 These Receipts, taken out of a large Collection, as consisting of a few safe Ingredients, commonly to be found at easie Rates in most places, were sent to a learned Physician beyond Sea: To whom they were a welcome Present, and answered, without doubt, the Ends he had in desiring them.

That excellent Person, to whom these choice Prescriptions are owing, did permit a few Copies of them to be Printed, and was pleased to put them in the Hands of some of his Friends, provided, as there was occasion, they would make Tryal of them, and faithfully report the Success.

Divers of those, who on these Conditions had received so great a Favour, held themselves obliged to enquire for Persons affected with any of the Maladies against which the said Medicines were prescribed; and, upon many Experiments carefully made, having found, that frequently they have relieved those who used them, and sometimes strangely out-done Expectation; they addressed themselves with much importunity to the noble Author, to suffer things, which were of such general Benefit, and so easily to be procured by the Poor, to be made more publick.

And at length he hath been prevailed with not only to allow the former Receipts, which but few had seen, to be Reprinted, but hath, out of his rich Treasury, stored us with a fresh Collection, which, as in number it exceeds what we had before, so in Quality and Virtue it falls not short of it.

And if what here with such an honest and kind Design is offered to the Publick, be but candidly and favourably receiv'd, we may still hope for more Blessings of this Sort from him, who has not only a constant Will and great Ability to do good, but hath, perhaps, obliged the Age as much as any private Person in it.

Author's PREFACE.

Hough Physick be not my Profession, yet I hope this small Collection of Receipts will not incur the Censure of Equitable and Charitable Persons, tho' divers of them are professed Physicians; since, as I was induced to what I had done by the Dictates of Philanthropy and Christianity, so I was warranted by great Examples, both in Ancient Times, and in ours.
Of the former Sort, I take notice of several of the Old Philosophers, such as Democritus, Pythagoras, to which some add Aristotle;
and even divers Monarchs and great Men of those Times, such as Jubat, King of Mauritania; another King,
Nechepsos, cited by
*Galen, * Cato, Pliny,*
&c. And of the second
Sort, not only by the last

Age, and the first Part of our own; but by very late Times, and in a Neighbouring Nation, whose Customs we are wont sufficiently to esteem and imitate, we may be furnished with Examples to our present purpose. For the French King himself, who has rais'd the Majesty of a Crown'd Head so high, did not think it beneath the Grandeur of so great a Monarch to Order the Publication of the English Remedy, as the French called the Peruvian Bark, which at a great Rate he purchased from Talbot, an English Emperick, Famous for his many and speedy Cures of Quartans, and other Agues. By the Authority of the same Prince, who has been a great Encourager of divers Parts of Learning, there has been some Years since settled at Paris a Society or Assembly of Physicians, Chirurgeons, and others, whose main Business is to keep Correspondency in several Parts, and receive Informations of the Novelties that occur about Diseases, and impart to the Publick such as they shall think worthy and seasonable; which Communications consist not only of new Discoveries, odd Cases, Speculations, and Observations, but of Receipts and Processes of Remedies, printed for the most part in French, the common Language of the People. Divers of which Remedies, have upon Tryal been found useful, as well in England as in France. There has been also lately in that Kingdom a Book Printed more than once, that makes yet more for my Purpose. For there has been Publish'd in the French Tongue a large Collection of Receipts, for almost all Diseases, plac'd in Alphabetical Order; and tho' these Receipts are circumstantially delivered in the Mother-Tongue of the People, yet they came not forth, without the License or Authority of the Faculty of Physick, and were (at least the first Tome) so well receiv'd and approv'd, that in divers Places the respective Bishops authorized them by their Publick Approbation, and recommended them upon the Account receiv'd, or the good Effects they had produc'd both to the other Charitable Persons, and to the Curates (or Parish-Priests) in their Dioceses.

In complying with the Desires of many, and with the Dictates of Philanthropy, I hope, I may procure my Medicinal Receipts and Processes the more favourable Reception, if I shew, that I might justly have a peculiar and personal Repugnancy to this Work. For many may think it strange, as I my self have been prone to do, that I should presume to recommend Medicines to others, who for divers Years, have been so infirm and sickly my self. And some 'tis like well upbraid me with, Medice, Cura teipsum. But on this occasion, I may represent, that being the thirteenth or fourteenth Child of a Mother, that was not above 42 or 43 Years Old when she died of a Consumption, 'tis no wonder I have not inherited a robust, or healthy Constitution. Many also have said, in my Excuse, as they think, that I brought my self to so much Sickness by over-much Study. But, I must add, that tho' both the forementioned Causes concurr'd, yet I impute my infirm Condition more to a third, than to both together: For the grand Original of the Misciefs that have for many Years afflicted me, was a Fall from an unruly Horse into a deep Place, by which I was so bruised, that I feel the bad Effects of it to this Day. For this Mischance happening in Ireland, and I being forc'd to take a long Journey, before I was well recovered, the bad Weather I met with, and the as bad Accommodation in Irish-Inns, and the Mistake of an unskilful or drunken Guide, who made me wander almost all Night upon some Wild Mountains, put me into a Fever and a Dropsie, (viz. an Anasarca:) For a compleat Cure of which I past into England, and came to London; but in so unlucky a Time, that an ill-condition'd Fever rag'd there, and seiz'd on me among many others; and tho' through God's Goodness, I at length recovered, yet left me exceeding weak for a great while after;

The Author's Preface.

after ; and then for a Farewell, it cast me into a violent Quotidian or double Tertian-Ague, with a sense of decay in my Eyes, which during my long Sickness I had exercis'd too much upon Critical Books stuf't with Hebrew, and other Eastern Characters : I will not urge that divers have wondered that a Person in such bad Circumstances has by the Help of Care and Medicines (for they forget what ought to be ascrib'd to God) should be able to hold out so long against them. But this after the foregoing Relation may well be said, that it need be no great wonder, if after such a Train of Mischiefs, which was succeeded by a Scorbutick Cholick that struck into my Limbs, and deprived me of the Use of my Hands and Feet for many Months, I have not enjoyed much Health, notwithstanding my being acquainted with several Choice Medicines ; especially since divers of these I dare not use, because by long sitting, when I had the Palsie, I got the Stone, voiding some large ones (as well as making bloody Water) and by that Disease so great a Tendernefs in my Kidneys, that I can bear no Diureticks, tho' of the milder Sort, and that I am forc'd to forbear several Remedies for my other Distempers, that I know to be good ones ; and amongst them, divers, that by God's Blessing, I have successfully try'd on others. This short Narrative may, I hope, suffice to shew that my personal Maladies and Sicklines cannot rightly infer the Inefficacy of the Medicines I impart or recommended; and if it shew That, it will do all that was aim'd at by this Representation.

If some Receipts or Processes (for I hope they will not be many) should happen to be met with in the following Collection, that may be also found either in some Printed Book or other, 'tis hoped an indulgent Reader will either excuse or pardon that Venial Fault, especially if we consider, First, That neither Physick nor Chymistry being my Profession, I did not think my self oblig'd to peruse any store of Medicinal Books, and therefore may well be suppos'd to be unacquainted with a great many of them, much more with many of their Receipts and Processes. And indeed I find by some of the latter Printed Catalogues of Books written about the Physicians Art, that there is a Multitude of them, which when I wrote, I had never seen, or perhaps so much as heard of. Secondly, That 'tis so usual for Authors, especially that Writ either Systems or Collections, to set down store of Prescriptions dictated by their Conjectures, not their Tryals, and yet without giving a distinct Character of almost any of them in particular: That if I had met therewith
Some

The Author's Preface.

Some of the same that I am speaking of, I should not have selected them from a great Number of other undistinguish'd ones: And 'tis easie to observe, that there is a great Deal of difference betwixt being told by an Author, that many things, and among the rest, but not before them, this or that Drug, or Receipt is good for such a Disease, and to have particular Notice given of it; and not only to be confirm'd that 'tis good, but to be told how good it is, and possible also that it may be usefully employ'd in other Distempers besides those for which 'tis prescrib'd in the Printed Book.

The most of these Receipts are intended chiefly for the use of those that live in the Country, in Places where Physicians are scarce, if at all, to be had, especially by Poor People. And because very frequently a Labouring-Man, or a Handicrafts-Man, or some Tradesman, has a whole Family depending upon him, being maintain'd by his Pains and Industry, and yet is disabled to help himself and them, not by any Internal, and oftentimes Accidental Maladies; such as Bruises, Strains, Cuts, Tumors, Aches, Burns, and the like; I have been careful to furnish this final Collection with a pretty Number of good Receipts, obtain'd most of them from able Surgeons and Practitioners for those

Author's Introduction

To the First VOLUME.

HE following Prescriptions are a Part of a Collection of Receipts and Processes, that from Time to Time have been recommended to me by the Experience of others, or approv'd by my own: Receipts that being Parable or Cheap, may easily be made serviceable to poor Country People.

For Medicines so Simple, and for the most Part so Cheap, I have found all of them to be good in their Kind; and though I think most of them safer than many other Medicines that are in great Request, yet I do not pretend that these should play the Part of Medicines and Physicians too; but that they may be usefully employed by one who knows how to administer them discreetly.

The Author's Introduction, &c.

I distinguish them into three Classes or Orders, annexing to the Title of each particular Medicine one of the Three first Letters of the Alphabet; whereof A, is the Mark of a Remedy of the highest Classes of these, Recommended as very considerable and efficacious in its Kind. B, Denotes a second or inferior Sort, but yet to be valuable for their good Operation. C, Belongs to those Remedies that are of the lowest Order, tho' good enough not to be despised.

Those Receipts, which were my own, are expressed in my own Terms; so also those which I received from others by Word of Mouth: But them which were imparted to me in Writing, though I my self would not have worded them, as they did that I had them from, yet I oftentimes made a Scruple to Correct or Alter their Expressions, tho' not suitable to the Current Style of the Formularies of Receipts, being more concern'd that the Meaning should be close kept to, than the Style rectified.

Yellow Jaundice 3, 4, 36, 100, 111, 149

DECADI.

I. For Coughs, especially such as proceed from thin Rheums.

TAKE of choice Olibanum finely powder'd, from one Scruple to half a Dram, and mix carefully with it an equal Weight of Sugar-candy, (white or brown) or, in want of that, of fine Sugar; and let the Patient take it at Bed-time in the Pap of an Apple, or some other proper Additament, for several Nights together: If it be found needful, it may be taken at any other Time, when the Stomach is empty.

II. To give Ease in the Pains of the Stone, even that of the Bladder.

TAKE the transparent Sparr that grows upon the Veins of Lead-Oar, and having reduc'd it to fine Powder, give from half a
 B Dram

Dram to a whole Dram of it at a time, in a moderate Draught of some convenient Vehicle. N. B. Though there be (at least in most of our English Mines) two Teguments, as it were, of the Veins of Ledd, that grow close together, yet that which the Diggers name Cawk, which is white and opacous, is not the Medicine I mean, but the Transparent, or at least Semi-Diaphanus, which easily breaks into smooth Fragments, and in the Fire cleaves into several pieces, that are wont to be smooth, and prettily shaped.

III. For Sharpness of Urine.

TAKE of the dry Stuff that divides the Lobes of the Kernels of Walnuts, beat them to Powder, and of this give about half a Dram at a time, in a Draught of White-wine or Posset-drink made with it, or in any other convenient Liquor.

IV. To appease the violent Pains of the Tooth-Ach.

MAKE up a Scruple of Pilulæ Mastichinæ, and half a Grain of Laudanum into two or three Pills for the Patient to take at Bed-time.

V. For Agues.

TAKE Salt of Card. Benedict. and Salt of Wormwood anà 15 Grains, Tartar Vitriolate half a Scruple; mix them, and give them in a few Spoonfuls of Rhenish-Wine, or of some other convenient Vehicle, either before the Fit, or at some other time when the Stomach is empty.

VI. For the Yellow-Jaundice.

TAKE an Ounce of Castle-Soap (the elder the better) slice it thin, put it into a Pint of Small-Beer cold, set it on the Fire, let it boil gently half away, after boiling some time scum it once; then strain it through a small Sieve, warm it, and drink it all in a Morning fasting; take a small Lump of Sugar after it, and fast two or three Hour: The Party may walk about his Business, and eat his accustom'd Meals. If at any time he drinks Wine, let it be White-Wine. N. B. If he be far gone in the Distemper, two or three Days after he may take it once or twice more, and no oft'ner. Refrain all other Medicines; it will keep a Week or longer.

VII. For the Jaundice.

TAKE two or three Ounces of Semen Cannabis, (Hemp-Seed) and boil them till the Seeds (some of them) begin to burst, and a little longer, in a sufficient Quantity of new Milk, to make one good Draught; which the Patient is to take warm, renewing it, if need be, for some Days together.

VIII. For the Dysentery.

TAKE Pigs-Dung, dry it, and burn it to grey (not white) Ashes; of these give about half a Dram for a Dose, drinking after them about three Spoonfuls of Wine-Vinegar.

IX For the King's-Evil.

TAKE Cuttle-Bone uncalcin'd, and having scrap'd off the Outside or colour'd Part, dry the white Part; and of this finely powder'd, give half a Dram for a Dose in Aqua Malva.

X. A Safe and Easie Medicine in the Fits of the Stone.

TAKE Sack, or, in want of that, Claret-
Wine, and by shaking, or otherwise, mix with it, as well as you can, an equal Quantity of Oil of Walnuts; and of this Mixture, give from 4 or 6, to 8 or 10 Ounces at a time, as a Clyster.

DECAD II.

I. For Convulsions, especially in Children.

TAKE Earth-Worms, wash them well in White-Wine to cleanse them, but so as that they may not die in the Wine: Then upon hollow Tiles, or between them, dry the Worms with a moderate Heat, and no further than that they may be conveniently reduced to Powder; to one Ounce of which add a pretty Number of Grains of Ambergrise, both to perfume the Powder (whose scent of it self is rank) and to make the Medicine the more efficacious. The Dose is, from one Dram to a Dram and half in any convenient Vehicle.

II. For the Piles.

TAKE the Powder of Earth-Worms prepar'd as in the former Receipt) but leaving out the Ambergrise) and incorporate it

it exactly with as much Hens-grease as will serve to make it up into an Ointment. Apply this to the Part affected, whose Pains it usually much and safely mitigates.

III. To make Lime-Water useful in divers Distempers.

TAKE one Pound of good Quick-Lime, and slack it in a Gallon of warm Water, and let it stand till all that will subside be settled at the Bottom, and (separation being made) the Water swim clear at the Top: (At which time it will often happen, that a Kind of thin and brittle Substance, almost like Ice, will cover the Surface of the Liquor;) As soon as the Water is thus sufficiently impregnated, delay not to pour it off warily, and keep it well stopp'd for use.

