REPORT OF THE BOARD OF GOVERNORS.

The Board of Governors of the Society of the Lying-In Hospital of the City of New York presents the following report of the Society for its one hundred and twentieth year. This report, however, covers the period of fifteen months from October 1, 1917, to December 31, 1918, owing to a change in the date of closing the fiscal year of the Society from September 30 to December 31.

Attention is called to the subjoined Medical Report and the Report of The Ladies' Auxiliary relating to the work of the Society during the period above mentioned.

The friends of the Society and the public at large are reminded that the Hospital is not an endowed institution, but, on the contrary, is very largely dependent upon the contributions of those interested in its welfare for the payment of its current expenses, greatly increased as these expenses are on account of the high cost of all necessary supplies and labor. A glance at the list of donations will show that, aside from the very generous gift of Mr. John Pierpont Morgan and the substantial gifts of three other friends, the public contributions towards the work of the Society during the fifteen months amounted to somewhat less than $12,500. The Board of Governors deeply appreciates the generosity and interest of those who have contributed, but it feels that the burden of carrying on the work of the Hospital, so important to the women and children of New York, should be more widely and more fairly distributed. The Board earnestly hopes that public-spirited citizens of New York, having in mind the necessity and the immense value of the work done by the Hospital, will be thereby induced to make substantial contributions, either during their lives or by their wills, towards an endowment fund, in order that this great work may not continue practically dependent upon the generosity and the life of one loyal patron.

All persons who at any time may desire to visit the Hospital, in order to obtain information as to the details of our work or to examine the manner in which the Hospital is conducted, will be warmly welcomed, and full details will be given upon application to the Superintendent at the Hospital building.

The Board desires here to record its appreciation of the work of The Ladies' Auxiliary which has been of great value to the Hospital in many ways, proving itself an auxiliary in fact as well as in name.

The thanks of the Board of Governors are due to those kind friends, who, by donations of money, clothes, flowers, fruit, books, magazines, etc., have done so much to help in the work of the Hospital and to cheer and comfort those committed to its care.

The Board wishes also to express its appreciation of the loyal and efficient services of the surgeons, doctors, nurses and general staff at all times and particularly during the trying period of the war.

The record of the Hospital, during the past fifteen months, in both its Indoor and Outdoor Departments, has been remarkably good and while, as noted in the subjoined Medical Report, the difficulty of obtaining the requisite number of nurses has necessitated a limit upon admissions, it is hoped that some way may be found to meet this situation.

The Board of Governors records, with very deep regret, the death on June 23, 1918, of Dr. William M. Polk, for over twenty-five years Consulting Surgeon of the Hospital. His profound knowledge, experience and good judgment, together with his loyal interest in and service to the Hospital, contributed largely towards raising the institution to its present position, and the loss of this good friend will be deeply felt.

New York, December 31, 1918.

MEDICAL REPORT.

The present marks the completion of the 120th year of continuous service of the Lying-In Hospital in its special field to the public of New York City and a retrospect of this service constitutes an enviable record of good work which has benefitted not only its immediate patients but the many physicians and nurses who have secured their practical training in obstetrics by this means. The long continued existence of a practical and successful teaching institution has also served to call attention to the needs of this branch and in consequence has acted as a stimulus to the establishment of other maternity hospitals, either as independent institutions, or additions to general hospitals and medical schools. The development of the conditions noted has affected our hospital both directly and indirectly;—directly by interposing difficulties in obtaining the necessary quota of internes and pupil nurses and indirectly by increasing the number of applications for hospital care because of the modern tendency for women to be confined in hospitals, particularly in their first pregnancy. The hospital was unfortunately compelled to limit its admissions during recent months because of the constantly diminishing size of our nursing staff. This is due to the fact that several training schools which have sent us their pupil nurses have opened maternity services or have allied themselves with such institutions opened in their more immediate vicinity. A very serious condition confronts us in this respect and demands careful study for its solution. Whether a satisfactory substitute for the pupil nurse, as we now understand the term, can be found in the so-called "nurses' aids" remains to be seen. Unless an adequate supply of nurses can be secured, the work of the institution will be greatly hampered.

