The compleat method of curing almost all diseases: to which is added, an exact description of their several symptoms / written in Latin, by ...
Thomas Sydenham; and now faithfully Englished.

Contributors

Sydenham, Thomas, 1624-1689

Publication/Creation

London: Printed, and are to be sold by Randal Taylor ..., 1694.

Persistent URL

https://wellcomecollection.org/works/jd929qru

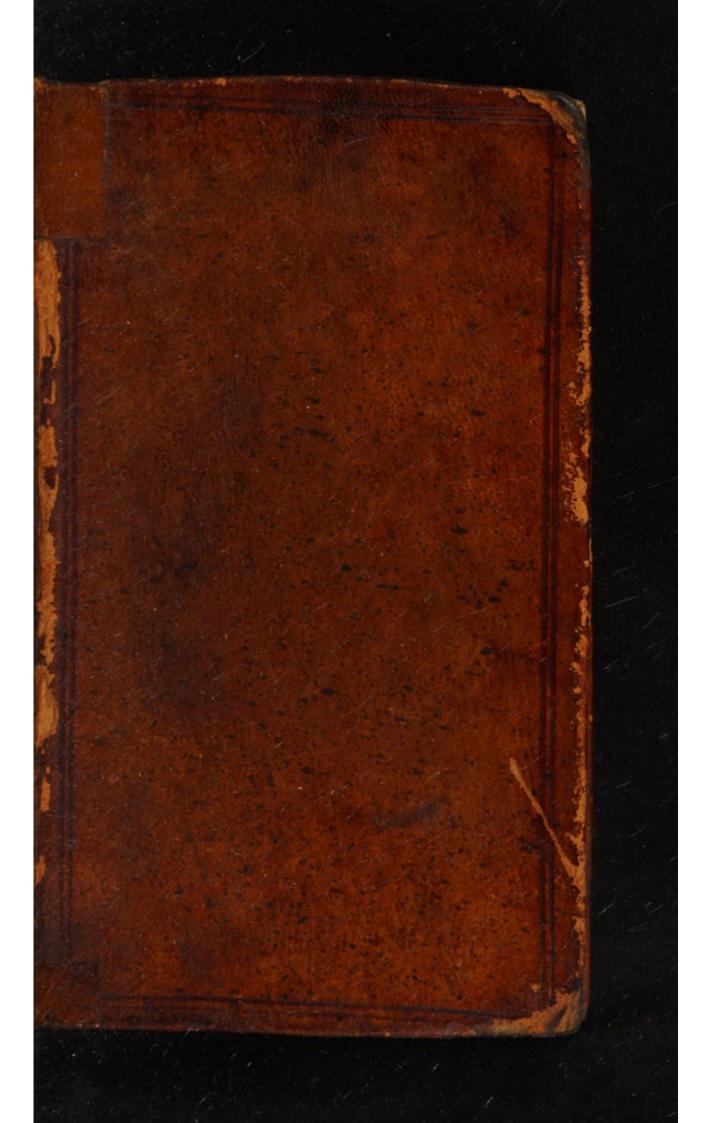

License and attribution

This work has been identified as being free of known restrictions under copyright law, including all related and neighbouring rights and is being made available under the Creative Commons, Public Domain Mark.

You can copy, modify, distribute and perform the work, even for commercial purposes, without asking permission.

Wellcome Collection 183 Euston Road London NW1 2BE UK T +44 (0)20 7611 8722 E library@wellcomecollection.org https://wellcomecollection.org

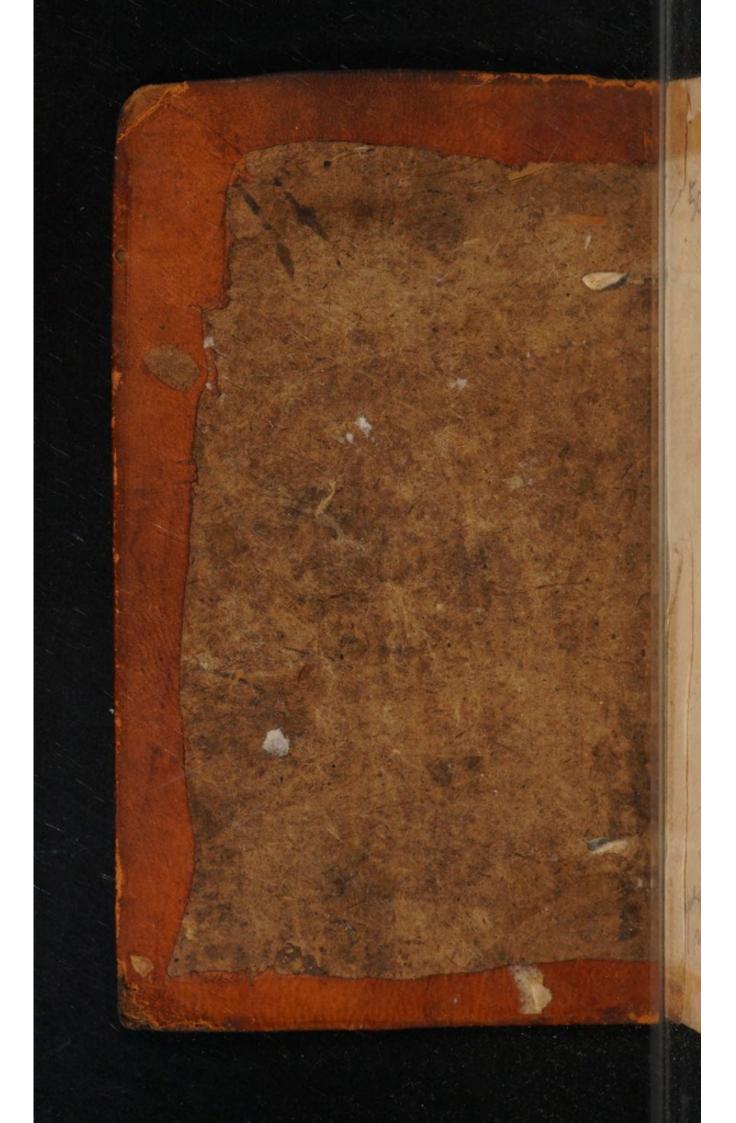

R: 48 30002 50490 /A a 1631

41-

1. Horn

Compleat Method

CURING

Almost all

DISEASES.

To which is added, An Exact Description Of their several

SYMPTOMS.

Written in Latin, by Dr. Thomas Sydenham,
And now faithfully Englished.

Printed, and are to be Sold by Randal Taylor, near Stationers-hall, 1694.

30002

Mis And

Pill

THE R

B.S

The Translators

PREFACE:

Hough Custom, and the Quality that I have assumed, of a Tranflator, seem to require, and the Reader will probably expect, that the Russness of this Preface should be to praise my Author, and recommend his Book to the Public, and though perhaps never any had two more alluring Subjects to enlarge upon, yet I am resolved to say nothing, or, at least, very little on either of rem. They are best able to do these Offices to one another; and I dare neither attempt to write Dr. Sydenham's Elogy, nor give a ChaA 2 racter

I were so much a Friend to the Book seller, as to run the hazard of the Reader's Censure for his sake, and endeavour to promote the Sale of the Book, by shewing how much it is the Interest of all those who have any Concern for the Recovery or Preservation of their Health, to buy and peruse it; I do not think that I could thereby do him any considerable Service. For the Care and Skill of the Printer and Book-binder doth much more effectually recommend a Book to the Generality of Buyers, than the Commendatory Preface of a Translator.

I shall content my self, therefore, with assuring the Reader in general, that he will find all that is promis'd in the Title Page, abundantly made good in the Book: In which, besides a compleat Method of Cure, he will meet with short and clear Accounts of the Symptoms of most Diseases incident to Mankind, with succinct Histories of the Progress and Periods of many of em 3 which as it is perhaps one of the most useful, and yet hitherto most neglected parts of Physic, our Author laboured with incredible Industry

A CAUTH

ing tof

nas la litte

the like

MAG

100 $ 500

As for ting gt from the the fra

eters !

of the

DENIES

of the 剛信 denha

TORNO

Volume.

alex G

日報的

Habit

(1)27.

857

to cultivate; and the happy Success of his Endeavours herein, seems to be chiefly oming to that uncommon Sagacity of which he was Master, and which was peculiar to him. It may not be unfit also to advertise the Reader, that the Medicines here commended are all of 'em very safe, and for the most part easy to be had, and at low Rates. As for their Fitness for the Uses to which they are adapted, I leave it to be guess'd from the Author's extraordinary Success in the Practice of Physic, which I have heard even some of his greatest Enemies acknowledge with Admiration. And in Cases of this Nature, it is not ill Logic to make use of the Happiness of the Event, for an Argument to prove the Fitness and Excellency of the Means. In a word, the Reader will find in this Book all that made Dr. Sydenham so deservedly famous, that Method and those Medicines with which be fav'd so many Lives, and perhaps more than was ever before published in so small a Volume, in any Language what soever. Not a few General Precepts and Aphorisms, or a paultry Coliection of Receipts, but a Methodical and almost compleat Body of Phyisc.

2000

Top

MAN!

100

& Crie

Min

of for $9721 to fina

17.0

Plan

Bit to 10

Non

斯品

710 the राह्य

The Se

sic, in a few Sheets. And I know not whether this be not the only Book, at least on this subject, of which it may be said justly and without a Bull, that it affords Matter of Study for as many Years, as it may be read, and understood too, in Hours, by any intelligent Person.

As for what concerns my self, and my Performance in the Translation, it will, I think, be sufficient to declare, that I have done all that I design'd to do, which was to render the Book into English, with all possible Fidelity, and the greatest Exactness I could. And as this did neither cost me much Time nor Trouble, so I am very willing to acknowledge, that the Public hath no great Obligation to me for it, nor do I pretend to any right to their Thanks for my Pains.

Iam satisfied that my Design was innocent and good, and that it doth not at all require any Apology to be made for it; nor am I so sond of that Employment, as to undertake it without Necessity. But there is an Objection against all Works of this nature, that is too commonly urged, and with too great Apapearance.

tt la

£44

13

OST,

1 1

ME

ritat

100

pearance of Reason to be neglected. All Translations of Medicinal Books are by many judged to be not only useless but pernicious; and such as procure 'em to be published in the Vulgar Languages, are accused of no less a Crime, than of doing all they can to furnish Madmen with Weapons to murder themselves, and to expose the Lives of Men to the Mercy of Fools and Knaves. I acknowledge indeed; that the World, and perhaps this Nation more than any other part of it, is exceedingly peftered with Quacks. I am, both by Inclination and Interest, very much their Enemy, and I believe themselves to be far greater Plagues than the Diseases they pretend to cure. There is hardly any thing that I could not more patiently bear to be accused of, than of contributing in the least to augment their. Numbers or Credit. And as my Conscience bears me Witness, that I was not guilty of any kind Design to them, when I began this Translation, so I am abundantly satisfied that they will not be able to draw any considerable Advantage from it, now that it is finished. The utter Abborrence I have of them and their pernicious Practises, makes me hate most Pretensions to Secrets in Physic, for.

Mag

Spot

HER H

占例

West

112 1

dia

Tony

HEG

Water !

Philip

tital p

例

知过

西山

for their sakes. And I verily believe, that there is nothing that bath done greater disservice to the Honour and Interest of Physicians, than their over-carefulness to conceal the Knowledge of the Art which they profess from the Public. I will not deny, but that there are some things that may and ought to be kept secret, and perhaps might have been better delivered by way of Cabala, than published in any Language what soever. But to endeavour to make a Mystery of all, is not only contrary to mbe Practice of the Professors of all other Arts and Sciences, but also, as I hinted before, of very bad consequence to Physicians themselves. For Men will be apt to suspect, and think too that they have reason to do so, that there must be a great deal of Mischief, or very little true Worth in that which is hid with so much care, and that they are either afraid or ashamed to expose it to light. Few would be willing to trust themselves to the Conduct of a Guide, who would not suffer them to see where he led them; and the generality of People dislike Implicit Obedience, in what concerns the Body, as much, if not more, than in those things that relate to the Soul. Men

MI

Bet.

it

let.

Men are indeed by this means kept in Ignorance, and consequently are Untractable; Superstitious and Fanciful, which whether they be desireable Qualifications in a Patient, let any reasonable Person determine. Their Want of Knowledge doth also expose them to the Impostures of Empirics, who, like all other Juglers, love to play in the Dark. Thus we see that the Ignorant are the Quacks best Customers, and who is there that hath read the Works of but one Learned Physician, that would not tremble to put his Life into the Hands of a Mountebank.

These and divers other Considerations make me very inclinable to believe, that if the greatest, or, at least, the best part of Physical Books, were put into such Languages as are commonly understood, whatever particular and accidental Inconveniencies might possibly follow thereupon, yet in the general, both the Number and Credit of Quacks would be exceedingly diminished. They would then be more easily discovered, nor would they find so many Cullies. Men would not fancy themselves able enough to be their own Physicians, much less mould they suffer digital

Exte

the !

Teste

suffer themselves to be fooled by the Impudence of an Ignorant Impostor. And, of all the Books in the World, this, that I have taught to speak its Author's native Language, seems to be one of the least dangerous to be read and understood by the Unlearned. Tis true indeed, that any Person that is Master of a tolerable Judgment and Capacity, and shall read with Application any one Chapter of this Book, especially of such as treat of Internal Diseases, which are the Physicians peculiar Province, will certainly be thereby very much improved in so important a Part of Knowledge. But it is no less certain, that this Improvement of his Knowledge will be, equally for the Advantage of the Learned Physician, and the Empiric's Confusion; as that which will enable him to discorn the Skill and Sagacity of the Former, and the Rashness and Ignorance of the Latter, and consequently make him Love and Esteem the one, as much as he will Detest and Contemn the other.

After all, as I am consident, that all honest and judicious Persons, whether Physicians or others, will ever Honor the Illustrious Memory

Memory of my Author; so neither am I altogether without Hopes, that they will Excuse, and perhaps also (which is more than I either desire, or pretend to deserve) Thank

Capa-

to as relie

THE P

BIL

For-

The Translator.

The

Tall the first of the sand folds Mix the Tal COCCE, COCCE IN THE PARTY OF TH

The common Purging Potion.

Take half an ounce of Tamarinds, two drams of Sena Leaves, one dram and a half of Rhubarb; boil them in a sufficient quantity of Spring-water to three ounces: Then strain them, and dissolve in the liquor, Manna and solutive Syrup of Roses, of each one ounce Mix them for a Potion.

The Common Vomit.

Take of the Water of Carduus Benedictus two ounces, the Infusion of Crocus Metallorum one ounce, Syrup of Clove-gillislowers half an ounce; mix them for a Vomit, which is to be taken about four a Clock in the Afternoon, drinking a large draught of Posset after every vomiting.

The Pearl Julep.

Take Black-cherry water, Milk-water, of each three ounces; Barley, Cinnamon-water, one ounce, Prepar'd Pearl a dram and an half, Sugar-candy as much as is sufficient; add Damask-rose-water half a dram. Mix them for a Bulep:

Julep. Dose four or five spoonfuls in sickness, or fainting fits.

The Cordial Julep.

pombs add all

はない which

Mid

12 5

Time I

Spin

油

POST

勒急

ECA:

Take Milk water, Black-cherry water, of each three ounces; Plague water, Syrup of Cove Gillistowers, Syrup of the Juice of Citrons, of each half an ounce. Mix them, and make a Julep, which is to be taken frequently.

The Decoction for a Diet-drink.

Take Roots of Sarsaparilla, six ounces; Salsafras and China, of each two ounces; Liquorish, one ounce; boil them in two Gallons of Spring water for the space of half an hour, after which let them stand in a close Vessel on hot ashes twelve hours; then boil them again to the consumption of a third part of the water; and assoon as you take the liquor from the fire, insuse into it half an ounce of Aniseseeds: after it hath stood two hours more strain it, and let it stand till it grow clear, then pour off the liquor into Glass-bottles well stopp'd, and reserve it for use. This is to be used for ordinary drink and continued thirty days.

The Opening and Antiscorbutic Apazem.

Take the Roots of Grass, Cichory, Fennel and Asparagus, of each one ounce; Currans and Raisins stond, of each two ounces; Leaves of Liverwort, Harts tongue and Maiden-hair, of each one handful; Leaves of Brook-lime (added ded towards the end) two handfuls; boil them in a sufficient quantity of Spring water to two pounds (or a quart) to which toward the end add half a pint of Rhenish Wine. Then strain them, and while the liquor is yet hot, insuse in it for two hours in a close Vessel one handful of the Leaves of Garden Scurvygrass. After which strain again, and add Syrup of the five Roots, Syrup of Orange juice, of each two ounces; Barley, Cinnamon water, one ounce. Mix them and make an Apozem, the Dose of which is half a pint, every morning and at 5 in the afternoon for fourteen days together.

127, 0 mp et of the m, and · 52 on of con-

of the 是是是是是

はは

The thickening Eclegma (or licking Medicine) for a Cough.

Take Oil of Sweet Almonds, one ounce; Syrups of Red Poppy, of Pursiain and of Jujubes, and (the licking Medicine call'd) Lohor Sanum, of each half an ounce; Sugar-candy a sufficient quantity. Mix them in a Marble Mortar for the space of an hour, and make a perfectly mix'd Licking Medicine, which is to be kept in a Galley pot for use. It is to be taken frequently, licking ir off of a Liquorish stick.

An Eclegma that thickens more powerfully.

Take Conserve of Red Roses, Syrup of Violets and of Meconium, of each one ounce; White Poppy Seeds, three drams. Beat them together, and strain them through a Hair Sieve, then add express'd Oil of Nutmeg, six grains. Make an Eclegma.

B 2

In a thin Defluxion.

