. They are very interesting as being mainly composed of records of his personal experiences in the treatment of cancerous affections, but space does not permit any quotation of them here. At the same time it would hardly be fair to him, who must be considered as the prime originator of the idea so happily carried into effect through his friend's generosity, to omit the following passages with which he closes this little treatise:—

"When the reader reflects that one great object of the proposed institution is to preserve from oblivion the circumstances of such cases as may occur; when he foresees that these will probably be numerous, and that the record will be carefully kept and its contents freely communicated, he may form some idea of the utility of this part of the plan, and of the immense advantage it will be, not only to medicine, but to mankind in general.

"Having had the honour of bringing forward a difficult public business in a regular scientific way, I beg leave in vindication of the ready adoption the plan has met with from the Governors and medical gentlemen of the Middlesex Hospital, and to shield both them and myself from every idea of quackery, to observe that their attention and cares will be considerably increased without an adequate compensation. And, as to myself, I derive no advantages from the institution. I have only the pleasure of having aided confidentially, and to the best of my judgment, the good intentions of my friend.

"The medical gentlemen of the house are in full possession of the sentiments of the donor, and, being men of known character, there cannot be a doubt but the business will be conducted in a proper manner. Their conduct will be a lesson to those who are to come after them and an example to all mankind, shewing, on the firm Hippocratic ground, with the assistance of the experimental knowledge of the present day, how much may be done practically towards the advancement of this part of medicine by industry, a well-directed arrangement, and a fortunate combination of circumstances."

The name of the unknown benefactor was not revealed until after his death in 1796. Mr. Howard, in apprising the Hospital authorities of this event, says that it was Mr. Samuel Whitbread who had made the gift, and mentions further that it was "the wish of that great and good man expressed to me some months before his death, that the present Samuel Whitbread, Esq.,* might be appointed one of the trustees in place of the late Mr. Drake, a nomination which will meet I hope with the full approbation of the Board and Governors at large, and which I have authority to say will be accepted. . . ."

In the following year Mr. Howard was requested by the Court of Governors to accept the appointment of surgeon-extraordinary to the cancer establishment, an office of which he held until his death in 1811. Of John Howard himself we know little. It is clear that he was a cultured and well-read man, with liberal and enlightened views, and imbued with the true scientific spirit. This much appears from the scanty writings he has left behind him, and even in the passages above quoted it is not difficult to discern these characteristics. He must also have been a man of humanitarian disposition—and it is noteworthy that Samuel Whitbread was also the close friend of the other John Howard, the philanthropist (1726–1790), a fact which, taken together with the qualities disclosed by their individual acts, makes one think it possible that the two Howards were kinsmen; at any rate, if not allied by ties of blood, they were akin in the noble desire to benefit their fellows, and in this they had the practical sympathy of their mutual friend.

The name of "Whitbread" was given to the Cancer Ward in 1815, the Governors doubtless intending to commemorate thereby both the founder and his son, who for twenty years had been a zealous friend of the Hospital, and

* Samuel Whitbread the younger was M.P. for Bedford, and an active Whig politician. He took great interest in the cancer establishment, and only a month before his tragic end—he committed suicide on 6th July, 1815—he had written a preface to a work by Mr. Young on the treatment of cancer by compression, in which he urged the claims of the method on the attention of the Governors of the Hospital. We shall have occasion to refer to this book later. Mr. Whitbread took a very active part in securing the election of Charles Bell as Surgeon to the Middlesex Hospital. Bell heard of his death when weatherbound at Ostend on returning from a visit to the field of Waterloo, and notes in his diary: "We hear much of the Allies in Paris, of the Armistice, and of Whitbread. Alas! how sincerely I lament him. He did much for me in a matter I had much at heart. He seemed to have a hearty, kindly manner to me quite at variance with his public character. He seemed a man made to buffet with the world—to kill himself! I am yet inclined to say it is a lie. It is this more than the state of unpleasant suspense in which I am kept that frets me with the time. How precious is a just way of thinking, a love for mankind, a desire for doing good, which I think was likely to prevent a man from letting this gloom overshadow him and obscure his reason; besides, is there not a terrible disregard for the feelings of others in this act?" ("Letters of Sir Charles Bell," 1870, p. 239). On the same subject Crabb Robinson writes in his diary, 7 July: "I called on Amyot early, and found on going out that Paris had been again taken by the Allies. But the public did not rejoice, for Paris had capitulated on honourable terms, and Buonaparte had escaped. During the day Mr. Whitbread's death was more a subject of interest than the possession of Paris. The death of so watchful a Member of Parliament is really a national loss. He belonged to the noblest class of mankind." ("Diary, Reminiscences, and Correspondence," third edition, 1872, vol. i., p. 258.)

especially of the Cancer Charity. About this time also an opportunity for increasing the number of beds on the foundation accrued by the bequest of £5,000 Consols by Dame Alithea Maria Stafford, and it was then, I believe, that male patients were received on the foundation as well as females, the beds for the former sex being ultimately found in "Handel's" Ward. A second female ward, named after Mrs. Stafford, was now opened. A portrait of this lady is in the Hospital Board Room, with an inscription stating that it was presented by Mr. Joberns (surgeon from 1801 to 1832): tradition says that she was herself a victim of cancer. Another munificent benefaction, which enabled the Governors to still further extend the benefits of the charity, was that of Sir Joseph De Courcy Laffan, a physician, who died in 1848. By his will, which was proved on 15th February, 1849, he desired that the residue of his estate should be devoted to the purchase of an annual income of the 3 per cent. Consols for the benefit of a Cancer Ward at the Middlesex Hospital. There appears to have been some litigation in connection with this bequest, and it was not until 22nd February, 1853, that the Chairman of the Board was able to announce that, except for the cost of the suit, "the residue of Sir Joseph De Courcy Laffan's estate would appear to be £35,000 Stock and about £1,900 cash." The three wards, "Whitbread," "Stafford," and "Laffan," containing twenty-six beds, for about fifty years occupied the uppermost floor of the central part of the main Hospital building, but in 1893 a scheme was initiated to transfer them to a separate building in Nassau Street. This resulted in the erection of the present Cancer Wing which was opened for the reception of patients on 1st January, 1900. It contains three wards of twelve beds each and two smaller wards containing two beds each, whilst provision is made in a small operating room for any operations of emergency. The cost of the new block amounted to £20,990 19s. 5d., of which £18,764 8s. 5d. was expended on building and £2,226 11s. on furniture and general equipment. Prior to this notable extension of the department for cases of female cancer, fuller provision had been made for male patients. With this object the "Handel" Ward was remodelled in 1886 so as to give space for nine beds and a day room adjoining. The ward was renamed "Greenhow," after Dr. Headlam Greenhow (physician to the Hospital, 1861 to 1879), who had been instrumental in obtaining funds for the endowment of male cancer beds.

Thus the Cancer Charity to-day consists of forty-nine beds which are kept exclusively for cases of malignant disease in which no further relief by surgical operation is possible; and by the terms of the bequest founding the Cancer Fund, a patient, once admitted, is maintained in the wards "until relieved by art or released by death." No patient therefore is ever discharged from the cancer wards, except for mental derangement or insubordinate conduct. In accordance with the expressed wishes of many of those who have contributed in support of the Cancer Fund, the patients in these wards are under somewhat different general treatment to that which is appropriate to patients who are temporarily in the general wards of a hospital. Everything practicable is done to relieve the anxiety of their last days—that is to say, the diet provided is more varied than that ordinarily given to hospital patients, and less regard is paid to considerations of scientific economy in this respect. Pleasant sitting-rooms are provided for the use of such patients as are able, for the time to leave their beds. The male patients are also allowed to smoke in their sitting-room. Every opportunity for seeing their friends and family is allowed the patients; and musical and other entertainments are provided for the patients at frequent intervals.

We may gather from Mr. Howard's writings that the main objects he had in view in proposing the foundation of a special cancer ward were these:—(1) To afford an asylum for life to the distressing cases where, from the stage of the disease or its locality, no relief by operation or otherwise could be afforded. (2) To admit cases as in-patients where reasonable prospect of relief by operation could be given. (3) To establish an out-patient department for cases of a more chronic character, which could be suitably treated as such. (4) To keep records of every case under treatment, which records should be open to public inspection. (5) To institute trials of new methods of treatment, when properly authenticated. (6) To undertake scientific investigation into the nature of cancer.

During the century of its existence this charity has been conducted with more or less zeal on the lines laid down by its founder. Its primary object has undoubtedly been amply fulfilled. It has proved a safe and comfortable harbourage to many a shattered life, where the closing days have been spent in peace and in alleviation of cruel pains. Nor have its scientific objects been lost sight of, although at times mayhap they have not been followed with that absolute devotion that alone can be productive of real gain to knowledge. There had been times when this aim was almost lost sight of, or at least not given the prominence that it should have been. Nevertheless enough has been done by many of those connected with the Staff, who in succession have had charge of the wards of the charity, to considerably advance that which John Howard had in mind when he refers to Bacon, to Sydenham, and to Pott as examples of the true lines of surgical science and practice, and in this special field as shewing the way to unravel the mysteries of malignant disease.