Owing to the more intensive training prevalent in the medical colleges during the period of the war, the number of undergraduate students was considerably diminished. The graduate students were likewise reduced in number, but with the demobilization and return home of the many doctors in army service, their desire to brush up in various subjects before re-entering active practice, will undoubtedly bring an increased number to the hospital during the coming year. Moreover with the elimination for some time to come of the opportunities for postgraduate study abroad, an unusual opportunity presents itself to American institutions.

The medical work of the Lying-In Hospital may be summarized in the statement that during the 15 months ending December 31, 1918, 7896 women were accepted as patients; 4921 in the indoor, and 2975 in the out door department. The total number of confinements during this period was 6719, or about 9 per cent of the total number in Manhattan Borough. 1177 general cases were admitted, including those treated for sterility or various complicating lesions developing in patients who had been previously cared for by this Hospital. These cases are largely admitted from the gynecological class, which has been organized for this purpose and is open four afternoons of each week.

As the Hospital stands ready to serve the outside practitioner in every emergency, a great many serious, often moribund, cases are necessarily admitted, which accounts in great part for the apparently high mortality rate in the institution. During the past year this has unfortunately been unavoidably increased by the prevailing influenza epidemic, which will likewise be reflected in next year's report. The pneumonia which complicated pregnancy was fatal in a large proportion of the cases, particularly where labor had been induced, but none of these women were denied admission. The ambulances of other hospitals also brought in a considerable number of complicated labor cases. The prevention of avoidable complications in pregnancy and labor has been favored by the knowledge of prophylactic measures taught to many of the practitioners of the City through their residence in the hospital as students or internes. The prenatal care given in the antepartum class, to which women are encouraged to come as early in pregnancy as possible and required to report at fortnightly intervals, contributes to the improvement of pregnancy morbidity. The increased attention given to prenatal observations by various visiting nursing organizations, especially the Maternity Center Association, has resulted in bringing to the hospital cases that would otherwise be neglected or left to the midwife.

Four members of the attending staff, Drs. Wing, Smith, Ratliff and Newsom, entered the Medical Reserve Corps of the Army and several of our graduate nurses likewise enlisted, depleting our working forces to some extent. The results of the war have also made themselves felt in other ways, particularly in the constantly increasing costs of food, fuel and all necessary hospital supplies; all of which contributes to the difficulties in the management and conduct of the institution. It is to be hoped that, with the advent of peace, a more favorable aspect may be given in next year's report.

The Ladies' Auxiliary Society continued to give efficient aid and support to our institution and, in addition to its usual activities directed to the physical welfare and comfort of the patients, has engaged the services of three graduate nurses who visit the women in their homes both before and after delivery. This is a most important feature of modern maternity service and its practical organization and management are deserving of praise and encouragement.

The Babies Class reports a constantly increasing attendance and the question of providing larger quarters must be seriously considered if this feature is to be continued as a part of the Hospital's work.

The Pathological Department serves as a most efficient adjunct to the clinical work of the Hospital and continues the accumulation of valuable material for further research and study.

The publication of the BULLETIN has been suspended for the present, as the increased demands on the time and energy of the members of the attending staff during the war served as a temporary stop to the composition of scientific papers. It is hoped that this publication can be resumed at an early date.

The statistical details of the work of the Lying-In Hospital are presented in the following pages. To the energy and generosity of the Board of Governors in providing the necessary funds for the conduct of the Hospital, commendation must be ungrudgingly extended, as their task was particularly difficult during the past year with its urgent and numerous demands on philanthropic instincts.

LADIES' AUXILIARY TO THE SOCIETY OF THE LYING-IN HOSPITAL

SECRETARY'S REPORT.

From March 1st to November 1st, 1918.

The reports for this year are only for the work for eight months, because it seemed advisable to the Board of Managers of the Ladies' Auxiliary to make our fiscal year conform more nearly to that of the hospital, so that in including our report with theirs (which of course is an immense advantage to us) they could be given a really "up-to-date" report. Consequently the Constitution of the Ladies' Auxiliary has been changed so that the fiscal year closes at the end of October and our annual meeting is held on the first Thursday in December instead of the first Thursday in March.

During the summer—as the reports of our Committees will show—the Auxiliary has been hard at work. There has not been any falling off in the number of babies that we have had to take care of, but, during the weeks of the influenza, many of the cases that should have been looked after in their own homes were brought to the hospital. The work of the trained nurses has proved of very great value, and it is our aim that this next year we shall still further increase the pre-natal work, which of course makes our duties in the after-care very much easier.