Take Conserve of Red Roses, two ounces; Syrup of Meconium and of Jujubes, of each one ounce; Olibanum, Mastick and Amber, of each one dram; express'd Oil of Nutmegs, six grains. Mix them and make a Lohoch, which is to be lick'd often. You may take twice every day a spoonful of this Eclegma, pouring into it Balfam of Sulphurs anisated from eight to twelve drops.

Purging Ale.

Take Polypody of the Oak, one pound; Roots of Monks Rheubarb, Sena Leaves, and ston'd Raisins, of each half a pound; Rheubarb slic'd and Horse Radish Roots, of each three ounces; Leaves of Garden Scurvy-grass and Sage, of each four handfuls; four Orenges slic'd. Insuse them in five or six gallons of Ale not hopped, while it is fermenting; and when it is ripen'd, use it instead of your ordinary drink for sourceen or one and twenty days, especially drink a draught of it every morning.

The Hysterical Plaister.

Take Galbanum dissolv'd in Tincture of Castoreum and strain'd, three drams; Taramahac, two drams. Make a Plaister for the Navel.

Tan

(CR1)

Tik

double of Boo

Prin

Of the Wie

trouse mecion adios

all hop

1 ditte

[Met

SR JUST

of the b

同面

THE THE PERSON NAMED IN COLUMN

明的

A Purging Medicine for young Infants.

Take one small spoonful of Syrup of Cichory with Rheubarb.

The bitter Purging Decoction.

of each

idia

it Bei

THE P

Rha-

600

-grati ties

the.

Take of the bitter Decoclion prepar'd with a double quantity of Sena, four ounces; Syrup of Buckthorn, one ounce; Electuary of the juice of Roses, two drams. Mix' them for a Potion.

Of the Disease called in Women, the Hysterical; in Men the Hypochondraical Passion.

When by any grievous accident the Soul is troubled, the animal Spirits run into disorderly motions; the Urine appears sometimes limpid, and in great quantity; the fick persons cast off all hope of recovery; and portend the most dismal things to themselves. Whatfoever part of the body the Disease doth affect (and it affecteth many) immediately the fymptoms that are proper to that part appear; in the Head, the Apoplexy, which ends in a Palfy of one half of the body, comes presently after Child-bearing; iometimes they are feized with Convulsions, that very much resemble the Epilepsy, and are commonly called the Suffocation of the womb, in which the Belly and Entrails rife upwards towards the Throat: At other times they are miserably tormented with the Hysterical Clavus, in which there is a most vehement pain in the head, which . B 3 which you may cover with your thumb, the fick person in the mean time vomiting up green Matter like to that fort of Choler that has its name from Leeks. The Paroxysm doth also counterfeit the Palpitation of the Heart, the Cough, the Colic and Iliac Passions, the Stone and Suppression of Urine: it is attended with prodigious vomitings, and fometimes with a Diarrhaa; outwardly in the musculous Flesh it causes sometimes Pains, and sometimes swellings. In the Legs it is like a Dropfie, nor (which is wonderful) doth it leave the Teeth unrouch'd. The Back is often cruelly pain'd; and almost always the external parts are so cold that a dead body is not more. The fick persons break out ridiculously into excessive Laughter and Tears without any cause; and are somerimes troubled with spitting to such a degree, as were enough to make one believe that they had been anointed with Mercury. Hysterical Pains whatfoever part they affect, leave a Tenderness behind them that cannot endure to be touch'd, as if the Flesh had been beaten.

Let Blood be taken away to the quantity of eight ounces.

Apply the Plaister of Galbanum to the Nawel: And next morning let the fick person begin to use the following Pills.

Take of the Pills call'd Cochia the greater, two drams; Castereum powder'd, two grains; Balsam of Peru, three drops: Make twelve Pills; of which take four every morning, or every second day, according to your strength, about four or five of the clock, sleeping after them.

Take-

Th

Boog

超麗

Tin Tin

1453

田田田田

此即

1005 and:

Tab

Code

CBC0 00

peter

20 (0)

CTATE

超速

Citto

Mainte Tel

Set di

it total 100 ditte

Th

Me

師 book

Take Rue water four ounces, compound Briony water two ounces, Cafforeum tyed in a knor, and hung in the Glass, half a dram; Sugar-candy a sufficient quantity. Of this take four or five spoonfuls in every Fit. After the Pills take what follows.

Take Filings of Steel eight grains, and with a sufficient quantity of Extract of Wormwood, make three Pills; which must be taken early in the morning, and repeated at five in the afternoon, for thirty days, drinking after them a draught of Wormwood Wine.

a like

green

即即

(f) and

th, the Store d with

With a t dist

s fuel-a by

Teth

tion or erios.

etici

e foor-

代. 15

門屋

Pain

Midd

2000

讲 N e No

四 pit the

If the form of a Bolus be more grateful,

Take Conserve of Roman Wormwood, and Conserve of the yellow part of Orenges, of each one ounce; preserv'd Angelica, Numeg preserv'd, Treacle of Andromochas, of each half an ounce; compound Powder of Aron threedrams, preserv'd Ginger two drams, with a sufficient quantity of the Syrup of the juice of Citrons, or (in want of that) Syrup of Orenges, make an Electuary.

Take of this Electuary two drams, Filings of Steel eight grains, and with a sufficient quantity of Syrup of Orenges make a Bolus, which is to be taken morning and evening, drinking after it a draught of Wormwood Wine, or six spoonfula of the following Infusion.

Take Roots of Angelica, Elicampane, and Masterwort, of each one ounce; Leaves of common Wormwood, lesser Centory, white Horehound and Germainder, of each one handful the Barks of two Orenges slic'd; pour upon them so much Spanish Wine as will rise two inches above them, and strain it at the time of using it. Or

To delicate persons the Steel may be given in 自 de t

No.

fre

Bil

武范

Tie

弘

Boss

DE 1933

tion,

State Bar

रिटा होता

Water

助

THE

toets

Ton Con

比较出 from 始始

Salah Comm

trais

[mill

WEIGH

the form of a Powder, as follows.

Take Filings of Steel finely powder'd one ounce, compound Powder of Arm fix drams, Corlander feed prepar'd, feeds of Anife and sweet Fennel, of each half an ounce; the best Cinnamon, red Coral prepar'd, of each three drams; Nutmeg two drams: Beat them all into a very fine Powder, to which add of the best white Sugar to the weight of all the rest. Take half a dram of this Powder in a Spoon, twice a day, four days together, and afterwards a whole dram twice every day for forty days, drinking after it six spoonfuls of the tollowing Julep, or of Wormwood and Wine.

Take Milk water twelve ounces, compound Gentian water four ounces, Wormwood water of the greater composition two ounces; White Sugar a sufficient quantity: Make a Julep. Or,

Take half a pint of Rhenish Wine prepar'd with Wormwood, compound Gentian water two ounces, Syrup of Clove Gillistowers one ounce: Make a Julep.

Take choice Myrrh, Galbanum, and Affafætida, of each one dram; Caftoreum half a dram, with a sufficient quantity of the Balsam of Peru, make them up into Pills, twelve out of each dram; of which take three every night, drinking after them three or four spoonfuls of compound Bryony water, during the whole process of the Cure.

If these Pils move the Belly, use these that follow.

Take Castoreum, one dram; volatil salt of Amber, half a dram; with a sufficient quantity of extract of Rue, make sour and twenty Pills;

of which take three every night, drinking after them three or four spoonfuls of the Hysterical Julep.

Spirit of Harts-horn exhibited frequently to fixteen or eighteen drops, is of excellent use.

But if the Disease dorh not yield to these remedies, then take the following Pills.

Mil d one

2 500

60 hie

Tete

Vie 2

rhole

100

Or, bill

120

S (OC)

からから

Take Troches of Myrrh powder'd, one scruple, Balsom of Sulphur terebinthinated sour drops; with a sufficient quantity of Gum Ammoniac disolv'd make four Pills; which must be taken morning and evening, drinking after them sour or sive spoonfuls of the Hysterical Julep, with twelve drops of Spirit of Harts-horn.

The Antiscorbutic Electuary, with the Water there described, is good also in this Disease, and likewise the corroborating Electuary, with the addition of Conserve of Garden Scurvy-Grass, one ounce; compound powder of Aron, six drams, drinking after it the forementioned Water.

But if all these Remedies prove ineffectual, you must have recourse to the waters that partake of Iron; and if these also do no good, to those that are sulphureous, such as are the Bath waters.

Concerning the use of the Mineral waters these things are to be observed. If any bad symptom appear, which may be ascribed to the drinking of the water, in such a case you must abstain from them, till the symptom disappear. Continue the use of them for six weeks at least, or rather two months. Eat now and then preserv'd Ginger, or Caraway seeds confested to warm the stomach. You may also take three of the

Costas

問題

Titl

itts 510

a feeter

an mic

March .

Table

en th

Cores

and the

I W

and the

Politi

明故

Alta

hi Bri

理证

Walt

kilos

To Edite

क्षित्र क

gring 5

Pain

BEN S

學如

- His

the Hysterical Pills the first ten nights, drinking after them four or five spoonfuls of the Hysterical Julep.

As for the Bath waters, you must dsink them two days, and bath in them the third, proceeding thus alternately six weeks or two months.

If the Steel heat the body too much, then during the use of it drink every fourth morning four pints of Mineral purging waters: Which though they move the belly, yet cause no agitation, as the purging medicines of the shops usually do.

Of the Depuratory, or cleanfing Fever of the Years 1661, 62, 63, 64.

If the fick person be young he must be let blood in the arm, and the same day some hours after, or the next day, two hours after a light dinner let him take a Vomit of the insuson of Crocus Metallorum, and after that has done working, drink a Pacific Draught, such as that which follows.

Take Black-Cherry water one ounce and a half, Plague water half an ounce, liquid Laudanum fixteen drops: Mix them for a Draught.

From this to the eleventh or twelfth day, the following Clyster is to be injected every morning.

Take of the common Decoction for a Clyster one pound (or the like quantity of Cows milk) Brown Sugar and Syrup of Violets, of each two ounces. Make a Clyster.

After that day suffer his Belly to be constipated, that so the Febrile Matter may the sooner be concocted, to which purpose also moderate CorCordials exhibited during these last days, are very useful; as,

Take Powder of Crabs claws compound fourteen grains, Electuary de Ovo half a scruple, with a sufficient quantity of Syrup of Clove-gillislowers make a Bolus, which may be taken every eight hours, drinking after it five or six spoonfuls of the following Julep.

Take Milk water, Black-Cherry water, of each three ounces; Plague water and Syrup of Clove-gilliflowers, of each one ounce: mix them and make a Julep, or fuch like.

If you diligently observe this method, you will usually about the fifteenth day perceive (both by the laudable breaking of the Lirine, and the manifest remission of all the Symptoms) that it is time to exhibit the common purging Potion.

Of the Pestilential Fever of the Years, 1665, 66.

After the fick person hath been let blood in his Bed, let him be cover'd all over with Cloths, and his Forehead bound about with a piece of Woollen Cloth: and then if he doth not vomit, let some Medicine to procure Sweat be exhibited to him.

bited to him; as

A STATE OF THE PARTY OF THE PAR

MOLY.

祖北

訓

Take Treacle of Andromachus half a dram, Electuary de Ovo one scruple, Powder of Crabsclaws compound twelve grains, Cochinel eight grains, Saffron four grains, with a sufficient quantity of the juice of Kermes make a Bolus, which must be repeated every sixth hour, drinking after it six spoonfuls of the following Julep.

Take Carduus Benedictus water, and compound Scordium water, of each four ounces; d still'd Treacle water, two ounces; Syrup of Clove-gillislowers, one ounce: mix them for a Julep.

But if he be troubled with a vomiting, the Sudorific ought not to be given till the weight of the Cloths alone make the Sweat begin to appear, his Face being in the mean while cover'd with part of the Sheets:

The Sweat thus begun must be promoted with repeated draughts of Sage Posset, or Beer boil'd with a little Mace, and continued in this manner the space of a natural day, or 24 hours; uring which time he may be allow'd some dcomfortable Broths for his refreshment.

After the breaking forth of a Swelling, I durst not open a Vein. Let the sick person keep his Bed sour and twenty hours after the Sweating is over, and diligently avoid all manner of Cold, suffering his Shirt to dry of it self upon his body. Let him drink nothing but what is hot, and still persist in the use of Sage Posser: Next morning let him take the common purging Potion.

The Years 1667, 1668, produc'd the Small-Pox, and a Fever partaking of their nature.

In the Years 1669, 70, 71, 72. A Dysen-terical Fever reign'd.

And the Years 1673, 74, 75, were infested with a Comaton or Sleepy Fever.

I do not inside upon the cure of these Fevers, because I am of opinion that they might have been cur'd by the method describ'd in the a count of the Fever of the Years, 1685, 500.

Th

though

PECALIF

他民 then 100

400, 1

Hod

MED

$350

Din.

TO STATE

Die

Wite

Ber

Winds.

100 m

性物

版品

京の

Of Intermitting Fevers.

t;d .

lor a e, te

Telet

1089-

306

HAR

Box

1 100

MUS

fore

10

O keep great-ner el

spen lat is Politi tal.

They begin with Cold and Shivering, which is immediately followed with Heat, and that with Sweating, after which the Fever disappears, though during the first days of the Disease, especially in Autumn, there sometimes happens a Remission, rather than a proper Intermission of the Fever. Both the cold and hot sit are for the most part attended with an inclination to vomit, vehement sickness, thirst and driness of the Tongue. The swelling of the Abdomen in Children, and of the Fever: The Pain in the Jaws, Hoarseness, Hollow Eyes, and a ghastly Countenance portend Death.

Take of the Peruvian Bark finely powder'd, one ounce, and with a sufficient quantity of Syrup of Clove-gillislowers, or of dry'd Roses, make an Electuary, to be divided into twelve Doses, of which one is to be taken every four hours, drinking after it a draught of any sort of Wine, beginning immediately after the Fit.

But if these Bolus's move the Belly, pour tendrops of liquid Laudanum into the draught of Wine after every second Dose, as you see occasion.

To prevent Relapses (especially of Quartans) the foregoing process must be thrice repeated in the three following weeks.

If the form of Pills be more grateful,

Take the Peruvian Bark powder'd, one ounce; and with a sufficient quantity of Syrup of Clove-gillishowers make Pills of a moderate bigness;

ness; of which take fix every fourth hour. I fourt Take of the Peruvian Bark powder'd, two 1 ounces, Rhenish wine two pounds (or a quart). I have Let them stand together in a cold Infusion, and I am strain them through a Woollen Cloath. Dose: hath three ounces every fourth hour.

Another method of curing Tertians.

of the

WE COOL

Take Virginian Snakeweed finely powder'd, fifteen grains, White-wine three ounces: Give: | | | it to the fick person two hours before the Fit, and covering him with cloaths let him fweat: three or four hours: Repeat the same Doses the: two following Fit-days in the fame manner.

Of Intermitting Fevers in Children.

Take Black-Cherry water, and Rhenish wine, of each two ounces; the Peruvian Bark in fine: powder, three drams; Syrup of Clove-gilliflowers one ounce: Mix them, and make a Julep. Dose, a spoonful or two, according to the Childs Age, every fourth hour, till the Fits return no more; pouring into every fecond Dofe, if there: be a Diarrhæa, one or two drops of liquid Laudanum.

Of the present Fever from the year 1685 to 90.

The figns are Heat and Cold coming by turns Pain in the Head and Limbs, the Pulse in the means time almost well, sometimes a Cough, a Pain about the Neck and Jaws, the exacerbation of the Fever towards night, unquietness, thirst, the Tongue:

Tongue either moist and cover'd all over with a white and rough film, or dry and of a dark colour in the middle, which is compast about with a whitish border. They that constantly keep their Beds are thereby expos'd to Coma's and Phrenfies; and Spots, Purple Specks, Miliar Eruptions (as they are call'd) which are redder than Measles, irregularity of the Pulse, starting of the Tendons, and at last Death are the effects of a hot Regimen. In the beginning Symptomatical Sweats appear, which if provok'd by art, break forth clammy in the Head, and translate the morbific matter to the Head or Limbs.

Let the fick person be let blood in the Arm, and ten ounces of Blood taken from him; which must be repeated, if difficulty of Breathing, a rending Pain in the Head, with a Cough, and other signs of a bastard Peripneumonia appear. For in this case both the letting of Blood and Purging must be constantly repeated till the fick perfon recover.

A ARTA

si i, two 100, 200

4 Dits

owing.

de in 06213

(A 1825)

自然 all or a lette

e Chis

if there

Hill

At night let a Bliffering Plaister be apply'd, and the next morning a Lenitive Potion preferib'd, which must be thrice repeated every second day; and always after Purging a composing Draught is to be taken at night.

Take Cowslip water three ounces, Syrup of Meconium one ounce, juice of Limons newly prest out, two spoonfuls: Mix them for a Draught.

Blisters in the Mouth and Throat, as also the Hickup do sometimes come of themselves after the Fever is cur'd, and usually go away of themselves quickly after. But if they stay long, they may be easily driven away by one ounce of the

Halt

即能

Hotto de

Caler

(%)

leter e

With 2

PERM

766 B5

Totale:

割知

散師

E appe

det of 助力 then

同か

the Peruvian Bark, reduc'd into an Electuary or Pills with the Syrup of Red Poppies, drinking after every dose a draught of Whey. This Remedy will most certainly prove effectual, it its vertue be not eluded by constant lying in a Bed.

In those days that are free from Purgation the following things are to be prescrib'd.

Take Conserve of Wood-Sorrel, of Sweetbriar, of each one ounce; Conserve of Barberies half an ounce, Cream of Tartar one dram; with a sufficient quantity of Syrup of Limons make an Electuary; of which take about the bigness of a Nurmeg thrice in the day, drinking after it six spoonfuls of the following Julep.

Take Water of Purssain, of Lettuce and of Cowssips, of each three ounces; Syrup of Limons one ounce and a half, Syrup of Violets one ounce: Mix them and make a Julep.