It is but natural, perhaps, that more attention should have been given to the testing of remedies than the discovery of pathological processes. Mankind is ever impatient of the slow, if sure, progress made by the pursuit of the Baconian method of investigation. It cries out for results before the foundations of knowledge are laid, and would rather see blind attempts at "cure"—ignes fatui though they prove to be—than wait until research shall have demonstrated the only direction in which cure can be sought and obtained. And in such a disease as cancer, using the term in the widest sense, the opportunity for empiricism is ever present. Not that all so-called remedies that have from time to time been vaunted for the cure of cancer, or indeed of any disease, are to be ranked on the same level. There is an honest as there is a base empiricism, and it is only as regards the former that anything need be said here, although this Cancer Charity did once have to deal with as arrant a quack as ever lived, and rectified its regulations accordingly. This was one Ashby, who professed by application of a certain remedy to extract from the cancerous tumour the "worms" which he maintained were the cause of the disease. He was introduced to the notice of the Hospital Board by the Hon. J. C. Villiers, who read a letter from Mr. Angerstein, of Muddiford, asserting that the remedy had been efficacious in several instances, and that "Mr. Ashby is anxious to apply it to the cancerous patients of this institution under the inspection of the medical officers." Ashby had the effrontery to appear before the Medical Committee and to agree to try his "remedy" in presence of the Staff, and also expressed his willingness to disclose its composition should the trial be satisfactory. This was on 5th April, 1817, and on the next day (Sunday), the 6th, the Medical Committee again met and witnessed him apply his "remedy" to a cancerous breast. On the 7th they met again and discovered the fraud, which was stigmatized in no measured terms by Mr. (later Sir C.) Bell in a letter to the Board expressive of indignation at such practices being permitted, "especially against a class of sufferers who demand all our sympathy."

Wilson ("History of Middlesex Hospital," p. 149) tells us that this disgraceful fraud led to the adoption of the following resolution:—

"That upon an application made by any person or persons stating themselves to be possessed of a remedy for cancer, and which they wish to be tried in the Hospital, it shall be a preliminary rule that the nature of the remedy to be made use of shall be communicated to the surgeon and physician under whose immediate care the patient may be upon whom the experiment is to be tried, in order that they may enable the committee to determine on the propriety of its application in the first instance, which would be the means of preventing an infinity of trouble to the medical officers, and perhaps render inefficacious the attempts to impose upon the public by persons stating that they are making use of a supposed remedy under the sanction of the medical officers of this institution, which circumstance has already occurred in two instances, namely, in that of a Mr. Green and Mr. Ashby.

Applications to try the effect of remedies were apparently very numerous in the first twenty years or so of the foundation of the charity; but many of these were refused, and not all were of the character of the one just referred to. It has already been stated that Mr. Whitbread, M.P., called the attention of the authorities to a mode of treating cancer by compression. The letter, dated Dover Street, 10th June, 1815, forms the preface to a book entitled "Minutes of Cases of Cancer and Cancerous Tendency successfully treated by Mr. Samuel Young, surgeon, author of a 'Treatise on Cancer' and other Surgical Works. Mr. Whitbread says that the circumstances attending the foundation of the ward for the reception of cancerous patients in The Middlesex Hospital naturally led him to encourage every rational effort directed to the cure or alleviation of cancer; and having lately witnessed the happy effects of the practice of a surgeon, "known to the medical world by an approved 'Treatise on Cancer,' published before he had adopted the plan which he now pursues," he, (Mr. W.) desires to "lay before you and the public the history of some of the cases which have been treated by Mr. Samuel Young since my acquaintance with him." He goes on: "Mr. Young received a part of his medical education in the Middlesex Hospital, and was for some time Surgeon to the House. He afterwards settled himself in the town of Montgomery. From that place, in the month of May, 1814, he addressed a letter to me on the treatment of cancer. A correspondence followed, which ended in my request that he would come into Bedfordshire to give his advise to a near relation of my own afflicted with a disease called cancerous, and apply his mode of treatment if approved by the physician, whose opinion, from my long experience of his general science, talents, and liberality,

I had determined to take." He then relates how he met Mr. Young at the house of Dr. Penrose at Hatfield, and "having received from the latter the most positive assurance that the plan could not produce any mischief, and afforded a prospect of relief, the experiment was decided upon, and on the next day it commenced at the residence of the patient, within a short distance of the town of Bedford, in the presence of Dr. Penrose and myself." Mr. Young then came to reside at Bedford, and the book contains the record of several cases treated by him, some of which were seen by Mr. Whitbread, who says that he had "been more than repaid by witnessing the progressive amendment of the patients, and by hearing from time to time their joyful declarations that they were greatly relieved from the torment of their previous pain." Accordingly, Mr. Young's plan was tested in the Hospital, and we have from a highly competent authority, namely, Charles Bell, the results of that trial. It occurs as the first paper in his quarterly report, entitled "Surgical Observations," published in 1817. He bears witness to the great interest which Mr. Whitbread took in the cancer establishment and in every attempt to discover a cure for the disease, and praises the Governors for their zeal and liberality in the matter.

"Many proposals," he says, "are annually received by them for the cure of cancer, and always with that consideration which the motives of those who offer them deserve. But while our Governors have shewn themselves most desirous of promoting inquiry on the subject of cancer, they have remained uncontaminated by that love of quackery which is so common among the gentry of England, and have referred these proposals to their medical officers. . . . The recommendation of the plan of compression by Mr. Whitbread called the attention of the surgeons of the Hospital to the subject. The following report gives the result of their practice. I have only to observe that the essential part of this new plan of cure is the compression of the cancerous tumour, gently at first, and with a force gradually increased, till at last it is augmented to a very great degree; and that the means are these: if the cancer be open, the various holes and cavities are filled up from the bottom with chalk, finely levigated, and all the surface is thickly covered with hair powder; over this long plaster straps are put, so as to cover the whole surface of the tumour; over this again are placed linen compresses, bound down with the turns of a roller, firmly applied, and of six yards in length, or over the first straps are laid a second set bracing the parts more firmly than the first; over this a plate of lead, and lastly, the long roller is carried round the chest, compressing the whole."

The Report of the Medical Committee of 22nd June, 1816, giving the result of their experience of the method, was adverse. Eight cases of "open" cancer and eight of the "scirrhous kind" were subjected to the plan, which, in the former case, though sometimes lessening the volume of the tumour, often gave much pain and often appeared to hasten the end, and in the latter it did not retard the progress of the disease. Whilst regretting that compression cannot be regarded as a remedy for cancer, the Committee believed that in many cases it produced alleviation. Mr. Bell, in a lecture on the subject, pointed out that the case which, according to Mr. Whitbread, was the most satisfactory, was one of ulceration of the lip, probably not malignant, and precisely of the character most likely to be benefited by a method securing perfect immobility. But in cases of cancer he shews that the specific action is not arrested by this means, whilst the compression may even hasten its progress and, in mammary cancer, accelerate the tendency of the growth to involve the chest-wall and lead to hydrothorax. He says that "the late Dr. Denman" believed in the efficacy of the method; but mentions cases of the class thought by that physician to be so curable in which an aggravation of symptoms was produced thereby.

Mr. Campbell De Morgan, referring to this plan ("The Origin of Cancer," 1872), gives it as an example of sanguine expectation ending in deep disappointment. "There is no doubt," he says, "that local improvement followed the use of pressure, and in some cases the tumours decreased in a remarkable manner. But there is great reason to believe that in some the spread of disease to internal organs was hastened." He gives the general conclusion of the Medical Committee, and adds that "at the request of Dr. Neil Arnott, Mr. Shaw tried the effect of elastic pressure by means of an india-rubber bag, capable of distension by air. But the general result was unsatisfactory, though in the first case it seemed to do good."

About the same time as the above trials the Hospital Committee were invited by Dr. W. Lambe, F.R.C.P., to allow him to test the effect of his dietetic method of treatment in cancer. He was a rigid vegetarian, and believed that cancer was due mainly to an animal diet and also the use of impure water. He had written upon the subject, and submitted certain cases for investigation by the Committee in support of his views. However, after full consideration, the Committee were not able to recommend that any facilities should be given to Dr. Lambe for the trial of his treatment in the cancer wards.

Amongst the favourite remedies of "cancer-curers" in all ages has been the employment of escharotics, which have been vaunted as sufficient to destroy the morbid growth without the application of the knife. Arsenic has been so employed for centuries. Its escharotic effects, says Spencer Wells,* "had been known to the Greek and Roman physicians—they had not been forgotten in the Middle Ages." It was the chief ingredient in the secret applications of Plunket and Guy, who flourished in this line in the first half of the eighteenth century. "It was Guy's caustic, or rather the Plunket's paste, that killed Lord Bolingbroke, and many others were poisoned by the local use of arsenic; yet this did not prevent Lord Arundel from buying the receipt of the wife of a blacksmith, so ignorant that she could not sign her name, but a noted cancer-curer, named Elizabeth Fellow. This was long known as 'Lord Arundel's Cancer Cure.' It was an arsenical powder and a wash of corrosive sublimate, and no doubt killed a great number of poor women. However, like Plunket's paste, a great many cancerous and other tumours were removed entire by it; and Mr. Justamond, who was Surgeon to the Westminster Hospital some seventy or eighty years ago, tried them both very extensively, arriving at the conclusion that the advantage gained did not compensate for the risk incurred." (Spencer Wells, loc cit.)

* "Medical Times and Gazette," 11th July, 1857.

In November, 1852, an application was made to the Hospital Board by a Dr. Pattison, of New York, to be allowed to test in the cancer wards the effects of a remedy which he had introduced. The application was refused, because he declined to reveal the nature of the remedies he employed. A few years later another New York physician, Dr. Fell, came to this country with similar pretensions, and, it is believed, with a "cure" for cancer not dissimilar from the secret remedies upon which his precursor had flourished. Unlike Dr. Pattison, however, Dr. Fell consented to reveal the composition of his remedies if he were allowed to apply them in the Hospital. This he did in the following terms:—

"1. That twenty-five cases shall be selected by the surgeons and myself (fair cases), and placed in my entire care in one of the wards of the Hospital until the disease is entirely removed and a healthy sore produced.

"2. The time to be occupied in the treatment of the said cases not to extend over a period of more than eight months, without the consent of both parties.

