The President
The Lord Luke

A Personal Message from the President, Lord Luke

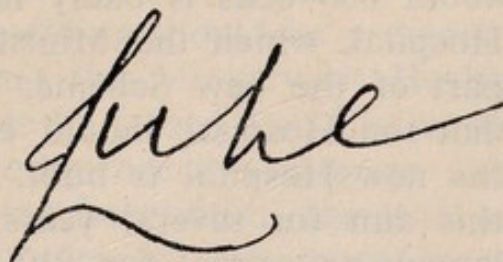

I am glad to have the opportunity of sending you a special message at this time. First of all I should like to congratulate all those who, in the past, have done so much to make the Norwood and District Cottage Hospital a centre of healing worthy of so important a neighbourhood.

The Annual Report is evidence of 67 years of most remarkable achievement and calls attention to the wonderful opportunity now available to those who will take over the management of our Hospital under the National Health Service Act, to plan and build what will eventually be one of the finest hospitals in the country. Our thanks are due to all those who have given so generously, as well as to those who have done so much to collect and inspire such generous gifts, to the Medical staff, to the Committees connected with the Hospital, and to all the administrative officials, as well as the nursing and domestic staff, all of whom have achieved wonders in coping with increasing numbers of patients.

But the achievements of the past beckon to the duties of the future. Because the resources of the Nation will be available to maintain our hospitals, the call for personal service is, if anything, more urgent than ever. The new Committee of Management will be composed of men and women giving voluntary service; shortages of staff cause a demand for voluntary service in helping to carry out some of the work in the Hospital itself; patients will need just the same personal interest and sympathetic care under the new service, and "free money" must be available to the hospitals to be spent on amenities and comforts outside the scope of the new Health Service.

I welcome the opportunity to call attention to all this for, perhaps, some of us may jump to the conclusion that continued effort is no longer needed. It is.

With every good wish to you all for the future.

Norwood & District Cottage Hospital

REPORT

FOR THE YEAR ENDING 31st DECEMBER, 1947

THE Committee of Management begs to submit its 67th Annual Report. The Hospital's work has continued to grow during the past year and the number of patients treated has reached new high levels. Several new clinics have been commenced in order to supplement and improve existing services, and there is now in operation a consultative service covering most of the departments of medicine. These services are proving of great value to the local population and to their doctors, and the Committee is certain that when further accommodation is provided there will be a further increase in the numbers of patients.

Development of Hospital and Future Policy

Although limited development of the Hospital's services has proceeded surely and without serious interruption, the conditions of the times and the reorganisation of Hospital Services under the National Health Service Act, puts a break upon the large scale operations necessary to provide a really adequate Hospital Service for the Norwood district. But that is not to say that such matters should be out of mind. Planning of the future services has to be begun now, and the new Regional Hospital Board will shortly be giving attention to the provision of adequate services in its area. The Committee hopes that one of the first districts to receive consideration will be the Norwood district where a new Norwood Hospital ultimately of about 800 beds is badly needed. As to the existing Norwood Hospital, which the Minister of Health has announced will be part of the new Scheme, the Committee feels quite definitely that the Hospital should continue along its present lines until the new Hospital is built. The Committee has been pursuing this aim for several years, and had in fact been prepared to launch an appeal for £100,000 with which to purchase a new site, and to begin work on the new Hospital with a view to its eventual development. The publication, however, of the proposals for the new National Health Service and other difficulties rendered any such attempt impracticable. It will be realised that the present site is quite inadequate and unsuitable for large buildings, although the limited extensions which are still possible should go on. For these reasons a new site must be found. The existing Hospital provides a service of very great value to the local public. The patient has the benefit of close touch with his own doctor while in hospital, both as an in-patient or as an out-patient, and at the same time has the advice and supervision of a team of Consultants and Specialists to ensure that the best medical opinion is constantly available throughout his treatment. Not only is this co-operation of value to the patient in hospital, it is also of indirect benefit to the Medical Service of the district for close contact with the local Hospital keeps the local doctor in intimate touch with the latest developments in medical practice. Nor is the full advantage of the arrangement exhausted in this way because the Consultants and Specialists also benefit by the interchange of information about the treatment and progress of the patient—in regard to whom the general practitioner occupies a central position. Add to all this, the fact of considerate and courteous attention from Medical, Nursing and other Staff, which has always been the constant endeavour of the administration to maintain (and the pleasure of the Staff to give), and it will be realised that at Norwood there is a service of a kind which it will be well worth while to retain. It is the earnest hope of the Committee that the system of the new Health Service will not prove incompatible with the maintenance of the highest standards of service, or that there should be any degeneration in the personal and kindly relationships between the various Staffs and the Patients: the Patient must always come first.