If the Stomach be so disorder'd by the Fever, that it cannot retain a Potion, prescribe the Pills Cochia the greater, two scruples for a dose, and also a Medicine to procure Sleep; for example, one grain and a half of London Laudanum, with the like quantity of Mastick, or eighteen drops of liquid Laudanum in one ounce of Barley Cinnamon water.

Let the fick person drink the white Decoction on, and Small Beer also at his pleasure.

Of the Fever of the present Constitution in Children.

Let two Leeches be applied, one behind each Ear, and a Blistering Plaister to the hinder parts of the Neck.

Let them be purg'd with the Infusion of Rheusbarb in Beer.

If after Purgation the Fever feem to intermit, give them the Julep with the Peruvian Bark, defcrib'd in the Chapter of Intermitting Fevers in Children.

Of the Scarlet Fever.

Children are chiefly infested with it about the latter end of Summer. At the first they are seiz'd with a coldness and shivering, yet are not they very sick. The whole Skin is spotted with little red specks, that are thicker, broader, and of a redder colour than in the Measles. They continue two or three days, and then disappear, and the upmost Skin falling off, that which is under it appears stain'd with Measly Scales.

Take burnt Harts-horn and compound Powder of Crabs claws, of each half a dram; Cochinel two grains, Sugar-candy one dram: mix them, and beat them to a very fine Powder, to be divided into twelve Papers, of which one is to be taken every fixth hour, drinking after them two or three spoonfuls of the following Julep.

SELV OF STATE !

his Rea, 115

Settle

Babb

ginn's

LEUS

ACF 1830

diality.

230 66

oolh

et5 638

e Ferry

the file

te. 24

min's

加明和 er drops to Con-

1000

Take Black Cherry water, Milk-water, of each three ounces; Syrup of the juice of Citrons one ounce: Mix them and make a Julep.

Let a blistering Plaster be also apply'd to the hinder part of the Neck, and every night exhibit a composing Draught of Syrup of Meconium; and, the Symptoms ceasing, prescribe a Purging Medicine.

C 3

Of:

Till Strop

00t 000

Ames Tik

は十年 Separ-Ca

$00 BAI

fetite!

e Din

Dilm

theth

SU M

Seit Bi

THE OVE

Tite

threet

Of the Pleurifie.

It reigns between the Spring and Summer. It begins with Coldness and Shivering, which are quickly accompanied with Heat, Thirst, Unquietness and the other symptoms of a Fever. After a few hours a pricking pain is felt in one of the Sides, about the Ribs, which sometimes ftretches it self towards the Shoulder-blades, fometimes to the Back, and fometimes towards the Breast. The matter that is ejected with the Spittle in the beginning of the Disease appears thin and in little quantity, and is often mixt with particles of blood; but afterwards it is rais'd more copiously, is better concected, and still The Fever holds appears mixt with blood. pace with the Cough, spitting of blood and pain, and, according as the expectoration is more or: less free, abates by degrees. The Belly is some. times constipated, and sometimes too loose. The Blood of Pleuritic Persons resembles melted! Tallow, when it is cooled.

Let a Vein be opened in the Arm of the affected Side, and ten ounces of Blood extracted.

Take Red Poppy water four ounces, Sal Prunell a one dram, Syrup of Violets one ounce : Mix them for a Draught to be taken immediately after the first Blood-letting.

Take five Almonds peel'd, Seeds of Melons and Pompions, of each half an ounce; White Poppy Seeds three drams, Barley water once pound [pint] and an half; Rose water two drams, with a sufficient quantity of Sugar-candy make an Emultion according to art. Dole fourt Takee ounces every four hours.

Take of the Pectoral Decoction two pounds, Syrup of Violets, and of Maiden-hair, of each one ounce and a half; mix them and make an Apozem: Dose half a pound thrice in the day.

TakeOil of Sweet Almonds two ounces, Syrup of Violets and of Maiden-hair, of each one ounce; Sugar-candy as much as is sufficient: Mix them, and make an Eclegma or licking Medicine to be frequently used.

Oil of Sweet Almonds by it felf, or Linfeed

Oil may also be exhibited.

to be

f. lb rest.

1000 actions

- Next

DESC.

with the 100115

京和沙

15 FESS

et 1015

的性

SOLE W

ik The

DE STATE

(重位

松塘

がない

M.

Take Oil of Sweet Almonds, of Lillies, and the Ointment Dialthea, of each one ounce; mix and make a Linement, wherewith the affected Side may be anointed morning and evening, laying over it a Cabbage Leafe

The Letting of Blood must be repeated yet three times more, extracting still the same quantity of Blood for four days together; if the pain and difficulty of breathing seem to require it.

Of the Bastard Peripneumonia.

It begins to appear upon the approach of Winter, and oftentimes towards the end thereof. At the first the sick person is hot and cold by turns, he cannot stir without being troubled with dizziness or swimming of the head; his Cheeks or Eyes are red and instam'd; he coughs, and in coughing is tormented with a rending pain in the Head; he vomits up liquid things; his Lirine is thick, and very red, his Blood resembles that of a Pleuritic Person; he breathes thick and short, with a pain in his Breast. This Disease is plainly distinguished from a dry Aschma, in which no signs of a Fever appear, but in this are manifestly discover'd, though they are much more obscure and less violent than in a true Peripneumonia.

Let the fick person be let blood in the right Arm to the quantity of ten ounces, and the next day take this Potion.

Take extracted Cassia one ounce, Liquorish two drams, sour fat Figs, Leaves of Sena two drams and a half, Troches of Agaric one dram: Boil them in a sufficient quantity of Water to sour ounces; then strain, and dissolve in the liquor Manua one ounce, solutive Syrup of Roses half an ounce.

But if he cannot take a Potion, let him take two scruples of the Pills Cochia the greater, at four in the morning.

The day following let a Vein be open'd again, and the same quantity of Blood extracted as formerly, and the day after let the purging Medicine be again exhibited, and afterwards repeated once in three days. if the confideration of his strength do not require longer Intervals to be allow'd him. Moreover, if the Symptoms still continue, he must be again let blood once, twice, or oftner, interposing always some days, as you fee occasion; but for the most part the second Letting of Blood will be sufficient. In the mean time, while this method is profecuted, let him use the Pectoral Decoction, Eclegma and Oil of Sweet Almonds, prescrib'd in the foregoing Chapter, especially in the days that are free from Purgation.

126 300

Ren

(00501)

OPCIS

box eig

Krees

parcla

TELES

ing m

Abat It

到 (0

H DOL

man min

TOTAL IN

La

ATT.

4400

原物

は他

Park

學法

Mile]

10.00 To

Of the Rheumatism.

nt much true file ries un

SE THO

da:

225 10

ut, i

本語 西部 日本日 plash

ting,

20 10

(00)

In this Disease they are first taken with coldness and shivering, and the other symptoms of a Fever; and after a day or two (sometimes fooner) they are feiz'd with a most sharp rain, fometimes in one part and fometimes in another, but especially in the Wrists, Shoulders and Knees, which it leaves and affaults by turns, the part last affected remaining for some time after red and swoln. The Fever wears off by degrees, the pain still continuing, yea and fometimes raging more cruelly than before. In Rheumatic Aches of the Loins, there is a most violent pain that remains fix'd about the region of the Loins, and counterfeits the Stone; only the fick person is not troubled with a defire to vomit. He cannot lie in his Bed, but either leaps out of it, or fits upright in it, perpetually toffing his body backwards and forwards. The Blood is like that in a Pleurifie.

Let ten ounces of Blood be taken from the Arm, of the fide affected.

Take Water of Lettuce, Purslain and Water-Lillies, of each four ounces; Syrup of Limons one ounce and a half, Syrup of Violets one ounce: Mix and make a Julep to be drunk at pleasure.

Prescribe an Emulsion of the sour greater cold seeds; and a Cataplasm of the Crums of white Bread and Milk, ting'd with Sassron, to be apply d to the part affected.

The day after let the fame quantity of Blood be taken away as before, which must be repeated after a day or two, and the same operation must be reiterated four times, or oftner, if need require: Observing that after the second time there must still be greater intervals interpos'd.

let a Clyster of Sugared Milk be now and then injected, or that which follows.

Take of the common Decoction for a Clyster one pound, Syrup of Violets, and Brown Sugar, of each two ounces: Mix them for a Clyster.

If the Patients Weakness will not permit the repeated taking away of his blood, then after the second or third time, the Cure is to be thus atrempted.

Let him take the common Purging Potion every second day, while his illness continues, and the same nights a composing Draught of the Syrup of Meconium.

But if these Remedies prove inessectual, and the Feebleness of the Patient be such, that he cannot bear any Evacuations, let him use the Antiscorbutic Electuary and Water describ'd in the Chapter of the Scurvy, which are also useful in the Scorbutic Rheumatism.

In young persons, and such who are not much addicted to Wine, the Rheumatism may be as happily cured by a very cooling and indifferently nourishing Diet, as by repeated letting of blood, which they cannot so well bear. For example,

Let the Patient live only upon Whey four days together; and afterwards besides his Whey, he may, once in the day, instead of a Dinner, cata little Bread made of fine Flower, till he perfectly recover: Only during the last days of his Illness, he may be allowed to eat another piece

Diete di of the à 200 000

देशिया है।

世帯の

All th

Perm

Flank

theExe

Shireri

园村.

cansid

10 10

MIL!

thepri

loto |

liting

BELL II

Total Contract

id tak

ad then

Chili

Men.

William.

o siter

C 185

-6000

e of the d 100

e019*

t Bib

自動 delta 1

msch |

ertiti

Mad, C

mit.

Win.

inter.

anto.

APP (I)

湖 piece of Bread for his Supper. After the ceasing of the Symptoms, he may eat boil'd Chickens, and other Meats of easy digestion, observing every third day to feed only upon Whey, till he be perfectly restor'd to his former Health.

Of the Eryfipelatous Fever.

All the parts of the Body, especially the Face, are swoln, red and full of pain. The Face and Head are overspread with little, thick Pimples, which fometimes rise into Blisters, the Eyes are hid under the Swelling; Coldness, Shivering and other figns of a Fever do also appear. There is another species of this Disease, caus'd by the drinking of attenuating Liquors, in which there is a flight Fever, accompanied with Wheals, like the pushes that are caused by the pricking of Nettles, which sometimes rise up into Blifters, then immediately vanish, and lurking under the skin, where they occasion a very troublesome itching, after scratching they appear again. There is also another kind of Eruption, which usually breaks out in the Breast; and is a broad spot that hardly rises above the skin, being fcurfy and full of yellow Scales. The Person affected with it is well so long as it continues, but after its disappearing there follows a flight fickness, and the Ilrine looks troubled and yellow. It is cured with the same Remedies that are prescrib'd for a confirmed Itch. Let the Patient drink Wine, and feed upon Meats of easy digestion.

Let a Vein be open'd in the Arm, and nine or ten ounces of blood taken away. The next day let the common purging Potion be exhi-

Bix F

100円

Et foot

Tate

Lillies, of each one ounce; Leaves of Mallows, Elder, and Base Mullein, Flowers of Cammo-mil, and Melilot, Tops of St. Johns-wort and Lesser Centory, of each one handful; Lin-seed, Fennyreek seed, of each half an ounce. Boil them in a convenient quantity of water to three pounds; strain out the Liquor, and when you use it add to every pound two ounces of Spirits of Wine. Dip pieces of Woollen Cloth in this Decoction, and having squeez'd them, apply them hot twice every day, anointing the partt affected after somentation, with the followings mixture.

Take half a pound of Spirit of Wine; Treacles of Andromachus two ounces, powder of Longs Pepper and Cloves, of each two drams. Makee a Mixture, in which dip a piece of Brown Paper and wrap about the part affected.

If the first Letting of Blood be not sufficient: let it be repeated; and if the Disease still continue, the same must be reiterated yet once and again, interposing always one day.

In the days that are free from letting of blood prescribe a Clyster of Milk with Syrup of Vilolets, and cooling Emulsions and Juleps.

Of the raging Itch and other inveterate Diseases of the Skin, which are not curable by Letting of Blood and Purging.

Take Treacle of Andromachus half a dram, the Electuary de Ovo one scruple, the Root of Vir ginian Snakeweek in fine powder, fifteen grains; Oriential Bezoar, five grains: with a sufficient quantity of the Syrup of Citron pickle, make a Bolus, to be taken at the time of going to bed one and twenty days together, drinking after he fix spoonfuls of this Julep.

Take of Carduus Benedictus water, fix ounces, distill'd Treacle water, Plague water, of each two ounces; Syrup of Clove-gillistowers, one ounce: mix and make a Julep.

lows and

Canno worked, Lin-Ked, a. Rol

and lot of Spirit

od in this

D, 494

the part

ON THE

Treat

of Log

Mik

nes Par

低端

A 004

Let the Patient drink every morning half a pint of warm Posset, and sweat an hour after

This course being ended, if the Pimples still remain, let the parts affected be anointed with the following Liniment.

Take of the Ointment of sharp-pointed dock, two ounces; Pomate, one ounce; Flowers of Brimstone, three drams; Oleum Rhodij, half a scruple: make a Liniment.

But these Remedies ought not to be used, till the Patients Body hath been first duely prepar'd by letting of Blood and Purging.

Of the Quinfy.

The Quinfy doth most frequently occur betwixt the Spring and Summer. The first assault of the Fever is seconded by a pain and instamation of the Jaws; which together with the swelling of the Uvula, Tonsils and Laryux, renders the sick person unable either to swallow or breath.

Let'a Vein be opened in the Arm, and a great quantity of Blood taken away. Let the inflam'd inflam'd parts be touch'd with Honey of Roses, impregnated to a very high degree of acidity with Spirit of Vitriol, or of Sulphur, or with in Spirit of Vitriol alone. Presently after let the following Gargarism be prescribed, to be used, not after the usual manner, but held in the mouth, without any agitation, till it grow hot, and then spit out, and ever and anon repeated.

Sperm water, of each four ounces; the Whitess the four of three Eggs, by shaking reduc'd into water; Sugar-candy three drams: Mix and make at the Gargarism.

Let the cooling Emulsion prescribed for the: was Pleurify be daily used.

Next morning, unless the Fever and Dissiculty of Swallowing be abated, the Letting off Blood must be repeated, and the Purgation delay'd till the day after, which otherwise oughts to have been attempted with some lenitive Medicine.

If after all the Disease doth continue (which happens very rarely) both the Letting of Blood and Purging must be reiterated. Let a large and sharp Blistering Plaister be applied to the hinder part of the Neck after the first Letting of Blood.

Every day that is free from Purging, let as cooling and softning Clyster be injected in the morning. Let the Patient use a thin Diet, and abstain from his Bed every day for some hours.

In all these Fevers which I call intercurrent, as also in that of the present constitution, it iss diligently to be observed, that the sick person must abstain from his Bed a great part of these day,

day, and that he must feed upon Barley or Oas meal Broths, and such like things, and use small Beer hopp'd, and Milk and Water for his ordinary Drink.

- Dieg

(E WILL

to let the d in the

Of the Measles.

They chiefly invade Children. The first day they are taken with a childess and shivering, and CORDS. all grow hot and cold by turns. The fecond day the Fever is perfected, and the following Symptoms appear. Vehement Sickness, Thirst, want of Appetite, the Tongue is white (but not dry) a little Cough, heaviness of the Head and Eyes, and an inclination to sleep, a humour perpetually dropping from the Nose and Eyes, which tears are a most certain fign of the Measles. As and also sneezing, swelling of the Eye-lids a little before the Eruption, Vomiting, a Diarrhaa or Loofness, Greenness of the Excrements, especially in Children that are breeding Teeth. The Symptoms increase till the fourth day, in which (and sometimes in the fifth) the Forehead and Face begin to be marked with little red specks, not unlike to Flea-bitings, which being afterwards augmented both in bigness and number, run together in clusters, and stain the face with great red spots, that are made up of small pushes raised, so little above the Skin, that you can hardly perceive the protuberancy of them with your Eye, though you may feel it by flightly touching them with your Fingers.

From the Face, where at the first they only appear, they spread themselves over the Breast Belly, and last of all the Legs, in which parts'

D 2

they

they are broad and red, and rife not above the furface of the skin. After the Eruption of the Measles the symptoms are not mitigated, as in the Small-pox. The Vomiting indeed ceases, but the Fever, Cough and Difficulty of Breathing are increased, and the defluction upon the Eyes, the drowfiness and dejection of Appetite still continue. On the fixth day or thereabout, the Forehead and Face grow rough, the wheals dying away, and the upmost skin being broken, in the rest of the Body the spots appear very broad and red. About the eighth day these in the Face vanish, and scarcely are there any to be seen in the rest of the Body. The day fol-Iowing they disappear entirely, leaving behind them certain mealy scales in the Face and Limbs, and sometimes over all the Body; and at this: time the Fever, Cough, and difficulty of Breathing increase. In adult persons that are kept hor, the spots grow first livid and then black.

Take of the Pectoral Decoction, a pound and a half; Syrup of Violets,, and of Maiden-hair, of each an ounce and a half: mix and make an Apozem. Dose three or four ounces, three or four times in the day.

Take of Oil of sweet Almonds, two ounces; Syrup of Violets, and of Maiden hair, of each an ounce; White Sugar-candy, as much as sufficeth: mix and make an Eclegma, to be taken often licking, especially when the Cough iss troublesome.

Syrup of Meconium, one ounce: mix them for as Draught, which is to be taken every night; from the beginning to the end of the Disease, augmentmentall the Age

Lett

alter titl

1 520

be fracts

200 0000

南京山、1

ment o

(BCC, 17

Court, 1 time be thene

2000

加出社

聖(1)1

The

to the augmenting or leffening the Dose according to the Age of the Patient.

Let the fick persons keep their Beds two days.

after the first Eruption of the spots.

a dia

4,811

d cooks,

Ditt !-

100 th

THE LE

Statelly .