"3. That no person or persons shall see the cases while under treatment, except the surgeons and physicians of the hospital, without my consent, and that no student, nurse, or other person shall be allowed to remove or interfere with my dressing.

"4. That the diseased masses, when removed, shall be preserved and kept in the Museum of the Hospital for at least one year.

"5. That, in the event of these conditions being satisfactory to the Medical Board and the Governors, I will communicate to the surgeons of the Hospital the remedies and plan of treatment pursued by me, upon their pledging themselves not to reveal or use the same without my consent until a period of six months shall have expired, when they shall have full power to do so. As I am about to publish a work upon the disease and its treatment, the above is simply to reserve to myself the power of throwing the treatment open to the profession.

"6. That, upon the conclusion of the treatment of the cases placed under my care in the Hospital to the satisfaction of the surgeons, I shall receive an acknowledgment to that effect from your honourable Board of Governors."

The Medical Committee, whose surgical members had, in common with numerous other medical men, "considered it their duty to inspect cases of cancerous disease which had been treated by Dr. Fell, and had witnessed effects of a kind hitherto unknown to them," advised the Board to accept the offer.* It was one made in accordance with the principles upon which such trials were alone permitted, namely, that the remedies could be used with safety, and that their composition should be made known as soon as they can be reasonably and fairly tried. And the Board, on 20th January, 1857, resolved "That in concurrence with the opinion and recommendation of the Medical Committee of 19th instant, the proposal of Dr. Fell, of New York, U.S., be accepted with all the conditions stipulated for. The Board desire further to tender to Dr. Fell their thanks for the liberal offer made by him to the Governors and Medical Officers of the Middlesex Hospital."

* This decision was applauded by the leading Medical Journal, but as the trials proceeded, and the surgeons kept loyally to their agreement, they were violently attacked by the same journal for conducting a secret inquiry.

Six months later (16th June, 1857) the Board passed the following resolution : "Resolved that, owing to the great interest taken by the public in the progress of the remedy for cancer now under trial in the Hospital, this Board wish to intimate to the Medical Officers, that as soon as they shall feel themselves at liberty to make a communication on the subject, this Board will be glad to receive a report of the number of persons cured or relieved by this remedy, and the opinion which the experience of the Medical Board may have led them to entertain of its utility and probable success."

Meanwhile, Dr. Fell himself had already published a book describing the method, which up to that time he had kept secret; and in this book he had inserted a sort of ad interim report which the Middlesex surgeons, with perhaps too easy complaisance, had drawn up in the previous March, or about two months after the trials commenced. They speak of the plan as one in accordance with known principles of surgery, as ingenious, safe and easy of application, leading to the enucleation of growths without destruction of healthy tissues, and followed by healthy granulating and cicatrizing surface. They admit that it is accompanied by pain, although this is variable in degree, and they did not think it was, on the whole, much less expeditious than cutting operations; but the brief time over which their observations had then extended did not permit of any conclusion as to the relative immunity of the two plans from recurrence of the disease. There is no word in this statement as to the nature of the means employed, and the publication of Dr. Fell must have somewhat forestalled the revelation made in the final Report, which was presented to the Weekly Board of Governors on 4th August, and by them recommended to the Quarterly Court to be published and circulated, "considering that this Report exhibits an anxious desire on the part of the Governors and the Medical Officers of the Hospital to carry out the objects and intentions of the beneficent Founder of the Cancer Establishment."

The Report, signed by the four surgeons, Alexander Shaw, Campbell De Morgan, Charles H. Moore, and Mitchell Henry, recites the main objects for which the cancer charity was founded, and the conditions on which remedies could be tried. It states that in the sixty-six years that had elapsed since the foundation many such trials had taken place, and many applications for trial had been refused on account of the promoters declining to comply with the conditions that the nature of the remedies should be revealed. With respect to Dr. Fell's treatment, the whole sum and substance of the Report goes to show that, apart from its mode of application, it did not materially differ from long-established practices for removal of cancer by caustics. The caustic used by him was chloride of zinc, and his innovation consisted in the addition to it of a strong decoction of a herb, known to the American Indians, called "sanguinaria," an ingredient which, as a matter of fact, might just as well have been dispensed with. It was, however, considered by Fell to have specific properties, for besides using it in the local applications, he prescribed it internally to every case, in the belief that it counteracted the cancerous tendency. During the trials, which lasted over a period of eight months, about sixty cases were treated some being cases which were suitable for operation by the knife, others in which such a procedure would have been inadmissible. Nearly all the cases were cancer of the female breast or skin. The local treatment consisted in first destroying the skin (when this was not already ulcerated) by means of nitric acid, and then inserting the "paste" into shallow incisions made into the substance of the tumour, the paste being spread on strips of linen and the applications renewed day by day, with deepening of the incisions, until the whole of the diseased mass had been subjected to the action of the caustic. It is hardly necessary to enter here into further detail; for that the reader may consult the original Report.* Suffice it to say that the conclusion was on the whole a favourable one. To be sure, it disallows the claim that there was any specific property in the drugs employed, or that the caustic was limited in its action to the cancerous growth, whilst in some cases the irritation it caused seemed to excite the disease to rapid extension. The pain, especially in the earlier process of destroying the skin, was often severe, and again at the close, when the sloughing mass was becoming detached from the subjacent living tissues. The surgeons did not, however, consider that the pain was of such severity as to outweigh the advantages of the treatment. They point out that the plan has one notable advantage over the use of the knife, in that it can be applied in cases which are beyond the reach of that mode of extirpation; and as regards those cases to which either method is applicable, they seem to think that the escharotic plan may well be preferred, although unable necessarily to aver that there is any difference in the two methods in respect to liability to recurrence of the disease. They show that the practice of inserting the caustic into the growth by means of incisions, although involving a longer period for the complete extirpation of the tumour than does the usual method of application of caustics, may be an advantage in causing less irritation and excitation of local cancerous action. The addition of sanguinaria was of no practical value, its escharotic power being practically nil. Finally they say:—

"The last peculiarity of this treatment is the practice of incisions, and we are of opinion that this is its only, but its very great merit. The sanguinaria is inert—the chloride of zinc paste was known before—but the incisions constitute a new feature in the treatment of cancerous tumours, for which we find no parallel in the writings of the past or in the practice of present surgeons. Cancer in its constitutional nature remains as ruthless and as unassailable as ever. Chloride of zinc may not continue to be used for the destruction of the local disease. But the advantage placed in the hands of surgeons by the invention of gradual incisions claims henceforth their very frequent adoption in the treatment of cancerous tumours, as well as a grateful acknowledgment of the ingenuity of their inventor."

This does not seem to be a very great result of the trial of a remedy vaunted to be an unfailing "cure" of cancer, and there were not wanting critics who pointed out that even the practice praised by the reporters for its ingenuity was not so novel as they deemed it to be. To us the lesson of this enquiry lies in the demonstration that the remedy, of which so much had been expected, which had long been kept a secret, was found to be no remedy at all; and the fact that the practice of removal of growths by the slow and painful plan of mineral cauterization has not become established, except in isolated instances where no other procedure is available, goes to show that the hopes excited by this plan were soon falsified, and another method consigned to the limbo of discarded cures of this baffling disease.

The chapter of this experiment, so far as concerns the Hospital, was closed in the letter addressed to Dr. Fell, in accordance with a condition agreed upon when he entered upon a treatment of cases in the cancer wards:—

“Middlesex Hospital,
“22nd September, 1857.

“Sir,

“The period of eight months proposed by you for your attendance upon some of the patients in the cancer wards of the Hospital having now expired, the Weekly Board has much pleasure in presenting you with an acknowledgment that you have fulfilled all the conditions under which you undertook to give the patients the benefit of your services.

“The Weekly Board being composed of gentlemen not connected with the profession of medicine, and therefore not feeling from their own observation competent to pronounce any opinion as to the value of the method of treatment peculiar to you, refer to the judgment expressed on that point by their Surgical Staff in the elaborate report, which is now being circulated amongst the Governors of the Hospital and the members of the profession. They rely with the utmost confidence on the terms of this report. They are glad to observe that your treatment is considered by those who have so carefully watched it for the past eight months as possessing important advantages over methods previously in use. They are led to believe that it affords facilities for eradicating the local cancerous disease in cases hitherto considered almost hopeless, and they are themselves aware that many of the patients who have been subjected to it have warmly expressed their gratitude for the benefits conferred on them.

“The Weekly Board has witnessed with great satisfaction the regularity of your attendance and your uniform kindness and consideration for the sick.

“I am, etc.,

(Signed) “MICHAEL SMITH,

“Chairman of the Weekly Board.

“To J. WELDON FELL, M.D.”

There is preserved in the Hospital Museum (No. 2114) a specimen of “a breast removed en masse for cancer with Fell’s paste. There are nine parallel incisions extending through the gland. The posterior surface is smooth.” The entry in the catalogue further states, “The growth was, by permission, removed by Mr. Fell from a patient in the cancer wards. It returned in the cicatrix of the wound twenty-two years afterwards and proved fatal.”

Dr. James Arnott in the same year (1857) applied for and obtained permission to test the effect of a plan he had devised of treating cancerous growths by freezing. The plan was said by Spencer Wells to be “really of great service . . . ; it allays pain, checks growth, and has reduced many large adherent tumours to a small, movable, indolent condition.” Mr. Campbell De Morgan, writing in 1872, says of this method: “The cold has been applied by putting a mixture of ice and salt into an ice-bag and keeping it over the tumour. In this way the tissues may be destroyed to a certain but limited extent. The cake of frozen tissue which is formed seems to protect the parts below from the full influence of the freezing mixture. It might answer in small superficial tumours, but here other modes would be simpler and more certainly effective. The plan was tried at the Middlesex Hospital on the suggestion of Dr. James Arnott."