As foreshadowed in last year's Report, an attempt has been made to procure further accommodation for out-patients. The pressure on existing space has been severe during recent years, making it imperative that a further building should be provided. The Committee is glad to report that the Ministry of Health has now recommended that a licence be issued for this work. It is hoped that the building will commence this summer and that at last, after months of protracted negotiation, the various departments can be reorganised in order to give more space and greater facilities.

Repairs and Improvements

During the year, the remainder of the war damage repairs and internal decoration of the Hospital was completed. The external painting of the entire Hospital was also carried out, and other work to improve the central heating system and the sluicing arrangements in the semi-private wards was commenced towards the end of the year. Many other smaller improvements and repairs have been completed, and equipment has been supplemented and improved in many cases. The new Nurses' Home has solved, at least for the moment, the problem of accommodation for Staff and has provided a better standard of comfort. It is hoped that work on further improvements can be carried out in 1948.

National Health Service

The foregoing has dealt with the more concrete aspects of the Hospital's activities, but the task of building up the Hospital's services and facilities has proceeded against a background of uncertainty, tending at times to confusion and bewilderment. It is clear that this element of uncertainty, leading to confusion and fear, will not be removed until such time as the main problems of the new Health Service organisation have been settled and the lines of future developments seen more clearly. Although resolution of these problems is no easy matter, that there is a need for the earliest possible clarification and decision is patent; early publication of these decisions by the higher bodies to the individual hospitals is no less desirable, because a more rapid flow of information will produce greater confidence in the activities of the Ministry of Health, Regional Hospital Boards and the new Committees of Management.

Appeals

The Committee wishes to thank all those members of the public who have given their support to the Hospital in any way during the past year. It would be difficult to see in the figure of voluntary contributions received much evidence of any diminution in the public generosity, e.g., there is little drop in the General Fund income from voluntary sources, and in addition the target for the Nurses' Home Appeal has been reached. Although, in fact, the voluntary income of this Hospital has been received in greater measure than ever before, nevertheless there had been developing with increasing momentum a strong feeling that further assistance to hospitals was unnecessary. The task of the Appeals Committee in raising funds has therefore been much more difficult. This satisfactory result is in consequence all the more creditable to the donors and collectors of the Hospital.

This question of further voluntary support for hospitals is an important one. Is there scope for further personal and voluntary assistance in kind or in money? The Committee has no hesitation in saying that there will be a considerable field for voluntary effort, and the Minister of Health has expressed this conviction. Money for maintenance (an average of 75 per cent. of which came from voluntary contributions in the case of Voluntary Hospitals in 1946) will not be required after July 5th next, but there will be all sorts of extras, comforts and amenities, which will not be supplied by the State. A scheme for additional help and added comforts for the patient is now being prepared, and it is hoped to bring it into operation before July 5th, 1948. Here, surely, is a wonderful opportunity to focus more and more attention upon the actual comfort and atmosphere of the Hospital as a place wherein only the best of everything should be available. With the burden of the smaller, but no less important, matters left to the local public, while the organisation of an efficient and comprehensive hospital system becomes the duty and main concern of the new Hospital Boards, there can be built a Hospital Service better than ever before. The task will not be an easy one, however, and can only be realised through the interest and constructive help of the whole community. If everyone will work for that end, there can be no doubt of the result; and equally there can be no doubt of the benefits such an achievement will bring.

Further details and information about these matters and other Hospital activities will be found in the pages which follow.

On behalf of the Committee of Management,

F. H. TRUSLOVE,

Chairman

Committee of Management

There have again been changes in the personnel of the Committee.

It is with regret that the death of Mr. W. W. Garnham has to be announced. Mr. Garnham had served the Hospital for many years in various offices—as member of Committee, as Hon. Secretary, as Hon. Treasurer, and latterly as Vice-President. A record of service to the Hospital since 1908 has at last been ended; it is a record of work and sustained interest that may well never be equalled or surpassed in the history of the Hospital.

The Rt. Rev. C. K. N. Bardsley, Bishop of Croydon, has become a Vice-President. His association with the Hospital will be welcomed by all, and particularly by those who personally know of his great sympathy and interest for the health and well-being of the people of Croydon and Norwood.

Mr. D. S. Wright has resigned the office of Hon. Treasurer on leaving Norwood; but the Committee is glad to report that what at first appeared to involve a loss of valuable insight into the affairs of the Hospital generally, and sound knowledge of its finance, brought a further gain as Mr. F. H. Burroughs accepted an invitation to join the Committee as Hon. Treasurer while Mr. Wright still found it possible to continue to attend meetings as a member of Committee.