C William

CORD,

था गरेते

自然重

1201 127 HO. 9

e beles

Laby ?

された

Brah ent and reint

co-lest, 虚加

加加

01000

香思

If after the disappearing of the Measles, they be succeeded by a Fever, difficulty of Breathing and other Symptoms counterfeiting a Peripneumonia, in such a case a Vein in the Arm is to be opened and a great quantity of Blood taken away, once, twice or thrice, as the occasion shall require, interposing always a convenient space of time betwixt. Let the Patient also continue the use of the Pectoral Decoction above described as also of the Lohoth, or Oil of Sweet Almonds by it felf. And about the twelfth day from the first beginning of the Disease, let him be purg'd with a Lenitive Medicine.

The Diarrhæa or Looseness, that comes after the Measles, is cured by letting of Blood.

Of the Small Pox.

They are of two kinds, the Distinct and Running Pox. The first at the beginning are atrended with Chilness and Shivering, intense Heat, vehement pain of the Head and Back, difposition to Vomit; in Adult persons, with a great propension to Sweat (from whence you may gather that they will not run together), a pain under the hollow, part of the Breast, if it be prest with the Hand, Dulness and Sleepiness, and fometimes Epileptic Fits (especially in Chilof oren) which if they come after the breeding of Teeth is over, you may foretel that the Small Pox is at hand; infomuch that if the Epileptic BIE 23 and a 中的

E 0

部部

数据 出版图

超超

影照章

FROM!

BENDO

資歌 ind P ora bu

tic Par

the citt

$20 ap

District to CONTRACT

Bit happens over night, the Pocks will shew themselves next morning, and are for the most part of a mild fort, and very rarely run together. On the fourth day inclusively from the beginning, and fometimes later, but rarely fooner, the Pocks break out, at which time the symptoms either abate, or entirely disappear. the first, Reddish Pushes appear scattered over the Face, Neck, Breast and the whole Body; then comes a Pain in the Jaws, which increaseth as the Pocks rise higher. About the eighth day from the first invasion of the Disease, the intervals between the Pimples, which were hitherto white, begin to be red and swoln, and affected with a distending Pain; the Eye-lids swell, and like blown Bladders cover the Eyes. Next atter the Face the Hands swell, and the Fingers are distended; the Pocks in the Face which before were smooth and red, now appear rough (which is the first fign of maturation) and whitish: Moreover they cast forth a yellowish Tuice, in colour not unlike a Honey comb. The Inflamation of the Face and Hands being now at the height, the intervals between the Pimples | Bidy appear of a florid colour, like that of Damask! bugge Roses, and the more benign the Pocks are, soll his much the more lively do both they, and the skin in between them express that colour. The Pimples in the Face grow still rougher and yellowers as they grow riper; but in the Hands and thee lands rest of the Body, they daily grow whiter and less ha The eleventh day the Swelling and Inflammation abates, and the Pocks being arriv'd at their due maturity and bigness (which equalss shat of the greates fort of Peafe) wither and fall. off.

in more

HEERO ST

lopoir.

e lyep

EDITO:

Boers

oalah I

炒田 e intra titlen after relard

Verte .

Figh

routh .

210

1511 at The 拉到學

TOP H

Daniel .

とは diver!

214

off. On the fourteenth or fifteenth they perish entirely; but they in the Hands are of a more obstinate nature; and being still white and fresh they continue a day or two longer, after which they break; whilst these that are in the Face and the rest of the Body fall off in Scales, which in the Face are succeeded by Holes or Pits. During the whole course of the Disease, the Belly is either quite constipated, or very rarely performs its Office. The greatest part of those to whom this Difease proves mortal, die on the eighth day in the Distinct, and on the eleventh in the Running Kind. For when, in the first fort of Pocks, Sweating is promoted with Cordials. or a hot Regimen, on the foremention'd day, the Face, which should be swoln and inflam'd in the distances between the Pimples, on the contrary appears. flaccid and whitish; whilst in the mean time the Pocks are red and high, and even continue to be so after Death: That Sweat also. which had hitherto flow'd abundantly, fuddenly disappears: The Sick Person becomes lightheaded, vehemently fick and anxious, toffeth his Body, piffeth little and often, and within a few hours expires.

In the Running kind the Symptoms are the same, but more violent: The Fever (for example) Anxiety, Sickness, Disposition to vomit, &c. do more cruelly torment the diseased Person; but there is not the same propension to sweat, as in the other kind. A Looseness sometimes comes before the Eruption of the Pocks, and continues a day or two after, which scarces ever happens in the Distinct fort. On the third day, or sooner, rarely later, they break out, and Sees.

and But

Figure Their

udthe

of the

BOR,

Looke

ficing gith

treat.

palarin

Wits li

Face a potenti

Mino

to the (

W. Fact

即,随

a color

IN Chi

Math.

FRETRE

Matin

西村

Parines Toponio

the sooner they appear, the more they run together. Sometimss their Eruption is retarded till the fourth or fifth day, by the violence of fome Symptom, such as (for example) a Pain in the Loins, Side or Limbs, counterfeiting the Stone, Pleurify or Rheumatism, or in the Stomach with vehement Sickness and Vomiting. The Symptoms abate not immediately after the coming out of the Pocks, as they do in the other kind; but the Fever and the rest also continue to afflict the fick person many days afterwards. Sometimes they break forth after the manner of Eryfipelas, and sometimes like the Measles, but are plainly distinguish'd by the time of the Eruption. During the progress of the Disease, they do not rise to any considerable height, but being intangled together in the Face, like red Blifters, they cover the whole Countenance, which fwells fooner than in the Distinct kind. Afterward they appear like a white skin glu'd to the Face, and are not much higher than the Surface thereof. The eighth day being past, the white Film grows daily rougher by degrees, and of a brown colour. The Pain in the Skin is more intente, till at last the Scales fall off, which in so cruel a Disease happens not till after the twentieth day. This in the mean time is worthy to be observ'd, that by how much nearer the ripening Pimples approach to a duskish colour, so much more dangerous are they, and disappear more flowly ; but the yellower they are, they run the less together and vanish more quickly. After the Film is fallen off there appears no roughness in the Countenance, but it is immediately overspread with mealy Scales of a very corrolive nature, which. tearle

a Pain

ing for de Su-192 8

hoy.

由的

· FIA

which leave Pits behind them, and oftentimes Scars. Sometimes the Skin of the Shoulders and Back comes off. The Dangerousness of the Disease is to be estimated by the number and frequency of the Pimples in the Face alone. These that are in the Hands and Feet are biggest; and the higher you ascend from the extremities of the Limbs, the lesser and narrower they grow. In adult Persons, Salivation, and a Looseness in Children (tho not so certainly) accompanies the Running Kind. The Salivation fometimes begins at the time of Eruption, sometimes two or three days after, the fick Person spitting at the first a thin matter, which on the eleventh day grows more viscid, and is voided with great difficulty. He is thirsty, hoarse, extremely dull and fleepy; the Cough sometimes furprizes him as he drinks, and the Liquor returns through his Nostrils. Then the Salivation utually ceafeth, and unless the Swelling of the Face and Hands now notably beginning, and confiderably lasting, supplies its room, the fick person scrthwith dies for though, according to the Genius of the Disease, the Swelling of the Face should abate somewhat on that very day, yet ought it not entirely to disappear till a day or two after. The Diarrhæa surprizes not Children, fo early as the Salivation doth Men. In both these Kinds of Small Pox, the Fever reigneth from the beginning to the time of the Eruption, from which to the time of the Maturation of the Pimples it abates, and that being finish'd, vanishes. The Bad Regimen, or Government of the fick Person, cccasions divers irregular Symptoms; fuch as the Flaceidity dity and falling down of the Pocks, Phrenfy, Coma or perpetual Sleepiness, Purple Spots scatter'd between the Pimples, and little black Spots on the Tops of them subsiding in the middle, pissing and spitting of Blood about the beginning of the Disease, suppression of Urine.

of the D

genter

(Feet)

被軍

DE TO SUIT

ment at (maller)

Burg

Wistloo

DESTRONE

dilade

If the fo

行の世界 mitte

COUVER

may be men alre before 9

Perion |

Walka

ot

The Separation and Febrile Ebullition are transacted in the first three or four days. The Expulsion is perfected in the following days by means of little Abscesses arising in the skin.

Let a Vein be open'd in any of the three first days, and nine or ten ounces of Blood taken away; and afterwards exhibit a Vomit of an ounce, or an ounce and a half of the infusion of Crocus Metallorum.

During the first days let the Blood be diluted by frequent draughts of Small Beer hopp'd.

Assoon as all the Pocks are come forth (which is usually the sixth day of the Disease) let an ounce of Syrup of Meconium be given at night, which must afterwards be repeated every night to the tenth day after the invasion. Let the Dose be augmented that night (if the Pocks be of the running kind) to an ounce and an half, and one ounce in the morning, and continued in like manner till the Patient be recovered from his Sickness.

If the Syrup of Meconium do not agree with him, you may substitute Liquid Laudanum in its place, viz. eighteen Drops for an ounce of the Syrup, and five and twenty Drops for an ounce and an half. In the mean while it is to be observed, that, if the Quieting Medicine given twice a day be not sufficient to allay the Commotion (as it oftentimes happens about the end of the Disease, when the Pocks run notably together) in that case it ought to be repeated every eight hours, or oftner, if need require.

But when the Pocks are distinct, it will suffice to exhibit a Composing Draught once every night after the full Eruption, and also in a fmaller Dose.

6003

如此

11.12

ORTER

Thu.

100 100

CONTRACTO

BLEE.

100

0.30

città

THE REAL PROPERTY.

力加

of the

The

But of whatsoever kind the Pocks are, and in whatsoever time of the Disease a Phrensy supervenes, it is altogether necessary to curb the disorderly motion of the Spirits, and therefore if the former Quieting Dose prove ineffectual, it must be repeated again and again, till the tumult be wholly affwag'd; interposing always a convenient space between the Doses, that we may be able to discern, whether the last Dose hath already perform'd as much as we defire, before we proceed to exhibit another.

If the Urine be totally supprest, let the fick Person be taken out of his Bed, and made to walk a little.

If the Spittle by reason of the Heat be so tough, that it cannot be expectorated, let a Gargarism be frequently injected into the Throat with a Syringe. It may be made of Small Beer or Barley Water with Honey of Roses: Or thus.

Take of the Bark of the Elm-tree fix drams, Liquorish Roots half an ounce, twenty ston'd Raisins, Red Roses two Pugils; boil them in a sufficient quantity of Water to a Pint and an half; in which being strained out, dissolve Oxymel simple, and Honey of Roses, of each two ounces. Mix them for a Gargarism.

If upon the eleventh, or any other succeeding day,

La:

Brock,

松水路 foer at 1

都的部

EFECTS

क्रांक श

Bet 1

Flowers

BAIL.

tiens fo

Tiphi

day, the Secondary Fever, with Unquietness, Toffing of the Body, and such like other Symptoms, be so fierce and high, that all the Pacific Medicines (how often soever repeated) are not able to put a stop to its Fury, and Death seems to be at hand, let a Vein be immediately open'd, and Blood copiously extracted, viz. to about twelve ounces, and the same once or twice repeated in the following days, if the confideration of the forementioned Symptoms require it, but not otherwise. And in this case, after the Letting of Blood, the Patient may be gently purg'd on the thirteenth, or any other succeeding; day, and not before; as for example, let him take an ounce of the Lenitive Electuary, dissolved in four ounces of Cichory or Milk Water. But neither the Letting of Blood nor Purging! when doth forbid the use of Composing Medicines, which (these not withstanding) ought to be exhibited both largely and frequently, if need be :: For after all we must constantly have recourse to them in this Disease.

When the Pocks are perfectly dried up, lett the Face be anointed with a Liniment made off equal parts of Oil of Sweet Almonds and Po-mate, two days, and no longer.

On the twenty first day of the Disease let as Vein in the Arm be open'd, and the day aftern let a Purging Medicine be exhibited, and thrice repeated every second day.

As for the Government of the fick Person let him abstain from his Bed till the fixth day after the first Invasion of the Disease; and aftere wards keep his Bed till the seventeenth day, being cover'd only as he was wont to be, when in health.

Let him feed upon Oat-meal and Barley Broths, boil'd Apples, and Small Beer, and after the eleventh day, let him drink if he pleases, foor or five spoonfuls of Spanish Wine, twice every day.

4202

sh kees .

COME OF

0 2000E

- STEER

WHEE !

から

比數河

le hin

(Vacci

Pung

हिटाई र

court to

If the Swelling in the Legs yield not to the Evacuations above prescrib'd, it may be easily driven away with Fomentations of Mallows, Base Mullein, Elder, and Laurel Leaves, with Flowers of Chamomil, and Melilote, boiled in Milk.

If during the first days of the Disease the Patient spit or piss blood, let the Powder and Tincture, prescribed in the Chapter of Spitting Blood, be carefully exhibited every sixth hour, till these Symptoms entirely disappear. In which case also large Doses of Composing Medicines must be given.

Of Saint Vitus's Dance.

Tis a fort of Convulsion, that infests Children from ten years old to the Age of Puberty. It is known by their Limping, or by the instability of one of their Legs, which they draw after them, after the manner of Fools. If the Hand of the same side be laid upon the Breast, or any other part of the Body, they cannot keep it a moment in the same posture, but it will be distorted by the Convulsion into another situation and place, whatsoever efforts they make to the contrary. Before one of these can put a Cup to his Mouth, he useth a thousand ridiculous Gestures, and Jugler-like Tricks: For he doth not bring it to his mouth in a straight line, but,

al frito thin

SOTTOR

COUNTY

toliowice

Materwa Leafs of

Will th

MIT, O

mans;

fic'd an

With the same

Take

Bonetti

of each

韩平 6

Let a loles of

The

That that 報的の他 lighted 1

State State

his Hand being strangely drawn aside by the Convulsion, he tosses it a good while hither and thither, till at last as it happens to come near to his Lips, he suddenly throws the Liquor into his mouth, and greedily swallows it down, as if he intended to make Sport to the Spectators.

Let eight ounces of Blood be taken away, more or less, according to the Age of the Patient, by opening a Vein in the Arm.

The day following let him take one half of the Common Purging Potion, or somewhat more, with respect to his Age, and at night the following draught.

Take Black Cherry water one ounce, Langius his Epileptic water three drams, Treacle of Andromachus one scruple, liquid Laudanum eight drops for a draught.

Let the purging Potion, with the pacific draught at night, be thrice repeated every second day.

Afterwards let more Blood be taken away, and the purging Potion repeated as before, reiterating in this wife the letting of Blood and Purgation, to a third or fourth time, and allowing always a convenient respite between the Evacuations, that the Patient be not exposed to any danger.

In the days that are free from Purgation, prescribe as follows:

Take Conserve of Roman Wormwood, and of the yellow part of an Orenge, of each one ounce; Conserve of Rosemary flowers, half an ounce; old Treacle of Andromachus, and preferv'd Nutmeg, of each three drams; preserv'd Cinger one dram; with as much as sufficeth of syrup of the juice of Citron make an Electuary. Dose as much as a Nutmeg in the morning, and at five a clock in the afternoon, drinking after every Dose five spoonfuls of the following Wine.

能制

DIF IND

OW 1, 23

1917

THE PARTY

cat of

DEW 121

ists the

LOUIS

each of

Take of the Roots of Peony, Elicampane, Masterwort and Angelica, of each one ounce; Leafs of Rue, Sage, Betony, Germainder, white Horehound, and the tops of lesser Centory, of each a handful; Juniper Berries six drams; the Pills of two Orenges. Let all be slic'd and infus'd cold in three quarts of Canary Wine. When you use it, strain out so much as you intend to drink.

Take of Rue water four ounces; Laugius his Epileptic water, and compound Bryony water, of each one ounce; Syrup of Peony six drams; mix and make a Julep. Dose four spoonfuls every night at the time of going to Bed, with eight drops of the spirit of Hartshorn.

Let a Plaister of Caranna be apply'd to the foles of the Feet.

The next year, about the same time of the year that the Disease first appear'd, let a Vein be again open'd, and a purging Medicine exhibited some days, for prevention of a Relapse.

Sickness in adult persons might be cur'd by this method, which nevertheless I have not yet experienc'd. But since it is accommodated to the tender Ages of those that are wont to be infested by Saint Vitus his Dance, if it be apply'd to the Cure of Epilepsies in persons grown up, both the quantity of the Blood that is to be taken away, and the Doses of the purging Medicines ought to be augmented.

E. 2

(40)

Of the Apoplexy.

It consists in a most profound Sleep, and total privation of Sense and Motion, excepting only Respiration, which is still perform'd, but with difficulty and fnoring.

Let a Vein be instantly opened in the Arm, and twelve ounces of Blood taken away, and afterwards eight ounces more out of the Jugulars. Immediately after exhibit a Vomit of an ounce and an half, or two ounces, of the infusion of Grocus Metallorum.

Let a large and sharp blistering Plaster be applied to the hinder part of the Neck.

While these things are doing, let the sick perfon sit upright in his Bed, not oppressed with too great a burthen of Cloaths.

Let Spirit of Sal Armoniac, excellently recti-fied, be held to his Nose.

After the operation of the Vomit is finished,, let three or four spoonfuls of the following:

Julep be from time to time exhibited.

Bryony water, and Langius his Anti-epileptic water, of each one ounce; Spirit of Hartshorm twenty drops; Sugar-candy, as much as sufficeth:

Or a spoonful of compound Spirit of Lavender, may be given twice or thrice by it self, due ring the Fit, interposing the space of an hour or half an hour, betwixt the Doles.

