EARLY PRINTING.

- 656 Durandus (Guil.) Rationale Divinorum Officiorum, large folio, beautifully printed on thick Dutch paper, double columns, rubricated throughout and Initials painted in, original oaken boards, covered in calf, £7 7/ [1475]
 * * Edition without date, town, or printer, on 197 leaves without signatures, said by Hain to be the second edition, the first being printed by Fust and Schoeffer in 1459, it is printed in the same characters as those used by George Husner of Strassburg, about 1475, but probably earlier; copies are excessively rare in any state, but the above is a wonderful specimen of so early a book, being in almost an uncut state, and is altogether a most splendid and desirable example of book typography.
- 657 Sulpitii (Jo.) De Componendis et orandis Epistolis ad Phil. Gentilem Pallaicinum Patritium Genven. Opusculum. 4to, 26 LEAVES, the first blank, boards, FINE COPY of the FIRST EDITION, £1 15/ Rome, Silber, c. 1845
- 658 Roberti de Liceo Opus quadragesimale quod DE PENITENTIA dictum est. Folio, litt. goth., long lines without catchwords or signatures, 302 leaves, rubricated throughout, with a large finely painted capital letter at commencement, unbound, £3 5/ (Strassburg, Hussner, c. 1476)
- 659 Compendium Postille, edita a fratre Philippo de Monte Calerio, abbreviatu per fratrem Jo. Selmi de Canora de Cumis. 4to, litt. goth., 268 leaves, half calf, £1 15/ (Milan, Udalricus Scinzenzeller, c. 1480)
 * * Printer's device on last leaf. Only one edition of this work was printed in the 15th Century, and Hain was unable to describe it. The present copy is believed to want the Index, but is otherwise complete.
- 660 Manilii (Ant., Britonariensis) Oratio ad Alexandrum Sextum Pontif. Max. 4to, unbound, 15/ (Rome, Euch. Silber, c. 1490)

 * * This work is rare and much sought after, for the illustrations so admirably engraved by Verdizotti himself from the compositions designed by TITIAN; the Landscapes are particularly remarkable and altogether characteristic of the style of the great Venetian master.
- 701 Early Woodcuts.—Vitruvius Architettura con il suo Commento et Figure, in Volgar Lingua raportato per Giambatista Caporali di Perugia. Folio, fine woodcut title, and many woodcuts, calf neat, £3 15/ Perugia, nella Stampatu del Conte Iano Bigazini, 1536
 * * Translated for, and printed at the expense of Count Iano Bigazini, it includes a new series of woodcuts entirely distinct from those in the earlier or subsequent editions, and which were specially engraved for this work.
- 702 Early Wilts Printing.—Cooke (W.) The Way to the Temple, or True Honour and Fame, by the Paths of Heroic Virtue. 4 vols, 12mo, original half binding, 12/ Devizes, T. Burrough, 1773
 * * Two years earlier than the first press at Devizes as given by Cotton.
- 703 Eccentric Magazine, or LIVES and PORTRAITS of REMARKABLE CHARACTERS. 12mo Smeeton, 1813
 * * As many of these lives are of special or local interest, I have broken-up a copy of the work, and the following may be had separately at 2/ each. EACH HAS A PORTRAIT—Mother Louse of Oxford—Sir John Dinely, the Poor Knight of Windsor—Lord Rokeby, native of Hythe—And. Borde, native of Pevensey—John Bigg the Dinton Hermit—Capt. Barclay, the Pedestrian—Saml. Matthews, the Dulwich Hermit—John Bellington, shot Mr. Perceval—Hon. - 711 Edward III.—Year Book of the 17th of Edward III., printed in what is called Bastard-Gothic type. Folio, 80 leaves, £7 10/ (John Rastell, c. 1530)
 * * Of unusual interest as showing the published price of books at that date. At the end is "The price of thys boke is xvi. d. un bownde." The prices affixed to books at this early period are of the rarest occurrence. This appears to be the ONLY COPY, which has occurred for sale during many years.
- 712 Eikon Basiilike.—Le Portrait du Roy de la Grande Bretagne durant sa solitude et ses souffrances. 12mo, folding plate, calf gilt, 21/ Rouen, 1649
 * * A particularly rare edition.
- 713 Elizabeth.—Proclamation by Queen Elizabeth, thanking the Citizens of London for their assistance against the Treasons of the Earl of Essex, and the Earls of Rutland and Southampton, and admonishing them against Traitors, "given at our Palace of Westminster the ninth day of Februarie, 1600." THE ORIGINAL black letter, BROADSIDE, £5 Robert Barker, 1600
 * * Of peculiar historical interest, referring as it does to the last scene in the Earl of Essex's plot, his entering the City of London in arms; his seizure of the Keeper of the Great Seal, and the Council. He was executed the following year. Proclamations of Elizabeth's reign are extremely rare, and it is hardly necessary to add, very seldom occur for sale.