Of the Committee of Management, Mr. J. W. Bennett and Mr. A. E. Ellis, C.B., have resigned during the year—Mr. Bennett upon the assumption of further exacting duties in his profession, and Mr. Ellis upon removal from the district. Each made a distinctive contribution to the affairs of management, and their counsel will be missed.

Mr. H. Pethebridge joined the Committee during the year. Mr. Pethebridge had for some time been active in organising the Hospital's Appeals.

Honorary Medical Staff

The Hospital has again been well served by its Medical Staff. The death of Mr. L. Carnac Rivett, F.R.C.S., F.R.C.O.G., occurred during the year. The loss of Mr. Rivett will be felt not only in the Hospital, but in a very much wider circle. He contributed a great deal to the practice of Gynaecology and Obstetrics, and was ever active at the highest levels in organising a better service and in promoting higher standards. The Committee is very happy to report that Mr. J. H. Peel, M.A., F.R.C.S., F.R.C.O.G., has now been appointed Hon. Consulting Gynaecologist in his place, and that, in addition, the following have been appointed to the Hon. Consulting Staff in the various departments of medicine and surgery as shown below:

Mr. R. S. Lewis, F.R.C.S., Ear, Nose and Throat.

Dr. D. I. Williams, M.D., M.R.C.P., Dermatology.

Mr. O. F. W. Robinson, M.R.C.S., L.R.C.P., D.M.R.E., has resigned his appointment as Hon. Consulting Radiologist during the year owing to increased commitments in other spheres. The Committee welcomes Dr. D. G. C. Macdonald, M.B., B.S., D.M.R.D., D.M.R.(Lond.), who has now been appointed Radiologist to the Hospital.

All of the augmented Honorary Medical Staff have continued to give their services during the past year, and there are no resignations to record. The Staff has been further strengthened and increased by the appointment of Dr. R. Crosbie Walsh and Mr. Douglas S. Clogg, L.D.S., as Honorary Dental Surgeon.

Mr. John B. Hunter, M.C., M.A., F.R.C.S., Hon. Consulting Surgeon, has been awarded the C.B.E. for his contribution to the Medical Services of the country.

Medical Work of the Hospital

There has been a considerable increase in the work performed. A larger number of in-patients have been treated, and there has been a correspondingly higher volume of operations. The Casualty Department has again been extremely busy, and the Physiotherapy Department has proved its continued usefulness and increasing popularity by treating a greater number of patients than in previous years. Detailed figures are published on other pages of this Report.

The work of the in-patients' department has been given a greater effectiveness by the availability of the drug known as penicillin, which is now used extensively in treatment. Penicillin has proved its value, and has provided a new defence of medicine against certain diseases. In Surgery, also, new methods and improvements have been employed by the Staff to procure still better results.

Regular consultative clinics are now available in the out-patients' department, where patients are seen by members of the Hon. Consulting Staff, as follows:

Surgical (Mr. J. B. Hunter).

Medical (Dr. A. Gilpin).

Orthopaedic (Mr. N. St. John Buxton).
Ear, Nose and Throat (Mr. R. S. Lewis).
Gynaecology (Mr. J. H. Peel).
Urology (Mr. J. Everidge).
Dermatology (Dr. D. I. Williams).

A Children's Clinic (Dr. H. H. A. Elder) is also held. The service is of value to local doctors, and, particularly to patients, who are able to avoid considerable journeys and waste of time travelling to other centres.

There has been a steady growth in the volume of work performed in the X-Ray Department, the scope and usefulness of which has been increased. There is a continually increasing demand for X-Ray Reports, both from the Hospital's departments and from doctors in the district.

It is regretted that it has not been possible to develop fully the required pathological and bacteriological laboratory services during the year. It is hoped that it will be possible to reopen the laboratory in the present year or early in 1949 in order to satisfy local Hospital and other demands for this essential service at the earliest possible moment. In the meantime, the maximum possible amount of laboratory work is being done until the full facilities are again available. Without proper X-Ray and Laboratory services constantly available, a hospital cannot realise its full usefulness or promote the highest standards of effective treatment.

The scope of the Physiotherapy Department has again been widened during the year by new equipment and clinics. Mr. D. F. Ellison Nash, F.R.C.S., has seen a large number of orthopaedic patients in the Department. Clinics are held by Dr. Avery and Dr. Walsh; and Dr. Rosborough, the Medical Officer of the Department, has continued to supervise the treatments throughout the year. The new Fracture Clinic has given good results and has extended the usefulness of the Department.