It need not be said that new lines of treatment have often been employed for cancer in these wards without any application from outside. The surgeons in charge have always been alive to the progress of science, and many a plan has been put in operation, often, indeed mostly, with the result that it has been found wanting in respect to the permanent cure of cancer. It is true that now and then an apparent success has been gained, but a repetition of trials has shewn this to have been exceptional, and perhaps explicable on the rare, yet occasional, tendency of the disease to spontaneous recovery. Amongst methods involving the internal administration of drugs there are two that may be briefly noticed.

The bark of Condurango, a plant belonging to the Asclepiadaceæ, many of whose members are used medicinally, is indigenous in Ecuador. It has been known to have been used in the treatment of cancer, and had been tried at The Middlesex Hospital in consequence of the claims advanced for it by Dr. Cascares, surgeon at the hospital at Quito, namely, that when administered internally it caused scirrhus induration to soften, the tumour to dwindle and disappear, to improve and ultimately to heal ulcerations, to improve digestion, and restore health. A fair trial was given to this remedy in 1871-2 in the cancer wards by the late Mr. Hulke and Mr. De Morgan, who related the results of their experience, which were wholly negative, at a meeting of the Clinical Society of London ("Clinical Transactions," vol. v., p. 115, et seq.). There was not the slightest evidence that any effect at all had been produced by the administration of the remedy.

Precisely similar negative results followed trials with Chian turpentine, which was introduced to notice as having a remarkable effect in checking the growth of uterine cancer, by Mr. Clay of Birmingham, in 1880 ("Lancet," 1880, vol. i., p. 477, and vol. ii., p. 533). Mr. H. Morris (ibid., 1880, pp. 844 and 886) and Mr. Hulke (ibid., 1881, vol. i., p. 1019) arrived at a precisely opposite conclusion to Mr. Clay, as the cases they detail justified them in doing. The subject attracted much attention at the time, and whilst one or two writers confirmed Mr. Clay's results, others concurred in the verdict of the Middlesex surgeons. In 1886 Mr. Clay reiterated his belief in the efficacy of the drug, but so far as I am aware, it has never come into general adoption.

It is not necessary to dwell at length upon a record which is full of failure as this of the vain attempt to find in some fortuitous way a specific for cancer. It is a chapter of medicine of which we can hardly be proud, and contains perhaps more of folly and disappointment than any other.

"A multitude of strange remedies are prescribed for cancer. When Lord Metcalfe, the Governor of Canada, was beset with this cruel disease, Mr. Kaye, his biographer, tells us: 'One correspondent recommended mesmerism which had cured Miss Mattineau ; another, hydropathy at the pure springs of Malvern ; a third, an application of the common dock leaf ; a fourth, an infusion of couch-grass ; a fifth, the baths of Docherte near Vienna ; a sixth, the volcanic hot springs of Karlsbad ; a seventh, a wonderful plaster made of rose-leaves, olive-oil, and turnip juice ; an eighth, a plaster and powder, in which some part of a young frog was a principal ingredient ; a ninth, a mixture of copperas and vinegar ; a tenth, an application of pure ox-gall ; an eleventh, a mixture of Florence oil and red precipitate ; whilst a twelfth was certain of the good effects of homœopathy, which cured Charlotte Elizabeth. Besides these varied remedies, many men and women with infallible receipts or certain modes of treatment were recommended by themselves and others. Learned Italian professors, mysterious American women, erudite Germans, and obscure Irish quacks—all had cured cancer of twenty years' standing, and all were pressing or pressed forward to operate on Lord Metcalfe.'" (John Timbs. "Doctors and Patients," 1876, p. 338.)

Surely the experiences that have been gained in the treatment of this disease and the multiplicity of remedies that have been advocated for conditions which remain incurable, must impel the conviction that it is not by haphazard guesses that a cure will be found. We may well revert to the words of Sydenham, quoted by John Howard in the letter he addressed to the "medical gentlemen of the Hospital," with which this article opens, as shewing the direction in which we have to go.

"I have often thought that if I knew accurately the natural history of any disease, I should never be at a loss for a proper method of treating it." In giving this quotation there is no doubt that Howard saw the importance attaching to the study of a disease like cancer in order to determine its nature before any real advance could be made in treatment. He felt, as we have seen, that investigation was what was needed, and both he and his friend were of one mind upon the scientific as well as the philanthropic side of the institution. They were far-sighted enough to perceive that in point of fact the benefits conferred on the community by the foundation were not restricted to those who were relieved in its wards, but they hoped, and not without reason, that the experiences gained by those who ministered to them would lead to a wider and sounder knowledge of the disease and its relations. Therefore, we have stated that one of the objects which were in the mind of the founder when he made his benefaction, just as it was in the mind of Mrs. Stafford when she penned her will ("curing persons afflicted with cancer, and of investigating and promoting our general knowledge of treating that dreadful disorder"), was to gain a greater insight into its nature, so as the more certainly to discover the means of successfully coping with it.

In the century that has elapsed since this cancer establishment was founded, there has been a very considerable extension of knowledge concerning the nature and structure of the morbid conditions collectively termed "cancer." To this work many contributions have been made by surgeons who have had charge of this department. John Howard, the first to hold this position, left behind the manuscript of a work entitled "Practical Observations on Cancer," which he placed in the hands of Dr. Gower, Physician to the Hospital, by whom the publication was undertaken in the year of Howard's death—1811. Many of the cases described in the book were inmates of the cancer ward, regarding which, Dr. Gower, in the preface addressed to John Morris, Esq., and William Fowler Jones, Esq., Treasurers to the Middlesex Hospital, states: Through the munificence of the late Samuel Whitbread, Esq., an asylum appropriate to females afflicted with the disorder in question was first established, a cancer ward having been opened in the Middlesex Hospital by the unremitting exertion of his friend Mr. John Howard."

It is not very easy to gather from a perusal of its pages any very clear ideas as to the nature of the disease of which it treats. This is in part due to the form in which it is cast, and probably also to the lack of that "amplification and revision" which the editor regrets that the author was prevented by a tedious illness from bestowing. It consists of a congeries of clinical records, interspersed with general reflections, and, although apparently intended to be drawn up on a system, is yet sadly unsystematic. The main doctrines one is enabled to gather are these: 1. That cancer occurs in many forms, and that many simple diseases have been confounded with cancer. 2. That persons who in early life have been "scrofulous" are liable, as age advances, to become the subjects of cancer. 3. That the proclivity to cancer in the decline of life is favoured by the tendency to venous congestion that then occurs. 4. That cancer is a disease of glands. 5. That scirrhus is the first stage of cancer. 6. That cancers may arise from blows and injuries as well as from internal causes. 7. That if a cancer be not removed early, before it becomes adherent, the constitution is liable to be affected by the virus generated within it. 8. That excision by the knife can only be safely done in the scirrhus stage, with caution and a "very guarded prognostic," when the growth has increased so as to cause the skin to become tense, and not to be attempted when the cancer has become adherent to deeper parts and the skin has commenced to ulcerate. 9. Cancers may be chronic or acute; in mammary cases minute nodules may spread into the surrounding skin, lymphatic glands may be indurated by passage of fluid from the cancerous breast, but it is unwise to remove these glands as swelling of the arm is sure to follow. 10. In all cases there is a predisposing as well as an exciting cause; injury will not produce cancer unless there be predisposition, and this latter may be inherited, just as the scrofulous habit is hereditary. 11. Partial or imperfect removal of a cancer is followed by fresh sprouting; indeed, even when the whole of the diseased part has been apparently removed there may remain behind "semina" or "roots" so small as to escape recognition but sufficient to explain the local recurrence that follows.

Speaking of cancers of the lip, he notes their greater frequency in men, and the editor, in a note, says that this "disposition in men of the lower orders of life may have its origin in the habit of smoking tobacco, which produces the liability to irritation on that part from the accidental adhesion of the tobacco-pipe." Another instance of such local irritation is afforded by the author in his remarks on "a species of cancer which is very common to a body of people who are greatly to be pitied, namely, chimney-sweepers." This begins as a "soot-wart," and the irritation of this leads to its becoming cancerous.* Mammary cancer furnishes him with the greatest number of examples. Here is his comment on one where the disease recurred locally within seven months of excision, and where, after a second operation, an interval of nearly as many years occurred before death, which was preceded by lymphatic infiltration and probably internal dissemination. He says:—

“It is a very interesting case. The second tumour, arising on the cicatrix so soon after the removal of the breast, shows that a portion of disease was left behind and produced its regeneration; and the rise of the small tumours after the second operation, points out that there were germs remaining, which were the occasion of others being multiplied to such an extent that the disease ended in death. The whole progress of the tumours demonstrates, in my opinion, a local glandular sympathy, and seems to show that there was no absorption of matter into the system from the first and second tumours, nor from the three last, before ulceration; and, if so, the disease, whilst in such states, may be said to be local. If the disease be propagated by a germ, or one diseased gland, it may be like a seed planted in the ground, having a local action where sown, and extending only to a certain space without influencing the whole of the system.”

Words worth remembering when we consider how, many years later, there was much debate as to the local origin of cancer. He goes on to say:—

“There are three things of great consequence to determine, namely: first, at what period of time in the disease the acrimonious fluid of a cancer can be absorbed into the system of the person affected; 2ndly, whether it be not sometimes a disease merely local; and 3rdly, whether, although appearing as a local affection, it may not be a disease of the constitution, like scrofula for instance, which is not a local but a general disease, although it may exhibit itself in one place only.

“This case I noted more than twenty-eight years ago. At that time the great utility of purgatives and issues I did not know, nor were they attended to by medical men. I make no hesitation in saying that had I known so much then there would have been a great probability of prolonging this person's life, after the appearance of the three small tumours, beyond the period of seven years from the second operation—a want of knowledge I shall regret to the last moment of my life.” (p. 99).