IV. A Lime-Water for Obstructions and Consumptions.

TAKE a Gallon of Lime-Water made as above, and infuse in it cold Sassafras, Liquorice, and Annisecds, of each four Ounces, adding thereto half a Pound of choice Currants, or the like Quantity of slic'd Raisins of the Sun: The Dose of this compound Lime-Water, is four or five Ounces to be taken twice a Day.

V. An Amulet against Agues, especially Tertian.

TAKE a Handful of Groundsel, shred and cut it small, put it into a square Paper-Bag of about four Inches every way, pricking that side that is to be next the Skin, full of large Holes; and cover it with some Sarcenet or fine Linen, that nothing may fall out. Let the Patient wear this upon the Pit of his Stomach, renewing it two Hours before every Fit.

VI. For Women in Labour to bring away the Child.

TAKE about one Dram of choice Myrrh, and having reduc'd it to fine Powder, let the Patient take it in a Draught of Rhenish Wine or Sack; or if you would have the Liquor less active, White-Wine, Poffet-Drink, or some other temperate Vehicle.

VII. For strengthening the Bowels.

TAKE Cloves or Chives (not Bulbs) of Garlick, and let the Patient from time to time swallow one or two, without chewing.

VIII. An

VIII. An Amulet against the Cramp.

TAKE the Root of Mecboacan, and having reduc'd it to Powder, fill with this Powder a little square Bag or Sacket of Sarcenet, or some such flight stuff; which Bag is to be about three Inches square, and to be hung by a String about the Patient's Neck, so that it may reach to the Pit of the Stomach and immediately touch the Skin.

IX. For Stenching of Blood, especially in Wounds.

TAKE those round Mushrooms, that Botanists call Crepitus Lupi (in English Puff-Balls) when they are full ripe (which is in Autumn) and breaking them warily, save carefully this Powder that will fly up, and the rest that remains in their Cavities; and strew the Powder all over the Part affected, binding it on, or proceeding further, if need be, according to Art.

X. For Tumours and Pains of the Hemorrhoids, not too much inflamed.

LET the Patient dip his Finger in Balsam of Sulphur, made with Oil of Turpentine, and with his Finger so besmear'd, anoint the Tumours, whether external or internal, once or twice a Day.

D E C A D III.

I. For the Dysentery, and other sharp Fluxes.

TAKE the Stalks and Leaves of the Herb called in Latin Coniza Medina, (in English Flea-Bane) dry it gently till it be reducible to Powder; of this Powder give about one Dram at a Time, twice or thrice a Day, in any convenient Vessel; or else incorporate it in Conserve of Red Roses.

II. To sweeten the Blood, and cure divers Diseases caused by its Acidity.

TAKE Coral, the clearest and reddest you can get; reduce it (by exactly grinding it on a Porphyry or Marble Stone) to an impalpable Powder. Of this Magistery made without Acids, give the Patient once or twice a Day, (as need shall require) a large Dose, viz. ordinarily about one Dram at a Time, or from two Scruples to five. N. B. Let him long continue the Use of it.

III. To clear the Eyes, even from Films.

TAKE Paracelsus's Zebethum Occidentale, (viz. Human Dung) of a good Colour and Consistence, dry it slowly till it be pulvcrable: Then reduce it into an impalpable Powder; which is to be blown once, twice, or thrice a Day, as occasion shall require, into the Patient's Eyes.

IV For Convulsions in Children.

GIVE the Patient from 2, 3, or 4, to 5, 6, or 7 Grains, according to the Child's Age, of the true Volatile Salt of Amber, in any proper Vehicle. N. B. 'Tis not so efficacious in full grown Persons.

V. To bring away the After-Birth.

GIVE about 30 Drops, or any Number between 25 and 35, of good Essential (as Chymists call it) Oil of Juniper, in a good Draught of any convenient Vehicle.

VI. To strengthen the Stomach, and help the Want of Appetite.

MAKE the Roots of Gentian (found and not superannuated) pulverable, with no more waste of the Moisture than is necessary. Reduce these to Powder; of which let the Patient take from 12 or 15 Grains, to double that Quantity (or more if need be) twice or thrice a Day. N. B. It make be taken on an empty Stomach, or, if that cannot conveniently be done, at Mealtimes. To correct the Bitterness, one may add to it powder'd Sugar, or make it up with some fit Conserve, or mix it with a Syrup. It is very good, not only for Want of Appetite, but for Obstructions. And I (R. B.) have usually given it in Vertiginous Affection of the Brain, and to lessen, if not quite take away, the Fits of Agues, and even Quartans. But, in this last Case, the Dose must be considerably augmented. One may also, if one pleases, instead of the Powder, give the Extract drawn with fair Water, and for those that like that Form, made up into Pills with a sufficient Quantity of powder'd Tumerick, or the like proper Additament; to which I have sometimes added some Grains of Salt of Wormwood with good Success, in Fluxes that proceeded from Crudities and Indigestion. Where the Winter-Season, or the Patient's cold Constitution invite, or the Medicine is to be long kept, I chuse rather to make the Extract with Wine moderately strong, than with Water.

VII. For

VII. For Ulcers in the Breast, and elsewhere.

TAKE Millepides (in English by some called Wood-lice, by others Sows) and having washed them clean, with a little White-Wine, and dry'd them with a Linen Cloth, beat them very well in a Glafs or Marble-Mortar (for they ought not to be touched with any thing of Metal) and give the first time as much Juice as you can by strong Expression obtain from five or six of them. This Juice may be given in Small-Ale or White-Wine, in which the next time you may give as much as can be squeez'd out of eight or nine Millepides; and so you may continue, increasing the Number that you employ of them by two or three at a Time, till it amount to Twenty-five or Thirty; and if need be, to Forty or more, for one taking. And note, That if upon pounding of these Insects, you find the Mass they afford too dry, as it now and then happens; you may dilute it with a little White-Wine or Ale, to be well agitated with it, that being penetrated, and so softned, with the Liquor, the Mass may the better part with its Juice.

VII. For taking off the Fits of Agues.

TAKE good common Brimstone (not Flores Sulphurus) and having reduc'd them by passing them through a very fine Sieve, to the subsubtilest Powder you can; give of this Powder one Dram and half, or two Drams, either made up into a Bolus with a little good Honey, or else in any appropriated Vehicle; let it be given at the usual Times, and reiterated once or twice, if need be, especially if the Fits should return.

IX. For Fluxes, especially accompany'd with Gripings.

TAKE of Crude Lapis Calaminaris finely powder'd, two Scruples, of white Chalk one Scruple, mix them exactly, and give them in a Spoonful or two of new Milk twice, or if the Case be urgent, thrice a Day.

X. For the Pains of the Piles.

TAKE of Myrrh, Olibanum, and common Frankincense, of each a like Quantity, having powder'd them, mix them very well, and let the Patient receive the Fume of this Mixture, cast upon a Chaffin-Dish with Embers, in a Close-Stool, for about a Quarter of an Hour (less or more, as he needs it, and is able to bear it.)

D E C A D IV.

I. For an Outward Contusion.

A PPLY to the Part affected, skim'd or purified Honey, spread upon Cap-Paper, to be kept on with some convenient Plaister, or the like Bandage, and shifted once or twice a day.

II. Another of the same.

A BEAT Aloes Succotrina (or else Hepatica) to fine Powder; then pour on it as much Rose-water as you guess may dissolve a great Part of it. This done, stir them well for a while, and when the Mixture is settled, pour off the Liquor, and in it dip Linnen-Rags, which being applied to the Part affected, will soon stick to it, and seldom need be remov'd till the Patient be reliev'd; and then to get them off, the Rags must be well wetted.

ted with warm Water, which will soften and loosen the adhering Aloes.

III. For a slighter Excoriation.

ME L T Mutton-Suet taken from about the Kidneys, and freed from its superfluous Fibres or Strings, and to about 2 Ounces of this, add little by little about 16 or 18 Drops (sometimes 8 or 10 may serve) of Oyl (not Æthereal Spirit) of Turpentine: spread this Mixture on a Linnen-Cloth, and by binding or otherwise, keep it upon the Part affected.

IV. For an Excoriation, when the true Cutis is affected.

TA K E Prunella (in English Self-head) and having pounded it very well in a Marble or Glass Mortar (not one of Metal) apply it to the Part affected, renewing it but seldom, and not without Need.

V. To take off the Pain and Inflammation of Ulcers in the Legs and elsewhere.

IN a Quart of Water, boyl about so much White-bread, as in ordinary Years may be found found in a Half-penny Loaf; then add to it two Ounces of good Sheep-Suet cut very small; and when that is boil'd a little, add to it one Ounce of finely powder'd Rosin, and a little well-sears'd Brimstone: Of these make a Cataplasm, which is to be kept constantly on the Part affected, and shifted once or twice a day, as need shall require.

VI. For a Cough, especially accompany'd with tickling Rheum.

TAKE equal Parts of finely powder'd Olibanum and Venice-Treacle, incorporate them exactly, and of this Mass form Pills of what bigness you please: Of these let the Patient take about half a Dram at Bed-time, or if need be, one Scruple (or more) twice a day.

VII. To prevent the Tooth-ach, and keep the Teeth sound.

LET the Patient frequently rub his Teeth moderately with the Ashes that remain in Tobacco-Pipes, after the rest of the Body hath been consumed in Smoak; sometime after, washing (if need be) his Mouth with fair Water not too cold.

VIII. For

VIII. For a Rupture, especially in a Child or Young Person.

TAKE of that Geranium or Cranes-bill, that is commonly call'd Columbinum, reduce the Root and Leaves to fine Powder, and of this let the Patient take about half a Spoonful at Night and Morning for three or four Weeks together, washing it down each time with some Spoonfuls of Red Wine.

IX. For the Heart-burning, as they call it.

TAKE from 15 or 20, to 30 or 40 Grains of Crabs-Eyes (known commonly in the Shops by the Name of Lapides Cancrorum) reduc'd to very fine Powder, and either take it alone, or in any convenient Conserve or Syrup. 'Tis for the most part best to take this Medicine when the Stomach is empty.

X. For a Strein.

TAKE the strongest Vinegar you can get, and boil in it a convenient Quantity of Wheat-Bran, till you have brought it to the Consistence of a Poulter's, Apply this as early as may be to the Part affected, and renew it when it begins to grow dry.

DECAD V.

I. For a Recent Strein.

TAKE Wormwood, and pound it very well in a Mortar of Stone or Glafs; then put into it as much of the Whites of Eggs beaten to Water, as may serve to make it up into such Consistence as may be applied like a Poults to the Part affected.

A Strengthening Plaister after a Strein, or when there is any Weakness in the Joynt.

MELT down together, and incorporate very well, two Parts of Diapalma, and one Part of Emplastrum ad Herniam; spread this Mixture (but not very thick) upon Leather, and lay it to the Joynt to be strengthened.

III. For

III. For Loosnesses.

CBOYL a convenient Quantity of Cork in Spring-water, till the Liquor taste strong thereof; of this Decoction let the Patient drink a moderate Draught from time to time, till he finds himself reliev'd by it.

IV. For Obstructions, and divers Disease proceeding thence.

LET the Patient drink, every Morning fasting, a moderate Draught of his own Urine newly made, and (if it can conveniently be) whilst 'tis yet warm, forbearing Food for an Hour or two after it.

V. For Difficulty of Hearing from a cold Cause.

OUT of a Bulbe, or Root of Garlick, chuse a Chive of a convenient Bigness; then having passed a fine piece of Thread or Silk through one End of it, that thereby it may be pull'd out at pleasure, crush it a little between your Fingers, and having anointed it all over with Oyl of Bitter, (or for want of that, Sweet Almonds), put it into the Cavity of the Patient's Ear at Bed-time, and draw it out the next Morning, stopping the Ear afterwards with Black black Wool; but if need require, this Operation is to be reiterated with fresh Garlick for some Days successively.

VI. For Ruptures in the Belly, especially in Children.

HAVING well cleansed the Roots of Sigillum Salamonis, scrape one Ounce of it into a Quart of Broth, and let the Patient take a Mess, or a Porringer full of it for his breakfast; or else give half a Dram, or two scruples of the Powder of it at a time in any convenient Vehicle.

VII. To give check to Fits of the Gout, and in some measure to prevent them.

TAKE three Ounces of Sarsaparilla slic'd and cut thin; to these add an equal Weight of Raisins of the Sun, rubb'd very clean, but not broken; Put both these Ingredients into three Quarts of Spring-water, and let the Vessel stand in a moderate Heat, that the Liquor may simmer for many Hours, yet without bursting most part of the Raisins; keep this Decoction well stoppt, and let the Patient use it for his only Drink, till he need it no longer.

VIII. A Water for Ulcers and Sores.

TAKE a Solution of Venetian Sublimat and having made with very good Quick-lime as strong a Lime-water as you can (so that, if it be possible, it may bear a Egg) drop this upon the dissolved Sublimat till it will precipitate no more reddish Stu at all; (which will not so soon be done: one that hath not try'd will imagine :) as soon as you perceive that the Liquors act no longer visibly upon one another, pour the Mixture into a Filter of Cap-Paper, which retaining the Orange-colour'd Precipitate will transmit an indifferently clear Liquor; which is to be in a Glass-Vial kept stop'd for its proper Use; namely, that the Part affected may be therewith wash'd from time to time and, if need be, kept cover'd with double Linnen-Cloths wetted in the same Liquor.

IX, A Plaister to Discuss Tumors, and Ripen them if it cannot Discuss them.

TAKE of Yellow Wax, Frankincense and Rosin, of each four Ounces, or a sufficient Quantity, melt them together gently and being strained, make up the Mass into a Roll for Use.

X. For the Black Jaundice itself.

TAKE a Spoonful of Honey, boil it gently, and scum it, till it come to a good Consistence: Then add of Wheat-Flour and Saffron (reduced to a Powder) as much of each as you may take upon the Point of a Knife; and having mix'd all well, put it over the Coals again, until it lose its smell; afterwards you may put it into a little Stone or Earthen-Pot, and keep it for Use; which is, that the Patient take the Quantity of a Pea, and anoint the Navel, and fill the Cavity thereof with it; repeating the Application for some Days together, when the Stomach is empty, and abstaining from Meat and Drink about two Hours after the Medicine is used.

DECAD VI.

I. A Parable Medicine for the Stone.

TAKE of the Seed of Flixwood, and give of it about as much as will lie upon a Shilling, either whole or grossly bruis'd, in any convenient Vehicle.