Extension of the Hospital

The year 1948 should see the beginning of an extension to the Out-Patients' Department. The extension will double the existing accommodation. This further space will give a greater capacity for treatment of patients, but some of it will be absorbed in the better arrangements and organisation of the existing treatment departments, which require more space than had been available hitherto.

Income and Expenditure in 1947

The expenditure has inevitably increased during the year. The higher volume of in-patients treated has affected considerably many items of expenditure; the figures for Provisions reflect this fact. The greater number of patients treated in the out-patients' and X-Ray Departments has also resulted in increased expenditure under several headings. But there is a further obvious reason for the increase—apart from the greater cost of materials and labour—namely, the expenses of the Nurses' Home. The other main sources of rising expenditure are to be found in the renewals and replacement of old equipment, repairs of all kinds, and increased salaries and wages.

Income from patients' payments shows a marked increase, mainly because there have been more patients to contribute, but also, to a less extent, from a slightly increased scale of charges. The contributions received from the Ministry of Health have made it possible to avoid a much heavier deficit than would otherwise have been the case.

Equipment and Repairs

Some of the arrears of repairs accumulated over the past few years have now been dealt with. The small remainder of war damage repairs outstanding at December 31st, 1946, was completed early in 1947. The Committee is also able to report that all the external painting of the Hospital buildings has been carried out. Thus, both external and internal decoration is now finished. The drives of the Hospital have also been renovated and much improved. Other projects to repair and improve the condition of the Hospital have commenced, but were not completed at the end of the year. These include structural alterations to improve the sluicing facilities in the semi-private wards, and work to improve the efficiency of the central heating system.

Sundry new instruments and equipment, including new anaesthetic and electro-medical apparatus, have been procured during the year to bring older and worn out equipment up to date.

There are still some urgent and necessary repairs which the Committee hopes will be completed in 1948.

Appeals in 1947

The target for the new Nurses' Home Appeal (£4,500) was reached during the year. The Appeals Committee and the Committee of Management wish to thank all those who helped in any way to raise this money; they were many, and are too numerous to mention here. The result, achieved at a time when the public was trying to recover from war weariness, making the painful readjustment to the conditions of peace, and, moreover, confused and dubious about the need for continued contribution with the National Health Service in prospect, reflects great credit upon collectors and givers alike. The provision of the Nurses' Home was, however, apart from its value as a contribution to the welfare of the Nursing Staff, urgent and necessary for other reasons.

Other voluntary contributions for the General Funds of the Hospital were maintained—a result which was not achieved without difficulty or without very special and generous contribution by supporters of the Hospital.

An interesting feature of these activities was the showing at local cinemas of a short film of the Hospital.

The National Health Service

The National Health Service Act was passed into law on November 6th, 1946, but most of its provisions do not become operative until July 5th, 1948.

On the latter date, all hospital property—money, investments, buildings and equipment for hospital purposes—will be vested in the Minister of Health. There are certain exceptions to this rule: (1) The Hospital's Samaritan Fund will remain free to carry out the purposes for which it was given; (2) Gifts of a capital nature given to any hospital after the passing of the Act will be applied, as far as possible to realise the donor's intention. Gifts towards Patients' Amenities, Research, etc., or capital purposes, after July 5th, 1948, may be freely devoted to their particular object by the Hospital Management Committee. From July 5th, the Government will pay for all maintenance costs, and for new buildings and equipment. This money will be obtained by the Government from the taxpayer, and from increased Health Insurance contributions. The investments and moneys held by hospitals at July 5th will go to the Central Endowments Pool (so called) from which the money will be re-distributed to the new Committees of Management by a method to be determined by the Minister of Health. Receipts from this source will be used for extras and comforts, or special purposes, but it is not yet known how it will be distributed. Clearly, the money will not last for long unless continually added to. The collection of further moneys and their expenditure will be the sole concern of the new Hospital Management Committees.

It would be far from the truth to say that the new hospitals organisation is a Civil Service. The Hospital Service has been too individualistic and local in character for such a scheme to be practicable. The type of organisation adopted is that in which the responsibility for the planning and adequacy of the new Service is devolved upon a Regional Hospital Board, of which there are 14, each based upon a University Centre. This Hospital is included in the South-West (Metropolitan) Region. The Regional Hospital Board appoints Committees of Management to administer groups of hospitals. The Committees of Management will in turn appoint House Committees to carry out the day-to-day administration of individual hospitals. This Hospital will be a constituent of the group which includes all hospitals in the County Borough of Croydon.