It may be questioned whether the use of “purgatives and issues” would have averted the course of the disease, which has often had its parallels, the case being an illustration of the remarkable “latency” of cancer, which is so difficult to explain on any theory. Many an instance has been recorded of recurrence at even longer intervals than in this case, over which John Howard had such unavailing regret, and it may safely be said that no remedies known to medicine possess the power of preventing such a recrudescence. We may also quote the following brief narratives of cases, the second of which exemplifies the fact, frequently experienced in its history, that not every case treated in the cancer ward has been a case of cancer:—

“CASE 45.—A cancer in one breast was removed by the late Mr. Wyatt, and a like affection went afterwards to the other, which induced Mr. Wyatt to refuse performing a second operation. She left the Middlesex Hospital, and this breast was taken off out of the house by another surgeon. At no great length of time from the last operation a scirrhus affection of the liver took place, of which she died, it having been found in this state upon dissection."

* In his previous “Notes and Observations” Howard remarks that in two cases of this affection the disease arose from “wood soot and that only.”

"CASE 48.—A woman, aged 24, had an ulceration in the axilla, the origin of which was what she called a lump. It was seven years increasing in its progress to its present state of ulceration, and it had been ulcerated a year and a half. She had also a fulness and tumour under the clavicle of the same side. This case was strictly scrofulous, and was cured by the external application of Wiltshire Holt Water."

The mention of "Wiltshire Holt Water" in the last case will probably puzzle the modern reader. It was at that time a favourite local application to ulcerated surfaces, being often mentioned in these pages. It appears that in 1718 a mineral spring was discovered at the village of Holt, near Bradford-on-the-Avon,* but as the most recent gazetteer is silent on the subject, it may be inferred that like many another English spring, the well has run dry. As to its reputed virtues, it seems somewhat singular that Mr. Howard should have retained his faith in them in view of the following instructive anecdote that he relates in a footnote (p. 102):—

"Some few years ago I was informed that a young gentleman who acted as House Surgeon at the time to the Middlesex Hospital, had omitted to procure a supply of the Wiltshire Holt Water, which was in much request. To conceal the circumstance he filled one of the accustomed bottles with water from a pump in the apothecary's shop there, and having inserted a sealed cork to complete the resemblance, he used that water as a substitute. The effects were so similar to those of the genuine mineral water that he continued to employ it, and to gain instruction in his profession." And the writer adds: "Of the truth of this relation I have no doubt, and I therefore feel it to be a duty to record it."

Amongst other local applications mentioned the carrot poultice was much in favour, but one of "red onions" (mashed and cold) seems from the records to have been mostly too irritating.

It is time to leave John Howard and his book, which has now but little more than an antiquarian interest. We must, however, note that he was thoroughly imbued with the great principle of the early and free removal of malignant growths. "The removal," he says, "cannot be too early nor too perfectly done without attempting to save the integuments, as has been too frequent, or the parts immediately surrounding the tumour, or attached to it posteriorly . . . Every the smallest portion of diseased hardness must be therefore taken away, leaving the parts surrounding the tumour, in every direction, in a sound state. When this rule of practice has been followed, the cure has very frequently been complete and lasting; but when it has not been sufficiently attended to, the cure has too often failed." He recognised also the value of opium and lead as local sedatives, and lays stress on the advantage of an abstemious regimen, for he had observed that cancer progresses far more slowly in the abstemious than in those who indulge themselves and lead indolent and luxurious lives. One final passage may be quoted in which he gives his opinion on specifics:—

“Much has been said and much expected of medicines of a specific nature for the mitigation and cure of cancer, but this object, in my humble opinion is not likely to be attained by any one medicine, but by the co-operation of several, uniting to form and support different indications according to the state, nature and circumstances of the various affections which go under the general name of Cancer” (p 126).

We may take a glance at a contemporary work on the same subject, in the hope that it will give additional insight into the doctrines held by scientific men regarding cancer in those days. There is the work entitled “Observations on Cancer,” by Everard Home, published in 1805, a work which, it is not too much to believe, contains the views, if not the ipsissima verba of John Hunter, at whose death in 1793 the priceless collection of manuscripts on a variety of subjects in natural science and surgery came into the hands of Home, who, as all the world knows now, ruthlessly destroyed them after having, so it is also firmly believed, made much use of their contents in the preparation of his own works. Nor indeed does Home conceal the fact that much of this book on cancer is Hunter’s, for in the ninth chapter, which deals with the Nature and Progress of Cancer, he writes: “In stating these observations, I wish it to be understood that I am communicating all the material information I have been able to collect upon this important subject, and not meaning that it should all be considered as my own. Much certainly originated with Mr. Hunter, perhaps the greatest part . . . .”

Therefore it may be inferred that the view herein stated, that “cancer is a disease which is local in its origin,” was that held by the foremost of British pathologists. This statement is followed by one to the effect that cancer cannot arise in any part unless that part has undergone some previous change. This is illustrated by the well-known facts of small cutaneous growths remaining for many years harmless, until in advancing age they are excited into cancerous activity by some irritation or injury. Nor are these views considered to be incompatible with the hereditary transmission of cancer, it being the disposition and not the cancer that is inherited. It may be that the disposition does not appear until late in life, but then, from some slight cause, a tumour may form, within which, as it increases, “cancerous poison” may be generated.

In the following passage Home declares the purpose of his work:—

“The object of the present observations is only to promote the investigation of cancer, as a disease, in the knowledge of which a very small progress has hitherto been made, and till that knowledge shall be more advanced, nothing can be said respecting the mode of treatment to be recommended in confirmed cancer, unless some fortunate accident should be the means of our discovering a remedy. Till we arrive at a more perfect knowledge of the disease, or till such a discovery shall be made, it becomes of no small importance to ascertain in what way these tumours can be dispersed, which, if allowed to remain, too often become cancerous, or, when their dispersion cannot be effected, what is the best mode in which they can be removed; for I am induced to believe from what has fallen under my observation, in the practice of Mr. Hunter, and afterwards in my own, that when the cancerous poison has acquired the power of contamination the disease is generally too far advanced to be subdued by the extirpation of the tumour" (p. 152).

It must be admitted that there is not, in essence, very much difference between the conceptions of the disease to-day and those held by the two writers just quoted, separated as they are from us by the whole of the wonderful nineteenth century, during which pathology, like all other of the sciences, has made such notable advance. Allowing for differences in modes of expression, can we not say with the one writer that in cancer there is a predisposing as well as an exciting cause at work? and with the other, that cancer is a disease which is local in its origin, but that it seems to require some special disposition, which may be inherited to evoke it? In the memorable discussion at the Pathological Society in 1874, Mr. Campbell De Morgan, who more than any other upheld the doctrine of the local origin of cancer, was fain to admit "that though local in its origin, there is in some, possibly in all, cases a predisposition to the disease, which may possibly be distributed through the system, but which more probably has its seat in some one among the tissues of the body." And Sir James Paget, the powerful defender of the "constitutional" view, entirely endorsed this statement, which seemed to him to grant much of the thesis that he was himself maintaining. Further, we find that at the beginning, as at the close of the century, surgeons were equally impressed with the necessity of early removal of cancerous growths, and with the liability to recurrence which imperfect operations suffered to occur. John Howard's surmise that "seeds" or "germs" not visible to the unaided eye are left behind after such partial excisions is a literal fact, which the application of the microscope has verified. It is only when we endeavour to realise what the surgeons of that day really knew of the nature of cancer, and of the confusion that evidently existed in their minds in respect to its supposed relationships with scrofulous, syphilitic, and leprous affections, that we are enabled to gauge the extent to which knowledge has advanced since their time. Setting aside the errors into which they fell with regard to the morbid conditions just named, we find their conceptions of cancer itself to be singularly strange. No longer can we speak of "scirrhus" as a sort of precursory stage of true cancer and include under that term such conditions as cirrhosis of the liver and uterine fibroids. We may well doubt, too, if there is any proof for the assertion that when the cancer attains a certain stage it generates a virus, to which is ascribed the destructive progress and general dissemination of the disease. Nor can it be said that the belief in injury as an exciting cause has so firm a hold upon the imagination as it had in those days, although the undoubted fact that cancer does in some cases ensue upon injury has justly been regarded as one of the strongest arguments in favour of there being an underlying constitutional tendency to the disease in those who suffer from it.

Unquestionably, the main reason why the pathologist of to-day has more precise notions concerning cancer than had Hunter or Baillie, is almost wholly due to the extent to which microscopical investigation has been applied to the study of morbid growths. The earliest steps in this direction nearly led the scientific world astray, and for a time the specific cancer cell was eagerly welcomed as solving the mystery that shrouded the subject. But as a knowledge of the constitution of the normal textures of the body became more exact, and when to histology was added the light thrown on the development history of the organism by the new research in embryology, the pathologist had to discard a doctrine which had been too lightly embraced. He came to recognize that the cancerous neoplasm was composed of elements akin to those found in normal tissues, arranged, it may be, on an irregular pattern, and met with in localities where normally such cells do not occur. Then came the great differentiation between carcinomata and sarcomata, the one built up on the type of epithelial and glandular elements, the other on that of connective tissue—a fundamental distinction, in structure, reaching back to the primary differentiation of the embryonic layers. The outcome of all these studies upon morbid growths, to which Virchow's masterly treatise contributed so largely, and the furtherance of which was one of the main objects of the Pathological Society of London, founded in 1846, needs not to be related here. Suffice it to say that little now remains to be done in this direction. The minute structure of such growths, the common sites of their origin, the essential distinctions between benign tumours and malignant, the accumulated evidence concerning the lines of infection and dissemination of secondary growths—these and numerous other facts concerning them have brought us nearer to that full knowledge of the "natural history" of the disease which Sydenham rightly deemed to be the foundation of direct treatment. In this advance to clearer knowledge the surgeons who have in succession had charge of the patients of Whitbread's charity have borne their part. It would be invidious to name any who are still with us, but the work done by De Morgan, Moore, and Hulke, both in respect to pathology and treatment, should not be forgotten. The Hospital records have, too, been of value in furnishing trustworthy statistics on the subjects of heredity, of relative frequency and distribution of cancers, of duration, the results of operative interference, the liability to recurrence, and other matters which have all to be reckoned in contrasting present knowledge with that of the eighteenth century. In connection with this statistical side of the question mention should be made of the contributions of the late Mr. Sibley, who for many years held an office corresponding to that of Surgical Registrar, whilst the published reports of those who have held that office furnished annual statistical and other records of the department for thirty-three years.