Oblerved

Olfer

hot not a alter all, dentily a

Venence

ferved ?

belf an drams:

and Dim

Take 22

Observe heedfully, that Cordials ought not to be exhibited too frequently, and such as are too hot not at all, as it is the custom to do: For, after all, whatever specific vertue they may seem to be endued withal, they do more mischief than good, by melting the humors, and consequently augmenting the Disease. which inconvenience also is no less occasion'd, by too great a burthen of Cloaths.

After the Paroxysm is over, to prevent a Re-lapse, let these things be prescribed.

Take of the pill Cochia the greater, two scruples for a Dose, to be repeated fix times every third day, at Four of the clock in the morning, fleeping after them.

1 His

Take Conserve of Sage Flowers, and of Rosemary Flowers, of each one ounce; Conserve of the yellow part of an Orenge six drams; pre, served Nutmeg, and preserved Ginger of each half an ounce; old Treacle of Andromachus two drams; the powders of the Electuaries Diambra, and Diamoschu Dulcis, of each one dram; with a sufficient quantity of the syrup of Citron pickle make an Electuary. Dose as much as a Chesnur, every morning and evening, drinking after it two spoonfuls of Langius his Epileptic water.

Take of Ambergris half a dram; the distill'd Oils of Anise-seed, Cinnamon and Nutmeg, of each two drops; Oil of Gloves one drop. Sugar dissolv'd in Orenge flower water as much as sufficeth to make Tablets according to Art;

Let the Patient eat one at his pleasure.

Drink, and eat Broths made of Barley, Oats, or of Chickens; and sometimes even the flesh of Chickens and Lambs, and fuch like Meats of easie digestion, especially while purging Medicines are exhibited.

Of the Inflamation of the Eyes.

It is manifest of it self, Let ten ounces of Blood be taken out of a Vein in the Arm, and the common purging Potion exhibited the next day, and repeated two days after, and once more reiterated after a like interval of time. same Nights let the Patient take a quieting draught of an ounce of the Syrup of Meconjum

Also let him drink four ounces of an emulfion of the greater cold Seeds and white poppy Seed three or four times every day that is free: woole from purgation.

Take of Plantain water, Red Rose water, and Frogs sperm water, of each one ounce ; Powder of prepar'd Tutty one dram. Make as mixture. Pour a few drops of it into the Eye swice every day, beginning after the first purgation.

If the Disease do not yield to these Remedies, the Letting of Blood (especially if it appear pleuritic) and Purging must be repeated yet twice more.

Let the Patient abstain from the use of Winer and all forts of ffrong Liquors; from Meats alle that are falt and hard of digeftion; and drinl milk and water boil'd, all the days that are free from purgation.

W FOO

Distri. CER 10

of Man Care, F

B01 11

tit Ki

20. 量品

NESO!

R Hotel

mas of 10, 201 the text nt ave

e Tit !

CORNEL OF

of Mrs

COURS . Mart &

Note, that it often happens, that the letting of Blood and purging, how often foever repeated, are still found to be ineffectual. In this case a composing draught of an ounce of Syrup of Meconium exhibited every night, perfects the Cure, without the help of any other Remedy.

Of the Falling down of the Womb.

Take of the Bark of an Oak two ounces; boil it in four quarts of Spring water till one half be confum'd; adding (towards the end) the Rind of a Pomgranate beaten, one ounce; Red Roses and Pomgranate Flowers, of each two handfuls; then add half a pint of Red Wine. Let the part affected be fomented with woollen Cloth dipt in the Liquor that is strain'd out, two hours before the Patient rife every morning and at night when she is in her Bed, till the Symptom disappear.

of the Paroxysms of the Stone in the Kidneys.

The Signs are these: A fix'd pain in the Region of the Loins, bloody Urine, the voiding of Sand or Stones, the numness of the Leg on the fide of the affected Kidney, the retraction of the Testicle of the same side where the pain is felt, a queafiness of Stomach, and vomiting. There is a near resemblance between this Disease and the Colick, but they differ in some Symptoms, an account of which you may read in the Chapter, Of the Bilious Celick.

If the Patient be of a fanguine Constitution,

他位为 in good in 把撤回

Blood;

e bix

of the D 100 pg

STEELS W

first Pate

byther

REVEL.

श्री लहा

Sheet 2

OFFERE

HEED

100, 100

the per

Per, an

Dance

In

Leta

fet ten ounces of Blood be taken from the Arm answering to the affected Kidney; then let a Gallon of Posset, in which two ounces of the Roots of Marshmallows have been boil'd, be hastily swallow'd down, and the following Cly-fter injected.

Take of the Roots of Marshmallows and Lillies, of each one ounce; the Leafs of Mallows, Wall-Flower, Brank-Urfine, and Chamomil Flowers, of each one handful; Linseed, and Fenngreek-feed, of each half an ounce: Boil them in a convenient quantity of water to a Pint and an half. Make a Clyster. rejection of the Vomit and Clyster, let a large Dose of Liquid Laudanum be exhibited, viz. to five and twenty drops, or 15 or 16 grains of Matthew's Pills.

If the Patient be an old Man, or one that is much weaken'd by the long continuance of the Disease, or an old Woman subject to Vapours, (especially if at the beginning of the Paroxysm the void black and gravelly Urine) then omit the letting of Blood, but in all other things proceed according to the method above defcrib'd.

Of the Dysentery, Diarrhea and Tenesmus.

There is first a chilness and shivering, them an universal Heat all over the Body, which is thortly follow'd by Gripings of the Guts, and these by a frequent voiding of slimy matter (on ly sometimes some Stools of natural Excrement are interlac'd) with tormenting pain, and as it were a descending of all the Entrals, with which tha the fick person is miserably afflicted as often as he goeth to Stool. In the mean while the matter that is evacuated, is intermixt with streaks of Blood; though sometimes not the least mixture of Blood doth appear during the whole course of the Disease. In an advanc'd Dysentery sometimes pure Blood is voided, and the Entrals affected with an incurable Gangrene. When the fick Person is in the prime of his age, or heated by the use of Cordials, he is taken with a high Fever, his Tongue is somewhat white, cover'd all over with a certain thick flime, fometimes black and dry. The strength of the Body is overthrown, the Spirits are diffipated, and the inward parts of the Mouth and Throat ulcerated, more especially when the evacuation of the peccant matter is unfeasonably stopt by aftringent Medicines, before that which nourisheth the Disease is expell'd by purgation. Sometimes the Dysentery comes without a Fever, and the Gripings of the Guts leading the Dance, the rest of the Symptoms follow.

In a Diatrhaa, Excrementitious Humours are voided without Blood, or the ulceration of the Entrals.

odite

Pak

In a Tenesmus, there is a perpetual defire to go to Stool, yet nothing is evacuated but a little bloody or purulent Slime.

Let a Vein be opened in the Arm as foon as may be, the same night a composing draught. exhibited, and the next morning the common purging Potion, which must be repeated to two other Doses every second day, as also the pacific draught after the operation of the purging

Medicine is over; but in the intermediate days

let it be given morning and evening.

After the Patient hath been let Blood, and once purged, through the whole course of the Disease, let the following Cordial be exhibited.

Take of Black cherry Water, Strawberry Water, of each three ounces; Plague Water, Compound Scordium Water, and Barley Cinnamon Water, of each one ounce; prepared Pearl, one dram and an half; Sugar-candy, as much as shall suffice; add half an ounce of Damask Rose Water, to give the Julep a grateful relish. Let the Patient drink four or five spoonfuls of it, in case of fainting, or at his pleafure.

Let his ordinary Drink be Milk boiled with hete a treble quantity of Water, or the white De-coction, thus :

Take of Harts-horn burnt, and Crums of al white Loaf, of each two ounces; make a Decoction in three Pints of Spring Water to two, and sweeten it with a sufficient quantity of thee best white Sugar. Or if the Feebleness of the Patient require it, boil two Pints of Springs Water with half a Pint of Canary Wine for his ordinary Drink, to be taken cold.

After he hath been thrice purged, the whole Cure depends upon the use of Laudanum, repeate ed twice or thrice every day only let a Clyster of half a Pint of Cows Milk, and an ounce and an half of Treacle of Andromachus be now and then injected, which is of excellent use in free quent Evacuations.

Wheel

Wien

then a Pi

De talen e Talt

TACES OF

valhine

When the Flux of the Belly riseth no higher than a Diarrhæa, omit the letting of Blood and Purging, and prescribe the following Bolus to be taken every morning.

Take of Rheubarb in Powder, half a dram, (more or less, according to the Patient's strength) with a sufficient quantity of Diascordium make a Bolus, to which add two drops of Chymical Oil of Cinnamon.

Let a composing draught of an ounce of Barley Cinnamon Water, and 14 drops of liquid Laudanum be exhibited every night.

If the fick Person be tormented with dry Gripings, voiding nothing, they are cured by washing with Whey, (being drunk cold, and njected warm) as in the Disease called the

the Cholera, with Chicken Broth or Posser.

If this Disease last long, so that all the force hereof fall upon the strait Gut, with a perper petual desire to go to Stool, let a restorative Diet be prescribed, and some cordial Liquor to not be drunk at pleasure, that the Patient's strength nay be re established, which returning, the Temus instantly vanisheth.

Sometimes it falls out, that after a Dysentery ath been ill cured, the fick Person is for some ears troubled with tormenting Pains; but by he repeated letting of Blood, he may be restoed to his former health.

Note, that in such Constitutions of the Air are less favourable to this Distemper, omiting all Evacuations, it is cured by the alone use Laudanum, repeated every morning and eveng, till the Symptoms wholly disappear; or, if teed be, thrice in 24 hours.

Of the Bilious Colick.

It is a most sierce Pain in the Guts, which begins with a Fever that lasts a sew hours. Either it wrings them, as if they were girt with a Swathing-Band; or being contracted into a Point, bores them as it were with an Awger. Sometimes it grants a Truce, but presently returns too the Assault. At the beginning it is not so certainly fixed in any one Point, there is not so frequent a desire to vomit, nor doth the Belly some stubbornly resist the force of purging Meditubbornly resist the force of purging Medities; but by degrees, as the Pain is augmented it is also more obstinately fixed in a Point, there is not so womit grows more troublesom and free quent, and the Belly more costive, till at last the Colic degenerates into the Iliac Passion.

It is thus distinguished from the Stone in the 1. The Pain of the Stone is fixed in the Kidneys. one of the Reins, and from thence is stretches out to the Testicle, according to the length of · the Ureter. But the Pains of the Colic and more unconstant and moveable, compassing about how the middle of the Belly as with a Girdle 2. The Colical Pains are increased after eating but the Nephritical, or Pains of the Stone, and Manager rather mitigated. 3. In the Colic, the voiding of Excrements gives greater ease than in to Stone. 4: The Urine of those that are trouble with the Stone, is at the beginning of the E roxysm clear and thin, afterwards there appear fome Sediment, and at last Sand or little Ston are voided: whereas in the Colic, the Urines thick from the beginning.

Let a considerable quantity of Blood be taken out of one of the Arms, and three or four hours after an Anodyne exhibited: the next day give a lenitive Purge, to be repeated every other day to two Doles more.

r, Fisher

de free

Sone

But if the Disease was occasioned by gourmandizing, or by soon perishing Fruits, then first of all the Stomach ought to be washed with great and frequent draughts of Posset, and after that is done an Anodyne given; the next day order a Vein to be opened, and afterwards proceed in the method above prescribed.

When this Disease, having been unskilfully handled, hath continued very long, and the sick persons have been reduced to extreme Feebleness by it, the liberal drinking of either Plague Water, Aqua Mirabilis, or any other with which they were wont to be most delighted while they were in health, hath helped them beyond all expectation.

Of the Disease called Cholera.

It contains it self within the Bounds of the Month of August, and scarcely maketh any Excussions into the first Weeks of September. There is a Disease like unto it, occasioned by Surfeiting and Gluttony; which tho it be cured after the same manner, is yet of another Form. The Signs are enormous Vomiting, and the voiding of corrupt Humours by Stool, with great Trouble and Dissipulty; Vehement Pain, Swelling up and Distension of the Belly and Entrals; Gnawing at the Heart or Stomach, Thirst; the Pulse quick, frequent, small and unequal; Hear and and Anxiety; a most troublesom Nauseousness or Loathing, Sweating, Contractions of the Legs and Arms, Swooning, Coldness of the Extreme Parts, and such like Symptoms, which kill the fick person in the space of 24 hours.

自此

MOTE STORE

Let a tender Chicken be boiled in about three Gallons of Spring Water, that there be scarce any taste of Flesh perceivable in the Liquor, and let the sick person swallow down several large Cups of this Decoction lukewarm, or (for want of it) of Posset, whilst in the mean time Clysters of the same Liquor are successively injected. And an ounce of the Syrups of Lettuce, Violets, Purslain, and Water-Lillies, or any of them, may be now and then mixed both with the Draughts and Clysters.

The Business of Washing being finished, which requires the space of three or four hours, as composing Medicine puts an end to the Cure.

When the Physitian is not called till after thee Patient is utterly spent and enseebled by thee Evacuations, and the extreme parts are already cold, recourse must immediately be had to liquid Laudanum, and that in a large Dose, (vizza drops of it in an ounce of Cinnamon Water) which even after the ceasing of the Symptoms ought still to be repeated, but in a lessen Dose, till the sick Person be restored to his former health.

There is a fort of Cholera, that usually trouble bleth Children, and is often fatal to them, which is occasioned by their Breeding of Teeth, on Surfeiting.

Their tender Age will not bear the washing with a free braughts of Linguist quores

s of the the la.

松园

OUT THEE

ie larce money

(E 108

ess time

quors, much less the raising of a greater tumult in the Humours by purging Medicines; and therefore the whole Cure is to be committed to the use of Laudanum. Let two, three, sour, or more drops of it, according to the Age of the Child, be exhibited in a Spoonful of Small Beer, or some convenient Water, and repeated as the occasion shall require.

Of the Disease call'd Colica Pictonum, or the Colic of the People of Poictiers:

Tis a kind of Colic that usually degenerates into a Palfy, and a total loss of motion in the Hands and Feet; which under this name is mentioned by Riverius in his Chapter of the Palfy, and is very well known in the Carribee Islands, where multitudes of People are infested by it.

This most cruel Pain is cured with Balsam of Peru exhibited frequently and, in great Doses, thus, Pour 20, 30, or 40 drops of it into a Spoonful of the finest white Sugar, and give it twice or thrice in the day. But the Palsy yields not to this Remedy.

Of the Iliac Passion.

The Peristaltic Motion of the Guts is inverted; purging Medicines and Clysters do immediately become Vomits; the Excrements of the Belly are voided by the Mouth.

Let nine or ten ounces of Blood be taken out of the right Arm. After some hours, exhibit the following Powder.

E 2--

Take:

Take of Rosin of Scammony, or (in default of that) Rosin of Jalap twelve Grains; man Torquets Calomel one Scruple; mix and make: how, a Powder, to be taken in a Spoonful of Cowss has Milk, drinking after it one or two Spoonfuls off the fame Milk; or if the Form of Pills be moree acceptable to the Patient,

Take of the Pills de duobus half a dram a mon Calomel one scruple: with a sufficient quantity of of Balsam of Peru, make four Pills, to be taken Inc.

in a Spoonful of Syrup of Violets.

After the Operation of the Purge is ended. let the Patient take the following Draught.

Take of strong Cinnamon Water one ounce. Iiquid Laudanum 25 drops: mix them for as Draught, which must afterwards be repeated twice, thrice, or oftner every day, till the Volmiting and Pain be affwaged: and even after they disappear, for the Confirmation of the Cure, let the Patient continue the use of the same Composing Draught for some time, when he goes to Bed, but in a lesser Dose.

Of the immoderate Flux of the Terms.

The Monthly Courses of a Woman flowing naturally, may fill the Capacity of the Shell coangoose egg. The immoderate Flux of there is known by the Patient's ill-bearing or uneassent ness under it, by the failing of her Strength, want of Appetite, ill Habit of Body, ghastly colour of Face, like that of a dead Carkass, and sweet ling of the Feet.

Let a Vein be opened in the patient's Arm and eight ounces of Blood taken away. The next morning let her take the common purging Potion, and repeat it every other day to two Doses more, drinking at night after every Purgation a composing draught of Syrup of Meconium.

In the intermediate Days let her take that which follows.

$00-0107# M

920.7

100 E

是 (10)

Take of Conserve of dry Roses two ounces; Troches of Lemnian Earth one dram and an half; Rind of Pomgranates, Red Coral prepared, Bole Armenick, of each two Scruples; Blood-stone and Dragons Blood, of each one Scruple: with a sufficient quantity of Syrup of Quinces make an Electuary; of which let her take the quantity of a large Nutmeg in the morning, and at five a clock in the afternoon, drinking after it fix Spoonfuls of the following go is Julep.

Take of the Water of Oak-buds and Plantane, of each three ounces; Barley, Cinnamon Water, and Syrup of dried Roses, of each one ounce; Spirit of Vitriol as much as sufficeth to give it a grateful sharpness.

Take of the Leafs of Plantane and Nettles, of each a convenient quantity. Beat them together, and press out the Juice, of which being clarified, let her take four or five Spoonfuls now and then at her pleasure,

After the first Pargation, let the following Plaister be apply'd to the Region of the Loins.

Take of Vermilion plaister, and the plaister for a Rupture, of each an equal quantity. 30 Spread Spread them on a piece of Leather, for a plaister to be applied to the Region of the Loins.

Of the Hysterical Colic.

DORCCI

部的部

Vigether

It is a certain kind, or rather a very notable and usual Symptom of the Hysterical Disease, which is accompany'd with a most sharp pain about the pit of the Breast, and vomiting of green Humours.

First, that the glut of the corrupt Humours lodged in the Stomach may not obstruct the efficacy of the quieting Medicine, let a large quantity of posset (as for example a Gallon and an half) be swallowed down, and cast forth again by vomiting. After which, exhibit 25 drops of liquid Laudanum in an ounce of strong Cinnamon Water, plague Water, or any other convenient:

Concerning the use of the composing Medicine, it is to be observed, that they ought to be constantly repeated, till the Symptoms wholly disappear, interposing a convenient space between the Doses, that so we may be able to judge the of the effect of one, before another be exhibited.