It will be seen that in this type of organisation, the initiative and chief responsibility lies with the Regional Hospital Board, but the Minister of Health, who is ultimately responsible, has sufficient power to influence the main patterns and features of hospital development. To guide the Minister in setting these national standards in hospitals, there is a Central Advisory Board, composed of technical experts. Obviously, most of them will be medical men, but there will also be representatives from the other professions, which play a part in the hospital services. It would appear that the new Committees of Management will be largely concerned with applying the policies of these higher bodies, but that does not mean that they do not have a great responsibility to ensure that these policies fit in with local requirements, nor need they be inactive in the matter of putting forward schemes of extension and improvement when necessary. Although, in theory, the new Committees of Management are responsible for the management of the hospitals in its groups, and the local hospitals committees—the House Committees—are in effect sub-committees, a very considerable degree of authority must be delegated to them.

The Regional Hospital Boards are required to provide adequate and efficient services in their Regions. Their chief task is to secure a complete hospital system in their Regions. The pattern of this system is already known, as are the other dominant ideas, long current, which will actuate these Boards. The key hospitals of the Regions will be the teaching hospitals, which will include affiliated special hospitals; these key hospitals are expected to promote the best standards of hospital practice, and their contact with the other hospitals is expected to facilitate the spread of latest developments in all hospital techniques. The larger hospitals in each district will form what will be known as District Hospitals. The District Hospitals will provide a complete hospital service, organised to deal with almost every type of patient and disease. Grouped round these hospitals will be the local hospitals, which, although they may not have the full facilities for treatment and diagnosis, will yet be able to cope with the majority of cases; these local hospitals will be linked with the District Hospitals.

This reorganisation of the hospital services should bring great advantages to the patient. The hospital services have become too important to be entrusted entirely to individual and disjointed effort. The need for central direction, a common purpose, and co-operation on a vastly greater scale, has been proved, and the attempt to realise these aims is now to be made. The conception is praiseworthy, and the Committee believes that its attainment is by no means impossible. There is the grave danger, however, that central direction may crush the individual initiative, a priceless asset without which an efficient service cannot be achieved. The views of those at the centre can become increasingly divergent from those at the periphery. Such alienations of opinions, outlook, and aims, would result in poor service and unhappiness all round. Without the right atmosphere, which has not yet been created, there cannot be a thriving, healthy, organisation. The Minister of Health and the Regional Hospital Boards have before them a very difficult task to bring about this spirit of co-operation, and to diffuse it through the whole organisation. Restraint, and efforts towards this end are required from everyone, no less than the Minister and the Hospital Boards; but few will deny that the key to the entire situation rests in their hands. For its small part in the Service, the Committee is prepared to give its whole-hearted co-operation towards ensuring for the patient the best possible service.

Appeals in 1948

Now that the hospitals are moving into this new era of hospital organisation, and this Hospital, with others, is being drawn into the orbit of the State Health Service, moneys for maintenance will, from July 5th next, be supplied by the Treasury. There is no indication, however, that the State will be in a position to give money for all those extras that the Voluntary Hospitals have tried to provide in the past; on the contrary, it is now clear from various statements by the Minister of Health that these comforts and amenities must be provided by voluntary efforts, and he is encouraging voluntary organisations to this end. Instead of stultifying further voluntary effort, the new service by freeing the public from charitable contributions towards maintenance, will make these efforts far more effective; funds can now be devoted entirely to the extra comforts and care of the patient in many directions not previously possible because of the demands of necessities. With these objects, the Norwood and District Hospital Welfare Fund has been formed. The individual patient will also be helped in all possible ways.

The Committee is convinced that there is great scope for the Fund, that it can help to bring happiness and freedom from worry to many patients and their relatives. In many ways this additional kindness can aid the recovery of the patient. It will help not only the patient, but the doctors and nurses, too, for a happy and contented patient is more easily and quickly cured than one who is surrounded by only the bare necessities. It is hoped, therefore, that Norwood will give this scheme all the support it can, and bring to the sick the spirit of kindness and personal attention by providing these extras and comforts. In doing so, it will help to keep alive, and advance, the traditions of efficiency and progress in our British Hospitals.

Any subscriptions or donations for the Welfare Fund will be gratefully acknowledged.

Here is an opportunity to retain personal and voluntary effort in the Hospital. There are still directions in which voluntary personal service may be given as before to benefit the local hospital and its patients.

Ladies' Linen League

The Linen League has been active, as ever, in providing for the wards. Counterpanes, sheets and pillow cases, have been purchased out of moneys provided by the League. In addition, a donation of £50 has been given to the Hospital. Many readers will feel a sense of regret when they learn that this year's contribution was the last. There being no further need to help towards the supply of linen, the League has been dissolved. The Committee is glad to report that a Working Party consisting of Miss McNaughtan, Mrs. Aldhous, Mrs. Beard, and Mrs. Bishop, is carrying on sewing and mending.