- 714 Egyptian Obelisks, a short History of them by W. R. Cooper. 12mo, cloth, autograph of Sir W. W. Burton, 2/ 1877

- * * Most of the plates are illustrative of Dutch life and manners, the last showing the custom in Deventer of hanging out an unlighted lantern at a house in which there is a death.
- 721 English Carols of the Fifteenth Century, from a MS. Roll in the Library of Trinity College, Cambridge, edited by J. A. Fuller Maitland. The Music as well as Text. Roy. 4to, facsimile, cloth, 12/ N.D.
- * * The text of the Carols is in black letter, and in the original orthography.
- 722 English Universities.—The Series of Forty-four Plates, some coloured, illustrating English University Life, from Huber's Universities. 8vo, cloth, 4/6 1843
- 723 Erasmus.—Apophthegmes, that is to saie, prompte, quicke, wittie and sententious Saiynges of certaine Emperours, Kynges, Captaines, Philosophers and Oratours, bothe verie pleasaunt and profitable to reade, partly for all manner of persones, and especially Gentlemenne, translated into Englishe by Nicolas Udall. Thick 12mo, black letter, a wormhole in lower margin, not touching the text, otherwise a fine copy, calf antique, Wm. Herbert's copy, £7 10/ John Kingston, 1564
- * * Of Shakespearian and Dramatic interest from the fact that in the colloquial notes of Udall may be traced familiar phrases and common-place idioms, which have occasioned many conjectural speculations among the annotators upon our early drama. This edition is of extreme rarity.
- 724 Engravings.—Twenty-Five old Engravings by F. Valesio, of HERMITS, and one by Sadeler. Sm. 4to, £1 about 1620

JEST BOOKS.

- 1008 All about the Merry Tales of Gotham, by Alfred Stapleton. 1 vol, 8vo, of 200 pages, with numerous illustrations by Harry Packer, cloth, issued to Subscribers at 5/. I have purchased the remainder from the author, and am now offering them at 2/6 per copy, net, post free.

* * The Doings of the Wise Men of Gotham have passed into a proverb. They have been known, and have been indeed familiar as household words among the masses of Great Britain, for upwards of four centuries; and these Tales have a special interest in being the earliest collection of "noodles" in the language. They were well known to our Early Dramatists, including Shakespeare, for they are mentioned in the Hundred Merry Tales, one of the Jest Books used by him. The following list of contents shew how closely the author has gone into the subject, and some idea of the scope of the work may be gleaned from the following sections:—1. Introduction—2. Noodles of the World—3. The Tales—4. An Examination of the Tales—5. Which Gotham? Notts or Sussex—6. Authorship of the Tales—7. Origin of the Tradition—8. Literary allusions and miscellaneous notices—9. Bibliographical—10. Offshoots of Gotham.

- 1009 Laugh and be Fat, or the Merry Companion, containing great variety of Comical and Diverting Stories, a curious Collection of Poems, a select Collection of Epitaphs, Out o' th' Way Conundrums, and a choice Collection of Songs sung at the Public Places of Diversion. 8vo, FINE COPY, in calf extra, g. t., by Bedford, £1 4/