Also we are now hoping to be able to improve the quality of the material in the clothing made, as of course there will now be more wool released by the Government, which may permit "real wool flannel" coming within our reach again.

Respectfully submitted,

JULIET P. HAMILTON, Recording Secretary.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE I. OF THE LADIES' AUXILIARY TO THE SOCIETY OF THE LYING- IN HOSPITAL

The work of Committee I is to give advice and pre-natal instruction to all women making application to enter the hospital, and to give assistance, when needed, to patients leaving the hospital. Our agent interviews each woman. A card is made out with the name, address, nationality, whether married or single, if married, husband's business, and wages received.

Instruction is given as to the proper care to be taken in the months preceding confinement; cleanliness, moderate exercise, simple and nourishing diet, plenty of fresh air, well-ventilated rooms etc.

When the women are admitted to the hospital, our Agent visits them in the wards and finds out if they need assistance. She communicates with the various societies whose work it is to help such cases, and, when visitors come to the hospital, interviews the patients and makes such arrangements as are necessary for their relief.

Assistance is also given to women returning to their own homes; rent is paid, groceries provided, and clothing given in destitute cases.

From February 26th, 1918 to November 18th, 1918 our Agent interviewed and gave instruction in pre-natal cases to 1701 women. Of the patients leaving the hospital and needing assistance:

- 25 were referred to the State Aid Association
- 9 to the Jewish Council
- 2 to the Slavonic Home
- 4 to the Salvation Army
- 22 to the Guild of the Infant Saviour
- 2 to the Foundling Asylum
- 3 to the Catholic Association

All single girls, widows and deserted wives are reported to the Department of Charities.

Committee I provides plants for the Solarium and Roof Garden.

On February 26th there was a balance on hand of $78.58. On May 28th we received $100 from the Treasurer. We have expended $104.74, and have on hand a balance of $73.84.

Respectfully submitted,

ANNETTE B. MARKOE.

Chairman of Com. I.

REPORT OF OUT PATIENT NURSING DEPARTMENT OF THE LADIES' AUXILIARY TO THE SOCIETY OF THE LYING-IN HOSPITAL.

FROM FEBRUARY TO NOVEMBER 1918.

Our staff consists of Miss Barton, head nurse, with two assistants—Mrs. Furman and Miss Berry. Three scrub-women are also employed. Our plan of work is as follows:

The names and addresses of all women delivered in their homes by the doctors of the hospital are reported to us immediately and a nurse and a scrub-woman are sent—sometimes together—sometimes following each other—to see that both the patient and her rooms are taken care of. There are many cases in which our help is hardly needed, as the patient will have provided for someone to do this work herself, but, in many cases, without our help there would be no one to give nursing care or to have the rooms cleaned.

In addition, we visit, as much as we can with the limited staff at our command, the prospective mothers in order to advise them in regard to their diet, personal care, the work they should and should not do, and the preparations necessary for the baby. These visits of course are not only a help to the mother, but of great assistance to us in our further care when the baby comes, as we then know the conditions of the case.

During the past nine months we have made, in all, 443 pre-natal visits. In addition, 3262 visits were made by the nurses, and 1512 new cases were cared for.

Special mention must be made of the cleaning women, who have worked diligently and co-operated in all ways possible (especially during the epidemic of influenza) by aiding the sick where whole families were stricken. They have given out judiciously 1121 sewed articles and 245 unsewed articles.

We would draw attention to the fact that, during the epidemic, our nurses, assisted by the cleaners, gave such wonderful care that we did not lose a case.

Owing to the increased wages demanded by the paid workers in the district, there are few employed; consequently it has increased the amount of work done by our cleaners.

The following gives an idea of the type of cases nursed and visited by the nurses in this Committee:

Temporary relief afforded family at 53 Henry Street. Woman eight months pregnant. Husband had sprained arm six weeks previous. Hand and arm very painful at time of visit. Their only source of income is the mother caring for year old child of friend. No food in house when nurse arrived. Gave food on two occasions. Reported to A. I. C. P., which organization provided relief.

Temporary relief afforded family at 434 East 13th Street. Woman eight months pregnant and having pain; had sent for doctor who reported the woman starving. Husband a lazy, worthless type, feigning illness, abusive in his treatment of wife. Gave food and provided shoes for children. Referred case to A. I. C. P. Very grateful for aid.