II. For Fits of the Mother.

Dissolve store of Sea-Salt in the best Wine-Vinegar, and in this dip a soft Linen Cloth, which being folded so as to make 3 or 4 Doubles, is to be applied somewhat warm to the Soles of the Patient's Feet, and kept on till the Fit be over.

III. A Choice Plaister to strengthen the Joints after the Gout, and hasten the going off of the Pain.

TAKE of Paracelsus and Diapalmaana, melt them and incorporate them exactly together, and spread the Mixture very thin upon fine Leather, to be us'd as a Plaister to the Part affected.

IV. A very good Drink in continual Fevers.

MAKE a Decoction of the Leaves of Rue in fair Water, till the Liquor taste pretty strong of the Plant: This being strain'd, is to be made some what palatable with Liquorice, or a little Sugar, or Aromatick Body: To half a Pint of this add about 10 Drops of Spirit (not Oil) of Vitriol: Let the Patient use this for his ordinary Drink.

V. A good Drink to be frequently used in Fevers, especially continual ones.

GIVE in half a Pint of some small convenient Drink, half an Ounce of Harts-Horn, burnt to great whiteness; which is to be a little boiled in the Liquor ; and this, thus alter'd, is to be given from time to time.
 C a lit-

VI. An easie Medicine for a fresh Strain.

MAKE up the Clay with which the Bunges of Barrels are wont to be stop'd, with as much Vinegar as will bring it to the Consistence of an indifferently stiff Cataplasme : Then warm it a little, and apply it to the Part affected.

VII. A Remedy much used for Chilblains.

TAKE a Turnip, roast it well under the Embers, and beat it to a Poultice ; then apply it very hot to the Part affected, and keep it on (if need be) for 3 or 4 Days ; in that time shifting it twice or thrice, if occasion require.

VIII. A simple Antimonial Remedy, that has often done much Good even in the Leprosie, and all continual Fevers.

TAKE Crude Antimony, well chosen and powder'd ; of this give about one, two, or three Scruples Morning and Evening, according ding to the Age of the Patient, in a little Syrup of Clove-Gilly-Flowers, or any such Vehicle, or else mix'd with fine Sugar, enough to make it somewhat palatable. This may be continued for four or five Months, if need require; and if the first Dose prove beneficial to the Patient, in Cases not urgent, a Scruple or half a Dram may serve the turn, nor need the Exhibition be continued for so long a time.

IX. For the Cholick and divers other Distempers.

TAKE four or five Balls of fresh Stone-Horse Dung, and let them steep for about a quarter of an Hour (or less) in a Pint of White-wine, in a Vessel well stopp'd, that the Liquor may be richly impregnated with the more volatile and subtile Parts of the Dung; strain this, and give of it from a quarter to half a Pint, or some Ounces more at a time, the Patient having a care not to take cold after it.

X. An often experienc'd Antimonial Infusion.

TAKE one Ounce of Powder'd Antimony tied up in a little Bag of clean Linnen, and hang it in a Gallon of Beer or Ale that is brought from the Brew-house, and is yet scarce fit to be drawn out, much less to be drank.

Of this Liquor, when 'tis ripe, let the Patient make use for his ordinary Drink ; only having a care, that if by Age or Accident it be perceived to grow fowre, that Vessel then be left off, for fear lest the Acidity of the Liquor corroding the Antimony, might make it Vomitive.

DECAD

DECAD VII.

I. An easie Medicine to cleanse the Womb, especially after Child-bearing.

TAKE a large white Onyon, of about four Ounces in weight, (if you can get so big a one, and boil it in about a Pint of Water, with any thing fit to make a very thin Broth, till a third part or more of the Liquor be consumed: Of this Broth, which may be made a little palatable with Nutmeg, &c. the Patient is to take six or eight Ounces twice or thrice a day.

II. An experienced Wash that quickly cures the Itch.

TAKE strong Quick-Lime, one Pound, and put to it a Gallon of Spring-water; let them lie together for some Hours, and then warily pour off the clearer; filter the rest, and take two Ounces of Quick-silver, tied up in a Linnen Bag, and hang it in the Liquor, and boil it for half an Hour or more; then pour off the clear Liquor once more, and wash the Hands only with it twice, or at most thrice a day.

tied

III. A Remedy often used with Success in Fluxes, and even Dysenteries.

TAKE fresh Roots of Bistort, cut them into thin Slices, and moisten them well with fair Water and Wine, to make them more soft and succulent; then press out the Juice as strongly as you can; and of this give about three or four Spoonfuls mingled with half a dozen Spoonfuls, or somewhat more, of Red Wine, or some other convenient Liquor.

IV. A good Medicine for a sore Throat.

TAKE the White of a new laid Egg, and by beating it, reduce it into Water; and with this Water mix diligently so much Conserve of Red Roses as will reduce it to a soft Mass; whereof the Patient is to let a little bit at a time melt leisurely in his Mouth.

V. A choice Medicine for a sore Throat.

ATake a Piece of greasie Linen-Cloth, of such a bigness, as that being doubled, may make a Bag in form of a Stay, to reach from one Side of the Throat to the other, and contain as much Matter, as may make it of the thickness of an Inch or more: This Bag being fill'd with common Salt, is to be heated thoroughly, and apply'd to the Part affected as warm as the Patient can conveniently endure; and within two Hours after, or when it begins to grow too cold, another like it and well heated, is to be substituted in its room; and whilst this is cooling, the other may be heated, and made ready for use: So that the Part affected may be always kept in a considerable Degree of Warmth, for about 48 Hours, if the Remedy be so long needed.

VI. An often experienc'd Medicine for the Cholick, especially produced by sharp Humours.

ATake a Quart of Claret, and put into the Vessel about 2 Ounces of Nettle-Seeds, stop the Bottle, and keep it in boiling Water, till the Water has made 3 or 4 warms, to assist the Wine's Impregnation with the finer Part of the Seeds: Of this Liquor let the Patient take a small Draught once or twice a day.

VII. To appease the Pain of the Hemorrhoids, whether internal or external.

I. A Powerful Remedy in Apoplectick Fits.

TAKE the Herb Mastick, and distil by an Alembick with a Copper Body an essential Oil, of which with such a Pipe or Quill that one End may be open'd and stopt at Pleasure (the other still remaining open) blow up some drops first into one of the Patient's Nostrils, and a while after into the other two

II. A Good Plaister for Aches, especially Scorbucical.

Spread thinly upon Slink or very fine Kids-Leather, the Emplastrum de Mucilagibus, and let it lie upon the aching Part as long as there is Need.

III. For an Old Ach or Strain.

Take of Lucatellas Balsam one Ounce, of Oyl of Turpentine one Dram, incorporate them very well with a gentle Heat, and anoint the Part affected therewith, wearing on it a Piece of unwash'd Flannen besmear'd with the same Ointment.

IV. For Scorbucick Aches, especially about the Share-Bone.

Take two Parts of Palm-Oil, and one of Oil of Camomile (to which, if you please, you may add a little Ointment of Elder) mix these exactly, and anoint the Part affected.

V. A Powerful Remedy for Scorbucick Aches.

Take to one Ounce of Oil of Turpentine, one Dram or two of the Volatile Salt of Harts-Horn, Horn, or as much as being well ground with it in a Mortar of Glass or Marble, will bring it to the Consistence of a kind of Ointment, with which the Cold being taken off, the Part affected is to be lightly anointed.

VI. A very easie Medicine for light Scorbutick Aches or Pains.

ANoint the pained Part from Time to Time with Fasting-Spittle; and if you will have the Medicine a little stronger, the Patient may put Roch-Allum to the Bigness of a small Pea into his Mouth before he employs his Spittle.

VII. For Aches and Pricking Pains in the Sides or elsewhere.

With a sufficient Quantity of clean Sulphur finely powder'd, mix diligently as much Venice-Treacle as will bring it to the Consistence for Pills. Of this Mixture you may give the Quantity of a Pistol-Bullet twice, or at most, thrice a Day, drinking any convenient Liquor after it.

VIII. An experienc'd Remedy for an Anasarca, or General Disease of the whole Body.

FRy freshly gather'd Rue with Oyl of Walnuts, till it become fit to be apply'd hot as a Cataplasm or Poultis to the Navel; and keep it on that Part some Hours, renewing it once or twice a day, if Need require.

IX. An external Medicine often successfully try'd for Agues.

TAke 5, 7, or 9 (for 'tis pretended it must be an odd number) of the Roots of Ribwort, and having made them clean, put them into a little Bag of Sarsenet or fine Linnen, and let the Patient wear it upon the Nape of his Neck, renewing it within 2, 3, or 4 days if Need require.

X. A try'd Remedy for Agues.

TAke of the Bark of Sassafras-Root, and of Virginian Snake-Weed, both in Powder, of each 10 grains; and with half a dram, or 2 Scruples of Mithridate or Venice-Treacle, or as much as will give it a due Consistence, make a Bolus to be taken the usual Hours.

XI. A

XI. A choicē Medicine for Aguish Distempers.

TAke of Salt Wormwood 15 grains, Crabs-Eyes, or Powder of Crabs-Claws Simple 8 or 10 grains; mix these well, and give them in 2 or 3 Spoonfuls of some Cordial-water.

XII. An excellent Wrist-Plaster for Agues.

TAke Wax, and spread it to about the thickness of a Crown-Piece of Silver, and of a convenient Breadth and Length to make an entire Wrist-Plaster; upon this spread and display as well as you can the Leaves of the Tops of Rue, not yet fully open'd by Time, so that they may cover the whole Plaster as well as you can make them do it. Then apply this Emplaster, and let it lie on several days consequitively.

XIII. An often try'd Medicine for Agues.

TAke Ribwort, gather the leaves as near the Root as you can in a dry Morning, wipe them clean, but do not wash them; then dry them carefully, till you may reduce them to Powder. Of this Powder give from one dram to two at most, mixt with one dram of Conserve of Roses, or the crumbs of White-bread, or the Yolk of an Egg or two. N. B. You may before you dry the Leaves, distil a Water out of some of them, and make an Extract out of others with Spirit of Wine, or, which is better, with Spirit of Dew. They are both good for the same Disease that the Powder is. The Dose of the Water is one Ounce, or an Ounce and half, at the usual Times; and that of the Extract about one Dram in some Ounces of White-Wine.

XIV. An Excellent Medicine for Agues, especially Tertians.

Give as much of well-condition'd Virginian Snake-Root reduc'd to fine Powder, as will lie upon a Shilling, in a Cup of Sher-ry just before the Beginning of the cold Fit, repeating it once or twice, if it need to be used oftner.

XV. For a Tertian Ague.

Take of the Root of Angelica grated, or otherwise made into Powder, and give of it from half a Dram to a Dram, in any convenient Vehicle at the usual Times (viz. about two Hours before the cold Fit.)

XVI. A Medicine with which a Quartan was cur'd, that could not be cured with Jesu-its Bark.

TAke one Dram of the black Tips of Crabs-Claws, and having reduc'd them to exceeding fine Powder, let the Patient take it in any convenient Vehicle or Conserve, twice or thrice, as he would take the Cortex, without intermitting any day.

XVII. An easie Remedy, which long continued, does much destroy Acidities or Heart-Burnings in the Stomach.

TAke half a Dram at least of finely powdered red Coral, and give it from time to time in any convenient Vehicle, till the Patient be relieved.

XVIII. A very often tried Remedy for the Asthma.

TAke Soap-Boilers Lees (made with Pot-Ashes and Quick-Lime) one Part, Spirit of Wine rectified two Parts; set them in Digestion (to unite them well) and then add some Drops (at discretion) Chymical Oil of Carraways, and if you please, of Anniseeds too. The Dose in younger Persons is about 10 Drops, in elder ones, from half a Dram to one Dram, in some convenient Vehicle.

XIX. An excellent Medicine for a Dry or Convulsive Asthma.

TAke choice Saffron, reduce it (by rubbing it in a stone or glass Mortar) to a Kind of Powder, and with any convenient Mixture, give 8 or 10 grains of it in the form of Pills at Bed-time.

XX. An experienc'd Remedy for Difficulty of Breathing.

TAke of choice Castoreum dry'd enough to be powder'd, 2 or 3, or at most 4 grains, mix this with 10 or 11 grains of Gascoign's Powder reduc'd to very fine Powder; mix up these with some little Syrup or Conserve, and when the Patient has taken it, let him wash it down with the Mixture, consisting of 5 drams of Penny-royal-water, and half a dram, or at most two drams of Briony-water Compound.

XXI. An approved Medicine for inveterate Scorbutick Cholicks, and Pains of the Bowels.

TAke English Barley, and having well wash'd it, boil it in a sufficient quantity of fresh Spring-water till it be just ready to burst: Then pour off the clear upon the yellow Part of the Rinds of Lemmons, freshly cut off from the white

white Part, and put them into a Bottle, which being carefully stop't, the Liquor is to be kept so for Use, which is, that the Patient make it his constant Drink.

XXII. To reduce flaggy Breasts to a good Shape and Consistence.

TAke green Hemlock well bruis'd, and reduc'd to a Kind of Cataplasm or Poultis, which is to be apply'd (the Cold being first taken off) to the Parts 'tis to work upon, and to be kept on 'till it hath perform'd what was intended, shifting it once a day.

XXIII. An easie, but useful Remedy for a fresh Bruise or Contusion.

TAke fresh Butter and Parsley, of each a sufficient quantity, and having chopt the Herb, mix it very well with the Butter to the Consistence of a Cataplasm (which is to be apply'd warm) to the newly bruised Part.

XXIV. For coagulated Blood, or a Bruise.

TAke Black soft Soap, and with a sufficient Quantity of soft Crumbs of White-Bread very well mixt with it, make a Passe, which is to be laid on the Part with a Linnen Rag, and kept bound upon it for some Hours, that it may have Time to resolve the congeal'd Blood, and bring the contused Part from a livid to a red Colour, which will much hasten and facilitate the restoring it to its former State.

XXV. To stench Blood falling from the Nose, by a Simple held in one's Hand.

LET the Patient hold Knot-grass and Solomon's-Seal in his Hand till it grow warm there, or longer, if Need be.

XXVI. An Excellent Remedy to stench Blood in any Part of the Body.

TAKE Plantane-water two Ounces, Barley-Cinnamon-water, six Drams, Spirit of Vinegar one Ounce, Dragons-Blood half a Dram, Syrup of Myrtles five Drams ; mix and make a Julep, of which let the Patient take three Spoonfuls every Hour.