The League was formed in 1909, when the first President was Lady Muriel Boyle. She was followed by Mrs. Feaver in 1920, Mrs. Ritchie in 1923, Mrs. Sidney Ellis in 1927, Mrs.

Douglas in 1939, and Lady Luke in 1946. Mrs. Crosley and her daughter, Miss Stacey, were the original Hon. Treasurer and Secretary. The success of the League owes much to the present Hon. Secretary and Treasurer, Miss G. McNaughtan, who, taking over these duties in 1920, has worked with unflagging enthusiasm to maintain its high standard of service to the Hospital. Many other members of the Committee, whose names will be found on page 6 of the Report, including the present Vice-President, Mrs. Hamilton, have by their consistent endeavour done much to further the objects of the League.

In its early days, the League received most of its contributions in kind. In 1912, for example, 495 articles were donated, and with £20 received in subscriptions a further 138 were supplied. By 1940, articles in kind were only 40, and the same large quantities of linen could no longer be supplied after that date with double the money, even with coupons when available. After 1919, collections became more difficult and tended to decline, but 1934 was a good year with 226 articles, and £93 in cash. From 1932—1938 the League belonged to the "Help-Yourself" Society (the Stock Exchange Dramatic and Operatic Society's Charity Fund) and helped in this way to increase its revenue. During the war, there were, of course, no articles in kind at all, and not even the oldest hands in the League could produce one solitary article.

These increments over the years since 1909 constitute a very worthy and solid contribution to the welfare of the patients, and the League may well be proud of its achievement.

The Nurses' Welfare Fund

The Ladies' Committee for the Nurses' Welfare Fund, under the Chairmanship of Mrs. B. D. Pole, has again arranged social functions, whist drives, etc., in aid of the Nurses' Welfare Fund. A further £141 has been added to the Fund. A great deal of effort has gone into producing this successful result, but the Committee of the Fund will derive a considerable amount of satisfaction from the improvements, comforts, and amenities, that are now being provided for the Nursing Staff. Among other forthcoming extras for the Nurses' Home is a television set.

Hon. Appeals Organisers

The Hon. Appeals Organisers of the Hospital (see page 6) have been very active during the past year in organising the various flag days with which the Hospital has been associated.

The Hospital participated in the Hospitals Day held in May, from which a sum of £216 was raised. These organisers, together with their loyal collectors and helpers, also participated in the Alexandra Day collection on June 22nd last, when a record collection for the district of £1,069 was made. This was almost the highest collection by a hospital in the London area. Without strenuous efforts on the part of the organisers and collectors, the Hospital would not have benefited to such a marked extent.

The Hospitals Day organisation, which has served the London Voluntary Hospitals so well in the past, is now being disbanded. The institution of Alexandra Rose Day, long popular and well loved, is going to continue to do what it can for Patients' Amenities and other objects outside the scope of the National Health Service. It is hoped that it will suffer no diminution in public support, as it will be one of the chief means of raising funds for these purposes.

Children's Party

The annual Christmas Party given by Lord and Lady Luke was again held at St. Saviour's College Recreation Hall. The Party was organised by Mr. A. E. Hobbs, and the children were entertained by Mr. J. B. Wilson and others. No one who attended the Party was left in any doubt that the 100 guests present enjoyed themselves immensely.

Christmas Visit of the Mayor of Croydon

The Committee is glad to note the interest taken in the Hospital by the Mayor of Croydon. The Mayor, Councillor E. W. Turner, J.P., visited the Hospital on Christmas Day and passed a pleasant half-hour with the patients in the wards. The patients and staff all appreciated this Christmas visit. The Mayor was thoroughly at home with the patients, and enjoyed his short stay with them.

Inspection of the Hospital

The annual inspection of the Hospital on behalf of the King Edward's Hospital Fund for London was made in August last by Dr. H. Gardiner-Hill, M.B.E., M.D., F.R.C.P., and Mr. O. B. Meadmore.

The King's Fund is carrying on its good work for the Hospitals, even after the National Health Service is in operation. The Fund has about £4,500,000 of invested funds, yielding over £200,000 annually in interest from which it will make grants towards Patients' Amenities and other objects. The Fund is not, however, to be thought of merely as a distributor of extra funds to individual hospitals. The Fund has provided many other services to hospitals. It is still expanding these services, and is pursuing a policy of constructive effort to promote further desirable developments in hospital practices and techniques.

Box Collections and Donations, etc.

Donations have been fairly well maintained this year, but there has been a considerable decrease in Box Collections.