If the patient be of a sanguine Constitution, nor hath been formerly subject to this Symptom, or weakned by it, then let a Vein be first opened, before the use of the prescribed Vomit.

The Disease called, The Hysterical Clavus, is also cured by the same method.

But if the Hysterical Colic continue a greatt while, while, and come by Fits, then let the following things be given in the Intervals between the paroxy fms.

Take a Dram of Zedoary reduced to fine powder, and make a Bolus with a sufficient quantity of the Syrup of Citron pickle, to be taken every morning and evening for 30 days together, drinking the following Insusion after it.

Take half an ounce of Zedoary cut into small pieces, Insuse it cold in four ounces of Canary Wine, and after it hath stood twelve hours, strain it for your use. Or take Balsam of Peru, as it is prescribed in the Chapter of the Colic of the people of Poistiers.

What is here said of the Hysterical Colic, ought to be applied to the Hypochondriacal Colick. And this also is to be heedfully obferved.

The nature of both these Distempers seems in a peculiar manner to require, that we should essay several Medicines, till that at last be found out to which the Disease naturally yields: tho for the most part Steel is in this case most effectual.

This kind of Colic, both in Hypochondriacal and Hysterical persons, doth often degenerate into the Jaundice, which by degrees vanisheth of it self: But if it continue long, let the sollowing Apozem be exhibited.

Take of the Roots of Madder, (such as Dyers use) Turmerick, of each one ounce; greater Celandine (the whole plant) Tops of lesser Centory, of each one handful. Boil them in equal parts of Rhenish Wine and Spring Water ounces of the Syrup of the five Roots. Make an Apozeme. Dose half a pint warm every morning and evening, till the patient recover.

Of the Faundice when it doth not come after the:

It is known by the following Signs: a yellow colour of the whole Body, with which alfo all Objects appear ting'd to the fick persons, and it is chiefly conspicuous in the White of the Eyes; an Itching, Laziness and Weariness; Bitterness of the Tongue, sometimes cholerick: Vomitings, Hiccoughs, White Excrements: the Uring is of a Saffron colour, and dyeth Clothess that are dipt therein of the same colour.

Exhibit the common purging potion; andithen prescribe the things that are here subjoin'd, during the use of which, let the purging potion be repeated every fourth day.

Take Conserve of Roman Wormwood; Conserve of the yellow part of an Orenge, of each one ounce; preserved Angelica, preserved Nutmeg, compound powder of Aron, and Steel prepared with Vinegar, of each half an ounce; extract of lesser Centory; extract of Gentian, and Cream of Tartar, of each two drams; English Sassron powdered half a dram; with a sufficient quantity of the Syrup of the sivee Roots make an Electuary; of which let the patient take the bigness of a Nutmeg every morning, and at five in the asternoon, (on instead of the Electuary, you may give Chalybeat, or Steel Pills) drinking after the mornings Dose

Dose four pints of mineral purging Waters, and half a pint of the Apozeme prescribed in the Chapter of the Hysterical Colic after the Dose that is taken in the afternoon.

But if any Signs'of a Dropfy appear, let the patient use the Apozem both in the morning and evening.

Art Was

Make

III frely

AL THE

periods, ite of the deleta (S)(12)

th Clothe

Ma-lod; 830

to Code

dan.

NIA WAR

的规则

世间

But if the obstinacy of the Disease will not be overcome by the long continued use of these Remedies, let the fick person have recourse to the Iron or Spaw Waters, which ought to be drunk at the Fountain head.

Of the Preservation from Abortion.

Use the same things that are prescribed in the Chapter of the Immoderate Flux of the Courses, omitting only Purgation and the Juices.

Of the immoderate Flux of the Loches, or Child-bed Purgations.

There are three things required to constitute a natural flowing of the Loches. First pure Blood flowing copiously for the first three days; then watery Blood, like Water wherein Flesh hath been washed, continuing about four days after; and last of all tough and clammy matter coming forth during the five or fix days next following, and so onward to the end of the month.

Now the immoderate Flux of the Loches is to be estimated from the decay of strength; Swooning, the coming forth of clotted Blood $ Loathing of Meat, Pain in the Hypochondria, or under under the Ribs, Distension of the Belly, a weak: and frequent Pulse, Dimness of Sight, Noise in the Ears, and Convulsions.

Let a thickning Diet be prescribed, and the following Potion added.

Take of Plantane Water and Red Wine, off each one pint; boil them together, till a thirdle part be confumed, then sweeten the liquor with a convenient quantity of fine white Sugar, and let the Patient drink half a pint of it colditwice or thrice a day.

In the mean time let some mild Hystericall Julep be now and then exhibited, and the following Bag applied to her Nose.

Take of Galbanum and Asa Fatida, of each two drams; Castoreum a dram and an half; Volatil Salt of Amber half a dram, mix them, and tie them in a Bag. Or Take two drams of Spirit of Sal Armoniac.

and put it frequently to her Nole.

Of Suppression of the Loches.

The Signs are these: A Swelling of thee Belly, a heavy Pain in the lower parts of thee Belly, the Loins and Groin, redness of Face, difficulty of breathing, perturbation of the Eyes, Shiverings, acute Fevers, Swooningss, Cold Sweats, a Sense of Beating and Burnings heat in the Womb, a Palfy of the lower parts, and sometimes an Epilepsy.

Let her be instantly confin'd to her Bed, and the Hysterical Plaister apply'd to her Navell then prescribe this Electuary.

Take Conserve of Roman Wormwood, and of Rue, of each one ounce; Troches of Myrrh two drams; Castoreum, English Sastron, Volatil Salt of Amber, Sal Armoniae, and Asa Fætida, of each half a dram; Syrup of the five Roots as much as sufficeth to make an Electuary, of which let her take the quantity of a Nutmeg every four hours, drinking four or five spoonfuls of the following Julep after it.

Take of Rue water four ounces; compound Bryony water two ounces; Sugar-candy as much as is convenient: Make a Julep.

Or let her take a scruple of Troches of Myrrh every four hours.

If after the prescrib'd quantity of these Remedies is consumed, the Loches continue still to be supprest, exhibit only one dose of Laudanum, namely, 14 drops of Laudanum Liquidum in compound Bryony water, or one grain and an half of solid Laudanum made up into two Pills with half a scruple of Asa fætida.

If these suffice not, let a Clyster of Sugar'd

Milk be only once injected.

Of the Dropfie.

This Disease is first known by the Pits or mpression remaining in the lower parts of the legs, after you have thrust your Finger upon hem, which appear conspicuously at night, but anish in the morning; especially if this sign be companied with a difficulty of Breathing; hough women with Child, and such as are roubled with a suppression of their Courses, and sen that are suddenly freed from an inveterate Assume.

Althma, are also not unfrequently molested with swellings of a like nature. The Feet and Legs: he being extremely swoln, the Waters rush into the: Abdomen, and by degrees filling up its capacity, stretch it forth to the uttermost, till at last falling upon some of the more noble Entrals, the fick person is drowned. As the bulk of the parts affected increaseth, the rest do proportionably grow more and more slender. In the mean time there is a difficulty of Breathing, and little Urine is voided. This Disease doth commonly assault Men when they grow old, and were Women when they leave off Child-bearing.

The principal Scopes of the Cure are, first the evacuations of the Waters, and then by thee restauration and strengthning of the Blood, too have prevent the new increase of the Waters.

Take of White-wine, four ounces; Jalap irn fine powder, one dram; powder of Ginger, hall come a Scruple; Syrup of Buckthorn, one ounce mix them for a Potion, to be taken early in the morning, and repeated every day, or every second link day, according to the strength of the Patients for till the Swelling be abated. Or Take of Tamarinds half an ounce, Senna Leafs two drams, Rheubarb a dram and an half Boil them in a convenient quantity of water to three ounces; dissolve in the straining, of Manna and loosning Syrup of Roses, of each onn ounce; Syrup of Buckthorn, half an ounce the Electuary of the juice of Roses, three drams mix them for a Potion, to be taken as above. Or Take of the Pills ex duobus, one Scruples Elaterium, three grains; Chymical Oil of Cloves two drops. Make three Pills, to be taken early in the morning, and repeated as the occasion shall require. Or Take of Gambugia, fifteen grains; Whitewine, and Cichory-water, of each one ounce and an half; Syrup of Buckthorn, half an ounce: mix them for a Potion, to be taken as above. Or Take three handfuls of the inward Bark of the Elder; boil them in a quart of milk and water equally mixt, to a pint. Let the Patient take one half of the strain'd liquor in the morning, and the other in the evening, every day, till he be restored to his health. But this Remedy is of no efficacy, but only in those Bodies that are very easily moved by purging Medicines.

Concerning the use of Purges in this Dis-

In the first place consider whether the Body of your Patient, is wont to yield easily or difficultly to purging Medicines. For one ounce of some Syrup of Buckthorn being exhibited by it self to some who was are easily wrought upon, will evacuate whethe Waters very copiously; whereas in others, whereas in others, will entered produce the desired effect.

Secondly, Such Purges as are of flow operation, do more mischief than good, and therefore fuch as work strongly, and even too strongly, are always to be preferred before these that are:

Thirdly, The Waters ought to be evacuated with as much haste, as the strength of the Patient can possibly bear; lest by interposing too long Intervals between the several purgations, we give occasion to the Waters to gather a made gain.

Medicines, of whatsoever kind they be, may and ought to be wholly omitted. For when the sicks person is of a weak constitution, or a Womann subject to Vapours, the Evacuation of the Waters is to be attempted only by Diuretics, or Medicines that provoke Urine, among which the most efficacious are those that are composed before of lixivious Salts. For Example:

Take a pound of Brome-ashes, insuse them cold in four pints of Rhenish Wine, strain thee liquor through a piece of brown paper, obtained which let the Patient drink three ounces in the morning, at five in the afternoon, and at nights, till the Humours be wholly evacuated. Which being performed, let such Medicines as heat and strengthen be exhibited, as for Example:

of Garden-Scurvy-grass, common Wormwoods and Sage, the Tops of lesser Centory and Brome: insuse them in strong Ale for ordinary Drink, which alone doth sometimes cure a been ginning Dropsie, without the help of purginal Mediciness

Medicines. Or prescribe that which fol-

Take of the Conserve of Garden-Scurvygrass, and of Roman Wormwood, of each one ounce; extract of Gentian, of common Wormwood, and of lesser Centory, of each three drams: with a sufficient quantity of the Syrup of Citron Pill, make an Electuary. Dose as much as a large Nutmeg, in the morning, at five a clock in the afternoon, and at night, drinking four ounces of the following Insusion after it.

Take of Gentian Roots one ounce, Brome tops, and tops of lesser Centory, and common Wormwood, of each one handful; Seeds of Fennel and Parsley, of each two drams: Chop them small, and pour upon them four pints of Rhenish Wine! let them stand together in a cold insuffice, and strain out the Liquor when you use it.

Note, That during the use of these corroboper drating Medicines, you must in no wise purge

Which ought also to be observed, when Lixiwho vious Salts are exhibited, during the use of which it is also convenient to give corroborating or strengthning Medicines.

Take of Horse-Radish roots three ounces, Leaves of Garden Scurvy-grass, common Wormwood, and Sage, Brome tops, and tops of lesser Centory, of each three handfuls; three Drenges slic'd. Insule them in six Gallons of G 2 Strong Strong Ale not hopp'd, while it is fermenting; make Make use of it for ordinary drink.

Of the CLAP, or virulent RUNNING of thee REINS.

It begins with an unusual pain of the Genitals, with and a rolling of the Testicles. If the Head, our Nut of the Yard be still covered with the Fore- Taken skin, a spot like a Measse appears on the top off wheel it, immediately after liquid matter, retemblings hid Sperm begins to drops out, which daily re- same ceding from the colour and confiftence of Seed and at length grows yellow, and of a more dilutes of colour than the Yolk of an Egg. In the Vene-real Pox, that are rifen to a higher degree of the virulency, the same is green, and mixt with as tomb watry humour tinged with Blood. The fore- thyon mentioned Wheal at length degenerates into att the Ulcer, not unlike the Exulcerations in Chillenge to dren's Mouths, which daily eateth deeper and wider, the Orifice being beset with a Callus Ith Those that are circumcised, or have the Number of the Yard stript bare, are not troubled with an Ulcer therein, but only with the Gonorrhead or Running of the Reins. Presently a violent pain is felt in the Yard, as often as it is erected especially in the night, when the lick person is trem hot in is Bed, as if it were wrung hard with one hand. The Yard is bowed by the contraction of the part called the Bridle. To these Sigm may may be added, Scalding of the Urine, which is learce perceptible while the Urine is coming forth, but after it is voided, there is a sense of burning through the whole Urethra, chiefly where it ends in the Glans or Nut of the Yard. Sometimes little Excrescences of Flesh hinder the passage of the Urine, and now and then there happens a pain and instantation of the Scrotum or Cod.

Heat, of

Take of the Mass of the Pills Cochia the greater three drams, Extract of Rudius one dram, Rosin of Jalap and Diogridium (or prepared in Scammony) of each half a dram, Opobalsamum as much as sufficeth. Make Pills, six out of which let the Patient take sour every morning, till the Scalding of the Urine, and the yellow colour of the Seed-like matter which every other day for two weeks together; and at the last twice a week, till the humour wholly thease to drop out.

If the fick Person cannot easily be mov'd by wacuating Medicines, you may now and then nterpose the common purging Potion between he Doses of Pills, adding thereto of Syrup of Buckthorn, and the Electuary of the juice of Buckthorn, and the Electuary of the juice of Lure do not succeed according to your desire; ou may exhibit Turbith Mineral, to eight ance of sour days; or instead of the Turbith, G3

Mercurius dulcis, one scruple: with a sufficiente quantity of Opobalsamum, make four Pills, to bee taken early in the morning.

Purging, after he hath taken the Pills that aree want first prescribed, for three days together, let thee better following Clyster be injected twice every day; which namely, in the morning, and at five a clock in the afternoon; but once or twice in a week thee clock or clyster must be omitted, and a purging Medicine of the prescribed.

Take of the Electuary of the juice of Rosess Takes of the Electuary of the juice of Rosess Takes of the Wenice Turpentine dissolved with the Wenice yolk of an Egg, half an ounce: dissolve them haloss in a pint of Barley water, and add to the strains tom ing two ounces of the Syrup of Violets; mix months them for a Clyster.

Every night let him take 25 drops of Opobahl unda famum, or Balfam of Mecha in a piece of Sun gar; in default of this, you may substitute Turr pentine of Cyprus, to the quantity of a Filberro Will Nut.

Let him use Milk and Water for ordinary In Drink, and Small Beer at Meals.

Or you may follow this method.

Take of the Pills ex duobus, half a drama Opobaisamum, three drops: make three Pills whice which are to be taken at four in the morning, fleeping after them, and repeated every second or third day.

In the intermediate days, let the Clyster before described be injected in the morning, and at the five in the afternoon.

What method soever you follow, the Patient must be let Blood once or twice about the middle of the Cure. Prescribe also a cooling and thickning Diet, and Medicines that are ended to du'd with the same Vertues, as Milk and Walter, Emulsions of the cold Seeds, &c.

If the Yard be swoln,

Take of the Roots of Marshmallows and Lillies, of each one ounce and an half; Leass of Mallows, Petty Mullein, Elder, Henbane, Chamomil Flowers, Melilote Flowers, of each one handful; Linseed, and Fenngreek Seed, of each half an ounce: Boil them in Spring-water for a Fomentation, which must be apply'd to the part affected one whole hour twice or thrice a day.

After Fomentation, anoint the part affected with Linseed Oil freshly drawn, then spread a little of the Plaister of Mucilages upon Lambs Skin, and wrap about the sweln Lips of the Prepuce.

But if there be an Ulcer in the Lips of the Fore-skin, or in the Glans that lieth under them, prescribe the following Liniment.

Take

Take of the Ointment Basilicon, six drams; Ointment of Tobacco, two drams; Pracipitate wash'd in Rose-water, and well lavigated, half a dram. Mix and make a Liniment. Let it be apply'd to the Sore upon scrapings of linnen Cloth, always after Fomentation.

If the Scrotum or Cod be swoln, let a Vein be immediately open'd in the Arm, and the prescrib'd Fomentation apply'd to the part affected twice every day, adding to each Fomentation a Spoonful or two of Spirit of French Wine, or instead of it, apply a Cataplasm of Oxycrate and Bean Flower.

In the mean time the purging and cooling Medicines already describ'd, must be given inwardly.

Med &

Of the FRENCH POX.

When by the long continuance of a Gamorrhaa, or the undue use of astringent or binding Medicines, the Blood is corrupted, the Disease call'd the French Pox doth arise.
Bubo's or malignant Botches appear in the Groin. The sick person is afflicted with a pain in the Head, and in the spaces between the Joints, chiefly when he grows hot in his Bed;
and divers parts of the Body are cover'd with a Scurf, which is of a yellow colour like a Honeycomb;

comb; and the more the Scab is diffus'd, so much the less he is tormented with pain. In the Skull, Legs and Arms, there are bony Excredited and Rottenness of the Bones; and in divers parts eating Ulcers, which for the most part appear first in the Jaws, from whence creeping by degrees through the Palat to the cartilaginous part of the Nose, they quickly consume it; and the Nose being thus trobbed of its Prop, falls down flat. The Ulcers, Rottenness and Pain, increasing daily, the Members perish by turns, till at the last the mangled Carkass, already grown burdensom to the living, is buried out of fight.

Take of Hogs-lard, two ounces; crude Quick-silver, one ounce mix them for a Liniment, to be divided into three equal parts, with one of which let the Patient anoint his Arms and Legs, with his own hand, for three nights together.