XXVII. The Styptick Water for stopping of Blood in any Part of the Body.

TAKE one Pound of excellent Quick-Lime, and put it into a clear Earthen Pot, pour upon it five or six Pounds of Fountain-water, cover over the Pot close, and let it lie to infuse about an hour without touching it, then after stir it with a stick for a little time; then let it lie as before for 24 hours, sometimes stirring it, in the end you shall let it settle to a Sediment; the Water being very clear above, pour it off by inclination without stirring: Take of this Water one Pound, which being put into a Vial, you shall add to it a Dram and half of Sublimate finely powdered, then shake very well all together, so that the Powder may dissolve, and be of an Orange colour, as more reddish than yellow, and in the end clear and limpid, because the red Powder will præcipitate to the bottom. Your Water being clarified, you must separate the Water from the Grounds into another Vessel, without troubling the Sediments, and to the Water you shall add one Dram of Oyl of Vitriol, and an Ounce of Saccharum Saturni. Shake all together, that they may mix the better, afterwards let all settle, and pour off the clear Water, and keep it for your use.

XXVIII. A choice Medicine to resolve extravasated Blood.

Grate or Rasp the Root of Burdock, and spreading the Powder upon a Linnen Cloth, bind it quite round the part affected, renewing it twice a day.

XXIX. To

XXIX. To make an excellent Styptick for stopping of Blood.

Take Hungarian Vitriol, Allom, of each half a Pound, Phlegm of Vitriol ten Pounds: Boil to a Dissolution of the Vitriol and Allom; being cold, filter it through brown Paper, and if any Crystals shoot, separate the Liquor from them, adding to each Pound one Ounce of Oil of Vitriol. Dip Cloths into this Liquor, and apply them to the Part affected.

XXX. An often try'd Styptick to stench Blood, especially in Wounds.

Take Colcothar as it comes out of the Retort, and having powder'd it, roll Tents of Lint in it, and apply them to the Orifices of the greater Vessels, and employ other usual Means to emprefs the Vessel upon the Tent, and to fill the Cavity of the Wound, partly with Colcothar too.

XXXI. A very often experienc'd Remedy for Burns.

Take two Parts of Oil of Walnuts, and one of Honey, mix 'em well together over a gentle fire, and when they are thoroughly incorporated, dip a Feather in the Mixture, and anoint therewith the Part affected, so as the

the Ointment may touch it immediately, and then strew on it some Powder of Ceterach, or Spleen-wort, and keep the Part quiet, and defend it from the Air.

XXXII. An easie Medicine, and common enough, but useful against Burns.

TAke Onions, and beat them into a soft Mass, and apply them as speedily as you can to the Part affected, and keep them on it, till they begin to grow dryish, and then if need be, shift them, and apply fresh ones.

TAke Onions a sufficient quantity, and beat them very well with common Salt finely powder'd into a Mash, that may be applied as a Cataplasm (the cold being first taken off) to the Part affected; and renewing it, if need be, till the Impression of the fire be taken out.

XXXIV. An excellent Ointment for Burns and Scaldings.

TAke of the inner Rind of Elder-tree, and offresh Sheep's-dung, without any adhering Straws or Foulness, of each one handful, and and with fresh Butter or Oyl, make thereof an Oyntment, to be applied as is usual in such Distempers.

XXXV. An easie and approv'd Remedy for Burns, especially recent ones.

TAke a sufficient Quantity of Adders-Tongue, and boil it softly in Linseed-Oyl till the Liquor be strongly impregnated with the Herb, then strain it, and keep it stopt for Use.

XXXVI. An excellent Oyntment for Burns and Scaldings.

TAke of Saccarum Saturni half a Dram, of the sharpest Vinegar four Ounces, make a Solution of the former in the latter, and add to this Solution drop by drop (often stirring or shaking them together) as much Oyl of Elder as will serve to reduce the Mixture into the form of a Nutritum or Oyntment.

XXXVII. A slow but innocent Way of making Blisters without Cantharides.

TAke Crows-foot, and putting to a handful of it about half a Spoonful of Mustard; beat them verywell together to the consistence
of

of a Poultis, put this to the thicknes of one's little Finger into a cover of a Box cut shallow, and of about the breadth of the Palm of one's Hand (though this cover be less necessary than convenient) and cutting a hole of the wideness of the Box in a Plaister of Diapalma or the like, to make it stick, you must apply it to the part, and let it lie on 12 or 14 hours, because it works as well more slowly than Cantharides, as more safely and innocently.

XXXVIII. A good Medicine to raise Blisters.

TAKE Cantharides reduced into Powder, and upon half an Ounce of this put two or three Ounces of good Spirit of Wine, let them lie together four or five days, that the Spirit may acquire a good Tincture, then filter it and dip into it a piece of Linnen Cloth 6, 7, or 8 times double, and of the figure and largeness that you desire. This Cloth being thoroughly wetted and cover'd with a Melilot Plaister, or one of Diachylum, or some other that will stick, to keep it on, must be applied to the Part. At the end of five or six hours you may take off your Plaister, and the Linnen Cloth, and find your work done.

XXXIX. To raise a Blister without Cantharides.

THE Seed of Clemmatis Peregrina being bound hard upon any Part, will in an Hour, or at most two, have an Operation like that of another Vesicatory, as far as its Contract reaches.

XL. An Useful Medicine for Costiveness.

TAKE Virgin-Honey a sufficient quantity, and mix exactly with it as much finely powder'd Cremor Tartari as will suffice to bring it to the Consistence of a somewhat soft Electuary, of which the Patient may take upon the Point of a Knife the Bigness of an Almond (more or less) as upon Tryal you shall see Cause.

XLI. For a Cancer in the Breast.

TAKE of the Warts that grow on the hinder Legs of a (Stone) Horse, dry them gently 'till you can reduce them to a Powder, of which you may give half a Dram for a Dose in any convenient Vehicle.

XLII. A Potent Medicine for Contusions and divers other Affections.

TAKE Alcobole of Wine, and dissolve in it as much pure Camphire as you easily can, and keep it very close stopt, till you have occasion to use it. Then moisten thorowly with it some thin Pieces of Linnen or Flannel, and apply them lukewarm; and likewise you may with a Rag dipt in it, apply to the Eye-lids, having a Care that none of it get into the Eye itself, since there it would cause great Smart. It may also be very usefully apply'd to Burns, and yet more to Contusions.

XLIII. A try'd Medicine for Chilblains.

TAKE pretty thick Parings freshly cut off from Turnips, and hold them to the Fire till they be very crisp, then apply them to the unbroken Tumours or Blisters, as hot as the Patient can endure it, and keep them on a competent Time, and put on new if Need require. They will cause the peccant Matter to transpire, or otherwise waste without breaking the Blisters.

XLIV. To

XLIV. To make a very nourishing Aliment, that hath recovered divers in Consumptions.

TAKE 8 or 10 Craw-fishes (or, if they be not of the largest size, a dozen) boil them (after the blackest Gut or String is taken out) in Barley-water, till they become very red; then take them out, and beat them long, Shells and all, in a Marble or Glass Mortar, to a soft Mash, and in a Press strongly squeeze out the Juice; which may be given either alone, or mixt with about an equal Part of Chicken-broth, or some such convenient Alimental Liquor.

XLV. A Vulgar, but often approved Remedy for a Cold, especially that affect the Breast.

TAKE a Sheet, or half a Sheet pro renata, of brown Paper, of as even a Texture as you can get, and anoint it over evenly and very well with the eldest Tallow, or Candle-grease you can procure, so that the Paper may be thorowly Penetrated by it. Then cover it thinly with Nutmeg, as you were to rub the Spice upon a Toft, and clap it warm to the Pit of the Stomach, that it may reach a good way, both above it and beneath it.

XLVI. An

CLVI. An experienc'd Medicine for Coughs.

3 Oil good Turnips in water, and having expressed the Juice, mix it with as much finely powder'd Sugar-candy as will bring it into a kind of Syrup, of which let the Patient swallow a little as slowly as he can from Time to Time.

CLVII. A good Medicine for Asthmatick Coughs.

TAKE two Ounces of Oyl of Sweet Almonds freshly drawn, and put them upon one Dram of Flowers of Brimstone, keep them for a Fortnight in digestion in a moderate Heat, and then decant off the Oyl, or pass it through a clean Linnen Rag to keep back the Brimstone: Of this Liquor give a Spoonful or two at a Time.

CLVIII. An easie Medicine, which cured not long since a Gentlewoman that had taken much Physick for a Consumptive Cough.

TAKE 8, 10, or 12 well chosen Raisins of the Sun, and having slit them open, take out the little Kernels, and stuff the Raisins with the tops or small tender leaves of Rue: and let the Patient take them, either as they are, or in the form

form of a Bolus, or the like, pretty early in the Morning, fasting after them two or three Hours at least, if he cannot conveniently fast 'till Noon.

LXX. An Experienc'd Medicine for a Dysentery, or Bloody-Flux.

GIve about 3 Ounces of the Juice of Ground-Ivy, mixt with 1 Ounce of the Juice of Plantane, once or twice a day.

LXXI. For to stop a Dysentery, or Bloody-Flux.

USE the Powder of Crepitus Lupi, or Fuss-Balls, made up with some Conserve of Roses, or other convenient Additament, into Pills. Of this Mixture give in Dysenteria, as much at a time, as contains from about a Scruple, to about half a Dram of the Powder.

LXXII. An easie, but very often try'd Digestive, to be used instead of Basilicum.

TAke 2 Ounces of good Venice-Turpentine, and incorporate very well with it the Yolks of 2 fresh Eggs, and then add to it (at discretion) a little Spirit of Wine; with this dress the Part Morning and Evening, laying it on thicker, if the Part be near some Nerve or other drier Part, and less thick, if it be fleshy or moist.

LXXIII. A good Medicine for Incontinency of Urine, and the beginning a Diabetes.

CUT off the Necks of well-blown Sheeps-Bladders, of the remaining Membranes put up pretty Store one over another into a cover'd Pot, where being dry'd gently, and yet sufficiently, in a Baker's-Oven, take them out, and pulverize them well. The Dose is as much as will lie upon a large Groat, or small Six-Pence.

LXXIV. For a Diarrhæa, Looseness, or Flux of the Belly.

MIX up 15 Grains, or if the Distemper be but slight, 10 Grains, of powder'd Rhubarb, with half a Dram of Dioscordium, and

and let the Patient take it either going to Bed, or early in the Morning after his first Sleep.

LXXV. For a Contusion in the Eye.

TAKE the Crumb of White-Bread, and diligently incorporate with Black soft Soap as much of it as will make a somewhat soft Paste; and then with your Thumbs make a little Cake (as it were) of it, and apply to the bruised Part, the Eye being first shut, and blind it so that it may lie on for some Hours, or a Day, if Need be. But this ought to be used with Caution.

LXXVI. An excellent Medicine for clammy Humours of the Eyes.

TAKE New Milk, and let it stand 'till it hath got a little Cream upon it, then let the Patient, when he is in Bed, take up with his finger a little of the Cream (and not of Milk) and shutting his Eye-lids, besmear his Eyes with it, having a Care that very little or none get into his Eyes, because it would make them smart; let the Cream lie on 'till the next Morning, and in case the Patient chance to wake in the Night, he may, if he finds Cause, lay on a little more, and wash all off in the Morning.

LXXVII. A somewhat sharp, but often try'd Medicine to take off the Pearl on the Eye.

TAke of the Juice of Celandine, and mix with it about an equal Part of pure Honey; and of this Mixture employ a drop, or at most two, at a Time, letting it fall upon the Part affected Morning and Evening.

LXXVIII. An easie Remedy for a recently Blood-shot Eye.

TAke a rotten Apple, and as many Tops of Wormwood, as being well beaten together with it, will make a Mass of the Consistence of a Cataplasm; warm this a litle, and put a sufficient Quantity of it into a thin and clean Linnen Rag, and let the Patient keep it upon the Part affected all Night, the next Morning wash it off with some Red Rose-water, or the like Liquor.

LXXIX. To make a choice Ophthalmick Water to preserve the Eyes and Sight.

TAke of the distill'd water of Rue, Celandine and Vervain, of each 1 Ounce; mix them, and infuse in them 2 Drams of Crocus Metallorum, exquisitely ground for a Week

Week or ten days; then very carefully filter the Infusion, that none of the Atoms of Powder pass thorow the Liquor. Of this let fall into the Eye a drop or two, Morning and Evening, having a Care not to shake the glass, when you employ the Liquor, lest some unheeded dust may have escaped the filter, and be raised.

LXXX. For a slight Ophthalmia, or Blood-spot Eye.

S Hake half a Dram of diligently prepared Tutty into an Ounce of Red Rose-water, and drop it often into the Eye.

LXXXI. An experienc'd Eye-Water for an Inflammation and Tumour of the Eye.

T Ake of prepared Tutty half an Ounce, the water of white Roses and of Frogs Spawn, and also of the best Canary Wine (not distill'd) of each 2 Ounces, of Aqua mirabilis half an Ounce: Mix these well, and drop a very little at a Time into the Patient's Eyes.

LXXXII. An odd and often try'd Medicine for an Eresypelas.

TAKE the Blood of a hunted Hare whilst 'tis yet warm, and drench thorowly in it clean Linnen Rags, which are to be dry'd in the Wind or free Air, and then kept in a dry Place for Use: Lay a good Piece of Linnen thus stained upon the Part affected, and either by binding it on, or covering it with some filken or other Cloth, whose Edges have some sticking Plaister, keep it from falling off, and renew it from day to day, if there be Need. N. B. If it be grown too stiff with long keeping, you may soften it with a little sprinkling of fair Water.

LXXXIII. An experienc'd Water for sharp and slimy Humours in the Eyes and Eye-Lids.

TAKE of prepared Tutty half an Ounce, prepared Coral and Pearl of each half a Scruple, Trochisci-Albi Ras. 5 or 6 Grains, Red Rose-water, and Succory-water, of each an Ounce and half; mix them well, and if you will have the Medicine stronger, you may put 3 or 4 Grains of Aloes into it.

LXXXIV. A

LXXXIV. A choice Remedy for an Ophthalmia, or Blood-shot Eyes.

TAke of the Juice of Housleek two Parts, Daifies and Ground-Ivy, of each one Part; mix these Juices together, and to about 2 Spoonfuls of the Mixture, put 5 or 6 drops of Clarified Honey: Let the Juices depurate themselves by Residence, and then in some small Silver Vessel clarify them, and of this Mixture let fall a drop or two into the Eye 3 or 4 times a day. N. B. But if the Inflammation be not so great, but there is more Need of Absperſion, use more of the Juice of Ground-Ivy, and less of that of Housleek.