The Committee hopes that these fine efforts of the past will continue to help the Welfare Fund, the importance of which for the comfort of the patient cannot be over emphasised.

Congregational Collections

Support has again come from our local Churches. The amounts received direct from the Churches during the year are shown below. Other amounts collected by these Churches for the benefit of hospitals were sent direct to the Hospital Sunday Fund. The Hospital received a donation of £60 from this Fund during the year, and that amount includes the individual collections by the Churches as shown below.

Duffield) for several kindnesses and visits during the year.

The Committee is appreciative of all the efforts to raise funds for the Nurses' Home. Many local organisations, clubs and societies have contributed to this end during the year. Notable successes were achieved by the R.A.S.C., Upper Norwood, South Norwood Chamber of Commerce (Mr. A. Coxon), Messrs. Melbourne and Jim Davis (Dances), Penge Inner Wheel, Mrs. B. I. R. Wiggins, Mrs. B. D. Pole, Mrs. H. Pethebridge (Bridge and Whist Drives), The Gainsborough Dramatic Society (Play), Mr. Phillips (Concert), Miss A. M. Hough (Dancing Display), The Horns Tavern Darts Club, West Norwood Youth Centre (Carol Singing), and the Norwood Sports Club (Lawn Tennis Exhibition). A donation of over £40 was received from the Westow Street Fire Party. Donations of £25 were received from Mr. F. J. Gray and an anonymous donor, but many other donors were hardly less generous.

The Committee is very grateful to all those who have responded to the Hospital's appeals by sending gifts, whether large or small, whether in cash or in kind. There is not space to record them all, but every contribution has been welcome and none the less appreciated. The publicity given by the "Norwood News," "Crystal Palace Advertiser," "Norwood Press," and local newspapers generally, has materially assisted the task of those engaged in organising the various activities with which the Hospital has been concerned.

Finally, this Record cannot be completed without due acknowledgment of the Appeals Committee's work. Their work will long benefit the Hospital and its Nursing Staff. No greater tribute could be paid to the effectiveness of their efforts.

NORWOOD AND DISTRICT HOSPITAL WELFARE FUND

Patients' Amenities

1. The benefits of the Norwood and District Hospital Welfare Fund will be available to in-patients and out-patients of that Hospital, or in connection with any such treatment commenced at the Hospital, with the object of making the patients either individually or collectively as comfortable and happy as possible during the period of their treatment.

The benefits of the Fund will also be available to patients of the Hospital should it remove to another site in the Norwood district, or should a new Hospital be built in the district, or in connection with any extension of the Norwood and District Hospital, whether on the present site or on another site in the district, irrespective of the name by which it is called, providing that the Hospital is a local hospital and mainly for patients of Norwood and the surrounding district.

2. For the above objects, the following may be provided in connection with any patient or patients whether resident in the Hospital, at home or elsewhere :

- (a) Any equipment, goods, or materials which will improve the general conditions under which the patient or patients are treated or nursed.
- (b) Recreational and entertainment facilities, e.g., radios, television, films, books, journals, magazines, newspapers, musical instruments, equipment for sports and games, toys, etc.
- (c) Any extras, luxuries, comforts and amenities which will make the life of the sick person happier, e.g., food, beverages, pocket money, fares of the patients and visitors.
- (d) To provide or improve any services, amenities or facilities which will directly or indirectly improve the patients' physical, mental, or spiritual welfare.
- (e) Any other provision or expense which will promote or assist to promote the general objects of the Fund and the welfare of the patients.

3. The scope of Welfare activities is considerably widened by the existence of the Samaritan Fund. Other Funds may also be created for other special objects.

SUGGESTED FORMS FOR GIFT TO THE HOSPITAL

For Gifts of a Capital nature only

(a) In a Will:

"I give and bequeath to the Management Committee of the Norwood and District Hospital the sum of £..... free of duty and trust to apply the capital and income of the said sum for such purposes of a capital nature connected with the said Hospital as the Committee shall in their discretion determine."

(b) Gift made during the lifetime of the donor:

The gift should be made to the Management Committee of the Hospital upon trust to apply the fund or property for the specific capital purpose which the donor may have in mind, or upon trust in the following form:

"In trust to apply the capital and income of the said sum (or property) for such purposes of a capital nature connected with the said Hospital as the Committee shall in their discretion determine."

NOTE.—Ordinary Donations or Subscriptions addressed to the Welfare Fund need no special form.