If within three days after the last anointing, the Salivation doth not begin, let eight Grains of Turbith Mineral be exhibited in Conserve of Red Roses, or (to those that are less robust) one scruple of Mercurius dulcis: Also if the Salivation already begun, grow languid before the total disappearing of the Symptoms, it must be quickned now and then with a like Dose of Mercurius dulcis.

The Salivation ought to be so moderated, that the Patient may spit about sour Pints in 24 hours.

But

But if it rife too high, and be attended with too great an Inflamation, and other Symptomatical of that nature, it ought to be represt with purguing Medicines, and kept in a due degree of moderation.

Symptoms, let the Patient's Shirt, and the Sheette mid, and of his Bed be changed, and others put in their room, which must be such as have been formerly used as a line of the sheet will be such as have been formerly used as a line of the sheet will be such as have been formerly used as a line of the sheet will be such as have been formerly used as a line of the sheet will be such as have been formerly used as a line of the sheet will be such as have been formerly used as a line of the sheet will be such as have been formerly used as a line of the sheet will be such as have been formerly used as a line of the sheet will be such as have been something the sheet will be such as have been something the sheet will be such as have been something the sheet will be such as have been something the sheet will be such as have been something the sheet will be such as have been something the sheet will be such as have been something the sheet will be such as have been something the sheet will be such as have been something the sheet will be such as have been something the sheet will be such as have been something the sheet will be such as have been something the sheet will be such as have been something the sheet will be such as have been something the sheet will be such as a sheet will be suc

Loosness, (which for the most part happens sound before the Salivation be much advanced) it ought to be stopt by the use of Liquid Laudanum, still augmenting and repeating the Dose, till it hath produced the desired effect.

If the Mouth be ulcerated, let it be washedd the H with Damask-Rose water, or Milk and was wire, in ter mixt, or with the following Decontains, ction.

Barley, of each one ounce; Quince-feeds, half find an ounce: Boil them in a convenient quantity to be of water to a quart. Mix and make a Garga-truth rism, which ought to be frequently used.

Let the Diet and Government of the fick and Person be the same that is usually prescribed when purging Medicines are exhibited; but due like ring a sew days in the beginning, let him makes and the beginning of the fick and the letter when the beginning is the beginning of the fick and the letter when the beginning is the beginning is the beginning of the fick and the letter when the beginning is the beginning is the beginning in the beginning is the beginning in the beginning i mall Beer warmed. Oat-broths, and

All these things being rightly performed though there be no appearance of any Symptom om lest, and the Disease seem to be perfectly to secure the Patient from the langer of a Relapse, let him once in a week ake a scruple of Mercurius dulcis, repeating it our or six times, though he should be well some mough to walk abroad, and seem to be perfectly than ecovered.

Of the Whites, or White Flux.

The Humour that flows out is sometimes white, sometimes pale, yellow, green or publickish; it is sometimes sharp and corrosive, and sometimes stinking and of a strong smell. The Flux is accompanied with divers symptoms, is Wanness of Face, a pain in the Back-bone, Want of Appetite, Swelling of the Hands and Feet. If that which comes forth be received apon a Clout, it will manifest the Humor that causes the Flux, after it hath been dried.

Let a Vein be opened in the Arm, and eight punces of Blood taken away.

Take of the Pills Cochiæ the greater two scruples, Castoreum two grains, Balsam of Peru three drops: Make sour Pills which are to be taken after them, and twice repeated every second of the third day, according to the strength of the Partient.

Bryony water two ounces, Sugar Candy as much lake as is sufficient: Make a Julep, of which let her take three or four spoonfuls in every languish. Make a let her use the Remedies that are here subjoined.

Take of Treacle of Andromachus one ounce and an half, Conserve of the yellow part of an Orenge two ounces, Diascordium half an ouncee little preserv'd Ginger, and preserv'd Nutmeg, on his each three drams; Compound Powder of Crabb wight Claws, one dram and a half; the outward Rined then of Pomgranates, Roots of Spanish Angelica, Ree Mitton Coral prepar'd, and Troches of Lemnian Earth of each one dram; Bole Armenic, two Scrupless Make Gum Arabic, half a dram: with a sufficient atold quantity of Syrup of dry'd Roses, make an E lectuary, of which let her take the quantity of large Nutmeg in the morning, at five in the all ternoon, and at night, every day, for a wholl his month, drinking fix Spoonfuls of the following Infusion after every Dose.

Take of the Roots of Elicampane, Mastern wort, Angelica, Calamus Aromaticus, of each had an ounce; Leafs of Roman Wormwood, White Horehound, Lesser Centaury, Common Calamin mint, and Sage dry'd, of each one handful; Juminipiper Berries one ounce: let them be chope mall, and infus'd in four Pints of Canary Wine: let them stand in a cold Insusion; strain or only when you use it.

Let her eat Meats of easie digestion, and abtain from all sorts of Pot-herbs, and Fruits; and at every Meal drink Spanish Wine.

of the Diabetes.

The Juices that are brought into the Blood being crude and undigested, seek a passage forth hrough the Urinary Ducts, by which means he strength is by degrees wasted, the Body is nelted or dissolved, and as it were the substance of it drain'd out through this Kennel. This Disease is also attended with Thirst, burning Heat of the Bowels, Swelling of the Loins and Haunches, and frequent spitting of frothy Mater.

Prescribe the same things that are comnended in the Chapter, Of the Whites, the Letting of Blood and Purging being only mitted. Of the Pain of the Hærnorrhoids.

The fick Person is tormented with a most intense pain, when he voideth Excrements, there have surface of which is also sprinkled with Bloods with Sometimes Tumours like Warts lurk inwardly line in the Muscle, call'd the Sphincter, or appearance in the Brims of the Fundament.

Let ten ounces of Blood be taken out of thee Right Arm.

of each half an ounce; White Poppy Seeds work two drams; five fweet Almonds shell'd. Beauting to Barley Water above a Pint, Rose Water two drams; fine white Sugar, as much as suffice the Make an Emulsion according to Art; on which let the Patient take three ounces free weekly.

Take of Flowers of Brimstone, Powder of Liquorish, and Sage of each one dram: with a sufficient quantity of Lucatella's Balsam, makes fix Pills out of every dram, of which let him take thrice a day, drinking six spoonfuls of the Emulsion after them.

Take of Frogs Sperm Water, four ounces diff

lissolve in it of Litharge, two drams; Opium, one scruple: Apply a linnen Clout soak'd in a little of this mixture to the part affected; or the Tumour lurk inwardly, inject three poonfuls of the same mixture by way of a Clyster.

Let the Patient make use of Water boil'd about with Milk, or of Barley Water, for ordinary Drink, and abstain from Flesh. Every night et him take Diacodium.

of the immoderate Flux of the Hamorrhoids.

It is known by the Decay of Strength, a long which a copious Flux of Blood, foul colour of the Body tending to a Citron colour, as in the multiple aundice. It brings an evil Habit of Body, and the multiple wards the Dropfie.

The same things are profitable in this Case, hat are prescribed in the Chapter, Of the immothe lerate Flux of the Courses, omitting only Purga-100.

of the Epilepsy in Children.

Children are usually troubled with the Faling Sickness, either during the first Month, afer a Loosness, (in which case Diacodium, to the quantity of a Pepper Corn, dissolved in H 2 Saxi-Saxifrage Water, or Mothers Milk, and exhi-bited, is a most excellent Remedy;) or about the time of their Breeding of Teeth, from thee seventh to the tenth Month; it is accompany'd with a Cough, or (which is far worse) with Vomiting and Loofness, the Infant voiding green Excrements, after the manner of Hystericall Women. Sometimes the Fit cometh suddenly; and unawares, difforting the Mouth and Eyess, overspreading the Face with Blackness, and caufing convulfive Motions in divers Limbs: Andd otherwhile the coming of it is fignify'd beforehand, by the Contraction of the Fingers into thee Fift, and a fetled and unufual unmoveableness of line the Eyes. The Fits are sometimes long, and fometimes short; fometimes they return at fet -- man times, and otherwhiles observe no certain per-sheart riod; but when Death is at hand, they come fcome his thick, that they feem to tread upon one anothers and the heels. If at any time they grant a Truce, the thrus Child remains drowfie, and prone to fleep, tillian he be rous'd by a new Paroxysm.

Apply a Blistering Plaister as soon as may be to the hinder part of the Neck.

Take of Langius his Epileptic Water, three drams; Liquid Laudanum one, two, or more drops, according to the Age of the Child Syrup of Peony, one dram: mix them for a Draught, which must be instantly exhibited.

ात का

Take of Rue Water, three ounces; Langius him his Epileptic Water, and compound Bryony Water, of each one ounce; Syrup of Gilli-lowers half an ounce: mix and make a Julep, of which give a spoonful every hour, if the Draught already prescribed hath not discust the later Paroxysm.

Of the Richets truly so called.

It is known by the Looseness, Softness, Feebleness, Languithment, Laziness, Dulness and unequal nourishment of the parts, viz. the Head is bigger than is meet, the Face fuller and more florid, the fleshy parts beneath the Head pine way, the Joints are possest with Knotty Protuberances, chiefly the Wrists, but the Ankles abot so much, the Bones are bowed, especially those of the Legs, and next to them those of the Cubit between the Elbow and Wrist, somestrimes also the Shoulder and Thigh-bones: the Teeth come forth flowly and with pain, they are loose, black and fall out, the Breast is nartow toward the fides, and high and sharp before: Other figns are a stuffing of the Abdomen or Paunch, distension of the Hypochondria, or places hunderethe short Ribs, Coughing, faultiness of the Lungs; and an averseness from lying on one side, which happens to be sometimes the Right fide, and otherwhiles the Left. Take Take of the Leaves of common Wormwood, lesser Centory, White Hore-hound, Germainder, Scerdium, common Calamint, Feverfew, Meadow Saxifrage, St. Fohns wort; Golden rod, wild Time, Mint, Sage, Rue, Carduus Benedictus, Penny-royal, Southern-wood, Camomil, Tanfy, and Lilly of the Valley, all freshly gather'd and chopt, of each one handful; Hogs Lard four pounds, Sheeps Tallow two pounds, Claret wine a quart. Let them ftand twelve hours soaking on hot ashes in an earthen Vessel, then boil away the Moisture and afterwards strain them for a Liniment, with which anoint the Belly, and the parts under the: short Ribs, and also the Limbs every morning; and evening, for thirty or forty days, or till the: ithmo Child recover.

Take of each of the prescribed Ingredients two las & handfuls, infuse them cold in four Gallons of his Beer not hopp'd, for ordinary drink.

and the

Put t

When Tumors possess the Beilies of Children, caused by excessive Evacuations,

Let the Blood and Bowels be strengthnedd interwith corroborating Herbs, as in the Rickets the (properly so called); Only let the Armpits bee aifo anointed on both sides, but not the Limbs.

of Fevers proceeding from the Breeding of Teeth

Let two, three, or four Drops of Spir io Hartshorn, according to the Age of the Child, be exhibited every four hours in a spoonful or two of Black Cherry water, or some other constant venient Julep, repeating it four or six times.

Of the Hectic Fever in Children.

Let chea us in sa

They languish with a notable Heat, and Dejection of Appetite; the Trunk of the Body, and the Limbs are extenuated.

Put two drams of Rheubarb sliced into as Glass Bottle capable of containing a Quart of Small Beer, for ordinary Drink: and after it is drunk up, pour upon the same Rheubarb another Quart of Beer, and so a third time.

But if the Drink be too strongly impregnated with a Purgative Vertue, after one Pint is drunk up, let another be immediately added to that which remains.

Of Bleeding at the Nofe.

It is attended with Pain and Heat in the Fore-

Let.

Let a Vein be frequently opened in the Arm, and a cooling and thickening Diet injoined. Prescribe also cooling and thickening Juleps, and cooling Emulsions.

Let a cooling Clyster be injected every day, and a composing Draught of Syrup of Meconium exhibited every night, and prescribe the common purging Potion to be be taken once or twice.

Dip a piece of Linnen cloth four times doubled in cold water, in which Sal Prunelle hath been dissolved; and squeezing it a little, apply it to the Neck behind and on both sides, often_ times in a day.

TheS

barof F

in the rai

Police S

that our Courts

Ltt

Divier:

Montal P.

ARR (FIN

121 900°

After the Evacuations, apply the following

Liquor.

Take of Hungarian Vitriol, and Allum, of each one ounce; Flegm of Vitriol half a pound: Boil them till the whole be dissolved, then suffer the Liquor to grow cold, and strain it through Brown Paper, and separating it from the Crystals that now and then wrise, add to the remaining Liquor a twelfth part of Oil of Vitriol: Or rather,

Take of Plantane Water, four ounces; Bole Armeniac in fine Powder, half an ounce: mix them thoroughly. Dip a Tent made of the scrapings of Linnen in this Liquor, and put it into into the Nostril out of which the Blood flows, where let it remain two days.

Vitriol in common Water, and dipping a Tent therein, put it into the Nose. Clouts dipt in this Liquor, and apply'd, do also stay Bleeding in any of the external Parts.

Of the Green-Sickness.

once or

The Signs of this Disease are these: Ill colour of Face, and of the whole Body, Swellings in the Face, Eye-lids and Ankles, Heaviness of the whole Body, a stretching Weariness of the Legs and Feet, dissicult Breathing, Feverish Pulse, Sleepiness, Pica or longing for things that ought not to be eaten, and stoppage of the Courses.

Let the Patient take the Chalybeat Pills or Powder, prescribed in the Chapter, Of the Hysterical Passion, more or less, according to her Age, drinking after them a Draught of any sort of Wine that pleaseth her, or of the cotroborating Insusion of the Roots of Angelica there described. If she be not very weak, purge her once or twice, before she enter into this Course.

Of the Suppression of the Terms.

They loath Meat, the Face is discoloured, the whole Body is heavy, the Forepart of the Head, Loins, Legs, and Lower Belly, are pain'd, and the Feet are swoln.

The

Take o

el Cost

deen ; ho rat: nix

int acing

in to the second

Taken

buh. an

THE D

Tate

加鲁

RE IL

Prescribe the same Remedies that are commended in the Chapter, Of the Hysterical Pasfion; but if these will not prevail, proceed thus:

Every morning, and at four a clock in the afternoon, give five spoonfuls of the Hysterical Julep without Castereum, with twelve drops of Spirit of Harts-horn, and every night at her entrance into Bed, let her take one scruple of the Troches of Myrrh made into a Bolus, or Pills with Syrup of Mugwort.

Of Vomiting or Spitting of Blood.

Spitting of Blood is accompany'd with a Pain and Heat in the Breast, and a certain Feebleness.

Let ten ounces of Blood be taken out of the Right Arm. The next morning let the Patient take take the common purging Potion, and the same anight a composing Draught, of three ounces of Black-cherry Water, and one ounce of Syrup of Meconium.

Then let him use the following Reme-

Take of Bole-Armeniac, one ounce; Powder of Comfry Roots, two drams; feal'd Earth, Blood-stone, and Dragons Blood, of each one production in the white Sugar the weight of all the rest: mix them, and make a fine Powder, of which let him take one dram in the morning, at live a clock in the afternoon, and at night, drinking four ounces of the following Apozeme after it.

Take of the Leafs of Plantane, wild Bramble Bush, and Yarrow, of each one handful. Boil them in a convenient quantity of Water to a Pint and an half: in the straining dissolve two punces of syrup of Comfry: mix and make an Apozeme; or let him take fix spoonfuls of the following Tincture.

Take of Red Rose Flowers, six drams; the nner Bark of the Oak, half an ounce; Plantane Seeds somewhat bruis'd, three drams; Spring Water, one quart; Spirit of Vitriol, as much as sufficeth to give the whole a pleasant sharpness. Insuse them four hours in a close Vessel, with a gentle Heat: To the straining, add three ounces

ounces of Barley Cinnamon Water, and as much fine white Sugar as is sufficient to make it pleasant to taste.

If the Patient have an aversion against Powders, let him use the Electuary prescribed in the Chapter, Of the Immoderate Flux of the Terms.

Prescribe a Clyster to be injected every day, and Diacodium to be taken at night.

Moreover the Patient must be let Blood again once, twice or thrice, according to the necessity of his condition, some days being interposed. Also, if need be, let him once again repeat the purging Potion,

And observe a cooling and thickning Diet.

TA LED

intermiinto Fo

Of the Pricking of a Tendon.

A watery Humour or thin Gleet doth perpetually drop out of the Orifice of the Veins

Milk till they grow tender, and beaten, four ounces; Lin-seed flower and Oat-flower, off each three drams: Boil them to the confistences of a Cataplasm, in the same Milk in which thee Rootss

Roots were boiled. Apply it to the part affect-

Of Burning.

& Pow

R003

Foment the part affected with Clouts dipt in Spirit of Wine, till the pain be affwaged; then dip the Clout again and apply it three or four times in a day to the part affected.

Of Common Madness.

This Disease proceedeth from a too vivid and exalted Constitution of the Blood. There is also another sort of Madness that comes after long intermitting Fevers, and at length degenerates into Folly, which is caused by the Weakness and Flatness of the Blood, proceeding from a long Fermentation thereof. You must therefore prescribe high Cordials, such as Treacle of Andromachus, the Electuary de Ovo, the Countesses Powder, Sir Walter Rawleigh's Powder in Plague water, Treacle water, or some other convenient Vehicle. And injoin a Restorative Diet.

In young Persons let a Veinbe opened in the Arm, and eight or nine ounces of Blood taken away twice or thrice, every fourth day.

Then

Then let the Jugular Veins be once opened.

After which the whole Cure depends upon the use of the following purging Medicine, which is must be given every third or fourth day while the Disease lasts; But in the mean time it is too be observed, that after the Patient hath been purged eight or ten times, the exhibition off the Evacuating Medicine must be omitted for a week or two.