LXXXV. For a light Stroke or Contusion of the Eye.

TAke 2 Ounces of Betony-water, and three drops of Clarified Honey, mix them well together, and drop them into the Eye 3 or 4 times a day; the Composition must be made fresh every second and third day.

LXXXVI. A potent, but smarting Medicine for things growing on the Eye.

TAke white Paper, and let it flame away upon a clean Pewter Platter, 'till there remain so much Oyl behind as you think you shall need; blow off the Cinders of the Papers, and with a little of your Spittle mixt by your finger with the Oil, make up a kind of Ointment; which being taken up with a feather, is to be apply'd once or twice a day, as Need shall require (and as the Patient can well bear) to the affected Eye; which Course is to be continued till the Cure be compleated.

LXXXVII. For Hurts that make the Solution of Continuity in the Eye.

TAke 2 Ounces of Celandine-Water, and put to it 2, 3 or 4 drops of good clarified Honey, enough to give the water a faint Taste: with this dress the Eye at least twice (if not thrice) a day. But the Mixture must be made fresh once in 2 or 3 days, or else it will grow sourish.

LXXXVIII. An excellent and very often try'd Eye-Water, especially for outward Affections of the Eye.

TAke of Plantane-leaves 4 Ounces, and of Strawberry-leaves as much; digest these for 24 hours in a Pound of good White-wine: Then distil them to dryness in a Glass Head and Body in a Balneo Mariae. The Liquor that is thus obtained put into a very clean clean Brass (not Copper) Vessel, and let it stand there some hours, till it have acquired a manifest, but not a very deep blue Tincture, and then put to it (when pour'd on) an equal weight of white Rose-water distilled after the common way: Shake these together, and let fall one drop into the internal Corner of the Eye, the Patient stooping backward, and shutting his Eye-lids for a Minute or two, that the water may disperse on the Eye, and that the Quickness of the Liquor, which may make him weep, may the less prejudice him.

LXXXIX. To make a Useful Medicine for Pain or Itching in the Eye-lids, or on that account in the Eyes.

TAke half a Spoonful of French Barley (after the first water it was put into over the fire is cast away) and boil it softly for a little while in a Pint of Spring-water, seasonably putting to it a good Pugil of dry'd Damask-Rose-leaves. (N. B.) Sometimes you may add, if you please, a few Red Rose-leaves, or Melilot-flowers, or both). With this Liquor foment the Part with a soft Sponge for a pretty while, in the Morning, and at Night, having a Care that it be applied pretty hot, or at least warm.

XC. To make an excellent Eye-Water, for Redness and light Films, &c. in the Eye.

Make some Lime-water, by pouring a Gallon of scalding hot Water upon a Pound or somewhat more of Quick-Lime; stir them together, and after some Hours, decant warily that which is clear. And to a Pound of this Water, put half an Ounce (and no more) of choice Verdigrease pulverized: and in a very moderate Heat extract a Tincture of a fine, but somewhat dilute, Saphirine Colour (but it ought not to be too deep.) Decant this very warily, and let a drop or two of it at a time fall into the Eye, as often as Need requires.

XCI. An excellent Remedy to stop a violent Defluxion on the Eye.

Take Red Sage and Rue, of each 1 handful, a Spoonful of fine Wheat-flower, and the white of a New-laid-Egg beaten to Water, mix these very well, and spread them upon very thin Leather or black Silk, and apply it to the Temples; it is to be about the Bigness of a Silver Crown at least.

XCII. An

XCII. An excellent Remedy for Red Eyes, made such by a Defluxion of a hot or sharp Humour.

TAke the tops of Rosemary about one Dram, and beat them up with one or two Ounces of rotten Pearmain or Pippins, or if those cannot be had, with the like weight of the soft Part of the same Apples that are found. And when by exquisite Beating, you have reduced these things to a Cataplasm, apply them (the Cold being first taken off) to the Part affected, binding it thereupon, and letting it lie all Night.

XCIII. An Eye-Water.

TAke House-Snails, and beat them in their Shells, and gratifie them with about an equal Quantity of Juice of Celandine; draw off the Water in a cold or Pewter Still (such as is used for Rose-water) and keep the Liquor that will come over close stoppt for your Use.

XCIV. The

XCIV. The Lady Fitz-Harding's Eye-Water, which lately cur'd an almost blind Person, whose Eyes look'd like Glass.

TAke of Oyl of Nutmegs, and of Wormwood, of each a little quantity, mingle them well, and with the Mixture a little warm'd, anoint the Patient's Navil, and the Pit of the Stomach.

CXXVI. To make an excellent Gargle.

TAke 6 Ounces of Scabious-water, 1 Spoonful of Mustard, 1 Spoonful of Honey, and 1 Spoonful of Vinegar; grind all these very well together in a marble or glass Mortar 'till you have reduc'd them to a liquid Mixture, which is to be used as a Gargle.

CXXVII. A choice Gargle for a sore Throat.

TO 4 Ounces of Plantane-water add 3 or 4 Spoonfuls of Red Rose-water, and mix very well with these the White of an Egg beaten to a glair or water: Sweeten this Mixture with a small Spoonful of white Sugar-candy, or in want of that, as much very fine Loaf-Sugar. Let the Patient gargle this as often as Need requires.

CXXVIII. An experienc'd Medicine for a Gonorrhæa.

TAKE 2 Ounces of ripe Lawrel-Berries, and infuse them for a day in a quart of good White-wine: Of this let the Patient drink about 2 or 3 Spoonfuls twice a day for a pretty while together; only once in 3 days (or thereabouts) intermitting, that he may take some gentle purging Medicine.

CXXIX. For a Gonorrhæa.

TAKE choice Mastick a sufficient quantity, and having very finely beaten and search'd it, take about half an Ounce of it at a time in the Yolk of a New-laid Egg, washing it down, if it be thought needful, in any convenient Liquor.

CXXX. An

CXXX. An excellent Remedy to take off the Pains of the Gout.

TAKE Minium or Red-Lead ground fine, half a Pound, Oyl of Earth-worms 1
Pound, or a sufficient Quantity: Boyl them to the Consistency of a hard or solid Emplaster, without burning: Afterwards add of Camphire 2 Ounces, dissolved in Oyl of Earth-worms, so much as may make an Emplaster of a just Consistency.

CXXXI. An excellent Ointment in the Gout.

TAKE Barbadoes-Tar and Palm-Oyl, of each a like quantity, melt them together in no more fire than is needful to make them incorporate well; with this Mixture warm, the Part is to be anointed, and warily chafed.

CXXXII. A slight, but effectual Medicine to appease Gouty Pains.

TAKE Linseed well condition'd, and with a little Water, beat 'em in a marble or glass Mortar, rubbing them very well, that the medullary Part may be separated in some measure from the Husk, and may make the Water considerably white. In this Liquor dip clean Rags, and when they are thorowly wetted,

wetted, apply them somewhat warm to the Part affected, shifting them, if Need be, once in an Hour, or at most in two.

CXXXIII. A speedy Remedy to take off Arthritick or Gout-Pains.

TAke good Spirit of Sal Armoniac, and with a Feather dipt in it moisten gently all the Part, or Parts affected.

CXXXIV. A Medicine that almost presently appeases the Pains of the Gout.

TAke of Black Soap 4 Ounces, choice Wood-Soot finely sifted about a Dram and half, and add to these about half the Yolk of an Egg: Incorporate them diligently together, and spreading the Mixture somewhat thin, apply it (the Cold being first taken off) by way of Cataplasm to the Part affected.

CXXXV. A

CXXXV. A homely, but often try'd Medicine to appease the Pains of Scorbutical Running Gouts.

TAKE Earth-worms cleans'd, and having fill'd an Earthen Pot with them, and luted on a Cover very well, set it into an Oven with a Batch of Bread, and let it stand there 'till the Oven be cold. Then take out the Pot, and having remov'd the Cover, you will find the Matter turn'd into a gross Liquor ill-scented. Strain this with Expression, and keep it stoppt for Use, which is, to rub therewith the Part affected with a warm Hand once or twice a day. N. B. If the Smell be offensive, you may put to it a few drops of Oyl of Rhodium, or some other odoriferous one, to correct it.

CXXXVI. An excellent Remedy for the Gonorrhœa.

TAKE of choice Amber, and of Mastich both reduc'd to very fine Powder, and very well mixt, equal Parts, and of this Mixture give half a Dram at a time in a proper Vehicle, or in a draught of Chocolate; continue this for 3 Weeks or a Month, if Need require, purging the day before you begin to take it, and once every Week afterwards, especially when you leave off the Use of the Powder.

CXXXVII. To appease the Pains of the Gout, and by degrees lessen the Fits.

TAke 1 Part of Sal Armoniac, and 3 Parts of Spirit of Wine, neither of them too well rectify'd: shake them together, (and if you please digest them a while) and having dipt old, but clean Linnen Rags in the Mixture, apply them to the Part affected, shifting them now and then, as Need shall require.

H.

CXXXVIII. To make an excellent Cephalick, or Head-Powder, good also for the Eyes.

TAke the Leaves of Flowers of Betony, Marjoram and Damask-Roses; also the Flowers of Sage and Rosemary, all at Discretion. To these add the Powder of Lignum Aloes, and some Seeds of Nigella Romana. Reduce all these to Powder, to be used as a Hair-Powder when the Patient goes to Bed.

CXXXIX. An

CXXXIX. An useful Drink to be frequently employ'd to correct sharp Humours.

TAKE 2 Ounces of choice Barley (English or French) well wash'd from its Dust and Sorders: Boyl this in a quart or more of Spring-water 'till the grains begin to burst; then strain the Decoction through a clean Cloth, and let the Patient use it at Meals and other times for his ordinary Drink.

CXL. An experienc'd Medicine for Dulness of Hearing, and Hysterical Affections.

THE Juice of Red Onions is excellent for Diseases of the Ears, and for Deafness in its Beginning. N. B. Betony-Roots also wonderfully prevail against all Affections of the Womb.

CXLI. An experienc'd Medicine for the Pains of the Hæmorrhoids.

TAKE the Sole of an Old Shoe, worn by some Man that walks much, cut it in Pieces, and burn it, not to white or grey Ashes, but to a fryable and tender Coal; reduce this to impalpable Powder, and then with a sufficient quantity of unsalted Lard, make it into an Unguent, wherewith the Part affected is to be anointed from time to time.

CXLII. For the Hæmorrhoids.

Make a Suppository of Hogs-Lard or Bacon, or instead of that employ Goose-grease made up into the same form.

CXLIII. For the Hæmorrhoids.

IN the Yolk of an Egg, or a little of some convenient Syrup or Conserve, give from half a Dram, or 2 Scruples, or 1 Dram, or somewhat more of flower of Brimstone, once, or if the Case be urgent, twice a day. The Powder may be also given in Milk to those that like it better than sweet Vehicles.

CXLIV. A Choice Internal Remedy for Painful Hæmorrhoids.

Take about 2 Scruples of choice Sulphur vive, and mix it with a little Sugar to make it relish, and give that Dose once, or at most twice a day.

CXLV. A

CXLV. A very choice Medicine for the Pain and Tumors of the Hæmorrhoids.

TAke fresh Leeks (the whole Plant) shred them small, and fry them well with fresh Butter, 'till they be fit to be brought to the Consistence of a Cataplasma or Poultis, that is to be apply'd very warm to the Part affected, and to be renew'd from time to time, as Need shall require.

CXLVI. An useful Medicine for the Pain of the Hæmorrhoids.

MAke up Flower of Brimstone, and an equal weight, or a double of fine Sugar, with a Solution of Gum-dragon, into Tablets that may weigh about a Dram a-piece; of those that contain the most Sulphur you may give one twice a day, but of the other Sort much oftner, if Need require.

CXCIII. A rare Water to strengthen the Sight.

TAKE Clary, and distil it in a Cold Still; and of the Water let the Patient take every Morning, and if need be, every Night going to Bed, from 2 or 3 Spoonfuls to 6, either alone, or sweetned with a little Sugar; let him also with the same Water unsweetn'd, bath or wash the Parts affected in the Morning, and at Bed-time; and if Need be, once or twice more every day.

CXCIV. An excellent external Medicine to strengthen the Stomach.

TAKE Wormwood, Mint, and Mugwort, and by beating them well in a stone or glass Mortar, make a Cataplasm, to be apply'd somewhat warm to the Stomach, and kept upon it for a pretty while.

CXCV. An

CXCV. An often try'd Remedy to strengthen the Stomach, and also to take off Griping Pains in or near it. (Tis good also for Cold.)

TAke Emplastrum Stomachum of the London Dispensatory, and drop upon it 5 or 6 drops of Oyl of Cinnamon, rubbing it well over with your finger, and so apply it to the Patient's Stomach, and after 3 or 4 days, or as soon as it grows dry, remove it, and having scrap'd the Plaister, and warm'd it on the wrong side, let fall some drops of the Oil of Cinnamon upon it, or more drops of the Cordial Spirit, and apply it again.

CXCVI. An excellent Plaister to strengthen the Stomach and Chest.

TAke of Cinnamon, Nutmegs, Cloves, and Mace, of each a sufficient quantity, powder them well, and strew some of the Powder all over the Bottom of a Deal Box of a convenient length and breadth, and fit it with a Cover to shut close; upon this Powder lay a piece of clean Flannel well dry'd, and strew it over thinly with some of the same Powder; then lay on another piece of the like Flannel of the same Dimensions with the former, and upon that likewise, if Need be, a little more Powder. This done, shut the Box 'till the time of Use, and then take out one of the Pieces of Flannel, and having lightly dusted off the Powder, lay it on the Patient's Breast, Stomach and Belly, and let it lye on there for some days. When you perceive its Virtue begin to languish, you must substitute for it the other Piece of Flannel, and put the first in the Box to receive new Virtue, and so proceed alternatively as long as you need the Medicine, adding now and then some fresh Powder, if Necessity require. Note, That each Piece of Flannel ought to be long and large enough to cover the Breast, and to reach from about the Paps to the Navel, or lower.

TAKE a Pint or more of Claret-wine, and boyl in it for a little while, in a close Vessel, about a handful of Red Rose-Leaves, 'till the Liquor be strong of the Plant. In this well heated dip a Piece of Linnen or Flannel, and wringing out the Moisture, double it, and apply it hot to the Part affected, using a Fillet, or some such thing to keep it on.