The opening of the present Cancer Wing, besides increasing the accommodation and comfort of the patients, has afforded an opportunity to establish laboratories for the systematic scientific investigation of cancer, thus fulfilling in the most satisfactory manner one of the main objects for which the institution was founded. For in spite of the more exact knowledge of the morbid anatomy of cancer that is now possessed, the important problem of its causation remains almost as obscure as at the date when The Middlesex Hospital accepted Samuel Whitbread's gift. The discoveries of the past twenty-five years in respect to the casual agencies of many of the zymotic diseases, and especially of tuberculosis and malaria, have raised hopes that somewhat similar agencies of a parasitic nature may ultimately be found to be at the root of malignant disease. At any rate the time has arrived when, equipped with the best available methods, a determined effort should be made to unravel a mystery that has baffled the wisest. This can only be through the most assiduous and careful study embracing a very wide field.

The new departure at the Hospital was marked by the constitution of a Cancer Investigation Committee, consisting of the senior Physician to the Hospital, the three Surgeons, and the Lecturers on Medicine and General Pathology. A Director was appointed to control the Research Laboratories instituted in the new building, together with a Pathological Assistant and a Resident Registrar, whose duty it is to take charge of the wards under the surgeons, and to keep the clinical records.

The laboratories were opened on 1st March, 1900, and Mr. A. G. R. Foulerton was appointed the first Director. The material at the disposal of the department in each year comprises that from about 250 cases of malignant disease (not counting cases of recurrence). In connection with the special cancer wards, from seventy to eighty post-mortem examinations are made every year, these being carried out by the Staff of the Research Laboratories. The general wards of the Hospital contribute about twenty post-mortem examinations of cases of internal malignant disease, and material from about 150 cases operated on in the surgical wards. As complete an examination as possible is made of every case from which material becomes available, and it is hoped that the systematic recording of cases on an uniform plan may in time produce results of value.

Reports are issued from time to time from the Cancer Research Laboratories. Each Report, as far as possible, deals with a series of 500 cases of malignant disease completely examined. The Reports also contain a series of papers embodying all original work bearing on the pathology of malignant disease carried out by the Staff or by voluntary workers in the laboratories.

In establishing the Cancer Research Laboratories the Governors of The Middlesex Hospital have not only been faithful to the trust confided to them, but they have set an example to others similarly engaged in the warfare against disease. They have perceived that the only sure foundation upon which successful treatment can be based is that of knowledge of the nature and causes of diseases. In such investigations as can alone be carried on into the difficult and complex problems of cancerous affections, it may be long before any decided practical result can be obtained. But the labour will not be thrown away. Every additional fact, however small, will contribute to the better understanding of the conditions under which such diseases arise and the manner in which they spread. That in due time such knowledge will be the means of directing us where to look for the means of checking and preventing cancer there can be little doubt. Such a consummation will, however, only be obtained by the exercise of unwearied patience and assiduity by those engaged in the task.

As indicating the nature of the lines of investigation at present suggested by modern knowledge, the scheme is appended of the "Scope of Investigations," which was presented to the Medical Committee by Mr. Foulerton before the Laboratories were opened:—

SCOPE OF INVESTIGATIONS.

1. A systematic bacteriological and histological examination to be made in every case of Carcinoma or Sarcoma admitted into the Medical, Surgical, or Special Cancer Wards of the Hospital, or dying in the Special or General Wards. The results of this systematic examination would be applied:—

(1) To the attempt to formulate a satisfactory classification of Sarcomata.

(2) To the investigation of the causes of Carcinoma and Sarcoma.

A. Whilst a satisfactory histological classification of the varieties of Carcinoma has been in use for many years, the classification on the merely histological basis is still far from complete in the case of Sarcomata.

B. With regard to causation.—In the case of Carcinoma recent theories as to a blastomycetic causation require investigation. Although the theories in question have not been generally accepted, the arguments in favour of them have been very ably urged by Italian pathologists, and careful bacteriological examinations are required, if only for the purpose of obtaining negative evidence.

The theory of a Protozoal causation has now been practically abandoned by pathologists, and probably would not require any further investigation.

The older theory as to the direct origin of Carcinoma from normal epithelial cells as the result of a perverted or irregular overgrowth, and independently of the influence of any parasites from without, would seem to offer the line of research from which definite results might most probably be expected.

C. With regard to the Causation of Sarcoma.—Our knowledge of the pathology of Sarcoma is even less definite than it is in the case of Carcinoma. We have reasonable grounds for assuming that all varieties of Carcinoma are, at any rate, manifestations of one and the same kind of morbid action. But with regard to Sarcoma there is reason to believe that the term, as ordinarily used, includes the results of more than one morbid process. Recent investigations (Curtis, Busse, and Nello Biargi) have shewn that some of the cases which clinically might be classed as Sarcomata are definite instances of yeast infection. And there is also presumptive evidence that some of the cases which are clinically recognised as "lympho-sarcoma" may similarly be caused by a parasitic infection of some sort.

On the other hand, there is no reason for supposing that all cases of Sarcoma are due to a parasitic infection. And the relation in some cases of Sarcoma to chronic inflammatory processes, arising independently of the action of micro-organisms, would require investigation.

D. An exact tabulation, founded on histological data, of Carcinoma and Sarcoma cases, with regard to the age and sex incidence of the two diseases, would be of great value in connection with Public Health statistics. In the Registrar-General's Returns the term "Cancer" is used as including both Carcinoma and Sarcoma, and there are at present no means of ascertaining the relative frequency of each. This use of the word "Cancer" is necessary because of the difficulty of exact diagnosis in many cases as they occur in practice.

But these "Cancer" statistics, including as they do the Returns of at least two diseases, are at present almost valueless when investigating the influence of general surroundings and the like in the causation of either of the diseases. By the systematic recording of a considerable number of cases of Carcinoma and Sarcoma it would in time be possible to construct tables showing the exact age and sex incidence of the respective diseases. And such tables might throw much needed light on the Registrar-General's Returns of "Cancer" for the whole country.

2. Systematic examination of the blood (leucocyte staining and enumeration) in series of selected cases of malignant disease, before and after operation and also in inoperable cases, is a line of research which might afford useful data which could be applied to clinical diagnosis in doubtful or obscure cases.

It is somewhat remarkable that almost coincidentally with the step taken by The Middlesex Hospital authorities to promote scientific inquiry into cancer, committees having the like object in view should have been founded in Germany and the United States, whilst there already exist certain "leagues" against cancer in France, Belgium and elsewhere.

In Germany there was founded in 1900 the "Deutsche Comité für Krebsforschung," with Professor Geheimrath von Leyden as President and Professor G. Mayer as Secretary. The meetings of the Committee are held monthly in the "Ministerium des Inneren," the Committee receiving an annual subsidy from the Imperial Exchequer of 5,000 marks. The Committee, whose members comprise professors of medicine, physicians and surgeons, bacteriologists, morbid anatomists, veterinarians, etc., has no special laboratories, but administers funds in grants to those engaged in research, and collects statistics.

There are also two special laboratories in Germany devoted to cancer investigation: (1) The one is attached to the clinic of Professor von Leyden at the Charité Hospital in Berlin. There is a special ward for cancer, containing thirty-four beds, with a laboratory, both being under Professor von Leyden's direction. The ward is maintained by the State, the annual charge being 53,000 marks. (2) The other is the Cancer Laboratory at Frankfort, which is privately supported, and of which Professor Ehrlich is the Director.

In the United States there are laboratories at Buffalo and Harvard. The laboratory at Buffalo was placed formally under the control of the New York State Department of Health in June, 1901. Dr. Roswell Park is Director, and the Staff includes a pathologist, a clinical microscopist, a bacteriologist, and a chemist. The laboratories have lately been extended considerably, and removed to a building presented by Mrs. Gratwick.

The Cancer Committee to the Surgical Department of the Harvard Medical School, Mass., U.S.A., is endowed with funds bequeathed by Caroline Brewer Croft. The Committee have organised a commission of workers, who presented their first Report, containing papers dealing with the Pathology of Malignant Disease, on 23rd October, 1900.

Finally, the present year (1902) has seen the formation in this country, under the auspices of the Royal College of Physicians of London and the Royal College of Surgeons of England, of what may be regarded as a National Committee for the promotion of Cancer Research, the aim being to raise a fund sufficient for the complete prosecution of this work. The objects are succinctly stated—(1) To provide, extend, equip, and maintain laboratories to be devoted exclusively to Cancer Research; (2) To encourage researches on the subject of Cancer within the United Kingdom, or in the British Dominions beyond the seas; (3) To assist in the development of Cancer Research Departments in various Hospitals and Institutions approved by the Executive Committee; (4) And generally to provide means for systematic investigation in various other directions into the causes, prevention, and treatment of Cancer.