Take of the Domestic Medicine (that is,) White Briony Roots) in powder, one dram; Cows Milk four ounces: Or,

Taken

Take of the same Roots half an ounce, or the six drams; White Wine sour ounces: Insuser them a whole night. In the strained Liquors dissolve one ounce of Syrup of Violets. Mixtures them for a Potion. Or, Take of Gambugia fourteen grains, Black-Cherry water three ounces, Syrup of Clovegilliflowers half an ounce: Make a Potion.

Of Contusions or Bruises.

Let a Vein in the Arm of the fide that iss most affected be opened, and ten ounces of Blooding taken away. The next morning exhibit the common purging Potion; and thenceforward in like manner repeat Blood-letting and Purgahe mean while, if the inward parts are hurt, et him use the following Remedies during the whole course of the Cure.

Take of the Pectoral Decoction a pint and n half, Syrup of Violets, and of Maidenmair, of each two ounces: Mix them for an Apozem, of which let him take half a pint hrice a day. Exhibit also frequently a poonful of Oil of Sweet Almonds newly rawn.

Take of Oil of Sweet Almonds, the Ointment Dialthea and Pomate, of each one ounce:

Limit them for a Liniment, with which anoint the part affected morning and evening, laying wer it a Cabbage Leaf.

Of Sourf or Scales in the Head.

Block

Let the Common Purging Potion be twice

Take of Oil of bitter Almonds, Oil of Laul, the Afhes of Sothernwood leaves, of each ne ounce: Mix them thoroughly for a Linient, with which anoint the whole Head evenight, rubbing it in diligently, and then cotrit with a Sow's Bladder.

But first let all the Hair be cut off, and afterwards rub off the Scales by degrees, every morning, according as they are ready to fall! away.

Of the Biting of a Mad Dog:

et the Pa

Take o

of cach or your

Takeo

After 40 Days or more, the Signs of Melancholy appear : a Fever, Thirst, Hydrophobia, orr the Fear of Water, and at length Convulsionss of the extreme Parts.

Take of Spirit of Wine highly rectified, fourt ounces; Treacle of Andromachus, one ounce make a mixture, with which anoint the parti that is hurt, thrice every day, laying over it as the Clout dipt in the same mixture.

Of the Ulcer of the Bladder.

Stinking matter is voided, or Blood, and fometimes Scales, or membranous Skins, and as it were scurfy Crusts like Bran; whereas when the Ulcer is in the Reins, pieces of Flesh (which fometimes are very big) are voided with this Urine. There is also a perpetual difficulty co Urine, and continual pain in those parts: But in an Ulcer of the Reins, the difficulty of Urita and Pain come by Fits, and there are some Inter wals of ease; the Matter also that comes from the Reins is more abundant, white, thin, and not stinking, the Urine is voided like milk, but after it hath stood long, the Matter being separted, falls to the bottom.

Take of the Plaister call'd Flos Unguenti, a dram and an half: make nine Pills, of which let the Patient take three at the physical hours, (viz. at eight a clock in the morning, and five in the afternoon) drinking six spoonfuls of the following Water after them.

Take of the Roots of Comfrey, Fennel, Birthwort, and Avens, of each three ounces; Leafs of Agrimony, St. Fohns Wort, Bugle, Sanicle and Plantane, of each fix handfuls; chop them small, and distil them in White-wine and Milk, of each four Pints. Draw off only four Pints for your use.

Take of the Powder of Comfrey Roots, and Gum Arabic, of each one ounce; Sugar of Penides, two ounces: make a Powder, of which let the Patient take a spoonful twice a day.

Of an Asthma, or Difficulty of Breathing, in Persons of a Sanguine Constitution.

Of this Disease there are three kinds. Dyfpnea, which is a difficult Breathing, in which the Breath is drawn often and thick, without noise or ratling, arifing from the stuffing of the Lungs. Asthma, or a great and frequent Breathing, in which the Diaphragma or Midriff, and intercostal Muscles, as also the Muscles of the Abdomen are: violently mov'd, with a ratling noise and wheefing. In the former kind the substance of the Lungs, in the latter the Bronchia, or Griftles are And Orthopnea, which is the greatest which difficulty of Breathing, in which the fick perfon cannot breath but fitting, and with hiss late Neck stretch'd upright; the Muscles also off her; h the Breast and Shoulders are vehemently agitated.

Let ten ounces of Blood be taken from thee home Right Arm, and the next day let the Patients take the common purging Potion, and repeate The the same every third day to two other Doies.

for third

Will to $10 th

In the intermediate Days let him proceed the ahus:

Take two drams of Annifeed in fine powders

fam make twelve Pills, of which let him take three in the morning, and at five a clock in the afternoon, drinking after them four ounces of the bitter Decoction, without the purging Ingredients, warm.

If the Symptoms still remain, let the whole Process be iterated afresh.

Of the Pally.

Both the Faculties of Sense and Motion, or either of them singly, are entirely lost, or at least diminished, and vitiated in the parts affected.

Take of the Pills Cochia the less, two scruples; let them be exhibited six times every other morning: And afterwards let the Patient take the Antiscorbutic Electuary, thrice a day for thirty days together. See the Chapter, Of the Scurvey.

Take of the Unquest call'd Nervinum, three ounces; compound Spirit of Lavender, and Spirit of Garden-Scurvy-Grass, of each an ounce and an half; with which anoint the parts affected, as the Back-bone, &c. every morning and evening.

The most part of the Remedies there prescribed, though they seem to be only adapted for the Cure of the Scurvy: yet for smuch as they are peculiarly qualify'd to volatize crude and fixt Humors, they are also good against the Palfy:

Of the Cough and Pthisis, or Consumption.

The Cough is evident of it felf. As for the Confumption it is to be observed, that People are obnoxious to it from eighteen to thirty five The Signs of it are these: An Hectic Fever, which is augmented after Meat (as appears by the quickness of the Pulse, and Redness of the Cheeks;) the Matter that is spic forth with Coughing is bloody or purulent (that is, mixt with Quittor,) being cast into the Fire, it sendeth forth a noisom Smell; and if it be put into a Vessel full of water, it finks to the bottom: Sweating at Night, Blueness of the Cheeks, Paleness of Face, and Sharpness of the Nostrils. And the finking of the Temples. crookedness of the Nails, falling off of the Hair, and melting Flux of the Belly, are the immediate Forerunners of Death.

When the Cough is of no long standing, non is yet accompany'd with a Fever, or other Signs of a Bastard Peripneumonia, nor came after a Pleurisy or Peripneumonia, for want of sufficient Blood letting, in such a Case it will be sufficient

101

(2) 17 20

Take

9011

MI, D

(bth an (ampais half an Fisher?

Chyano

Tabiets

Dead et the Medicin

Take

05: ST

trate a

With a piech

to caution the Patient against the use of Wine or Flesh for some days, and to prescribe these or unit the like Remedies to be used by him at his pleafure.

Let him take ten drops of Balfam of Sulphur anifated in a spoonful of Sugar-candy, twice or thrice every day, and frequently eat one of the following Tablets, which he ought always to carry about him.

Take a pound and an half of Sugar-candy; boil it in a convenient quantity of Spring water, till it stick to the ends of your Fingers: then add to it of the Powder of Liquorish, Elicampane, Anniseed, Angelica Seeds, of each half an ounce; Powder of Flower-de-luce, of Florence and Brimstone, of each two drams; Chymical Oil of Annis, two scruples. Make Tablets according to Art, which may be called Domestic Lozenges. And in the mean time let the Patient use the following lambitive mels al Medicine.

err fre

25-204

d Rida

g (tat

30 DE

180 1

re the

Take of Oil of Sweet Almonds, two ounces; Syrup of Maiden-hair and Violets, of each one ounce; Sugar-candy as much as fufficeth to make a Lohoch; let the Patient lick thereof with a Liquorish Stick, when the Cough surprizeth him.

In a thin Defluxion, you may prescribe thickning Lohochs. But

Set to

Bons or nia la ing if

But if the Cough yield not to these Remedies, (more especially if it be attended with a Fever, or came after a Pleurisy or Instanation of the Lungs) in that case it will be to no purpose to rely upon pectoral Medicines, for a smuch as the Cure must be wrought by Blood-letting and Purging, according to the method described in the Chapter, Of the Bastard Peripneumonia.

If after all, the Cough do not only continue to molest the Patient, but by long and violeut concussion of the Lungs, hath exceedingly weakned them, and thereby introduced a Pthisis or Consumption, you must proceed thus:

Pour ten drops of Balsam of Peru into a spoonful of Syrup of Circund-Ivy, or (if the Patient dislike that) of Sugar-candy; and let him take it thrice a day, drinking after it sour ounces of the bitter Decoction, prepared without the purging Ingredients, or if that doth occasion a Looseness of his Belly, let him diminish the Dose to three ounces.

But of all the Remedies that hitherto have been invented, the most excellent and essicacious, is for the Patient to take long and far Journies on Horse-back. It is moreover to be observed, that Men, or such as have already past the years of their Youth, must spend more time in this exercise, than if they were Boys or Young-men. And, truly, the Peruvian Bark is not a much more certain Remedy for intermitting Fevers, than, in this Age, Riding is for a Consumption.

Of the Scurvy.

ded de

Weariness that cometh of it self, or without any precedent Cause; difficult Breathing, especially after Exercise; Rottenness of the Gums; stinking Breath; often Bleeding at the Nose; difficult and uneasse Walking; and (which is a constant Symptom of this Dispose in the Legs, which are black and blue, yellow, or of a lead or violet colour, and sometimes extenuated, and the Face of a colour between pale and tawny.

Let a Vein be opened in the Arm, and eight bunces of Blood taken away, if no Signs of a Dropsie appear.

The next morning exhibit the common purgng Potion, and again a second and third time very third day.

In the intermediate Days, let the Patient take the following Remedies, and continue the use of them for a month or two afterwards.

Take of Conserve of Garden-Scurvy-grass, Mal two ounces; Conserve of Wood-forrel, once land ounce, compound Powder of Aron, fix drams; Syrup of Orenges, as much as sufficeeth to make an Electuary, of which let him prepare take the quantity of a large Nutmeg, in lor the morning, at five a clock in the aftern we the noon, and at night, drinking after it fin 0, spoonfuls of compound Radish water, or of than which follows.

four foe

$00 (CDS)

door pu

Take of Raspings of Horse-Radish Rooms two pounds; Aron Roots, one pound; Leafs co Garden-Scurvy-Grass, twelve handfuls ; Leah Til of Mint, Sage, Water-creffes, and Brook-limes were of each fix handfuls; Seeds of Garden-Scurvy 40 0000 Grass a little beaten, half a pound; Nutmega land half an ounce; White-wine, twelve pints : D) Methor still them in a common Still, and draw off only what fix pints for your use.

Or distil the fresh Leafs of Garden-Scurvy Grass by it self, for the same use.

Moreover, let the Patient make use of the following Beer for ordinary Drink. Tall Take of the fresh Roots of Horse-Radish slic'd, two drams; twelve Leafs of Garden-Scurvy-Grass; six Raisins ston'd; and the half of an Orenge slic'd. Put them altogether into a Glass Bottle capable of containing a Quart of Small Beer, and stop it immediately with a Cork.

the Par and an.

I to de no ten

NOT THE

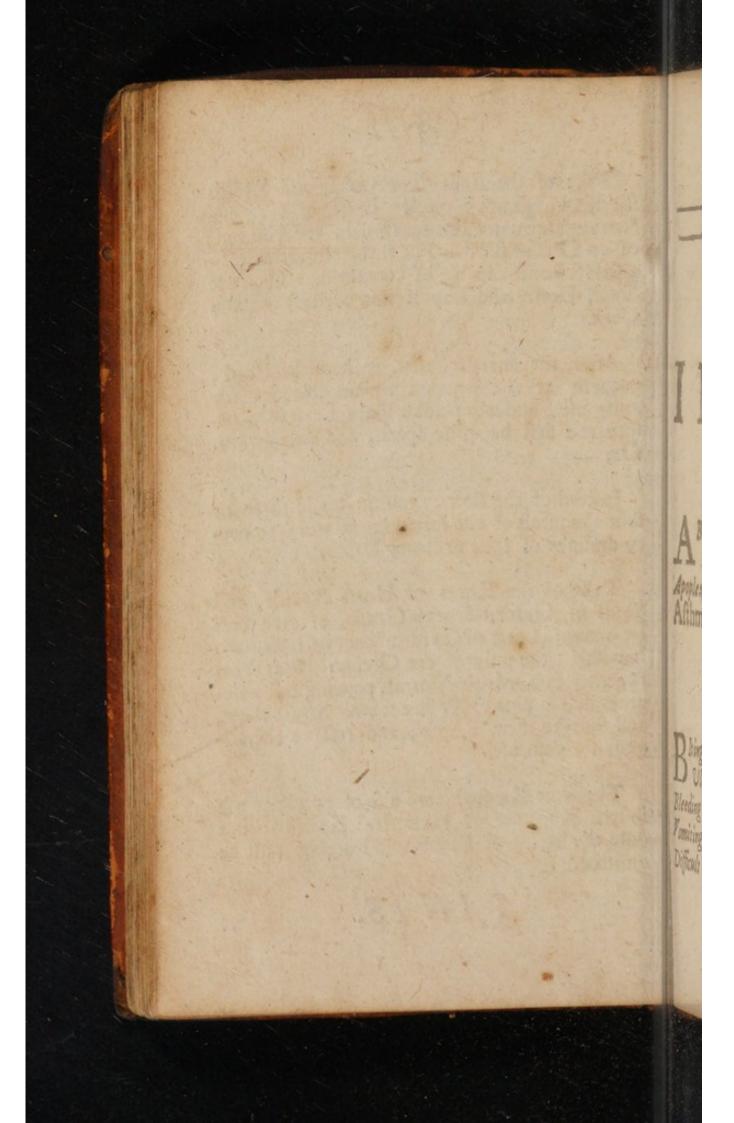

After the manner that is here described, prepare at the same time six Bottles for your use, and after some days six more, before the first be quite spent, and so onward. Or,

Instead of the Beer, you may add three or four spoonfuls of the following mixture, to every draught of your ordinary Daink.

Take of the Roots of Horse-Radish, and Seeds of Garden-Scurvy-Grass, of each half an ounce; Leass of Garden-Scurvy-Grass, two handfuls; the pulp of one Orenge. Beat them together in a marble Mortar, pouring in by degrees half a pint of White-wine. Strain them, and squeeze them a little; and reserve the Liquor for your use.

The same Remedies are also of excellent use in the Scorbutic or Hysterical Rheumatism; only the letting of Blood, and Purging, must be omitted.

FINIS.

INDEX:

A,

A Bortion. Ague.		57
Ague.	e it as w	14
Apoplexy. Afthma.		40
Afthma.		90

B.

D Iting of a mad Dog.	88
D Ulcer in the Bladder.	88
Bleeding at the Nose.	79
Vomiting and Spitting of Blood.	82
Difficult Breathing.	90
K 2	Bruises

Bruises.	86
Burning.	85
Control of the Contro
C.
	10
CHolera.	49
Hysterical Clavus.	54
Bilious Colic.	54
Hysterical Colic. Colic of the people of Poictiers.	51
Consumption.	92
Contustions.	86
Cough.	92
Immoderate Flowing of the Courses.	52
Suppression of the Courses.	82
65
D.
Tabetes!	73
Diarrhæa.	88
Biting of a mad Dog.	59
Dropfy.	44
Dysentery. E.	and the same of th

Interna Pestilen Present

Prefent

Scale.

Fever fr

Flaxe

James !

E.

Pilepsy.	75
L Epilepsy in Children.	75
Erisipela's and Erisipelatous Fever.	23
Inflammation of the Eyes.	42
23
The state of the s F.
	*
Alling Sickness in Children.	39
Cleansing Fever.	10
Erysipelatous Fever.	23
Hectic Fever in Children.	79
Intermitting Fever.	13
	11
Pestilential Fever	14
Present Fever.	16
Present Fever in Children.	17
Scarlet Fever.
Fever from the Breeding of Teeth.	79
Flux of the Belly.	46
Immoderate Flux of the Courses.	52
Immoderate Flux of the Hemorrhoids.	75

Immoderate Flux of the Loches: White Flux. French Pox.	57 71 68	100000
G.		Jack Ach
Gonorrhæa. Green-sickness.	64	400
H.		S
HEtic Fever in Children. Flux of the Hemorrhoids. Pain of the Hemorrhoids. Hypochondriacal Passion. Hypochondriacal Rheumatism. Hysterical Clavus. Hysterical Colic. Hysterical Rheumatism. Hysterical Rheumatism.	79 75 74 5 22 54 54 5 22	I Indi

I. Jaun-

57 71 68

.I.
J Aundice. Iliac Passion. Itching.	56 51 24
K.
Stone in the Kidneys.	43
L.
I Mmoderate Flux of the Loches. Suppression of the Loches. Looseness.	57 58 46

Madnes

M.

85 43 79 42
9X 19 XI Phthifis.

Phthisis.		92
Pleurisie.		18
French Pox.		68
Small Pox.		29

Q

Quingy.

25

R.

Omposition of Remedies. I, 2, 3,	4,5
Rheumatism.	21
Scorbutic and Hysterical Rheumatism.	22
Rickets.	77
Running of the Reins.	64

S.

SCarlet Fever.

Scorbutick Rheumatism.

Scurf

Sourf in the Head. Sourvy. Diseases of the Skin. Spitting of Blood. Stone in the Kidneys.	87 95 24 82 43
T.
F Evers from Breeding of Teeth. Pricking of a Tendon. Terms. See Courses. Tertian-Ague.	79 84 14
V.
V Enereal Disease. St. Vitus's Dance. Vomiting of Blood.	681 371 821

W. Whites.

W.

W Hites. 71
Falling down of the Womb. 43

FINIS.

Phita