Temporary relief afforded family at 605 East 13th Street. Patient mother of four children, two of them at Preventorium. Husband tubercular and unable to work. Patient herself quite emaciated. Assisted with clothes for baby and mother; also food; and co-operated with Hebrew Charities, which organization sent patient to the country, caring for husband during her absence.

Temporary relief afforded family at 620 East 17th Street. Patient a mother of five children, having lost her husband three weeks ago, a victim of influenza. Assisted with food, and clothing for baby, giving case over to Charity Organization Society.

Respectfully submitted,

ALICE GRAY.

Chairman, Committee II.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE III.

OF THE LADIES' AUXILIARY TO THE SOCIETY OF THE LYING-IN HOSPITAL

MARCH 1ST TO NOVEMBER 18TH, 1918.

The Clothing Committee which consists of Mrs. P. W. Pennoyer, Chairman, and Mrs. W. P. Hamilton, Vice Chairman, begs to report that:

Since March 1st we have had made 4,906 garments. 573 of these were given through Committee I to patients leaving the hospital, and 1156 were given to Committee II for its work among the Out-Patients.

There have been 1718 garments made for use in the wards from material supplied by the hospital and 146 sent by Mrs. W. P. Hamilton to Tuxedo Park Hospital for the babies born there during the influenza epidemic. We have also supplied 446 unsewed garments, such as binders and baby-bands. This makes a total of 4004 garments distributed from March 1st to November 18, 1918.

We have on hand 3879 sewed garments; and of our appropriation of $850.00 we have a balance of $372.27.

The following Societies have kindly co-operated with our Committee in making up garments:

St. George's Women's Industrial Society

St. Thomas Benevolent Society

Church of the Holy Communion

Calvary Benevolent Society

Friends' Society

The following donations have been most gratefully received:

Mrs. J. B. Morgan..... 310 Babies Caps

Mrs. Parsons..... 42 Babies Caps

War Relief Department..... 6 garments

Respectfully submitted,

FRANCES T. PENNOYER, Chairman.

REPORT OF BABIES' CLASS

LADIES AUXILIARY TO THE SOCIETY OF THE LYING-IN HOSPITAL

NOVEMBER 1ST, 1917 TO NOVEMBER 1ST, 1918.

Perhaps the ladies would be interested in hearing a little about the manner in which the Babies' Class for the Fifth Floor has worked up from a small class to a large and successful one, so I am sending you a few figures to read at the meeting if you think best. I begin with November 1917 because that is the time I returned to the Hospital and we commenced the reorganization of this part of the Class. In my opinion the best thing we have ever done is the follow-up work. This puts us in touch with the mothers and babies as soon as they leave the hospital, before they had have time to begin poor feeding, bad hygiene or habits for the baby. It gives the babies a right start from the first when they need it the most, and in their own homes where the mothers can be shown how to make the most of their own utensils and surroundings.

Our second nurse for home visiting was given to us the middle of April and it was not until then, that we could have as much follow-up work done as we thought was needed. You will note that May was our best month at the Class; the mothers responded at once to the nurse's suggestion that they should bring their babies back once in two weeks for a thorough examination and weighing. All this was in accord with the work being done by the Children's Bureau in Washington. We think it is more important to keep the babies from getting ill than to treat them when actually sick, and the Government agrees with us.

We have found it best to have each nurse attend two classes each week, one for babies from each ward floor, and the rest of the time make calls in the homes. When this is done the mothers get to know the nurse both at home and in the Hospital and she has more authority over them than if she simply saw them in one of the two places. It also seems fairer for the nurse to divide the work in this way, rather than to give one all the home calls and the other all the Class work, in fact, I doubt if one nurse could stand doing all visiting work, as the tax on her strength would be very great. It also gives each set of doctors a chance to have the more experienced nurse on one class day, and the new nurse on the other day. The more experienced nurse takes the days when the classes are apt to run larger.

The milk question has been and still is a very serious problem for the poor. In some cases we have been obliged to resort to a brand of dry milk for a time at least, as it is impossible to get pure fresh milk in some of the localities without paying a higher price than the patients can afford. We have kept nearly all of our emergency fund for this purpose, and it has been very much appreciated by the poor mothers.

Respectfully submitted,

EMELYN L. COOLIDGE.