NOTE.

The early history of the Cancer foundation at The Middlesex Hospital is fully detailed by Erasmus Wilson in his "History of The Middlesex Hospital," published in 1845. For subsequent facts the Hospital is greatly indebted to Mr. W. T. Hillier, who has diligently searched the Minute Books for this purpose. A few extracts are appended, in addition to those utilised in the foregoing pages:

Special General Court, 27 Jan. 1842.—Amended Rules and Regulations of the Cancer Establishment:—

(1) That a ward be always kept open for the admission of at least ten Female Patients afflicted with Cancer.

(2) That in consideration of the benefaction of Mrs. Stafford three beds be reserved in the ward called after her name for Male Patients afflicted with Cancer.

(3) That In-patients should be persons afflicted with Cancer (including every variety of malignant disease) requiring operation; also those with the disease in an acute stage, i.e., spreading rapidly, attended with great suffering, or persons afflicted with these diseases returning after operation, "such cases to remain in Hospital until relieved by art or released by death"; but that no person should be entitled to so remain until after an interval of at least two months from admission and then only on the certificate of the surgeon in attendance.

(4) That patients afflicted with Cancer (including every variety of malignant disease) should, as Out-patients, be relieved with advice and medicine for an unlimited period, and that cases of this description be admitted as In-patients on the recommendation of the surgeons for a limited period, not to exceed two months without the special permission of the Weekly Board of Governors.

(5) That in conformity with the wishes of the original Founder of this Establishment, a book be provided wherein the surgeons shall enter respectively the names of their patients, together with a general statement of their cases, and such other information as may be from time to time required by the Weekly

Board, and should any extraordinary circumstance occur in the progress of a case, or should any remedy be providentially discovered, a record should be made thereof and published for the benefit of society.

(6) That all benefactions to this Establishment be funded.

(7) That any surplus of interest be laid out in 3 per cent. Consol Annuities, but that it shall be allowable for the Weekly Board to employ such surplus in sending such patients as come within the Rules of the Cancer Establishment to the seaside.

(8) That in regulating the accounts of the Cancer Establishment, In-patient's expense be reckoned at £40, Out-patient's £1.

Weekly Board, 1 Feb. 1842.—Ordered that a gratuity of £2 2s. be given to the Night Nurse of the Cancer Ward for her attention in extinguishing the gas lights of the Hospital at daybreak during the last two years.

Weekly Board, 25 April 1843.—That patients in the Cancer Wards shall be allowed 2 ozs. of tea and 1 lb. of sugar per week, half those quantities having been the previous allowance.

Weekly Board, 30 March 1847.—Ordered that a gratuity of £20 be given to the Matron, £5 6s. to the Cook, and £1 1s. to the Night Nurse of the Cancer Ward for their services during the past year.

Special General Court, 1 Jan. 1849, H.R.H. the Duke of Cambridge in the Chair.—“That a small ward of four beds for Male Cancer Patients be annexed to Whitbread's Ward, which is occupied exclusively by female patients, thereby carrying out to the fullest extent the benevolent intentions of the founder of that ward.”

Weekly Board, 20 Jan. 1852.—The Secretary reported that the Medical Committee, having considered the question referred to them by the House Committee whether any more suitable article than feathers could be adopted for the beds of the patients in the Cancer Wards, were of opinion that the Spiral Spring Bedstead might be tried, especially as that could be done without any expense, as there were some already in the Hospital.

Weekly Board, 19 April 1853.—Resolved to apply to next Quarterly Court for authority to appropriate a sum not exceeding £1,400 in the purchase and fitting up of a Leasehold House in Norfolk Street, in order to augment the accommodation of the Cancer Department of the Hospital, upon the receipt of funds arising out of the request of Sir Joseph de Courcy Laffan for the Cancer Wards.

Weekly Board, 28 June 1853.—Special report read proposing alterations of upper floor of Hospital to afford accommodation for increased number of Cancer Patients.

Weekly Board, 11 Jan. 1859.—The report of the Medical Committee of the 1st instant was read, recommending that in reference to the Rev. Hugh Reed's application to be allowed to try a remedy he had for Cancer, he be informed of the Rule of the Hospital that, as a preliminary measure, he must disclose to the Physician or Surgeon, under whose immediate care the patient was upon whom the experiment was proposed to be made, the nature of the remedies to be applied

Weekly Board, 5 March 1861.—Resolved to adopt the suggestion of the Medical Committee for the establishment of a separate Out-patient Department for the attendance upon Cancer Patients exclusively, who shall be seen upon one or more days in the week, either with or without letters from Governors or Subscribers. Resolved, that in addition to the admission of Cancer Patients into the Cancer Wards upon the recommendation of Governors or Subscribers, the Surgeons be authorized to admit other proper cases without such letters of recommendation, subject to the following regulation, that, if admitted without any letter of recommendation from a Governor or Subscriber, such cases shall be reported on specially to the next Weekly Meeting, and that the admission be regarded as specially subject to consideration and approval by the board.

Weekly Board, 12 March 1861.—The Visiting Governors report that of the twenty-six beds in the Cancer Wards twenty were occupied, eighteen by Cancer Patients and two by surgical cases.

Weekly Board, 26 March 1861.—Resolved that the Scheme proposed by the Medical Committee for the establishment of a separate and free Out-Patient Cancer Department be approved and recommended for adoption by the next General Court of Governors. (In the Scheme it was proposed that "such patients should be attended by the Senior Assistant Surgeon, Mr. Nunn, exclusively, on different days and in another room to those devoted to the general surgical out-patients.")

Weekly Board, 28 April 1868.—Reported that there are now thirty-two beds in the wards specially appropriated to Cancer Patients.

Weekly Board, 14 May 1878.—Dr. Greenhow's offer and suggestion for the opening of a male Cancer Ward, by acquiring two houses adjoining the Hospital in Cleveland Street, considered.

Weekly Board.—In 1885 many discussions took place upon the subject of a special Male Cancer Ward. The Board eventually suggest the conversion of "Handel" Ward.

Weekly Board, 2 November 1886.—Recommend Quarterly Court to increase number of Male Cancer Beds from six to eight, to devote "Handel" Ward to them, and to rename it "Greenhow."

Weekly Board, 9 February 1896.—Tender for demolition of houses in Nassau Street accepted. The Scheme for dealing with the site not yet considered.

Weekly Board, 31 March 1896.—Plans for new Cancer Wing approved.

Weekly Board, 7 February 1899.—The Chairman having made a statement, as a preliminary, in view of the opening of the New Wing for Female Cancer Patients, and more particularly in regard to its medical supervision for carrying out the wishes of the original founders of the Cancer Wards, it was, after some discussion, moved by Sir Arthur Watson, seconded by the Hon. Spencer Lyttelton, and resolved unanimously :—

"That the Weekly Board of Governors are of opinion that, in the arrangements to be made for the medical supervision of the new Female Cancer Wards, endeavours should be made to give effect to the wishes of the original founders, which are expressed in the conditions submitted by the late Samuel Whitbread, Esq., in 1791, in the following terms, viz. : 'The relief of persons affected with Cancer, and the investigation of a complaint which, though extremely common, is, both with regard to its natural history and cure, but imperfectly known'; and likewise laid down in the will of the late Mrs. Alithea Maria Stafford, as follows, viz.: 'Curing persons affected with Cancer, and of investigating and promoting our general knowledge of treating that dreadful disorder.' And the Board would be glad if the Medical Committee would consider how this could best be done. The enhanced facilities for pathological and bacteriological study in the Hospital is, they consider, an additional reason why some practical steps should be taken in this direction."

any letter of recommendation reported on specially to the next Weekly Meeting, and that the admission be treated as especially subject to consideration and approval by the Board.

Weekly Board, 12 March 1881.—The Visiting Governors report that of the twenty-six beds in the Cancer Wards twenty were occupied, eighteen by Cancer patients and two by surgical cases, and that the remaining eight beds were vacant.

Weekly Board, 26 March 1881.—Resolved that the Scheme proposed by the Medical Committee for the establishment of a separate and free Out-Patient Cancer Department be approved and recommended for adoption by the next General Court of Governors. (In the Scheme it was proposed that "such patients should be attended by the Senior Assistant Surgeon, Mr. Nunn, exclusively, on different days and in another room to those devoted to the general surgical out-patients.")

Weekly Board, 28 April 1881.—Reported that there are now thirty-two beds in the wards specially appropriated to Cancer patients.

Weekly Board, 12 May 1881.—Dr. Greenough's offer and suggestion for the opening of a new Cancer Ward, by acquiring two houses adjoining the Hospital in Cleveland Street, considered.

Weekly Board.—In 1885 many discussions took place upon the subject of a special Male Cancer Ward. The Board eventually agreed the conversion of "Handel" Ward.

Weekly Board, 2 November 1886.—Recommended that the number of Male Cancer beds from six to eight, to be devoted to Handel Ward to them, and to remain in "Greenough's" ward in special cases.

Weekly Board, 9 February 1887.—Order for demolition of house in Nassau Street accepted. The Scheme for dealing with the site not yet considered.