CXCVIII. My Lord Bacon's experienc'd Medicine for a Recent Strain or Bruise.

TAKE a good handful of fresh Wormwood, and boyl it in a sufficient quantity of strong Ale to the softness of a Poultis; then take it off the Fire, and when you apply it, which you should do whilst 'tis very hot,
put to it a Spoonful or two of good common Brandy.

CXCIX. A Choice Plaister for a Recent Strain.

TAKE equal Parts of the Plaisters called Diapalma and Oxycroceum, and make of them a compounded Plaister, to be spread upon thin Leather, and apply'd to the Part affected, and to be renewed, if Need be, twice a Day.

CC. An approved Medicine for a Recent Strain.

CCLXXX. As

CCLXXX. An excellent Plaister to discuss Tumors (even scrophulous) that may be resolved, and ripening those that it cannot dissipate.

INcorporate exactly with the Emplastrum de Sapone, about a fourth Part of Balsamum Sulphuris Terebinthinati, and use it as a Plaister for the above-mention'd Purposes. N. B. In want of this, you may employ Diachylon cum gummis, renewing it once in 2 or 3 Days.

CCLXXXI. A parable Medicine to drive away Gravel and small Stones.

TAke the thick Skin, that is found in the Gizzard of a Cock or Hen (but not a Capon) and having warily dryed it till it be grown pulverable; give from a Scruple to 2 Scruples of it, in a Draught of any convenient Vehicle.

CCLXXXII. An excellent Remedy for Whitloes on the Fingers.

TAke a reddish, or at least a blackish Snail, of that sort that has no House or Shell, and having beaten it in a Mortar that is no Metalline, to the Consistence of a Poultis, apply it to the Part affected, renewing it, if Need be, once or twice, after it has been kept on for some Hours.

CCLXXXIII. To

CCLXXXIII. To make one spit out Rheum that swells the Gums, and therewith causeeth the Tooth-ach.

Dissolve a Spoonful of good Mustard in about a Pint of French Wine (Claret or White) and having warm'd it a little, let the Patient from time to time wash his Mouth with it, and hold it therein for a pretty while together.

CCLXXXIV. To give ease in the Fit of the Gout.

TAke 3 Parts of Oil of Turpentine, and 1 of Chymical Oil of Spike, shake them well together; with this Mixture anoint the Parts lightly.

CCLXXXV. An excellent Eye-Water to preserve from Rheums, especially sharp ones.

TAke 2 Parts of Celandine, and 1 of Eyebright, and distil thence (N. B.) in Balneo, a Water or Liquor, which you must put upon exquisitively pulveriz'd Lapis Calaminaris, and let them digest together in an exactly clos'd Vessel for some weeks, adding before you use it a third part of Brandy, afterwards continue upon the Powder as long as you imploy the Liquor.

CCLXXXVI. To

CCLXXXVI. To make an excellent and often try'd Medicine for the Stone, whether of the Kidneys or Bladders.

TAke of pure White-wine, or Rhenish-wine, and of Fennel-water, each 1 Pint. Into this Mixture put half an Ounce of (Wood-lice) alive and well cleansed, of a midling Size, and 1 Lemmon slic'd; let them infuse in a Vessel well stop't, for 3, 4, or 5 days, and then let the Patient take about 4 Ounces at a time twice a Day.

CCLXXXVII. An almost specifick Remedy for the Thrush in Children.

TAke Housleek freshly gather'd, crush it well between 2 Plates, or otherwise, till you have squeez'd out the Juice, mix this with live Honey, enough to make it somewhat sweet, and then put to it as much finely powder'd Roch-Allom, as will give it a little Tartness, put some of this Mixture with a quill, or a feather down the Patient's Throat, as far as conveniently may be; if there be Need, the Part affected may be touched once more within an Hour after.

CCLXXXVIII. For the Yellow Jaundice.

TAke Rhubarb 2 Drams, Saffron, Mace, of each a Dram, Hemp-seed 1 handful; bruise bruise them, and put therein a quart of White-wine, and set it in a gentle Heat to extract: then take Mornings and Evenings in an empty Stomach, about a quarter of a Pint, and when all is spent, pour on some more Wine upon the Ingredients, adding a little fresh Rhubarb and Saffron, and use it as before.

CCLXXXIX. An almost specifick Medicine for Agues.

TAke Refin of Scammony 12 grains, Diaphoretic Antimony, and Crystals of Tartar, of each 8 grains; mix these carefully, and give them for 1 Dose, an Hour before the Fit comes.

CCXC. To make a Nephritick Tincture, often found to relieve in the Stone.

TAke Oyster-Shells, and calcine them till they be very white; of these take 2 Parts, and 1 of Rhenish-wine-Tartar; pulverise these apart very well, and then mix them diligently; pour on the Mixture a little fair Water, and let the Ingredients work on each other till the Conflict be over; then stir the Mixture with a Stick, and pour on some more Liquor; and when the Effervescence ceases, put on a little more, and so proceed till no Conflict be made. Evaporate to a kind of soft Mucilage; digest this a while, decant the Liquor and filter it, and you will have it, if it be not too flegmatick, of a fine red Colour.

four. Of this the Dose is from 10, or 15, to 30 drops, or more, in any convenient Vehicle.

CCXCI. An almost specifick Medicine for Exulcerations in the Kidneys.

TAke Jet, and having reduc'd it to fine Powder, give of it about half a dram for a Dose, in some good White-wine in the Morning fasting, and at Bed-time for some Days together.

CCXCII. An almost specifick Medicine for the Jaundice.

With Small Ale, or at least not very Strong, draw a deep green Tincture from fresh Sheep's-dung, and in a small draught of this, give from half a dram to a dram of a powder'd Mixture, consisting of 4 Parts of Turmerick, and 1 of English Saffron. This Dose may be given twice, or if Need be, thrice a Day, having a Care that the Patient, whom it will dispose to sweat, keep very warm, and so whilst the Operation lasts.

CCXCIII. An useful Medicinal Aliment for them that are troubled with Pains of the Stone.

LET the Patient eat 5 or 6 Onions roasted, and sparingly butter'd, either in the Morning fasting, or at Meals, or at other times, if the Case be urgent. N. B. The distilled Water of
of

of Onions, as likewise of good Use in the same Distemper.

CCXCIV. An experienced Ointment for the Worms in Children.

TAke Rue, Wormwood, and Sabine, of each a sufficient quantity, and with May, or other unsalted Butter, or else with fresh Hogs-lard, boyl the Herbs softly, 'till you have brought the Mixture to be very green. Then strain it, and pot it up for Use; when you imploy it, anoint with it first the Pit of the Stomach, and Part of the Chest a little above it, and then after a while rub it pretty well upon, and all about the Navil.

CCXCV. An often tryed Cataplasim to break a sore Breast, &c.

TO the Yolks of 4 Eggs, take 4 Ounces of live Honey, mix them by grinding well together with about half a Pint of Red or Claret-wine, and apply this Mixture as a kind of Poultis, to the Part affected.

CCXCVI. For an Ague.

TAke the Soot that is in a Baker's Chimney, and Mustard, and Rue, and White-wine Vinegar, and Sallad-Oyl, and some white Pepper and Ginger, and make a Poultis

tis of it, and lay it to the Pulse of his or her Arms, and let it lie a Fortnight or 3 Weeks, if you will lay it on just before the Fit come.

CCXCVII. A very often experienced Medicine for Cankers in the Mouth, and elsewhere.

TAKE Flowers of Sulphur 1 Ounce, Roch-Allom, crude and finely pulveriz'd, half an Ounce; mix these very well together, and incorporate them with as much good Honey, as will serve to bring the Mixture to the consistence of a Liniment, to be apply'd from time to time to the Part affected.

CCXCVIII. An easie, but effectual Medicine to stop Bleeding in Wounds, and check some other Hemorrhages.

STREW upon the Part the Powder of clear Rosin beaten very small.

CXCIX. A very good Drink for Children, whose sore Eyes are suspected to be scrophulous.

TAKE of Ground-Ivy and Arch-Angel, (Leaves, Flowers and all) of each half an handful, pour on them a Pint of boiling Spring-water, and proceed as in making of Coffee, let the Patient drink a moderate Cup of this 2, 3, or 4 Times a Day; but if you would have it stronger, you may put to a quarter of a handful of each of these, 2 or 3 Drams of Pilewort wort-Roots, which must be put to infuse all Night alone in the water, which being thus impregnated, you must then boyl, and be used as before.

CCC. For scrophulous Humours of Children, Eyes (and other Parts.)

TAke Figwort, and put 2 Handfuls of it to a Pottle of small Ale; of this give a quarter or half a Pint at a Dose. The Operation will be promoted by quenching 7 or 8 Times in this Liquor a Gad of Steel, about 8 or 10 Inches long.

CCCI. Against a Vertigo.

TAke of Cyprus-Roots 2 Ounces, of Anise-Seed half an Ounce; make of both a very fine Powder, and take as much as you can lay on a Sixpence, in a Spoonful of Wine, Beer, or Ale, when you go to Bed. This Medicine continued for 5 Nights, (besides other Patients,) cured a Woman, who for divers Years was troubled with a Vertigo, and had used all Sorts of other Remedies, prescribed to her by London Physicians, to little or no Purpose.

COLLECTION

Choice and Safe

REMEDIES.

The Third VOLUME.

I. *A good Medicine for a newly taken,
though violent Cold.*

TAKE about 4 Ounces of Spring-water, and in a convenient Vessel; put to it 3 Leaves of good Tuffilago (Colts-foot) and a Pugil of Maiden-hair, and a Stick of Liquorish for Bigness and Length like the furthest Joynt of the little Finger: Make the Water warm, and when it is ready to boil, put in the fore-mentioned Ingredients, (the Li-

Liquorish being first slic'd and minc'd, cover the Pot well; let it boyl for a few Whalms, then take it off the Fire, and having presently strain'd it, let the Patient drink it hot like Tea, he being already in Bed: Do this 3 or 4 Nights consecutively, or till there be no more Need of the Medicine.

II. A good Water for the Eyes that are foul, and pained by sharp Humours.

TAke prepared Pearl and Coral, anà 1 Scruple, Aloes Cabalina, finely powder'd 3 Grains, Red Rose-water and Succory-water anà 1 Ounce; mix them well; and if you would have the Mixture stronger, put in a very few Grains of Trochisci albi Rafis in very fine Powder.

III. A good Medicine for Pain of the Teeth that comes from Rheum.

OF the Powder of white Hellebore, put into a clean Linnen Rag, like a Nodule, of about the Bigness of the largest Sort of Pease, or somewhat greater; and let the Patient hold it between his Teeth, with his Head and Face somewhat inclined, that the Rheum may run freely out of his Mouth.

IV. An

IV. An experienc'd Sternutatory to clear the Head.

LET the Patient snuff up in the Morning fasting, a small Spoonful, or less, of the clarified Juice of Hædera Terrestris, i. e. Ground-Ivy, or of Beets, spitting out from Time to Time as much Liquor as comes into his Mouth.

V. An often try'd Remedy for the Dysentery and sharp Fluxes of the Belly.

GIve from 15 to 20 Grains of carefully made Mercurius Dulcis, incorporated with about 2 Ounces of Catholicon, or else with about 1 Scruple of Toasted, or somewhat less of Untoasted Rhubarb.

See Numb. (1.)

VI. A good, though uncommon, Medicine for the Dropsie.

TAKE Virginian Snake-weed a sufficient Quantity; and having cut and slic'd it very small, infuse it into a competent Quantity of good Sack, till the Liquor be very strongly impregnated with the Plant. Of this Infusion let the Patient take 3, 4, or 5 Spoonfuls at a Time (or more, if the Case be urgent) when the Stomach is empty.
K fusion

See Numb. (2.)

VII. An often experienced Medicine for Blood-shot, or inflamed Eyes.

CUT a New-laid Egg boil'd hard, into 2 Halfs (without taking out the Yolks) and apply one of these considerable warm, but not too hot, to the Part affected, and keep it on for some Hours (6 or 8, if it need so long.) Note well, To the same Purpose you may apply with good Effect, a Poultis made of a rotten Apple, the Cold being first quite taken off.

See Numb. (3.)

VIII. An excellent Remedy for a Burn or Scald in the Eye.

TAKE Mucilages of Quince-seed, Fleawort, Linseed and Fenugreck-seed, of each 1 Scruple; boil it very lightly in 4 Ounces of Betony-water; filter it, and apply it to the Part.

IX. A good and innocent Dentrifice.

TAke Mastick and Dragons-Blood of each a sufficient Quantity; powder them, and mix them together, and let the Patient use 'em as a Dentrifice.

See Numb. (4.)

X. To correct the Laxity of the Gums, and fasten the Teeth.

TO a Pint of Red or Claret-wine, take about 2 Drams of Japan Earth, and having dissolv'd so much as you can, pour off the clear, and let the Patient wash his Mouth therewith from Time to Time.

XI. An uncommon, but effectual Fomentation for Tumours, accompany'd with sharp Humours.

TO a Gallon of Spring-water, put as much dry'd Sage, as you judge will afford a decoction strong enough of the herb. Into this, when it first grows hot, cast about 2 Ounces or some Drams of Castle-Soap, and let it dissolve there till your decoction be complete, pleated. With this and Stupes, foment the Part for a good while together.

XII. A rare Medicine for Hysterical Affections, and several Distempers of the Genus Nervosum.

TAKE 1 Ounce, or a sufficient Quantity of Volatile Salt of Harts-horn, which need not be exactly pure) and drop on it as much Spirit of Tartar as will serve to satiate it, when the Conflict is quite ceased. Digest the Mixture for a while, that it may acquire a red Colour, and keep it carefully stopt for Use, and give 4 or 5 Drops twice a Day in any convenient Vehicle.

XIII. An often proved Remedy to bring away what is, or should not be left in the Womb of a Puerpera, though it were Part of a dead Child.

WITH the Juice of Sheeps-Sorrel, and some of the strong Infusion of the same Herb (unpress'd) in Water, and a sufficient Quantity of Sugar, make a Syrup: Of which let the Patient take about a Spoonful, (a little more or less, as Need may require, twice or thrice a Day.)

XIV. A try'd Medicine to take away Corns.

THE Parts being made soft with Bathing and scrap'd, apply to the Corn a Plaister of Shoe-maker's Wax; but if the Part be very tender, your Plaister may consist of equal Parts of Shoe-maker's Wax and Diapalma melted together, and spread somewhat thin.