Gifts made after the Appointed Day

After the appointed day it will be unnecessary to make gifts to the Hospital for general maintenance, but gifts for capital purposes will still be needed (e.g., for research, comforts and assistance for patients, and amenities for the staff), and intending donors are reminded that the new Management Committees will be corporate bodies and will have full power to receive gifts and legacies of money or property upon trust for purposes relating to hospital services or to the functions of the Committee with respect to research. Moreover, Part II of the Mortmain and Charitable Uses Acts 1888 and 1891 (which impose restrictions on gifts of land to charitable uses) do not apply to gifts to a Hospital Management Committee. Hospital Management Committees will be in the same position as ordinary trustees with respect to property given to them after the appointed day, and will be bound to apply such property strictly in accordance with the trusts declared by the donors. It will not be necessary for donors, after the appointed day, to adopt the special forms of gift set out in (1) above. It is emphasised, however, that after the appointed day gifts should be expressed to be, not for the general purposes of a Hospital, but for some purpose of a special nature connected with the Hospital and selected either by the donor himself or by the Management Committee. Such gifts could conveniently be made in the above form.

NOTE.—It is not essential that the special capital purpose should be specified by the donor. It is sufficient and usually preferable to leave the precise capital purpose for which the money shall be used to the discretion and good sense of the Committee, because it is often difficult, and particularly so in these days of transition, to envisage the precise objects for which the money will be most urgently required.

The above form of gift assumes that the property given consists of money. It should be noted, however, that the new Management Committees will have power to hold land.

Donors will appreciate that the above forms of gift will not be appropriate in the case of small subscriptions or contributions. Small subscriptions or contributions, however, are used up rapidly in meeting current expenses of the Welfare Fund.

NORWOOD & DISTRICT COTTAGE HOSPITAL

(Recollection and Perspective)

The idea of a Norwood and District Cottage Hospital was formed in the Spring of 1880 when a Committee was constituted and an appeal for funds launched. The project received enthusiastic support, and there was little difficulty in obtaining the funds necessary to build the Hospital. The finding of a suitable site was a matter of greater difficulty. It had been hoped that a site nearer Sydenham could have been found, but this had not been easy, and, in the end, the present site was chosen as being the most suitable one available for the reasons that it was on high ground and at the same time within a short distance of the central point of the district.

The Hospital was opened on 21st October, 1882, by the Rt. Hon. the Lord Mayor of London (Sir John Whittaker Ellis, Bt.). The site had a frontage of 130 ft. in Hermitage Road and a depth of 155 ft.; but the original Hospital had only eight beds. A few more beds were added in 1887, but in 1894 a considerable extension was made to bring the beds total almost to the present complement. Reorganisations were undertaken in 1898, 1904, 1914, 1919, 1921, and 1926; re-arrangements, and small additions, were made under the pressure of demands for more and more equipment, improved standards and techniques, greater facilities, and further accommodation for staff. In 1931 the Out-Patients' Block, Laboratory and Offices were built; in 1937 further improvements and re-arrangements were carried out. Extension of the site was effected in 1898, and again in 1925 when additional land was leased to bring the total frontage to 295 ft. with a uniform depth. In 1946 a Nurses' Home was provided at 76, Central Hill.

The original Hospital was called the Norwood Cottage Hospital, and its architecture was, in fact, that of a Cottage. This conception was in keeping with the contemporary movement from town towards suburbs and country, of which, in these days, Norwood was part. A few years later, when greater scope was sought for the Hospital, and schemes of expansion were finding expression, the words "and District" were added. No doubt, the nature of the site rendered the building of a large in-patients' unit impracticable. In any case, the idea of a Cottage Hospital was a fundamental which has always been well supported, and which had become well integrated with other ideas and interests through the years. The Hospital had set itself out for the most part in almost defiant contrast to the large London hospitals, and while endeavouring to maintain the highest possible standards consistent with its size, it added to its charm by a well-planned and cultivated garden. The more intimate atmosphere and unpretentiousness of the small hospital has always had many supporters.

The building of an Out-Patients' Block in 1931 marked the beginning of a new phase. Although the growth of out-patients' attendances was slow at first, there has been a steady increase since 1939, and the emphasis appears to be gradually shifting towards the out-patients' work. The erection of the new building for out-patients in 1948 should assist this development. The need to move the Hospital to a new site in order to provide the accommodation required for the Norwood population is another matter which is bound to call for attention in the very near future.

No one knows what role the Hospital will play in the National Health Service. It would be useless for the Committee to attempt any forecasts. It may well be, however, that the past will be successfully joined with the future. Whether the numerous small structural alterations and extensions with little alteration of the essential character and pleasing appearance of the building indicates a veritable genius for adaptation, or not; whether, if it does, the tradition will be maintained, or will be of consequence in the future, one cannot be certain; but it is to be hoped that any possible further development on its present site can be made to harmonise with its existing organisation and type.