- 1133 Lesina.—Della Famosissima Compagnia della LESINA, Dialogo, Capitoli e Ragionamenti. 4to, fine copy, calf, g. e., £4 4/ Vicenza, 1597
* * This is an elaborate description of one of those festive and burlesque confraternities which existed under humorous designations all over Europe from the Middle Ages, and a variety of which in England we had only a limited experience in certain Clubs and Societies. The "Compagnia della Lesina" or Company of the Cobbler's Awl, was, it seems, an Association which comprised in its programme the narration of Stories, and the Singing of Ballads to music, and in the present volume these compositions are given WITH THE AIRS to which they were sung, and woodcuts of the performers in character. This edition, printed at Vicenza, is of the greatest rarity.
- 1134 Lhuyd (Humphrey) The Breviary of Britayne, containyng a learned Discourse of the variable state and alteration thereof, with the GEOGRAPHICAL DESCRIPTION of the same such as never the like hath been set forth before, translated from the Latin by Thos. - 1156 Lotteries.—A Collection of 73 old advertisements of Lotteries gleaned from contemporary Newspapers ranging from 1722 to the beginning of 1800, neatly pasted down on 13 folio sheets of stout paper, £1 10/
- * * Amongst the collection are several advertisements and notices of the lottery for the building of Westminster Bridge, and one for Sir Aston Lever's Museum. Added is an autograph letter from the celebrated Jas. Bullock, the decorative printer of Lottery Placards, asking for poetical squibs; the author to whom he alluded is said to have received six guineas a day for Songs for Lottery Offices—and, if report be true—Byron, Rogers and Campbell were contributors to the same printer.
- 1157 Louise of Savoy.—Vie de Madame Loyse de Savoye, Religieuse au Convent de Madame Sainte Claire l'Orbe, escript en 1507 par une Religieuse, avec de documents et de notes historiques par l'abbé Jeanneret. 8vo, front., green morocco extra, g. e., by Holloway, 16/ Geneve, 1860

Imprime nouvellement a Paris, par Michel le noir, s. d. (c. 1500)
* * This very rare volume, of which this is an exceptionally fine copy, belongs to what has been called the "Courtesy" series, or in other words Books of De-meanour, and is made additionally interesting from being that selected by William Caxton, who published a translation of it in 1485, under the title of "The Book of Good Manners." This seems to be the only copy which has occurred for sale in the English market during many years, and it has been wanting in all the great collections more or less recently dispersed. This edition was apparently unknown to Brunet.

s. l., 1553
* * This excessively rare tract relates to the alleged poisoning of King Edward the Sixth by the agency of the Duke of Northumberland. It is on high authority attributed to Peter Vermillius, alias Peter Martyr. An edition in Latin, which is said to be unique, was printed at Antwerp (sine loco) the same year, and with the same type, so that it is difficult to determine which is the earlier edition. Bound up in the volume are Mr. J. B. Inglis' reprint and translation of the Latin edition, with an introduction by J. P. Berjeau, and his answer to the "Spectator" critique respecting the author.

- 1295 Moravian Hymns.—Collection of Hymns of the Children of God in all Ages, from the Beginning till now, designed chiefly for the Use of the Congregations in Union with the Brethren's Church, BOTH PARTS. Thick 8vo, black morocco extra, by Mansell, £2 15/ London printed, and to be had at all the Brethren's Chapels, 1754
- * * This most remarkable collection is the first translation into English of the Ancient Herrnhutters Hymns, and includes among a total of about TWELVE HUNDRED many Old English Pieces, and Devotions of the Primitive Church. In it a peculiar freedom is used with holy names, not in accordance with present taste, but it would be unjust to ascribe these blemishes to any source than a child-like sympathy and perfect purity of intention expressing itself differently to our own times. The estimable Society of the Moravians now existing, and flourishing, however, fully recognises the faults of the Original Collection, and seek, by purchasing copies as they now and then occur, to suppress it. The later Collections are materially abridged and very much castrated.
- 1296 More (H., Fellow of Christ's College, Cambridge) Conjectura Cabbalistica, or Conjectural Essay of Interpreting the Minde of Moses according to a Threefold Cabbala. 8vo, contemporary calf gilt, from the Pembroke Library, £3 3/ 1653
- * * The author's presentation copy to the celebrated Anne, Viscountess Conway, whose autograph is on the fly-leaf. It was this lady to whom he dedicated his "Antidote against Atheism," and whose extraordinary metaphysical questions so frequently puzzled the author. See Ward's Life of Henry More.

* * The rarity of this collection of Pasquinades is well known, nearly all copies being bought up and destroyed in consequence of its poignant satire, wit, and ridicule of the Pope and the Monastic Orders. It was so rare, even in the time of Heinsius, that he gave a hundred ducats for a copy, and thought it the only one in existence; which opinion he perpetuated in two Latin lines at the beginning of it.
- 1389 Pasquine in a Trance, a Christian and Learned Dialogue, containing wonderfull and most strange newes out of Heaven, Purgatorie, and Hell, wherein are added certaine questions set forth to have been disputed in the Council of Trent (by C. - * * A quite new and remarkable elucidation of the Mystery of the Sonnets, shewing them to have been addressed and dedicated to Will. Hews (see S. 20, 135, 143, etc.), an actor in Shakespeare's Company on whom he had depended for the personation of his female characters, and who deserted him to play for Marlowe and others. This theory compels the attention of all Shakespeare students.