XV. To make an excellent Styptick Powder to stench Blood.

TAKE of white Sugar-candy, Roch-Allom burnt (but not too much calcin'd) and white Vitriol, and pulverize them exceeding well, and mix them diligently, and having dipt Pledgets of Wax or Lint, moistned with the White of an Egg, into this Powder, apply them to the Orifices of the bleeding Parts. Note well, 'twill do very well after the dry Ingredients are mixt, to grind them with as much Whites of Eggs beaten to Water, as will make a Paste, which is afterwards to be thoroughly dry'd in the Air, and then again reduc'd to Powder.

XVI. For a Tooth-Ach proceeding from Defluxions or Rheum from the Gums.

Dissolve 1 Ounce of choice Japan Earth,
in a Pint at least of good Red or Claret-wine, and let the Patient hold it in his Mouth often, and a good while together.

XVII. To prevent the Fit of an Ague, or cure that Disease.

TAke of the Scraping or Gratings of the Root of Angelica half a Dram, and of the Flowers of Antimony; mix them well, and let the Patient take them at the usual Times.

Note here, That the Flowers of Antimony are not to be given inwardly in Substance, but only in Infusion; for in Substance they will hazard Life, bringing first strong Convulsions, and then Death. But you may make the Medicine thus.

See Numb. (5.)

XVIII. To make an often try'd Pericarpium for Agues, especially Tertians.

TAke a Handful and a half of fresh Rue, half a Handful of fresh Sage, a small Spoonful of Bay-Salt, and a Spoonful of good Vinegar. Beat all these very well together into an uniform Mass; which divide into two Parts, and make thereof two Wrist-Plaisters to be apply'd at the usual Times before the Fit; and to be renew'd, if there be Occasion, to keep them on 'till they grow dry and troublesome.

XIX. For the Cholick.

R. Orange-Peels dry'd 'till one may grate them to Powder; and when they are pulveriz'd, take about a Spoonful of the Powder at a time, mixt with a little white Sugar to sweeten it, in or before some Spoonfuls of any convenient Vehicle.

XX. An approved Remedy for present Deafness.

TAKE of the Breast-Milk of a Woman that has had her first Male-Child some Time before, and drop 3 or 4 Drops of it warm, as it comes from the Nipple, into the Part affected.

XXI. A choice Medicine for Burns.

TAKE Goose-grease (which the Country-People call the Leaf of a Goose) and having softly melted, and a little skimm'd it, squeeze into it as much freshly exprest Juice of Ground-Ivy-leaves, as by continual stirring will bring it to the Consistence of a green Ointment. With this anoint the Part itself affected; and afterwards lay on it fine old Rags, well dipt in the same Ointment.

XXII. An external Remedy, almost Specifick for the Leprosie.

TAKE Pomatum 1 Ounce, Flower of Sulphur 1 Dram, Sal Prunellæ half an Ounce; and having mixt them very well together, from Time to Time anoint the Part affected therewith, as long as there is Need.

XXIII. For the Head-Ach.

TAKE green Hemlock that is tender, and put it in your Socks, so that it may lie thinly between them and the Soles of your Feet; shift the Herbs once a Day.

XXIV. For the Hiccup (even in Fevers.)

GIVE two or three preserv'd Damsons at a Time.

XXV. A simple Remedy for the Cholick.

IN a Draught of any convenient Liquor, dissolve about 1 Dram of good Salt of Tarter, and let the Patient take it for 1 Dose.

XXVI. An experienc'd Medicine to cleanse the Womb.

TAKE a large white Onion, cut it into small Pieces, and boyl it in about a Pint of water, or less, as if it were to be dressed for Eating. And of this Decoction give 7 or 8 Ounces for a Dose, mix'd with about half an Ounce of fresh Oyl of Walnuts.

XXVII. To appease the Fits of a Furor Uterinus.

TAKE the Feathers of Partridges (it matters not much from what Part of the Fowl) and burn them for a competent time under the Patient's Nose.

XXVIII. A very good Syrup to strengthen the Sight.

TAKE about a small Spoonful of a Syrup made of Betony-water and Honey, twice, thrice, or 4 Times a Day.

XXIX. An easie prepared, but useful Drink for a beginning Scurvy.

TO a Quart of Small-Beer (of 6 Shillings per Barrel) or Small-Ale, put over Night about a Handful of Scurvy-grass-Leaves, and let the Patient drink this Liquor at Dinner for his ordinary Drink for 6 or 8 Weeks together.

XXX. A Parable Remedy for Recent Burns.

APply as speedily as you can to the Part affected, an Onion, or more (if the burnt Place be large) beaten to a Mash.

XXXI. Foy

XXXI. For the Tooth-Ach.

Apply a Plaister of Carranna to that Part that burns, between the Bottom of the Ear and the Temples, on the same side where the Pulsation of the Artery is the most manifestly or strongly felt.

XXXII. An excellent Medicine, though not Curative, for those that are tormented with the Stone in the Bladder.

Take Powder of Comfrey-Roots an Ounce and half, Marsh-Mallow-Roots 3 Ounces, Liquorice-Powder 2 Drams, Seeds of Daucus of Creet 2 Drams, Seeds of Purflane, of Winter-Cherries, of each half a Dram, Nutmegs 2 Drams, Saffron 1 Dram, the Species Diamargariton frigid 6 Drams, Syrup of Marsh-Mallows 4 Ounces; mix and make a soft Electuary; of which let the Sick daily take the Quantity of a Walnut. It is profitable against the Stone in the Reins and Bladder, but chiefly against the latter; as also against the Strangury, Dysuria, &c.

XXXIII. To

XXXIII. To make a purging Electuary, especially for Children.

TAke an Ounce of choice Rhubarb reduc'd to fine Powder, and 8 Ounces of very good Currans pick'd, wash'd, and rub'd dry, beat these together in a Glass or Marble Mortar for near 2 Hours. Of this Electuary let the Patient take about the Bigness of a small or large Chesnut in the Morning fasting, and if Need be, at Bed-time. If the Case be very urgent, the Medicine may be taken thrice in 24 Hours.

XXXIV. An excellent Remedy for an Inflammation in the Eyes.

TAke a Pippin (or other Apple) cut it into 2 Halfs, take out all the Core of each of them, fill up the Cavities with the tender Tops of common Wormwood, tye the Half together, and roast the Apple well. Then beat it and the Herb together to a kind of Poultis, and apply it warm (but not hot) to the Part affected, and bind it thereon, letting it lye all Night, or if you use it in the Day-time, for 6. or 8 Hours.

XXXV. An useful Drink for the King's Evil, and some Affections that have the like Cause to it.

TAke a large Handful (or 2 little Physical Handfuls) of the Leaves of Ground-Ivy green, or (if the Season denies you them) well dry'd; wash off the Dust with Beer, not Water, and put the Herb into a gallon of Ale-wort; when tis ripe for drinking, draw it out into Bottles, and let the Patient take a Draught of it twice or thrice a Day, or if it be thought fit, it may be used at Meals.

See Numb. (6.)

XXXVI. Ac

XXXVI. An often experienc'd Remedy to expel Gravel, and provoke suppress'd Urine.

Kill a Black Cock or Hen (rather than one of any other Colour) take out the thick Membrane or Skin that lines the Gizzard or Stomach; and having wip'd it clean, dry it cautiously, so as it may be beaten to Powder. With this mix an equal Part, or half so much of choice Red Coral calcin'd. Of this Mixture, give from 20 or 30 grains, to 40 or 50 grains.

See Numb. (7.)

XXXVII. Ac

XXXVII. An approved Remedy for the King's-Evil.

SET a Quart of New-Milk on the Fire till it just boils up; then take it off, and put into it 2 Spoonfuls of the best Honey, and stir it till it be dissolv'd: And then set it on the Fire again, and let it boil 2 or 3 Whalms. Then divide it into 4 Parts, and drink one Part warm, early in the Morning, another about 10 of the Clock, another about 4 in the Afternoon, and the last a little before Bed-time. Do this daily for 2 or 3 Months, except you purge, which must be once a Week, taking, (if a grown Man) 3 quarters of an Ounce of Caryocostinum dissolv'd in Poffet-Drink: Dress the Sores, if they run, with any drawing Sear-cloth, or a Plaster of Eurgundy-Pitch. The Medicine, tho' not very promising, is very famous by the many Cures done with it, by a charitable Lady, of whose ingenious Chaplain I procured this.

XXXVIII. A

XXXVIII. A good Composition to stop a hollow Tooth, and appease the Pain.

TAKE 2 Parts of fine Sugar (that of Lisbon does best) and 1 Part of black round Pepper, both finely powder'd and mixt; put them into a Silver Spoon over 2 or 3 well-kindled Coals; and when the Sugar begins to melt, take off the Spoon; and whilst the Mixture is yet soft, form it into little grains for size and shape suited to the Part affected.

XXXIX. A Plaister preferred by an ancient Physician that often tried it, to the common Soap-Plaister.

MIX about a Dram of Castle-Soap with 1 Ounce of Diachylum, and make thereof a thin Plaister to be worn upon the Part affected.

XL. An excellent Medicine to be used Topically in Gleetings.

TAke four Ounces of Spring-water [or Plantane-water] and dissolve in it about one Scruple of the Sympathetic Powder, or so much as will give it a sensible, yet but faint Vitriol-like Taste: And of this Mixture inject as much as is usual of a small Syringe every Morning and Evening, as long as Need require, directing the Patient to retain the injected Liquor as long as conveniently he can.

XLI. An approved Medicine in the Biting of a Viper.

TAke of white Hore-hound, and apply the Plant well beaten into the form of a Poultis, to the Part affected, and give the Patient a Spoonful or two of the Juice of the same Herb to drink: 'Tis also very good for the Jaundies.

XLII. Ans

XLII. An almost Specifick Medicine for the Suppression of Urine.

TAke of Stæchas Citrina (in Englisk, French Lavender) and infuse in a good Heat, two Handfuls of the Flowers in a Pint of good Brandy (not rectify'd Spirit of Wine) and of this Infusion, give about a small Wine-glass full at a Time (diluted, if there be great Need, with a sufficient Quantity of some appropriated Liquor.)

XLIII. For an Ague, often try'd.

BOil Yarrow (Millefolium) in New-Milk, 'till it be tender enough to have a Cataplasm made of it. Apply this to the Patient's Wrists, just when the cold Fit is coming on, and let it lie on the Parts till the Fit be gone; and if another Fit comes, use fresh Cataplasms as before.

XLIV. An

XLIV. An useful Plaister for those that are troubled with Vapours of the Spleen, and Shortness of Breath, when 'tis a nervous Affection.

TAke 2 Parts of strain'd Galbanum, and 1 Part of Affafetida, and make thereof, according to Art, a Plaister of about the Bigness of the Palm of one's Hand, taking Care to leave a broad Edge quite round, to prevent its sticking to one's Linnen, and putting a pretty large Piece of Cotton in the middle, that the Gums may not touch the Navel; to which the Plaister is to be apply'd.

XLV. A slight, but excellent Medicine to take off Fits of the Head-Ach.

TAke about a Handful of fresh Rosemary, and boil it for a pretty while in a Quart of common Water; then almost fill it with a Pint-Pot (or rather a Mug) let the Patient cover his Head and Face with a Napkin, so that he may receive the Steam as hot as he can well bear, and keep the Vessel there as long as he finds the Steam strong enough.

XLVI. An easie and dry Medicine for the Itch, præmissis universalibus.

BOil 4 Ounces of clean Quick-silver in about a gallon and half of Spring-water, and let the Patient take of this between a quarter and half a pint at a time, aromatizing it, if he pleases, with a little Lemon-Peel.

XLVII. An easie Medicine to purifie and sweeten the Blood.

TAKE the Minera of Hungarian, or other choice Antimony, and having ground it to very fine Powder, without suffering it to touch any Metal, give of this dry Alcobole from 10 grains to a dram, giving it once a Day, and (unless some particular Reason diswade that Time) let it be at Dinner, that it may mingle with the Patient's Meat in his Stomach.

XLVIII. A cheap, but excellent Medicine for Ulcers.

TAke one Dram, at least, of Corrosive Sublimate finely powder'd; dissolve it in a Quart of fair Water, and let it lie there, if you have Leisure, 4 or 5 Days (in a light Digestion) that it may be thoroughly dissolved. Then drop in it as much Spirit of Sal Armoniac, or as much Oil of Tartar per deliquium, as will precipitate it all: Then filter it carefully, and keep it stop't for Use, which is to imbibe Dossils or Pledgets with it, and apply them to the Ulcer twice or thrice a Day.

XLIX. An easie, and innocent Medicine for Costiveness.

BOil in as much Broth as will serve to fill a large Porringer, about half a Handful of the Leaves of common Mallows chopp'd; and of this Broth (being strained) let the Patient make the first Part of his Meal.

See Numb. (8.)

L. For the Aching of a hollow Tooth.

TAke Oil of Wax, and with it moisten well a little Cotton, and thrust it up into the hollow Tooth, letting it lie there 'till the Pain be sufficiently asswaged.

LI. An often try'd Medicine for the Bloody-Flux, being good also for Pleurisies.

GIve the weight of an Escu d'Or (or near 1 Dram) of the Seed of Sophia Chirurgorum, in English, Flax Weed, in 2 or 3 Spoonfuls of any convenient Vehicle, once or twice a Day.

LII. The

LII. The Cinnamon-Drink, good in Gripes and Fluxes, &c.

TAKE 2 Ounces of calcin'd Harts-horn, powder it, and boil it in 3 Pints of Spring-water till a Pint be wasted; then take it off the Fire, and infuse in it an Ounce and half of good Cinnamon, setting it upon Embers in a cover'd Vessel for about an hour. Then sweeten it with Sugar to your Palate, and drink about a quarter of a Pint at a Time. If taken for Prevention only, a fourth Part of the Cinnamon will serve the Turn.

See Numb. (9.)

LIII. An easie, but useful Remedy for Redness of the Eyes.

TAKE a blanch'd Almond, and about 3 grains of Camphire, and in a glass or marble Mortar, incorporate them by wary grinding; and then add to them little by little 2 or 3 Ounces of Red Rose-water, still grinding them till the whole be brought to a kind of Emulsion. Drop a little of this into the Part affected.

See Numb. (10.)

LIV. A most excellent Balsam for any green Wound of what Nature soever.

OYL of St. John's-Wort, and Venice-Turpentine, of each a like Quantity; set them over the Fire in a gentle Heat, half an Hour or less, that they may incorporate. Then put them up, and keep it for Use as one of the best of Balsams.

LV. A good Medicine for the Suppression of the Menfes.

GIve for 3 Mornings together, about the expected time of the Monthly Evacuation, a Dram, or Dram and half, or thereabouts of the Galls and Livers of Eels dried and made into Powder.