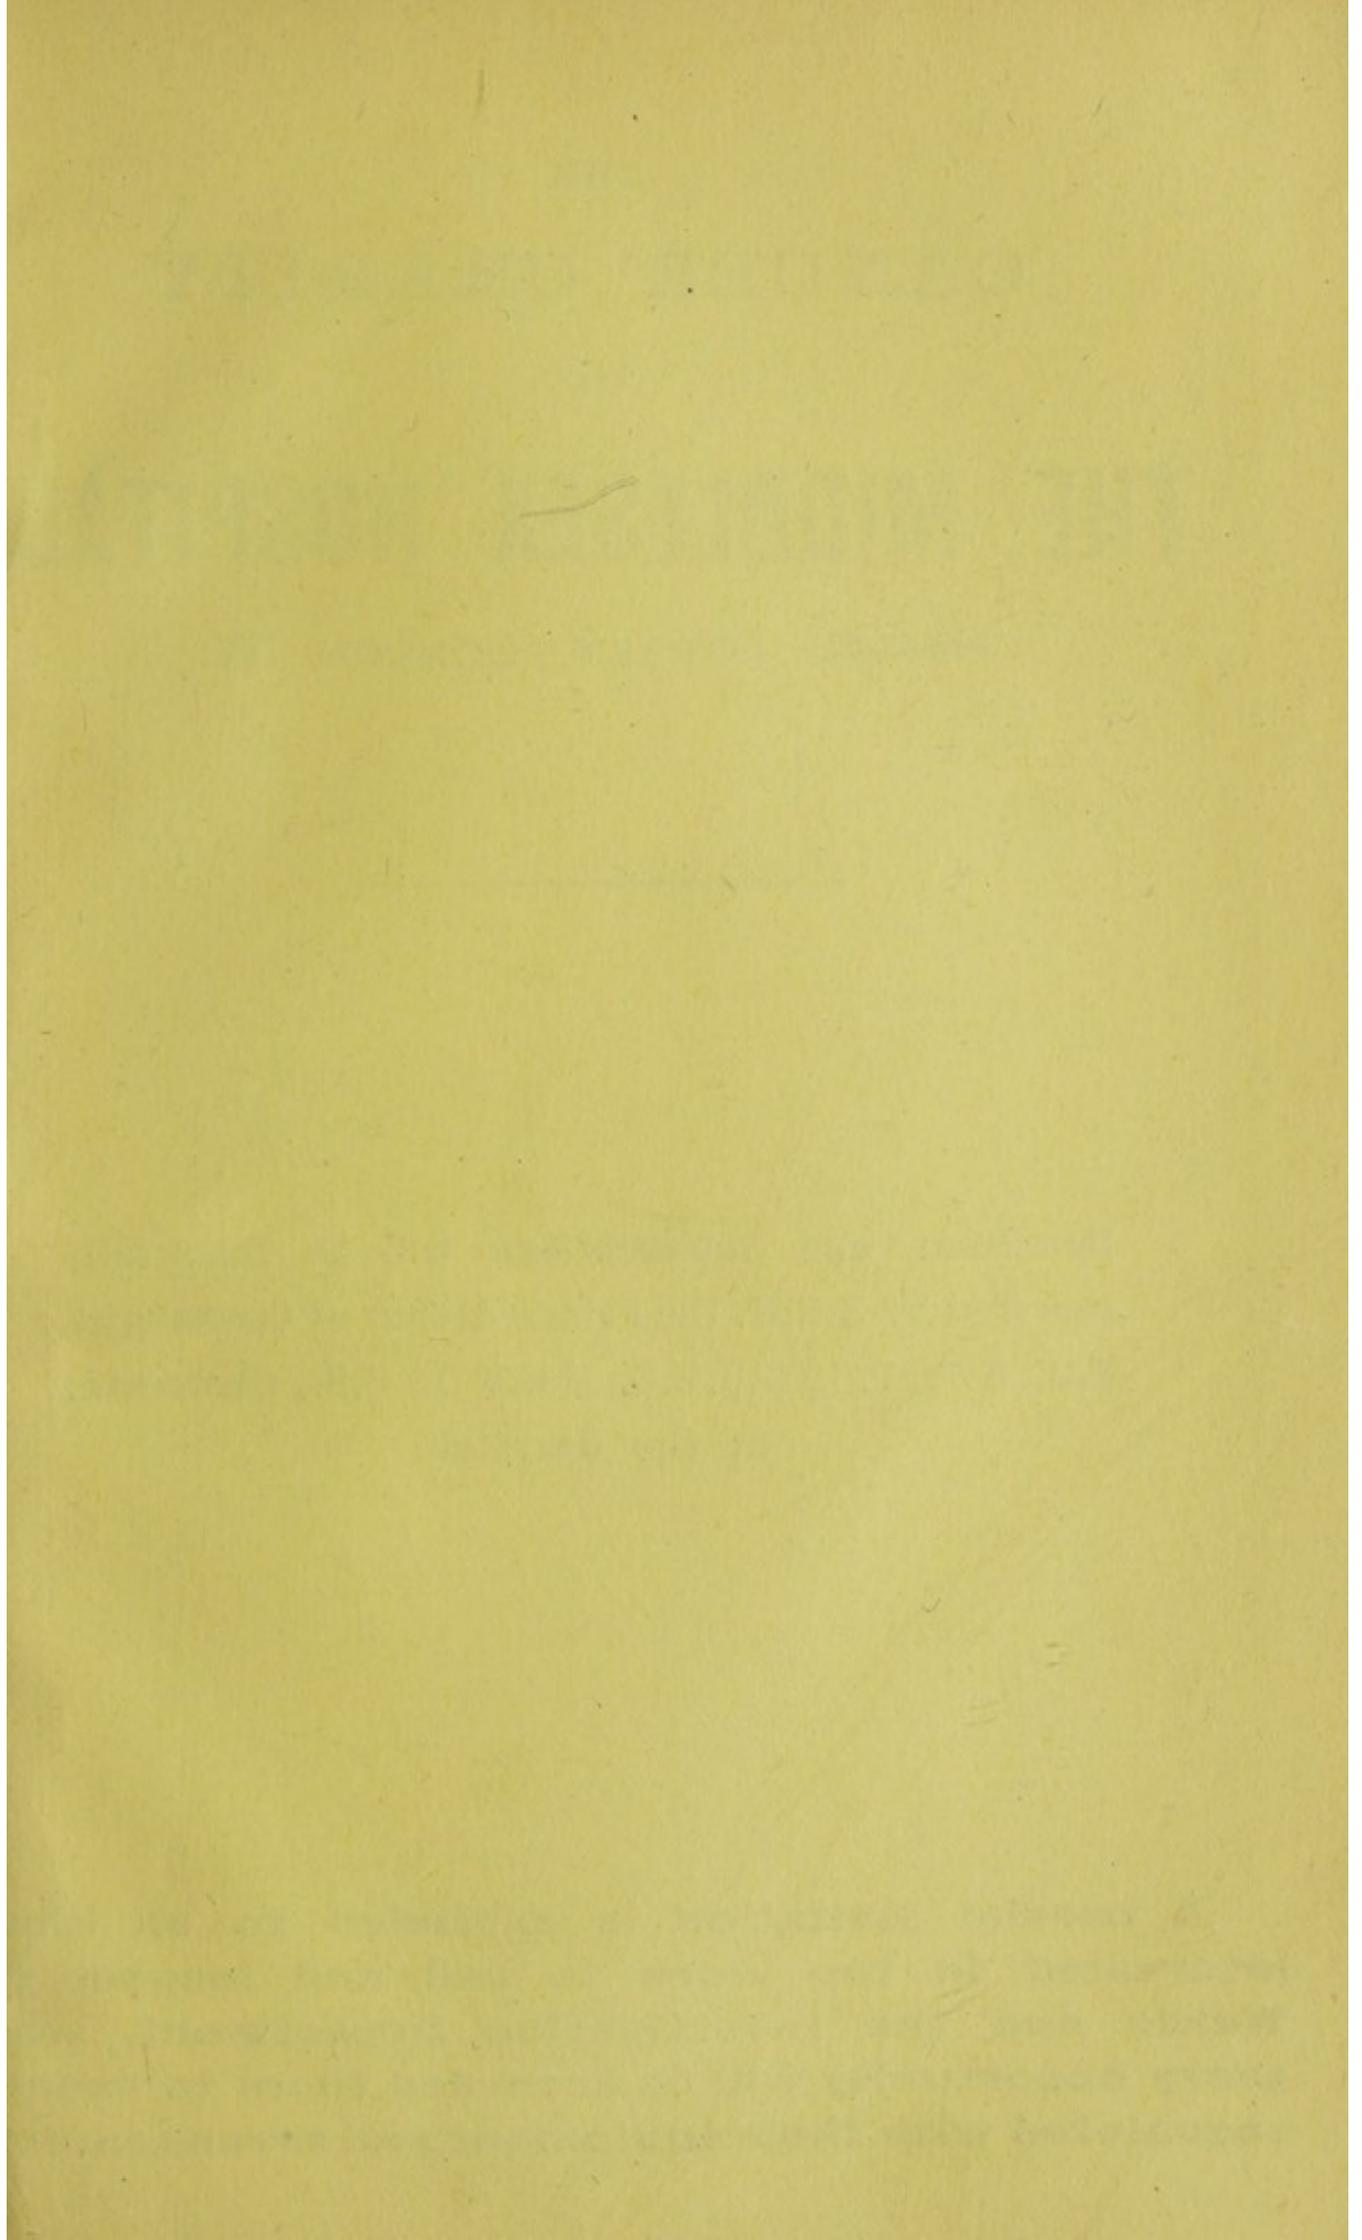

Weekly Board, 21 March 1887.—Plans for new Cancer Wing approved. Weekly Board, 26 February 1888.—The Chairman has made a statement in a preliminary review of the opening of the new Wing for Female Cancer patients, and more particularly in regard to the medical supervision for carrying out the wishes of the original founders of the Cancer Wards. It was also some discussion, moved by Sir Arthur Watson, recorded by the Hon. Secretary, and resolved unanimously:—

That the Weekly Board of Governors are of opinion that, in the circumstances, it is desirable that the medical supervision of the new Female Cancer Wards should be made to give effect to the wishes of the original founders, which are expressed in the conditions sanctioned by the late General Willoughby, viz.: "The relief of persons