L

LVI. Acc

LVI. An experienc'd Remedy to prevent Apoplectick Fits.

MAke at the crossing of the Sutures an Issue, with Diapalma and Oil of Vitriol, and keep it open the ordinary Way.

LVII. To dry up, or correct the Humour that makes Scrophulous Ulcers.

TAke of the Bone of the Cuttlefish, and having reduc'd it to an impalpable Powder, give about ʒ Dram of it at a Time in any convenient Vehicle.

LVIII. An effectual Medicine for a recent Strain.

TAKE a Handful of Wormwood-leaves, and boil them in strong Ale, till the Consumption of about a Third, that you may reduce them to the form of a Cataplasm, which when you take from the Fire, you must strengthen by putting into it 2, or at most 3 of Brandy, and apply it warm, renewing it, if Need be, in 24 hours at least.

See Numb. (II.)

LIX. For a slight Inflammation of the Eyes, as also a Hordeum growing on the Eye-Lid.

TAKE fresh Houfleeck ; and having pounded it very well to a kind of Cataplasm, cover as much as is needful of it, for Example-sake, to the Thickness of an Half-Crown, or a Crown-Piece, in the fold of a Rag or Linnen-cloth, that may be so apply'd, that the Cataplasm may reach the Eye and the rest of the Cloth be fastned about the Patient's Head. Let the Medicine lie on all Night, and be taken off the next Morning. Repeat this Application 2 or 3 Times, in Case there be Need.

LX. For most Asthmatick Distempers.

TAKE of the Roots of Elecampane, thinly slic'd, 1 Ounce, of the Leaves of Ground-Ivy, a good Handful. Boyl these in 3 Pints of Spring-water to a Quart; then strain the Decoction, sweeten it with a little live Honey, and let the Patient take it 5, 6 or 7 Spoonfuls at a Time. (Note well, Remember the Efficacy of Saffron in the same Disease, as it is commended by Mr. Ray, in his Catalogue of Plants.)

See Numb. (12.)

LXI. For an Ague.

TAKE of the Bone called Platella, of the Knee of a dead Man, and having reduc'd it to fine Powder, give of it as much as will lie upon a Groat or a Six-Pence, for one Dose, in any proper Conserve, or fit Vehicle, at a convenient Time (before the cold Fit.)

LXII. An

LXII. An experienc'd Medicine to kill Tetters.

TAke of Flowers of Brimstone, Ginger and Burnt-Allom, of each alike; mingle them well, and of this Mixture incorporate as much with new unsalted Butter, as is requisite to bring it to the Consistence of an Unguent. With this anoint the Part affected, as hot as the Patient can well endure it, and let it stay on all Night, and the next Morning wash it off with Celandine-water. But when the Patient goes to Bed, he is to take a Dose of some Alexipharmical Medicine: as Gascoign's Powder, Treacle, &c. to keep the Humour from being driven into the Mass of Blood: He is also to bath the Part oftentimes in a Day, with the Celandine-water.

LXIII. To make a good Powder for a Gonorrhæa.

TAke of choice red Coral, and of Mastick equal Parts, reduce them separately to fine Powder. Mingle them very well, and of this Mixture give about 30 or 40 grains for 1 Dose.

LXIV. A choice Medicine for a slight Stroke, or Bruise of the Eye.

TAke 2 Spoonfuls of Fennel-water, or of Betony-water, and drop into it 3 or 4 drops (or 5 at most) of good clarify'd Honey: Shake them well together, and use them twice or thrice a Day. But you must have a Care to make this Mixture fresh once in 4, or at most in 5 days, especially in Summer: For if it be longer kept, 'twill be apt to grow sowre.

LXV. As

LXV. An often tried external Medicine for an Erysipelas.

TAKE the Blood of a Hare ('tis best if kill'd by hunting in March) and if you can have it fresh, anoint the Part affected with it, otherwise apply on it a Linnen Rag that has (tho' a good while ago) thoroughly imbued the fresh Blood of that Animal, and dried in the Air. But if the imbrued Linnen be too hard or stiff, it must be soften'd with a little fair Water, and then, the Cold taken off, apply'd to, and bound upon the Part.

See Numb. (13.)

LXVI. An Emperick's much boasted Remedy for the Fluor Albus, or Whites in Women.

MAKE a strong Decoction of the Herb Alchymilla (in English, Ladies-Mantle) and let the Patient drink of it about half a Pint every Morning fasting; and if the case be urgent, make an Injection of the same Plant, boiled 'till it be very tender, and let the Patient make Use of it from Time to Time.

See Numb. (14.)

L 4

LXVII. An

LXVII. An excellent Water for Ulcers, and Sores, (tryed with great Success.)

TO a Quart of Spring-water, take one Dram of Mercury sublimate finely powder'd; and when 'tis quite dissolv'd, drop into the Solution, either Spirit of Sal Armoniac (which is best) or Oil of Tartar per deliquium, 'till you see that no more will manifestly precipitate. This done, filter the Mixture through Cap-Paper, and reserve the Precipitate for other Uses. The Liquor that passes, you must keep close stop't in a Glass-Viol; and when you will use it, you must dip Linnen Rags in it, and being thoroughly wetted, apply them to the Part affected, single or double, more or less, as Need requires. This Application may be renewed twice, or (if the Case be urgent) thrice a Day.

LXVIII. An experienc'd Medicine for want of Sleep, proceeding from great Heats in the Head.

Make the palest Carrots you can get, and scrape a sufficient Quantity of them to afford Scrapings enough to make a Cataplasm, of about 2 Fingers, or 2 Inches broad, and of the thickness of a Half-Crown-Piece of Silver, or thereabouts. Let the Patient apply this in a Piece of double Linnen to his Throat, Throat, so that it may reach to the Jugular Vessels on each Side, when he goes to Bed, and let it lie on all Night (for it will not easily grow dry,) if the first Application do not prevail, 'tis to be apply'd the following Night; and so a third and fourth Time, if Need require.

LXIX. A Parable Medicine, that has cured very many, especially Children, and young Boys and Girls, of Convulsive Fits.

TAke of the Powder (whether made by filing, rasping, or otherwise) of the found Skull of a dead Man, and give of it about as much as will lie upon a Groat, made up into a Bolus, with Conserve of Rosemary-flowers (or any other that is proper) to a young Boy or Girl: But in Persons more aged and strong, the Dose of the Powder must be augmented to double the Quantity. The Medicine must be given often, if Necessity requires it: If the Patient be a Child, 'twill be useful to apply to the Throat a kind of Necklace, made of the Roots of Vervain cut into Beads.

LXX. An easie and experienced Remedy for the Piles.

IN 4 Ounces of Spring-water, dissolve about 1 Dram of Salt of Tartar, or as much as will give the Liquor a manifest, but not strong Alcalizate Taste, and apply soft Rags dipt in lukewarm, or somewhat more, to the Part affected, shifting it from Time to Time.

LXXI. A successful Medicine for the Fluxes of the Belly.

TAKE Rice-Meal, and mix with it about a fifth Part of finely powder'd and sifted Chalk; boil these in Water, or, which is better, if it agrees with the Patient, in Milk, and make thereof a Hasty-Pudding, to be moderately season'd with Sugar and powder'd Cinnamon; and let the Patient eat it at Meals, and if Need be, at some other Times.

LXXII. As

LXXII. An often tried Remedy for Corns.

TAKE the Juice of Housleek, and mix it up with about equal Parts of the thick Balm or Yest that sticks to the Barrel, or to the Clay that stops it. Of these make a kind of Plaister, which being kept upon the Toe for a while, and then, if Need be, renew'd, will make the Corn very soft, and easie to be drawn out and extirpated.

See Numb. (15.)

LXXIII. A good Medicine for Burns and stenching of Blood.

DISSOLVE in Spring-water, or, which is better, Rain-water, as much Sugar as will make it a strong Solution, and then with a sufficient Quantity of Linseed-Oil, or Oil of Olives, beat up this Liquor 'till the Oil on it be brought to the Consistence of an Unguent, with which anoint the Part affected, as timely as you can, renewing the Application as often as Need shall require.

See Numb. (16.)

LXXIV. An

LXXIV. An approved Medicine for the Bloody-Flux, being good also for Pleurifies.

GIve 2 or 3 Scruples of Hair's-Blood beaten to Powder for one Dose, to be taken in a Spoonful or 2 or 3 of Mint-water, or any other fit Vehicle.

LXXV. A very often (though homely) experienced Remedy, for Dysenterick and other Fluxes.

TAKE the fresh Dung of a Hog (and if you can, whilst 'tis yet warm) and boil in a Porringer full of New-Milk as much of it as may amount to the Bigness of a Walnut; and also an equal Quantity of fine Mutton-Suet sliced very thin: When these are well incorporated with the Milk, strain them well thro' a clean Linnen; and if there be Need, sweeten them a little with Loaf-Sugar. Let the Patient take this warm, once or twice a Day.

LXXVI. A

LXXVI. A powerful Styptick to stench Blood, where it can be applied.

Take the fine Powder of Lapis Hæmatites, made by grinding it exactly well with an equal or double weight of Sal Armoniac: And of this high-coloured Sublimate, put a little upon the Orifices of the Vessel.

LXXVII. For a slight Redness of the Eyes.

Take of French Barley half an Ounce, and Damask-Roses half an Handful. Boil them but very little in a Pint of Spring-water, and with this moisten the Part affected.
See Numb. (17.)

LXXVIII. For

LXXVIII. For the Relaxation of the Uvula.

TAKE bluish Pease, or, in want of them, white ones, and chew them very well, so as to reduce them to the Consistence of a Poultis. Lay this warm upon the Crown of the Head, to the Breadth and Thickness of a Five Shilling-Piece of Silver, or somewhat larger, shifting it in the Morning, and at Bed-time.

See Numb. (18.)

LXXIX. A powerful Medicine to stop sharp Rheums.

TAKE a Dram of Catechu, or Japan Earth, and make thereof a Decoction in 5 or 6 Ounces of good White-wine, or else of some distilled Water, or other Liquor appropriated to the Disease. Of this give 2 or 3 Spoonfuls at Night, and in the Morning as much also if Need require.

LXXX. The

LXXX. The Frenchman's famous Eye-Water.

TAke 2 or 3 Ounces of the Water of simple Pimpernel, distill'd in Balneo, and put this into a little Pot or Porringer of Rose-Copper; then put into it about the Bigness of a Hazel-nut, or a Filbert, of strong Quick-lime: Cover the Pot, and let the Ingredients lie in it 'till the Liquor hath acquir'd a bluish Colour. Then very warily pour off the clear, and add to it as much live Honey, as will give a little, or but little Taste: Use it after the wonted Manner of such Waters; and if you find it too strong, dilute it a little with Water of the same Plant, or good Spring-water, which, for Need, may be used from first to last, instead of the Water of Pimpernel.

See Numb. (19.)

LXXXI. Eye-

LXXXI. Eye-Water.

TAke Red Rose-water, Plantane-water, of each an Ounce; Tutia prepared, half a Scruple; Lapis Lazuli prepared 6 Grains, Red Coral prepared 5 Grains; mix, and make a Collyrium, or Eye-water.

This dropped into the Eyes, being first well shaken, cures Inflammations of the Eyes, provided there be no great Foulness, nor scrophulous Disposition in the Patient. It takes off the Redness of the Eye-lids, if with a Sponge dipt in it, the Eye-lids be often wetted, it takes off Films very well.

LXXXII. A safe and useful Medicine to prevent Dryness, and some other Disaffections of the Eyes.

TAke of choice Virgin-Honey, 2 Spoonfuls, of Succory-water, or the distilled Water, of each 4 Spoonfuls; mix them, and in a very clean Vessel over a very gentle Fire, let them evaporate (taking off from Time to Time any Scum that may arise) till the Mixture be brought to the Consistence of a Syrup (or of Honey) keep this in a Glass well stopp'd, and make Use of it, by letting fall a Drop or 2, or at most 3 of it, at a Time, into the Eye.

See Numb.

LXXXIII. Tb

LXXXIII. The Medicine of a famous Emperick for the Stone.

TAKE Amber (clear or yellow) Sea-horse Pizzle and Nitre, of each a like Quantity, (Note well, in Case of Ulcerated Kidnies, put half the Quantity of the Amber) and an eighth Part of the Nitre (of natural Balsam.) Pulverize each apart, and make them up into Pills with Chios, (or at least clean Strasburg Turpentine) take 5, 6 or 7 Pills (of about 10 to an Ounce) Morning and Evening.

See Numb. (21.)

LXXXIV. An excellent Medicine for Fits of the Mother.

Several Necessary Notes Explicating, Illustrating, or Enlarging some of the Heads in the preceeding Volume.

Numb. (1.) For the Bloody-Flux, or other Fluxes. See Page 4.

Take Japan Earth, Powder of Rhubarb, each equal Parts; of which give half a Dram at a Time every Morning fasting.

Numb. (2.) A good Medicine for the Dropsie. See p. 5.

Note, an Infusion of Mechoacan in White-wine (an Ounce and half thin sliced to a Pint) being infused 24 Hours, and drank of every Morning for some Days, is a most admirable Thing, and if a little Mustard-Seed be infused in it, it will be so much the better.

Numb. (3.) A Medicine for Blood-shot or inflam'd Eyes. See p. 6.

THere is no better Remedy for inflamed Eyes, than to wash them every Day several times with this. Take Frogs-Spawn-water a Pint, Salt of Tartar a Dram; mix and dissolve, and wash therewith.

Numb. (4.) A good and innocent Dentrifice. See p. 7.

BUT that which exceeds all, is a fine Powder of Red Coral, with which you may rub them 2 or 3 times a Day, and then wash them with Water in which Sal Prunellæ is dissolved.

Numb. (5.) To prevent or cure an Ague.
See p. 13.

TAke Gratings of Angelica-Root, Flowers of Antimony, of each half a Dram, choice Canary 3 Ounces: Infuse in a cold Place for 1 or 2 Days, and pour off the clear for 2 Doses: It is a singular good Vomit for the Cure of Agues of all Sorts, being given ven in the Morning fasting, 4 or 6 Hours before the coming of the Fit; and if it be not a Quotidian Ague, then on the intermitting Day.

Numb. (6.) An useful Drink for the King's-Evil. See p. 24.

THere is no better thing in the World for the King's-Evil, than to give daily some Spoonfuls of this following Liquor. Take White-wine a Quart, Juice of Pellitory of the Wall a Pint, Spirit of Wine half a Pint, Sal Prunellæ an Ounce; mix and dissolve, then pour off the clear, and sweeten with White Sugar. Dose 6 Spoonfuls Morning and Night.
